In order to become licensed as a pharmacist, within the meaning of this article, an applicant shall be not less than twenty-one years of age, he shall present to the board of pharmacy satisfactory evidence that he has had four years experience in pharmacy under the instruction of a licensed pharmacist, and that he is a graduate of a reputable school or college of pharmacy, and he shall also pass a satisfactory examination of the board of pharmacy: Provided, however, that the actual time of attendance at a reputable school or college of pharmacy, not to exceed three years, may be deducted from the time of experience required. In order to be licensed as an assistant pharmacist, within the meaning of this article, an applicant shall be not less than eighteen years of age; shall have had a sufficient preliminary general education, and shall have had not less than two years experience in pharmacy under the instruction of a licensed pharmacist, and shall also pass a satisfactory examination by, or under the direction of, the board of pharmacy: Provided, however, that applicants for licenses as assistant pharmacists, who have attended a reputable school or college of pharmacy, may have deducted from the time of experience required the actual time of attendance at such school or college of pharmacy, such time not to exceed one year: Provided, that any person legally registered or licensed as a pharmacist by another state board of pharmacy, and who has had fifteen years continuous experience in North Carolina under the instruction of a licensed pharmacist next preceding his application shall be permitted to stand the examination to practice pharmacy in North Carolina upon application filed with said board prior to the first day of July, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three. Any person who has had two years of college training and has been filling prescriptions in a drug store or stores for twenty years or longer may take the examination as provided in the above proviso. (Rev., ss. 4479, 4480; 1905, c. 108, s. 13; 1915, c. 165; 1921, c. 52; 1933, c. 206, ss. 1, 2; 1935, c. 181.)

Editor's Note.—Public Laws of 1933, c. 206, inserted the last proviso of this section relative to pharmacists in another state taking the examination in North Carolina.

In the first proviso of the second paragraph of this section the maximum deductible time was increased from two to three years by Public Laws of 1935, c. 181.

The provisions of this section, as amended 1933, relative to a pharmacist licensed by another state, do not entitle a person meeting the qualifications of this act and being of the required age to be permitted to stand the examination upon his application therefor filed after 1 July, 1933, although he has previously made other applications therefor and has been permitted to stand examinations of the board held prior to 1 July, 1933, and has failed to pass such examinations, the request filed after 1 July, 1933, for a "re-examination" being in legal effect an application for an examination de novo, nor is this result affected by the fact that the board has permitted applicants who failed to pass the examination to stand a subsequent examination without filing a new application, and the issuance of a writ of mandamus directing the board to permit such applicant to stand the examination upon his application filed after 1 July, 1933, is error. McNair v. North Carolina Board of Pharmacy, 208 N. C. 279, 180 S. E. 78.

§ 6659. When license issued.—If an applicant for license as pharmacist or assistant pharmacist has complied with all the requirements of the two preceding sections, the board of pharmacy shall enroll his name upon the register of pharmacists and assistant pharmacists, and issue to him a license, which shall entitle him to practice as a pharmacist or assistant pharmacist up to the first day of January next ensuing, as provided in this article for the annual renewal of every registration. (Rev., s. 4481; 1905, c. 108, s. 15; 1921, c. 68, s. 1.)

§ 6659(a). World War Veterans may take examination under former requirements.—Any person who was called into or voluntarily entered the military service of the United States during the World War and who was at such time entitled according to the then requirements to stand the examination to practice pharmacy in North Carolina, shall now be permitted to stand the examination to enter the practice of pharmacy in this State: Provided, that such person shall make application to the Board of Pharmacy within twenty-four months from the ratification of this section and such examination shall be held within said twenty-four months thereafter; and if upon such examination such person is found competent, license shall be granted him as in all other cases.

Provided, further, that such applicant shall have been engaged in the practice of pharmacy for a period of not less than five years since leaving the military service, and that this section shall apply only to legal residents in North Carolina at the time of their entrance into said military service. (1931, c. 121, s. 1.)

§ 6660. When license without examination issued.—The board of pharmacy may issue license to practice as pharmacists in this state, without examination, to such persons as have been legally registered or licensed as pharmacists by other boards of pharmacy, if the applicant for such license shall present satisfactory evidence of the same qualifications as are required from licentiates in this state, and that he was registered or licensed by examination by such other board of pharmacy, and that the standard of competence required by such board of pharmacy is not lower than that required in this state. All applicants for license under this section shall, with their application, forward to the secretary of the board of pharmacy the same fees as are required of other candidates for license. (Rev., s. 4482; 1905, c. 108, s. 16.)

§ 6661. When license refused or revoked; fraud.—The board of pharmacy may refuse to grant a license to any person guilty of felony or gross immorality, or who is addicted to the use of alcoholic liquors or narcotic drugs to such an extent as to render him unfit to practice pharmacy; and the board of pharmacy may, after due notice and hearing, revoke a license for like cause, or any license which has been procured by fraud, and any license or permit, or renewal thereof, obtained through fraud or by any fraudulent or false representations shall be void and of no effect in law. (Rev., s. 4483; 1905, c. 108, ss. 17, 25.)

§ 6662. Expiration and renewal of license; failure to renew misdemeanor.—Every licensed pharmacist or assistant pharmacist who desires to continue in the practice of his profession, and every physician holding a permit to sell drugs in a village of not more than five hundred inhabitants, shall within thirty days next preceding the expiration of his license or permit, file with the secretary and treasurer of the board of pharmacy an application for the renewal thereof, which application shall be accompanied by the fee hereinbefore prescribed. If the board of pharmacy shall find that an applicant has been legally licensed in this state, and is entitled to a renewal thereof, or to a renewal of a permit, it shall issue to him a certificate attesting that fact. And if any pharmacist or assistant pharmacist shall fail, for a period of six days after the expiration of his license, to make application to the board for its renewal, his name shall be erased from the register of licensed pharmacists and assistant pharmacists and such person, in order to again become registered as a licensed pharmacist or assistant pharmacist shall be required to pay the same fee as in the case of original registration. And if any holder of a permit to sell drugs in a village of not more than five hundred inhabitants shall fail, for a period of sixty days after the expiration of his permit, to make application for the renewal thereof, his name shall be erased from the register of persons holding such permits, and he may be restored thereto only upon the payment of the fee required for the granting of original permit. The registration of every license and every permit issued by the board shall expire on the thirty-first day of December next ensuing the granting thereof: Provided, that all licenses and permits for the years one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one and one thousand nine hundred and twenty-two, shall expire on the thirty-first day of December, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-two: Provided, that the board of pharmacy, in its discretion, shall have the power to issue a license or permit, or renewals thereof, to any persons whose license or permit has been revoked by operation of law or by the board of pharmacy, or whose renewal thereof has been refused by the board of pharmacy, after the expiration of one year from the date of such revocation of license or permit, or refusal of a renewal thereof, upon satisfactory proof that such person is entitled to such license or permit, or to a renewal thereof.

Every holder of a license or permit as a pharmacist or assistant pharmacist, who after the expiration thereof continues to carry on the business for which the license or permit was granted, without renewing the same as required by this section, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and fined not less than five nor more than twenty-five dollars. (Rev., ss. 3653, 4484; 1905, c. 108, ss. 18, 19, 27; 1911, c. 48; 1921, c. 68, s. 2.)

§ 6663. License to be displayed; penalty.—Every certificate or license to practice as a pharmacist or assistant pharmacist and every permit to a practicing physician to conduct a pharmacy or drug store in a village of not more than five hundred inhabitants, and every last renewal of such license or permit, shall be conspicuously exposed in the pharmacy or drug store or place of business of which the pharmacist, or other person to whom it is issued, is the owner or manager, or in which he is employed.

The holder of such license, permit, or renewal who fails to expose it as required by this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and fined not less than five nor more than twenty-five dollars, and each day that such license, permit, or renewal thereof shall not be exposed shall be held to constitute a separate and distinct offense. (Rev., ss. 3651, 4485; 1905, c. 108, ss. 18, 26; 1921, c. 68, s. 3.)

§ 6664. Unlicensed person not to use title of pharmacist; penalty.—It shall be unlawful for any person not legally licensed as a pharmacist or assistant pharmacist to take, use or exhibit the title of pharmacist or assistant pharmacist or licensed or registered pharmacist, or the title druggist or apothecary, or any other title, name, or description of like import.

Every person who violates this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and be fined not less than twenty-five nor more than one hundred dollars. (Rev., ss. 3652, 4486; 1905, c. 108, ss. 22, 29; 1921, c. 68, s. 4.)

§ 6665. Purity of drugs protected; seller responsible; adulteration misdemeanor. — Every person who shall engage in the sale of drugs, chemicals, and medicines shall be held responsible for the quality of all drugs, chemicals, and medicines he may sell or dispense, with the exception of those sold in the original packages of the manufacturers, and also those known as "patent or proprietary medicines."

If any person engaged in the sale of drugs, chemicals, and medicines shall intentionally adulterate, or cause to be adulterated, or exposed to sale knowing the same to be adulterated, any drugs, chemicals, or medical preparations, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and liable to a fine not exceeding one hundred dollars, and if he is a licensed pharmacist or assistant pharmacist his name shall be stricken from the register of licensed pharmacists and assistant pharmacists. (Rev., ss. 3648, 4488; Code, s. 3145; 1881, c. 355, s. 11; 1897, c. 182, s. 7; 1905, c. 108, s. 3; 1921, c. 68, s. 5.)

§ 6666. Prescriptions preserved; copies furnished.—Every proprietor or manager of a drug store or pharmacy shall keep in his place of business a suitable book or file, in which shall be preserved for a period of not less than five years the original of every prescription compounded or dispensed at such drug store or pharmacy. Upon the request of the prescribing physician, or of the person for whom such prescription was compounded or dispensed, the proprietor or manager of such drug store or pharmacy shall furnish a true and correct copy of such prescription, and said book or file of original prescriptions shall at all times be open to the inspection and examination of duly authorized officers of the law or other persons authorized and directed by the board of pharmacy to make such inspection and examination. (Rev., s. 4490; 1905, c. 108, s. 21.)

§ 6667. Selling drugs without license prohibited; drug trade regulated.—It shall be unlawful for any person not licensed as a pharmacist or assistant pharmacist within the meaning of this article to conduct or manage any pharmacy, drug or chemical store, apothecary shop or other place of business for the retailing, compounding, or dispensing of any drugs, chemicals, or poison, or for the compounding of physicians' prescriptions, or to keep exposed for sale at retail any drugs, chemicals, or poison, except as hereinafter provided, or for any person not licensed as a pharmacist within the meaning of this article to compound, dispense, or sell at retail any drug, chemical, poison, or pharmaceutical preparation upon the prescription of a physician or otherwise, or to compound physicians' prescriptions except as an aid to and under the immediate supervision of a person licensed as a pharmacist or assistant pharmacist under this article. [Provided, that during the temporary absence of the licensed pharmacist in charge of any pharmacy, drug store or chemical store, a licensed assistant pharmacist may conduct or have charge of said store.] And it shall be unlawful for any owner or manager of a pharmacy or drug store or other place of business to cause or permit any other than a person licensed as a pharmacist or assistant pharmacist to compound, dispense, or sell at retail any drug, medicine, or poison except as an aid to and under the immediate supervision of a person licensed as a pharmacist or assistant pharmacist.

Nothing in this section shall be construed to interfere with any legally registered practitioner of medicine in the compounding of his own prescriptions, nor with the exclusively wholesale business of any dealer who shall be licensed as a pharmacist or who shall keep in his employ at least one person who is licensed as a pharmacist, nor with the selling at retail of nonpoisonous domestic remedies, nor with the sale of patent or proprietary preparations which do not contain poisonous ingredients, [nor with the sale of paregoric, Godfrey's Cordial, Aspirin, alum, borax, bicarbonate of soda, calomel tablets, castor oil, compound carthartic pills, copperas, cough remedies which contain no poison or narcotic drugs, cream of tartar, distilled extract witch hazel, epsom salts, harlem oil, gum asafetida, gum camphor, glycerin, peroxide of hydrogen, petroleum jelly, saltpetre, spirit of turpentine, spirit of camphor, sweet oil, and sulphate of quinine] nor with the sale of poisonous substances which are sold exclusively for use in the arts or for use as insecticides when such substances are sold in unbroken packages bearing a label having plainly printed upon it the name of the contents, the word "Poison," the vignette of the skull and crossbones, and the name of at least two readily obtainable antidotes.

In any village of not more than five hundred inhabitants the board of pharmacy may grant any legally registered practicing physician a permit to conduct a drug store or pharmacy in such village, which permit shall not be valid in any other village than the one for which it was granted, and shall cease and terminate when the population of the village for which such permit was granted shall become greater than five hundred: Provided, that the board of pharmacy may, after due investigation, grant to any legally registered practicing physician in towns or villages of more than five hundred, and not exceeding six hundred, inhabitants a permit to conduct a drug store or pharmacy in such towns or villages subject to the provisions of this article. [The part of the section in brackets shall not apply to any city or town where there is located an established drug store, except in the counties of McDowell and Onslow]. (Rev., s. 4487; 1905, c. 108, s. 4; 1921, c. 68, s. 6; 1924, c. 116.)

Editor's Note.—In 3 N. C. Law Rev. in considering this section it is said: it "prohibits the sale of drugs without a license and regulates the drug trade. It excepts from the requirements of a license physicians who compound their own prescriptions, also the sale of non-poisonous domestic remedies and patent medicines containing no poisonous ingredients.

"Ch. 116 Act 1924 adds to these exceptions a list of some thirty drugs and remedies, such as paregoric, aspirin, bicarbonate of soda, calomel, castor oil, camphor, etc. These may be sold by anybody without a pharmaceutical license, provided there is no established drug store in the same town. The act does not apply in twenty-six counties, which further restricts it.

"Since most of the list of drugs named are harmless in ordinary use, it may be safe enough to allow the small, country store-keeper to sell them, but the statute makes an opening which might lead to worse things. There may be a question whether paregoric, a strong narcotic, should ever be sold except upon a doctor's prescription. Similarly with other drugs in the list. It seems that the legislature would have done better to leave the details of drug-selling to the State Board of Pharmacy or to some other expert group who understand the nature and effect of drugs and the danger involved in allowing them to be sold by anybody."

By the amendment of 1929, c. 249, the legislature excepted Johnson county from the provision of the amendment of 1924.

§ 6668. Compounding prescriptions without license.—If any person, not being licensed as a pharmacist or assistant pharmacist, shall compound, dispense, or sell at retail any drug, medicine, poison, or pharmaceutical preparation, either upon a physician's prescription or otherwise, and any person being the owner or manager of a drug store, pharmacy, or other place of business, who shall cause or permit any one not licensed as a pharmacist or assistant pharmacist to dispense, sell at retail, or compound any drug, medicine, poison, or physician's prescription contrary to the provisions of this article, he shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and fined not less than twenty-five nor more than one hundred dollars. (Rev., s. 3649; 1905, c. 108, s. 24; 1921, c. 68, s. 7.)

Editor's Note.—By the amendment Public Laws 1921 this section was made applicable to assistant pharmacists.

Sale by a Clerk.—Where a clerk in a drug store unlawfully sells intoxicating liquor without the knowledge and against the orders of the owner, the owner is not liable for the act of the clerk. State v. Neal, 133 N. C. 689, 45 S. E. 756; State v. Kittelle, 110 N. C. 560, 15 S. E. 103, distinguished.

Stated in McNair v. North Carolina Board of Pharmacy, 208 N. C. 279, 282, 180 S. E. 78.

§ 6669. Conducting pharmacy without license.—If any person, not being licensed as a pharmacist, shall conduct or manage any drug store, pharmacy or other place or business for the compounding, dispensing, or sale at retail of any drugs, medicine, or poisons, or for the compounding of physicians' prescriptions contrary to the provisions of this article, he shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and be fined not less than twenty-five nor more than one hundred dollars, and each week such drug store or pharmacy or other place of business is so unlawfully conducted shall be held to constitute a separate and distinct offense. (Rev., s. 3650; 1905, c. 108, s. 23.)

§ 6670. Pharmacist obtaining license fraudulently.—If any person shall make any fraudulent or false representations for the purpose of procuring a license or permit, or renewal thereof, either for himself or for another, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and fined not less than twenty-five nor more than one hundred dollars; and if any person shall wilfully make a false affidavit or any other false or fraudulent representation for the purpose of procuring a license or permit, or renewal thereof, either for himself or for another, he shall be deemed guilty of perjury, and upon conviction thereof shall be subject to like punishment as is now prescribed for the crime of perjury. (Rev., s. 3654; 1905, c. 108, s. 25.)

§ 6670(a). Registration of drug stores and pharmacies.—That the Board of Pharmacy shall require and provide for the annual registration of every drug store and pharmacy doing business in this State; the proprietor of every drug store or pharmacy opening for business after the taking effect of this act shall apply to the Board of Pharmacy for registration and it shall be unlawful for any drug store or pharmacy to do business until so registered; the fee for such registration, whether original or annual, shall be one dollar ($1), and upon the payment thereof the Board of Pharmacy shall issue permit to applicant entitled to receive same. All permits issued under this section shall expire on December thirty-first of each year.

The terms "drug store" and "pharmacy" as used herein shall mean any store or other place in which drugs, medicines, chemicals, poisons, or prescriptions are compounded, dispensed, or sold "pharmacy" or "apothecary" or any combination at retail, or which uses the title "drug store," of such titles, or any title or description of like import: Provided, that nothing in this section shall apply to the sale of domestic remedies, patent and proprietary preparations, and insecticides as set out and provided for in paragraph two of section six thousand six hundred and sixty-seven of the Consolidated Statutes. (1927, s. 28, s. 1.)

Part 2. Dealing in Specific Drugs Regulated.

§ 6671. Poisons; sales regulated; label; penalties.—It shall be unlawful for any persons to sell or deliver to any person any of the following described substances or any poisonous compound, combination, or preparation thereof, to-wit: The compounds and salts of arsenic, antimony, lead, mercury, silver and zinc, oxide and hydrocyanic acids and their salts, the concentrated mineral acids, carbolic acid, the essential oils of almonds, pennyroyal, tansy and savine, croton oil, creosote, chloroform, chloral hydrate, cantharides, or any aconite, belladonna, bitter almonds, colchicum, cotton root, conium, cannabis indica, digitalis, hyoscyamus, nux vomica, opium, ergot, cannabis stramonius, or any of the poisonous alkaloids or alkaloidal salts or other poisonous principles derived from the foregoing, or cocaine or any other poisonous alkaloids or their salts, or any other virulent poisons, except in the manner following: It shall be first learned by due inquiry that the person to whom delivery is made is aware of the poisonous character of the substance, and that it is desired for a lawful purpose, and the box, bottle, or other package shall be plainly labeled with the name of the substance, the word "Poison," and the name of the person or firm dispensing the substance.

Before a delivery is made of any of the following substances, to wit, the compounds and salts of arsenic, antimony and mercury, hydrocyanic acid and its salts, strychnine and its salts, and the essential oil of bitter almonds, there shall be recorded in a book kept for the purpose the name of the article, the quantity delivered, the purpose for which it is required as represented by the purchaser, the date of delivery, the name and address of the purchaser, the name of the dispenser, which book shall be preserved for at least five years and shall at all times be open to the inspection of the proper officers of the law: Provided, that the foregoing provision shall not apply to articles dispensed upon the order of persons believed by the dispenser to be lawfully authorized practitioners of medicine or dentistry: Provided, also, that the record of sale and delivery above mentioned shall not be required of manufacturers and wholesalers who shall sell any of the foregoing substances at wholesale; but the box, bottle, or other package containing such substances, when sold at wholesale, shall be properly labeled with the name of the substance, the word "Poison," and the name and address of the manufacturer or wholesaler: Provided further, that it shall not be necessary to place a poison label upon, or to record the delivery of, the sulphide of antimony or the dioxide or carbonate of zinc or lead, or of colors ground in oil and intended for use as paint, or paris green, when dispensed in the original package of the manufacturer or wholesaler, or calomel, paregoric, or other preparations of opium containing less than two grains of opium to the fluid ounce, nor in the case of preparations containing any of the substances named in this section when in a single box, bottle, or other package, or when the bulk of two fluid ounces or the weight of two avoirdupois ounces does not contain more than an adult medicinal dose of such poisonous substance.

If any person shall sell or deliver to any person any poisonous substance specified in this section without labeling the same and recording the delivery thereof in the manner prescribed, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and fined not less than twenty-five nor more than one hundred dollars. (Rev., ss. 3655, 4489; 1905, c. 108, ss. 20, 28.)

§§ 6672-6683(k). Repealed by Public Laws of 1935, c. 477, s. 27, the other sections of which chapter are codified as §§ 6686(1)-6686(28).

§ 6684. Certain patent cures and devices; sale and advertising forbidden.—It shall be unlawful for any person, firm, association, or corporation in the state, or any agent thereof, to sell or offer for sale any proprietary or patent medicine or remedy purporting to cure cancer, consumption, diabetes, paralysis, Bright's disease, or any other disease for which no cure has been found, or any mechanical device whose claims for the cure or treatment of disease are false or fraudulent; and that it shall be unlawful for any person, firm, association, or corporation in the state, or agent thereof, to publish in any manner, or by any means, or cause to be published, circulated, or in any way placed before the public any advertisement in a newspaper or other publication or in the form of books, pamphlets, handbills, circulars, either printed or written, or by any drawing, map, print, tag, or by any other means whatsoever, any advertisement of any kind or description offering for sale or commending to the public any proprietary or patent medicine or remedy purporting to cure cancer, consumption, diabetes, paralysis, Bright's disease, or any other disease for which no cure has been found, or any mechanical device for the treatment of disease, when the North Carolina board of health shall declare that such device is without value in the treatment of disease.

Any person, firm, association, or corporation violating any of the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined not exceeding one hundred dollars for each offense. Each sale, offer for sale, or publication of any advertisement for sale of any of the medicines, remedies, or devices mentioned in this section shall constitute a separate offense. (1917, c. 27, ss. 1, 2, 3.)

Editor's Note.—In 4 N. C. Law Rev. it is said: "There is a statute in this State which makes it unlawful for any person to publish any advertisement of any patent medicine or remedy purporting to cure cancer, consumption, diabetes, paralysis, Bright's disease, or any other disease for which no cure has been found or any mechanical device for the treatment of disease when the North Carolina Board of Health shall declare that such device is without value in the treatment of disease. This curious statute puts too heavy a burden on the advertising manager, for who is to say whether there is a cure for a disease or whether a device is of value in the treatment of disease."

§ 6685. Certain patent cures and devices; enforcement of law.—To provide for the efficient enforcement of the preceding section, the same shall be under the supervision and management of the North Carolina board of pharmacy, and it shall be the duty of all registered pharmacists to report immediately any violations thereof to the secretary of the board of pharmacy, and any wilful failure to make such report shall have the effect of revoking his license to practice pharmacy in this state. (1917, c. 27, ss. 4, 5.)

§ 6686. Department of agriculture to analyze patent medicines.—The chemists and other experts of the department of agriculture shall, under such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the board of pharmacy, and upon request of the secretary of said board, make an analytical examination of all samples of drugs, preparations, and compounds sold or offered for sale in violation of the two preceding sections. (1917, c. 27, s. 6.)

§ 6686(a). Hypnotic drugs defined and enumerated.—In the following four sections, unless the context otherwise requires, the words "hypnotic drug" include:

Sulphonmethane (sulphonal).

Sulphonethylmethane (trional).

Diethyl sulphonedrethylmethane (tetronal).

Dietyl barbituric acid (barbital), or any of the foregoing by whatsoever trade name or designation; or any compound, preparation, mixture or solution thereof; or any salt or derivative thereof or of barbituric acid possessing hypnotic properties or effects.

Chloral hydrate or any mixture or solution thereof containing twenty grains or more thereof to the fluid ounce. (1931, c. 162, s. 1.)

§ 6686(b). Sale prohibited except by physicians and pharmacists.—No person other than a licensed pharmacist, a duly licensed physician, doctor of dental surgery, or doctor of veterinary surgery shall sell or offer to sell any hypnotic drug to consumers or have such drug in his possession with intent to sell or give away to consumers. (1931, c. 162, s. 2.)

§ 6686(c). Limitation on quantity that may be sold; exception; record of sales. — No hypnotic drug as defined in § 6686(a) may be sold in quantities exceeding twelve therapeutic doses, except to persons known to be suffering with epilepsy: Provided, however, that nothing in this act shall apply to prescriptions of duly licensed physicians, doctors of dental surgery, or doctors of veterinary surgery.

Any person dispensing any hypnotic drug coming under the provisions of this act, other than upon prescription, shall record in a book kept for the purpose the name of the article sold, the quantity delivered, the date of delivery, the name and address of the purchaser and the name of the dispenser, which record shall at all times be open to the inspection of the proper officer of the law. (1931, c. 162, s. 3.)

§ 6686(d). Dispensing of drugs by physicians in lawful practice. — Nothing in this act shall be construed to limit the sale of hypnotic drugs to nor to the dispensing of hypnotic drugs in the course of their professional practice by, duly licensed physicians, doctors of dental surgery or doctors of veterinary surgery lawfully practicing their profession in this State, or to registered retail or wholesale pharmacists, or to hospitals and other institutions for the treatment of defective, afflicted, sick and injured persons. (1931, c. 162, s. 4.)

§ 6686(e). Violation of sections 6686(b) and 6686(c) a misdemeanor.—Any person who shall violate any provision of this act shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction therefor for the first offence shall be fined not more than twenty-five dollars, and upon conviction of the second offence shall be fined not more than one hundred dollars. (1931, c. 162, s. 5.)

Art. 3A. Narcotic Drug Act

§ 6686(1). Definitions. — The following words and phrases as used in this article shall have the following meanings unless the context otherwise requires:

(a) "Person" includes any corporation, association, copartnership or one or more individuals.

(b) "Physician" means any person authorized by law to practice medicine in this State and any other person authorized by law to treat sick and injured human beings in this State and to use narcotic drugs in connection with such treatment.

(c) "Dentist" means any person authorized by law to practice dentistry in this State.

(d) "Veterinarian" means any person authorized by law to practice veterinary in this State.

(e) "Manufacturer" means a person who by compounding, mixing, cultivating, growing or other process produces or prepares narcotic drugs, but does not include a pharmacist who compounds narcotic drugs to be sold or dispensed on prescription.

(f) "Wholesaler" means a person who supplies narcotic drugs that he himself has not produced or prepared, on official written order, but not on prescription.

(g) "Pharmacist" means a registered pharmacist of this State.

(h) "Pharmacy owner" means the owner of a store or other place of business where narcotic drugs are compounded or dispensed by a registered pharmacist; but nothing in this article contained shall be construed as conferring on a person who is not registered or licensed as a pharmacist any authority, right or privilege that is not granted to him by the pharmacy laws of this State.

(i) "Hospital" means an institution for the care and treatment of the sick and injured, approved by the state board of pharmacy as proper to be entrusted with the custody of narcotic drugs and the professional use of narcotic drugs under the direction of a physician, dentist or veterinarian.

(j) "Laboratory" means a laboratory to be entrusted with the custody of narcotic drugs and the use of narcotic drugs for scientific, experimental and medical purposes and for purposes of instruction approved by the state board of pharmacy.

(k) "Sale" includes barter, exchange or offer therefor, and each such transaction made by any person, whether as principal, proprietor, agent, servant or employee.

(l) "Coca leaves" includes cocaine and any compound, manufacture, salt, derivative, mixture or preparation of coca leaves, except derivatives of coca leaves which do not contain cocaine, ecgonine, or substances from which cocaine or ecgonine may be synthesized or made.

(m) "Opium" includes morphine, codeine and heroin and any compound, manufacture, salt, derivative, mixture or preparation of opium.

(n) "Cannabis" includes the following substances under whatever means they may be designated:

(1) The dried flowering or fruiting tops of the pistillate plant cannabis sativa L. from which the resin has not been extracted;

(2) The resin extracted from such tops; and

(3) Every compound, manufacture, salt, derivative, mixture, or preparation of such resin or of such tops from which the resin has not been extracted; and

(4) Peyote or mara huanna.

(o) "Narcotic drugs" means coca leaves, opium, cannabis, and every substance not chemically distinguishable from them.

(p) "Federal narcotic law" means the laws of the United States relating to opium, coca leaves and other narcotic drugs.

(q) "Official written order" means an order written on a form provided for that purpose by the United States commissioner of narcotics, under any laws of the United States making provision therefor, if such order forms are authorized and required by federal law.

(r) "Dispense" includes distribute, leave with, give away, dispose of or deliver.

(s) "Registry number" means the number assigned to each person registered under the federal narcotic laws. (1935, c. 477, s. 1.)

§ 6686(2). Manufacture, sale, etc., of narcotic drugs regulated.—It shall be unlawful for any person to manufacture, possess, have under his control, sell, prescribe, administer, dispense, or compound any narcotic drug, except as authorized in this article. (1935, c. 477, s. 2.)

§ 6686(3). Conditions of sale of drugs.—A duly licensed manufacturer or wholesaler may sell and dispense narcotic drugs to any of the following persons but only on official written orders:

(a) To a manufacturer, wholesaler, pharmacist or pharmacy owner.

(b) To a physician, dentist or veterinarian.

(c) To a person in charge of a hospital, but only for use by or in that hospital.

(d) To a person in charge of a laboratory but only for use in that laboratory for scientific and medicinal purposes.

A duly licensed manufacturer or wholesaler may sell narcotic drugs to any of the following persons:

(a) On a special written order accompanied by a certificate of exemption, as required by the federal narcotic laws, to a person in the employ of the United States government or of any state, territory, district, county, municipality, or insular government, purchasing, receiving, possessing or dispensing narcotic drugs by reason of his official duties.

(b) To a master of a ship or a person in charge of any air craft upon which no physician is regularly employed for the actual medical needs of persons on board such ship or air craft when not in port, provided such narcotic drug shall be sold to the master of such ship or person in charge of such air craft only in pursuance of a special order form approved by a commanding medical officer or acting assistant surgeon of the United States public health service.

(c) To a person in a foreign country if the provisions of the federal narcotic laws are complied with. (1935, c. 477, s. 3.)

§ 6686(4). Execution of written orders; use in purchase; preserving copies for inspection. — An official written order for any narcotic drug shall be signed in duplicate by the person giving said order or by his duly authorized agent. The original shall be presented to the person who sells or dispenses the narcotic drug or drugs named therein. In the event of the acceptance of such order by said person, each party to the transaction shall preserve his copy of such order for a period of two years, in such a way as to be readily accessible for inspection by any public officer or employee engaged in the enforcement of this article. It shall be deemed a compliance with this section if the parties to the transaction have complied with the federal narcotic laws respecting the requirements governing the use of order forms. (1935, c. 477, s. 4.)

§ 6686(6). Dispensing of drugs regulated. — A person in charge of a hospital or of a laboratory, or in the employ of this State or of any other state, or of any political subdivision thereof, and the master or other proper officer of a ship or air craft, who obtains narcotic drugs under the provisions of this article or otherwise shall not administer, nor dispense nor otherwise use such drugs within this State except within the scope of his employment or official duty and then only for scientific or medicinal purposes and subject to the provisions of this article. (1935, c. 477, s. 6.)

§ 6686(7). Sale of drugs on doctor's prescription.—A pharmacist in good faith may sell and dispense narcotic drugs to any person upon the written prescription of a physician, dentist or veterinarian, provided it is properly executed, dated and signed by the person prescribing on the day when issued and bearing the full name and address of the patient for whom or of the owner of the animal for which the drug is dispensed, and the full name, address and registry number under the federal narcotic laws of the person so prescribing if he is required by those laws to be so registered. If the prescription be for an animal, it shall state the species of animal for which the drug is prescribed. A person filling the prescription shall write the date of filling and his own signature on the face of the prescription. The prescription shall be retained on file by the proprietor of the pharmacy in which it is filled for a period of two years so as to be readily accessible for the inspection of any officers engaged in the enforcement of this article. The prescription shall not be refilled.

The legal owner of any stock of narcotic drugs in a pharmacy, upon discontinuance of dealing in said drugs, may sell said stock to a manufacturer, wholesaler, pharmacist or pharmacy owner but only upon an official written order.

A pharmacist only upon an official written order, may sell to a physician, dentist or veterinarian in quantities not exceeding one ounce at any one time, aqeous or oleaginous solutions of which the content of narcotic drugs does not exceed a proportion greater than twenty per centum (20%) of the complete solution, to be used for medicinal purposes. (1935, c. 477, s. 7.)

Editor's Note.—The case treated below was decided under section 6677, now repealed. This case is made available to the practitioner as an aid in construing the present law, but it must be read in the light of the former law.

Liability to Husband for Injury to Wife.—One who, despite the protests and warnings of a husband, persistently sells drugs to the latter's wife, is liable in damages to the husband for the injuries so sustained. Holleman v. Harward, 119 N. C. 150, 25 S. E. 927.

§ 6686(8). Prescribing, administering or dispensing by physicians or dentists. — A physician or a dentist, in good faith and in the course of his professional practice, only, may prescribe on a written prescription, administer, or dispense narcotic drugs or may cause the same to be administered by a nurse or interne under his direction and supervision. Such a prescription shall be dated and signed by the person prescribing on the day when issued and shall bear the full name and address of the patient for whom the narcotic drug is prescribed and the full name, address and registry number under the federal narcotic laws of the person prescribing, providing he is required by those laws to be so registered. (1935, c. 477, s. 8.)

§ 6686(9). Prescribing, administering or dispensing by veterinarians.—A veterinarian in good faith and in the course of his professional practice only not for use by a human being may prescribe on a written prescription, administer and dispense narcotic drugs and he may cause them to be administered by an assistant or orderly under his direction and supervision. Such a prescription shall be dated and signed by the person prescribing on the day when issued and shall bear the full name and address of the owner of the animal, the species of the animal for which the narcotic drug is prescribed and the full name, address and registry number under the federal narcotic laws of the person prescribing, provided he is required by those laws to be so registered. (1935, c. 477, s. 8.)

§ 6686(10). Returning unused portions of drugs. — Any person who has obtained from a physician, dentist or veterinarian any narcotic drug for administration to a patient during the absence of such physician, dentist or veterinarian shall return to such physician, dentist or veterinarian any unused portion of such drug when it is no longer required by the patient. (1935, c. 477, s. 8.)

§ 6686(11). Exceptions.—Except as otherwise herein specifically provided, this article shall not apply to the following cases:

(1) Prescribing, administering, compounding, dispensing or selling at retail of any medicinal preparation that contains in one fluid ounce, or if a solid or semi-solid preparation, in one avoirdupois ounce (a) not more than two grains of opium, (b) not more than one-quarter grain of morphine or of any of its salts, (c) not more than one grain of codeine, or of any of its salts, (d) not more than one-eighth of a grain of heroin or of any of its salts, (e) not more than one-half of a grain of extract of cannabis nor more than one-half of a grain of any more potent derivative or preparation of cannabis.

(2) Prescribing, administering, compounding, dispensing or selling at retail of liniments, ointments, and other preparations that are susceptible of external use only and that contain narcotic drugs in such combinations as prevent their being readily extracted from such liniments, ointments, or preparations, except that this act shall apply to all liniments, ointments, and other preparations that contain coca leaves in any quantity or combinations.

(3) The exemptions authorized by this section shall be subject to the following conditions:

(a) The medicinal preparation, or the liniment, ointment, or other preparation susceptible of external use only, prescribed, administered, dispensed, or sold, shall contain, in addition to the narcotic drug in it, some drug or drugs conferring upon it medicinal qualities other than those possessed by the narcotic drug alone.

(b) Such preparation shall be prescribed, administered, compounded, dispensed and sold in good faith as a medicine, and not for the purpose of evading the provisions of this article.

(4) Nothing in this section shall be construed to limit the kind and quantity of any narcotic drug that may be prescribed, administered, compounded, dispensed, or sold, to any person or for the use of any person or animal, when it is prescribed, administered, compounded, dispensed, or sold, in compliance with the general provisions of this article. (1935, c. 477, s. 9.)

§ 6686(12). Records of drugs dispensed; records of manufacturers and wholesalers; records of pharmacists; written orders unnecessary for certain drugs; invoices rendered with sales. — Every physician, dentist, veterinarian, or other person who is authorized to administer or professionally use narcotic drugs shall keep a record of such drugs received by him, and a record of all such drugs administered, dispensed, or professionally used by him otherwise than by prescription. It shall, however, be deemed a sufficient compliance with this section if any such person using small quantities or solutions or other preparations of such drugs for local application shall keep a record of the quantity, character, and potency of such solutions or other preparations purchased or made up by him, and of the dates when purchased or made up, without keeping a record of the amount of such solution or other preparation applied by him to individual patients.

Manufacturers and wholesalers shall keep records of all narcotic drugs compounded, mixed, cultivated, grown, or by any other process produced or prepared, and of all narcotic drugs received and disposed of by them, in accordance with the provisions of this section.

Pharmacists and pharmacy owners shall keep records of all narcotic drugs received and disposed of by them, in accordance with the provisions of this article.

The keeping of a record required by or under the federal narcotic law shall constitute the only record required to be kept by every person who purchases for resale or who sells narcotic drug preparations exempted.

Written orders shall not be required for the sale of cannabis indica or cannabis sativa, or peyote and mara huanna, and the provisions of the article in respect to written orders and records shall not apply to cannabis indica, cannabis sativa, peyote and mara huanna, but manufacturers and wholesalers of cannabis indica, cannabis sativa, peyote and mara huanna shall be required to render with every sale of cannabis indica or cannabis sativa, peyote and mara huanna, an invoice, whether such sale be for cash or on credit; and such invoice shall contain the date of such sale, the name and address of the purchaser, and the amount of cannabis indica or cannabis sativa or peyote and mara huanna so sold.

Every purchaser of cannabis indica, cannabis sativa or peyote and mara huanna from a wholesaler or manufacturer shall be required to keep the invoice rendered with such purchase for a period of two years. (1935, c. 477, s. 10.)

§ 6686(13). Labeling packages containing drugs.—Whenever a manufacturer sells or disposes of a narcotic drug and whenever a wholesaler sells and dispenses a narcotic drug in a package prepared by him, he shall securely affix to each package in which that drug is contained a label showing in legible English the name and address of the vendor and the quantity, kind and form of narcotic drug contained therein. No person except a pharmacist for the purpose of filling a prescription under this article, shall alter, deface or remove any label so affixed. (1935, c. 477, s. 11.)

ber of the pharmacist or pharmacy owner for whom he is lawfully acting; the name and address of the patient, or, if the patient is an animal, the name and address of the owner of the animal and the species of the animal; the name, address and registry number of the physician, dentist or veterinarian, by whom the prescription was written; and such directions as may be stated on the prescription. No person shall alter, deface or remove any label so affixed as long as any of the original contents remain. (1935, c. 477, s. 11.)

§ 6686(15). Lawful possession in original containers. — A person to whom or for whose use any narcotic drug has been prescribed, sold or dispensed by a physician, dentist, pharmacist, or other person authorized under the provisions of this article; the owner of any animal for which any such drug has been prescribed, sold, or dispensed by a veterinarian may lawfully possess it only in the container in which it was delivered to him by the person selling or dispensing the same. (1935, c. 477, s. 12.)

§ 6686(16). Common carriers and warehousemen excepted; other persons exempt.—The provisions of this article restricting the possessing and having control of narcotic drugs shall not apply to common carriers or to warehousemen while engaged in lawfully transporting or storing such drugs, or to any employees of the same acting within the scope of his employment; or to public officers or employees in the performance of their official duties requiring possession or control of narcotic drugs; or to temporary incidental possession by employees or agents of persons lawfully entitled to possession, or by persons whose possession is for the purpose of aiding public officers in performing their official duties. (1935, c. 477, s. 13.)

§ 6686(18). Forfeiture and disposition of drugs unlawfully possessed. — All narcotic drugs the lawful possession of which is not established, or the title to which cannot be ascertained, which have come into the custody of a peace officer, shall be forfeited, and disposed of as follows:

(a) The court or magistrate having jurisdiction shall immediately notify the state board of pharmacy and unless otherwise requested within fifteen days by the state board of pharmacy in accordance with sub-section (b) of this section shall order such narcotic drugs forfeited and destroyed. A record of the place where said drugs were seized, of the kinds and quantities of drugs so destroyed, and of the time, place and manner of destruction, shall be kept, and a return under oath, reporting said destruction, shall be made to the court or magistrate and to the United States commissioner of narcotics; by the officer who destroys them.

(b) Upon written application by the state board of pharmacy the court or magistrate by whom the forfeiture of narcotic drugs has been decreed may order the delivery of them except heroin and its salts and derivatives to said state board of pharmacy for distribution or destruction, as hereinafter provided.

(c) Upon application by any hospital within this State, not operated for private gain, the state board of pharmacy may in its discretion deliver any narcotic drugs that have come into its custody by authority of this section to the applicant for medicinal use. The state board of pharmacy may from time to time deliver excess stocks of such drugs to the United States commissioner of narcotics, or shall destroy the same.

(d) The state board of pharmacy shall keep a full and complete record of all drugs received and of all drugs disposed of, showing the exact kinds, quantities and forms of such drugs; the persons from whom received and to whom delivered; by whose authority received, delivered and destroyed; and the dates of the receipt, disposal, or destruction, which record shall be open to inspection by all federal and state officers charged with the enforcement of federal and state narcotic laws. (1935, c. 477, s. 15.)

Editor's Note.—The case treated below was decided under section 6679, now repealed, which made the possession of certain drugs unlawful. This case is made available to the practitioner as an aid in construing the present law, but must be read in the light of the former law.

Constructive Possession.—"In State v. Lee, 164 N. C. 533, 80 S. E. 405, the Court held that under this statute the guilty possession was not necessarily actual possession, but that the statutory presumption could arise from the constructive possession; that the statute includes actual and constructive possession." State v. Ross, 168 N. C. 130, 131, 83 S. E. 307.

§ 6686(19). Prescriptions, stocks, etc., open to inspection by officials.—Prescriptions, orders and records, required by this article, and stocks of narcotic drugs shall be open for inspection only to federal, state, county and municipal officers, whose duty it is to enforce the laws of this State or of the United States relating to narcotic drugs. No officer having knowledge by virtue of his office of any such prescription, order or record shall divulge such knowledge, except in connection with a prosecution or proceeding in court or before a licensing board or officer to which prosecution or proceeding the person to whom such prescriptions, orders or records relate is a party. (1935, c. 477, s. 16.)

§ 6686(20). Fraudulent attempts to obtain drugs prohibited.—No person shall obtain or attempt to obtain a narcotic drug, or procure or attempt to procure the administration of a narcotic drug (a) by fraud, deceit, misrepresentation, or subterfuge; or (b) by the forgery or alteration of a prescription or of any written order; or (c) by the concealment of a material fact; or (d) by the use of false name or the giving of a false address.

(a) Information communicated to a physician in an effort unlawfully to procure a narcotic drug, or unlawfully to procure the administration of any such drug, shall not be deemed a privileged communication.

(b) No person shall wilfully make a false statement in any prescription, order, report, or record, required by this article.

(c) No person shall, for the purpose of obtaining a narcotic drug, falsely assume the title of, or represent himself to be, a manufacturer, wholesaler, pharmacist, pharmacy owner, physician, dentist, veterinarian, or other authorized person.

(d) No person shall make or utter any false or forged prescription or written order.

(e) No person shall affix any false or forged label to a package or receptacle containing narcotic drugs. (1935, c. 477, s. 17.)

§ 6686(21). Application of certain restrictions.—The provisions of section eighteen shall apply to all transactions relating to narcotic drugs under the provisions of section 6686(11) in the same way as they apply to transactions under all other sections. (1935, c. 477, s. 18.)

Editor's Note.—The word "eighteen" appearing in the above section was probably intended to be seventeen.

§ 6686(22). Possession of hypodermic syringes and needles regulated.—No person except a manufacturer or a wholesaler or a retail dealer in surgical instruments, pharmacist, physician, dentist, veterinarian, nurse or interne shall at any time have or possess a hypodermic syringe or needle or any instrument or impliment adapted for the use of habit forming drugs by subcutaneous injections and which is possessed for the purpose of administering habit forming drugs, unless such possession be authorized by the certificate of a physician issued within the period of one year prior hereto. (1935, c. 477, s. 19.)

§ 6686(23). Burden on defendant to prove exemption. — In any complaint, information, or indictment, and in any action or proceeding brought for the enforcement of any provision of this article, it shall not be necessary to negative any exception, excuse, proviso, or exemption, contained in this article, and the burden of proof of any such exception, excuse, proviso, or exemption shall be upon the defendant. (1935, c. 477, s. 20.)

§ 6686(24). State board of pharmacy and police officers to enforce article.—It is hereby made the duty of the state board of pharmacy, its officers, agents, inspectors and representatives, and of all peace officers within the State, and of all state's attorneys, to enforce all provisions of this article, except those specifically delegated, and to coöperate with all agencies charged with the enforcement of the laws of the United States, of this State and of all other states, relating to narcotic drugs. (1935, c. 477, s. 21.)

§ 6686(25). Penalties for violation.—Any person violating any provision of this article shall, upon conviction, be punished for the first offense by a fine not exceeding one thousand ($1,000.00) dollars or by imprisonment for not exceeding three years, or both; and for any subsequent offense by a fine not exceeding three thousand dollars ($3,000.00) or by imprisonment for not exceeding five years, or both. (1935, c. 477, s. 22.)

Editor's Note.—The cases discussed below were decided under section 6683, now repealed. These cases are made available to the practitioner as an aid in construing the present law, but they must be read in the light of the former law.

This section confers no power on the Board to revoke the license of a physician who has been convicted of its violation. Board of Medical Examiners v. Gardner, 201 N. C. 123, 127, 159 S. E. 8.

Power of Board to Renew Revoked License.—When the license of a pharmacist convicted of the unlawful sale of cocaine, etc., is revoked, the board has no authority to renew the license upon the tender of the prescribed fee of $2. Thomas v. Board, 152 N. C. 373, 67 S. E. 925.

§ 6686(26). Double jeopardy.—No person shall be prosecuted for a violation of any provision of this article if such person has been acquitted or convicted under the federal narcotic laws of the same act or commission, which, it is alleged, constitutes a violation of this article. (1935, c. 477, s. 23.)

§ 6686(27). Construction of article.—This article shall be so interpreted and construed as to effectuate its general purpose and to make uniform the laws of those states which enact it. (1935, c. 477, s. 25.)

§ 6686(28). Title of article.—This article may be cited as the Uniform Narcotic Drug Act. (1935, c. 477, s. 26.)

Art. 4. Optometry

§ 6687. Optometry defined.—The practice of optometry is hereby defined to be the employment of any means, other than the use of drugs, medicines, or surgery, for the measurement of the powers of vision and the adaptation of lenses for the aid thereof; and in such practices as above defined, the optometrist may prescribe, give directions or advice as to the fitness or adaptation of a pair of spectacles, eyeglasses or lenses for another person to wear for the correction or relief of any condition for which a pair of spectacles, eyeglasses or lenses are used, or to use or permit or allow the use of instruments, test-cards, test types, test lenses, spectacles or eyeglasses or anything containing lenses, or any device for the purpose of aiding any person to select any spectacles, eyeglasses or lenses to be used or worn by such last mentioned person or by any other person. (1909, c. 444, s. 1; 1923, c. 42, s. 1.)

Editor's Note.—By the amendment Public Laws 1923 the part of this section following the semi-colon was added.

The purpose of the amendment "is to raise the standards of the practice of optometry in North Carolina. Its chief effect upon this section is the requirement of two years attendance at a recognized optical college, eliminating the option of two years under a registered optometrist, the raising of the examination fee from $10 to $20, and the raising of the compensation of the Board of Examiners from $5 to $10 for each day spent in the duties of the office." 1 N. C. Law Rev. 300.

§ 6688. Practice without registration unlawful.—After the passage of this article it shall be unlawful for any person to practice optometry in the state unless he has first obtained a certificate of registration and filed the same, or a certified copy thereof, with the clerk of the superior court of his residence, as hereinafter provided. Within the meaning of this section, a person shall be deemed as practicing optometry who does, or attempts to, sell, furnish, replace, or duplicate, a lens, frame, or mounting or replaces same, or furnishes any kind of material or apparatus for ophthalmic use, without a written prescription from a person authorized under the laws of the State of North Carolina to practice optometry, or from a person authorized under the laws of North Carolina to practice medicine: Provided, however, that the provisions of this section shall not prohibit persons or corporations from selling completely assembled spectacles, without advice or aid as to the selection thereof, as merchandise from permanently located or established places of business, nor shall it prohibit persons or corporations from making mechanical repairs to frames for spectacles; nor shall it prohibit any person, firm, or corporation engaged in grinding lenses and filling prescriptions from replacing or duplicating lenses on original prescriptions issued by a duly licensed optometrist, and oculist. (1909, c. 444, s. 2; 1935, c. 63.)

Editor's Note.—The amendment of 1935 added all of this section except the first sentence.

§ 6689. Board of examiners in optometry.— There is hereby created a board, whose duty it shall be to carry out the purposes and enforce the provisions of this article, and which shall be styled the "North Carolina State Board of Examiners in Optometry." This board shall be appointed by the governor as soon as practicable, and shall consist of five regular optometrists who are members of the North Carolina state optometric society and who have been engaged in the practice of optometry in the state for five years. The terms of the members shall be as follows: One for one year, one for two years, one for three years, one for four years, one for five years. The terms of members thereafter appointed shall be for five years. The appointments to fill vacancies shall be for the unexpired terms. The members of the board, before entering upon their duties, shall respectively take all oaths taken and prescribed for other state officers, in the manner provided by law, which shall be filed in the office of the secretary of state, and the board shall have a common seal. Members of said board shall, from and after the adoption of this law, be elected by the North Carolina State Optometric Society, and shall be commissioned by the governor. The North Carolina State Optometric Society shall have the power to fill all vacancies on said board for unexpired terms, and members so elected shall be commissioned by the governor. (1909, c. 444, s. 3; 1915, c. 21, s. 1; 1935, c. 63.)

Editor's Note.—The amendment of 1935 added the last two sentences of the section.

§ 6690. Organization; meetings and powers thereat; records, witnesses and evidence. — The board of examiners shall choose, at the first regular meeting and annually thereafter, one of its members as president and one as secretary and treasurer. The board shall make such rules and regulations, not inconsistent with law, as may be necessary to the proper performance of its duties, and each member may administer oaths and take testimony concerning any matter within the jurisdiction of the board. A majority of the board shall constitute a quorum. The board shall meet at least once a year, the times and places of meeting to be designated by the president and secretary. The secretary of the board shall keep a full record of its proceedings, which shall at all reasonable times be open to public inspection. The president, secretary-treasurer, or any member of the board shall have power in connection with any matter within the jurisdiction of the board to summon and examine witnesses under oath and to compel their attendance and the production of books, papers, or other documents or writings deemed by it necessary or material to the inquiry. Each summons or subpoena shall be issued under the hand of the secretary-treasurer or the president of the board and shall have the force and effect of a summons or subpoena issued by a court of record, and any witness who shall refuse or neglect to appear in obedience thereto or to testify or produce books, papers, or other documents or writings required shall be liable to punishment for contempt by the board. Said board shall pay to any witness subpoenaed before it the fees and per diem as paid witnesses in civil actions in the superior court of the county where such hearing is held. (1909, c. 444, s. 4; 1935, c. 63.)

Editor's Note.—The amendment of 1935 reduced the number of meetings from twice a year to once a year and added the last three sentences.

§ 6691. Examination for practice; prerequisites; registration. — Every person, before beginning to practice optometry in this state after the passage of this article, shall pass an examination before the board of examiners. The examination shall be confined to such knowledge as is essential to practice of optometry. Every applicant for examination at the time of examination must comply with the following conditions:

1. He must be twenty-one years of age.

2. He shall file with the secretary of the board a certificate of good moral character, signed by two reputable citizens of this state; but an applicant from another state may have such certificate signed by any state officer of the state from which he comes.

3. He shall satisfy the board that he has been in actual attendance in approved school of optometry, and that he holds a certificate of graduation from said school, which school shall be approved by the North Carolina Board of Examiners in Optometry.

4. He must pay to the board for the use of the board the sum of twenty dollars, and if he shall successfully pass the examination he shall pay to the secretary for the use of the board a further sum of five dollars on the issuance to him of the certificate: Provided, the applicant may stand any subsequent examination by paying an additional fee of five dollars.

Every person successfully passing the examination shall be registered in the board registry, which shall be kept by the secretary, as licensed to practice optometry, and he shall also receive a certificate of registration, to be signed by the president and secretary of the board: Provided, that any person holding a certificate by examination to practice optometry in another state where the qualifications prescribed are equal to the qualifications required in this state may be licensed without examination on the same conditions and on the payment of the same fees as are required of other applicants.

Editor's Note.—The amendment of 1935 changed the requirements of subsection 3 and substituted the last words of subsection 4 "by paying an additional fee of five dollars" for the words "without paying another fee."

Where one discontinues the practice of optometry and engages in other business for eighteen years, this will not constitute an abandonment of his license to practice so as to make him a "beginner" within the meaning of this section when no action was taken by the board as provided in § 6696 since such revocation of the certificate is the only method prescribed by statute for foreclosing the right to practice the profession after an optometrist has been admitted to such practice. Mann v. North Carolina State Board of Examiners, 206 N. C. 853, 855, 175 S. E. 281.

§ 6692. Persons in practice before passage of statute.—Every person who had been engaged in the practice of optometry in the state for two years prior to the date of the passage of this article shall hereafter file an affidavit as proof thereof with the board. The secretary shall keep a record of such persons who shall be exempt from the provisions of the preceding section. Upon payment of three dollars he shall issue to each of them certificates of registration without the necessity of an examination. Failure on the part of a person so entitled within six months of the enactment of this article to make written application to the board for the certificate of registration accompanied by a written statement, signed by him and duly verified before an officer authorized to administer oaths within this state, fully setting forth the grounds upon which he claims such certificate, shall be deemed a waiver of his right to a certificate under the provisions of this section. A person who has thus waived his right may obtain a certificate thereafter by successfully passing examination and paying a fee as provided herein. (1909, c. 444, ss. 6, 7, 9.)

§ 6693. Filing of certificate by licensee; fees; failure to file, certified copies.—Each recipient of the certificate of registration shall present the same for record to the clerk of the superior court of the county in which he resides, and shall pay a fee of fifty cents for recording the same. The clerk shall record it in a book to be provided by him for that purpose. Any person so licensed, before engaging in the practice of optometry in any other county, shall file the certificate for record with the clerk of the superior court of the county in which he desires to practice, and pay the clerk for recording it a fee of fifty cents. Any failure, neglect, or refusal on the part of a person holding a certificate to file it for record, for thirty days after the issuance thereof, shall forfeit the certificate and it shall become null and void. Upon the request of any person entitled to a certificate of registration the board shall issue a certified copy thereof, and upon the fact of the loss of the original being made to appear, the certified copy shall be recorded in lieu of the original, and the board shall be entitled to a fee of one dollar for recording such certified copy. (1909, c. 444, s. 8.)

§ 6694. Certificate to be displayed at office.—Every person to whom a certificate of examination or registration is granted shall display the same in a conspicuous part of his office wherein the practice of optometry is conducted. (1909, c. 444, s. 10.)

§ 6695. Compensation of boards; surplus funds.—Out of the funds coming into possession of said board each member thereof may receive as compensation the sum of ten dollars for each day he is actually engaged in the duties of his office and mileage of five cents per mile for all distances necessarily traveled in going to and coming from the meetings of the board. Such expenses shall be paid from the fees and assessments received by the board under the provisions of this article, and no part of the salary or other expenses of the board shall ever be paid out of the state treasury. All moneys received in excess of per diem allowance and mileage, as above provided, shall be held by the secretary as a special fund for meeting expenses of the board and carrying out the provisions of this article, and he shall give the state such bond as the board shall from time to time direct for the faithful performance of his duties, and the board shall make an annual report of its proceedings to the governor on the first Monday in January of each year, which report shall contain an account of all moneys received and disbursed by them pursuant to this article. The secretary-treasurer shall receive from the funds of the board such salary as may be determined by the board. (1909, c. 444, s. 11; 1923, c. 42, s. 4; 1935, c. 63.)

Editor's Note.—The amendment of 1935 added the last sentence of this section.

§ 6696. Annual fees; failure to pay; revocation of license; collection by suit.—For the use of the board in performing its duties under this article, every registered optometrist shall, in every year after the year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two (1932) pay to the board of examiners the sum of not exceeding five and no/100 dollars ($5.00), the amount to be fixed by the board, as a license fee for the year. Such payments shall be made prior to the first day of April in each year, and in case of default in payment by any registered optometrist his certificate may be revoked by the board at the next regular meeting of the board after notice as herein provided. But no license shall be revoked for non-payment if the person so notified shall pay, before or at the time of consideration, his fee and such penalty as may be imposed by the board. The penalty imposed on any one person so notified as a condition of allowing his license to stand shall not exceed five and no/100 dollars ($5.00). The board of examiners may collect any dues or fees provided for in this section by suit in the name of the board. The notice hereinbefore mentioned shall be in writing, addressed to the person in default in the payment of dues or fees herein mentioned at his last known address as shown by the records of the board, and shall be sent by the secretary of the board by registered mail, with proper postage attached, at least twenty (20) days before the date upon which revocation of license is considered, and the secretary shall keep a record of the fact and of the date of such mailing. The notice herein provided for shall state the time and place of consideration of revocation of the license of the person to whom such notice is addressed. (1909, c. 444, s. 12; 1923, c. 42, s. 5; 1933, c. 492, s. 1.)

Editor's Note.—Public Laws of 1933, c. 42, struck out the former section and inserted the above in lieu thereof.

A comparison of the two sections is necessary to determine the changes.

The valid statutory method of revoking a license to practice optometry as provided by this section is exclusive and must be first resorted to and in the manner specified therein. Mann v. North Carolina State Board of Examiners, 206 N. C. 853, 855, 175 S. E. 281.

§ 6697. Revocation and regrant of certificate. —The board shall have the power to make such rules and regulations, not inconsistent with the laws of the State of North Carolina, as may be necessary and proper for the regulation of the practice of the profession of optometry, and for the performance of its duties. The board shall have the power to revoke any certificate of registration granted by it under this article for conviction of crime, habitual drunkenness, gross incompetence, contagious or infectious disease; and the board shall likewise have the power to revoke any such certificate of registration upon the finding by the board that the holder of such certificate has been guilty of unethical conduct or practice. Unethical practice as herein stipulated as a condition for revocation of license shall include the following:

(1) Advertising the "free examination of the eyes," "free consultation," "consultation without obligation," "free advice," or any words or phrases of similar import which convey, or are calculated to convey, the impression to the public that the eyes are examined free, or of a character tending to deceive or mislead the public, or in the nature of "bait advertising";

(2) Use of advertising, directly or indirectly, whether printed, radio, display, or of any other nature which seeks or solicits practice on any installment payment plan;

(3) House-to-house canvassing or peddling, directly or through any agent or employee, for the purpose of selling, fitting, or supplying frames, mounting, lenses, or other opthalmic products.

Before any certificate may be so revoked for any of the grounds or reasons herein set forth, the holder thereof shall be served with notice in writing by any officer authorized to serve civil summons informing such holder of the charge or charges against him, and at a day specified in said notice at least thirty days from the date of the issuance of said notice informing such holder of the date, time, and place of the hearing before the board, and have an opportunity to produce testimony in his behalf, and to confront the witnesses against him. Any person whose certificate has been revoked for any of the grounds or reasons herein set forth, or on account of nonpayment of dues, may, after the expiration of ninety days, and within two years, apply to the board to have same regranted, and upon a showing satisfactory to the said board, and at the discretion of the board, license to practice optometry may be restored to such person. (1909, c. 444, s. 13; 1935, c. 63.)

Editor's Note.—Public Laws of 1935, c. 63, struck out the former section and inserted the above in lieu thereof. A comparison of the two sections is necessary to determine the changes.

§ 6697(a). Practicing under other than own name or as a salaried or commissioned employee. —It shall be unlawful for any person licensed to practice optometry under the provisions of this article to advertise, practice, or attempt to practice under a name other than his own, except as an associate of or assistant to an optometrist licensed under the laws of the State of North Carolina; and it shall be likewise unlawful for any corporation, lay body, organization, group, or lay individual to engage, or undertake to engage, in the practice of optometry through means of engaging the services, upon a salary or commission basis, of one licensed to practice optometry in this State. Likewise, it shall be unlawful for any optometrist licensed under the provisions of this article to undertake to engage in the practice of optometry as a salaried or commissioned employee of any corporation, lay body, organization group, or lay individual. (1935 c. 63.)

§ 6698. Violation of article forbidden.—Any person who shall violate any of the provisions of this article, and any person who shall hold himself out to the public as a practitioner of optometry without a certificate of registration provided for herein, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction may be punished by a fine of not more than one hundred dollars or imprisonment for not more than four months, or both, in the discretion of the court. (1909, c. 444, s. 14.)

§ 6699(a). Citizens who have begun study of optometry; exemptions. — All citizens of this state who have begun the study of optometry before February 12, 1923, shall be exempt from the operation and provisions amending sections 6687, 6691, 6695, and 6696, until the regular June meeting of the state board of examiners in optometry to be held in one thousand nine hundred and twenty-four. (1923, c. 42, s. 6.)

§ 6699(b). Repeal of laws; exception.—Nothing in the provisions amending sections 6687, 6691, 6695, and 6696, or in section 6699(a), shall repeal any of the provisions of section 6699. (1923, c. 42, s. 7.)

Art. 5. Osteopathy

§ 6700. Osteopathy defined.—For the purpose of this article osteopathy is defined to be the science of healing without the use of drugs, as taught by the various colleges of osteopathy recognized by the North Carolina Osteopathic Society, Incorporated. (1907, c. 764, s. 8; 1913, c. 92, s. 3.)

ety, and this number may be increased to fifteen, upon the request of the governor; the recommendation of the president and secretary being sufficient proof of the appointees' standing in the profession; and said appointees shall constitute the first board of osteopathic examination and registration. Their term of office shall be so designated by the governor that the term of one member shall expire each year. Thereafter in each year the governor shall in like manner appoint one person to fill the vacancy in the board thus created, from a number of not less than five, who are recommended by the state osteopathic society; the term of said appointee to be for five years. A vacancy occurring from any other cause shall be filled by the governor for the unexpired term in the same manner as last above stated. The board shall, within thirty days after appointment, meet in the city of Raleigh, and organize by electing a president, secretary and treasurer, each to serve for one year. Thereafter the election of said officers shall occur annually. The treasurer and secretary shall each give bond, approved by the board, for the faithful performance of their respective duties, in such sum as the board may from time to time determine. The board shall have a common seal, and shall formulate rules to govern its actions; and the president and secretary shall be empowered to administer oaths. The board shall meet in the city of Raleigh at a call of the president, in the month following the election of officers, and in July of each succeeding year, and at such other times and places as a majority of the board may designate. Three members of the board shall constitute a quorum, but no certificate to practice osteopathy shall be granted on an affirmative vote of less than three. The board shall keep a record of its proceedings, and a register of all applicants for certificates, giving the name and location of the institution granting the applicant the degree of doctor of or diploma in osteopathy or other nondrug-giving school of medical practice; the date of his or her diploma, and also whether the applicant was rejected or a certificate granted. The record and registers shall be prima facie evidence of all matters recorded therein. (1907, c. 764, s. 1; 1913, c. 92, s. 1.)

§ 6702. Examination and certification of applicant; prerequisites.—Any person, before engaging in the practice of osteopathy in this state, shall, upon the payment of a fee of twenty-five dollars, make application for a certificate to practice osteopathy to the board of osteopathic examination and registration on a form prescribed by the board, giving, first, his name, age (which shall not be less than twenty-one years), and residence; second, evidence that such applicant shall have, previous to the beginning of his course in osteopathy, a certificate of examination for admission to the freshman class of a reputable literary or scientific college, a diploma from a high school, academy, state normal school, college, or university, approved by aforesaid board; third, the date of his diploma, and evidence that such diploma was granted on personal attendance and completion of a course of not less than four terms of five months each, and after July, one thousand nine hundred and seventeen, of four terms of not less than nine months each in three separate years; fourth, the name of the school or college of osteopathy from which said applicant was a graduate, and which shall have been in good repute as such at the time of the granting of his diploma, as determined by the board. The board may, in its discretion, accept as the equivalent of any part or all of the second, third, and fourth requirements evidence of five or more years reputable practice of osteopathy, provided such substitution be specified in the certificate, if the facts thus set forth, and to which the applicant shall be required to make affidavit, shall meet the requirements of the board, as prescribed by its qualifications for the practice of osteopathy, which shall include the subjects of anatomy, physiology, physiological chemistry, toxicology, osteopathic pathology, bacteriology, osteopathic diagnosis, hygiene, osteopathic obstetrics and gynecology, minor surgery, principals and practice of osteopathy, and such other subjects as the board may require. A physician's certificate issued by a reputable school of osteopathy to a graduate from a reputable school of medicine, after an attendance of not less than two terms of nine months each in two separate years, may be accepted by the board on the same terms as a diploma, and the holder thereof be subject to the same regulations in all other respects as other applicants before the board. The board may refuse to grant a certificate to any person convicted of a felony, or of gross unprofessional conduct, or who is addicted to any vice to such a degree as to render him unfit to practice osteopathy, and may, after due notice and hearing, revoke such certificate for like cause. (1907, c. 764, s. 2; 1913, c. 92, s. 1.)

In General.—Those who practice and receive pay for the treatment of human diseases without the use of drugs, and who are not licensed osteopaths, are required to take the examination and receive the license provided for by statute. State v. Siler, 169 N. C. 314, 84 S. E. 1015.

This case was decided before §§ 6710-6728 were passed.—Ed. Note.

§ 6703. When examination dispensed with; temporary permit.—The board may, upon the payment of a fee of two dollars, grant a certificate to practice osteopathy in this state without examination, if application therefor is filed within ninety days after the passage of this act, to any person having a diploma from a legally chartered school or college of osteopathy, which was in good standing at the time of issuing of such diploma as defined by the board, and who shall meet the requirements of the board in other respects, and who was in active practice in this state at the time of the passage of this act.

The board may, in its discretion, dispense with an examination in the case, first, of an osteopathic physician duly authorized to practice osteopathy in any other state or territory, or the District of Columbia, who presents a certificate of license issued after an examination by the legally constituted board of such state, territory, or District of Columbia, accorded only to applicants of equal grade with those required in this state; or, second, an osteopathic physician who has been in actual practice of osteopathy for five years, who is a graduate of a reputable school of osteopathy, who may desire to change his residence to this state, and who makes application on a form to be prescribed by the board, accompanied by a fee of twenty-five dollars.

The secretary of the board may grant a temporary permit until a regular meeting of the board, or to such time as the board can conveniently meet, to one whom he considers eligible to practice in the state, and who may desire to commence the practice immediately. Such permit shall only be valid until legal action of the board can be taken. In all the above provisions the fee shall be the same as charged to applicants for examination, except to those who are practicing in the state on the eighth day of March, 1907. (1907, c. 764, s. 2.)

§ 6704. Provisions of this article extended to nondrug-giving practitioners.—The provisions of the two preceding sections shall apply to all other nondrug-giving practitioners, except chiropractors, by whatever name they are known or call themselves, or of whatever school they claim to be graduates or hold diplomas, and to any one who holds himself out as being able to diagnose, treat, operate, or prescribe for any human diseases, pain, injury, deformity, or physical condition, and who shall offer or undertake by any means or method to diagnose, treat, operate, or prescribe therefor without the use of drugs, but shall not apply to those practicing their profession as licensed physicians, nor to Christian Scientists or masseurs or any one following in his or her practice the orders of licensed drug-giving physicians: Provided, however, that all such persons so applying to said board for examination shall be examined only on the subject of anatomy, physiology, pathology, and diagnosis, by said board, but no license shall be issued by such board to those who claim to be correspondence school course graduates to practice in this state. (1913, c. 92, s. 2.)

§ 6705. Fees held by board; salaries; payment of expenses.—All fees shall be paid in advance to the treasurer of the board, to be by him held as a fund for the use of the state board of osteopathic examination and registration. The compensation and expenses of the members and officers of said board, and all expenses proper and necessary, in the opinion of said board, to discharge its duties under and to enforce the law, shall be paid out of such fund, upon the warrant of the president and secretary of said board, and no expense shall be created to exceed the income of fees or fines as herein provided. The salaries shall be fixed by the board, but shall not exceed ten dollars per day per member, and railroad and hotel expenses. (1907, c. 764, s. 3.)

§ 6706. Subject to state and municipal regulations.—Osteopathic physicians shall observe and be subject to all state and municipal regulations relating to the control of contagious diseases, the reporting and certifying of births and deaths, and all matters pertaining to public health, the same as physicians of other schools of medicine, and such reports shall be accepted by the officers or department to whom the same are made. (1907, c. 764, s. 4.)

§ 6707. Record of certificates; fees. — Every person holding a certificate from the state board of examination and registration shall have it recorded in the office of the county clerk of the county in which he or she expects to practice. Until such certificate is filed for record, the holder shall exercise none of the rights or privileges therein conferred. Said clerk of the county shall keep in a book for that purpose a complete list of all certificates recorded by him, with the date of the recording of each certificate. Each holder of a certificate shall pay to said clerk a fee of one dollar for making such record. (1907, c. 764, s. 5.)

§ 6708. Practice without compliance with law prohibited.—Any person who shall practice, or pretend or attempt to practice, or use the science or system of osteopathy in treating diseases of the human body by fraud or misrepresentation; or any person who shall buy, sell, or fraudulently obtain any diploma, license, record, or registration to practice osteopathy, illegally obtained, or signed or issued unlawfully, or under fraudulent representation; or who shall use any of the forms or letters, "Osteopathy," "Osteopath," or "Osteopathist," "Diplomate in Osteopathy," "D.O." "D. Sc.O.," "Osteopathic Physician," "Doctor of Osteopathy," or any title of letters, either alone or with other qualifying words or phrases, under such circumstances as to induce the belief that the person who uses such term or terms is engaged in the practice of osteopathy, without having complied with the provisions of this article, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not less than twenty-five dollars nor more than one hundred dollars for each offense, or imprisoned not less than three months nor more than six months in the county jail.

The punishment prescribed in this section shall likewise apply to other non-drug-giving practitioners to whom this article is extended by the fifth section [6704] thereof and who violates any of its provisions. (1907, c. 764, s. 6; 1913, c. 92, s. 5.)

§ 6709. Objects of North Carolina osteopathic society.—The object of the North Carolina osteopathic society shall be to unite the osteopaths of this state for mutual aid, encouragement, and improvement, to encourage scientific research in the laws of health and treatment of diseases of the human family; to elevate the standard of professional thought and conduct in the practice of osteopathy and to restrict the practice of osteopathy to persons educated and trained in the science and possessing a diploma from a reputable college of osteopathy. (1907, c. 764, s. 7.)

Art. 6. Chiropractic

§ 6710. Creation and membership of board of examiners.—There is hereby created and established a board to be known by the name and style of the state board of chiropractic examiners. The board shall be composed of three practicing chiropractors of integrity and ability, who shall be residents of the state, and no more than two members of said board shall be graduates from the same school or college of chiropractic. (1917, c. 73, s. 1.)

Editor's Note.—The case of State v. Gibson, 169 N. C. 381, 85 S. E. 7, was decided before this and following sections were passed. The above cited case applied the rule laid down in 6702 to all nondrug-giving practioners.

§ 6711. Appointment; term; successors; recommendations.—The governor shall appoint the members of the state board of chiropractic examiners, whose terms of office shall be as follows: One member shall be appointed for a term of one year from the close of the next regular annual meeting of the North Carolina chiropractic association; one member shall be appointed for a term of two years from such time, and one member shall be appointed for a term of three years from such time. Annually thereafter, at the time of the annual meeting or immediately thereafter, the governor shall appoint one member of the state board of chiropractic examiners, whose term of office shall be three years, and such members of the board of examiners shall be appointed from a number of not less than five who shall be recommended by the North Carolina board of chiropractors. (1917, c. 73, s. 2; 1933, c. 442, s. 1.)

Editor's Note.—Public Laws of 1933, c. 442, changed "North Carolina board of chiropractors" to "North Carolina chiropractic association."

§ 6712. First appointments.—Until the members of the board are appointed as aforesaid the governor shall appoint the state board of chiropractic examiners, who shall hold office until the close of the next regular annual meeting of the North Carolina chiropractic association. (1917, c. 73, s. 3; 1933, c. 442, s. 1.)

Editor's Note.—Public Laws of 1933, c. 442, changed "North Carolina board of chiropractors" to "North Carolina chiropractic association."

§ 6713. Organization and vacancies.—The board of chiropractic examiners shall elect such officers as they may deem necessary, and in case of a vacancy, caused by death or in any other manner, a majority of the board shall have the right to fill the vacancy by the election of some other member of the North Carolina chiropractic association. (1917, c. 73, s. 4; 1933, c. 442, s. 1.)

Editor's Note.—Public Laws of 1933, c. 442, changed "North Carolina board of chiropractors" to "North Carolina chiropractic association."

§ 6714. Rules and regulations.—The state board of chiropractic examiners may adopt suitable rules and regulations for the performance of their duties. (1919, c. 148, s. 4.)

§ 6715. Definitions of chiropractic; examinations; educational requirements.—Chiropractic is herein defined to be the science of adjusting the cause of disease by realigning the twenty-four movable vertebrae of the spine, releasing pressure on nerves radiating from the spine to all parts of the body, and allowing the nerves to carry their full quota of health current (nerve energy) from the brain to all parts of the body. It shall be the duty of the board of examiners to examine all applicants who shall furnish satisfactory proof of good character and of graduation from a regular chiropractic school of good standing, and such examination shall embrace such branches of study as are usually included in the regular course of study for chiropractors in chiropractic schools or colleges of good standing, including especially an examination of each applicant in the science of chiropractic as herein defined. Every applicant for license shall, after the organization of the North Carolina chiropractic association which organization shall be perfected immediately after the passage of this law, furnish to said board of examiners sufficient and satisfactory evidence that, prior to the beginning of his course in chiropractic, he had obtained a high school education, or what is equivalent thereto, entitling him to admission in a reputable college or university; and he shall also exhibit to said board of chiropractic examiners, or satisfy them that he holds, a diploma from a reputable chiropractic college, and not a correspondence school, and that said diploma was granted to him on a personal attendance and completion of a regular four years' course in such chiropractic college, and such applicant shall be examined in the following studies: Chiropractic analysis, chiropractic philosophy, chiropractic neurology, palpation, nerve tracing, microscopy, histology, anatomy, gynecology, jurisprudence, chemistry, pathology, hygiene, physiology, embryology, eye, ear, nose, and throat, hermatology, symptomology, spinograph, chiropractic orghopogy, and the theory, teaching and practicing of chiropractic.

Any person who has been practicing chiropractic in this state prior to the first day of January, one thousand nine hundred and eighteen, may apply for and receive license to practice chiropractic in this state upon proof of good character and proper proficiency upon examination; and all those practicing chiropractic prior to the first day of January, one thousand nine hundred and seventeen, shall be granted license without an examination.

Any chiropractor holding license issued to him in another state by a regular board of chiropractic examiners may apply for and receive a license to practice chiropractic in this state upon proof of good moral character and that he has been practicing chiropractic under such license for one year. (1917, c. 73, s. 5; 1919, c. 148, ss. 1, 2, 5; 1933, c. 442, s. 1.)

Editor's Note.—Public Laws of 1933, c. 442, changed "North Carolina board of chiropractors" to "North Carolina chiropractic association." The act also raised the personal attendance course from three to four years.

Discretionary Power of Board.—Chapter 73, Public Laws 1917, establishing a board of chiropractic examiners, gives this board large discretionary powers to examine and license applicants to practice this science, and to pass upon their other qualifications specified therein; and, construed with its amendatory act of 1919, ch. 148, under § 2, it is provided that those practicing chiropractics in this State prior to 1918 may receive their license upon proof of good character and proper proficiency upon examination; it is also provided that those so practicing prior to 1917 shall be granted a license without examination. Neither the proviso of the Laws of 1918 or 1917 dispenses with the discretionary power of the board to pass upon the requisites of good character, or the fact as to whether the applicants thereunder had been bona fide practitioners for the requisite time, into which the courts will not inquire, and a mandamus will not lie. Hamlin v. Carlson, 178 N. C. 431, 101 S. E. 22.

§ 6716. Annual meetings.—The board of chiropractic examiners and the North Carolina chiropractic association shall hold their annual meetings at the same time and place. But the said board of examiners may, in their discretion, meet not more than three days in advance of the annual meeting of the North Carolina chiropractic association. (1917, c. 73, s. 6; 1933, c. 442, s. 1.)

Editor's Note.—Public Laws of 1933, c. 442, changed "North Carolina board of chiropractors" to "North Carolina chiropractic association."

§ 6717. Grant of license; temporary license. — The board of chiropractic examiners at such regular annual meeting of the board shall grant to each applicant who is found to be competent, upon examination, a license authorizing him or her to practice chiropractic in North Carolina. Any two members of said board may grant a temporary license to any applicant who shall comply with the requirements of this article as to proof of good character and of graduation from a chiropractic school or college as prescribed in this article; but such temporary license shall not continue in force longer than until the next annual meeting of the said board of examiners, and in no case shall a temporary license be granted to an applicant who has already been refused a license by the board of examiners at an annual meeting. (1917, c. 73, s. 7.)

§ 6718. Graduates from other states.—A graduate of a regular chiropractic school who comes into this state from another state may be granted a license by the board of examiners as required in this article. (1917, c. 73, s. 8.)

§ 6719. Practice without license a misdemeanor. —Any person practicing chiropractic in this state without having first obtained a license as provided in this article shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and fined or imprisoned, or both, in the discretion of the court. (1917, c. 73, s. 9.)

§ 6720. Records of board.—The secretary of the board of chiropractic examiners shall keep a record of the proceedings of the board, giving the name of each applicant for license, and the name of each applicant licensed and the date of such license. (1917, c. 73, s. 10.)

§ 6721. Application fee.—Each applicant shall pay the secretary of said board a fee of twenty-five dollars. (1917, c. 73, s. 11.)

§ 6722. Extent and limitation of license.—Any person obtaining a license from the board of chiropractic examiners shall have the right to practice the science known as chiropractic, in accordance with the method, thought, and practice of chiropractors, as taught in recognized chiropractic schools and colleges but shall not prescribe for or administer to any person any medicine or drugs, nor practice osteopathy or surgery. (1917, c. 73, s. 12; 1933, c. 442, s. 3.)

Editor's Note.—Public Laws of 1933, c. 442, inserted, near the middle of this section, the words "as taught in recognized chiropractic schools and colleges."

§ 6723. Registration of license.—Any person desiring to engage in the practice of chiropractic, having first obtained a license as herein provided, shall appear before the clerk of the superior court of the county in which he resides, or proposes to practice, for registration as a chiropractor. He shall produce and exhibit to the said clerk a license obtained from the board of chiropractic examiners, and upon such exhibition the clerk shall register the name and residence of the applicant, giving the date of such registration, in a book to be kept for the purpose of registering chiropractors, and shall issue to him a certification of such registration under the seal of the superior court of such county, for which the clerk shall be entitled to collect from said applicant a fee of fifty cents. The person obtaining such certificate shall be entitled to practice chiropractic anywhere in this state; but if he shall remove his residence to another county, he shall exhibit said certificate to the clerk of the superior court of such other county, and be registered. Any one receiving a temporary license as provided in this article shall not be entitled to register, but may practice anywhere in this state during the time such temporary license shall be in force. (1917, c. 73, s. 13.)

§ 6724. Licensed chiropractors may practice in public hospitals.—A licensed chiropractor in this state may have access to and practice chiropractic in any hospital or sanitarium in this state that receives aid or support from the public. (1919, c. 148, s. 3.)

§ 6725. Grounds for refusal or revocation of license.—The board of chiropractic examiners may refuse to grant or may revoke a license to practice chiropractic in this state, upon the following grounds; immoral conduct, bad character, the conviction of a crime involving moral turpitude, habitual intemperance in the use of ardent spirits, narcotics, or stimulants to such extent as to incapacitate him or her for the performance of such professional duties. (1917, c. 73, s. 14.)

Any license or certificate granted by the board under this article shall automatically be cancelled if the holder thereof fails to secure a renewal within three months from the time herein provided; but any license thus cancelled may, upon evidence of good moral character and proper proficiency, be restored upon the payment of ten ($10.00) dollars. (1917, c. 73, s. 15; 1933, c. 442, s. 4.)

Editor's Note.—Public Laws of 1933, c. 442, added the last sentence of this section as it now reads.

expenses in connection with the duties of the board. (1917, c. 73, s. 16.)

§ 6728. Chiropractors subject to state and municipal regulations.—Chiropractors shall observe and be subject to all state and municipal regulations relating to the control of contagious and infectious diseases. (1917, c. 73, s. 17.)

Art. 7. Trained Nurses

§ 6729. Board of examiners.—A board of nurse examiners composed of five members, to consist of three registered nurses to be elected by the North Carolina State Nurses' Association, and, one representative each from the North Carolina State Medical Society and the North Carolina State Hospital Association, is hereby created to be known by the title "The North Carolina Board of Nurse Examiners."

Each member of said board shall serve a term of three years, or until his or her successor is appointed, except the first board elected under this article, the members of which shall be and serve as follows: For term expiring June the first, nineteen hundred and twenty-five, or until their successors are qualified, James M. Parrott, M. D., of Lenoir, and Oren Moore, M. D., of Mecklenburg; for term expiring June the first, nineteen hundred and twenty-six, until their successors are qualified, Mary P. Laxton, R. N., of Buncombe, E. A. Kelly, R. N., of Cumberland and Dorothy Conyers of Gilford. The board shall fill any vacancy for an unexpired term.

The Board of nurse examiners is hereby empowered to prescribe such regulations as it may deem proper, governing applicants for licenses; admission to examinations, the conduct of applicants during examinations, and the conduct of the examinations proper with the approval of the standardization board hereinafter created. (1917, c. 17, s. 1; 1925, c. 87, s. 2; 1931, c. 56.)

Editor's Note.—Prior to Public Laws of 1925 it was provided by this section that there be two physicians on the board elected by the state medical society. A provision for the appointment of an inspector of the training schools by the nurse association was omitted, and there is a new provision giving the board power to make rules and regulations, by the amendment.

The Act of 1931 merely changed "The Board of Nurse Examiners of North Carolina" to its present title.

§ 6729(a). Committee on standardization. — A joint committee on standardization, consisting of three members appointed from the North Carolina state nurses' association, and four members from the North Carolina state hospital association, whose members shall serve for a term of three years, or until their successors are elected, is hereby created. The joint committee on standardization shall advise with the board of nurse examiners herein created in the adoption of regulations governing the education of nurses, and shall jointly with the North Carolina board of nurse examiners have power to establish standards and provide minimum requirements for the conduct of schools of nursing of which applicants for examination for nurse's license under this chapter must be graduates before taking such examination. (1925, c. 87, s. 3; 1931, c. 56; 1933, c. 203, s. 2.)

Editor's Note.—The Act of 1931 struck out the second sentence of this section and inserted the one above in lieu thereof.

Public Laws of 1933, c. 203, changed the number of the North Carolina State Hospital Association from three to four, and inserted the provision making the exercise of power joint with the North Carolina board of nurse examiners.

§ 6729(b). Educational director of schools of nursing. — An educational director of schools of nursing shall be annually appointed by the North Carolina State Nurses' Association, who shall report annually to the board of nurse examiners, and to the North Carolina State Hospital Association. Such director shall be a registered nurse, her duties and compensation to be fixed by the board of nurse examiners and the standardization board. (1925, c. 87, s. 4.)

The board shall adopt and have custody of a seal and shall frame by-laws and regulations for its own government and for the execution of the provisions of this article. The officers of said board shall be a president and a secretary-treasurer, both to be elected from its nurse members. The treasurer shall give bond in such sum as may be fixed in the by-laws, and the premium therefor to be paid from the treasury of said board. The members of the board shall receive such compensation in addition to actual traveling and hotel expenses as shall be fixed by the board. The secretary-treasurer may receive an additional salary to be fixed by the board, said expenses and salaries to be paid from fees received by the board under the provisions of this article, and in no case to be charged upon the treasury of the State.

All moneys received in excess of said allowance, and other expenses provided for, shall be held by the secretary-treasurer for the expenses of the board and for extending nursing education in the State. (1917, c. 17, s 2.; 1925, c. 87, s. 5.)

Editor's Note.—Prior to Public Laws 1925 four dollars per diem and actual traveling and hotel expenses was the compensation of each member of the board.

§ 6731. Meetings for examination; prerequisites for applicants.—The board of nurse examiners of North Carolina shall convene not less frequently than once annually, and at any time ten or more applicants shall notify the secretary-treasurer that they desire an examination. Thirty days prior to such meetings notice stating time and place of examination shall be published in one nursing journal and three daily State papers.

At such meetings it shall be the duty of the board of nurse examiners to examine graduate nurses applying for license to practice their profession in North Carolina. An applicant must prove to the satisfaction of the board that he or she is twenty-one years of age, is of good moral character, and has graduated from high school or has equivalent credits.

Application shall have graduated from a school of nursing connected with a general hospital giving a three years' course of practical and theoretical instruction, which said hospital meets the minimum requirements and standards for the conduct of schools of nursing which may have been set up and established by the joint committee on standardization provided for in section

6729(a). Such schools of nursing may give credit for college work on the three years' course to the extent and as may be approved by the board of nurse examiners, such credits not to total more than one year for any one person. (1917, c. 17, s. 3; 1925, c. 87, s. 6; 1931, c. 56.)

Editor's Note.—Public Laws 1925 added a provision that schools shall meet the requirements of the American Nurse's Association formerly appearing in the third paragraph of this section. The Act of 1931 struck out this paragraph and inserted another in lieu thereof. This Act struck out from the second paragraph the words "receive at least one year of high school education or its equivalent," and inserted in lieu thereof the words: "graduated from high school or has equivalent credits."

§ 6732. Scope of examination; fees; licensing.—Examinations shall be held in anatomy and physiology, materia medicia, dietetics, hygiene, and elementary bacteriology, obstetrical, medical and surgical nursing, nursing of children, contagious diseases and ethics of nursing, and such other subjects as may be prescribed by the examining board. The subject of contagious diseases may be given in theory only. If on examination the applicant should be found competent, the board shall grant a license authorizing him or her to register as herein provided and to use the title "registered nurse," signified by the letters "R. N."

Before an applicant shall be permitted to take such an examination he or she shall pay to the secretary of the examining board an examination fee of ten dollars. In the event of the failure of the applicant to pass examination, one-half of the above named fee shall be returned to the applicant. (1917, c. 17, s. 4; 1925, c. 87, s. 7.)

Editor's Note.—This section was re-enacted without change by Public Laws 1925.

§ 6733. Licenses and certificates without examination; fee.—The board of nurse examiners shall have authority to issue licenses without examination to nurses registered in other states: Provided, that said states shall maintain an equivalent standard of registration requirements. The examination fee shall accompany each such application for license.

The board shall also have power in the exercise of its discretion to issue a certificate of registration without examination to any applicant who has been duly registered as a registered nurse under the laws of another state: Provided, said applicant possesses qualifications at least equal to those required by the State of North Carolina. The fee for license without examination shall be twenty-five dollars ($25.00). (1917, c. 17, s. 5; 1925, c. 87, s. 8.)

Editor's Note.—The second paragraph of this section is new with Public Laws 1925.

§ 6734. Only licensed nurses to practice.—On and after the ratification of this article all "trained," "graduate," "licensed," or "registered" nurses must obtain license from the board of nurse examiners before practicing their profession in this State, and before using the abbreviation "R. N." must obtain a certificate of registration from the clerk of the Superior Court of any county as hereinafter provided, but nothing in this section shall be construed to apply to any nurse who is now qualified and practicing her profession. (1917, c. 17, s. 6; 1917, c. 288; 1925, c. 87, s. 9.)

Editor's Note.—Public Laws 1925 omitted a former proviso preventing the section having retroactive effect, otherwise it is substantially the same.

§ 6735. Certain persons not affected by this article.—This article shall not be construed to affect or apply to the nursing of the sick by friends or members of the family. (1917, c. 17, s. 7; 1925, c. 87, s. 10; 1931, c. 56.)

Editor's Note.—This section was re-enacted without change by Public Laws 1925.

The Act of 1931 struck out the whole of this section and inserted in lieu thereof the above.

§ 6735(a). Temporary nursing in state.—The board of nurse examiners may make reasonable rules of comity allowing registered nurses from other states to do temporary nursing in this State. (1925, c. 87, s. 10½.)

§ 6736. Registration of nurses.—The clerk of the Superior Court of any county, upon presentation to him of a license from the State Board of Nurse Examiners issued at a date not more than twelve months previous, shall enter the date of registration and the name and residence of the holder thereof in a book to be kept in his office for this purpose, and marked "record of registered nurses," and shall issue to the applicant a certificate of such registration, under the seal of the Superior Court of the county upon a form to be prescribed by the board of nurse examiners. For such registration he shall charge a fee of fifty cents. (1917, c. 17, s. 8; 1925, c. 87, s. 11.)

Editor's Note. — This section was re-enacted without change by the Public Laws 1925.

§ 6737. Revocation of license.—The board shall have power to revoke the license of any registered nurse upon conviction of gross incompetence, dishonesty, intemperance, or any act derogatory to the morals or standing of the profession of nursing. No license shall be revoked except upon charges preferred. The accused shall be furnished a written copy of such charges, and given not less than twenty days notice of the time and place when said board shall accord a full and fair hearing on the same. Upon the revocation of a license and certificate the name of the holder thereof shall be stricken from the roll of registered nurses in the hands of the secretary of the board, and by the clerk of the Superior Court from his register upon notification of such action by said secretary. (1917, c. 17, s. 9; 1925, c. 87, s. 12.)

Editor's Note.—This section was re-enacted without change by Public Laws 1925.

§ 6738. Violation of article misdemeanor.—That any person procuring license under this article by false representation, or who shall refuse to surrender a license which has been revoked in the manner prescribed in the preceding section, or who shall use the title "trained", "graduate," "licensed" or "registered nurse," or the abbreviation "R. N." without having first obtained a license, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined not more than fifty dollars or imprisoned not exceeding thirty days. Each act shall constitute a new offense. (1917, c. 17, s. 10; 1925, c. 87, s. 13.)

Editor's Note.—This section was re-enacted without change by Public Laws 1925.

§ 6739. Training school for nurses at Sanatorium.—The state sanatorium for the treatment of tuberculosis, located at Sanatorium, North Carolina, is hereby authorized and power is hereby expressly given it to organize and conduct a training school for nurses in connection with the said sanatorium. The superintendent of the North Carolina sanatorium for the treatment of tuberculosis shall be ex officio dean of the training school for nurses, and he shall have power and authority to appoint such faculty, prescribe such course or courses of lectures, study and clinical work, and award such diplomas, certificates or other evidence of the completion of such course or courses as he may think wise and proper, and perform such other functions and do such other acts as he may think necessary in the conduct of the said training school. (1915, c. 163, ss. 1, 2.)

§ 6740. Colored nurses for colored patients.—(Repealed: 1925, c. 23.)

Art. 8. Female Students in Medical and Surgical Institutions

§ 6741. Definitions.—1. The words "medical and surgical institution" in this article shall mean any and all hospitals, sanitariums, sanatoriums, or any other institution whose purpose it is to care for the sick in this state.

2. The word "student" in this article shall mean any and all female persons engaged in the care of the sick in any medical or surgical institution in this state: Provided, this article shall not apply to registered nurses. (1917, c. 181, ss. 1, 2.)

§ 6742. Hours on duty per week and day.—No medical or surgical institution nor the agent or employee of the same in this state shall require, or cause to be required, any student to remain on duty for more than eighty hours in any week, or to remain on duty for a longer period than twelve hours in any day of twenty-four hours, except in special and emergency cases. In such cases any student may be required to remain on duty for a period of sixteen hours in twenty-four: Provided, that sleeping facilities are furnished in the room in which special duty is required, and that an opportunity is given to the student to sleep for at least half the period on special duty. (1917, c. 181, ss. 3, 4.)

§ 6743. Reduction of pay forbidden.—No medical or surgical institution, or the agent or employee of the same, in this state shall require or cause to be required any student to receive less for her services than she is receiving on June first, nineteen hundred and seventeen. (1917, c. 181, s. 6.)

§ 6744. Orders in conflict with articles forbidden.—No medical or surgical institution, or agent or employee of the same, in this state shall issue, orally or in writing, any orders conflicting in any way with the provisions of this article. (1917, c. 181, s. 7.)

§ 6745. Seats to be furnished.—It shall be the duty of every medical or surgical institution in this state, or the agent or employee in charge of the same, to furnish comfortable seats for all students for their use while not actively engaged in the care of their patients. (1917, c. 181, s. 8.)

§ 6746. Homes to be sanitary.—It shall be the duty of every medical or surgical institution in this State, or the agent or employee in charge of the same, maintaining a home for students of such institution, to keep such home properly heated, ventilated, and in a sanitary condition. (1917, c. 181, s. 9.)

§ 6747. Provisions of article to be posted.—It shall be the duty of every medical or surgical institution in this State, or the agent or employee in charge of the same, to print, or cause to be printed, all the provisions of this article upon cardboard, in type large enough that a person with normal sight can read the same at a distance of six feet. It shall be the further duty of such institution or persons in charge of the same to post or have posted a copy of this article upon the wall of every room and ward in which patients are placed. (1917, c. 181, s. 10.)

§ 6748. Violation of article misdemeanor.—Any medical or surgical institution, or the agent or employee of the same, in this state violating the provisions of this article shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined not less than ten dollars nor more than two hundred dollars, or imprisoned, in the discretion of the judge presiding: Provided, that each violation of any of the provisions of this article shall constitute a separate offense. (1917, c. 181, s. 11.)

§ 6749. Health officer to inspect semiannually and report for prosecution.—The city health officer, if there is such an officer, and if not, the county health officer, in the city or county in which any medical or surgical institution is situated, is hereby empowered and authorized to make personal investigation and inspection semiannually, on or about the first day of July and the first day of January in each year next after the passage of this act, of such institutions and homes of students of such institutions, and it shall be the duty of such health officer to report to the prosecuting attorney in the city or county recorder's court, if there be such court, and if not, to the solicitor of the judicial district, any violations of any of the provisions of this article, furnishing to such prosecuting attorney or solicitor any and all information which will aid in the conviction of the institution or institutions, person or persons violating the provisions of this article. (1917, c. 181, s. 12.)

Art. 9. Midwives

§ 6750. Midwives to register. — All persons, other than regularly registered physicians, practicing midwifery in this state shall register, without fee, their names and addresses with the secretary of North Carolina state board of health, as required by the provisions of article 14, entitled Inflammation of Eyes of Newborn, of the chapter Public Health. (1917, c. 257, ss. 8, 9.)

§ 6751. Persons forbidden to practice midwifery.—It shall be unlawful for any person who habitually gets drunk, or who is addicted to the excessive use of cocaine or morphine or other opium derivative, to practice midwifery for a fee. (1911, c. 34, s. 1.)

§ 6752. Disinfection of hands of practitioners.—It shall be unlawful for any midwife or other person who practices midwifery for fees to touch or otherwise handle the private parts of the person of any patient upon whom such person is in attendance unless the person so in attendance shall first and immediately previous thereto thoroughly wash and disinfect his or her hands. (1911, c. 34, s. 4.)

§ 6753. Violation of two preceding sections misdemeanor.—Any person violating the two preceding sections shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined not less than five nor more than ten dollars. (1911, c. 34, s. 4.)

§ 6753(1). Practice of midwifery regulated by state board of health.—The state board of health is hereby authorized, empowered and directed to adopt, promulgate and enforce rules and regulations governing the practice of midwifery in this State. (1935, c. 225, s. 1.)

§ 6753(2). Permit from state board of health.—No person shall practice midwifery in this State, except upon a permit granted and issued by the state board of health, under rules and regulations which it shall adopt with respect thereto, and upon forms which it shall prescribe. Provided that all persons who have practiced midwifery in this State for a period of five (5) years or more shall as a matter of right be entitled to the issuance of a permit to practice such occupation, if such person or persons shall make application therefor within one year from the date of the ratification of this law. (1935, c. 225, s. 2.)

§ 6753(3). Practicing without permit a misdemeanor; authority of local health officers unaffected; counties may exempt themselves from law.—Any person who shall practice midwifery in this State without such permit from the state board of health, or who, in such practice, shall violate any of the rules and regulations adopted and promulgated by the state board of health, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction, shall be subject to a fine of not more than fifty ($50.00) dollars, or imprisonment of not more than thirty (30) days, provided the provisions of this law shall not apply to licensed medical or osteopathic physicians. Provided nothing herein shall be construed to interfere with or supplant the authorty of the local health officers over the practice of midwifery in those counties and/or cities having organized health departments now controlling and regulating the practice of midwifery. Provided that any county in the State not desiring to remain under the provisions of this law may withdraw from same by resolution duly passed by the board of commissioners of said county and certified to state board of health. (1935, c. 225, s. 3.)

Art. 10. Veterinaries

§ 6754. State veterinary medical association incorporated.—The association of veterinary surgeons and physicians calling themselves the North Carolina state veterinary medical association is declared to be a body politic and corporate under the name and style of The North Carolina State Veterinary Medical Association. (Rev., s. 5431; 1903, c. 503.)

§ 6755. Board of veterinary medical examiners; appointment; membership organization.—In order to properly regulate the practice of veterinary medicine and surgery there shall be a board to be known as the North Carolina board of veterinary medical examiners, to consist of five members of the North Carolina veterinary medical association. The governor shall annually appoint one member of such board, who shall hold his office for five years, and until his successor is appointed and qualified. Every person so appointed shall, within thirty days after notice of appointment, appear before the clerk of the superior court of the county in which he resides and take oath to faithfully discharge the duties of his office. (Rev., s. 5432; 1903, c. 503, s. 2.)

§ 6756. Meeting of board; powers.—The board of examiners shall meet at least once a year at such times and places as the association may decide upon, and remain in session sufficiently long to examine all who make application at the appointed time for a license. Three members of said board shall constitute a quorum. The board of examiners shall elect a president and a secretary, who shall also perform the duties of a treasurer. They shall keep a regular record of their proceedings in a book to be kept for that purpose, which shall always be open for inspection, and shall keep a record of all applicants for a certificate and of all who are granted a certificate, and shall publish the names of the successful applicants at least once each year in two newspapers published in the state. The board shall have authority to adopt such by-laws and regulations as may be necessary. (Rev., s. 5433; 1903, c. 503, ss. 3, 4, 6, 7.)

§ 6757. Compensation of board.—The members of such board shall receive such compensation for their services, not to exceed four dollars per day, and their traveling expenses, as the association may decide upon, to be paid by the secretary of the board out of any money coming into his hands as secretary. None of the expenses of the board or of the members shall be paid by the state. (Rev., s. 5434; 1903, c. 503, s. 9.)

§ 6758. Examination and licensing of veterinaries.—The board of examiners shall, at their annual meeting, examine all applicants who desire license to practice veterinary medicine or surgery. If upon such examination the applicant be found to possess sufficient skill to practice veterinary medicine or surgery, and of good moral character, a license or certificate shall be issued to him. No certificate shall be granted except with a concurrence of a majority of the members present. To prevent delay and inconvenience two members of the board of examiners may grant a temporary certificate to practice veterinary medicine or surgery, which shall be in force only until the next regular meeting of the board of examiners, but in no case shall such temporary certificate be granted to any person who has been an unsuccessful applicant for a certificate before the board. The board shall have power to require each applicant to pay a fee of not more than ten dollars before issuing a certificate and five dollars before issuing a temporary certificate. (Rev., s. 5435; 1903, c. 503, ss. 3, 5, 8.)

§ 6759. Rescission of license.—The board shall have power to rescind any certificate that may have been granted by it or annul any registration made under this article, upon satisfactory proof that the person thus licensed has been guilty of grossly immoral conduct or malpractice as determined by the board. And it shall be the duty of said board to furnish any information pertaining to the practice of veterinary medicine or surgery upon application for same by any one practicing under this article. (Rev., s. 5436; 1903, c. 503, s. 10.)

§ 6760. Practitioners before one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five.—All persons who had, on the first day of January, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five, been practicing veterinary medicine or surgery and who have for a period of twenty years paid all fees as are required by law shall be allowed to practice veterinary medicine or surgery in this State: Provided, they make affidavit to the effect that they have practiced veterinary medicine or surgery as a profession for a period of twenty years prior to the first day of January, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five, and that they have for a period of twenty years prior to the first day of January, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five, paid all fees as may have been required by law. (Rev., s. 5437; 1903, c. 503, s. 11; 1905, c. 320; 1913, c. 129; 1919, c. 94; 1921, c. 171; Ex. Sess. 1921, c. 68; 1924, c. 38; 1935, c. 387.)

Editor's Note.—Public Laws of 1935, c. 387, struck out the former section and inserted the above in lieu thereof. A comparison of the two sections is necessary to determine the changes.

§ 6761. When may practice without license.—Nothing in this article shall be construed to prohibit any member of the medical profession from prescribing for domestic animals in cases of emergency and collecting a fee therefor nor to prohibit gratuitous services by any person in an emergency, nor to prevent any person from practicing veterinary medicine or surgery on any animal belonging to himself, or to prevent any one from castrating or spaying any of the domestic animals. And this article shall not apply to commissioned veterinary surgeons in the United States army. (Rev., s. 5438; 1903, c. 503, s. 12.)

§ 6762. Violation of article misdemeanor.—Any person practicing veterinary surgery or medicine in this state, without first having complied with the provisions of this article, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined not less than fifty dollars or imprisoned not less than thirty days, in the discretion of the court. (1913, c. 129, s. 2.)

Art. 11. Chiropodists

§ 6763. Chiropody defined.—Chiropody (podiatry) as defined by this article is the surgical, medical and mechanical treatment of all ailments of the human foot, except the correction of deformities requiring the use of the knife, amputation of the foot or toes, or the use of an anesthetic other than local. (1919, c. 79, s. 2.)

§ 6764. Unlawful to practice unless registered.—On and after the first of July, one thousand nine hundred and nineteen, it shall be unlawful for any person to practice or attempt to practice chiropody (podiatry) in this state or to hold himself out as a chiropodist (podiatrist) or to designate himself or describe his occupation by the use of any words or letters calculated to lead others to believe that he is a chiropodist (podiatrist) unless he is duly registered as provided in this article. (1919, c. 79, s. 1.)

§ 6765. Board of chiropody examiners; how appointed; terms of office.—There shall be established a board of chiropody (podiatry) examiners for the state of North Carolina. This board shall consist of three members who shall be appointed by the North Carolina pedic association. All of such members shall be chiropodists who have practiced chiropody in North Carolina for a period of not less than one year. The members of the board shall be appointed by said association for a term of three years: Provided, the members of the first board shall be appointed to hold office for one, two and three years respectively, and one member shall be appointed annually thereafter by said association. The board shall have authority to elect its own presiding and other officers. (1919, c. 78, s. 3.)

§ 6766. Applicants to be examined; examination fee; requirements.—Any person not heretofore authorized to practice chiropody (podiatry) in this state shall file with the board of chiropody examiners an application for examination accompanied by a fee of twenty-five dollars, together with proof that the applicant is more than twenty-one years of age, is of good moral character, and has obtained a preliminary education equivalent to two years instruction in a high school; on and after January first, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-two, three years instruction in a high school or its equivalent; and on and after January first, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five four years instruction in a high school or its equivalent. Such applicant before presenting himself for examination, must be a graduate of a legally incorporated school of chiropody (podiatry) acceptable to the board. (1919, c. 78, s. 9.)

§ 6767. Examinations; subjects; certificates.—The board of chiropody examiners shall hold at least one examination annually for the purpose of examining applicants under this article. The examinations shall be held at such time and place as the board may see fit, and notice of the same shall be published in one or more newspapers in the state. The board may make such rules and regulations as it may deem necessary to conduct its examinations and meetings. It shall provide such books, blanks and forms as may be necessary to conduct such examinations, and shall preserve and keep a complete record of all its transactions. Examinations for registration under this article shall be in the English language and shall be written, oral, or clinical, or a combination of written, oral, or clinical, as the board may determine, and shall be in the following subjects wholly or in part: Anatomy, physiology, pathology, bacteriology, chemistry, diagnosis and treatment, therapeutics, clinical chiropody and asepsis; limited in their scope to the treatment of the foot. No applicant shall be granted a certificate unless he obtains a general average of seventy-five or over, and not less than fifty per cent in any one subject. After such examination the board shall, without unnecessary delay, act on same and issue certificates to the candidates, signed by each member of the board; and the board of chiropody examiners shall report annually to the North Carolina pedic association. (1919, c. 78, s. 4.)

§ 6768. Reëxamination of unsuccessful applicants.—An applicant failing to pass his examination shall within one year be entitled to examination upon the payment of two dollars, but not more than two reëxaminations shall be allowed any one applicant. Should he fail to pass his third examination he shall file a new application before he can again be examined. (1919, c. 78, s. 6.)

§ 6769. Practitioners before enactment of this article; certificates.—Every person who is engaged in the practice of chiropody (podiatry) in this state one year next prior to the enactment of this article shall file with the board of chiropody examiners on or before the first day of July, one thousand nine hundred and nineteen, a written application for a certificate to practice chiropody (podiatry), together with proof satisfactory to the board that the applicant is more than twenty-one years of age and has been practicing chiropody in this state for a period of more than one year next prior to the passage of this article, and upon the payment of a fee of ten dollars the said board of chiropody examiners shall issue to such applicant a certificate to practice chiropody (podiatry) in this state. (1919, c. 78, s. 5.)

§ 6770. Certificates to registered chiropodists of other states.—Applicants registered or certified by examiners of other states whose requirements are equal to those of this state may, upon the payment of a fee of twenty-five dollars, be granted a certificate without examination: Provided, that the provisions of this section shall be extended only to those states which extend to this state the same privilege. (1919, c. 78, s. 8.)

§ 6771. Certificates filed with clerk of court; clerk to keep record.—Every person receiving a certificate from the board shall file the same with the clerk of the court of the city or county in which he resides. It shall be the duty of the clerk to register the name and address and date of the certificate in a book kept for such purpose as a part of the records of his office, and the number of the book and the page therein containing said recorded copy shall appear on the face of the certificate over the name of the clerk recording the same. The person thus registering shall pay to the clerk a fee of fifty cents. (1919, c. 78, s. 7.)

§ 6772. Revocation of certificate; grounds for; suspension of certificate.—The board of chiropody examiners may revoke by a majority vote of its members any certificate it has issued, and cause the name of the holder to be stricken from the book of the registration by the clerk of the court in the city or county in which the name of the person whose certificate is revoked is registered, for any of the following causes:

1. The wilful betrayal of a professional secret.
2. Any person who in any affidavit required of the applicant for certificate, registration or examination under this article shall make a false statement.
3. Any person convicted of a crime involving moral turpitude.
4. Any person habitually indulging in the use of narcotics, ardent spirits, stimulants or any other substance which impairs intellect and judgment to such an extent as in the opinion of the board to incapacitate such person for the performance of his professional duties.

Any person against whom charges have been made shall be notified of the fact and a copy of the charges shall be sent him by the board and he shall be given a fair and impartial trial by the board, whose decisions shall be made by a majority vote of its members.

The board may suspend any certificate granted under this article for a period not exceeding six months on account of any misconduct on the part of the person registered which would not, in the judgment of the board, justify the revocation of his certificate. (1919, c. 78, ss. 12, 13.)

§ 6773. Fees for certificates and examinations; compensation of board.—To provide a fund in order to carry out the provisions of this article the board shall charge ten dollars for each certificate issued and fifteen dollars for each examination. From such funds all expenses and salaries, not exceeding four dollars per diem for each day actually spent and actual railroad expenses in addition, shall be paid by the board: Provided, that at no time shall the expenses exceed the cash balance on hand. (1919, c. 78, s. 14.)

§ 6773(a). Annual fee of $10 required; cancellation or renewal of license. — On or before the first day of July of each year every chiropodist engaged in the practice of chiropody in this State shall transmit to the Secretary-Treasurer of the said North Carolina State Board of Chiropody Examiners his signature and post office address, the date and year of his or her certificate, together with a fee to be set by the Board of Chiropody Examiners not to exceed ten ($10.00) dollars, and receive therefor a renewal certificate. It shall be the duty of the Secretary of said Board of Chiropody Examiners to send a copy of this act to every chiropodist engaged in practicing chiropody in this State to his last address known by said Secretary. It shall also be the duty of said Board of Chiropody Examiners to publish an abstract thereof in two or more newspapers published in this State. Any license or certificate granted by said Board under or by virtue of this act, shall automatically be cancelled and annulled if the holder thereof fails to secure the renewal herein provided for within a period of thirty days after the thirty-first day of July of each year, and such delinquent chiropodist shall pay a penalty of five dollars for reinstatement: Provided, that any legal practicing chiropodist in this State who retires from practice or is absent from the State, if licensee shall furnish affidavit of having been out of the State or had retired from practicing, may reinstate himself by mere payment of fee or fees of lasped year or years, such period not exceeding five years. (1931, c. 191.)

§ 6773(b). Issuance of license upon payment of fees.—Upon payment of the fees prescribed in the above section, by or before July first, nineteen hundred and thirty-one, by any person who has heretofore practiced chiropody in the State of North Carolina, for a period of five successive years regularly, it shall be the duty of the State Board of Chiropody Examiners to issue to said person a license which shall grant to such person all the rights and privileges of chiropodists now engaged in practicing chiropody. (1931, c. 191.)

§ 6775. Sheriffs and police to report violators of this article.—It shall be the duty of the police department of the cities and the sheriff of each county in the state to see that all practitioners of chiropody (podiatry) in the state are legally registered according to the provisions of this article, and to report to the state's attorney of the city or county all cases of violation of this article; whereupon the state's attorney shall promptly prosecute those violating the provisions of this article. (1919, c. 79, s. 11.)

§ 6776. Provisions of this article to be published.—Within thirty days after the enactment of this article the board of chiropody examiners shall give notice of the provisions of this article by publishing the same or an abstract thereof in two or more newspapers published in this state. (1919, c. 78, s. 4.)

Art. 12. Embalmers

§ 6777. State board; election; qualifications; term vacancies.—The State board of embalmers shall consist of five members, elected by the state board of health, all of whom shall be licensed and practical embalmers, having experience in the care and disposition of dead human bodies. One member of such board shall be elected in June, one thousand nine hundred and five, and annually thereafter during the month of June one member of such board shall be elected. The term of office shall begin on the first day of July next after the election, and continue for five years. The state board of health shall fill all vacancies in such board. (Rev., s. 4384; 1901, c. 338, ss. 1, 2, 3; 1931, c. 174.)

Editor's Note.—The Act of 1931 struck out the words "three of whom shall be members of the State Board of Health, the other two shall be" formerly appearing in lines four and five of this section and inserted in lieu thereof "all of whom shall be licensed and."

§ 6778. Members; removal; oath.—The state board of health shall have power to remove from office any member of said board for neglect of duty, incompetency, or improper conduct. The stat board of health shall furnish each person appointed to serve on the state board of embalmers a certificate of appointment. The appointees shall qualify by taking and subscribing to the usual oath of office before some person authorized to administer oaths, within ten days after said appointment has been made, which oath shall be filed with the board of embalmers. (Rev., s. 4385; 1901, c. 338, ss. 3, 4.)

§ 6780. Meetings; quorum; by-laws; officers; president to administer oaths.—The board shall meet at least once every year, during the month of July, at such place as it may determine. Three members shall constitute a quorum. At each annual meeting the board from its members shall select a president and a secretary, who shall hold their offices for one year and until their successors are elected. The board shall, from time to time, adopt rules, regulations, and by-laws not inconsistent with the laws of this state or of the United States, whereby the performance of the duties of such board and the practice of embalming of dead human bodies shall be regulated. The president of the board (and in his absence a president pro tempore elected by the members present) is authorized to administer oaths to witnesses testifying before the board. (Rev., s. 4378; 1901, c. 338, ss. 5, 6, 7, 8.)

§ 6781. Grant and renewal of licenses; fees; licenses displayed.—Every person not licensed as an embalmer, now engaged or desiring to engage in the practice of embalming dead human bodies, shall make written application to the state board of embalmers for a license, accompanying the same with a license fee of five dollars, whereupon the applicant shall present himself before the board at a time and place to be fixed by the board, and if the board shall find, upon due examination, that the applicant is of good moral character, possessed of skill and knowledge of said science of embalming and the care and disposition of the dead, and has a responsible knowledge of sanitation and the disinfection of bodies of deceased persons and the apartment, clothing, and bedding, in case of death from infectious or contagious disease, and has had a special course in embalming in an approved school, or two years practical experience with a licensed and practical embalmer, who shall make affidavit upon the application that said applicant has had such experience under him, the board shall issue to such applicant a license to practice the art of embalming and the care and disposition of the dead, and shall register such applicant as a duly licensed embalmer. Such license shall be signed by a majority of the board and attested by its seal. All persons receiving a license under the provisions of this article shall also register the fact at the office of the board of health of the city, and where there is no board of health, with the clerk of the superior court in the county or counties in which it is proposed to carry on said practice, and shall display said license in a conspicuous place in the office of such licentiate. Every registered embalmer who desires to continue the practice of his profession shall annually, during the time he shall continue in such practice, on such day as the board may determine, pay to the secretary of the board a fee of two dollars for the renewal registration. (Rev., s. 4388; 1901, c. 338, ss. 9, 10; 1917, c. 36; 1919, c. 88.)

§ 6782. Embalming without license.—If any person shall practice or hold himself out as practicing the art of embalming, without having complied with the provisions of this article, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not less than fifty nor more than one hundred dollars for each offense. (Rev., s. 3644; 1901, c. 338, s. 14.)

§ 6783. Expenses and salaries of board.—All expenses, salary, and per diem to members of this board shall be paid from fees received under the provisions of this article, and shall in no manner be an expense to the state. All moneys received in excess of said per diem allowance and other expenses provided for shall be held by the secretary of said board as a special fund for meeting the expenses of said board. (Rev., s. 4389; 1901, c. 338, s. 11.)

§ 6784. Embalming schools have privileges of medical schools as to cadavers.—Schools for teaching embalming shall have extended to them the same privileges as to the use of bodies for dissection while teaching as those granted to medical colleges. (Rev., s. 4390; 1901, c. 338, s. 15.)

Art. 13. Cadavers for Medical Schools

§ 6785. Board for distribution.—The professors of anatomy of the several medical schools of the state shall be a board for the distribution of dead human bodies for the purpose of promoting the study of anatomy in this state, and shall have power to make proper rules for its government and the discharge of its functions under this article. (Rev., s. 4287; 1903, c. 666, s. 1.)

§ 6786. What bodies to be furnished.—All officers, agents, or servants of the state of North Carolina or of any county or town having charge or control of any dead human body required to be buried at public expense, or of the dead body of any person who at the time of death was under sentence of death or imprisonment at hard labor for the violation of the criminal laws of the state, shall, upon the request of the board or its authorized agent, deliver such dead body to any one designated by the board for the purpose aforesaid: Provided, such body be not claimed within thirty-six hours, to be disposed of without expense to the state, county, or town, by any relative within the second degree of consanguinity, or by the husband or wife of such deceased person: Provided further, that the body of a Confederate soldier or of the wife of a Confederate soldier, sailor or member of the marine corps of the world war who was honorably discharged from service, or the wife of such sailor or soldier, shall be excepted from the provisions of this article, and that the body of no white person shall be delivered to any school for the colored race.

This section shall not apply to the dead bodies of persons who are inmates of state hospitals, or to the bodies of travelers or strangers who die suddenly, or to the bodies of persons who die in the state schools for the blind or the deaf and dumb, or any other state school, or in county homes. (Rev., s. 4288; 1903, c. 666, s. 2; 1911, c. 188; 1923, c. 110.)

Editor's Note. — By amendment Public Laws 1923, the bodies of soldiers, sailors or members of the Marine Corps who were honorably discharged, and the bodies of their wives were prohibited from being furnished to medical schools. Stated in 1 N. C. Law Rev. 296.

§ 6787. How bodies distributed.— The bodies obtained under this article shall be distributed among the several medical schools in proportion to the number of students studying anatomy in such schools. Upon the written application of the professor of anatomy, or his accredited representatives, of any medical school established by law in the state, the person or persons having charge or control of said dead body or bodies, as specified, shall give such professor of anatomy, or his accredited representative, permission to take, at the expiration of twenty-four hours after death, the body or bodies of such persons, to be used within the state for the advancement of anatomical science; and it shall be the duty of any professor of anatomy receiving such body or bodies to immediately report this fact to the secretary of the anatomical board. If any medical school, in the operation of this section, shall obtain more than its equitable proportion of bodies, as determined by the said secretary, then two-thirds of such excess shall be shipped to some other medical school in the state, to be designated by the secretary of the anatomical board. (Rev., s. 4289; 1903, c. 666, s. 3; 1911, c. 188.)

§ 6788. Bodies to be embalmed.—The bodies obtained under this article shall be embalmed before being used for the purposes of dissection. (Rev., s. 4290; 1903, c. 666, s. 4.)

§ 6789. How expenses paid.—All expenses for the delivery, distribution, and embalming of such dead bodies shall be borne by the medical school receiving same, and in no case shall the state or any county or town be liable therefor. (Rev., s. 4291; 1903, c. 666, s. 5.)

§ 6790. Violation of article misdemeanor.—If any person shall fail or refuse to perform any duty imposed upon him by this article he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and fined not exceeding one hundred dollars. (Rev., s. 3567; 1903, c. 666, s. 6.)

MILITIA

Art. 1. Classification of Militia

§ 6791. Composition of militia.—The militia of the state shall consist of all able-bodied male citizens of the United States and all other able-bodied males who have or shall have declared their intention to become citizens of the United States, who shall be more than eighteen years of age and, except as hereinafter provided, not more than forty-five years of age, and the militia shall be divided into three classes: the national guard, the naval militia, and the unorganized militia. (1917, c. 200, s. 1.)

§ 6792. Composition of national guard. — The national guard shall consist of the regularly enlisted militia between the ages of eighteen and forty-five years, organized, armed, and equipped as hereinafter provided, and of commissioned officers between the ages of twenty-one and sixty-four years. (1917, c. 200, s. 2.)

§ 6793. Composition of naval militia.—The naval militia shall consist of the regularly enlisted militia between the ages of eighteen and forty-five years, organized, armed, and equipped as hereinafter provided and commissioned officers between the ages of twenty-one and sixty-two years (naval branch), and twenty-one and sixty-four years (marine corps branch); but enlisted men may continue in the service after the age of forty-five years, and until the age of sixty-two years (naval branch), or sixty-four years (Marine corps branch), provided the service is continuous. (1917, c. 200, s. 3.)

§ 6794. Composition of unorganized militia.— The unorganized militia shall consist of all other able-bodied male citizens of the state and all other able-bodied males who have or shall have declared their intention to become citizens of the United States, who shall be more than eighteen years of age, and, except as otherwise provided by law, not more than forty-five years of age. (1917, c. 200, s. 4.)

§ 6797. Maintenance of other troops.—In time of peace the state shall maintain only such troops as may be authorized by the president of the United States; but nothing contained in this chapter shall be construed as limiting the rights of the state in the use of the national guard within its borders in time of peace. Nothing contained in this chapter shall prevent the organization and maintenance of state police or constabulary. (1917, c. 200, s. 8.)

§ 6798. Corps entitled to retain privileges. — Any corps of artillery, cavalry, or infantry existing in the state on the passage of the act of congress of May eighth, one thousand seven hundred and ninety-two, which by the laws, customs, or usages of the state has been in continuous existence since the passage of such act, under its provisions and under the provisions of section two hundred and thirty-two and sections one thousand six hundred and twenty-five to one thousand six hundred and sixty, both inclusive, of title sixteen of the revised statutes of one thousand eight hundred and seventy-three and the act of congress of January twenty-first, one thousand nine hundred and three, relating to the militia, shall be allowed to retain its ancient privileges, subject, nevertheless, to all duties required by law of the militia; but such organizations may be a part of the national guard, and entitled to all the privileges of this chapter, and shall conform in all respects to the organization, discipline, and training of the national guard in time of war. For purpose of training and when on active duty in the service of the United States they may be assigned to higher units, as the president may direct, and shall be subject to the order of officers under whom they shall be serving. (1917, c. 200, s. 87.)

Art. 2. General Administrative Officers

§ 6799. Governor as commander-in-chief.—The governor shall be commander-in-chief, and shall have power to call out the militia to execute the law, suppress riots or insurrections, and to repel invasions. (1917, c. 200, s. 11.)

As to commander-in-chief of the militia, see Art. III, sec. 8, Art. XII sec. 3 of the Constitution.

§ 6800. Commander-in-chief to prescribe regulations. — The commander-in-chief shall have the power and it shall be his duty from time to time to issue such orders and to prescribe such regulations relating to the organization of the national guard and naval militia as will cause the same at all times to conform to the federal requirements of the United States government relating thereto. (1917, c. 200, s. 36.)

§ 6801. Division of military staff. — The military staff shall be divided into two kinds: the personal staff of the governor and the administrative staff. The governor may detail from the active list not more than ten national guard officers and two naval military officers, who shall in addition to their regular duties perform the duties of aides-de-camp on the personal staff of the governor. There shall be an administrative staff which shall be as is now or may from time to time be authorized by the secretary of war for the national guard and the secretary of the navy for the naval militia. (1917, c. 200, s. 12.)

§ 6802. Adjutant general. — The governor shall appoint an adjutant general, who shall have had not less than five years commissioned service in the national guard, naval militia, regular army, United States navy or marine corps; who while holding such office may be a member of the active national guard or naval militia. (1927, c. 200, s. 14; 1925, c. 54.)

§ 6803. Adjutant general's department.—There shall be an adjutant general's department. The adjutant general shall be the head of the department and as such subordinate only to the governor in matters pertaining thereto. He shall make such returns and reports to the secretary of war and secretary of the navy or to such officers as the secretary of war and secretary of the navy may designate, at such times and in such form as may from time to time be prescribed. He shall keep a record of all officers and enlisted men, and shall also keep in his office all records and papers required by law or regulations to be filed therein. He shall make an annual report to the governor on or before the thirty-first day of December of each year, including a detailed statement of all expenditures made for military purposes during that year. He shall also make a biennial report to the general assembly. He shall cause to be prepared and issued all books, blank forms, etc., required to carry into full effect the provisions of this statute. All such books and blank forms shall be and remain the property of the state. The adjutant general shall perform such other duties not herein specified as may be required by the military laws and regulations or by the governor. The adjutant general shall be allowed all such necessary expenses as may be incurred for printing, postage, stationery, blank books, orders, and reports required in his office, the same to constitute a charge against the general fund. The adjutant general may have an assistant who shall be detailed from the adjutant general's department of the administrative staff, and such clerks and employees as may be prescribed by the governor. An officer detailed as such assistant shall receive during the period of such service such compensation as may be authorized by the governor. The pay of such officer shall constitute a charge against the whole sum appropriated annually for the support of the national guard. (1917, c. 200, s. 13; 1927, c. 217, s. 4.)

§ 6804. Property and disbursing officer for the United States.—The governor of the state shall appoint, designate, or detail, subject to the approval of the secretary of war, an officer of the national guard of the state, who shall be regarded as property and disbursing officer for the United States. In consideration of his services, for the care, responsibility, and issue of federal property, the property and disbursing officer for the United States shall receive from the state such salary as the governor may authorize to be just and proper; the salary to constitute a charge upon the military fund of the state; but such salary shall in no case exceed the sum of one thousand dollars. When ordered into actual service and receiving the pay of his rank for such service, from either state or federal funds, he shall not be entitled to, or receive, any salary from the state for the period of time for which he shall receive the pay of his rank. (1917, c. 200, s. 24.)

§ 6805. Property and disbursing officer for North Carolina.—The Disbursing Officer for the National Guard shall be an employee of the Adjutant General's Department and he shall be required to give a good and sufficient bond to the State, the amount thereof, to be determined by the Governor, for the faithful performance of his duties and for the safe keeping and proper disposition of such funds and property entrusted to his care. He shall receipt for and account for all funds and property allotted to his custody from the appropriation for military purposes, by the State, and shall make such returns and reports through the Adjutant General concerning same as may be required by the Governor or State laws. All or any disbursement of such moneys will be made by the disbursing officer, only upon the approval of the Adjutant General, upon such forms and under such regulations as may be prescribed by proper authority. Blank forms, books, stationary, and other necessary equipment, for use of the disbursing officer will be furnished through or by the Adjutant General's Department. Funds from the appropriation for military purposes will be paid to the disbursing officer by the State Treasurer upon requisition of the Adjutant General on the State Treasurer in accordance with the State Laws, or regulations thereunder as prescribed by the State for the expenditure of appropriations made to the State Departments. (1917, c. 200, s. 25; 1929, c. 217, s. 1.)

§ 6806. Inspector general.—The inspector general shall annually inspect all organizations and departments in the militia at such times and places as the governor may order, and inspect and audit the accounts of all officers accountable or responsible for public funds; he will inquire as to necessity, economy, and propriety of all disbursements, their strict conformity to the law appropriating the money, and whether the property and disbursing officer complies with the law in keeping his accounts and making his deposits. He shall make an annual report to the governor of such audits and inspections, a copy of them to be furnished the advisory board. (1917, c. 200, s. 26.)

§ 6807. Advisory board. — There shall be an advisory board composed of the brigade commander, the commanding officer of each regiment of infantry, the commanding officer of the naval militia, the commanding officer of the coast artillery corps, the chief surgeon, the senior officer of engineers, the senior officer of cavalry, and the senior officer of field artillery, which shall meet once each year in Raleigh at such time as ordered by the governor, and at such other times and places as may be ordered by the governor. This board shall make such recommendations to the governor as it may deem for the best interests of the militia. The adjutant-general, the property and disbursing officers, and inspector general shall furnish such information as may be requested by the board. (1917, c. 200, s. 27; 1921, c. 120, s. 1.)

Art. 3. National Guard

§ 6808. Organization of national guard units.—Except as otherwise specifically provided by the laws of the United States, the organization of the national guard, including the composition of all units thereof, shall be the same as that which is or may hereafter be prescribed for the regular army, subject in time of peace to such general exceptions as may be authorized by the secretary of war. (1917, c. 200, s. 7.)

§ 6809. Location of units.—The governor shall determine and fix the location of the units and headquarters of the national guard within the state; but no organization of the national guard, members of which shall be entitled to and shall have received compensation under the provisions of the act of congress approved June third, one thousand nine hundred and sixteen as amended, shall be disbanded without the consent of the president, nor without such consent shall the commissioned or enlisted strength of any such organization be reduced below the minimum that is now or shall be hereafter prescribed therefor by the president. (1917, c. 200, s. 9; 1921, c. 120, s. 2.)

§ 6810. Reserve battalions for recruit training.—Under such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the president, reserve battalions for infantry, cavalry, field artillery, and coast artillery may be organized by the commander-in-chief when organizations of the national guard have been called into the service of the United States in time of war. The organization of such reserve battalions shall be effected in the manner prescribed in section seventy-nine of the act of congress approved June third, one thousand nine hundred and sixteen, or subsequent federal enactments. (1917, c. 200, s. 10.)

1. The appointment and promotion of all officers below the grade of brigadier general shall be by seniority as far as practicable within the organization or department; but if the total commissioned service of the senior officer is less than the total commissioned service of the next ranking officer, the names of both officers shall be forwarded to the war department, and promotion shall be based upon the result of the prescribed examination.

2. Original appointments of second lieutenants in the line or staff shall be made from the enlisted men when practicable within the organization. Candidates for such appointment shall make written application, accompanied by their military record, to the commanding officer through intermediate commanders for comment by endorsements. The commanding officer shall forward the application of the three best qualified and most promising candidates with his endorsement to the adjutant-general's office for consideration by the governor. (1917, c. 200, s. 15; 1921, c. 120, s. 3.)

§ 6812. Commissions for commandants and student officers at educational institutions.—Whenever any university, college, academy or other educational institution, regularly incorporated under and by virtue of the laws of the State of North Carolina, wherein military science and instruction are made a part of the courses of study and are regularly taught in said institution, and wherein there is detailed by the War Department at Washington, D. C., an officer from the United States army as professor of military science and tactics, which is designated as an Essentially Military School by the War Department of Washington, D. C., and which has been made a unit of the Senior or Junior Reserve Officers' Training Corps by the War Department at Washington, D. C., the Governor of North Carolina, on the application of the said university, college, academy or other educational institution, signed by the chancellor, president, superintendent or other presiding officer, under the seal of the said institution, is hereby authorized and directed to commission as staff officers of the North Carolina Reserve Militia, the officers of the said university, college, academy or other educational institution, as follows: The chancellor, president, superintendent or other presiding officer, as colonel; the vice-president, principal or other officer second in authority, as lieutenant-colonel; the commandant, or officer in charge of the discipline, as major; and the male professors, members of the faculty, as captains. The persons to whom commissions are issued under this section shall have no connection with the National Guard or other military forces of the State, nor shall they, or any of them, exercise any military authority other than in the discharge of their duties in their respective institutions. The Governor may annually appoint a committee of three members, one of whom shall be appointed on the recommendation of the Adjutant-General, one on the recommendation of the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, and one on the recommendation of the Secretary of the State Board of Health, with a view to their proficiency in the several departments indicated, and the said committee shall during the school year, and while the said institutions are in session, visit all of the said educational institutions and make a thorough inspection of their military departments, their discipline, courses of study and educational departments, and their sanitary condition, and report to the Governor the result of said inspection. (1919, c. 265, ss. 1, 2, 3; 1929, c. 61, s. 1.)

and former officers of the army, navy, and marine corps, enlisted men and former enlisted men of the army, navy or marine corps, who have received an honorable discharge therefrom, graduates of the United States military and naval academies and graduates of schools, colleges, universities, and officers' training camps where they have received military instruction under the supervision of an officer of the regular army who certified their fitness for appointment as commissioned officers, and, for the technical branches and staff corps or departments, such other civilians as may be especially qualified for duty therein. (1917, c. 200, s. 17; 1921, c. 120 s. 4.)

§ 6816. Precedence of relative rank among officers of same grade in active national guard.—Between officers of the same grade in the active national guard, precedence, or relative rank, is determined in the following manner:

"(a) According to the date of rank, which is the date of rank stated in his commission.—

"(b) When dates of rank are the same, according to length of active commissioned service, continuous or otherwise, in the National Guard of the United States and in the Army of the United States not counting as service time spent on any supernumerary or retired list, or in the national guard reserve or officers' reserve corps in an inactive status.

"(c) When dates of rank and length of active commissioned military service are the same, first, according to age, the older taking precedence; second, by lot." (1917, c. 200, s. 19; 1921, c. 120, s. 5; 1927, c. 227, s. 1.)

Editor's Note.—The caption of the printed act of 1927 ch. 227, purports to amend section 6316 but it does not mention that section in the body of the act. It amends section 6816. It is clearly evident that this error in the caption is clerical. This section was enacted in 1917, it was repealed and reenacted in 1921, and again in 1927. The changes were no doubt made with the intention of making the rules for promotion clear. The changes in each instance are such that a comparison of the acts will be necessary to note all.

§ 6817. Oath of national guard officers.—Commissioned officers of the national guard shall take and subscribe to the following oath of office: "I, ..., do solemnly swear that I will support and defend the constitution of the United States and the constitution of the state of North Carolina against all enemies, foreign and domestic; that I will bear true faith and allegiance to the same; that I will obey the orders of the president of the United States and of the governor of the state of North Carolina; that I make this obligation freely, without any mental reservation or purpose of evasion, and that I will well and faithfully discharge the duties of the office of..... in the national guard of the United States and of the state of North Carolina, upon which I am about to enter: so help me, God." (1917, c. 200, s. 20.)

§ 6818. Elimination and disposition of officers.—At any time the moral character, capacity, and general fitness for the service of any national guard officer may be determined by an efficiency board of three commissioned officers senior in rank to the officer whose fitness for service shall be under investigation, and if the findings of such board be unfavorable to such officer and be approved by the official authorized to appoint such officer, he shall be discharged. Commissions of officers of the national guard may be vacated upon resignation, absence without leave for three months, upon the recommendation of an efficiency board, or pursuant to sentence of a court-martial. Officers of such guard rendered surplus by disbandment of their organization shall be placed in the national guard reserve. Officers may, upon their own application, be placed in the reserve. (1917, c. 200, s. 28.)

§ 6819. Retirement of officers.—When an officer reaches the age of sixty-four years he shall be retired. (1917, c. 200, s. 29.)

§ 6820. Enlistments in national guard.—Original enlistments in the national guard shall be for a period of three years and subsequent enlistments for a period of one year each, or for such periods as may be prescribed by the secretary of war: Provided, that persons who have served in the army for not less than six months, and have been honorably discharged therefrom, may, within two years after June four, one thousand nine hundred and twenty, enlist in the national guard for one year, and reënlist for like period: Provided, that qualifications for enlistment shall be the same as those prescribed for admission to the regular army. (1917, c. 200, s. 30; 1921, c. 120, s. 6.)

§ 6821. Enlistment contract.—Enlisted men shall not be recognized as members of the national guard until they shall have signed an enlistment contract and taken and subscribed to the following oath of enlistment: "I do hereby acknowledge to have voluntarily enlisted, this ..... day of ....., 19...., as a soldier in the national guard of the United States and of the state of North Carolina, for the period of three, or one, years in service under the conditions prescribed by law, unless sooner discharged by proper authority. And I do solemnly swear that I will bear true faith and allegiance to the United States of America, and to the state of North Carolina, and that I will serve them honestly and faithfully against all their enemies whomsoever, and that I will obey the orders of the president of the United States and of the governor of the state of North Carolina and of the officers appointed over me according to law and the rules and articles of war." (1917, c. 200, s. 31; 1921, c. 120, s. 7.)

§ 6822. Discharge of enlisted men.—An enlisted man discharged from service in the national guard shall receive a discharge in writing in such form and with such classification as is or shall be prescribed for the regular army, and in time of peace discharges may be given prior to the expiration of terms of enlistment under such regulations as may be prescribed by proper authority. (1917, c. 200, s. 32.)

§ 6823. Discipline of national guard.—The discipline of the national guard shall conform to the system which is now or may hereafter be prescribed for the regular army, and the training shall be carried out so as to conform to the provisions of an act of congress approved June third, one thousand nine hundred and sixteen, and subsequent federal enactments. (1917, c. 200, s. 33.)

§ 6824. Uniform and equipment of national guard.—The national guard shall, as far as practicable, be uniformed, armed, and equipped with the same type of uniforms, arms, and equipment as is or shall be provided for the regular army. (1917, c. 200, s. 37.)

§ 6825. Courts-martial for national guard.—Courts-martial for organizations of the national guard not in the service of the United States shall be of three kinds, namely, general courts-martial, special courts-martial, and summary courts-martial. They shall be constituted, having cognizance of the same subjects, and possess like powers, except as to punishments, as similar courts provided for by the law and regulations governing the army of the United States, and the proceedings of courts-martial of the national guard shall follow the forms and modes of procedure prescribed for such similar courts. (1917, c. 200, s. 55.)

§ 6826. General courts-martial.—General courts-martial of the national guard not in the service of the United States may be convened by orders of the president, or of the governor of the state, and such courts shall have the power to impose fines not exceeding two hundred dollars; sentence to forfeiture of pay and allowances; to a reprimand; to dismissal or dishonorable discharge from the service; to reduction of noncommissioned officers to the ranks; or any two or more of such punishments may be combined in the sentences imposed by such courts. (1917, c. 200, s. 56.)

§ 6828. Summary courts-martial. — In the national guard, not in the service of the United States, the commanding officer of each garrison, fort, post, or other place, regiment, or corps, detached battalion, company, or other detachment of the national guard, may appoint for such place or command a summary court to consist of one officer, who shall have power to administer oaths and try the enlisted men of such place or command for breaches of discipline and violations of laws governing such organizations; and the court, when satisfied of the guilt of such soldier, may impose fines not exceeding twenty-five dollars for any single offense; may sentence noncommissioned officers to reduction to the ranks; may sentence to forfeiture of pay and allowances. The proceedings of such court shall be informal, and the minutes thereof shall be the same as prescribed for summary courts of the army of the United States. (1917. c, 200, s. 58.)

§ 6829. Powers of courts-martial.—All courts-martial of the national guard, not in the service of the United States, including summary courts, shall have power to sentence to confinement in lieu of fines authorized to be imposed, and shall have power to direct that upon the nonpayment of a fine the person convicted shall be confined in any county jail; but such sentences of confinement shall not exceed one day for each dollar of fine authorized. (1917, c. 200, s. 59.)

§ 6830. Procedure of courts-martial.—In the national guard, not in the service of the United States, presidents of courts-martial and summary court officers shall have power to issue warrants to arrest accused persons and to bring them before the court for trial whenever such persons shall have disobeyed an order in writing from the convening authority to appear before such court, a copy of the charge or charges having been delivered to the accused with such order, and to issue commitments in carrying out sentences of confinement, and to issue subpœnas and subpœnas duces tecum, and to enforce by attachment attendance of witnesses and the producton of books and papers, and to sentence for a refusal to be sworn or to answer as provided in actions before civil courts. He shall also have power to punish for contempt occurring in the presence of the court. (1917, c. 200, s. 60.)

§ 6831. Manual of courts-martial.—Trials and proceedings by all courts and boards shall be in accordance with the plan and procedure laid down in the manual of courts-martial, courts of inquiry, and retiring boards, and other procedures under military law, as may from time to time be prescribed by the secretary of war. (1917, c. 200, s. 64.)

§ 6832. Sentences, where executed.—All sentences to confinement imposed by any military court of this state shall be executed in such prisons as the court may designate. (1917, c. 200, s. 61.)

§ 6833. Execution of process and sentences.—All processes and sentences of any of the military courts of this state shall be executed by any sheriff, deputy sheriff, constable, or police officer into whose hands the same may be placed for service or execution, and such officer shall make return thereof to the officer issuing or imposing the same. Such service or execution of process or sentence shall be made by such officer without tender or advancement of fee therefor; but all costs in such cases shall be paid from funds appropriated for military purposes. The actual necessary expenses of conveying a prisoner from one county in the state to another, when the same is authorized and directed by the adjutant general of the state, shall be paid from the military fund of the state upon a warrant approved by the adjutant general. (1917, c. 200, s. 62.)

§ 6834. Commitments.—When any sentence to fine or imprisonment shall be imposed by any military court of this state, it shall be the duty of the president of said court, or summary court officer, upon the approval of the findings and sentence of such court, to make out and sign a certificate entitling the case, giving the name of the accused, the date and place of trial, the date of approval of sentence, the amount of fine, or manner, place, and duration of confinement, and deliver such certificate to the sheriff, or deputy sheriff, constable, or police officer of the county wherein the sentence is to be executed; and it shall thereupon be the duty of such officer to carry said sentence into execution in the manner prescribed by law for the collection of fines or commitment to service of terms of imprisonment in criminal cases determined in the courts of this state. (1917, c. 200, s. 63.)

§ 6835. Sentence of dismissal.—No sentence of dismissal from the service or dishonorable discharge, imposed by a national guard court-martial not in the service of the United States, shall be executed until approved by the governor. Any officer convicted by a general court-martial and dismissed from the service shall be forever disqualified from holding a commission in the militia. (1917, c. 200, s. 65.)

Art. 4. Naval Militia

§ 6836. Organization and equipment. — The organization of the naval militia shall be units of convenient size, in each of which the number and rank of officers and the distribution of the total enlisted strength among the several ratings of petty officers and other enlisted men shall be such as are prescribed by the secretary of the navy, who may also prescribe the number of officers and the number of petty officers and other enlisted men required for the organization of such units into large bodies for administrative and other purposes, and the arms and equipment of the naval militia shall be those which are now or may hereafter be prescribed by the secretary of the navy. (1917, c. 200, s. 66.)

§ 6837. Officers appointed to naval militia.—Officers of the United States navy and marine corps may, with the approval of the secretary of the navy, be elected or appointed and commissioned as officers of the naval militia. (1917, c. 200, s. 67.)

§ 6838. Officers assigned to duty.—Line officers of the naval militia may be for line duties only, for engineering duties only, or for aeronautic duties only. (1917, c. 200, s. 68.)

§ 6839. Discipline in naval militia.—The naval militia shall be subject to the system of discipline prescribed for the United States navy and marine corps, and the commanding officer of a naval militia battalion or brigade, or a naval militia officer in command of naval militia forces on shore or on any vessel of the navy loaned to the state, or on any vessel on which such forces are training, whether within or without the state, or wherever, either within or without the state, naval militia forces of the state shall be assembled pursuant to orders, shall have power without trial by courts-martial to impose upon members of the naval militia the punishments which the commanding officer of a vessel of the navy is authorized by law to impose. (1917, c. 200, s. 69.)

§ 6840. Disbursing and accounting officer.—The governor shall appoint a disbursing officer, approved by and of such rank as may be prescribed by the secretary of the navy, to perform such duties as the secretary of the navy may prescribe. The governor shall also appoint the above described disbursing officer, or such other officer of the pay corps of the naval militia as he may elect, as accounting officer for each battalion thereof, or at his option for each larger unit or combination of units of the same, who shall be responsible for the proper accounting for all public property issued to and for the use of such battalion or larger unit or combination of units. (1917, c. 200, s. 70.)

§ 6841. Rendition of accounts. — Accounting officers shall render accounts as prescribed by the governor or by the secretary of the navy, and shall be required to give good and sufficient bond to the state and to the United States, in such sums as the governor or the secretary of the navy may direct, and conditioned upon the faithful accounting for all public property and for the safekeeping of such part thereof as may be in the personal custody of such officer. Accounting officers may issue any or all such property to other officers or enlisted men of the naval militia under such rules and regulations as may be prescribed. (1917, c. 200, s. 71.)

§ 6843. Courts-martial for naval militia.—Courts-martial in the naval militia shall consist of general courts-martial, summary courts-martial, and deck courts. (1917, c. 200, s. 72.)

§ 6844. General courts-martial.—General courts-martial shall consist of not less than three nor more than thirteen officers, and may be convened by order of the governor. (1917, c. 200, s. 73.)

§ 6845. Summary courts-martial. — Summary courts-martial may be ordered by the governor, or by the commanding officers of a naval militia battalion or brigade. (1917, c. 200, s. 74.)

§ 6846. Deck courts.—Deck courts may be ordered by the commanding officer of a naval militia battalion or brigade, or by a naval militia officer in command of naval militia forces on shore or on any vessel loaned to the state or any vessel on which said forces may be serving. (1917, c. 209, s. 75.)

§ 6847. Jurisdiction and procedure of courts-martial and deck courts.—The above courts-martial and deck courts herein provided for shall be constituted and have cognizance of the same subjects, and possess like powers, except as to punishments, as similar courts-martial provided for in the navy of the United States; and the proceedings of the courts-martial of the naval militia shall follow the forms and modes of procedure prescribed for such courts in the navy of the United States. (1917, c. 200, s. 76.)

§ 6848. Place of holding courts.—Every precept or order for the convening of any such court may authorize the court to sit at any place or places within the territorial limits of the state as the convening authority may designate, and may further provide that any such court may be convened and sit on board any such naval or other vessel, wherever the same from time to time happens to be, or at such place or places ashore, outside the territorial limits referred to above, as in the judgment of the said convening authority may be convenient or desirable for the purposes of such courts-martial. (1917, c. 200, s. 77.)

§ 6849. Powers of general courts-martial.—General courts-martial shall have power to impose fines not exceeding two hundred dollars, to sentence to forfeiture of pay and allowances, to a reprimand, to dismissal or dishonorable discharge from the service, to reduction in rank or rating; or any two or more of such punishments may be conbined in the sentences imposed by such courts. (1917, c. 200, s. 78.)

§ 6850. Powers of summary courts-martial.—Summary courts-martial shall have the same powers of punishment as general courts-martial, except that fines imposed by summary courts-martial shall not exceed one hundred dollars. (1917, c. 200, s. 79.)

§ 6851. Powers of deck courts.—Deck courts may impose fines not exceeding fifty dollars for any single offense; may sentence enlisted men to reduction in rank or rating, to forfeiture of pay and allowances to a reprimand, to discharge with other than dishonorable discharge, or a fine in addition to any one of the other sentences specified. (1917, c. 200, s. 80.)

§ 6852. Process of courts-martial.—Presidents of general courts-martial, senior members of summary courts-martial, and deck court officers of the naval militia shall have the power to issue warrants to arrest accused persons, and to bring them before the court for trial whenever such persons have disobeyed an order in writing from the convening authority to appear before such court, a copy of the charge or charges having been delivered to the accused with such order, and to issue commitments in carrying out sentences of confinment, and to issue subpoenas and subpoenas duces tecum, and to enforce by attachment attendance of witnesses and the production of books and papers, and to sentence for a refusal to be sworn or to answer, all as authorized for similar proceedings for courts-martial in the navy of the United States. He shall also have power to punish for contempt occurring in the presence of the court. All processes, warrants, and sentences of such courts shall be executed by any sheriff or deputy sheriff or any constable or police officer of any township, county, city, or town who shall be authorized by law to execute or serve any civil or criminal process. (1917, c. 200, s. 83.)

§ 6853. Sentence to confinement in lieu of fines.—All courts-martial of the naval militia, including deck courts, shall have the power to sentence to confinement in lieu of fines authorized to be imposed, and shall have the power to direct that upon nonpayment of a fine the person convicted shall be confined in any county jail; but such sentences to confinement shall not exceed one day for each dollar of fine authorized. When naval militia forces are embarked on any vessel, the confinement in whole or in part may be had in prisons provided on said ship. (1917, c. 200, s. 81.)

§ 6854. Dismissal or dishonorable discharge.—No sentence of dismissal or dishonorable discharge from the naval militia shall, except when the naval militia shall have been called into the service of the United States, be executed without the approval of the governor. (1917, c. 200, s. 82.)

§ 6855. Collection of fines.—The amount of any fine imposed under sentence of the courts heretofore named on any member of the naval militia may be collected from him, or may be deducted from any amount due said member as accrued pay. (1917, c. 200, s. 94.)

§ 6856. Courts of inquiry.—Courts of inquiry in the naval militia shall be instituted, constituted, and conducted in the same manner and shall have like powers and duties as similar courts in the navy of the United States, except that they shall be ordered by the governor. (1917, c. 200, s. 85.)

Art. 5. Regulations as to Active Service

§ 6857. National guard and naval militia first ordered out.—In all cases the national guard and naval militia as provided for in this chapter shall be first ordered into service. (1917, c. 200, s. 44.)

§ 6858. Regulations enforced on actual service.—Whenever any portion of the militia shall be called into service to execute the law, suppress riot or insurrection, or to repel invasion, the articles of war, and articles for the government of the navy, governing the army and navy of the United States, and the regulations prescribed for the army and navy of the United States, and the registration issued thereunder, shall be enforced and regarded as a part of this chapter until said forces shall be duly relieved from such duty. As to offenses committed when such articles of war and articles for the government of the navy are so in force, courts-martial shall possess, in addition to the jurisdiction and power of sentence and punishment herein vested in them, all additional jurisdiction and power of sentence and punishment exercisable by like courts under such articles of war and articles for the government of the navy or regulations or laws governing the United States army and navy or the customs and urges thereof; but no punishment under such rules and articles which will extend to the taking of life shall in any case be inflicted except in time of war, invasion, or insurrection, declared by a proclamation of the governor to exist, and then only after approval by the governor of the sentence inflicting such punishment. Imprisonment other than in guardhouse shall be executed in county jails or other prisons designated by the governor for that purpose. (1917, c. 200, s. 45.)

§ 6859. Regulations governing unorganized militia.—Whenever any part of the unorganized militia is ordered out, it shall be governed by the same rules and regulations and be subject to the same penalties as the national guard or naval militia. (1917, c. 200, s. 35.)

Art. 6. Unorganized Militia

§ 6860. Unorganized militia ordered out for service.—The commander-in-chief may at any time, in order to execute the law, suppress riots or insurrections, or repel invasions, in addition to the national guard, the national guard reserve, and the naval militia, order out the whole or any part of the unorganized militia. When the militia of this state or a part thereof is called forth under the constitution and laws of the United States, the governor shall first order out for service the national guard or naval militia, or such part thereof as may be necessary, and if the number available be insufficient, he shall then order out such a part of the unorganized militia as he may deem necessary. During the absence of organizations of the national guard or naval militia in the service of the United States, their state designations shall not be given to new organizations. (1917, c. 200, s. 46.)

§ 6861. Manner of ordering out unorganized militia.—The governor shall, when ordering out the unorganized militia, designate the number. He may order them out either by calling for volunteers or by draft. He may attach them to the several organizations of the national guard or naval militia, or organize them into separate brigades, regiments, battalions, companies, separate corps, batteries, troops, or divisions, as may be best for the service. (1917, c. 200, s. 47.)

§ 6862. Draft of unorganized militia.—If the unorganized militia is ordered out by draft, the governor shall designate the persons in each county to make the draft, and prescribe rules and regulations for conducting the same. (1917, c. 200, s. 48.)

§ 6863. Punishment for failure to appear.—Every member of the militia ordered out for duty, or who shall volunteer or be drafted, who does not appear at the time and place ordered, shall be liable to such punishment as a court-martial may determine. (1917, c. 200, s. 49.)

Art. 7. Pay of Militia

§ 6864. Rations and pay on service.—The militia of the state, both officers and enlisted men, when called into the service of the state, shall be rationed and receive the same pay as when called into the service of the United States. When called in aid of the civil authorities, enlisted men shall receive in addition to such pay the sum of one ($1.00) dollar per day. (Rev., s. 4856; Code, s. 3248; R. C., c. 70, s. 84; 1813, c. 850, s. 5; 1907, c. 316; 1917, c. 200, s. 50; 1935, c 452.)

Cross Reference. — As to National Guardsmen coming within the Workmen's Compensation Act when on duty, see § 6889 and the note thereto.

Editor's Note.—By the amendment of 1935 the fee was increased from sixty cents to one dollar per day.

§ 6865. Rate of pay for service.—The governor may, whenever the public service requires it, order upon special or regular duty any officer or enlisted man of the national guard or naval militia, and the expenses and compensation therefor of such officer and enlisted man shall be paid upon the approval of the governor and warrant of the auditor. Such officer and enlisted man shall receive the same pay as officers and enlisted men of the same grade and like service of the regular army or navy; but officers when on duty in connection with examining boards, efficiency boards, advisory boards and courts of inquiry shall be allowed actual expenses and four dollars per diem for such duty. Officers serving on general or special courts-martial shall receive the base pay of their rank. No staff officer who receives a salary from the state as such shall be entitled to any additional compensation other than actual and necessary expenses incurred while traveling upon orders issued by the proper authority. (1917, c. 200, s. 51; 1935, c. 451.)

Editor's Note. — The next to the last sentence of this section was inserted by the amendment of 1935.

§ 6866. Paid by the state.—When the militia or any portion thereof shall be called into service to execute the law, suppress riots or insurrections, and to repel invasions, the pay, subsistence, transportation, and other necessary expenses incident thereto shall be paid by the state treasurer, upon the approval of the governor and warrant of the auditor. (1917, c. 200, s. 52.)

Editor's Note.—In the case of Worth v. Commissioners, 118 N. C. 112, 24 S. E. 778 it was held in construing the prior law that the state should pay the cost of a militia when it is called out by the governor to aid a sheriff in executing a writ of possession; Clark and Montgomery J. dissenting on the grounds that the county should pay the expense as it was for the county, and the rest of the state should not have to pay for the privilege of serving the county. In the earlier case of Commissioners v. Commissioners, 75 N. C. 240 it was said that a county could not recover back money voluntarily paid for the upkeep of a militia while in its service, although there was no debt, and the county could not have been forced to pay.

§ 6867. Pay of general and field officers.—General and field officers when away from their home stations visiting the organizations of their commands, for inspection and instruction under orders from proper authority, shall receive actual necessary expenses and the pay of their rank. (1917, c. 200, s. 53.)

therefor in case of riot, tumult, breach of peace, insurrection, or invasion, or to repel invasion or in aid of the civil authorities, receive any injury, or incur or contract any disability or disease, by reason of such duty or assembly therefor, or who shall without fault or neglect on his part be wounded or disabled while in line of duty, which shall temporarily incapacitate him from pursuing his usual business or occupation, shall during the period of such incapacity receive the actual necessary expenses for care and medicine and medical attendance, to be paid out of the state treasury from funds not otherwise appropriated, upon order of the governor and warrant of the auditor. (1917, c. 200, s. 54.)

Art. 8. Privilege of Organized Militia

§ 6869. Leaves of absence for state officers and employees.—All officers and employees of the state who shall be members of the national guard or naval militia shall be entitled to leave of absence from their respective duties, without loss of pay, time, or efficiency rating, on all days during which they shall be engaged in field or coast-defense training ordered or authorized under the provisions of this chapter. (1917, c. 200, s. 88.)

§ 6870. Exemption from road and jury duty.—All members of the national guard and naval militia who comply with and perform all duties required of them as members of the national guard and naval militia are hereby exempted from duty upon the public roads of the counties in which they reside, and shall also be exempt from service as jurors. On the first day of January and July of each year, beginning with the first day of July, one thousand nine hundred and seventeen, the commanding officer of each company, troop, battery, detachment, or division of the national guard and naval militia of North Carolina, residing in the above mentioned counties, shall file with the clerk of the superior court of the county in which such company, troop, battery, detachment, or division is located a statement giving the name and rank of each member of his organization who has performed all military duties during the preceding six months; and any member of such military organization whose name does not appear upon such statement shall not receive the benefit of the exemption provided for herein during the six months immediately following the filing of the statement. (1913, c. 103; 1915, c. 217; 1917, c. 200, s. 89.)

§ 6872. Organizations may own property.—Organizations of the national guard and naval militia shall have the right to own and keep real and personal property, which shall belong to and be under the control of the members of the organization; and the commanding officer of any organization debts or effects belonging to it, or damages for injury to such property, action for such recovery to be brought in the name of the commanding officer thereof before any court of justice within the state having jurisdiction; and no suit or complaint pending in his name shall be abated by his ceasing to be commanding officer of the organization; but upon motion of the commander succeeding him such commander shall be admitted to prosecute the suit or complaint in like manner and with like effect as if it had been originally commenced by him. (1917, c. 200, s. 92.)

§ 6873. When families of soldiers supported by county.—When any citizen of the state is absent on duty as a member of the national guard or naval militia and his family are unable to support themselves during his absence, the board of commissioners of his county, on application, shall make towards their maintenance such allowances as may be deemed reasonable. (1917, c. 200, s. 93.)

Art. 9. Care of Military Property

§ 6874. Custody of military property.—All public military property, except when used in the performance of military duty, shall be kept in armories, or other properly designated places of deposit; and it shall be unlawful for any person charged with the care and safety of said public property to allow the same out of his custody, except as above specified. (1917, c. 200, s. 38.)

§ 6875. Property deposited in arsenal.—All the public arms of every description which may not be distibuted among the militia according to law shall be deposited and kept in the public arsenal established at Raleigh. (1917, c. 200, s. 39.)

§ 6876. Arsenal provided.—The board of public buildings and grounds shall provide a suitable building for an arsenal. The governor may make such provisions as he may deem necessary for the care and issue of property and for guarding and protecting the arsenal, and for the purpose of defraying the expenses under this section. He may, upon certificate of the adjutant general and warrant of the auditor, from time to time draw upon the treasurer for such sums as may be necessary. (1917, c. 200, s. 96.)

§ 6878. Horses and vehicles used only for military purposes.—Horses, motor trucks, and other vehicles issued by the secretary of war to the national guard shall be used solely for military purposes. Necessary expense in maintaining such horses, trucks, or vehicles, not provided for by the federal government to include stables, storage, and other incidental expenses, shall be a proper charge against funds appropriated for the national guard: Provided, such expense shall be specifically authorized by the governor and certified to by the adjutant general. (1917, c. 200, s. 41; 1921, c. 120, s. 9.)

§ 6879. Transfer of property.—All officers accountable or responsible for public funds, property, or books, before being relieved from the duty shall turn over the same according to the regulations prescribed by the governor. (1917, c. 200, s. 42.)

§ 6880. Replacement of lost or damaged property.—Whenever any military property issued to the militia of the state shall have been lost, damaged, or destroyed, and upon report of a disinterested survey officer of the regular army, navy, or the militia it shall appear that the loss, damage, or destruction of property was due to carelessness or neglect, or that its loss, damage, or destruction could have been avoided by the exercise of reasonable care, the money value of such property shall be charged to the accountable and responsible officer or enlisted man, and the pay of such officers and enlisted men from both federal and state funds at any time accruing may be stopped and applied to the payment of any such indebtedness until the same is discharged. In addition thereto any officer accountable or responsible for military property shall be liable on his bond to the state and the property and disbursing officer or accounting officer for any lost, damaged, or destroyed property for which he is accountable or responsible. (1917, c. 200, s. 43.)

§ 6881. Injuring military property.—If any person shall wantonly or wilfully injure or destroy any arms, equipment, or other military property of the state, and refuse to make good such injury or loss, or shall sell, dispose of, secrete, or remove the same with intent to sell or dispose thereof, he shall be fined not more than one hundred dollars or imprisoned not more than six months, or both. (Rev., s. 3536; Code, s. 3274; 1876-7, c. 272, s. 19.)

§ 6882. Member of national guard failing to return property.—If any member of the North Carolina national guard shall wilfully fail to return any property of the state or the United States to the armory or other place of deposit, when notified by competent authority so to do, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and fined not exceeding fifty dollars, or imprisoned not exceeding thirty days. (Rev., s. 3537.)

§ 6883. Selling accoutrements.—If any person shall sell, dispose of, pawn or pledge, destroy or injure, or wilfully retain after demand made, any public property issued for the purpose of arming or equipping the militia of the state, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. (Rev., s. 3541; Code, s. 3274; 1893, c. 374, s. 30.)

§ 6884. Selling public arms.—If any person to whom shall be confided public arms or accoutrements shall sell, or in any manner embezzle the same, or any part thereof, or if any person shall purchase any of them, knowing them to be such, the person so offending shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. (Rev., s. 3542; Code, s. 3556; R. C., c. 89, s. 8; 1831, c. 45, s. 5.)

§ 6885. Refusing to deliver public arms on demand.—Every commissioned officer of the militia, whenever and wherever he shall see or learn that any of the arms or accoutrements or other military property belonging to the state is in the possession of any person other than in whose hands they may be placed for safekeeping, under the provisions of the law, shall make immediate demand for the same personally or in writing; and should such person refuse to deliver them to the officer he shall be guilty in like manner, and punished in like manner as for selling or embezzling public arms. (Rev., s. 3540; Code, s. 3558; R. C., c. 89, s. 10; 1831, c. 45, s. 7.)

§ 6886. Freight on property paid out of general fund.—The auditor of the state is hereby authorized and directed to issue his warrant upon the state treasurer for the payment of such sums as may be certified by the adjutant general and the governor to be actually necessary to pay freight upon ammunition, uniforms, and equipment shipped out from and returned to the state arsenal. (1917, c. 200, s. 95.)

Art. 10. Support of Militia

§ 6887. Requisition for funds.—The governor shall make requisition upon the secretary of war for such state allotment from federal funds as may be necessary for the support of the militia. (1917, c. 200, s. 23; 1921, c. 120, s. 10.)

§ 6888. County appropriations.—The county commissioners may appropriate such sums of money to the various organizations of the national guard or naval militia in their counties and at such times as the board may deem proper. (1917, c. 200, s. 91.)

§ 6889. Allowances made to different organizations; appropriation.—The commanding officer of each brigade, regiment, the coast artillery, and the naval militia, shall maintain a headquarters office, for which actual expense therefor shall be allowed, to include office rent, light, heat, stamps, stationery, printing, and other necessary expenses, not to exceed two hundred and twenty-five dollars per annum. The commanding officer of each squadron of cavalry, battalion of engineers, or other like units, duly authorized by the secretary of war, shall maintain a headquarters office, for which actual expenses therefor shall be allowed, to include office rent, light, heat, stamps, stationery, printing, and other necessary expenses, not to exceed the sum of one hundred and twenty-five dollars per annum. There shall be allowed to each major of the line not exceeding one hundred dollars per annum with which to defray the necessary expenses of their respective officers. The chief surgeon and the commanding officer of each company of infantry, headquarters company, supply company, machine-gun company, coast artillery company, company of engineers, battery of field artillery, signal corps company, troop of cavalry, field hospital, ambulance company, aero squadron, division of naval militia, company of marines, and aeronautic section, and similar units prescribed by the war department in its table of organization for the national guard, shall be allowed annually the sum of not exceeding two hundred dollars, to be determined by the adjutant-general of the state under rules and regulations prescribed by him; each lieutenant of such organizations and other officers of corresponding grades and duties in the naval militia, the sum of not exceeding one hundred dollars ($100), to be determined by the Adjutant General of the State according to rules and regulations prescribed by him; regimental adjutants of separate battalion, squadrons and similar units, the sum of not exceeding one hundred dollars to be determined by the Adjutant General of the State according to rules and regulations prescribed by him; the commanding officer of each medical detachment, the sum of not exceeding one hundred dollars ($100), in accordance with rules and regulations prescribed by the Adjutant General of the State, for the purpose of defraying the necessary expenses of their respective offices. There shall be allowed annually to each company of infantry, headquarters company, supply company, machine-gun company, coast artillery company, company of engineers, battery of field artillery, signal corps company, troop of cavalry, field hospital, ambulance company, aero squadron, aeronautic section, division of naval militia, or company of marines, and similar units prescribed by the war department in its table of organization for the national guard, not to exceed the sum six hundred dollars, and to each regimental infirmary the sum of one hundred and fifty dollars, and to each sanitary detachment the sum of one hundred dollars, to be applied to the payment of armory rent, heat, light, stationery, printing, and other necessary expenses. There shall be allowed annually to the supply sergeant of each company of infantry, headquarters company, supply company, machine-gun company, coast artillery company, company of engineers, battery of field artillery, signal corps company, troop of cavalry, field hospital, ambulance company, aero squadron, and to a petty officer of each division of naval militia, aeronautic section, marine company, and supply sergeants of similar units, the sum of one hundred dollars and to corresponding warrant offices of each regimental infirmary and sanitary detachment the sum of twenty-five dollars. There shall be paid monthly to stable sergeants the sum of fifteen dollars, and to the horseshoers, ten dollars, of units entitled to and actually having animals to care for. Each enlisted man belonging to an organization of the national guard shall receive fifty cents as compensation for each armory drill, not exceeding sixty drills per annum, ordered for his organization, where he is officially present and in which he participates, the said compensation to be paid in the same manner and under such laws and regulations as now or hereafter may be prescribed by the United States government or by the war department thereof for pay for national guard enlisted men: and provided further, that the appropriation made by the state of North Carolina for the support of the national guard is sufficient after the payment of other necessary expenses of maintaining said guard, to make such payment.

All payments are to be made by the state disbursing officer in semiannual installments on the first day of July and the first day of January of each year; but no payment shall be made unless all drills and parades required by law are duly performed by all organizations named. No officer shall be entitled to receive any part of the amounts named herein unless he has performed satisfactorily all duties required of him by law and has pursued such course of instruction as may from time to time be required.

The commanding officers of all organizations participating in the appropriations herein made shall render an itemized statement of all funds received from any source whatsoever for the support of their respective organizations in such manner and on such forms as may be prescribed by the adjutant-general. Failure on the part of any officer to submit promptly when due the financial statement of his organization will be sufficient cause to withhold all appropriations for such organizations.

The sum of sixty-five thousand dollars is hereby appropriated annually, out of any moneys in the treasury not otherwise appropriated. All moneys not used by January first of each year shall be paid to the state treasurer and turned into the general fund of the state. (1917, c. 200, s. 97; 1919, c. 311; 1921, c. 120, s. 11; 1923, c. 24; 1924, c. 6; 1927, c. 227, s. 2.)

By this and § 6864 the State has provided for payment in a certain manner to privates who have enlisted in the North Carolina National Guard, and a private therein who has taken the prescribed oath is an employee of the State within the meaning of the Workmen's Compensation Act, and where he has sustained an injury arising out of and in the course of the performance of his duties as an enlisted man he is entitled to the compensation prescribed by the statute. Baker v. State, 200 N. C. 232, 156 S. E. 917.

Art. 11. General Provisions

§ 6890. Reports of officers.—All officers of the national guard and the naval militia shall make such returns and reports to the governor, secretary of war, secretary of the navy, or to such officers as they may designate, at such times and in such forms as may from time to time be prescribed. (1917, c. 200, s. 21.)

§ 6891. Officer to give notice of absence.—When any officer shall have occasion to be absent from his usual residence one week or more, he shall notify the officer next in command, and also his superior officer in command, of his intended absence, and shall arrange for the officer next in command to handle and attend to all official communications. (1917, c. 200, s. 22.)

§ 6892. Articles of war applicable in time of peace.—The national guard and naval militia, when not in the service of the United States, shall, except as to punishments, be governed respectively by the United States army regulations and articles of war, and the navy regulations and articles for the government of the navy. (1917, c. 200, s. 34.)

§ 6893. Commanding officer may prevent trespass and disorder.—The commanding officer upon any occasion of duty may place in arrest during the continuance thereof any person who shall trespass upon the camp ground, parade ground, armory, or other place devoted to such duty, or who shall in any way or manner interrupt or molest the orderly discharge of duty by those under arms or shall disturb or prevent the passage of troops going to or returning from any duty.

He may prohibit and prevent the sale or use of all spirituous liquors, wine, ale, beer or cider, the holding of huckster or auction sales, and all gambling within the limits of the post, camp ground, place of encampment, parade, or drill under his command, or within such limits not exceeding one mile therefrom as he may prescribe. And he may in his discretion abate as common nuisance all such sales. (1917, c. 200, s. 94.)

§ 6894. Organizing company without authority.—If any person shall organize a military company, or drill or parade under arms as a military body, except under the militia laws and regulations of the state, or shall exercise or attempt to exercise the power or authority of a military officer in this state, without holding a commission from the governor, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. (Rev., s. 3538; 1893, c. 374, s. 38.)

§ 6895. Placing name on muster roll wrongfully.—If any officer of the militia of the state shall knowingly or wilfully place, or cause to be placed, on any muster roll the name of any person not regularly or lawfully enlisted, or the name of any enlisted man who has been discharged, transferred, or has lost membership for any cause whatsoever, or who has been convicted of any infamous crime, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. (Rev., s. 3539; 1893, c. 374, s. 33.)

§ 6895(a). Protection of the uniform.—It shall be unlawful for any person not an officer or enlisted man in the United States army, navy, or marine corps, to wear the duly prescribed uniform of the United States army, navy, or marine corps, or any distinctive part of such uniform, or a uniform any part of which is similar to a distinctive part of the duly prescribed uniform of the United States army, navy, or marine corps: Provided, that the foregoing provisions shall not be construed so as to prevent officers or enlisted men of the national guard from wearing, in pursuance of law and regulations, the uniform lawfully prescribed to be worn by such officers or enlisted men of the national guard; nor to prevent members of the organization known as the Boy Scouts of America, or the naval militia, or such other organizations as the secretary of war may designate, from wearing their prescribed uniforms; nor to prevent persons who in time of war have served honorably as officers of the United States army, navy, or marine corps, regular or volunteer, and whose most recent service was terminated by an honorable discharge, mustered out, or resignation, from wearing, upon occasions of ceremony, the uniform of the highest grade they have held by brevet or other commission in such regular or volunteer sevice; nor to prevent any person who has been honorably discharged from the United States army, navy, or marine corps, regular or volunteers, from wearing his uniform from the place of his discharge to his home within three months after his discharge; nor to prevent the members of military societies composed entirely of honorably discharged officers and enlisted men, or both, of the United States army, navy or marine corps, regular or volunteers, from wearing, upon occasions of ceremony, the uniform duly prescribed by such societies to be worn by members thereof; nor to prevent the instructors and members of the duly organized cadet corps of a state university, state college, or public high school offering a regular course in military instruction from wearing the uniform duly prescribed by the authorities of such university, college, or public high school for wear by the instructors and members of such cadet corps; nor to prevent the instructors and members of a duly organized cadet corps of any other institution of learning offering a regular course in military instruction, and at which an officer or enlisted man of the United States army, navy, or marine corps is lawfully detailed for duty as instructor in military science and tactics, from wearing the uniform duly prescribed by the authorities of such institution of learning for wear by the instructors and members of such cadet corps; nor to prevent civilians attendant upon a course of military or naval instruction authorized and conducted by the military or naval authorities of the United States from wearing, while in attendance upon such course of instruction, the uniform authorized and prescribed by such military or naval authorities for wear during such course of instruction; nor to prevent any person from wearing the uniform of the United States army, navy, or marine corps, in any playhouse or theater, or in moving-picture films while actually engaged in representing therein a military or naval character not tending to bring discredit or reproach upon the United States army, navy, or marine corps: Provided further, that the uniform worn by officers or enlisted men of the national guard, or by the members of the military societies, or the instructors and members of the cadet corps referred to in the preceding proviso, shall include some distinctive mark or insignia to be prescribed by the secretary of war to distinguish such uniforms from the uniforms of the United States army, navy, or marine corps; and provided further, that the members of the military societies and the instructors and members of the cadet corps hereinbefore mentioned shall not wear the insignia of rank prescribed to be worn by the officers of the United States army, navy, or marine corps, or any insignia of rank similar thereto. Any person who offends against the provisions of this section, shall on conviction, be punished by a fine not exceeding fifty dollars, or by imprisonment not exceeding thirty days, or by both such fine and imprisonment. (1921, c. 120, s. 12.)

MINES

Art. 1. Operation of Mines

other consideration, which, though uncertain at first, may afterwards become certain, shall be held as a partner of the lessee; nor shall any of the legal or equitable relations or liabilities of copartners exist between them, unless it is so stipulated in the contract between the lessor and lessee. (Rev., s. 4930; Code, s. 3292; R. C., c. 72; 1830, c. 46.)

§ 6897. Minors under sixteen not to be employed.—No minor under sixteen years of age shall be allowed to work in any mine, and in all cases of minors applying for work the agent of such mine shall see that the provisions of this section are not violated; and the inspector may, when doubt exists as to the age of any person found working in any mine, examine under oath such person and his parents, or other witnesses, as to his age. (Rev., s. 4931; 1897, c. 251, s. 7; 1919, c. 100, s. 6.)

§ 6898. Operator to furnish timber.—The owner, agent, or operator of every coal mine shall keep a supply of timber constantly on hand, and shall deliver the same to the working place of the miner, and no miner shall be held responsible for accident which may occur in the mine where the provisions of this section have not been complied with by the owner, agent, or operator thereof, resulting directly or indirectly from the failure to deliver such timber. (Rev., s. 4932; 1897, c. 251, s. 8.)

§ 6899. Unused mines to be fenced.—All underground entrances to any place not in actual course of working or extension shall be properly fenced across the whole width of such entrance so as to prevent persons from inadvertently entering the same. (Rev., s. 4933; 1897, c. 251, s. 5.)

§ 6900. Means of ingress and egress provided.—No owner or agent of any coal mine worked by shaft shall permit any person to work therein unless there are, to every seam of coal worked in such mine, at least two separate outlets, separated by natural strata of not less than one hundred feet in breadth, by which shafts or outlets distinct means of ingress and egress are always available to the persons employed in the mine; but is not necessary for the two outlets to belong to the same mine if the persons employed therein have safe, ready, and available means of ingress or egress by not less than two openings. This section shall not apply to opening a new mine while being worked for the purpose of making communications between the two outlets, so long as not more than twenty persons are employed at one time in such mine; neither shall it apply to any mine or part of a mine in which the second outlet has been rendered unavailable by reason of the final robbing of pillars previous to abandonment, as long as not more than twenty persons are employed therein at any one time. The cage or cages and other means of egress shall at all times be available for the persons employed when there is no second outlet. The escapement shafts shall be fitted with safe and available appliances, which shall always be kept in a safe condition, by which the persons employed in the mine may readily escape in case an accident occurs; and in no case shall an air shaft with a ventilating furnace at the bottom be construed to be an escapement shaft within the meaning of this section. To all other coal mines, whether slopes or drifts, two such openings or outlets must be provided within twelve months after shipments of coal have commenced from such mine; and in case such outlets are not provided as herein stipulated, it shall not be lawful for the agent or owner of such slope or drift to permit more than ten persons to work therein at any one time. (Rev., s. 4934; 1897, c. 251, s. 4.)

§ 6901. Hoisting engines; how operated.—No owner or agent of any mine operated by a shaft or slope shall place in charge of any engine used for lowering into or hoisting out of mines persons employed therein any but experienced, competent, and sober engineers, and no engineers in charge of such engine shall allow any persons except as may be deputed for such purposes by the owner or agent to interfere with it or any part of the machinery, and no person shall interfere or in any way intimidate the engineer in the discharge of his duties, and in no case shall more than six men ride on any cage or car at one time, and no person shall ride upon a loaded cage or car in any shaft or slope. (Rev., s. 4935; 1897, c. 251, s. 6; 1911, c. 183.)

§ 6902. Ventilation.—The owner or agent of any coal mine, whether shaft, slope, or drift, shall provide and maintain for every such mine an amount of ventilation of not less than one hundred cubic feet per minute per person employed in such mine, which shall be circulated and distributed throughout the mine in such a manner as to dilute, render harmless and expel the poisonous and noxious gases from every working place in the mine. No working place shall be driven more than sixty feet in advance of a break-through or airway, and all break-throughs or airways, except those last made near the working places of the mine, shall be closed up by brattice trap-doors, or otherwise, so that the currents of air in circulation in the mine may spread to the interior of the mine when the persons employed in such mine are at work. All mines governed by this chapter shall be provided with artificial means of producing ventilation, such as forcing or suction fans, exhaust steam furnaces, or other contrivances of such capacity and power as to produce and maintain an abundant supply of air, and all mines generating fire damp shall be kept free from standing gas. (Rev., s. 4936; 1897, c. 251, s. 5.)

§ 6903. Daily examinations; safety lamps.—Every working place shall be examined every morning with a safety lamp by a competent person before any workmen are allowed to enter the mine. All safety lamps used in examining mines, or for working therein, shall be the property of the operator of the mine, and a competent person shall be appointed, who shall examine every safety lamp before it is taken into the workings for use, and ascertain it to be clean, safe, and securely locked, and safety lamps shall not be used until they have been so examined and found safe and clean and securely locked, unless permission be first given by the mine foreman to have the lamps used unlocked. No one except the duly authorized person shall have in his possession a key, or any other contrivance, for the purpose of unlocking any safety lamp in any mine where locked lamps are used. No matches or any other apparatus for striking lights shall be taken into any mine, or parts thereof, except under the direction of the mine foreman. (Rev., s. 4937; 1897, c. 251, ss. 5, 6.)

§ 6904. Report of ventilation.—The mine foreman shall measure the ventilation at least once a week, at the inlet and outlet, and also at or near the face of all the entries, and the measurement of air so made shall be noted on blanks furnished by the inspector; and on the first day of each month the mine boss of each mine shall sign one of such blanks, properly filled with the actual measurement, and present the same to the inspector. (Rev., s. 4938; 1897, c. 251, s. 6.)

§ 6905. Notice of opening or changing mines given.—The owner, agent, or manager of any mine shall give notice to the inspector in the following cases: 1. When any working is commenced for the purpose of opening a new shaft, slope, or mine, to which this chapter applies. 2. When any mine is abandoned, or the working thereof discontinued. 3. When the working of any mine is recommenced after an abandonment or discontinuance for a period exceeding three months. 4. When a squeeze or crush, or any other cause or change, may seem to affect the safety of persons employed in the mine, or when fire occurs. (Rev., s. 4939; 1897, c. 251, s. 7.)

§ 6906. Notice of accidents given.—The owner, agent, or manager of every mine shall, within twenty-four hours next after any accident or explosion, whereby loss of life or personal injury may have been occasioned, send notice, in writing, by mail or otherwise, to the inspector, and shall specify in such notice the character and cause of the accident, and the name or names of the persons killed and injured, with the extent and nature of the injuries sustained. When any personal injury of which notice is required to be sent under this section results in the death of the person injured, notice in writing shall be sent to the inspector within twenty-four hours after such death comes to the knowledge of the owner, agent, or manager; and when loss of life occurs in any mine by explosion, or accident, or results from personal injuries so received, the owner, agent, or manager of such mine shall notify the coroner of the county in which such mine is situated, and the coroner shall hold an inquest upon the body of the person whose death has been thus caused, and inquire carefully into the cause thereof, and return a copy of the finding of the jury and all the testimony to the inspector. (Rev., s. 4940; 1897, c. 251, s. 6.)

§ 6907. Report to inspector.—The owner, lessee, or agent in charge of any mine, any limestone quarry, or who is engaged in mining or producing any mineral whatsoever in this state, shall, on or before the thirtieth day of November in every year, send to the office of the inspector upon blanks to be furnished by him a correct return, specifying with respect to the year ending on the preceding first day of October the quantity of coal, iron ore, fire-clay, limestone, or other mineral product of such mine or quarry, and the number of persons ordinarily employed in or about such mine or quarry below and above ground, distinguishing the persons and labor below ground and above ground. (Rev., s. 4941; 1897, c. 251, s. 3.)

§ 6908. Liability for injuries.—For any injury to person or property occasioned by any wilful violation of this chapter, or any wilful failure to comply with its provisions, by any owner, agent, or manager of the mine, a right of action shall accrue to the party injured for any damage he may sustain thereby; and in any case of loss of life by reason of such wilful neglect or failure a right of action shall accrue to the personal representative of the deceased, as in other actions for wrongful death. (Rev., s. 4942; 1897, c. 251, s. 6.)

§ 6909. Punishment for violation.—If any person shall knowingly violate any of the provisions of the law relating to mines or shall do anything whereby the life or health of persons or the security of any mine and machinery is endangered, or if any miner or other person employed in any mine governed by the statutes shall intentionally or wilfully neglect or refuse to securely prop the roof of any working place under his control, or neglect or refuse to obey any orders given by the superintendent of a mine in relation to the security of a mine in the part thereof where he is at work and for fifteen feet back of his working place, or if any miner, workman, or other person shall knowingly injure any water-gauge, barometer, air-course, or brattice, or shall obstruct or throw open any airways, or shall handle or disturb any part of the machinery of the hoisting engine or signaling apparatus or wire connected therewith, or air pipes or fittings, or open a door of the mine and not have the same closed again, whereby danger is produced either to the mine or those that work therein, or shall enter any part of the mine against caution, or shall disobey any order given in pursuance of law, or shall do any wilful act whereby the lives and health of the persons working in the mine or the security of the mine or the machinery thereof is endangered, or if the person having charge of a mine whenever loss of life occurs by accident connected with the machinery of such mine or by explosion shall neglect or refuse to give notice thereof forthwith by mail or otherwise to the inspector and to the coroner of the county in which such mine is situated, or if any such coroner shall neglect or refuse to hold an inquest upon the body of the person whose death has been thus caused, and return a copy of his findings and a copy of all the testimony to the inspector, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction fined not more than fifty dollars or imprisoned in the county jail not more than thirty days, or both. (Rev., s. 3797; 1897, c. 251, s. 8.)

Art. 2. Inspection of Mines

§ 6910. Commissioner of labor and printing is inspector.—The commissioner of labor and printing shall perform the duties of mine inspector as provided in this chapter. (Rev., s. 4943; 1897, c. 251, s. 1.)

§ 6911. Inspector to examine mines.—It shall be the duty of the inspector te examine all the mines in the state as often as possible to see that all the provisions and requirements of this chapter are strictly observed and carried out; he shall particularly examine the works and machinery belonging to any mine, examine into the state and condition of the mines as to ventilation, circulation, and condition of air, drainage, and general security. (Rev., s. 4944; 1897, c. 251, s. 2.)

§ 6912. May enter to make examinations. — For the purpose of making the inspection and examinations provided for in this chapter, the inspector shall have the right to enter any mine at all reasonable times, by night or by day, but in such manner as shall not unnecessarily obstruct the working of the mine; and the owner or agent of such mine is hereby required to furnish the means necessary for such entry and inspection; the inspection and examination herein provided for shall extend to fire-clay, iron ore, and other mines as well as coal mines. (Rev., s. 4945; 1897, c. 251, s. 2.)

§ 6913. Death by accident investigated. — Upon receiving notice of any death resulting from accident it shall be the duty of the inspector to go himself, or send a representative, at once to the mine in which the death occurred and inquire into the cause of the same, and to make a written report fully setting forth the condition of that part of the mine where such death occurred and the cause which led to the same; which report shall be filed by the inspector in his office as a matter of record and for future reference. (Rev., s. 4946; 1897, c. 251, s. 6.)

§ 6914. Record of examinations. — He shall make a record of all examinations of mines, showing the date when examination is made, the condition in which the mines are found, the extent to which the laws relating to mines and mining are observed or violated, the progress made in the improvements and security of life and health sought to be secured by the provisions of this chapter, number of accidents, injuries received, or deaths in or about the mines, the number of mines in the state, the number of persons employed in or about each mine, together with all such other facts and information of public interest, concerning the condition of mines, development and progress of mining in the state as he may think useful and proper, which record shall be filed in the office of the inspector, and as much thereof as may be of public interest to be included in his annual report. (Rev., s. 4947; 1897, c. 251, s. 2.)

§ 6916. Inspector to enforce law; counsel furnished.—In case of any controversy or disagreement between the inspector and the owner or operator of any mine or the persons working therein, or in case of conditions or emergencies requiring counsel, the inspector may call on the governor for such assistance and counsel as may be necessary. If the inspector finds any of the provisions of this chapter violated or not complied with by any owner, lessee, or agent in charge, unless the same is within a reasonable time rectified, and the provisions of this chapter fully complied with, he shall institute an action in the name of the state to compel the compliance therewith. The inspector shall exercise a sound discretion in the enforcement of this chapter. (Rev., s. 4949; 1897, c. 251, s. 2.)

§ 6917. Operation enjoined when law violated. —On application of the inspector, after suit brought as directed in the preceding section, any court of competent jurisdiction may enjoin or restrain the owner or agent from working or operating such mine until it is made to conform to the provisions of this chapter; and such remedy shall be cumulative, and shall not take the place of or affect any other proceedings against such owner or agent authorized by law for the matter complained of in such action. (Rev., s. 4950; 1897, c. 251, s. 7.)

§ 6918. Report to governor. — The inspector shall annually make report to the governor of all his proceedings, the condition and operation of the different mines of the state, and the number of mines and the number of persons employed in or about such mines, the amount of coal, iron ore, limestone, fire-clay, or other mineral mined in this state; and he shall enumerate all accidents in or about the mines, and the manner in which they occurred, and give all such other information as he thinks useful and proper, and make such suggestions as he deems important relative to mines and mining, and any legislation that may be necessary on the subject for the better preservation of the life and health of those engaged in such industry. (Rev., s. 4951; 1897, c. 251, s. 3.)

§ 6919. Application of law. — The provisions of this chapter shall not apply to or affect any mine in which not more than ten men are employed at the same time; but the inspector shall at all times have free ingress to such mines for the purpose of examination and inspection, and shall direct and enforce any regulation in accordance with the provisions of this chapter that he may deem necessary for the safety of the health and lives of the miners employed therein. (Rev., s. 4952; 1897, c. 251, s. 8.)

Art. 3. Waterways Obtained

§ 6920. Water and drainage rights obtained.— Any person or body corporate engaged or about to engage in mining, who may find it necessary for the furtherance of his operations to convey water either to or from his mine or mines over the lands of any other person or persons, may make application by petition in writing to the clerk of the superior court of the county in which the lands to be affected or the greater part are situate, for the right so to convey such water. The owner of the lands to be affected shall be made a party defendant, and the proceeding shall be conducted as other special proceedings. (Rev., s. 4953; Code, ss. 3293, 3294, 3300; 1871-2, c. 158, ss. 1, 3.)

§ 6922. Appraisers; appointment and duties. — Upon the hearing of the petition, if the prayer thereof be granted, the clerk shall appoint three disinterested persons, qualified to act as jurors, and not connected either by blood or marriage with the parties, appraisers to assess the damage, if any, that will accrue to the lands by the contemplated work, and shall issue a notice to them to meet upon the premises at a day specified, not to exceed ten days from the date of such notice. The appraisers having met, shall take an oath before some officer qualified to administer oaths to faithfully perform their duty and to do impartial justice in the case, and shall then examine all the lands in any way to be affected by such work, and assess the damage thereto, and make report thereof under their hands and seals to the clerk from whom the notice issued. (Rev., s. 4955; Code, ss. 3295, 3296, 3299; 1871-2, c. 158, ss. 4, 5, 9.)

§ 6923. Confirmation of report; payment of damages; rights of petitioner. — After the filing of the report and confirmation thereof by the clerk, who shall have power to confirm or, for good cause, set aside the same, the petitioner shall have full right and power to enter upon such lands and make such ditches, drains, or other necessary work: Provided, he has first paid or tendered the damages, assessed as above, to the owner of such lands or his known and recognized agent, if he be a resident of this state, or have such agent in this state. If the owner be a nonresident and have no known agent in this state, the amount so assessed shall be paid by the petition into the office of the clerk of the superior court of the county for the use of such owner. (Rev., s. 4957; Code, s. 3298; 1871-2, c. 158, s. 12.)

§ 6924. Registration of report.—The petitioner, or any other person interested, may have the report of the appraisers registered upon the certificate of the clerk and shall pay the register a fee of twenty-five cents therefor. (Rev., s. 4957; Code, s. 3298; 1871-2, c. 158, s. 8.)

§ 6925. Obstructing mining drains.—If any person shall obstruct any drain or ditch constructed under the provisions of this chapter, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. (Rev., s. 3380; Code, s. 3301; 1871-2, c. 158, s. 12.)

§ 6926. Disposition of waste.—In getting out and washing the products of kaolin mines, the persons engaged in such business shall have the right to allow the waste, water, and sediment to run off into the natural courses and streams. (1917, c. 123.)

Art. 4. Adjustment of Conflicting Claims

§ 6927. Liability for damage for trespass.—If any owner or person in possession of any mine or mining claim shall enter upon, either on the surface or underground, any mine or mining claim, the property of another, and shall mine or carry away any valuable mineral therefrom, he shall be liable to the owner of the mine so trespassed upon for double the value of all such mineral mined or carried away and all other damages, and the value of the mineral mined or carried away shall be presumed to be the amount of the gross value ascertained by an average assay of the excavated material or vein or ledge from which it was taken. If such trespass is wrongfully and wilfully made, punitive damages may be allowed. (1913, c. 51, s. 1.)

§ 6928. Persons entitled to bring suit.—The owner of a mine in this state, or any person in possession under a lease or other contract, may maintain an action to recover damages to such property arising from the operation of any adjacent mine by the owner thereof or other person in possession and working the same under lease or contract, and also to prevent the continuance of the operation of the adjacent mine in such a manner as to injure or endanger the safty of the complainant's mine. (1913, c. 51, s. 1.)

§ 6929. Application and order for survey.—The person entitled to bring an action, as provided in the preceding section, may apply to any judge of the superior court having jurisdiction to grant injunctions and restraining orders, and obtain an order of survey in the following manner: He shall file an affidavit giving the names of the parties and the location of the plaintiff's mine, and that he has reason to believe that the defendant, or his agents or employees, are or have been trespassing upon his mine, or working the defendant's mine in such a manner as to damage or endanger the plaintiff's property. Upon the filing of the affidavit, the judge shall cause a notice to be issued to the defendant or his agents, stating the time and place before whom the application will be heard, and requiring them to appear, in not less than ten nor more than twenty days from the date thereof, and show cause why an order of survey should not be granted. Upon the hearing, and for good cause shown, the judge shall grant an order directed to some competent disinterested surveyor or mining engineer, or both, as the case may be, who shall proceed to make the necessary examination and surveys, as directed by the court, and report their action to the court. The persons selected by the judge to make the survey and examination shall be residents of the state, and, before entering upon the discharge of their duty, shall take and subscribe an oath that they will fairly and impartially survey the mines described in the petition. In all other respects, except as stated above, the surveyors appointed by the judge shall proceed as in surveys in disputed boundaries. (1913, c. 51, s. 2.)

and any interference with the persons acting under the order of survey shall be contempt of court and punished accordingly. If the persons named in the order of survey so require, they, with their instruments, shall be carefully lowered and raised in and out of the mine with the cage, bucket, or skip ordinarily used in the shafts of the mine; and they may demand of the owner of the mine, or his manager or agent, that they be so raised and lowered at a speed agreeable to them and not to endanger their comfort and safety or to injure the accuracy of their instruments. The owner of the mine, his managers or agents, shall be liable in damages to the persons making the examination for any injury to them or their instruments, caused by the careless and negligent operation of any bucket, cage, or skip at such a high rate of speed as to injure the persons or their instruments while being lowered or raised in the mine. (1913, c. 51, s. 2.)

§ 6931. Costs of the survey. — The cost of the order and survey shall be paid by the person making the application; but if he shall maintain action and recover damages for the injury done or threatened prior to such survey and examination, the costs of the order and survey shall be taxed against the defendant as other costs in the action. The party obtaining the survey shall be liable for any unnecessary injury done to the property examined and surveyed in making the survey. (1913, c. 51, s. 2.)

MONUMENTS, MEMORIALS, AND PARKS

Art. 1. Confederate Monuments

§ 6932. Land at Appomattox Court House accepted.—Whereas all North Carolinians are justly proud of their state's glorious record in the war between the states, and that her heroic soldiers were "first at Bethel, farthest at Gettysburg and Chickamauga, last at Appomattox;" and whereas a deed has been generously given by a gallant officer of the Union army Major George A. Armes, U. S. A., retired, to Hon. Henry A. London, for three lots or parcels of land on the battlefield of Appomattox Court House for the purpose of placing thereon permanent memorials to commemmorate—

1. The last volley fired by Cox's brigade of Grimes's division.

2. The capture of a battery of artillery by Roberts's brigade of cavalry, and

3. The last skirmish by Captain W. T. Jenkins; and whereas a tender of said lots has been made by said London as a gift to the state of North Carolina: Now, therefore, the governor is authorized and directed to receive, for the state, a deed from said London (as a gift from said Armes) for the aforesaid three lots of land on the battlefield of Appomattox Court House in the state of Virginia. (Rev., s. 3925; 1905, c. 10.)

§ 6933. Appomattox commission. — The governor is authorized and directed to appoint every four years five special commissioners, to be known as The North Carolina Appomattox Commission, who shall serve for four years until their successors are appointed, with full power to select their chairman and to fill any vacancy in their number that may occur, and to serve without compensation, except their actual necessary expenses, for a time not exceeding six days in any one year, which are to be paid by the state treasurer upon the warrant of the auditor, who shall issue his warrant when approved by the governor. The commissioners shall have the charge and control of said lots, and of the erection thereon of such permanent memorials as they may deem proper, but no cost of such memorials shall be paid by the state, except a sum not exceeding one thousand dollars, which is hereby appropriated for the erection of a monument on the lot where the last volley was fired by Cox's brigade of Grimes's division. (Rev., s. 3926; 1905, c. 10, ss. 2, 3.)

§ 6934. County commissioners may protect monuments.—When any monument has been or shall hereafter be erected to the memory of our Confederate dead or to perpetuate the memory and virtues of our distinguished dead, if such monument is erected by the voluntary subscription of the people and is placed on the courthouse square, the board of county commissioners of such county are permitted to expend from the public funds of the county an amount sufficient to erect a substantial iron fence around such monument in order that the same may be protected. (Rev., s. 3928; 1905, c. 457.)

Art. 2. Memorials

§ 6935. Memorial building commission created. —A memorial building commission is hereby created, to consist of the governor, the president of the senate, the speaker of the house of representatives, and nine other well-qualified persons who shall be appointed by the governor, which shall be and is hereby created a body politic and corporate under the name and style of the North Carolina Memorial Building Commission. The governor shall be the chairman of the commission. (1919, c. 3, ss. 1, 2.)

§ 6936. Meetings of commission; term of office; successors.—The memorial building commission shall have power to fix the time and place of its meetings. The commissioners shall hold office until the work hereinafter provided for shall have been completed and they shall have made report of the same to the general assembly and shall have been discharged. In the event of the death or resignation of any member of the commission, his successor shall be appointed by the governor. The commissioners shall receive no compensation. The position of commissioner under the provisions of this article shall not be construed to be an office within the meaning of section seven, article fourteen, of the constitution of North Carolina. (1919, c. 3, s. 3.)

§ 6937. Commission to raise funds by voluntary contributions and erect memorial building. — As a recognition of the valor and distinguished service of the state's soldiers and sailors, and in the honor and to the memory of all

North Carolina citizens who gave their lives, services or property to the end that the war with Germany and her allies might be won, the commission is hereby authorized to formulate plans, rules and regulations and to raise by voluntary contributions sufficient funds, as soon as practicable, and to acquire, either by gift, purchase or condemnation, a suitable site at the state capital, and shall proceed to erect thereon, or, with the consent of the council of state, on land already owned by the state not otherwise used, a suitable, useful and fireproof memorial building to be used as a depository for preserving, exhibiting and administering the records, relics and memorials of said war, and other historical records and effects of this state, and when said building is completed the same shall be the property of the state of North Carolina. (1919, c. 3, s. 4.)

§ 6938. Counties, cities, and towns may contribute toward erection of memorials. — Any county, city or town by resolution first adopted by its governing body may become a member of any memorial association or organization for perpetuating the memory of the soldiers and sailors of North Carolina who served the United States in the great world war, or who fought in the civil war, and may subscribe and pay toward the cost of the erection of any memorial to the memory of such soldiers and sailors such sums of money as its governing body may determine, and may be represented in such association or organization by such persons as its governing body may select. Any contribution so made shall be paid out of the general fund of such county, city, or town making same, on such terms as may be agreed upon by its governing body, and the officers having the control and management of the association or organization to which subscription and contributions are made. (1919, c. 21, ss. 1, 2, 3; 1923, s. 200.)

Editor's Note.—By amendment Public Laws 1923, ch. 200 there was added to this section the provision for perpetuating the memory of the soldiers and sailors of the Civil War.

Art. 3. Mount Mitchell Park Commission

§ 6940. Duties.—The Board of Conservation and Development shall exercise and perform all the rights, powers, duties, and obligations that have been heretofore exercised and performed by the Mount Mitchell park commission and the Mitchell Peak park commission, and said board shall be the lawful successor of said commissions. The board shall have complete control, care, protection and charge of that part of Mitchell's park acquired by the state. (1919, c. 316, s. 3; 1915, c. 76; 1921, c. 222, s. 1; 1925, c. 122, s. 23.)

Editor's Note.—Prior to Public Laws 1921, c. 22, sec. 1, this section read; "The commission shall have complete control, care, protection and charge of that part of Mitchell's Park acquired by the state."

§ 6941. Meetings; term of service; annual reports to governor; successors.—(Repealed: Public Laws 1925, c. 122, s. 23.)

§ 6942. Roads, trails, and fences authorized, protection of property.—The Board of Conservation and Development is authorized and empowered to enter upon the land hereinbefore referred to, and to build a fence or fences around the same, also roads, paths, and trails, and protect the property against trespass and fire and injury of any and all kinds whatsoever; cut wood and timber upon the same, but only for the purpose of protecting the other timber thereon and improving the property generally. (1919, c. 316, s. 5; 1921, c. 222, s. 1; 1925, c. 122, s. 23.)

Editor's Note.—By amendment, Public Laws 1921, ch. 222, sec. 1, the powers were vested in the "board" instead of the commission. By Public Laws 1925, ch. 122, sec. 23, the powers were vested in "The Board of Conservation and Development." See note to sec. 6940.

§ 6942(a). Fees for use of improvements; fees for other privileges; leases; rules and regulations.—The Board of Conservation and Development is further authorized and empowered to charge and collect fees for the use of such improvements as have already been constructed or may hereafter be constructed, on the park, and for other privileges connected with the full use of the park by the public; to lease sites for camps, houses, hotels, and places of amusement and business; and to make and enforce such necessary rules and regulations as may best tend to protect, preserve, and increase the value and attractiveness of the park. (1921, c. 222, s. 2; 1925, c. 122, s. 23.)

Editor's Note.—The words "Board of Conservation and Development" were substituted for the words "Geological Board" by the 1925 amendment in this and the two next succeeding sections.

§ 6942(b). Use of fees and other collections. —All fees and other money collected and received by the Board of Conservation and Development in connection with its proper administration of Mount Mitchell state park shall be used by said board for the administration, protection, improvement, and maintenance of said park. (1921, c. 222, s. 3; 1925, c. 122, s. 23.)

§ 6942(c). Annual reports. — The Board of Conservation and development shall make an annual report to the governor of all money received and expended by it in the administration of Mount Mitchell state park, and of such other items as may be called for by him or by the general assembly. (1921, c. 222, s. 4; 1925, c. 122, s. 23.)

NAVIGATION

Art. 1. Cape Fear River

(Sections 6943 to 6966, inclusive, seem to have been superseded by Chapter 79 of Public Laws of 1921, which is included herein as Sections 6943(a) to 6943(q), inclusive.)

§ 6943(a). Board of commissioners of navigation and pilotage. — A board of commissioners of navigation and pilotage for the Cape Fear river and bar, to consist of five members, at least four of whom shall be residents of New Hanover county, and none of whom shall be licensed pilots, is hereby created. The members of the board shall be appointed by the governor and their terms of office shall begin on the fifteenth day of April of the year in which they are appointed and continue for four years and until their successors shall be appointed and qualified. They shall be and are hereby declared to be commissioners for a special purpose, within the purview of section seven, article fourteen, of the constitution of North Carolina. It shall be the duty of the governor to appoint, on or before the fifth day of April, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one, and on or before the fifth day of April of every fourth year thereafter, the members of said board of commissioners. A majority of the board shall constitute a quorum and may act in all cases. The board shall have power to fill vacancies in its membership as they occur during their term, to appoint a clerk to record in a book, rules, orders and proceedings of the board, and the board shall have authority in all matters that may concern the navigation of waters from seven miles above Negro-head Point downwards, and out of the bar, and inlets. They shall annually, on the first Monday in May, appoint a harbor master for the port of Wilmington. (1921, c. 79, s. 1.)

Editor's Note.—The cases discussed below were decided under section 6943, now repealed. However, these cases seem applicable to the present law as the provisions of former section 6943 are substantially set forth in the instant section.

Constitutionality.—This article is constitutional as it is an exercise of the State's right to regulate pilotage, and should be construed liberally as a part of the maritime law. It does not create a monopoly or grant special priviliges, but only regulates for the protection of the public. St. George v. Hardie, 147 N. C. 88, 60 S. E. 920.

The Legislature may confer upon a local board of commissioners of navigation and pilotage authority to mark out cruising grounds for pilot boats. Morse v. Heide, 152 N. C. 625, 68 S. E. 173.

Time of Appointment.—The time of making the appointment of commissioners is merely directory, and if appointment is made after the fifth day of April, but before the fifteenth day of April, it is valid. St. George v. Hardie, 147 N. C. 88, 60 S. E. 920.

§ 6943(b). Rules to regulate pilotage service.—The board shall from time to time make and establish such rules and regulations respecting the qualifications, arrangements and station of pilots as to them shall seem most advisable, including the power and authority to prescribe, reduce, and limit the number of pilots necessary to maintain an efficient pilotage service for the Cape Fear river and bar, as in its discretion may be necessary: Provided, that the present number of eleven pilots now actively engaged in the service shall not be reduced except for cause or by resignation, disability or death, and shall impose such reasonable fines, forfeitures, and penalties as may be prescribed by the board for the purpose of enforcing the execution of such rules and regulations; the board shall have power and authority, when, in the opinion of a majority of the board, the best interests of the port of Wilmington, the state of North Carolina, and the pilotage service shall require, to organize all pilots licensed by it into a mutual association, under such reasonable rules and regulations as the board may prescribe, and any licensed pilot refusing to become a member of such association shall be subject to suspension, or to have his license revoked, at the discretion of the board. (1921, c. 79, s. 2; 1927, c. 158, s. 1.)

Editor's Note.—The amendment of 1927 inserted the provisions relating to Cape Fear River.

Reasonable Regulations.—A rule and regulation of the board to the effect that pilots shall not cruise beyond certain territory and that no pilot, except under certain unusual circumstances, shall be entitled to his fee for such services if they be tendered beyond the cruising ground they had laid off, is valid and reasonable. Morse v. Heide, 152 N. C. 625, 68 S. E. 173.

§ 6943(c). Examination and licensing of pilots.—The board, or a majority of them, may from time to time examine, or cause to examined, such persons as may offer themselves to be pilots for the Cape Fear river and bar, and shall give to such as are approved commission under their hands and the seal of the board, to act as pilots for the river and bar; and the number of pilots so commissioned, not exceeding fifteen at any one time, shall be left to the discretion of the board, but the limitation as to number herein shall not deprive the board of the power to issue license to any person who is a duly licensed pilot at the time of the passage of this article. (1921, c. 79, s. 3; 1927, c. 158, s. 2.)

Editor's Note.—The 1927 amendment substituted the word "may" for the word "shall" near the first part of this section.

Limiting Number of Pilots.—The limiting of the number of pilots, and providing for examinations and qualifications, is a valid exercise of the police powers and is not such a grant of special privileges to certain persons as is provided against by the Constitution. St. George v. Hardie, 147 N. C. 88, 60 S. E. 920.

§ 6943(d). Appointment and regulation of pilots' apprentices.—The board, when it deems necessary for the best interests of the port, is hereby authorized to appoint in its discretion apprentices, and to make and enforce reasonable rules and regulations relating to apprentices. No apprentice shall be required to serve for a longer period than three years in order to obtain a license to pilot vessels of a draught of not exceeding fifteen feet, and one year thereafter for a license to pilot vessels of a draught of more than fifteen feet. No one shall be entered as an apprentice who is of the age of more than twenty-five years. (1921, c. 79, s. 4; 1927, c. 158, s. 3.)

Editor's Note.—The provisions of this section relating to the appointment of apprentices were inserted by the 1927 amendment.

§ 6943(e). Classes of licenses issued. — The board shall have authority to issue two classes of licenses as follows:

(1) A license to pilot vessels whose draught of water does not exceed eighteen feet, to such applicants above the age of twenty-one years who have served as apprentices for such length of time as required by the rules and regulations of the board to entitle such applicant to such license;

(2) An unlimited or full license to those who have served at least one year under a license of the first class; Provided, that the board shall have power to appoint pilots without reference to apprenticeship record as in its judgment the service may require. (1921, c. 79, s. 5; 1927, c. 158, s. 4.)

Editor's Note.—The word "eighteen" was substituted for "fifteen" in subsection one and the proviso at the end of subsection two was added, by the 1927 amendment.

§ 6943(f). Renewal of license; license fee.—All licenses shall be renewed annually upon payment of a fee of five dollars ($5): Provided, the holder of such license shall have, during the year preceding the date for such renewal, complied with the provisions of this article and the reasonable rules and regulations prescribed by the board under authority hereof. (1921, c. 79, s. 6.)

§ 6943(g). Expenses of the board.— Each pilot, or the association of pilots, when organized as in this article provided, shall pay over to the board under such reasonable rules as the board shall prescribe two per cent (2%) of each and every pilotage fee received, for the purpose of providing funds to defray the necessary expenses of the board. In the event that the total of the sums so paid over in any one year shall exceed the expenses of the board, the excess, upon being duly ascertained, shall be paid over to the fund for the benefit of widows and orphans of the deceased pilots, as said fund is now constituted and provided for by law. (1921, c. 79, s. 7.)

§ 6943(h). Pilots to give bond.—Every person before being commissioned as a pilot shall give bond for the faithful performance of his duties, with two or more sureties, payable to the state of North Carolina in the sum of five hundred dollars ($500); the board may, from time to time, and as often as it may deem necessary, enlarge the penalty of the bond, or require new or additional bonds to be given in a sum or sums not to exceed in all, one thousand dollars ($1,000). Every bond taken of a pilot shall be filed with and preserved by the board, in trust for every person, firm, or corporation, who shall be injured by the neglect or misconduct of such pilots, and any person, firm, or corporation, so injured may severally bring suit for the damage by each one sustained. (1921, c. 79, s. 8.)

§ 6943(i). Permission to run as pilots on steamers; other ports.—The board shall have power to grant permission in writing to any pilot in good standing and authorized to pilot vessels, to run regularly as pilots on steamers running between the port of Wilmington and other ports of the United States, under such rules and regulations as the board shall prescribe. (1921, c. 79, s. 9.)

§ 6943(j). Cancellation of licenses. — The board shall have the power to call in and cancel the license of any pilot who has refused or neglected, except in case of sickness, his duty as a pilot for a period of six months in succession, and any pilot who has been absent from the state for a longer period than six months in succession shall, upon his return, surrender his license to the board, or the board may declare the same void, except when such absence has been under permission from the board as provided in section 6943(i). (1921, c. 79, s. 10.)

§ 6943(k). Jurisdiction over disputes as to pilotage.—Each member of the board shall have power and authority to hear and determine any matter of dispute between any pilot and any master of a vessel, or between pilots themselves, respecting the pilotage of any vessel and any one of them may issue a warrant against any pilot for the recovery of any demand which one pilot may have against another, relative to pilotage, and for the recovery of any forfeiture or penalty provided by law, relating to pilotage on Cape Fear river and bar, or provided by any by-law or rule or regulation enacted by the board by virtue of any such law, which warrant the sheriff or any constable in New Hanover or Brunswick counties, shall execute together with any other process authorized by this article. On any warrant issued as herein provided any one of said commissioners may give judgment for any sum not exceeding five hundred dollars ($500), and may issue execution thereon, in like manner as is provided for the issuing of execution on judgments rendered by justices of the peace, which writ of execution shall be executed agreeably to the law regulating the levy and sale under executions issuing from courts of justices of the peace. Any member of the board shall have authority to issue summons for witnesses and to administer oaths, and hearings before any member of the board of any matters as provided in this section shall conform as nearly as may be to procedure provided by law in courts of justices of the peace. From any judgment rendered by any member of the board, either party shall have the right of appeal to the superior court of New Hanover or Brunswick counties, in like manner as is provided for appeals on judgments of justices of the peace. (1921, c. 79, s. 11.)

§ 6943(l). Retirement of pilots from active service.—The board shall have and is hereby given authority in its discretion, and under such reasonable rules and regulations as it may prescribe, to retire from active service any pilot who shall become physically or mentally unfit to perform his duties as pilot, and to provide for such pilot or pilots so retired such compensation as the board shall deem proper: Provided, however, that no pilot shall be retired, except with his consent, for physical or mental disability, unless and until such pilot shall have first been examined by the public health officers or county physicians of New Hanover or Brunswick counties, and such public health officers or physicians shall have certified, either separately or jointly, to the board the fact of such physical or mental disability. (1921, c. 79, s. 12.)

§ 6943(m). When employment compulsory; rates of pilotage. — All vessels, coastwise or foreign, over sixty (60) gross tons, shall on and after the first day of May, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one, take a state licensed pilot from sea to Southport, and from Southport to sea, and the rates of pilotage shall be the rates given in column number one below, designated "From sea to Southport, vice versa;" the employments of pilots from Southport to Wilmington and from Wilmington to Southport is optional, but any vessel taking a pilot from Southport to Wilmington, or from Wilmington to Southport, shall employ only a state licensed pilot, and the rate of pilotage shall be the rates in column number two below, designated "From Southport to Wilmington, or vice versa."

Vessels calling at the port solely for the purpose of obtaining bunker coal shall pay one-half the fees hereinbefore prescribed. (1921, c. 79, s. 13, 1927, c. 158, s. 5.)

Editor's Note.—A majority of the pilotage rates as fixed by this section were changed by the 1927 amendment, most of them having been raised.

Pilot Entitled to Pilotage.— The first pilot speaking a vessel shall be entitled to the pilotage fees over the bar to Southport and out to sea again, provided said pilot shall be ready and willing to serve as a pilot, etc. St. George v. Hardie, 147 N. C. 88, 92, 60 S. E. 920.

A barge of over sixty gross tons having a United States licensed pilot on board is subject to pilotage, tender and refusal under this section upon entering North Carolina waters. Craig v. Gulf Barge, etc., Co., 201 N. C. 250, 159 S. E. 424.

§ 6943(n). Pay for detention of pilots. — Every master of a vessel who shall detain a pilot at the time appointed so that he cannot proceed to sea, though wind and weather permit, shall pay such pilot ten dollars ($10) per day during the time of his actual detention, the pilot to have due notice from the master or agent of said vessel. (1921, c. 79, s. 14.)

§ 6943(o). Vessels not liable for pilotage.— Any vessel coming into Southport from sea without the assistance of a pilot, the wind and weather being such that such assistance or service could have been reasonably given, shall not be liable for pilotage inward from sea, and shall be at liberty to depart without payment of any pilotage, unless the services of a pilot be secured. (1921, c. 79, s. 15.)

Validity.—This section is valid, when construed with the other sections of said chapter, being an incentive to render pilots vigilant. St. George v. Hardie, 147 N. C. 88, 60 S. E. 920.

§ 6943(p). First pilot to speak vessel to get fees.—The first pilot speaking a vessel from a regularly numbered and licensed boat of this board shall be entitled to the pilotage fees over the bar to Southport, and out to sea again: Provided, said pilot shall be ready and willing to serve as pilot when the vessel is ready to depart, due notice having been given by the master or agent to said pilot. (1921, c. 79, s. 16.)

§ 6943(q). Vessels entering for harborage exempt.—Any vessel coming in from sea for harbor shall not be required to take a pilot either from sea inward or back to sea. (1921, c. 79, s. 17.)

Art. 2. Beaufort Harbor

§ 6967. Commissioners of navigation; election.—The commissioners of navigation for Old Topsail inlet and Beaufort harbor shall be composed of three persons, to be elected as follows: The board of commissioners of Carteret county shall elect one, the commissioners of the town of Morehead City shall elect one. They shall be elected at the regular meeting of such boards in June, one thousand nine hundred and five, and every two years thereafter, and shall qualify by taking the oath required by law before the clerk of the superior court or some justice of the peace of Carteret county, and enter upon the discharge of their duties on the first Monday in July following their election. (Rev., s. 4964; 1899, c. 9, ss. 1, 2.)

§ 6968. Authority of commissioners.—They shall have authority in all matters that may concern the navigation of the harbor, Old Topsail inlet, and all the waters of the sound and rivers within ten miles of the town of Beaufort, and in the construction of wharves, and when there is no harbor master, the commissioners aforesaid shall decide all disputes about the moving of vessels and other matters which properly fall within the department of harbor master. (Rev., s. 4965; Code, s. 3528; 1868-9, c. 208, s. 3.)

§ 6970. Pilots; how appointed and licensed.—Such commissioners shall elect the pilots for said inlet and harbor, and may make such rules and regulations for their government as the commissioner may deem right and proper, not inconsistent with the constitution and laws of this state or of the United States: Provided, that all persons who may be licensed as pilots shall have had at least two years practical experience as apprentices under some regular licensed pilot of Beaufort Harbor and Old Topsail Inlet, and shall secure two pilots in good standing to endorse in writing each application for license. Application for pilot licenses or branches shall be made to the commissioners in writing, giving the name, age, and occupation of applicants for two years next preceding the date of application. The commissioners shall examine all applicants for pilot's licenses, and may also examine other persons as to qualifications of applicants to perform the duties of pilot, and may in their discretion reject any applicant whom they may deem incompetent. (Rev., s. 4967; 1899, c. 9, ss. 3, 4, 5; 1921, c. 74, s. 6.)

§ 6971. Fees for issuing pilot's license.—The said commissioners shall give to every pilot elected by them a license or branch under their hands and seals, which shall be and remain in force for one year unless, for good cause to said commissioners appearing, the same shall be sooner revoked by them. They shall charge for each license or branch, fifteen dollars, which they may retain for their expenses and services. (Rev., s. 4968; 1899, c. 9, s. 6; 1921, c. 74, s. 5.)

§ 6973. Pilot boats to be numbered. — After the first day of April, one thousand nine hundred and fifteen, each and every pilot vessel in Carteret county shall be numbered; and any pilot after that date piloting a vessel or barge in or out of the territory as set out in this article, without a number, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and be subject to a fine of not more than fifty dollars or imprisoned not more than thirty days, or both, in the discretion of the court. The commissioners of navigation of Beaufort harbor shall make provision for numbering of pilot vessels as required by this section. All said fines collected under this act to be applied to the public school fund of Carteret County. (1915, c. 142, ss. 2, 3.)

§ 6974. Rates of pilotage.—The pilotage for Old Topsail inlet and Beaufort harbor shall be as follows: For vessels drawing eight feet and under, two dollars and fifty cents per foot; ten feet and over eight, three dollars per foot; twelve feet and over ten, four dollars per foot; all over twelve feet, four dollars and fifty cents per foot. The above fees to be collectible in Beaufort harbor from Middle marsh to Lewis thoroughfare, and from the Neuse river side of the inland waterway through the said waterway and out of Beaufort inlet. For every vessel piloted without these bounds an additional charge of fifty cents per foot may be charged. The commissioners shall have the rates of pilotage printed or written on every license or branch issued by them, and every pilot shall exhibit his license to the master of every vessel he has in charge, when demanded by said master. The rates of pilotage as set out in this section shall apply to all vessels entering or leaving "Old Topsail Inlet" and "Beaufort Harbor." (Rev., s. 4969; 1899, c. 9, ss. 7, 8; 1901, c. 639; 1909, c. 250, s. 1; 1915, c. 142, s. 1; 1921, c. 74, ss. 1-3.)

§ 6974(a). Vessels required to take pilots.—All vessels, coastwise or foreign, over sixty gross tons shall take a state-licensed pilot from sea to Pier One, Morehead City, North Carolina, and from Pier One, Morehead City, North Carolina, to sea, and the rates of pilotage shall be the rates as is set out in section 6974. (1921, c. 74, s. 4.)

§ 6975. Vessel under sixty tons not liable for pilotage.—No pilot, acting under the authority of the commissioners of navigation for Old Topsail inlet, shall be entitled to pilotage for any vessel under sixty tons burden, unless such vessel shall have given a signal for a pilot, or otherwise shall have required the assistance of a pilot. (Rev., s. 4970; Code, s. 3523; R. C., c. 85, s. 33; 1801, c. 600, s. 3; 1806, c. 711, s. 1.)

Art. 3. Bogue Inlet

§ 6976. Commissioners of navigation for Bogue inlet.—The board of commissioners of the county of Onslow shall appoint five commissioners of navigation for Bogue inlet and its waters. When vacancies occur in said board, by refusal to act, by registration, or otherwise, the remaining members of such board shall fill the same until the same be supplied by the appointing board, which is directed to be done at the first meeting after the vacancy occurs. And the said board shall have the same powers and authority as to pilots and pilotage as the commissioners for Old Topsail inlet and Beaufort harbor. (Rev., s. 4971; Code, s. 3515; R. C., c. 85, s. 25; 1783, c. 194; 1784, c. 208, s. 2; 1879, c. 216, s. 4.)

§ 6977. Rates of pilotage.—The branch pilots for Bogue inlet shall be entitled to receive of the commander of such vessel as they may have charge of the following pilotage, namely: For bringing any vessel into the said inlet, drawing less than seven feet, from the outside of the bar to the anchorage before the town, or the customary place in Hill's channel, one dollar per foot; for a vessel drawing more than seven feet, one dollar and fifty cents per foot; and the same fees for pilotage outward as inward. (Rev., s. 4972; Code, s. 3535; 1889, c. 121.)

Art. 4. Hatteras and Ocracoke

§ 6978. Board of commissioners of navigation; organization; oath; pilots' licenses. — John W. Rolinson, R. R. Quidley, George L. Styron, William Balance, and Charles L. Odine shall constitute a board of commissioners of navigation for the port of Hatteras inlet, of the county of Dare; William E. Howard, Christopher O. Neal, Sr., and Gilbert O. Neal, of the county of Hyde; D. R. Roberts and J. W. Gilgo, of the county of Carteret, shall constitute a board of navigation for the port of Ocracoke inlet, whose duty it shall be to meet at Hatteras and Ocracoke respectively three times in each year, or a majority of the respective board, after giving at least twenty days notice of each meeting, and when any person is desirous of becoming a pilot at Hatteras or Ocracoke inlets, over the Swashes through Pamlico and Albemarle sounds, he shall be examined by said board, and when found competent to take charge of any ship or vessel as a pilot the board shall issue to him a branch and take the bond authorized by law, and no person shall be authorized to act as a bar or swash pilot unless he shall have a branch from said boards. The said boards shall have their offices at Hatteras and Ocracoke respectively, in which shall be filed the bonds of the pilots, and every pilot receiving a branch from said boards shall pay to the board from which he receives such branch two dollars and fifty cents, of which sum the commissioners of Ocracoke who live in Carteret county shall receive ten cents per mile traveling to and from the meeting of said board, and the residue shall be divided between all the members of said board, and the commissioners shall belong to each board respectively. When a vacancy shall occur in either board by death, resignation, or refusal to act, a majority thereof of each board shall appoint some suitable person thereto, whose residence shall be at the same place where the vacancy occured; said commissioners shall keep a regular journal of their proceedings, and before entering on the duties of their office they shall take and subscribe before any justice of the peace of the counties of Dare, Carteret, or Hyde the following oath:

I do solemnly swear that I will truly and faithfully and impartially examine every person who shall apply to me for a branch, to the best of my ability: So help me, God.

The branch shall expire in three years from the date thereof. (Rev., s. 4961; Code, s. 3512; R. C., c. 85, s. 24; 1871-2, c. 134; 1897, c. 211; 1879, c. 216.)

§ 6979. Rates of pilotage.—Branch pilots Ocracoke or Hatteras shall be entitled to receive of the commander of such vessel as they may have in charge the following pilotage, namely: For every vessel of sixty and not over one hundred and forty tons burden from the other side of the bar, at any place within the limits of the pilot ground, to Beacon Island road, or Wallace's channel, ten cents for each ton, and the further sum of two and a half cents for each ton over one hundred and forty, and two dollars for each vessel over either the swashes (that is, over said swashes either to or from Beacon Island road, or Wallace's channel, or over any shoal lying intermediate between either of said swashes and Beacon Island road or Wallace's channel); for every ship or vessel from the mouth of the swash to either of the ports of New Bern or Washington, one dollar per foot, and for every ship or vessel from the same place to the port of Edenton, twelve dollars; and to the port of Elizabeth City, ten dollars; and the same allowance down as up, and outward as inward. (Rev., s. 4962; Code, s. 3524; R. C., c. 85, s. 34; 1749, c. 426; 1806, c. 711; 1846, c. 49, ss. 1, 2, 3.)

§ 6980. Who may be pilots for Hatteras or Ocracoke inlet.—The said boards shall not issue or grant any branch to pilot vessels through Hatteras inlet to any person who does not reside in Hatteras precinct, which precinct extends from Cape Hatteras lighthouse to Hatteras inlet. And the said boards shall not issue or grant a branch to pilot vessels through or over Ocracoke inlet to any person who does not reside upon the island of Ocracoke or in the precinct of Portsmouth. (Rev., s. 4963; Code, s. 3541; 1856-7, c. 29; 1879, c. 216, s. 3.)

Art. 5. General Provisions

§ 6981. Obstructing navigable waters; removing beacons; penalty; pilot's liability.—If any person shall cast or throw from any vessel, into the navigable water of Carteret or Onslow counties, of Tar or Pamlico rivers, or into the navigable waters of the Cape Fear, or any other river in the state, or into any channel of navigable water elsewhere than in a river, any ballast, stone, shells, earth, trash, or other substance likely to be injurious to the navigation of such waters, rivers, or channel; or if any person shall wilfully pull down any beacon, stake, or other mark, erected or placed by virtue of any by-law, order, or regulation passed or ordained by any commissioners of navigation, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall forfeit and pay two hundred dollars, to be recovered for the use of the commissioners in whose waters the offense was committed. If any pilot shall knowingly suffer any such unlawful act to be done, and shall not within ten days thereafter give to the said commissioners, or one of them, information thereof, such pilot shall likewise be guilty of a misdemeanor; and, besides the usual punishment of such offense, on conviction, shall be forever incapable of acting as a pilot in the state. (Rev., s. 3560; Code, ss. 3537, 3538; R. C., c. 85, ss. 40, 41; 1833, c. 146; 1784, c. 206, s. 11; R. S., c. 88, ss. 23, 24, 45; 1811, c. 839; 1842, c. 65, s. 4; 1846, c. 60, s. 3.)

§ 6982. Local: Obstructing waters of Currituck sound.—It shall be unlawful for any person to obstruct navigation in the waters of Currituck sound and tributaries, and all persons, corporations, companies, or clubs, who have heretofore placed or caused to be placed any hedging across the mouth of a bay, creek, strait, or lead of water in Currituck sound or tributaries, made of iron, wire, or wood or other material, for the purpose of preventing the free passage of boats or vessels of any size or class, or to stop the public use of such bay, creek, strait, or lead of water, are required to forthwith remove the same. Any person, corporation, or club violating any of the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined not more than fifty dollars nor less than ten dollars, or imprisoned not more than thirty days, at the discretion of the court. (Rev., s. 3553; 1897, c. 277.)

§ 6983. Local: Lumbermen to remove obstructions in Albemarle sound.—If any lumberman shall fail to remove all obstructions placed by him in the waters of Albemarle sound and its tributaries, as soon as practicable, after they have ceased to use them for the purpose for which they were placed in said waters, from all places where the water is not less than two feet deep, and also from all landing places on both sides, for the space of sixty feet from the shore outward, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and fined not less than one dollar nor more than fifty dollars, at the discretion of the court. (Rev., s. 3551; Code, s. 3303; 1880, c. 37, ss. 1, 2.)

§ 6985. Vessels on inland waterways exempt from pilot laws; proviso as to steam vessels.—All vessels, barges, schooners, or other craft passing through the inland waterway of this state, when bound to a port or ports in this or any other state, be and the same are hereby exempt from the operations of the pilot laws of North Carolina and are not compelled to take a state licensed pilot: Provided, that steam vessels not having a United States licensed pilot for the waters navigated on board shall be subject to the state pilot laws. (1917, c. 33, s. 2.)

Under the Federal Law.—Vessels passing through the inland waterway of the State are exempt from the pilot laws by the State statutes, subject to the proviso of this section; and, under the Federal Statutes, whether a vessel has a gross tonnage of more than fifteen tons should be determined by the method prescribed by the Federal statutes requiring a pilot; and in an action for damages alleged to have been caused by defendant's negligence in a collision, it is reversible error for the trial judge to direct an affirmative answer to the issue of contributory negligence in navigating without a pilot upon plaintiff's assertion that his vessel would carry thirty tons. Harris v. Slater, 187 N. C. 163, 121 S. E. 437.

§ 6986. Bond of pilot.—Every person, before he obtains a commission or a branch to be a pilot, shall give bond with two sufficient sureties payable to the state of North Carolina, in the sum of five hundred dollars, with condition for the due and faithful discharge of his duties, and the duties of his apprentices; and the body appointing such pilot may, from time to time, and as often as they may deem it necessary, enlarge the penalty of the bond, or require new and additional bonds to be given; and every bond taken of a pilot shall be filed with, and preserved by, the said body appointing such pilot in trust for every person that shall be injured by the neglect or misconduct of such pilot, or his apprentices; who may severally bring suit thereon for the damage by each one sustained. (Rev., s. 307; Code, s. 3487; R. C., c. 85, s. 6; 1784, c. 207, s. 3.)

As to action on official bond see sec. 354.

§ 6987. Pilots to have spyglasses.—Every pilot, within such convenient time as the commissioners may direct, who has control over the waters within which he acts, shall furnish himself with a good telescope or spyglass, under the penalty of fifty dollars, to be paid to the commissioners. (Rev., s. 4973; Code, s. 3517; R. C., c. 85, s. 27; 1790, c. 320, s. 3.)

§ 6988. Acting as pilot without license.—If any person shall act as a pilot, who is not qualified and licensed in the manner prescribed in this chapter, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be fined not more than $50.00 and not less than $25.00, or imprisoned not more than thirty days at the discretion of the court: Provided, that should there be no licensed pilot in attendance, any person may conduct into port any vessel in danger from stress of weather or in a leaky condition. (Rev., s. 4974; Code, s. 3519; R. C. c. 85, s. 29; 1783, c. 194, s. 3; 1784, c. 208, s. 1; 1933, c. 325, ss. 1, 2, 3.)

Editor's Note.—Public Laws of 1933, c. 325, struck out the former provision and inserted the present reading in lieu thereof. A comparison of the two sections is necessary to determine the changes.

§ 6989. Penalty on pilot neglecting to go to vessel having signal set.—When any pilot shall see any vessel on the coast, having a signal for a pilot, or shall hear a gun of distress fired off the coast, and shall neglect or refuse to go to assistance of such vessel, such pilot shall forfeit and pay one hundred dollars, to be recovered in the name of the state, one-half to the use of the informer and the other half to the master of the vessel, unless such pilot is then actually in charge of another vessel. (Rev., s. 4975; Code, s. 3521; R. C., c. 85, s. 31; 1784, c. 207, s. 10; 1790, c. 207, s. 10; 1790, c. 320, s. 2; 1783, c. 194, s. 6.)

§ 6990. Pilots may be removed.—Unless otherwise provided in the first article of this chapter for the Cape Fear river, whenever any pilot appointed, as authorized in this chapter, shall, on trial, be found incompetent, or shall be guilty of improper conduct by intoxication or otherwise, or of any misbehavior in his office, or shall absent himself from the state for a period of six months, the pilot so offending may be removed from his office by the board of commissioners under whose authority he is acting, by a notice of any vessel, he shall forfeit and pay two hundred dollars for the use of said board. And it shall be the duty of the board to put up a written notice of the removal, in the public places within the port, or publish it in some convenient newspaper. But no pilot for the navigation of Hatteras inlet shall be required to surrender or forfeit his branch by reason of absence from the state for a period of less than six months. (Rev., s. 4976; Code, ss. 3518, 3, 490; 1868-70, c. 235, s. 7; 1881, c. 261, s. 2; R. C., c. 85, s. 28; R. S, c. 88, ss. 7, 31, 35; 1784, c. 207, s. 4; 1819, c. 1025, s. 4; 1800, c. 565; 1876-7, c. 22; 1881, c. 261, s. 1.)

Entitled to Fees Until Removed.—A duly licensed pilot may recover charges for his services, and while his failure to have his boat registered and numbered will cause a forfeiture of his license, the lawful pilotage charges for the service of such boat is recoverable by him until the commissioners of navigation and pilotage have acted thereon and revoked his license. Davis v. Heide & Co., 161 N. C. 476, 77 S. E. 691.

§ 6991. Pilots refused, entitled to pay.—If a branch pilot shall go off to any vessel bound in, and offer to pilot her over the bar, the master or commander of such vessel, if he refuses to take such pilot, shall pay to such pilot, if not previously furnished with one, the same sum as is allowed by law for conducting such vessel in, to be recovered before a justice of the peace, if the sum be within his jurisdiction: Provided, that the first pilot, and no other, who shall speak such vessel so bound in shall be entitled to the pay provided for in this section. (Rev., s. 4978; Code, s. 3522; R. C., c. 85, s. 32; 1871-2, c. 117.)

§ 6992. Pay of pilots when detained by vessel.—Every master of a vessel who shall detain a pilot at the time appointed, so that he cannot proceed to sea, though wind and weather should permit, shall pay to such pilot three dollars per day during the time of his actual detention. (Rev., s. 4979; Code, s. 3495; 1858-9, c. 23, s. 7.)

§ 6993. Rates of pilotage annexed to commission.—The commissioners of navigation for the several ports of this state shall annex to the branch or commission, by them given to each pilot, a copy of the fees to which such pilot is entitled. (Rev., s. 4980; Code, ss. 3497, 3536; R. C., c. 85, ss. 9, 38; 1784, c. 208, s. 4; 1796, c. 470, s. 5.)

§ 6994. Harbor masters; how appointed.—The several boards of commissioners of navigation may appoint a harbor master for their respective ports. They shall appoint a clerk to keep books, in which shall be recorded all their proceedings. (Rev., s. 4981; Code, s. 3525; R. C., c. 85, s. 35.)

§ 6996. Commissioners of navigation to designate place for trash.—The several boards of commissioners established by this chapter may, subject to such regulations as the United States may make, designate the places whereat, within the waters under their several and respective control, may be cast and thrown ballast, trash, stone, and like matter. (Rev., s. 4982; Code, s. 3537; R. C., c. 85, s. 40; R. S., c. 88, ss. 23, 24, 45; 1833, c. 146, ss. 1, 2, 3; 1846, c. 60, s. 3.)

§ 6998. Rafts to exercise care in passing buoys, etc., penalty.—If any person having charge of any raft passing any buoy, beacon, or day-mark, shall not exercise due diligence in keeping clear of it, or, if unavoidably fouling it, shall not exercise due diligence in clearing it, without dragging from its position such buoy, beacon, or day-mark, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and punished by fine not to exceed fifty dollars. (Rev., s. 3545; Code, s. 3087; 1883, c. 165, s. 3.)

§ 6999. Interfering with buoys, beacons, and day-marks.—If any person shall moor any kind of vessel or any raft or any part of a raft, to any buoy, beacon, or day-mark placed in the waters of North Carolina by the authority of the United States lighthouse board, or shall in any manner hang on with any vessel or raft, or part of a raft, to any such buoy, beacon, or day-mark, or shall wilfully remove, damage, or destroy any such buoy, beacon, or day-mark, or shall cut down, remove, damage, or destroy any beacon erected on land in this state by the authority of the said United States lighthouse board, or through unavoidable run down, drag from its position, or in any way injure any buoy, beacon, or day-mark, as aforesaid, and shall fail to give notice as soon as practicable of having done so, to the lighthouse inspector of the district in which said buoy, beacon, or day-mark may be located, or to the collector of the port, or, if in charge of a pilot, to the collector of the port from which he comes, he shall for every such offense be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not to exceed two hundred dollars, or imprisoned not to exceed three months, or both, at the discretion of the court. (Rev., s. 3546; Code, s. 3085; 1858-9, c. 58, ss. 2, 3; 1883, c. 165, s. 1.)

PAWNBROKERS

§ 7000. Pawnbroker defined.—Any person, firm, or corporation who shall engage in the business of lending or advancing money on the pledge and possession of personal property, or dealing in the purchasing of personal property or valuable things on condition of selling the same back again at stipulated prices, is hereby declared and defined to be a pawnbroker. (1915, c. 198, s. 1.)

§ 7001. License; business confined to municipalities.—No person, firm, or corporation shall engage in the business of lending money, or other things, for profit or on account of specific articles of personal property deposited with the lender in pledge in this state, which business is commonly known as that of pawnbrokers, except in incorporated cities and towns, and by paying the county, state, and municipal license tax required by law, and otherwise complying with the requirements made in this and succeeding sections. (1915, c. 198, s. 1.)

As to License Tax, see sec. 7816.

§ 7002. Municipal authorities to grant and control license; bond.—The board of aldermen, or other governing body, of any city or town in this state may grant to such person, firm, or corporation as it may deem proper, and who shall produce satisfactory evidence of good character, a license authorizing such person, firm, or corporation to carry on the business of a pawnbroker, which said license shall designate the house in which such person, firm, or corporation shall carry on said business, and no person, firm, or corporation shall carry on the business of a pawnbroker without being duly licensed, nor in any other house than the one designated in the said license. Every person, firm, or corporation so licensed to carry on the business of a pawnbroker shall, at the time of receiving such license, file with the mayor of the city or town granting the same, a bond payable to such city or town in the sum of one thousand dollars, to be executed by the persons so licensed and by two responsible sureties, or a surety company licensed to do business in the State of North Carolina, to be approved of by such mayor, which said bond shall be for the faithful performance of the requirements and obligations pertaining to the business so licensed. The board of aldermen, or other governing body, shall have full power and authority to revoke such license and sue for forfeiture of the bond upon breach thereof. Any person who may obtain a judgment against a pawnbroker and upon which judgment execution is returned unsatisfied, may maintain an action in his own name upon the said bond of said pawnbroker, in any court having jurisdiction of the amount demanded, to satisfy said judgment. (1915, c. 198, s. 2.)

§ 7003. Records to be kept.—Every pawnbroker shall keep a book in which shall be legibly written, at the time of the loan, an account and description of the goods, articles or things pawned or pledged, the amount of money loaned thereon, the time of pledging the same, the rate of interest to be paid on said loan, and the name and residence of the person pawning or pledging the said goods, articles, or things. (1915, c. 198, s. 3.)

§ 7004. Pawn ticket.—And every such pawnbroker shall at the time of each loan deliver to the person pawning or pledging any goods, articles, or things a ticket or memorandum or note signed by him containing the substance of the entry required to be made by him in his book as aforesaid, and a copy of the said ticket, memorandum, or note so given to the person pawning or pledging any goods, articles, or things of value shall be filed within forty-eight hours in the office of the chief of police of the city or town issuing the license to such pawnbroker. The said tickets or memorandums so issued shall be numbered consecutively and dated the day issued. (1915, c. 198, s. 3.)

§ 7005. Sale of pledges.—No pawnbroker shall sell any pawn or pledge until the same shall have remained sixty days in his possession after the maturity of the debt for which the property was pledged. And no pawnbroker shall advertise or sell at his place of business as unredeemed pledges any articles of property other than those received by him as pawns or pledges in the usual course of his business at the place where he is licensed to do business. (1915, c. 198, s. 4.)

§ 7006. Usury law applicable.—The provisions of this chapter shall not be construed to relieve any person from the penalty incurred under the laws against usury in this state. (1915, c. 198, s. 5.)

§ 7007. Violation of chapter misdemeanor.—Any person, firm, or corporation violating the provisions of this chapter shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and fined or imprisoned, or both, in the discretion of the court. (1915, c. 198, s. 5.)

PHOTOGRAPHERS

§ 7007(1). Definitions. — Words used in this chapter, unless otherwise expressly stated, shall have the following meaning:

"Board"—The board of photographic examiners.

"Persons"—Any individual person, firm, corporation or association.

"Photography" (a) The art or process of reproduction, recording the visible and invisible image through the action of light upon chemically sensitized substance or material. (b) The processes of projecting and registering images by means of lens and camera upon sensitized materials, development and fixation of the latent image to render same visible and permanent and the subsequent reproduction or transfer of such image, either negative or positive, upon sensitized material, by aid of light and chemical action.

"Photo finishing"—The process of reproducing or transferring any image made by means of camera and lens, either negative or positive, upon sentitized material by aid of light and chemical action.

"The practice of photography"—The profession, occupation, or avocation of taking or producing photographs or any part thereof for hire.

"Photographer" — Any individual, person, firm or corporation who shall practice photography.

"Apprentice" — Any individual or person who shall study, train or work under the guidance of a duly registered photographer for the purpose of acquiring the necessary knowledge to practice photography.

"Licensee"—A licensed photographer or apprentice. (1935, c. 155, art. 1.)

§ 7007(2). State board of photographic examiners created; terms of office.—A state board of photographic examiners is hereby created, which shall consist of five members, all of whom shall be residents of the State of North Carolina and shall have had not less than five (5) years experience as professional photographers, who shall be commissioned by the governor and hold office as follows: Two for one year, two for two years and one for three years, their successors to be commissioned by the governor for a term of three years. (1935, c. 155, art. 2, s. 1, c. 318.)

§ 7007(3). Chairman and secretary. — The members of the state board of photographic examiners shall annually elect one of their number to act as chairman, and appoint and at their pleasure remove a secretary, who need not be a member of the board, and whose compensation shall be fixed by the board. The said secretary shall also act as treasurer and shall perform the duties prescribed by this chapter and such other duties as the board may from time to time direct. (1935, c. 155, art. 2, ss. 2, 3.)

§ 7007(4). Pay and expenses; principal office; quorum.—The members of the board upon the certification by the majority of said members shall receive the sum of seven dollars and actual and necessary expenses for each day actually devoted to the performance of their duties under this chapter. The principal office of the board shall be at such place designated by a majority of the members of the board. Three members of the board shall constitute a quorum. (1935, c. 155, art. 2, ss. 4-6.)

§ 7007(5). Organization meeting; bond of secretary-treasurer; powers of board.—The board of photographic examiners shall within thirty days after its appointment, meet in the city of Raleigh, and organize and shall elect a chairman and appoint a secretary-treasurer. The secretary and treasurer shall give bond approved by the board for the faithful performance of his duties, in such sum as the board may, from time to time, determine. The board shall have a common seal and shall formulate rules to govern its actions, and it may take testimony and proof concerning all matters within its jurisdiction. (1935, c. 155, art. 3, s. 1.)

§ 7007(6). Record of proceedings.—The said board shall keep a record of its proceedings relating to issuance, refusal, renewal, suspension and revocation of certificates of registration. This record shall also contain the name, place of business and residence of every registered photographer and registered apprentice, and the date and number of his certificate of registration. This record shall be opened to public inspection at all reasonable times. (1935, c. 155, art. 3, s. 2.)

§ 7007(7). Rules and orders.—The board may adopt and enforce all rules and orders necessary to carry out the provisions of this chapter. Every rule or order of the board shall be available for public inspection in the office of the board. (1935, c. 155, art. 3, s. 3.)

§ 7007(8). Conduct of hearings.—The board is authorized to conduct hearings in any part of the state or may designate any member of the board so to do, which hearing shall be held pursuant to the rules and regulations adopted and promulgated by the board. (1935, c. 155, art. 3, s. 4.)

§ 7007(9). Appointment and removal of assistants. — Said board shall have the power to appoint and at its pleasure remove any technical, legal, or other assistants as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of this chapter and to prescribe their powers and duties and fix their compensation. (1935, c. 155, art. 3, s. 5.)

§ 7007(10). Examination and licensing of applicants; temporary certificates.—The board shall provide for the examination of applicants who desire to practice photography in this state, and shall collect fees, as hereinafter provided, for such examinations and issue certificates of registration and licenses to practice photography to anyone who shall qualify as to competency, ability and integrity. The board may issue temporary certificates to practice photography until such time as the board shall hold an examination, provided such applicants are, in the opinion of the board, entitled thereto, and provided that application and deposit for examination is made at the time of application for such temporary license, and such certficate shall be null and void after the next examination held by the board, and provided further, that no such applicant shall, thereafter, be eligible to apply for and receive a temporary certificate. (1935, c. 155, art. 4, s. 1.)

§ 7007(11). Qualifications of applicants for examination.—Prior to any applicant being admitted to an examination or licensed, said board shall have the power to require proof as to the technical qualifications, business record and moral character of such applicant, and if an applicant shall fail to satisfy the board in any or all of these respects, the board may decline to admit said applicant to examination, or to issue license. (1935, c. 155, art. 4, s. 2.)

§ 7007(12). Semi-annual examinations; separate certificates for two branches of photography. —The board shall provide a place and give a written, and/or an oral and/or a practical examination at least twice a year to all duly qualified applicants covering the two branches of photography, to-wit: Photography and photo-finishing. Separate certificates shall be provided for each branch. A certificate for one branch shall not permit the practicing in the other branch, although any photographer may hold certificates in both branches if qualified under this chapter. All applicants may take the examination in either or both branches and the examination fee as herein set forth shall cover both branches if taken at the same time. (1935, c. 155, art. 4, s. 3.)

§ 7007(13). Application for license; examination fees; examination requirements.—Every person desiring to commence the practice of photography in this State shall file an application for a license with the board on a form prescribed by it. At the time of making such application the applicant shall deposit with the board an examination fee of twenty-five ($25.00) dollars: Provided, that the examination fees for persons engaged exclusively in the development, finishing, and/or enlarging of kodak pictures shall be in the sum of fifteen ($15.00) dollars. All applicants must appear for examination at the time and place designated by the board and shall present such references and credentials as the board may require, and shall give satisfactory evidence as to their competency and fitness to conduct the practice of photography based on their technical knowledge, their business record and their moral character. (1935, c. 155, art. 4, s. 4.)

§ 7007(14). No fees refunded; fees for additional examinations. — No fee for examination shall in any case be refunded, but in case the applicant fails in the first examination he may take three subsequent examinations in the branches in which he failed and the fee for each such subsequent examination shall be ten ($10.00) dollars. (1935, c. 155, art. 4, s. 5.)

§ 7007(15). Registration and licensing of successful applicants. — Exery applicant successfully passing such examination shall be registered in the records of the board as a qualified photographer in the branch or branches in which he has been successful, and shall receive a license signed by the chairman and secretary of said board authorizing the applicant to practice photography in the branch or branches in which he has been successful in this State. (1935, c. 155, art. 4, s. 6.)

§ 7007(16). Requirements for students or apprentices. — Every person desiring to commence the study of photography in this State for the purpose of practicing photography shall file a certificate signed by a duly licensed photographer that the said person has started to study photography with the said licensed photographer and that said student or apprentice commenced his studies or work prior to the date of the certificate, and such other information as the board may require. (1935, c. 155, art. 4, s. 7.)

§ 7007(17). Licenses not transferable.—No license shall be transferable nor shall it be issued to any person, firm or corporation, designed to operate under an assumed or fictitious name. (1935, c. 155, art. 4, s. 8.)

§ 7007(18). Licensing without examination of photographers now practicing; license fee. — The board shall, upon application, issue a license to every photographer who has been continuously engaged in the practice of photography and/or photo-finishing in this State for one year next preceding the passage of this chapter, without examination. All applications for license under this section shall be accompanied by a fee of five ($5.00) dollars, in addition to the annual license fee hereinafter prescribed, and such application must be made within thirty days after notification from the board. (1935, c. 155, art. 4, s. 9.)

§ 7007(19). Annual license fees for business establishments and employees.—All licensees who maintain an established place for the practice of photography and/or photo-finishing in the State of North Carolina, or who are not employees of an established place for the practice of photography and/or photo-finishing in the State of North Carolina, shall pay an annual license fee of five ($5.00) dollars. All licensees who are employees of an established place in the State of North Carolina, for the practice of photography and/or photo-finishing shall pay an annual license fee of three ($3.00) dollars. (1935, c. 155, art. 4, s. 10.)

§ 7007(20). Conduct of business unless registered prohibited.—No person, firm or corporation shall sell, offer for sale, or solicit orders for any product of photography unless duly registered under the terms of this chapter, or employed by a person, firm or corporation duly registered under the terms of this chapter. (1935, c. 155, art. 4, s. 11.)

§ 7007(22). Time of payment of license fees; powers conferred by various fees.—All annual license fees prescribed by this chapter shall be paid to the board on or before the first day of July of each year. The board shall issue its receipt for every payment. The annual establishment fee of five ($5.00) dollars shall entitle the licensee, if otherwise qualified, to practice photography and photo-finishing. The annual employees' fee of three ($3.00) dollars shall entitle the licensee, if otherwise qualified to practice protography and photo-finishing, but only for and on behalf of a duly registered photographer or photo-finisher. (1935, c. 155, art. 4, s. 13.)

§ 7007(23). Revocation of license; reinstatement.—Should any licensee fail or neglect to pay his annual license on or before the first day of July of every year, the board shall notify him that his license will be revoked and unless said fee is paid in full on or before the first day of August of the same year, the board shall revoke said license.

(a) Any photographer and/or photo-finisher whose license has been revoked for failure to pay the annual license fee may make application to the board for reinstatement. Such application shall be accompanied by a fee of five ($5.00) dollars, in addition to the regular license fee required. If the board shall find the applicant to be guilty of no violation of this chapter other than default in payment of annual license fees he may be immediately reinstated.

(b) The board shall have the power to revoke any license granted by it to any photographer and/or photo-finisher or apprentice found by the board to be guilty of fraud or unethical practices or of wilful misrepresentation, or found guilty under the laws of the State of North Carolina of any crime involving moral turpitude.

(c) Before any license is revoked, except for failure to pay the annual license fee, the holder thereof shall be given notice, in writing, either personally or by mailing to his last known address, setting forth the charges against him and the time and place for a hearing to be had on such charges, which such charges must be filed in writing under oath with said board, and the said hearing shall be not less than ten days from the time of the service of the said notice. The person charged shall be given a public hearing at which he may be represented by counsel and he shall have an opportunity to enter a defense and produce witnesses on his behalf. The board on such hearing shall provide a competent stenographer for the purpose of taking a complete record of such hearing, which record shall be filed with the board.

(d) If at such hearing of the accused the board shall be satisfied that the accused has been guilty of the offense charged it shall thereupon, without further notice, revoke the license of the person so accused: Provided, the accused shall not be barred the right of appeal to the superior court. (1935, c. 155, art. 4, s. 14.)

§ 7007(24). Violation of chapter a misdemeanor; separate offenses; disposition of fines and forfeitures.—Any person violating any of the provisions of this chapter, or engaging in any of the activities or practices herein defined without being duly licensed as herein provided, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined the sum of not less than fifty ($50.00) dollars, nor more than two hundred ($200.00) dollars for the first offense, and shall be imprisoned not more than thirty days, and/or fined not exceeding two hundred ($200.00) dollars for any subsequent offense. Each and every violation hereof shall constitute a separate offense: Provided, all fines paid for violation of this chapter or bail forfeiture collected for appearances given by virtue of any process issued from any of the courts of this state shall be paid one-half to the treasurer of the county where such process was issued for the general fund of such county and one-half to the state treasurer to be by him deposited to the credit of the general funds of the State. (1935, c. 155, art. 5.)

§ 7007(25). Application and examination of non-residents. — All non-resident photographers and/or photo-finishers, desiring to do business in this State, shall apply to the board for examination at least thirty days prior to the next examination and obtain license before entering into said business, and no person, firm or corporation shall represent or in any way solicit or accept business for such non-resident photographers and/or photo-finishers, unless and until they have complied with the provisions of this chapter. (1935, c. 155, art. 6.)

§ 7007(26). Records of proceedings and moneys received.—The secretary-treasurer shall keep a record of the proceedings of the said board and shall receive and account for all moneys derived from the operation of this chapter. (1935, c. 155, art. 7, s. 1.)

§ 7007(27). Expenses of administration. — All expenses of administering this chapter shall be paid upon order of the board from the funds derived from the examination, license fees and penalties herein prescribed, and, in no event, shall such expense exceed the income from said sources. (1935, c. 155, art. 7, s. 2.)

§ 7007(28). Persons exempted. — Nothing in this chapter shall be construed to apply to:

(a) Any person in the employ of any newspaper or periodical publicaton, provided the negatives or photographs taken in such connection are not sold or offered for sale or otherwise disposed of in this state for profit.

(b) Any person who makes negatives or photographs for experimental purposes for his own personal use or pleasure, if such negatives or photographs are not sold or offered for sale in this state.

(c) Any person who is in the employ of the United States, the State of North Carolina, or any of its political subdivisions, or of any school, college, university or state institution, who makes negatives or any reproduction thereof solely for public use or for the use of such school, college, university or state institution, or educational or scientific purposes, provided such negatives or photographs are not sold or offered for sale in this state.

(d) Any duly licensed practitioner of medicine and allied occupations, hospitals or institutions who make negatives or photographs for clinical, surgical or medical purposes.

(e) Any motion picture photographer in the making of motion pictures. (1935, c. 155, art. 8.)

§ 7007(29). Excepted cities and towns and low priced photographers. — This chapter shall only apply to cities and towns having a population of more than twenty-five hundred: Provided this chapter shall not apply to those photographers whose product is retailed at a unit price not exceeding ten cents (10c) per picture. (1935, c. 155, art. 10.)

PUBLIC ACCOUNTANTS

§§ 7008-7024. Public accountants.—(Repealed: Laws 1925, c. 261, s. 13.)

As to Municipal Accountants, see sec. 2840, 2841.

Editor's Note.—The Public Laws of 1913 from which these sections were codified, was expressly repealed by the Public Laws of 1925, c. 261. However, as many of the provisions of the old act were reenacted by the repealing act and will be found codified as sections 7024(a) to 7024(m), the constructions of the 1913 act are here inserted.

In General.—The provisions of § 7008 to 7024, inclusive, creating and incorporating the State Board of Accountancy, confers upon its members continuous quasi-judicial powers as an arm of the State Government in which the people of the State are interested, both as to their administration and to a certain extent in the funds of the board, the compensation of members being paid by fees fixed by law, any surplus to be deposited in the State Treasury, and in these, and in other respects, its members are to be regarded as State officials to the extent of their duties specified in the statute. State v. Scott, 182 N. C. 865, 109 S. E. 789.

Exercise of Police Power.—Our statutes creating a State Board of Accountancy and giving them authority to pass upon applications and issue licenses to those qualified as public accountants, are within the exercise of the police powers of the State, in which the public are interested, as well as one to whom a certificate has been issued, and the State is also interested in the requirement that moneys collected and not necessary to the purposes of the act be turned into the State Treasury. State v. Scott, 182 N. C. 865, 109 S. E. 789.

License Required.—Section 7023 does not embrace within its terms an isolated instance of the employment of a firm of certified public accountants licensed in another state, who send their representative to this state to acquire information from the books of a corporation for a statement of its condition to be made out in the state in which the auditing concern is authorized to do business. Respass v. Rex Spinning Co., 191 N. C. 809, 133 S. E. 391.

Holding Examination Beyond State Boundaries.—The exercise of the powers of the State Board of Accountancy, the members of which are to be regarded as State officials, is coextensive with the State boundaries, and may not be exercised beyond them, the word jurisdiction embracing not only the subject-matter coming within the powers of officials, but also the territory within which the powers are to be exercised. State v. Scott, 182 N. C. 865, 109 S. E. 789.

The legislative intent will not be construed by implication to extend the exercise of a quasi-judicial power by public officers to places beyond the State boundaries, as where the statute creates a State Board of Accountancy, gives it the power to examine and license applicants, and states that the board may do so "at such place as it may designate;" for the presumption being against the exercise of such extra territorial power, the discretion of the board in the exercise of this power will be confined to places within the boundaries of this State. State v. Scott, 182 N. C. 865, 109 S. E. 789.

Where a statute prescribes the means for the exercise of a power granted by the act, no other or different means can be implied as being more effective or convenient, and the Legislature having incorporated a State Board of Public Accountancy, giving it the power to determine upon examination whether applicants for license therein are qualified to receive them, it is for the courts of the State, upon proper action, to pass upon the question of whether the board acts ultra vires in holding an examination beyond the boundaries of the State upon the request of nonresident desiring to obtain a certificate, and a declaration in the fixing of such place that it would be the last time the board would hold an examination outside the State is not binding or controlling on the question. State v. Scott, 182 N. C. 865, 109 S. E. 789.

Same—Injunction. — The Attorney-General may of his own motion, or upon the complaint of a private party, become a party to a suit that seeks to prevent an ultra vires act or the misapplication of a fund in which the public is interested. State v. Scott, 182 N. C. 865, 109 S. E. 789.

The examination and granting license to applicants for certificates as public accountants, beyond the borders of our State, being the exercise of a quasi-judicial power, under the police powers of the State, is void. and an injunction will lie to prevent it, in a suit of the State ex rel. Attorney-General and an accountant holding a certificae from the board, who is also a citizen and taxpayer of North Carolina. State v. Scott, 182 N. C. 865, 109 S. E. 789.

Where an injunction is sought to restrain an ultra vires act of the State Board of Public Accountancy in holding an examination for the applicants for license as public accountants, beyond the boundaries of the State, the courts, upon sufficient evidence or admissions, will continue the restraining order to the hearing, to prevent the commission of such acts in the future, and the objection cannot be successfully maintained, that the specific act complained of has been committed and leaves nothing for such order to operate upon, nor will the declaration by the board that they will not do so in the future affect the matter. State v. Scott, 182 N. C. 865, 109 S. E. 789.

Same—Same—Parties. — Where an injunction is sought alleging that the defendant was attempting to do an ultra vires act in holding an examination beyond the boundaries of the State, and unlawfully diverting the funds, and exception has been taken in the lower court, that the suit should have been brought State ex rel. the Attorney-General, etc., an amendment to this effect may be allowed in the Supreme Court, so that the case may be heard on its merits, it appearing that the defendant will not thereby be prejudiced. State v. Scott, 182 N. C. 865, 109 S. E. 789.

§ 7024(a). "Public accounting" defined.—The term "Practice of Public Accounting" as used in this chapter is defined as follows:

A person engaged in the practice of public accounting, within the meaning and intent of this chapter, who offers his or her services to the public as one who is qualified to render professional service in the analysis, verification and audit of financial records and the interpretation of such service through statements and reports. (1925, c. 261, s. 1; 1929, c. 219, s. 1.)

In Scott v. Gillis, 197 N. C. 223, 226, 148 S. E. 315, it was held that plaintiff and defendant were certified Public Accountants, citing N. C. Code of 1927.

§ 7024(b). Qualifications.—Any citizen of the United States, or person who has duly declared his intention of becoming such citizen, over twenty one years of age and of good moral character, and who shall have received from the State Board of Accountancy a certificate of qualification admitting him to practice as a certified public accountant as hereinafter provided, or who is the holder of a valid and unrevoked certificate issued under the provisions of chapter one hundred and fifty-seven of the Public Laws of one thousand nine hundred and thirteen, shall be licensed to practice and be styled and known as a certified public accountant. (1925, c. 261, s. 2.)

§ 7024(c). Unlawful use of title "certified public accountant" by individual. — It shall be unlawful for any person who has not received a certificate of qualification admitting him to practice as a certified public accountant to assume or use such a title, or to use any words, letters, abbreviations, symbols or other means of identification to indicate that the person using same has been admitted to practice as a certified public accountant. (1925, c. 261, s. 3.)

Editor's Note.—This section was reviewed in 3 N. C. Law Rev. 149.

This act was probably intended to cure defects and omissions of the former statutes. Respass v. Rex Spinning Co., 191 N. C. 809, 813, 133 S. E. 391.

As to construction of prior law, see notes under sections 7008-7024.

§ 7024(d). Use of title by firm.—It shall be unlawful for any firm, copartnership, or association to assume or use the title of certified public accountant, or to use any words, letters, abbreviations, symbols or other means of identification to indicate that the members of such firm, copartnership or association have been admitted to practice as certified public accountants, unless each of the members of such firm, copartnership or association first shall have received a certificate of qualification from the State Board of Accountancy admitting him to practice as a certified public accountant. (1925, c. 261, s. 4.)

§ 7024(e). Use of title by corporation.—It shall be unlawful for any corporation to assume or use the title of certified public accountant, or to use any words, letters, abbreviations, symbols or other means of identification to indicate that such corporation has received a certificate of qualification from the State Board of Accountancy admitting it to practice as a certified public accountant. (1925, c. 261, s. 5.)

§ 7024(f). Unlawful practice; by corporation.—It shall be unlawful for any person, firm, copartnership or association to engage in the practice of public accounting in the State of North Carolina unless such person, or each of the members of such firm, copartnership or association first shall have received from the State Board of Accountancy a certificate of qualification admitting him to practice as a certified public accountant. It shall be unlawful for any corporation to engage in the practice of public accounting in the State of North Carolina: Provided, however, that nothing herein contained shall be construed to prohibit the practicing of the profession of public accounting by any person, firm, copartnership, association, or corporation who shall on March 10, 1925, be engaged in the practice of public accounting and maintaining an office as a public accountant in the State of North Carolina, or an accountant who has served two years or more as a civil service employee of the Federal government in the capacity of senior field auditor. (1925, c. 261, s. 6.)

§ 7024(g). Registration of accountants already practicing.—Any person, firm, copartnership, association or corporation who shall on March 10, 1925 be engaged in the practice of public accounting and maintaining an office as a public accountant in the State of North Carolina, may, within six months thereafter, apply to the State Board of Accountancy for registration as a public accountant, and the State Board of Accountancy, upon the production of satisfactory evidence that such applicant was engaged in the practice of public accounting and maintaining an office as a public accountant in the State of North Carolina on March 10, 1925, shall register such person, firm, copartnership, association or corporation. Such registration shall be conclusive evidence of the right of such person, firm, copartnership, association or corporation to engage in the pactice of public accounting in the State of North Carolina, but such registration shall not be construed in any way as indicating that the State of North Carolina or the State Board of Accountancy has approved the educational and professional experience and qualifications of the registrant. (1925, c. 261, s. 7.)

§ 7024(h). Use of title "public accountant" without qualification.—It shall be unlawful for any person, firm, copartnership, association or corporation, not having qualified under this chapter, to assume or use the style of title of public accountant, or other means of indentification to indicate that such person, firm, copartnership, or association or corporation is engaged in the practice of public accounting in the State of North Carolina: Provided, however, that the inhibitions of this section shall not be construed to apply to any person, firm, copartnership, association or corporation who in March 10, 1925 was engaged in the practice of public accounting and maintaining an office as a public accountant in the State of North Carolina. (1925, c. 261, s. 8.)

§ 7024(i). Assistants need not be certified.—Nothing contained in this chapter shall be construed to prohibit the employment by a certified public acountant, or by any person, firm, copartnership, association, or corporation permitted to engage in the practice of public accounting in the State of North Carolina, of persons who have not received certificates of qualification admitting them to practice as certified public accountants, as assistant accountants or clerks: Provided, that such employees work under the control and supervision of certified public accountants or public accounts, and do not certify to any one the accuracy or verification of audits or statements; and provided further, that such employees do not hold themselves out as engaged in the practice of public accounting. (1925, c. 261, s. 9.)

§ 7024(j). Persons certified in other states.—A public accountant who holds a valid and unrevoked certificate as a certified public accountant, or its equivalent, issued under authority of any state, or the District of Columbia, and who resides without the State of North Carolina, may perform work within the State: Provided, that he register with the State Board of Accountancy and comply with its rules regarding such registration. (1925, c. 261, s. 10.)

§ 7024(k). Not applicable to officers of state or municipality.—Nothing herein contained shall be construed to restrict or limit the power or authority of any State, county or municipal officer or appointee engaged in or upon the examination of the accounts of any public officer, his employees or appointees. (1925, c. 261, s. 12.)

§ 7024(l). Board of accountancy; powers and duties.—The State Board of Accountancy shall consist of four persons to be appointed by the Governor, all of whom shall be the holders of valid and unrevoked certificates as certified public accountants heretofore issued under the provision of chapter one hundred and fifty-seven of the Public Laws of one thousand nine hundred and thirteen, or issued under the provisions of this chapter. They shall hold office for the term of three years and until their successors are appointed: Provided, that no appointments to the board shall be made under the provisions of this chapter until the expiration of the terms of the members of the present board. The powers and duties of the board shall be as follows:

(1) To elect from its members a president, vice-president and secretary-treasurer. The members of the board shall be paid, for the time actually expended in pursuance of the duties imposed upon them by this chapter, an amount not exceeding ten dollars ($10) per day, and they shall be entitled to necessary traveling expenses.

(2) To employ legal counsel and clerical assistance and to fix the compensation of same, and to incur such other expenses as may be deemed necessary to carry into effect the provisions of this chapter.

(3) To formulate rules for the government of the board and for the examination of applicants for certificates of qualifications admitting such applicants to practice as certified public accountants.

(4) To hold written or oral examinations of applicants for certificates of qualification at least one year, or oftener, as may be deemed necessary by the board.

(5) To issue certificates of qualification admitting to practice as certified public accountants to each applicant, who, being the graduate of an accredited high school or having an equivalent education, shall have had at least two years experience or its equivalent next preceding the date of his application on the field shaff of a certified public accountant or public accountant one of which shall have been as a senior or accountant in charge, and who shall receive the endorsement of three certified public accountants of any state as to his eligibility to become a certified public accountant; or who, in lieu of the two years experience or its equivalent, above mentioned, shall have had one year's experience after graduating from a recognized school of accountancy; or an accountant who has served two years or more as a civil service employee of the Federal government in the capacity of senior field auditor, and who shall have passed a satisfactory examination in "theory of accounts," "practical accounting," "auditing," "commercial law" and other related subjects.

(6) In its discretion to grant certificates of qualification admitting to practice as certified public accountants to such applicants who shall be the holders of valid and unrevoked certificates as certified public accountants, or its equivalent, issued by or under the authority of any state, or territory of the United States or the District of Columbia; or who shall hold a valid and unrevoked certificate or degree as certified public accountant or its equivalent issued under authority granted by a foreign nation; when in the judgment of the board the requirements for the issuing or granting of such certificate or degree are substantially equivalent to the requirements established by this chapter: Provided, however, that such applicants signify their intention of engaging in the practice of public accounting within the State.

(7) To charge for each examination and certificate provided for in this chapter a fee of twenty-five dollars. This fee shall be payable to the secretary-treasurer of the board by the applicant at the time of filing application. If at any examination an applicant shall have received a passing grade in one subject, he shall have the privilege of one reëxamination at any subsequent examination held within eighteen months from the date of his application upon payment of a reexamination fee of fifteen dollars. In no case shall the examination fee be refunded, unless in the discretion of the board the applicant shall be deemed ineligible for examination.

(8) To require the renewal of all certificates of qualification annually on the first day of July, and to charge and collect a fee not to exceed five dollars for such renewal.

(9) The board shall have the power to revoke any certificate issued under the provisions of chapter one hundred and fifty-seven of the Public Laws of one thousand nine hundred and thirteen, or issued under the provisions of this chapter, for good and sufficient cause: Provided, that written notice shall have been mailed to the holder of such certificate at his last known address twenty days before any hearing thereof, stating the cause of such contemplated action, and appointing a time for a hearing thereon by the board; and provided further, that, except for failure to renew such certificate and to pay the renewal fee thereof, no certificate shall be revoked until such hearing shall have been had. At all such hearings the Attorney General of the State, or one of his assistants designated by him, shall sit with the board with all the powers of a member thereof.

(10) Within sixty days after March 10, 1925, the board shall formulate rules for the registration of those persons, firms, copartnerships, associations or corporations who, not being holders of valid and unrevoked certificates as certified public accountants issued under the provisions of chapter one hundred and fifty-seven of the Public Laws of one thousand nine hundred and thirteen and who, having on March 10, 1925, been engaged in the practice of public accounting and maintaining an office as a public accountant in the State of North Carolina, shall, under the provisions of section 7024 (g) apply to the board for registration as public accountants. The board shall maintain a register of all persons, firms, copartnerships, associations or corporations who have made application for such registration and have complied with the rules of registration adopted by the board.

(11) Within sixty days after March 10, 1925 the board shall formulate rules for registration of these public accountants who are qualified to practice under this chapter and who under the provisions of section 7024 (j) are permitted to engage in work within the State of North Carolina. The board shall have the power to deny or withdraw the privilege herein referred to for good and sufficient reasons.

(12) To submit to the Commissioner of Revenue the names of all persons who have qualified under this chapter as practitioners of public accountancy, and who have complied with the rules of the board. The Commissioner of Revenue shall issue only to those whose names are so submitted to him by the board of license for the privilege of practicing the profession of public accountancy, and the license so issued shall be evidence of his registration with the board.

(13) The board shall keep a complete record of all its proceedings and shall annually submit a full report to the Governor.

(14) All fees collected on behalf of the State Board of Accountancy, and all receipts of every kind and nature, as well as the compensation paid the members of the board and the necessary expenses incurred by them in the performance of the duties imposed upon them by this chapter, shall be reported annually to the State Treasurer. Any surplus remaining in the hands of the board over the amount of three hundred dollars shall be paid to the State Treasurer at the time of submitting the report, and shall go to the credit of the general fund: Provided, that no expense incurred under this chapter shall be charged against the State.

(15) Any certificate of qualification issued under the provisions of this chapter, or issued under the provisions of chapter one hundred and fifty-seven of the Public Laws of one thousand nine hundred and thirteen, shall be forfeited for the failure of the holder to renew same and to pay the renewal fee therefor to the State Board of Accountancy within thirty days after demand for such renewal fee shall have been made by the State Board of Accountancy. (1925, c. 261, s. 11.)

§ 7024(m). Violation of chapter; penalty.—Any violation of the provisions of this chapter shall be deemed a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof the guilty party shall be fined not less than fifty dollars and not exceeding two hundred dollars for each offense. (1925, c. 261, s. 11.)

PUBLIC BUILDINGS AND GROUNDS

Art. 1. Officers in Charge

§ 7025. Board of public buildings; keeper of capitol.—The Governor and Secretary of State, the Treasurer and Attorney-General shall constitute the board of public buildings and grounds, and they shall appoint a keeper of the capitol, public grounds and arsenal, and he shall hold his office until his successor is appointed and files his bond in accordance with the requirements of the board and the law relating to bonds. The keeper of the capitol shall perform all the duties and exercise all the power herein prescribed, in accordance with and pursuant to the judgment, discretion and resolutions of the board of public buildings and grounds, and shall perform such duties under their direction; and he shall appoint and control all assistants, help and subordinates, such as watchmen of the capitol, workmen on the grounds, domestic servants for the executive mansion, and servants about the capitol and its appurtenances, including the servants and messengers waiting and attending upon the Supreme Court, and janitors for the Supreme Court building. (Rev., 5006; Code, 2301; 1899, c. 482; 1870-1, cc. 8, 175; 1880, c. 61; 1909, c. 860; 1925, c. 315.)

Editor's Note.—By Public Laws of 1925 the keeper of the capitol is given authority to appoint servants and messengers of the Supreme Court, an authority formerly expressly prohibited. Provisions limiting the number of janitors of the supreme court building to one and the compensation of domestic servants to $750 per annum were omitted.

Keeper of Capitol Not a Constitutional Office.—The office of keeper of the capitol is not a constitutional office, and therefore does not have to be filled in a mode designated by the constitution, but may be filled in any way provided for by the Legislature. Cherry v. Burns, 124 N. C. 761, 33 S. E. 136.

§ 7026. Bond of keeper of capitol. — Before entering upon the duties of his office the keeper of the capitol shall execute a bond with good and sufficient surety or security, in the sum of at least two hundred fifty dollars, payable to the State of North Carolina, and conditioned for the faithful discharge of his duties, and the board of buildings and grounds may increase the penal sum of said bond, in their discretion. The bond shall be deposited in the office of the Secretary of State, and shall be renewed every two years, with such surety and in such amount as the board of public buildings and grounds may direct, and the same may be sued upon whenever in the judgment of said board the conditions thereof, or any of them, may have been broken; and the same shall not be discharged until the whole penalty is exhausted in damages. (Rev., 291; Code, 2306; R. C., c. 103, s. 6; 1925, c. 315.)

§ 7027. Duties of the board and the keeper.—The board of public buildings and grounds shall take charge of and keep in repair the public buildings of the State, in the city of Raleigh, and shall, from time to time as the same may be needed, procure, furnish and keep in repair for the halls of the Senate and House of Representatives, and the public offices of the capitol, all necessary furniture using for such purpose, only such funds as shall have been appropriated therefor by the Legislature. The keeper of the capitol, among his other duties, shall take care of the furniture, sweep and clean and dust all parts of such buildings, whether occupied or not, keep the keys of the several doors not occupied as offices, and conduct visitors through the capitol upon request, and shall, under the direction of the board, trim or remove trees standing in the public square, and remove the leaves and other rubbish as often as may be necessary; and shall perform any other duty in relation thereto of which he is capable, whenever directed by the said board so to do. The board shall, at all times, use such means as may, in their opinion, be effectual to secure the capitol and other public buildings, in the city of Raleigh, from fire. This chapter shall apply to and include all lots in the city of Raleigh belonging to the State and used as public parks, and the buildings and grounds formerly occupied by the Institution for the Blind, on Jones and McDowell streets, and to all other property within the city of Raleigh, not now used or devoted to the use of some institution or State agency. (Rev., 5008; Code, 2303; R. C., c. 103, s. 3; 1925, c. 315.)

§ 7029. Accounts for labor audited.—No account for work or labor done on the capital square or public grounds in the city of Raleigh, or in the public buildings, shall be audited and paid until the same is sworn to before the Secretary of State, or some other person authorized to administer oaths, to be just and true, and the same shall be so certified by the Secretary of State and the keeper of the capitol. Neither the Secretary of State nor the keeper of the capitol shall certify for payment the account of any laborer for work done or services rendered, pursuant to this chapter, in any of such buildings or any of such grounds, unless it appear to their satisfaction that such laborer or employee has been employed by the keeper of the capitol and that such work and services have been rendered in a satisfactory manner. (Rev., s. 5017; Code, s. 2310; 1870-1, c. 80, s. 2; 1925, c. 315.)

§ 7030. Accounts for fuel audited. — No account for fuel shall be audited or paid until the claimant makes oath, as in the preceding section, that the account is just and true, and that the number of cords of wood, or tons of coal charged for have been delivered to the authorities to receive the same at the public building. (Rev., 5018; Code, s. 2311; 1870-1, c. 80, s. 3; 1925, c. 315.)

Art. 2. Public Buildings

§ 7031. Rooms assigned in the capitol. — The rooms of the capitol, other than the Senate chamber and House of Representatives, shall be appropriated as follows: The two west rooms of the southern division of the capitol shall be appropriated to the Executive; the two east rooms in the southern division shall be appropriated to the Treasurer; the two east rooms in the northern division shall be appropriated to the Secretary of State, and the two rooms opposite, to the Auditor; and the room number three, in the west wing, shall be appropriated and set apart to the enrolling clerks of the General Assembly. The other rooms shall be used for State purposes under the direction of the Board of Public Buildings and Grounds. (Rev., s. 5010; Code, s. 2305; R. C., c. 103, s. 5; 1885, c. 121, s. 8; 1925, c. 315; 1927, c. 153, art. 2.)

§ 7033. Keeper of the capitol to employ assistants.—The keeper of the capitol is empowered to employ such laborers and assistants as is needed to keep the administration building clean and, in order to run the elevators: Provided, that the number of laborers and the wages paid shall be approved by the board of public buildings and grounds and be paid as other laborers, under the direction of the keeper of the capitol. (Ex. Sess. 1913, c. 67; 1925, c. 315.)

§ 7034. Rooms assigned in administration building.—The first floor of the State administration building shall be occupied by the State Library; the second floor by the Hall of History, hall of records and portraits, and the North Carolina Historical Commission; the third floor by the Supreme Court, the clerk of the Supreme Court, and the Attorney-General; the fourth floor by the Supreme Court Library and the Supreme court records, and the basement of the building shall be used for storing the printed journals of the General Assembly, printed laws, Supreme Court reports, the publications of the board of trustees of the State Library and of the Historical Commission, and for such other purposes as the board of public buildings and grounds may direct. (1913, c. 99, s. 1; 1925, c. 315.)

§ 7035. Custodian and janitor of State Departments Building.—The building formerly occupied by the Supreme Court and the State Library and others shall be designated as the State Departments Building. The board of public buildings and grounds is authorized to employ a custodian and a janitor for such building. (1915, c. 187, ss. 1, 2; 1925, c. 315.)

§ 7036. Rooms assigned in State Departments Building.—The first floor of the State Departments Building shall be occupied by the Corporation Commission and the State Tax Commission, if created. The second floor shall be occupied by the departments of Labor and Printing and Public Instruction. The third floor shall be occupied by the Department of Insurance. The fourth floor shall be occupied by the Board of Health. The basement of the building shall be used as a storeroom for the departments occupying the building and used as may be necessary by them. (1913, c. 99, s. 2; 1915, c. 187, s. 1; 1925, c. 315.)

§ 7037. Building for Department of Agriculture.—The building which has been erected for the Department of Agriculture shall be occupied by the Department of Agriculture and for a museum, except the entire fourth floor of this building shall be fitted up and used for committee rooms for the committees of the General Assembly, with the necessary cloak room and lavatory; and ample space shall be provided on said fourth floor for the State Department of Public Welfare, including the State Board of Charities and Public Welfare and its executive staff, and the assignment of rooms to the said department shall be so arranged that the appropriate committees of the Legislature may meet in the respective rooms assigned to said department and be accessible to the information and coöperation of said department in their work. (1919, c. 203; 1925, c. 315.)

§ 7038. Other buildings and annexes. — The annex to the building for the Department of Agriculture, now used by the Department of Revenue, and the buildings on the lot on Jones and McDowell Streets, formerly used by the Institution for the Blind, may be assigned by the board of public buildings and grounds to such uses and purposes as may be proper and necessary; but as to the annex now used by the Department of Revenue the use of the same shall not be changed until and unless it may be necessary for said department to assume new debts, or be assigned to other quarters in other public buildings. (1925, c. 315.)

§ 7039. No sleeping apartments in certain buildings.—The rooms in the capitol and Supreme Court building shall not be used as sleeping apartments, and no beds shall be kept in any room save only that used by the keeper; and he shall remove all beds and sleeping couches which may be introduced by any person into any of the rooms; and shall take charge of and keep all the keys of the rooms, except only such as are used by the heads of the departments; and of them for such time as they are not so used. (Rev., s. 5013; Code, s. 2304; R. C., c. 103, s. 5; 1842, c. 54; 1925, c. 315.)

§ 7039(a). Rooms set apart for legislative committees.—The fourth and fifth floors of the Automobile or Revenue Building located on Morgan and Salisbury Streets in the city of Raleigh, together with all the offices therein, be set apart for the use of legislative committees pursuant to chapter seventy, Public Laws Extra Session of nineteen twenty-four, and they shall remain devoted to said use, but the said rooms may be used when the Legislature is not in session for such other uses as may be necessary and expedient in the opinion of the Board of Public Buildings and Grounds; provided, however, that offices on fourth and fifth floors of said building shall be vacated, cleaned, equipped and made ready for use by legislative committees at least twenty days prior to the convening of each session of the General Assembly, both regular and special, and the keeper of the Capitol and the janitor assigned to the said building shall, upon failure to comply with this provision, be guilty of a misdemeanor and be punishable by fine or imprisonment, or both, in the discretion of the Court; and provided, further, that the Board of Public Buildings and Grounds may allocate permanently the offices now used by the Budget Bureau to said bureau on the fifth floor of said building and may install on said floor a telephone exchange, in order to make the information in the possession of the Budget Bureau available to legislative committee and to make adequate space for said telephone exchange. (1927, c. 153, s. 2.)

Editor's Note.—The purpose of this act, as expressed in section four, is to confer upon the Board of Public Buildings and Grounds full and complete authority to use all space in said public buildings to the end that the cost of rental for State officers and agencies and institutions with the City of Raleigh shall be reduced to the minimum and finally eliminated.

§ 7039(b). Use of other buildings.—Except as herein otherwise provided all space in other State buildings in Raleigh, including the capitol, the administration and state departments building, the agricultural building and the automobile building, as well as the buildings on the lot formerly occupied by the School for the Blind lying on Jones Street in Raleigh, shall be used for such purposes and in such manner as may be directed or prescribed by the Board of Public Buildings and Grounds, and they shall have full power and authority to make such removals, readjustments and to provide such equipment as may be necessary to carry out the purposes of this act, and to that end may use the appropriations thereof made to the Board of Public Buildings and Grounds, the agricultural department shall be permanently located in the agricultural building. (1927, c. 153, s. 3.)

§ 7039(c). Construction of public buildings from contingency and emergency fund authorized.—It shall be lawful and competent to resort to the contingency and emergency fund, provided in the Appropriations Act, for financial aid in the construction of state public buildings, when in the opinion of the governor and the council of state a condition of emergency exists rendering it necessary to construct one or more buildings for the purpose of housing its bureaus, departments, and agencies. (1935, .c 481.)

Art. 3. Public Grounds

§ 7040. Keeper of capitol supervisor of public lots.—The keeper of the capitol is appointed supervisor of all the other public lots belonging to the State, in the city of Raleigh, including the square and buildings formerly occupied by the Institution for the Blind, on Jones and McDowell streets, and except such as may be occupied by the Institution for the Blind and the Deaf and Dumb, the public schools, and Moore and Nash squares, as hereinafter set out, and such other vacant lots as may be otherwise provided for herein; and he is authorized, upon the approval of the board of public buildings and grounds, to lease such lots, or parts thereof, as it may be proper to lease, and upon such terms as may be reasonable and proper, for a period of twelve months, and to collect the proceeds of such renting, and to pay the same to the Treasurer immediately upon the collection thereof. (Rev., s. 5009; Code, ss. 2312, 2314; 1870-1, c. 282; s. 3; 1871-2, c. 205; 1925, c. 315.)

§ 7041. Repair of walks.—Whenever the walks in and immediately around the capitol square become so worn by action of the weather or other causes that in the judgment of the board of public buildings and grounds they should be repaired, relocated, or resurveyed, the board is authorized to direct the keeper of the capitol to contract for suitable material for such repairs; but the work shall be done by convict labor as far as the same can be used; and the Auditor shall audit the accounts for said material and labor on the approval of the board of public buildings and grounds and the keeper of the capitol; and the board is authorized and empowered to use such material from the State Prison as may be contracted for with the board of directors of the State Prison Department upon such terms as may be reasonable and just; and the said material and convict labor shall be paid for, upon a warrant of the Auditor upon the State Treasurer, out of the appropriation for such purposes. (Rev., s. 5014; Code, s. 2316; 1881, c. 325, ss. 1, 2; 1905, c. 509; 1925, c. 315.)

§ 7042. Work of convicts on public grounds.—The superintendent and board of directors of the State Prison Department are authorized and directed, pursuant to agreement with the board of public buildings and grounds, to furnish such convict labor of the State Prison Department, to be worked under the supervision of the board of public buildings and grounds and the keeper of the capitol on such grounds of the capitol and mansion squares and public buildings, as may be deemed necessary by the board of public buildings and grounds, and the Governor is authorized to make such paroles, temporary or otherwise, of convicts in the custody of the keeper of the capitol as may be convenient for the proper and economic use of such convicts in such work, and the State Prison Department shall be compensated for such convict labor as per contract entered into with the board of directors of the State Prison by the board of public buildings and grounds; the same shall be paid for out of the appropriation to the board of public buildings and grounds. (1911, c. 149; 1925, c. 315.)

§ 7043. Appropriation for public grounds. — Such sums as may be appropriated by the General Assembly to the board of public buildings and grounds shall be used for the purposes stated in such appropriating acts, and unless so stated therein, shall be used by the board of public buildings and grounds for the care, maintenance, upkeep, preservation and repair of public buildings and grounds in the city of Raleigh, as herein specified. (Rev., s. 5016; Code, s. 2309; 1887, c. 409, s. 12; 1870-1, c. 80; 1925, c. 275, s. 6; 1925, c. 315.)

§ 7044. Moore and Nash squares and other public lots.—The board of aldermen of the city of Raleigh shall have power to grade, lay out in walks, plant with trees, shrubbery, and flowers, and otherwise adorn Moore Square and Nash Square, in said city, so as to make the same an ornament to the city, and at its own expense, and to that end, said board of aldermen, shall have the general charge and management of these squares, and the supervision and control of the same. Whenever, in the opinion of the board of public buildings and grounds, the board of aldermen of the city of Raleigh are not properly keeping said square or other public lots, which they have taken charge of for the purposes of this section, the board of buildings and grounds shall call the same to the attention of the said board of aldermen, and if the said board of aldermen fail for a period of sixty days, to take proper care of said lots, the said board of public buildings and grounds may repossess the same and proceed to manage and keep the same as may seem to them necessary for the preservation of such property. The board of aldermen of the city of Raleigh may improve in like manner any of the vacant lots belonging to the State within the city limits not otherwise specially appropriated or rented or used. The board of aldermen shall not have power, however, to prevent the free access of well-behaved persons to such squares or lots except at unreasonable hours or for some temporary purpose especially to be designated by the board. (Rev., s. 5015; Code, ss. 2314, 2315; 1871-2, c. 205, ss. 1, 2; 1925, c. 315.)

§ 7045. Trespass upon public grounds.—If any person shall willfully trespass upon any of the public lots belonging to the State in the city of Raleigh, or shall cut any timber or commit any waste, or shall refuse to surrender possession after the expiration of their leases, or if any person in possession of any of said lots above mentioned shall refuse to leave the same and shall further refuse to surrender possession within ten days after demand made by the keeper of the capitol, said person shall be guilty of a misdemeanor; and it shall be the duty of said keeper of the capitol to report all such violations of law to the Governor or to the Attorney-General, and if any of the said persons shall be convicted, they shall be fined or imprisoned at the discretion of the court. (Rev., s. 3745; Code, s. 2313; 1870-1, c. 282, s. 4; 1925, c. 315.)

PUBLIC HEALTH

SUBCHAPTER 1. ADMINISTRATION OF PUBLIC HEALTH LAW

Art. 1. State Board of Health

For full treatment of health, see 7 N. C. Enc. Dig. 5; 14 N. C. Enc. Dig. 288.

§ 7049. Term of office: removal; vacancies; how filled. — The terms of all members of the present board of health shall expire on April first, one thousand nine hundred thirty-one, or as soon thereafter as their successors have been appointed and elected in the manner provided for herein and shall have duly qualified. The Medical Society of the State of North Carolina shall at its next annual meeting elect two members to serve for two years and two members to serve for four years, and the Governor on or before May first, one thousand nine hundred thirty-one, shall appoint five members, three of such members to serve for two years and two of such members to serve for four years. At the expiration of the terms of the members so elected and appointed their successors shall be elected or appointed for a term of four years and until their successors have been duly elected or appointed and have qualified. The Medical Society of the State of North Carolina shall have the right to remove any member elected by it for cause, and the Governor shall have the right to remove any member appointed by him for cause. Vacancies on said board among the membership elected by the Medical Society of the State of North Carolina shall be filled by the executive committee of said Medical Society until the next meeting of the said Medical Society, when the said Medical Society shall fill the vacancy for the unexpired term. Vacancies on said board among the membership appointed by the Governor shall be filled by the Governor for the unexpired term. (Rev., s. 4436; Code, s. 2877; 1879, c. 117, s. 3; 1885, c. 237, s. 3; 1893, c. 214, s. 2; 1901, c. 245; 1911, c. 62, s. 2; 1931, c. 177, s. 2.)

Editor's Note.—The Act of 1931 repealed the former section and substituted the above in lieu thereof.

§ 7050. Duties of board.—The board of health shall take cognizance of the health interests of the people of the state; shall make sanitary investigations and inquiries in respect to the people, employing experts when necessary; shall investigate the causes of diseases dangerous to the public health, especially epidemics, the sources of mortality, the effect of location, employments, and conditions upon the public health. They shall gather such information upon these matters for distribution among the people, with the especial purpose of informing them about preventable diseases. They shall be the medical advisers of the state, and are herein specially provided, and shall advise the government in regard to the location, sanitary construction, and management of all state institutions, and shall direct the attention of the state to such sanitary matters as in their judgment affect the industries, prosperity, health, and lives of the people of the state. They shall make an inspection once in each year, and at such other times as they may be requested to do so by the state board of charities, of all public institutions, including all convict camps under the control of the state's prison, and make a report as to their sanitary conditions, with suggestions and recommendations, to their respective boards of directors or trustees; and it shall be the duty of the officials in immediate charge of said institutions to furnish all facilities necessary for a thorough inspection. The secretary of the board shall make biennially to the general assembly, through the governor, a report of their work. (Rev., s. 4437; Code, s. 2876; 1879, c. 117, s. 2; 1885, c. 237, s. 2; 1893, c. 214, s. 3; 1911, c. 62, s. 3.)

§ 7051. May make regulations in epidemics.—In times of epidemics of smallpox, yellow fever, typhoid fever, scarlet fever, diphtheria, typhus fever, bubonic plague, and cholera, the state board of health shall have sanitary jurisdiction in all cities and towns not having regularly organized local boards of health, and are hereby empowered to make all such regulations as they may deem necessary to protect the public health, and to enforce them by suitable penalties. (Rev., s. 4438; 1893, c. 214, s. 17; 1911, c. 62, s. 4.)

Validity.—Regulations and provisions for the vaccination of the inhabitants, and their enforcement by penalties, constitute a valid exercise of governmental police power for the public welfare, health and safety. State v. Hay, 126 N. C. 999, 35 S. E, 459.

§ 7052. To issue bulletins; to check diseases; compensation. — Bulletins of the outbreak of disease dangerous to the public health shall be issued by the state board whenever necessary, and such advice freely disseminated to prevent and check the invasion of disease into any part of the state. It shall also be the duty of the board to inquire into any outbreak of disease, by personal visits or by any method the board shall direct. The compensation of members on such duty shall be four dollars a day and all necessary traveling and hotel expenses. (Rev., s. 4439; 1893, c. 214, s. 26; 1911, c. 62, s. 5.)

§ 7053. Officers of; salary of secretary; pay of members.—The state board of health shall have a president, a secretary who shall also be treasurer, and an executive committee, said executive committee to have such powers and duties as may be assigned it by the board of health. The president shall be elected from the members of the board and shall serve six years. The secretary-treasurer shall be a registered physician of the State and he shall be elected by the board, subject to the approval of the Governor, and he shall serve for four years and until his successor has been elected and qualified. The board shall have the right to remove the secretary-treasurer from office for cause. The executive committee shall be composed of the president of the board, ex officio, and two other members of the board to be elected from those composing it. The executive office of the board shall be in the city of Raleigh, and the secretary shall reside there. The secretary shall be the executive officer of the board and shall, under its direction, devote his entire time to public-health work, and shall be known as the "state health officer." He shall receive for his services such yearly compensation as shall be fixed by the board, not to exceed eight thousand dollars and his actual traveling and hotel expenses when engaged in the work of the board. The said officer shall not receive any other compensation for the performance of his official duties than the salary herein stated. The board may in its discretion elect as a special assistant to the state health officer, for the antituberculosis work, the secretary of the state association for the prevention of tuberculosis, at an annual salary not to exceed six hundred dollars. The members of the board shall receive no pay, except that each member shall receive four dollars and necessary traveling and hotel expenses when on actual duty in attending the meetings of the board or of the executive committee or in pursuing special investigations in the state; but when attending important meetings beyond the limits of the state, the number of delegates thereto being limited to one in addition to the secretary, only actual traveling and hotel expenses shall be allowed. These sums shall be paid by the treasurer on authenticated requisition, approved and signed by the president. (Rev., s. 4440; Code, ss. 2878, 2881; 1879, c. 117, ss. 5, 7; 1885, c. 237, s. 4; 1893, c. 214, s. 4; 1911, c. 62, s. 6; 1913, c. 181, ss. 1, 2; 1921, c. 130; 1927, c. 143; 1931, c. 177, s. 3.)

the salary of the secretary was raised from three thousand dollars per year to five thousand per year. The provision against receiving any other compensation was added at the same time. By Public Laws, 1927, ch. 143, the salary of the secretary was raised to eight thousand dollars per year.

The Laws of 1927, ch. 143, in amending this section refers to ch. 118, Art. 1, sec. 753. The reference to section 753 is a clerical error, sec. 7053 was intended.

The Act of 1931 changed the term of the secretary-treasurer from six to four years, and added the provision as to his removal for cause.

§ 7054. Meetings to elect officers.—The meeting of the state board of health for the election of officers shall be on the second day of the annual meeting of the medical society of the state of North Carolina in the year one thousand nine hundred and one and every six years thereafter. (Rev., s. 4441; 1901, c. 245, s. 4; 1911, c. 62, s. 7.)

§ 7055. Annual and special meetings.—Special meetings of the state board of health may be called by the president through the secretary. The regular annual meeting shall be held at the same time and place as the state medical society, at which time the secretary shall submit his annual report. The executive committee shall meet at such times as the president of the board may deem necessary, and he shall call such meetings through the secretary. (Rev., s. 4442; 1893, c. 214, s. 27; 1911, c. 62, s. 8.)

Art. 2. State Laboratory of Hygiene

§ 7056. Laboratory established under control of state board of health.—For the better protection of the public health and to prevent the spread of communicable diseases there shall be established a state laboratory of hygiene, the same to be under the control and management of the state board of health. (Rev., s. 3057; 1905, c. 415; 1907, cc. 721, 884; 1911, c. 62, s. 36.)

§ 7057. To analyze potable waters. — It shall be the duty of the state board of health to have made in such laboratory monthly examinations of samples from all the public water supplies of the state; of all waters sold in bottle or other package, and of all spring waters that are maintained and treated as an adjunct to any hotel, park, or resort for the accommodation or entertainment of the public. In the case of springs in connection with hotels, parks, or resorts intermittently operated, examinations of the water shall be made monthly during the period only that they are open for the accommodation or entertainment of the public; but if upon the examination of the water of any such spring it shall be found to be infected or contaminated with intestinal bacilli or other impurities dangerous to health, examinations shall be made weekly until its purity and safety are shown.

The board shall also cause examinations to be made of well and spring waters, when in the opinion of any county superintendent of health or any registered physician there is reason to suspect such waters of being contaminated and dangerous to health. (Rev., s. 3057; 1905, c. 415; 1907, cc. 712, 884; 1911, c. 62, s. 36.)

§ 7058. To make examination for communicable diseases. — The board shall likewise have made in this laboratory examinations of sputum in cases of suspected tuberculosis, of throat exudates in cases of suspected diphtheria, of blood in cases of suspected typhoid and malarial fever, of fæces in cases of suspected hookworm diseases, and such other examinations as the public health may require. (Rev., s. 3057; 1905, c. 415; 1907, cc. 721, 884; 1911, c. 62, s. 36.)

Effect upon Other Laws.—The provision in this section in regard to examination of sputum in cases of suspected tuberculosis, is not repealed or affected by other laws for "extension work" throughout the State against tuberculosis, nor does it affect these other laws. See sec. 7172, et seq. State Sanatorium v. Lacy, 173 N. C. 810, 92 S. E. 689.

§ 7059. Support of laboratory; tax on waters.—For the support of the state laboratory of hygiene in addition to the annual appropriation there is hereby appropriated an annual tax of sixty-four dollars, payable quarterly, by every water company, municipal, corporate, and private, selling water to the people. The annual tax for waters from springs or wells sold in bottles or otherwise shall be as follows: For springs or wells, the gross annual sales from which for the previous calendar year are less than two thousand dollars and more than one thousand five hundred dollars, fifty dollars; less than one thousand five hundred and more than one thousand dollars, forty dollars; less than one thousand and more than five hundred dollars, thirty dollars; less than five hundred and more than two hundred and fifty dollars, twenty dollars; less than two hundred and fifty dollars, fifteen dollars; for any spring maintained and treated as an adjunct to any hotel, park, or resort for the accommodation and entertainment of the public, fifteen dollars, and an additional tax for water sold in bottle or other package from such spring in accordance with the above schedule. The tax shall be collected quarterly by the sheriff, as other taxes, and shall be paid by the sheriff directly to the treasurer of the state board of health.

It shall be the duty of the secretary of the state board of health when any person, firm or corporation is delinquent in the payment of taxes and penalties due the state board of health for a period of six months to notify the attorney of such delinquency, stating the amount then due by said person, firm or corporation for taxes and penalties. It shall be the duty of the attorney general to immediately institute an action in the superior court of the county in which such delinquent person, firm or corporation for the collection of said delinquent taxes and penalties resides or is situated, and upon the final determination of said suit, the judgment rendered in favor of the state board of health shall be certified by the clerk of the superior court of the county in which the delinquent taxpayer lives and/or conducts his business, and such judgment shall be a lien as like judgments and be enforced under the general law of the State: Provided, however, that when any delinquent taxpayer has entered into an agreement with the state board of health to pay up his delinquent taxes and penalties in installments and is paying them according to said agreement, that the secretary of the state board of health may or may not in his discretion notify the attorney general to bring an action as provided in this section. (Rev., s. 3057; 1905, c. 415; 1907, cc. 721, 884; 1911, c. 62, s. 36; 1935, c. 340.)

Editor's Note.—The last paragraph of this section was added by the amendment of 1935.

§ 7060. Duty of seller to make reports and transmit samples; penalties.—Every corporation, firm, or person selling water in the manner set forth in the preceding section shall file with the treasurer of the state board of health, annually in the month of January, an affidavit as to the gross amount received from sales of water for the previous calendar year, and upon this affidavit the tax for the current year shall be based. Failure to file such affidavit within the time prescribed shall subject the corporation, firm, or person to double tax for the current year. Failure to transmit sample within five days after receipt of sterilized bottle or container from the laboratory of hygiene shall be a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall subject the delinquent to a fine of twenty-five dollars. Transportation charges, by mail, shall be paid by the sender; by express, by the laboratory. When deemed advisable, the laboratory of hygiene shall analyze samples purchased by it in the open market in lieu of those sent direct from the spring. (1911, c. 62, s. 36.)

§ 7061. Nonresidents selling water. — Any person, firm, or corporation not a citizen of the state who shall sell or offer for sale any water in bottle or other package for consumption by the people of the state shall obtain a license from the treasurer of the state board of health and shall pay for said license the sum of sixty-four dollars per annum, or a less amount, equal to the tax paid by springs of the same class within the state, upon compliance with the conditions applying to them, payable in advance: Provided, that satisfactory evidence of purity furnished by the state hygienic laboratories of other states agreeing to reciprocate in the matter with this state shall be accepted in lieu of the license tax. (1911, c. 62, s. 36.)

§ 7062. Publication of dangerous waters. — If water sold by any person, firm, corporation or municipality shall be discovered by three successive analyses made by the state laboratory of hygiene to be dangerous to the public health, publication of that fact shall be made in the monthly bulletin of the state board of health. The result of said analyses shall be immediately forwarded by mail to the person, firm, corporation, or municipality selling the water so analyzed. When upon subsequent analysis the water shall be found to be no longer dangerous to health, a certificate thereof shall be furnished the person, firm, corporation, or municipality offering the water for sale, and publication of the fact shall be made in the monthly bulletin: Provided, that this shall not apply to therapeutic waters so medicated as to render them sterile, the question of their sterility to be decided by the director of the state laboratory of hygiene. (1911, c. 62, s. 36.)

§ 7063. Printing and stationery for laboratory. —The printing and stationery necessary for the laboratory shall be furnished upon requisition upon the state printer, and paid for out of the appropriation to the state board of health. (1911, c. 62, s. 36; 1913, c. 181, s. 14; 1917, c. 220, s. 1; 1919, c. 145, s. 25.)

Art. 3. County Organization

§ 7064. County board of health; organization; terms of members; chairman.—The chairman of the board of county commissioners, the mayor of the county town, and in county towns where there is no mayor the clerk of the superior court, and the county superintendent of schools shall meet together on the first Monday in April, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one, and thereafter on the first Monday of January in the odd years of the calendar, and elect from the regularly registered physicians and dentists of the county two physicians and one dentist, who, with themselves, shall constitute the county board of health. The chairman of the board of county commissioners shall be the chairman of the county board of health, and the presence of three members at any regular or called meeting shall constitute a quorum. The term of office of members of the county board of health shall terminate on the first Monday in January in the odd years of the calendar. (Rev., s. 4444; 1901, c. 245, s. 3; 1911, c. 62, s. 9; 1931, c. 149.)

For an act applicable in Cumberland county only, see Public Laws of 1935, chapter 159.

Editor's Note.—The Act of 1931 amended this section by placing a dentist on the board. This Act omitted the words "and while on duty they shall receive four dollars per diem to be paid by the county" appearing at the end of the former section.

Constitutional.—This section is not repugnant to Article XIV, sec. 7, of the State Constitution, which forbids the holding of two offices by one man at the same time, but simply adds further duties to the offices already created, which expire with the term of office of each. McCullers v. Board, 158 N. C. 75, 73 S. E. 816.

§ 7065. Duties of county board of health; meetings; expenses.—The county board of health shall have the immediate care and responsibility of the health interests of their county. They shall meet annually in the county town, and three members of the board are authorized to call a meeting of the board whenever in their opinion the public health interest of the county requires it. They shall make such rules and regulations, pay such fees and salary, and impose such penalties as in their judgment may be necessary to protect and advance the public health. All expenditures shall be approved by the board of county commissioners before being paid. (Rev., s. 4444; 1901, c. 245, s. 3; 1911, c. 62, s. 9.)

As to fixing compensation of county physician and health, see note to § 7067.

The finding of the county board of health that the maintenance of a cemetery upon the watershed is a nuisance to the public health has not the same force as the positive declarations of statute, and it may be shown in answer to a notice to show cause why an injunction should not be continued to the final hearing that the particular cemetery, as maintained, was not a nuisance entitling the plaintiff to injunctive relief. Board of Health v. Lewis, 196 N. C. 641, 146 S. E. 592.

§ 7066. Violation of rules of county board a misdemeanor.—If any person shall violate the rules and regulations made by the county board of health he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and fined not exceeding fifty dollars or imprisoned not exceeding thirty days. (Rev., s. 3453; 1901, c. 245, s. 3; 1911, c. 62, s. 10.)

§ 7067. To elect county physician or health officer.—The board of health shall meet on the first Monday of July, one thousand nine hundred and thirteen, and thereafter on the second Monday of January in the odd years of the calendar, and elect either a county physician or a county health officer, whose tenure of service shall be terminable at the pleasure of the county board of health, and who shall serve thereafter until the second Monday in January of the odd years of the calendar. If the county board of health of any county shall fail to elect a county physician or county health officer within two calendar months of the time set in this section, the secretary of the state board of health shall appoint a registered physician, of good standing in the said county, to the office of county physician, who shall serve the remainder of the two years, and shall fix his compensation, to be paid by the said county, in proportion to the compensation paid by other counties for like service, having in view the amount of taxes collected by said county. (Rev., ss. 4444, 4446; 1897, c. 201, s. 1; 1901, c. 245, s. 3; 1911, c. 62, s. 9; 1913, c. 181, s. 1; 1915, cc. 214, 233.)

How Compensation of County Physician Fixed.—It is required that the board of county commissioners approve the expenditure for a county physician and pass upon its reasonableness, and upon their failure to do so mandamus will lie to compel them in good faith to pass upon it and in the exercise of a sound judgment say whether or not the compensation for the services as fixed are warranted by the statute. McCullers v. Board, 158 N. C. 75, 73 S. E. 816. But after a sum is fixed by them mandamus will not lie to compel payment of a greater sum. Halford v. Senter, 169 N. C. 546, 86 S. E. 525.

Validity of Appointment.—After the time expires in which the county board of health may appoint a county superintendent of health, one appointed by the Secretary of the State Board of Health takes the office, and one subsequently appointed by the county board of health has not a colorable title. McCullers v. Board, 158 N. C. 75, 73 S. E. 816.

§ 7068. Duties of county officer; nonperformance a misdemeanor.—The duties of the county health officer shall be to devote his entire time to the county public-health work, and he shall perform the duties of county physician, the duties of quarantine officer, and the following additional duties: he shall make a sanitary examination during the summer months of every public school building and grounds in the county, and no school committee or teacher shall make use of any school building or grounds until the county superintendent of health shall certify in writing that said building and grounds have been inspected and found to be in a satisfactory sanitary condition within four months of the date of the certificate. He shall examine every school child that has previously been examined by the teacher according to methods furnished said teacher by the county superintendent of schools, and reported to said county superintendent of schools as probably defective in the condition of its eyes, ears, nose, or throat, and he shall further endeavor to have examined the feces of every child whom he suspects of having hookworm disease. He shall notify on blank forms and in accordance with instructions furnished by the state department of public instruction, every parent or guardian of a child having any defect of the aforesaid organs, or hookworm disease, and he shall suggest to said parent or guardian the proper course of treatment and urge that such treatment be procured. He shall coöperate fully with the county board of education, the county superintendent of schools, and the teachers in the public schools, to the end that children may be better informed in regard to the importance of health and the methods of preventing disease. He shall, through the county press, public addresses, and in every available way, endeavor to educate the people of his county to set a higher value on health, and to adopt such public and private measures as will tend to a greater conservation of life. Any violation of this section shall constitute a misdemeanor, and shall subject the defendant to a fine of not less than ten dollars nor more than fifty dollars. (1911, c. 62, s. 11; 1913, c. 181, s. 2.)

§ 7069. Duties of county physician; may employ another physician. — The duties of the county physician shall be to make the medico-legal post-mortem examinations for the coroners' inquests, to make examination of lunatics for commitment, to render professional service to sick inmates of the convict camp, jail, and county home, upon request of the superintendent or keeper of these institutions, and to determine the nature of any particular disease, upon the request of the quarantine or deputy quarantine officer. The county physician shall have the right to employ any other regularly registered physician of his county, to perform any or all of the duties pertaining to the jail, county home, or convict camp, when in his judgment it is desirable to do so; but the terms under which such physician is employed by the county physician shall be approved by the board of county commissioners. (Rev., s. 4445; 1901, c. 245, s. 3; 1911, c. 62, s. 11; 1913, c. 181, s. 2.)

Right to Delegate Duties.—A county superintendent of health has no right to delegate the performance of his official duties to others, so as to give his employees the right to make their services a county charge. Copple v. Commissioners, 138 N. C. 127, 50 S. E. 574.

Same—Care of Smallpox Patient.—Under Laws 1893, ch. 214, sec. 9, providing that contagious diseases shall be promptly quarantined by the county superintendent of health, the services rendered by a person in removing a person afflicted with smallpox to a pesthouse, taking his meals to him and attending to him continually during his sickness, is a legitmate county charge, where the patient is insolvent and the services were rendered by the direction of the superintendent of health. Copple v. Commissioners, 138 N. C. 127, 50 S. E. 574.

§ 7070. County quarantine officer.—The election, term of office, and compensation of county quarantine officer are regulated as provided in article 9 of this chapter entitled Infectious Diseases Generally. The county physician, county health officer, municipal physician, or municipal health officer shall be eligible to the position of quarantine officer. The county board of health shall arrange with the quarantine officer to accept and discharge the duties assigned in this chapter to him and any other duties relating to the control of infectious diseases which may be assigned to him by the county board of health.

The quarantine officer is charged with the enforcement of article 9 of this chapter, entitled Infectious Diseases Generally, and nothing herein contained shall interfere with the performance of his duties under that article. He shall faithfully enforce all laws pertaining to inland quarantine and disinfection and the rules and regulations governing these matters as prescribed by the local, county, or municipal boards of health, but any child or other person may remain in the custody and care of parents or family.

The quarantine of ports shall not be interfered with, but the officers of the local state boards shall render all aid in their power to quarantine officers in the discharge of their duties.

The failure of the quarantine officer to perform the duties imposed in this section shall be a misdemeanor, and he shall be punished for each offense, except as otherwise specifically provided, by a fine of not less than ten dollars nor more than fifty dollars. (1911, c. 62, ss. 16, 20.)

§ 7071. Abatement of nuisances. — Whenever and wherever a nuisance shall exist which in the opinion of the county physician or county health officer is dangerous to the public health, it shall be his duty to notify in writing the parties responsible for its continuance, of the character of the nuisance and the means of abating it. Upon this notification, the parties shall proceed to abate the nuisance: Provided, however, that if the party notified shall make oath or affirmation before a justice of the peace of his or her inability to carry out the directions of the county physician or county health officer, it shall be done at the expense of the town, city, or county in which the offender lives. In the latter case the limit of the expense chargeable to the city, town, or county shall not be more than one thousand dollars in any case: Provided further, that nothing in this section shall be construed to give the county physician or county health officer the power to destroy or injure property without a due process of law as now exists for the abatement of nuisances. (Rev., s. 4450; 1893, c. 214, s. 22; 1911, c. 62, s. 12; 1913, c. 181, s. 3.)

Sufficient Evidence of a Nuisance.—Evidence that a stable is within four feet of a dwelling house, and because of its filthy condition those occupying the house were unable to eat, and the health officer has given notice to abate the nuisance, is sufficient to convict under this section, and sufficient to sustain a fine under sec. 7072. State v. Wilkes, 170 N. C. 735, 87 S. E. 48.

Power to Burn Dwellings.—Neither town nor county commissioners have authority under this section to burn a residence house to prevent the spread of contagious and infectious diseases. But in case they exceed this authority and burn a house no action will lie against them, in their official capacity. Their liability, if any is personal. Prichard v. Board, 126 N. C. 908, 36 S. E. 353. This is a specific application of the general rule that a municipality is not liable for the torts committed by its agents or officers.

§ 7072. Failure to abate nuisance after notice misdemeanor.—If any person, firm, corporation, or municipality responsible for the existence and continuance of a nuisance, after being duly notified in writing by the county physician or county health officer to abate said nuisance, shall fail to abate the same for twenty-four hours after such notice prescribed, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be fined two dollars a day as long as said nuisance remains. (Rev., s. 3446; 1893, c. 214, s. 22; 1911, c. 62, s. 13; 1913, c. 181, s. 3.)

§ 7073. Certain nuisances in seaport towns.—All ponds of stagnant water, all cellars and foundations of houses, whose bottoms contain stagnant and putrid water; all dead and putrefied animals lying about docks, streets, lanes, alleys, vacant lots, or yards; all privies that have no wells sunk under them; all slaughter-houses, all docks whose bottoms are alternately wet and dry by the ebbing and flowing of the tide, all accumulations of vegetable and animal substances undergoing putrefactive fermentation, in any of the seaport towns of the state, are declared common nuisances, productive of offensive vapors and noxious exhalations, the causes of disease, and ought to be restrained, regulated, and removed. (Rev., s. 4462; Code, s. 2907; R. C., c. 94, s. 15; 1815, c. 893, s. 1.)

§ 7074. Duty of owners of sunken lots in seaport towns; penalty.—Every person possessed of a lot in any seaport town, which from its low or sunken situation is liable to retain tide or rain water, or on which cellars or foundations for buildings may be dug (whether a tenement be erected over the same or not), shall during the months of June, July, August, September, and October, preserve and keep the said lot, cellars, and foundations dry and free from stagnant or putrid water and other filth; and any person offending herein shall forfeit and pay five dollars for the use of the town for every week he shall suffer such stagnant or putrid water or other filth to remain therein. And if the said owner shall, notwithstanding the above provisions, neglect to remove such stagnant or putrid water or other filth, the commissioner of the town may employ any person, upon such terms as to them may seem reasonable and just, to remove such filth or stagnant or putrid waters; and the expense shall be considered as a further fine for not complying with this section, and shall be collected accordingly, and shall also be a lien upon which the same has been expended. (Rev., s. 4461; Code, s. 2908; R. C., c. 94, s. 16; 1815, c. 893, s. 2.)

§ 7075. County commissioners may levy special tax to protect health.—The board of county commissioners of each county is hereby authorized at any time to levy a special tax, to be expended under the direction of a committee composed of the chairman of the board of county commissioners and the county health officer or county physician for the preservation of the public health. (Rev., s. 4455.)

Establishing Public Hospitals.—This section should be construed in connection with the sections of Chapter 119, as to the maintenance of permanent public hospitals, and requires that the question of establishing such hospitals, as in this case for a county tuberculosis hospital, shall have the approval of the voters of the county in accordance to the methods and in the manner specified by the statute. Armstrong v. Board, 185 N. C. 405, 117 S. E. 388.

Maintenance of Public Welfare Departments.—No authority is given by this section to levy a special tax for the purpose of raising revenue for the maintenance of the public welfare departments. Atlantic Coast Line R. Co. v. Lenoir County, 200 N. C. 494, 157 S. E. 610.

Art. 4. Municipal Organization

§ 7076. Municipal physician or health officer; municipal regulations.—The authorities of any city or town, not already authorized in its charter, are hereby authorized to elect a municipal physician or municipal health officer when in their judgment municipal health would be improved thereby, and to make such regulations, pay such fees and salaries, and impose such penalties as in their judgment may be necessary for the protection and the advancement of the public health. (Rev., s. 4454; 1893, c. 214, s. 25; 1911, c. 62, s. 14; 1913, c. 181, s. 4.)

§ 7077. Duties of the municipal physician or health officer; enforcement.—The duties of the municipal physician within the jurisdiction of the town or city for which he is elected shall be identical with those of the county physician for the county, with the exception of the duties of the county physician pertaining to the jail, convict camp, and county home. The authorities of any city or town shall have the power to assign the duties of quarantine officers to the municipal physician or health officer, and in such cases the municipal health officer shall faithfully perform the duties of the quarantine officers as prescribed in this chapter, and shall be subject to the penalties provided for the refusal or nonperformance of such duties. If the physician is employed to devote his entire time to the public health interests of his town or city, he shall be known as the municipal health officer, and shall discharge all duties pertaining to the public schools of his town or city which were assigned in this chapter to the county health officer and such other duties as may be assigned him by the municipal board of health.

Any one violating any of the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and subject to a fine of not less than ten dollars nor more than fifty dollars. (Rev., s. 4509; 1893, c. 214, s. 9; 1911, c. 62, s. 15; 1913, c. 181, s. 5.)

Art. 4A. Sanitary Districts in General

§ 7077(a). Creation by state board of health.—For the purpose of preserving and promoting the public health and welfare the State Board of Health may, as hereinafter provided, create sanitary districts without regard for county, township or municipal lines: Provided, however, that no municipal corporation or any part of the territory in a municipal corporation shall be included in a sanitary district except at the request of the governing board of such municipal corporation. (1927, c. 100, s. 1.)

§ 7077(b). Incorporation. — Such sanitary district shall be incorporated as hereinafter set out. (1927, c. 100, s. 2.)

§ 7077(c). Petition from freeholders. — Fifty one per cent or more of the resident freeholders within the proposed district may petition the board of county commissioners of the county in which all or the major portion of the proposed district is located setting forth the boundaries of the proposed sanitary district and the objects it is proposed to accomplish. Upon receipt of such petition the board of county commissioners if the same is approved by them, shall, through its chairman, transmit the petition to the State Board of Health requesting that the proposed sanitary district be created. Provided, however, that the board of county commissioners before passing upon said petition shall hold a public hearing upon the same and shall give prior notice of such hearing by advertising to be made by posting a notice at the court-house door of their county and also by publication in a newspaper published in said county at least once a week for four successive weeks; and in the event such hearing is to be before a joint meeting of the boards of county commissioners of more than one county, or in the event the land to be affected lies in more than one county, then in either of such events a like publication of notice shall be made and given in each of said counties. (1927, c. 100, s. 3.)

§ 7077(d). State board of health to hold public hearing.—The State Board of Health shall name a time and place within the proposed district at which the State Board of Health, through a representative, shall hold a public hearing concerning the creation of the proposed sanitary district. The State Board of Health shall cause at least twenty days' notice to be given of the time and place of such hearing by publishing this information at least five times in a newspaper or newspapers published in or near the proposed district and having a general circulation therein. In the event that all matters pertaining to the creation of this sanitary district cannot be concluded at the hearing, any such hearing may be continued at a time and place named by the representative of the State Board of Health. (1927, c. 100, s. 4.)

§ 7077(e). If state board of health comply with request by resolution.—If, after such hearing the State Board of Health shall deem it advisable to comply with the request of said petition and that a district for the purpose or purposes therein stated should be created and established, the State Board of Health shall adopt a resolution to that effect, defining the boundaries of such district and declaring the territory within such boundaries to be a sanitary district; Provided, however, that any industrial plant and its contiguous village shall be included from the area embraced within such sanitary district as expressed in the application of the person, persons or corporation owning or controlling such industrial plant and its contiguous village, said application to be filed with the State Board of Health on or before the date of the public hearing as hereinbefore provided. Each district when created shall be identified by a name or number assigned by the State Board of Health. (1927, c. 100, s. 5.)

§ 7077(f). Notice to county or counties affected by district.—The State Board of Health shall cause copies of the resolution adopted creating the sanitary district to be sent to the board or boards of county commissioners of the county or counties in which all or parts of the territory within the district is located, whereupon the said board or boards of county commissioners shall hold a meeting or joint meeting for the purpose of electing a sanitary district board of three members, freeholders within the district, which shall thereafter be the governing body of the sanitary district. At this meeting or joint meeting of said board or boards of county commissioners there shall be elected three members of said sanitary district boards who shall serve until their successors are elected and qualified. At the next general election following said appointment by the board of county commissioners candidates for said district board shall be elected in the primary and elected at said general election as are county officers except that the nomination and election shall be confined to said district. The members of the board so nominated and elected shall be residents of the district. They shall qualify by taking the oaths of office on the first Monday in December following their election. The term of office shall be two years and until their successors qualify. All vacancies, whether original or not, occurring during the term shall be filled by the board of county commissioners. (1927, c. 100, s. 6.)

§ 7077(g). Corporate powers.—When a sanitary district is organized as herein provided the sanitary district board selected under the provisions of this article shall be a body politic and corporate and as such may sue and be sued in matters relating to such sanitary district. In addition, such board shall have the following powers:

1. Under the supervision of the state board of health to acquire, construct, maintain and operate a sewerage system, sewage disposal or treatment plant, water supply system, water purification or treatment plant or such other utilities as may be necessary for the preservation and promotion of the public health and sanitary welfare within the district.

2. To issue certificates of indebtedness against the district in the manner hereinafter provided.

3. To issue bonds of the district in the manner hereinafter provided.

4. To cause taxes to be levied and collected upon all the taxable property within the district sufficient to meet the obligations of the district evidenced by bonds, certificates of indebtedness and revenue anticipation notes issued against the district and to pay all obligations incurred by the district in the performance of all of its lawful undertakings.

5. To acquire, either by purchase, condemnation or otherwise and hold real and personal property, easements, rights-of-way and water rights in the name of the district within and/or without the corporate limits of the district, necessary or convenient for the construction or maintenance of the works of the district.

6. To employ such engineers, counsel and other such persons as may be necessary to carry into effect any projects undertaken and to fix compensation thereof.

7. To negotiate and enter into agreement with the owners of existing water supplies, sewerage systems or other such utilities as may be necessary to carry into effect the intent of this article.

8. To formulate rules and regulations necessary for proper functioning of the works of the district.

9. (a) To contract with any person, firm, corporation, city, town, village or political subdivision of the state both within and/or without the corporate limits of the district to supply raw water without charge to said person, firm, corporation, city, town, village or political subdivision of the state in consideration of said person, firm, corporation, city, town, village or political subdivision permitting the contamination of its source of water supply by discharging sewage therein and to construct all improvements necessary or convenient to effect the delivery of said water at the expense of the district, when in the opinion of the sanitary district board it will be for the best interest of the district and subject to the approval of the state board of health.

(b) To contract with any person, firm, corporation, city, town, village or political subdivision of the state within and/or without the corporate limits of the district to supply raw and/or filtered water to said person, firm, corporation, city, town, village, or political subdivision of the state where the service is available: Provided, however, that for service supplied outside the corporate limits of the districts, the sanitary district board may fix a different rate from that charged within the corporate limits but shall in no case be liable for damages for a failure to furnish a sufficient supply of water.

10. After the final approval and adoption of the plan as set forth in section 7077(m), and the election as provided in section 7077(n), and subject to the approval of the state board of health, to adopt a plan different from that adopted by said board and heretofore or hereafter voted upon by the qualified voters of the district, where the newly-adopted plan would not in the opinion of said board and the state board of health constitute a material deviation from the original plan, which new plan may provide among other things for the construction of a water line for the supply of any person, firm, corporation, city, town, village or political subdivision of the state either within and/or without the corporate limits of the district instead of a sewage disposal line and other improvements, where the change in said plans would permit the disposal of sewage at a point nearer the district either within and/or without the corporate limits, thereby contaminating the prevailing water supply of the person, firm, corporation, city, town, village or political subdivision of the state to whom the water is to be supplied and would effect a saving to the district, and to reappropriate for carrying out the new plan a sufficient amount of bond money theretofore appropriated by the vote of the qualified voters of the district to pay the costs of construction of the plan thereafter adopted.

11. Subject to the approval of the state board of health, to engage in and undertake the prevention and eradication of malaria within the district by the eradication of the mosquito and to that end the sanitary district board of said sanitary district is hereby empowered to employ sufficient employees suitable to the accomplishment of this work. (1927, c. 100, s. 7; 1933, c. 8, ss. 1, 2; 1935, c. 287, ss. 1, 2.)

Editor's Note.—Public Laws 1933, c. 8, struck out subsection 5 of this section and inserted the present reading in lieu thereof. The act also added subsection 9, consisting of clauses (a) and (b), and subsection 10.

Prior to the amendment of 1935 subsection 4 of this section required the taxes to be sufficient "to meet the obligations evidenced by bonds and certificates of indebtedness issued against the district." The amendment also added subsection 11 of the section.

§ 7077(h). Organization of board.—Upon election a sanitary district board shall meet and elect one of its members as chairman, and another member as secretary. Each member of the board may receive a per diem compensation of five dollars when actually engaged in the business of the district payable from the funds of the district. The board may employ a clerk, stenographer, or such other assistance as it may deem necessary and may fix the duties and compensation thereof.

A sanitary district board may at any time remove any of its employees and may fill any vacancies however arising. (1927, c. 100, s. 8.)

§ 7077(i). Power to condemn property.—When, in the opinion of the sanitary district board, it is necessary to procure real estate, right-of-way or easement within and/or without the corporate limits of the district for any of the improvements authorized by this article, they may purchase the same or if the board and the owner or owners thereof are unable to agree upon its purchase and sale, or the amount of damage to be awarded therefor, the board may condemn such real estate, right-of-way or easement within and/or without the corporate limits of the district and in so doing the ways, means and method and procedure of chapter thirty-three of the consolidated statutes entitled "eminent domain" shall apply. Section one thousand seven hundred and fourteen, consolidated statutes, shall not, however, be applicable to such condemnation proceedings. In the event the owner or owners shall appeal from the report of the commissioners, it shall not be necessary for the sanitary board to deposit the money assessed with the clerk, but it may proceed and use the property to be condemned until the final determination of the action. (1927, c. 100, s. 9; 1933, c. 8, s. 3.)

Editor's Note.—Public Laws 1933, c. 8, inserted the clause appearing twice in this section, reading "within and/or without the corporate limits of the city."

§ 7077(j). Construction of systems by corporations or individuals.—Whenever a corporation or the residents of any locality within the sanitary district board shall desire a water supply, sewerage system or any part thereof and the sanitary district board shall deem it inadvisable or impracticable at that time, due to remoteness from its general system or other cause, for the sanitary district to build such system, such corporation or residents may nevertheless build and operate such system at its or their own expense but it shall be constructed and operated under plans, specifications and regulations approved by the district board. (1927, c. 100, s. 10.)

§ 7077(k). Reports.—Upon the election of any sanitary district board it shall become the duty of the board to employ competent engineers to make a report or reports on the problems of the sanitary district, which report or reports shall be prepared and filed with the sanitary district board. Such report or reports shall embrace the following:

1. Suitable comprehensive maps showing the boundaries of the sanitary district and in a general way the location of the various parts of the work that is proposed to be done and such information as may be useful for a thorough understanding of the proposed undertaking.

2. A general description of existing facilities for carrying out the objects of the district.

3. A general description of the various plans which might be adopted for accomplishment of the objects of the district.

4. General plans and specifications for such work.

5. General descriptions of property it is proposed to be acquired or which may be damaged in carrying out the work.

6. Comparative detail estimates of cost for the various construction plans.

7. Recommendations. (1927, c. 100, s. 11.)

§ 7077(l). Consideration of reports by sanitary district board.—The report or reports filed by the engineers shall be given careful consideration by the sanitary district board for adoption of a plan which they approve. If deemed advisable by the sanitary district board they may hold a public hearing, giving due and ample notice of the time and place thereof, for the purpose of considering objections to carrying out of the work according to the plan adopted by them. (1927, c. 100, s. 12.)

§ 7077(m). Resolution after adoption of plan.—After final approval of the plan adopted the sanitary district board shall adopt a resolution setting forth:

1. A general outline of the work that is proposed to be done.

2. A reference to the engineer's report for details as to the plan adopted.

3. The amount of bonds that the board proposes to issue to cover the cost of doing the proposed work.

4. The form and term of the proposed bonds and the interest rate thereon.

The resolution shall, immediately after adoption, be published at least three times in one or more newspapers having a general circulation within the district. (1927, c. 100, s. 13.)

§ 7077(n). Call for election.—Following the adoption of the resolution by the sanitary district board the said board shall call upon the board or boards of county commissioners in the county or counties in which the district or any portion thereof is located to name election officers, set date, name polling places, and cause to be held an election within the district on the proposition of issuing bonds to provide funds for doing the work as set forth in the resolution adopted by the sanitary board. If, at such election the majority of the registered voters vote in favor of incurring the indebtedness as proposed, the district board shall issue and sell bonds for the amount set forth in the resolution. Should the proposition of issuing bonds submitted at any election as provided under this article fail to receive the required number of votes, the sanitary district board may, at any time after the expiration of six months, cause another election to be held for the same objects and purposes or for any other objects and purposes. The expenses of holding bond election shall be paid from the funds of the sanitary district.

The board of commissioners of the county in which said sanitary district is located, if wholly located in a single county, may in their discretion at any special election held under the provisions of this act make the whole sanitary district a voting precinct, or may create therein one or more voting precincts as to them seems best to suit the convenience of votes, the said precinct not to be the general election precinct unless the boundaries of the sanitary district are co-terminal with one or more whole general election precincts. If said sanitary district is located in more than one county, the election precincts therein shall be fixed by the board of the particular county in which the portion of the sanitary district is located.

The said board or boards of commissioners shall provide registration and polling books for each precinct in the sanitary district, the cost of the same to be paid from the fund of the sanitary district. The notice of the election shall be given by publication at least three times in some newspaper published or circulated in the district. It shall set forth the boundary lines of the district and the amount of bonds proposed to be issued. The first publication shall be at least thirty days before the election. At the first election after the organization of the sanitary district, a new registration of the qualified voters within the same shall be ordered and notice of such new registration shall be deemed to be sufficiently given if given by publication once in some newspaper published or circulated in said district at least thirty days before the close of the registration books. The notice of registration may be considered one of the three notices required of the election. Time of such registration shall as near as may be conform with that of the registration of voters in municipal elections as provided in section two thousand six hundred and fifty-seven of the Consolidated Statutes. The published notice of registration shall state the days on which the books shall be open for registration of voters and place or places on which they will be open on Saturdays. The books of such new registration shall close on the second Saturday before the election. The Saturday before the election shall be challenge day and except as to otherwise provided in this article, such election shall be held in accordance with the governing general elections.

At the election those who are in favor of the bond issue shall vote a ticket on which shall be printed or written or partly printed and partly written the words "For bond issue" and those who oppose shall vote a ticket on which shall be printed or written or partly printed and partly written the words "Against bond issue." After the election and after the vote has been counted, canvassed and returned to the board or boards of county commissioners, the election books shall be deposited in the office of the Clerk of the Superior Court as polling books for the particular sanitary district involved. At any subsequent election, whether upon the recall of an officer as provided in section 7077(u) or for an additional bond issue in the particular district, a new registration may or may not be ordered as may be determined by the board of county commissioners interested in said election. (1927, c. 100, s. 14.)

§ 7077(o). Bonds.—The sanitary district board shall, subject to the provisions of this article, and under competent legal and financial advice prescribe by resolution the form of bonds and the interest coupons attached thereto, the denominations of the bonds and the date and place at which they shall become payable. These bonds shall not be sold at less than par nor bear an interest rate in excess of six per cent. The bonds shall be signed by the chairman and secretary of the sanitary district board, and the seal of the board shall be affixed thereto. In the event coupon bonds are issued, the coupons thereto may be signed by the secretary alone, or he may have lithographed, engraved, or printed thereon a facsimile of his signature. The proceeds from the sale of such bonds shall be placed in a bank in the State of North Carolina to the credit of the sanitary district board, and payments therefrom shall be made by vouchers signed by the chairman and secretary of the sanitary district board. Said bank, however, shall be required to execute the proper bonds, giving as surety thereto some surety company authorized to do business in North Carolina, conditioned to account for and pay out upon said vouchers all funds so deposited in said bank. The penalty of said bond shall not be less than the amount of money so deposited in said bank. (1927, c. 100, s. 15.)

The validity of this article is not affected by the provisions that certain industrial enterprises and villages situate therein may be excluded upon application of the owners. Drysdale v. Prudden, 195 N. C. 722, 143 S. E. 530.

This article constitutes a general law of Statewide application relating to health, and valid. Drysdale v. Prudden, 195 N. C. 722, 143 S. E. 530.

Bonds Valid as General Tax.—Bonds issued by a sanitary district formed in accordance with this article, are a valid obligation, and binding upon the property within the district as a general tax and not an assessment of property according to benefits received. Drysdale v. Prudden, 195 N. C. 722, 143 S. E. 530.

Differentiating between Property Benefited as Not Benefited.—Bonds issued by a sanitary district for sewerage and a water supply under the provision of this article, will not be declared invalid because not differentiating between property benefited and not benefited when the voters within the territory unanimously voted for their issuance, and having full notice and opportunity to do so, no one appeared to make objection on that ground. Drysdale v. Prudden, 195 N. C. 722, 143 S. E. 722.

§ 7077(p). Additional bonds. — Whenever the proceeds from the sale of bonds issued by any district as in this article authorized shall have been expended or contracted to be expended and the sanitary district board shall determine that the interest or necessity of the district demands that additional bonds are necessary for carrying out any of the objects of the district, the board may again proceed as in this article provided to have an election held for the issuance of such additional bonds and the issue and sale of such bonds and the expenditure of the proceeds therefrom shall be carried out as hereinbefore provided. In the event the proceeds from the sale of the bonds shall be in excess of the amount necessary to complete the costs of the completed works of the district and pay the interest and principal due on said bonds before the placing into service of the works of the district and the collection of taxes levied or to be levied for that purpose, then the sanitary district board shall be required to purchase with said surplus, at par and accrued interest, any part of the outstanding issue of said bonds. (1927, c. 100, s. 16; 1933, c. 8, s. 4.)

Editor's Note.—Public Laws of 1933, c. 8, added the last sentence of this section as it now appears.

The sanitary district board shall determine the number of cents per $100 necessary to raise the said amount and so certify to the board or boards of county commissioners. The board or boards of county commissioners in their next annual levy shall include the number of cents per $100 so certified by the sanitary district board in the levy against all taxable property within the district, which tax shall be collected as other county taxes are collected and every ninety days the amount of tax so collected shall be remitted to the sanitary district board and deposited by said board in a bank in the State of North Carolina separately from other funds of the district. Said bank, however, before said funds are deposited in it is to execute a proper surety bond as described in section fifteen for the proper care and disbursement of and accounting for said taxes.

The sanitary district board of any sanitary district, in lieu of collecting the taxes in the manner as hereinbefore provided, may cause to be listed by all the taxpayers residing within the district with the person designated by the district board, all the taxable property located within the district, and after determining the amount of funds to be raised for the ensuing year in excess of the funds available from surplus operating revenues set aside as provided in section 7077(t) to provide payment of interest and the proportionate part of the principal of all outstanding bonds, certificates of indebtedness, revenue anticipation notes issued against the district and to pay all obligations incurred by the district in the performance of all of its lawful undertakings, to determine the number of cents per one hundred ($100.00) dollars necessary to raise said amount. The said sanitary district board in its next annual levy shall levy against all taxable property in the district the number of cents per one hundred ($100.00) dollars necessary to raise the amount with which to pay the obligations of the district, including principal and interest on bonds, certificates of indebtedness, revenue anticipation notes and other lawful obligations of the district, which tax shall be collected in the same manner as taxes of other political sub-divisions of the State of North Carolina are collected by a tax collector, to be selected by the sanitary district board of the sanitary district electing to assess, levy and collect its taxes in the manner herein provided. The tax collector selected by said sanitary district board and the depository, in which said taxes so collected are deposited, shall qualify in the same manner and give the necessary surety bonds as are required of tax collectors and depositories of county funds in the county or counties in which said sanitary districts are located. (1927, c. 100, s. 17; 1935, c. 287, ss. 3, 4.)

Editor's Note.—The amendment of 1935 added the clause beginning with the word "revenue" to the last sentence of the first paragraph of this section and added the last paragraph in its entirety.

§ 7077(r). Certificates of indebtedness in anticipation of taxes; loans under Local Government Act.—A sanitary district board may issue certificates of indebtedness in anticipation of the levying and collection of taxes to cover any or all expenses incurred by the board incident to the preparation of the engineers' report, holding of bond election or any other expenses incurred by the board. The amount of any certificates of indebtedness issued by the sanitary district board shall be included in the bond issue as hereinbefore provided. In the event that the election held within the district for the purpose of issuing bonds to provide funds for carrying out the objects of the district results in the defeat of said bonds the sanitary district board shall cause to be levied and collected a tax sufficient to pay such certificates of indebtedness or any other indebtedness incurred by the sanitary district board. Such tax shall be levied and collected in the same manner as provided in section seventeen.

A sanitary district board may borrow money under the provisions of the Local Government Act, for the purpose of paying appropriations made for the current fiscal year in anticipation of the collection of the taxes and other revenues of such fiscal year, payable at such time or times, not later than thirty days after the expiration of the current fiscal year, as the governing board may fix. No such loan shall be made if the amount thereof, together with the amount of similar previous loans remaining unpaid, shall exceed fifty per cent of the amount of uncollected taxes and other revenue for the fiscal year in which the loan is made, as estimated by the chief financial officer and certified in writing by him to the governing body. (1927, c. 100, s. 18; 1935, c. 250.)

Editor's Note.—The amendment of 1935 added the last paragraph of this section relative to loans under local government act.

§ 7077(s). Engineers to provide plans and supervise work.—The sanitary district board shall retain competent engineers to provide detail plans and specifications and to supervise the doing of the work undertaken by the district. As determined by the sanitary district board, such work or any portion thereof, may be done by the sanitary district board purchasing the material and letting a contract for the doing of the work or by letting a contract for furnishing all the material and the doing of the work.

Any contract shall be let to the lowest responsible bidder submitting a sealed bid in response to a notice calling for such bid and published at least five times over a period of at least fifteen days in a newspaper or newspapers having a general circulation within the county or counties in which the district is located.

Any material to be purchased by the sanitary district board, the cost of which is in excess of one thousand dollars, shall be purchased from the lowest responsible bidder in the same manner as above provided.

All work done shall be in accordance with the plans and specifications prepared by the engineers in conformity with the plan adopted by the sanitary district board. (1927, c. 100, s. 19.)

§ 7077(t). Service charges and rates.—A sanitary district board shall immediately upon the placing into service of any of its works apply service charges and rates which shall, as nearly as practicable, be based upon the exact benefits derived. Such service charges and rates shall be sufficient to provide funds for the proper maintenance, adequate depreciation, and operation of the work of the district, and provided said service charges and rates would not be unreasonable, to include in said service charges and rates an amount sufficient to pay the principal and interest maturing on the outstanding bonds of the district and thereby make the project self-liquidating. Any surplus from operating revenues shall be set aside as a separate fund to be applied to the payment of interest on bonds, to the retirement of bonds or both. As the necessity arises the sanitary district board may modify and adjust such service charges and rates from time to time. (1927, c. 100, s. 20; 1933, c. 8, s. 5.)

Editor's Note.—Public Laws of 1933, c. 8, added the qualifying clause at the end of the second sentence of this section.

§ 7077(u). Removal of member of board.—A petition carrying the signatures of twenty-five per cent or more of the legal voters within a sanitary district requesting the removal from office of one or more members of a sanitary district board for malfeasance in office may be filed with the board of county commissioners of the county in which all or the greater portion of a sanitary district is located. Upon receipt of such petition the board of county commissioners, or in the event that the district is located in more than one county, a joint meeting of the boards of county commissioners shall be called, shall adopt a resolution calling an election, naming election officials, naming date, and giving due notice thereof for the purpose of removing from office the member or members of the sanitary district board named in the petition. In the event that more than one member of a sanitary district board is subjected to recall in an election, the names of each member of the board subjected to recall shall appear upon separate ballots. If in such recall election, a majority of the legal votes within the sanitary district shall be cast for the removal of any member or members of the sanitary district board subject to recall, such member or members shall cease to be a member or members of the sanitary district board, and the vacancy or vacancies so caused shall be immediately filled as hereinbefore provided. The expense of holding a recall election shall be paid from the funds of the sanitary district. (1927, c. 100, s. 21.)

§ 7077(w). Returns of elections.—In all elections provided for in this article the returns of such elections shall be made to the board or boards of county commissioners in which the sanitary district lies, and said board or boards of county commissioners shall canvass and declare the result of said election, and this determination of said board or boards of county commissioners upon the result of said election shall be by them certified to the sanitary district board for its action thereupon. (1927, c. 100, s. 23.)

§ 7077(x). Procedure for extension of district.—The boundaries of any sanitary district may, with the approval of the sanitary district board, be extended under the same procedure as herein provided for the creation of a sanitary district: Provided, however, that twenty-five per cent or more of the resident freeholders within the territory proposed to be annexed institute by petition the proceedings for annexation, and that ten per cent of the freeholders resident in the district to be annexed are authorized to petition for an election upon the subject of annexation, and if such petition is filed with the sanitary district board, such election shall be held within the territory to be annexed under the rules and regulations hereinbefore provided. (1927, c. 100, s. 24.)

§ 7077(y). Validation of creation of sanitary districts and of bond elections.—The action of the various boards of commissioners of the various counties of the State and the action of the state board of health heretofore had and taken in the formation and creation of sanitary districts in the State wheresoever situate and the formation and creation, or the attempted formation and creation, of all sanitary districts in the State by the acts of the various county commissioners of the State and the state board of health or other officers of the State, and all elections held in any sanitary district of the State or in any district purporting to be a legal sanitary district of the State by virtue of the purported acts and authority of any board of county commissioners and the state board of health, for the purpose of authorizing the issue and sale of bonds of the said sanitary districts in order to secure funds for the construction and maintenance of water and/or sewer systems and all of such bonds themselves, and all the acts and procedure in any wise had and taken by any and all officials and persons in relation to the formation and creation of such sanitary districts and the issue and sale of such bonds, are hereby in all respects legalized, ratified, approved, validated and confirmed, and all such bonds are declared to be legal and binding obligations of such sanitary districts, respectively, when issued and sold as such. (1935, c. 357, s. 1.)

§ 7077(z). Vacancy appointments to district boards.—Hereafter any vacancy that may exist in any sanitary district board of any sanitary district of the State for any cause shall be filled by the county commissioners of the county in which said sanitary district may be situate. (1935, c. 357, s. 2.)

Art. 5. Special-Tax Sanitary Districts

§ 7078. Question of special sanitary tax submitted; district formed.—Special-tax sanitary districts may be formed by the county board of health in any county, without regard to township lines, under the following conditions: Upon a petition of a majority of the freeholders within the proposed special sanitary district, in whose names real estate in such district is listed in the tax lists of the current fiscal year, endorsed by the county board of health, the board of county commissioners, after thirty days notice at the courthouse door and three public places in the proposed district, shall hold an election to ascertain the will of the people within the proposed special sanitary district, whether there shall be levied in such district a special annual tax of not more than the amount specified in the petition on the one hundred dollars valuation of property and on the poll to conduct the health work of the district as is hereinafter provided, in case such special tax is voted. The board of county commissioners shall appoint a registrar and two pollholders, and shall designate a polling place and order a new registration for such district, and the election shall he held in the district under the law governing general elections, as near as may be, and the registrar and pollholders shall canvass the vote cast and declare the result, and shall duly certify the returns to the board of county commissioners, and the same shall be recorded in the records of said board of commissioners. The expense of holding said election shall be paid out of the general funds of the county. At such election those who are in favor of the levy and collection of the tax shall vote a ticket on which shall be printed or written the words "For Special Tax," and those who are opposed shall vote a ticket on which shall be printed or written the words "Against Special Tax." In case a majority of the qualified voters at the election is in favor of the tax, the same shall be annually levied and collected in the manner prescribed for the levy and collection of other taxes. All moneys levied under the provisions of this section shall, upon collection, be placed to the credit of the health committee or board in such district, which committee shall be appointed by the county board of health, and such health committee shall have the authority to carry on the health work in the district as hereinafter provided. (1913, c. 154, s. 1.)

For an act providing for the creation of sanitary districts in Moore County, see Public Laws 1933, c. 453.

§ 7079. Election as to enlarging district.—Upon the written request of a majority of the health committee of any special-tax district, the county board of health may enlarge the boundaries of any special-tax district established under this article, so as to include any contiguous territory, and an election in such new territory may be ordered and held in the same manner as prescribed in this article for elections in special-tax districts; and in case a majority of the qualified voters in such new territory shall vote at such election in favor of a special tax of the same rate as that voted and levied in the special-tax district to which said territory is contiguous, then the new territory shall be added to and become a part of the said special-tax district; and in case a majority of the qualified voters shall vote against said tax, the district shall not be enlarged. (1913, c. 154, s. 1.)

§ 7080. Election to abolish or to restore district or increase tax.—Upon petition of two-thirds of the qualified voters residing in any special-tax sanitary district established under this article, endorsed and approved by the county board of health, the board of county commissioners shall order another election in said district, to be held under the provisions prescribed in this article for holding other elections. If at such election the majority of the qualified voters in said district shall vote "Against Special Tax," said tax shall be deemed revoked and shall not be levied, and said district shall be discontinued. No election for revoking a special tax in any special-tax district shall be ordered and held in such district within less than two years from the date of the election at which the tax was voted and the district established, nor at any time within less than two years after the date of the last election on said question in said district; and no petition revoking such tax shall be approved by the county board of health oftener than once in two years. These provisions for ordering a new election to revoke a special tax in any special-tax district shall not apply to elections in such districts for increasing or restoring the special-tax levy in such district, which elections may be ordered and held at any time in accordance with the provisions of this article for establishing new special-tax districts. (1913, c. 154, s. 1.)

§ 7082. Election of chairman and secretary; records kept.—The sanitary committee as soon as practicable after their election and qualification, not to exceed twenty days, shall meet and elect from their number a chairman and secretary, and shall keep a record of their proceedings in a book to be kept for that purpose. The name and address of the chairman and secretary shall be reported to the county health officer and to the state health officer. (1913, c. 154, s. 3.)

§ 7083. Powers of committee; may make rules.— The authority and duties of the special-tax sanitary committee shall be the same as those given by the public laws of the state to the county board of health in so far as they are applicable to the special-tax sanitary district. The committee shall have the immediate care and responsibility of the health interest of this district. They shall make such rules and regulations, pay such fees and salary, purchase supplies, and impose such penalties as in their judgment may be necessary to protect and advance the public health, but no rules or regulations they may promulgate shall conflict with the rules and regulations of the boards of health of the state and county of which the district is a part. (1913, c. 154, ss. 4, 5.)

§ 7084. Employment of health officer; disbursement of funds.—The committee shall have authority to employ a registered physician of the state as health officer, and if he should persistently neglect the performance of his full duties for a period of ninety days he may be dismissed by the committee and his successor employed to fill the unexpired term. If the committee is satisfied that the provisions of this act have been complied with they shall give an order approved by the chairman and secretary of the committee on the treasurer of the county, payable to the health officer for the full monthly amounts due for services in accordance with the contract, but monthly statements of the work done by the health officer shall be made to the committee; and he shall supply reports promptly of such information as he can on blanks supplied by and returnable to the state board of health. Orders for all funds to the credit of the special-tax sanitary district before it shall be a valid voucher on the county treasurer must be first approved by the chairman and secretary of committee for the sanitary district. (1913, c. 154, s. 4.)

§ 7085. Powers and duties of health officer.— The duties and powers of the health officer elected for the special-tax sanitary district shall be the same as those prescribed by the public laws of the state for the county health officer in so far as they are applicable to the sanitary district, and such additional duties as may be imposed on him by the special-tax sanitary committee. (1913, c. 154, s. 6.)

Art. 5A. Local and District Health Departments.

§ 7085(1). Local and district health departments authorized. — The state board of health is hereby authorized to use any available funds at its command, not otherwise appropriated, to establish full time local and district health department service for any town, city and county, or group of such units in the state where the local governing powers desire the formation of such a department and are willing to assist financially in the enterprise, to the amount at least equal to the amount of state financial assistance. (1935, c. 142, s. 1.)

§ 7085(2). Authority of district health officer; election of county physician unaffected. — Where there is a district health department, the district health officer shall have the authority now delegated to town, city and county health officers and town, city and county quarantine officers in each of the several counties or units comprising the district, by sections 7068 and 7070, Consolidated Statutes: Provided, that nothing in this article shall affect in any way the election of a county physician in counties comprising a district health department. (1935, c. 142, s. 2.)

§ 7085(3). Article not obligatory upon counties. — Nothing in this article shall be so construed as to require any county to enter into this agreement unless it so desires. (1935, c. 142, s. 3.)

§ 7085(4). Counties excepted from article. — This article shall not apply to the counties of Rockingham and Martin. (1935, c. 142, s. 4.)

SUBCHAPTER II. VITAL STATISTICS

Art. 6. Registration of Births and Deaths

§ 7086. State board of health to enforce regulations.—The state board of health shall have charge of the registration of births and deaths, shall prepare the necessary instructions, forms, and blanks for obtaining and preserving such records, and shall procure the faithful registration of the same in each local registration district as constituted in the succeeding section, and in the central bureau of vital statistics at the capital of the state. The said board shall be charged with the uniform and thorough enforcement of the law throughout the state, and shall from time to time recommend to the general assembly any additional legislation that may be necessary for this purpose. (1913, c. 109, s. 1.)

§ 7087. State registrar.—The secretary of the state board of health shall be state registrar of vital statistics, and shall have general supervision over the central bureau of vital statistics, which is hereby authorized to be established by said board. Adequate fireproof space in one of the state buildings for filing cases for the death and birth certificates made and returned under this article shall be provided by the committee on public buildings and grounds. (1913, c. 109, s. 2.)

§ 7088. Registration districts.—For the purposes of this article the state shall be divided into registration districts as follows: Each city, each incorporated town, and each township shall constitute a local registration district. (1913, c. 109, s. 3.)

§ 7088(a). Control of board over districts.—The state board of health shall have authority to abolish or consolidate existing registration districts, and/or create new districts when, in the judgment of the board, economy and efficiency and the interests of the public service may be promoted thereby. (1933, c. 9, s. 3.)

§ 7089. Appointment of local registrar.—Within ninety days after the taking effect of this article, or as soon thereafter as possible, the chairman of every board of county commissioners in the state shall appoint a local registrar of vital statistics for each township in his county, and the mayor of every incorporated town or city in the state shall appoint a local registrar of vital statistics for his town or city, and the chairman of the boards of county commissioners and the mayors of the cities or towns shall notify the state registrar, in writing, of the name and address of each local registrar so appointed. The term of office of each local registrar so appointed shall be four years, beginning the first day of January of the year in which the local registrar is appointed, and until his successor has been appointed and has qualified, unless such office shall sooner become vacant by death, disqualification, operation of law, or other cause. In cities where health officers or other officials are, in the judgment of the state board of health, conducting effective registration of births and deaths under local ordinances at the time of the taking effect of this article, such officials may be appointed as registrars in and for such cities, and shall be subject to the rules and regulations of the state registrar, and to all the provisions of this article. Any vacancy occurring in the office of local registrar of vital statistics shall be filled for the unexpired term by a local registrar appointed by the same official who appointed the local registrar whose retirement creates the vacancy. Any chairman of a board of county commissioners or mayor of a city or town who appoints a local registrar to fill a vacancy in the office of local registrar shall notify the state registrar, in writing, of the name and address of the local registrar so appointed. At least ten days before the expiration of the term of office of any such local registrar, his successor shall be appointed by the chairman of the board of county commissioners for the township local registration office, and by the mayor of the city or town for the town or city registration office. Each local registrar shall be a bona fide resident of the township, city, or precinct for which he is appointed, and removal from the township, city, or precinct shall terminate the office. (1913, c. 109, s. 4; 1915, c. 20.)

§ 7089(a). County health officer may act as registrar.—The state board of health shall have authority and power to designate and appoint the whole-time health officer of the county as registrar for that county, or fractional part or parts thereof, when such action shall be deemed wise. In such case, the fees accruing from the vital statistics registration service, where such service is performed by the county health officer under such appointment, shall be used by the local board of health in its discretion for health service. (1933, c. 9, s. 3.)

§ 7091. Appointment of deputy and sub-registrars.—Each local registrar shall, immediately upon his acceptance of appointment as such, appoint a deputy, whose duty it shall be to act in his stead in case of absence, illness, or disability, and such deputy shall in writing accept such appointment, and be subject to all rules and regulations governing local registrars. And when it may appear necessary for the convenience of the people in any rural district, the local registrar is hereby authorized, with the approval of the state registrar, to appoint one or more suitable persons to act as sub-registrars, who shall be authorized to receive certificates and to issue burial or removal permits in and for such portions of the district as may be designated; and each sub-registrar shall note on each certificate, over his signature, the date of filing, and shall forward all certificates to the local registrar of the district within ten days, and in all cases before the third day of the following month: Provided, that each sub-registrar shall be subject to the supervision and control of the state registrar, and may be by him removed for neglect or failure to perform his duties in accordance with the provisions of this article or the rules and regulations of the state registrar, and he shall be subject to the same penalties for neglect of duties as the local registrar. (1913, c. 109, s. 4.)

§ 7092. Permit for burial or other disposition of body.—The body of any person whose death occurs in this state, or which shall be found dead therein, shall not be interred, deposited in a vault or tomb, cremated or otherwise disposed of, or removed from or into any registration district, or be temporarily held pending further disposition more than seventy-two hours after death, unless a permit for a burial, removal, or other disposition thereof shall have been properly issued by the local registrar of the registration district in which the death occurred or the body was found. And no such burial or removal permit shall be issued by any registrar until a complete and satisfactory certificate of death has been filed with him as hereinafter provided: Provided, that when a dead body is transported into a registration district in North Carolina for burial, the transit and removal permit, issued in accordance with the law and health regulations of the place where the death occurred, shall be accepted by the local registrar of the district into which the body has been transported for burial or other disposition, as a basis upon which he may issue a local burial permit. He shall note upon the face of the burial permit the fact that it was a body shipped in for interment, and give the actual place of death; and no local registrar shall receive any fee for the issuance of burial or removal permits under this article other than the compensation provided in section 7111. (1913, c. 109, s. 5; 1915, c. 164, s. 1.)

§ 7093. Stillborn children to be registered.—A stillborn child shall be registered as a birth and also as a death, but only one certificate shall be required of such birth and death, which shall be filed with the local registrar, the certificate to contain, in place of the name of the child, the word stillbirth; but no certificate of birth nor certificate of death shall be required for a child that has not advanced to the fifth month of uterogestation. The medical certificate of the cause of death shall be signed by the attending physician, if any, and shall state the cause of death as "stillborn," with the cause of the stillbirth, if known, whether a premature birth, and, if born prematurely, the period of uterogestation, in months, if known; and a burial or removal permit of the prescribed form shall be required. Midwives shall not sign certificates of death for stillborn children; but such cases, and stillbirths occurring without attendance of either physician or midwife, shall be treated as deaths without medical attendance, as provided for in this article. (1913, c. 109, s. 6; 1933, c. 9, s. 2.)

Editor's Note.—Prior to Public Laws of 1933, c. 9, this section required a separate certificate of birth and death of a stillborn child.

§ 7094. Contents of death certificates.—The certificate of death shall contain the following items, which are hereby declared necessary for the legal, social, and sanitary purposes subserved by registration records:

1. Place of death, including state, county, township, or town, village or city. If in a city, the ward, street, and house number; if in a hospital or other institution, the name of the same to be given instead of the street and house number. If in an industrial camp, the name of the camp to be given.
2. Full name of decedent. If an unnamed child, the surname preceded by "Unnamed."
3. Sex.
4. Color or race—as white, black, mulatto (or other negro descent), Indian, Chinese, Japanese, or other.
5. Conjugal condition—as single, married, widowed, or divorced.
6. Educational attainments—as illiterate, able to read and write, common school education or equivalent, high school education or equivalent, college education or equivalent. If the deceased is less than fifteen years of age the educational attainments of the mother, if living, or of the father, if living, or of the guardian, in the order named, shall be given.
7. Date of birth, including the year, month and day.
8. Age, in years, months, and days. If less than one day, the hours or minutes. If exact information is unobtainable, give approximate age.
9. Occupation. The occupation to be reported of any person who had any remunerative employment, stating (a) trade, profession, or particular kind of work; (b) general nature of industry, business, or establishment in which employed (or employer).
10. Birthplace; at least state or foreign country, if known.
11. Name of father.
12. Birthplace of father; at least state or foreign country, if known.
13. Maiden name of mother.
14. Birthplace of mother; at least state or foreign country, if known.
15. Signature and address of informant.
16. Official signature of registrar, with the date when certificate was filed, and registered number.
17. Date of death—year, month, and day.
18. Certification as to medical attendance on decedent, fact and time of death, time last seen alive, and the cause of death, with contributory secondary cause or complication, if any, and duration of each, and whether attributed to dangerous or insanitary conditions of employment; signature, date of signature, and address of physician or official making the medical certificate.
19. Length of residence (for inmates of hospitals and other institutions; transients or recent residents) at place of death and in the state, together with the place where disease was contracted, if not at place of death, and former or usual residence.
20. Place of burial or removal; date of burial.
21. Signature and address of undertaker or person acting as such.

The personal and statistical particulars (items one to thirteen) shall be authenticated by the signature of the informant, who may be any competent person acquainted with the facts.

The statement of facts relating to the disposition of the body shall be signed by the undertaker or person acting as such.

The medical certificate shall be made and signed by the physician, if any, who last treated the deceased for the disease or injury which caused death, and such physician shall specify the time in attendance, the time he last saw the deceased alive, and the hour of the day at which death occurred, and he shall further state the cause of death, so as to show the course of disease or sequence of causes resulting in the death, giving first the name of the disease causing death (primary cause), and the contributory (secondary) cause, if any, and the duration of each. Indefinite and unsatisfactory terms, denoting only symptoms of disease or conditions resulting from disease, will not be held sufficient for the issuance of a burial or removal permit; and any certificate containing any such indefinite or unsatisfactory terms, as defined by the state registrar, shall be returned to the physician or person making the medical certificate for correction and more definite statement. Causes of death, which may be the result of either disease or violence, shall be carefully defined; and if from violence, the means of injury shall be stated, and whether (probably) accidental, suicidal, or homicidal. In deaths in hospitals, institutions, or of nonresidents, the physician shall supply the information required under subsection 18 above, if he is able to do so, and may state where, in his opinion, the disease was contracted. (1913, c. 109, s. 7.)

§ 7095. Death without medical attendance; duty of undertaker and officials.—In case of death occurring without medical attendance, it shall be the duty of the undertaker or person acting as such to notify the local registrar of such death, and when so notified the registrar shall, prior to the issuance of the permit, inform the local health officer and refer the case to him for immediate investigation and certification. When the local health officer is not a qualified physician, or when the death takes place in a township registration district, or where there is no such official, and in such cases only, the registrar is authorized to make the certificate and return from the statement of relatives or other persons having adequate knowledge of the facts. If the registrar has reason to believe that the death had been due to unlawful act or neglect, he shall refer the case to the coroner or other proper officer for investigation and certification, who shall make the certificate of death required for a burial permit, stating therein the name of the disease causing death; or, if from external causes, (1) the means of death, and (2) whether (probably) accidental, suicidal, or homicidal; and shall, in any case, furnish such information as may be required by the state registrar in order properly to classify the death. (1913, c. 109, s. 8.)

§ 7096. Undertaker to file death certificate and obtain permit.—The undertaker or person acting as undertaker shall file the certificate of death with the local registrar of the district in which the death occurred, and obtain a burial or removal permit, prior to any disposition of the body. He shall obtain the required personal and statistical particulars from the person best qualified to supply them, over the signature and address of his informant, and shall present the certificate to the attending physician, if any, or to the health officer or coroner, as directed by the local registrar, for the medical certificate of the cause of death and other particulars necessary to complete the record, as specified in sections 7094 and 7095. He shall then state the facts required relative to the date and place of burial, over his signature and with his address, and present the completed certificate to the local registrar in order to obtain a permit for burial, removal, or other disposition of the body. He shall deliver the burial permit to the person in charge of the place of burial, before interring or otherwise disposing of the body; or shall attach the removal permit to the box containing the corpse, when shipped by any transportation company, this permit to accompany the corpse to its destination, where, if within the state, it shall be delivered to the person in charge of the place of burial. (1913, c. 109, s. 9.)

§ 7098. Permit for burial in state.—If the interment, or other disposition of the body is to be made within the state, the wording of the burial or removal permit may be limited to a statement by the registrar, over his signature, that a satisfactory certificate of death having been filed with him, as required by law, permission is granted to inter, remove, or dispose otherwise of the body, stating the name, age, sex, cause of death, and other necessary details upon the form prescribed by the state registrar. (1913, c. 109, s. 10.)

§ 7099. Interment without permit forbidden.—No person in charge of any premises in which interments are made shall inter or permit the interment or other disposition of any body unless it is accompanied by a burial, removal, or transit permit, as herein provided. Such person shall endorse upon the permit the date of interment, over his signature, and shall return all permits so endorsed to the local registrar of his district within ten days from the date of interment. He shall also keep a record of all bodies interred or otherwise disposed of on the premises under his charge, in each case stating the name of each deceased person, place of death, date of burial or disposal, and name and address of the undertaker; which record shall at all times be open to official inspection. When burying a body in a cemetery or burial ground having no person in charge, the undertaker, or person acting as such, shall sign the burial or removal permit, giving the date of burial, and shall write across the face of the permit the words "No person in charge," and file the burial or removal permit within ten days with the registrar of the district in which the cemetery is located. (1913, c. 109, s. 11.)

§ 7100. Registration of births. — The birth of every child born in this state shall be registered as hereinafter provided. (1913, c. 109, s. 12.)

§ 7101. Birth certificate to be filed within five days.—Within five days after the date of each birth there shall be filed with the local registrar of the district in which the birth occurred a certificate of such birth, which certificate shall be upon the form adopted by the state board of health with a view of procuring a full and accurate report with respect to each item of information enumerated in the following section. Where a physician, midwife, or person acting as midwife, was in attendance upon the birth, it shall be the duty of such person to file the required certificate. Where there was no physician, midwife, or person acting as midwife, in attendance upon the birth, it shall be the duty of the father or mother of the child, the householder or owner of the premises where the birth occurred, or the manager or superintendent of the public or private institution where the birth occurred, each in the order named, within five days after the date of the birth, to report the fact to the local registrar. In such case and in case the physician, midwife, or person acting as midwife, in attendance is unable, by diligent inquiry, to obtain any of the items specified in the following section, it is the duty of the local registrar to secure from the person reporting the birth, or from any other person who knows the facts, information to enable him to prepare the required certificate of birth, and it is the duty of the person questioned to answer correctly to the best of his knowledge all such questions, and to verify his statement by his signature, when requested to do so by the local registrar. (1913, c. 109, s. 13; 1915, c. 85, s. 1.)

§ 7102. Contents of birth certificate.—The certificate of birth shall contain the following items, which are hereby declared necessary for the legal, social, and sanitary purposes subserved by registration records:

1. Place of birth, including state, county, township or town, village or city. If in a city, the ward, street, and house number; if in a hospital or other institution, the name of the same to be given, instead of the street and house number.

2. Full name of child. If the child dies without a name before the certificate is filed, enter the surname preceded by "Unnamed." If the living child has not yet been named at the date of filing certificate of birth, the space for "full name of child" is to be left blank, to be filled out subsequently by a supplemental report, as hereinafter provided.

3. Sex of child.

4. Whether a twin, triplet, or other plural birth. A separate certificate shall be required for each child in case of plural births.

5. For plural births, number of each child in order of birth.

6. Legitimate or illegitimate: Provided, that in illegitimate births the word "illegitimate" shall be written across the face of the certificate and all items on the certificate which would in any way reveal the identity of the father, mother, or illegitimate child itself shall be omitted.

7. Date of birth, including the year, month, and day.

8. Full name of father: Provided, that if the child is illegitimate, the name of the putative father shall not be entered without his consent, but the other particulars relating to the putative father (items nine to thirteen) may be entered if known, otherwise as "Unknown."

9. Residence of father.

10. Color or race of father.

11. Educational attainments—illiterate, able to read and write, common school education or equivalent, high school education or equivalent, college education or equivalent.

12. Age of father at last birthday, in years.

13. Birthplace of father; at least state or foreign country, if known.

14. Occupation of father. The occupation to be reported if engaged in any remunerative employment, with the statement of (a) trade, profession, or particular kind of work; (b) general nature of industry, business, or establishment in which employed (or employer).

15. Maiden name of mother.

16. Residence of mother.

17. Color or race of mother.

18. Educational attainments—illiterate, able to read and write, common school education or equivalent, high school education or equivalent, college education or equivalent.

19. Age of mother at last birthday, in years.

20. Birthplace of mother; at least state or foreign country, if known.

21. Occupation of mother. The occupation to be reported if engaged in any remunerative employment, with the statement of (a) trade, profession, or particular kind of work; (b) general nature of industry, business, or establishment in which employed (or employer).

22. Number of children born to this mother, including present birth.

23. Number of children of this mother living.

24. The certification of attending physician or midwife as to attendance at birth, including statement of year, month, day (as given in item seven), and hour of birth, and whether the child was born alive or stillborn. This certification shall be signed by the attending physician or midwife, with date of signature and address; if there is no physician or midwife in attendance, then by the father or mother of the child, householder, owner of the premises, or manager or superintendent of public or private institution where the birth occurred, or other competent person, each in the order named, whose duty it shall be to notify the local registrar of such birth, as required by section 7101.

25. Exact date of filing in office of local registrar, attested by his official signature, and registered number of birth, as hereinafter provided. (1913, c. 109, s. 14.)

§ 7104. Institutions to keep records of inmates.—All superintendents or managers, or other persons in charge of hospitals, almshouses, lying-in or other institutions, public or private, to which persons resort for treatment of diseases, confinement, or are committed by process of law, shall make a record of all the personal and statistical particulars relative to the inmates in their institutions at the date of approval of this article, which are required in the forms of the certificates provided for by this article, as directed by the state registrar; and thereafter such record shall be, by them, made for all future inmates at the time of their admittance. In case of persons admitted or committed for treatment of disease, the physician in charge shall specify for entry in the record the nature of the disease, and where, in his opinion, it was contracted. The personal particulars and information required by this section shall be obtained from the individual himself if it is practicable to do so; and when they cannot be so obtained, they shall be obtained in as complete a manner as possible from relatives, friends, or other persons acquainted with the facts. (1913, c. 109, s. 16.)

See note 13 N. C. Law Rev., 326, 328, on "Admissibility of Medical Records in Evidence."

§ 7105. State registrar to supply blanks; to perfect and preserve birth certificate.—The state registrar shall prepare, have printed, and supply to all registrars all blanks and forms used in registering, recording, and preserving the returns, or in otherwise carrying out the purposes of this article; and shall prepare and issue such detailed instructions as may be required to procure the uniform observance of its provisions and the maintenance of a perfect system of registration; and no other blanks shall be used than those supplied by the state registrar. He shall carefully examine the certificates received monthly from the local registrars, and if any such are incomplete or unsatisfactory he shall require such further information to be supplied as may be necessary to make the record complete and satisfactory. And all physicians, midwives, informants, or undertakers, and all other persons having knowledge of the facts, are hereby required to supply, upon a form provided by the state registrar or upon the original certificate, such information as they may possess regarding any birth or death upon demand of the state registrar, in person, by mail, or through the local registrar. No certificate of birth or death, after its acceptance for registration by the local registrar, and no other record made in pursuance of this article, shall be altered or changed in any respect otherwise than by amendments properly dated, signed, and witnessed. The state registrar shall further arrange, bind, and permanently preserve the certificates in a systematic manner, and shall prepare and maintain a comprehensive and continuous card index of all births and deaths registered, such index to be arranged alphabetically, in the case of deaths, by the names of decedents, and in the case of births, by the names of fathers and mothers. (1913, c. 109, s. 17.)

§ 7106. To inform registrars as to dangerous diseases.—He shall inform all registrars what diseases are to be considered infectious, contagious, or communicable and dangerous to the public health, as decided by the state board of health, in order that when deaths occur from such diseases proper precautions may be taken to prevent their spread. (1913, c. 109, s. 17.)

§ 7107. Birth certificate as evidence.—At the expiration of five years after the ratification of this article, certified copies of birth registration certificates shall be accepted by public school authorities in this state as prima facie evidence of age of children registering for school attendance, and no other proof shall be required. At the expiration of fourteen years from the passage of this article certified copies of birth registration certificates shall be required by all factory inspectors, and employers of youthful labor, as prima facie proof of age, and no other proof shall be required from children born in this state or states which for fourteen years previous to the date of such certificate have had registration laws essentially identical with this article. When, however, it is not possible to secure such certified copy of birth registration certificate for any child, the school authorities and factory inspectors may accept as secondary proof of age any competent evidence by which the age of persons is usually established. (1913, c. 109, s. 17.)

§ 7108. Church and other records filed and indexed; fees for transcript.—If any cemetery company or association, or any church or historical society or association, or any other company, society, or association, or any individual, is in possession of any record of births or deaths which may be of value in establishing the genealogy of any resident of this state, such company, society, association, or individual may file such record or a duly authenticated transcript thereof with the state registrar, and it shall be the duty of the state registrar to preserve such record or transcript and to make a record and index thereof in such form as to facilitate the finding of any information contained therein. Such record and index shall be open to inspection by the public, subject to such reasonable conditions as the state registrar may prescribe. If any person desires a transcript of any record filed in accordance herewith, the state registrar shall furnish the same upon application, together with a certificate that it is a true copy of such record, as filed in his office, and for his services in so furnishing such transcript and certificate he shall be entitled to a fee of (fifty cents per hour or fraction of an hour necessarily consumed in making such transcript) and to a fee of fifty cents for the certificate, which fees shall be paid by the applicant. (1913, c. 109, s. 17.)

§ 7109. Duties of local registrar as to certificates; reports.—Each local registrar shall supply blank forms of certificates to such persons as require them. Each local registrar shall carefully examine each certificate of birth or death when presented for record in order to ascertain whether or not it has been made out in accordance with the provisions of this article and the instructions of the state registrar; and if any certificate of death is incomplete or unsatisfactory, it shall be his duty to call attention to the defects in the return, and to withhold the burial or removal permit until such defects are corrected. All certificates, either of birth or of death, shall be written legibly, in durable black ink, and no certificate shall be held to be complete and correct that does not supply all of the items of information called for therein, or satisfactorily account for their omission. If the certificate of death is properly executed and complete, he shall then issue a burial or removal permit to the undertaker: Provided, that in case the death occurred from some disease which is held by the state board of health to be infectious, contagious, or communicable and dangerous to the public health, no permit for the removal or other disposition of the body shall be issued by the registrar, except under such conditions as may be prescribed by the state board of health. If a certificate of birth is incomplete the local registrar shall immediately notify the informant, and require him to supply the missing items of information if they can be obtained. He shall number consecutively the certificates of birth and death, in two separate series, beginning with number one for the first birth and the first death in each calendar year, and sign his name as registrar in attest of the date of filing in his office. He shall also make a complete and accurate copy of each birth and each death certificate registered by him in a record book supplied by the state registrar, which record book the local registrar shall deposit with the register of deeds of the county not later than the fifteenth of February each year. And the register of deeds shall make and keep an index, the form of which shall be of the births and deaths that have occurred in the county, and these records shall be open at all times to official inspection. And he shall, on the fifth day of each month, transmit to the state registrar all original certificates registered by him for the preceding month. And if no births or no deaths occurred in any month the local registrar shall, on the fifth day of the following month, report that fact to the state registrar, on a card provided for such purpose. (1931, c. 109, s. 18; 1915, c. 85, s. 2; 1915, c. 164, s. 2; Ex. Sess. 1920, c. 58, s. 1; 1931, c. 79; 1933, c. 9, s. 1.)

Editor's Note.—By amendment Ex. Sess. 1920, ch. 58, sec. 1 the date for depositing record books with the registers of deeds was changed from not later than January fifteenth to not later than February fifteenth.

The Act of 1931 inserted before the last sentence the following: "and he shall at the same time transmit to the Register of Deeds of the county in which such birth or death occurred an exact copy of each such certificate."

Public Laws of 1933, c. 9, omitted a provision, formerly appearing at the end of the next to the last sentence, that the registrar shall transmit an exact copy of the certificate to the register of deeds.

§ 7109(a). Delivery of data to health officer.—Each local registrar of vital statistics serving in any county or municipality of North Carolina in which there is employed a wholetime county or municipal health officer shall, on or before the fifth day of each month, deliver by mail or in person to the health officer of his respective county or municipality such data from birth and death certificates filed with such local registrar during the preceding calendar month as may be needed in the proper execution of the duties of the said whole-time county or municipal health officer, and as authorized by the State Registrar of Vital Statistics.

All forms necessary for the use of local registrars in complying with this section shall be supplied, without charge, by the State Registrar of Vital Statistics.

Any local registrar who shall fail, neglect, or refuse to perform the duties required by this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined not exceeding fifty dollars ($50.00). (1925, c. 53.)

§ 7110. Pay of local registrars.—Each local registrar shall be paid the sum of fifty cents for each birth certificate and each death certificate properly and completely made out and registered with him, correctly recorded and promptly returned by him to the state registrar, as required by this article. And in case no births or deaths were registered during any month, the local registrar shall be entitled to be paid the sum of fifty cents for each report to that effect, but only if such report be made promptly as required by this article. The compensation of local registrars for services required of them by this article shall be paid by the county treasurers for registration work outside of incorporated municipalities, and by the town or city treasurer for registration work in incorporated municipalities. The state registrar shall certify every six months to the treasurers of the several counties and incorporated municipalities the number of births and deaths properly registered, with the names of the local registrars and the amounts due each at the rates fixed herein. (1913, c. 109, s. 19; Ex. Sess. 1913, c. 15, s. 1; 1915, c. 85, s. 3; 1919, c. 210, s. 1; Ex. Sess. 1920, c. 58, s. 2.)

Editor's Note.—By amendment, Ex. Sess. 1920, ch. 58, sec. 2, the compensation for each certificate and report was raised from twenty-five cents to fifty cents.

§ 7111. Certified copy of records; fee.—The state registrar shall, upon request, supply to any applicant a certified copy of the record of any birth or death registered under provisions of this article, for the making and certification of which he shall be entitled to a fee of fifty cents, to be paid by the applicant. The United States census bureau may, however, obtain, without expense to the state, transcripts or certified copies of births and deaths without payment of the fees herein prescribed, and for transcripts so furnished the state registrar may receive from the census bureau such compensation for this service, not exceeding two cents for each certificate, as the state board of health may approve. Any copy of the record of a birth or death, properly certified by the state registrar, shall be prima facie evidence in all courts and places of the facts therein stated. For any search of the files and records when no certified copy is made, the state registrar shall be entitled to a fee of fifty cents for each hour or fractional part of an hour of time of search, said fee to be paid by the applicant. And the state registrar shall keep a true and correct account of all fees by him received under these provisions, and turn the same over to the treasurer of the state board of health. (1913, c. 109, s. 20; Ex. Sess. 1913, c. 15, s. 2; 1919, c. 145, s. 25.)

§ 7111(a). Information furnished to officers of American Legion.—Upon application to the Bureau of Vital Statistics made by the Adjutant or any officer of a local post of the American Legion, it shall be the duty of the Bureau of Vital Statistics to furnish immediately to such applicant the vital statistical records and necessary copies thereof, made up in the necessary forms for the use of such applicant, without charge. This section shall apply only to ex-soldiers of the World War and members of their families and/or beneficiaries under Government insurance or adjusted compensation certificate issued to such ex-soldier. (1931, c. 318.)

§ 7112. Violations of article; penalty.—Any person, who for himself or as an officer, agent, or employee of any other person, or of any corporation or partnership, shall do or omit any of the following acts:

1. Inter, cremate, or otherwise finally dispose of the dead body of a human being, or permit the same to be done, or shall remove said body from the primary registration district in which the death occurred or the body was found, without the authority of a burial or removal permit issued by the local registrar of the district in which the death occurred or in which the body was found;

2. Refuse or fail to furnish correctly any information in his possession, or shall furnish false information affecting any certificate or record, required by this article;

3. Wilfully alter, otherwise than as provided by section 7105, or shall falsify any certificate of birth or death, or any record established by this article;

4. Being required by this article to fill out a certificate of birth or death and file the same with the local registrar, or deliver it, upon request, to any person charged with the duty of filing the same, shall fail, neglect or refuse to perform such duty in the manner required;

5. Being a state registrar, a chairman of a board of county commissioners, a mayor of a city or town, a local registrar, a deputy registrar, or sub-registrar, shall fail, neglect, or refuse to perform his duty as required by this article and by the instructions and direction of the state registrar thereunder, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall for the first offense be fined not less than five dollars nor more than fifty dollars, and for each subsequent offense not less than ten dollars nor more than fifty dollars, or be imprisoned in the county jail not more than thirty days. (1913, c. 109, s. 21; 1919, c. 210, s. 2.)

§ 7113. Duties of registrars and others in enforcing this article.—Each local registrar is hereby charged with the strict and thorough enforcement of the provisions of this article in his registration district, under the supervision and direction of the state registrar. He shall make an immediate report to the state registrar of any violation of this article coming to his knowledge, by observation or upon complaint of any person or otherwise.

The state registrar is hereby charged with the thorough and efficient execution of the provisions of this article in every part of the state, and is hereby granted supervisory power over local registrars, deputy local registrars, and sub-registrars, to the end that all of its requirements shall be uniformly complied with. The state registrar, either personally or through an accredited representative, shall have authority to investigate cases of irregularity or violation of this article, and all registrars shall aid him, upon request, in such investigations. When he shall deem it necessary, he shall report cases of violation of the provisions of this article to the prosecuting attorney of the county, or the solicitor of the district, with a statement of the facts and circumstances; and when any such case is reported to him by the state registrar, the prosecuting attorney or solicitor of the district, as the case may be, shall forthwith initiate and promptly follow up the necessary court proceedings against the person or corporation responsible for the alleged violation of law. Upon request of the state registrar, the attorney-general shall likewise assist in the enforcement of the provisions of this article. (1913, c. 109, s. 22.)

§ 7114. Appropriations.—For the purposes of the thorough execution of this article the sum of ten thousand dollars, or as much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby annually appropriated to be paid by the state auditor on requisition signed by the president and secretary of the state board of health. (1913, c. 109, s. 23; 1915, c. 62.)

§ 7115. Local systems abrogated.—No systems for the registration of births and deaths shall be continued or maintained in any of the several municipalities of this state other than the one provided for and established by this article. (1913, c. 109, s. 24.)

SUBCHAPTER IIA. STATISTICS RELATING TO THE BLIND.

Art. 6A. Compilation and Report to General Assembly

§ 7115(a). County officials directed to compile statistics. — It shall be the duty of the chairman of the board of commissioners of each county of the State, with the assistance of the County Superintendent of Public Welfare and the County Health Officer, to inquire into and compile statistics concerning the number of blind persons and persons suffering with impaired visions likely to produce total blindness in each county, the ages of the same, their education and station in life, the cause of their blindness, and such other and further facts concerning the blind as the Superintendent of the State School for the Blind and Deaf at Raleigh shall deem expedient and necessary in order that facts and figures concerning the blind and persons suffering with impaired visions likely to produce total blindness may be available for the General Assembly of one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three; and that said statistics be reported to said Superintendent of School for the Blind and Deaf by the said chairman of the board of county commissioners of each county by July first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-two. (1931, c. 155, s. 1.)

§ 7115(b). Statistics to be reported to General Assembly. — The Superintendent of the State School for the Blind and Deaf shall report to the one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three session of the General Assembly the summarized statistics of each respective county report, and shall make to the General Assembly at that time such recommendations as he may desire for the betterment of the blind of the State to the end that some constructive program of legislation may be adopted toward the further rehabilitation of the blind and toward the further prevention of blindness in the State. (1931, c. 155, s. 2.)

SUBCHAPTER III. SANITATION AND PROTECTION OF PUBLIC

Art. 7. Water Protection

§ 7116. Persons supplying water to protect its purity.—In the interest of the public health, every person, company, or municipal corporation or agency thereof selling water to the public for drinking and household purposes shall take every reasonable precaution to protect from contamination and assure the healthfulness of such water, and any provisions in any charters heretofore granted to such persons, companies, or municipal corporations in conflict with the provisions of this article are hereby repealed. (Rev., s. 3058; 1899, c. 670, s. 1; 1903, c. 159, s. 1; 1911, c. 62, s. 24.)

See § 7123 and note thereto.

§ 7117. Board of health to control and examine waters; rules; penalties.—The state board of health shall have the general oversight and care of all inland waters, and shall from time to time, as it may deem advisable, cause examinations of said waters and their sources and surroundings to be made for the purpose of ascertaining whether the same are adapted for use as water supplies for drinking and other domestic purposes, or are in a condition likely to impair the interests of the public or of persons lawfully using the same, or to imperil the public health. For the purpose aforesaid, it may employ such expert assistants as may be necessary. The said board shall make such reasonable rules and regulations as in its judgment may be necessary to prevent contamination and to secure other purifications as may be required to safeguard the public health. Any individual, firm, corporation, or municipality, or person responsible for the management of water supply, failing to comply with said rules and regulations, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined or imprisoned, or both, at the discretion of the court. (1911, c. 62, s. 24.)

§ 7118. Systems of water supply and sewerage; plans submitted; penalties.—The state board of health shall from time to time consult with and advise the boards of all state institutions, the authorities of cities and towns, corporations, or firms already having or intending to introduce systems of water supply, drainage or sewerage, as to the most appropriate source of supply, the best practical method of assuring the purity thereof, or of disposing of their drainage or sewage, having regard to the present and prospective needs and interests of other cities, towns, corporations, or firms which may be affected thereby. All such boards of directors, authorities, corporations, and firms are hereby required to give notice to said board of their intentions in the premises and to submit for its advice outlines of their proposed plans or schemes in relation to water supplies and disposal of sewage, and no contract shall be entered into by any state institution or town for the introduction of a system of water supply or sewage disposal until said advice shall have been received, considered, and approved by the said board. For the purpose of carrying out the general provisions of this and the preceding sections, every municipal or private corporation, company, or individual supplying or authorized to supply water for drinking or other domestic purposes to the public shall file with the secretary of the state board of health, within ninety days after the receipt of notice from said secretary, certified plans and surveys, in duplicate, pertaining to the source from which the water is derived, the possible source of infections thereof, and the means in use for the purification thereof, in accordance with the directions to be furnished by the said secretary. Failure on the part of any individual, firm, corporation, or municipality to comply with this section shall be a misdemeanor, and upon conviction those responsible therefor shall be fined not less than fifty dollars nor more than one hundred dollars, at the discretion of the court. (1911, c. 62, s. 24.)

§ 7119. Condemnation of lands for water supply.—All municipalities operating water systems and sewer systems, and all water companies operating under charter from the state or license from municipalities, which may maintain public water supplies, may acquire by condemnation such lands and rights in lands and water as are necessary for the successful operation and protection of their plants, said proceedings to be the same as prescribed by law under the chapter Eminent Domain. (Rev., s. 3060; 1903, c. 159, s. 16; 1905, c. 287, s. 2; c. 544; 1911, c. 62, s. 25.)

§ 7120. Compensation for land.—If damages shall be claimed for the use of such lands, and the parties cannot agree as to the amount of compensation to be paid, they may proceed in the manner now provided by law under the chapter Eminent Domain. (1911, c. 62, s. 27.)

§ 7121. Inspection of watersheds.—The municipality or water company shall have quarterly sanitary inspections made of the entire watershed of any waterworks that derives its water from a surface supply, except in those cases where the supply is taken from large creeks or rivers that have a minimum daily flow of ten million gallons, in which case the inspection shall apply to the fifteen miles of watershed above the waterworks intake. Whenever in the opinion of the board of health of the city or town to which the water is supplied, or, where there is no such local board of health, in the opinion of the county board of health, or county physician or county health officer, or in the opinion of the state board of health, there is special reason to apprehend the infection of the water from any particular locality by the germs of typhoid fever or cholera, then the municipality or water company shall cause to be made at least once in every week a sanitary inspection of that particular locality. The inspection of the entire watershed as herein provided for shall include a particular examination of the premises of every inhabited house on the watershed, and, in passing from house to house, a general inspection for dead bodies of animals or accumulations of filth. It is not intended that the term "entire watershed" shall include uninhabited fields and wooded tracts that are free from suspicion. The sanitary inspector shall give in person to the head of each household on the watershed, or, in his absence, to some member of the household, the necessary directions for the proper sanitary care of his premises, and shall deliver to each family residing on the watershed such literature on pertinent sanitary subjects as may be supplied him by the municipal health officer or by the secretary of the state board of health. Full report in duplicate of all such inspections shall be made promptly by the sanitary inspector to the secretary of the state board of health, and their accuracy certified to by the affidavit of the inspector.

The authorities of any town or city that makes use of a public surface water supply or the officers of a public surface water supply company may make such additional inspections as such officials may deem necessary. (Rev., ss. 3045, 3046; 1899, c. 670; 1903, c. 159, s. 2; 1911, c. 62, s. 28; 1919, c. 71, s. 14; Ex. Sess. 1921, c. 49, s. 1.)

As to inspection by water companies, see sec. 7142; as to discharge of sewerage into water supply, see sec. 2125.

Editor's Note.—By amendment, Ex. Sess. 1921, ch. 49, sec. 1, it was provided that the inspection should be by the municipality or water company. Formerly this duty was on the state board of health.

Cited in Hudson v. Morganton, 205 N. C. 353, 355, 171 S. E. 329.

§ 7122. Inspectors may enter premises.—Each sanitary inspector is authorized and empowered to enter upon any premises and into any building upon his respective watershed for the purpose of making the inspections required. (Rev., s. 3050; 1899, c. 670, s. 8; 1903, c. 159, s. 10; 1911, c. 62, s. 30.)

§ 7123. Control of residents on watersheds.—Every person residing or owning property on the watershed of a lake, pond, or stream from which a drinking supply is obtained shall carry out such reasonable instructions as may be furnished him in the matter hereinbefore set forth directly by the municipal health officer or by the state board of health. Any one refusing or neglecting to comply with the requirements of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and fined not less than ten nor more than fifty dollars, or imprisoned for not less than ten nor more than thirty days. (Rev., ss. 3049, 3859; 1903, c. 159, s. 7; 1911, c. 62, s. 31.)

If the instructions as to sanitation required by this section are not furnished, one is not subject to a penalty, since this is a condition precedent to the enforcement of this section. Hudson v. Morganton, 205 N. C. 353, 355, 171 S. E. 329.

It is not necessary to allege that defendant owned or lived upon the land embraced in the municipal watershed, to state a cause of action under this section and § 7116. Morganton v. Hudson, 207 N. C. 360, 177 S. E. 169.

§ 7124. Defiling water supply misdemeanor.—If any person shall defile, corrupt, or make impure any well, spring, drain, branch, brook, creek, or other source of public water supply by collecting and depositing human excreta on the watershed, or depositing or allowing to remain the body of a dead animal on the watershed, or in any other manner, and if any person shall destroy or injure any pipe, conductor of water, or other property pertaining to an aqueduct, or shall aid and abet therein, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. (Rev., ss. 3457, 3857; Code, s. 1114; R. C., c. 34, s. 97; 1893, c. 214; 1850, c. 104; 1903, c. 159, s. 12; 1911, c. 62, s. 32.)

§ 7125. Discharge of sewage into water supply prohibited.—No person, firm, corporation, or municipality shall flow or discharge sewage above the intake into any drain, brook, creek, or river from which a public drinking-water supply is taken, unless the same shall have been passed through some well-known system of sewage purification approved by the state board of health; and the continued flow and discharge of such sewage may be enjoined upon application of any person.

If any person, firm, or corporation, or officer of any municipality having a sewerage system in charge shall violate the provisions of this section he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. (Rev., ss. 3051, 3858; 1903, c. 159, s. 13; 1911, c. 62, ss. 33, 34.)

Constitutionality.—This section is not unconstitutional as a taking of property without condemnation and without compensation, but is a valid exercise of the police power of the State to secure the public health. Durham v. Eno Cotton Mills, 141 N. C. 615, 54 S. E. 453; Shelby v. Cleveland Mill, etc., Co., 155 N. C. 196, 71 S. E. 218; North Carolina State Board v. Commissioners, 173 N. C. 250, 91 S. E. 1019.

Sewerage Defined.—The meaning of "sewerage," under this section, is confined to the liquid and solid matter flowing from the water-closets through the sewer and drain. Durham v. Eno Cotton Mills, 144 N. C. 705, 57 S. E. 465.

Dyestuff of fecal matter from privies, which were not passed through sewer to the river from which water supply was received does not come within the meaning of this section. Durham v. Eno Cotton Mills, 144 N. C. 705, 57 S. E. 465.

This section does not impose the mandatory duty upon the trial judge of enjoining a municipality from discharging raw sewage into a stream from which another municipality takes its water supply, and where the order prayed for would cause untold hardship upon the inhabitants of defendant municipality, the court's order denying the injunctive relief but providing that the judgment should not prevent the bringing of another suit for the same relief upon a change in the fundamental conditions, will be upheld on appeal. Smithfield v. Raleigh, 207 N. C. 597, 178 S. E. 114.

And Surrounding Facts Are to Be Considered. — The words "may be enjoined" as used in this section, clearly demonstrate that surrounding facts and circumstances must be considered in entering a peremptory order of injunctive relief. Smithfield v. Raleigh, 207 N. C. 597, 600, 178 S. E. 114.

Injurious Effects Unnecessary.—An injunction will issue under this section against emptying sewerage into a river, without proof of any injurious effect on plaintiff's water supply. Durham v. Eno Cotton Mills, 144 N. C. 705, 57 S. E. 465.

No Right by Prescription Acquired.—The unlawful emptying of untreated sewage into a stream without hindrance or question on the part of the health authorities or others, cannot confer upon a town the right to continue emptying therein contrary to the express provision of the statutes, or acquire for it a prescriptive right as against the public, however long the same may have continued; nor can the town acquire a vested right therein to defeat the enforcement of the provisions of the statute subsequently passed. North Carolina State Board v. Commissioners, 173 N. C. 250, 91 S. E. 1019.

Nor can title be lost to the public by non-user, unless by legislative enactment. Shelby v. Cleveland Mill, etc., Co., 155 N. C. 196, 197, 71 S. E. 218.

No Special Treatment for Sewage Prescribed.—This section does not require that an arbitrary or fixed method of treating sewage before emptying into a stream, etc., should be established in advance, but that the defendant confer with the State Board of Health and obtain and follow the reasonable requirements prescribed for the conditions presented. North Carolina State Board v. Commissioners, 173 N. C. 250, 91 S. E. 1019.

Not Confined to Watershed Distance.—This section is not confined to the watershed of 15 miles above the intake as defined in section 7121, but extends beyond 15 miles from the intake of any stream from which water is taken to be supplied to the public for drinking purposes. Durham v. Eno Cotton Mills, 141 N. C. 615, 54 S. E. 453. In case of menace to a lower town seventy-five miles below the place where the sewer empties, an injunction will be granted. North Carolina State Board v. Commissioners, 173 N. C. 250, 91 S. E. 1019.

Action by Secretary of the State Board of Health.—In a suit to enjoin a town from emptying untreated sewage into a stream, the Secretary of the State Board of Health, in his individual name, comes within the meaning of the statute, that the act "may be enjoined on the application of any person," and the question is not presented as to the authority of the board, acting as such, to maintain the action. North Carolina State Board v. Commissioners, 173 N. C. 250, 91 S. E. 1019.

§ 7126. Cemeteries on watersheds forbidden. —No burying ground or cemetery shall be established on the watershed of any public water supply nearer than five hundred yards of the source of supply, nor in violation of the rules and regulations of the state board of health as authorized by this article. (Rev., s. 3053; 1903, c. 159, s. 15.)

§ 7127. Water supply of communities without sewerage systems.—All schools, hamlets, villages, towns, or industrial settlements which are now located or may be hereafter located on the shed of any public water supply not provided with a sewerage system shall provide and maintain a reasonable system approved by the state board of health for collecting and disposing of all accumulations of human excrement within their respective jurisdiction or control. Any one refusing or neglecting to comply with the requirements of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and fined not less than ten dollars nor more than fifty dollars, or imprisoned for not less than ten nor more than thirty days. (Rev., ss. 3052, 3860; 1903, c. 159, s. 14; 1907, c. 585; 1911, c. 62, s. 35.)

When Injunction Granted.—An injunction will not be granted under this section except when it is shown that there are special damages, or that such conditions existed as to render the water unfit for the usage to which it was applied. Durham v. Eno Cotton Mills, 144 N. C. 705, 57 S. E. 465.

§ 7128. Damage to private water supply misdemeanor.—If any person shall wilfully put into the well, spring, or cistern of water of any other person any substance or thing whereby such well, spring, or cistern may be endamaged, or the water thereof be made less wholesome or fit for use, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. (Rev., s. 3456; Code, s. 1114; R. C., c. 34, s. 97; 1850, c. 104.)

§ 7128(a). Coöperation of counties with state in making water resource survey.—The board of county commissioners of any county of North Carolina is authorized and empowered, in their discretion, to coöperate with the North Carolina geological and economic survey or other association, organizations, or corporation in making surveys of any of the natural resources of their county, and to appropriate and pay out of the funds under their control such proportional part of the cost of such survey as they may deem proper and just. (1921, c. 208.)

Art. 7A. State Housing Law

§ 7128(2). Public interest demands housing for families of low income. — It is hereby declared that it is necessary in the public interest to make provision for housing for families of low income, and that, the providing of such housing being now otherwise impossible, it is essential that provision be made for the investment of private and public funds at low interest rates, the acquisition at fair prices of adequate parcels of land and the construction of new housing facilities under public supervision in accord with proper standards of sanitation and safety, at a cost which will permit their rental or sale at prices which families of low income can afford to pay. Therefore, there are created and established the agencies and instrumentalities hereinafter prescribed which are declared to be the agencies and instrumentalities of the state for the purpose of attaining the ends herein recited, and their necessity in the public interest is hereby declared a matter of legislative determination. (1933, c. 384, s. 2.)

§ 7128(3). State board of housing created. — There is hereby created a state board of housing of the state of North Carolina, which will consist of five (5) members, to be appointed by the governor. Two of the five members shall be appointed for two years, and three for four years, and at the expiration of these terms their successors shall be appointed for a term of four years. All vacancies which may occur for any unexpired term shall be filled by the governor. The members of the board shall receive no salary, but shall be entitled to the necessary traveling and other expenses incurred in the discharges of their duties. (1933, c. 384, s. 3.)

§ 7128(4). Choosing officers and employees. — The members of the board shall choose from among their number a chairman and vice-chairman, and the board may appoint such other officers and employees, including a secretary, as it may require, for the performance of its duties, and shall fix and determine their qualifications, duties and salaries. (1933, c. 384, s. 4.)

§ 7128(5). Approval of housing projects.—No housing project proposed by a limited dividend housing corporation incorporated under this article shall be undertaken, and no building or other construction shall be placed under contract or started without the approval of the board. No housing project shall be approved by the board unless:

(a) It shall appear practicable to rent or sell the housing accommodations to be created at prices not exceeding those prescribed by the board. No such project shall be approved in contravention of any zoning or building ordinance in effect in the locality in which designated areas are located.

(b) There shall be submitted to the board a financial plan in such form and with such assurances as the board may prescribe to raise the actual cost of the lands and projected improvements by subscriptions to or the sale of the stock, income debentures and mortgage bonds of such corporation. Whenever reference is made in this act to cost of projects or of buildings and improvements in projects, such cost shall include charges for financing and supervision approved by the board and carrying charges during construction required in the project including interest on borrowed and, where approved by the board, on invested capital.

(c) There shall be such plans of site development and buildings as show conformity to reasonable standards of health, sanitation, safety and provisions for light and air, accompanied by proper specifications and estimates of cost. Such plans and specification shall not in any case fall below the requirements of the health, sanitation, safety and housing laws of the state and shall meet superior requirements if prescribed by local laws and ordinances.

(d) The corporation agrees to accept a designee of the board of housing as a member of the board of directors of said corporation.

(e) If required by the board, the corporation shall deposit all monies received by it as proceeds of its mortgage bonds, notes, income debentures, or stock, with a trustee which shall be a banking corporation authorized to do business in the state of North Carolina and to perform trust functions, and such trustee shall receive such monies and make payment therefrom for the acquisition of land, the construction of improvements and other items entering into cost of land improvements upon presentation of draft, check or order signed by a proper officer of the corporation, and, if required by the board, countersigned by the said board or a person designated by it for said purpose. Any funds remaining in the custody of said trustee after the completion of the said project and payment or arrangement in a manner satisfactory to the board for payment in full thereof shall be paid to the corporation. (1933, c. 384, s. 5.)

§ 7128(6). Investigation into limited dividend housing corporations.—The board shall have power to investigate into the affairs of limited dividend housing companies, incorporated under this article, and into the dealings, transactions or relationships of such companies with other persons. Any of the investigations provided for in this article may be conducted by the board or by a committee to be appointed by the board consisting of one or more members of the board. Each member of the board or a committee thereof shall have power to administer oaths, take affidavits and to make personal inspections of all places to which their duties relate. The board or a committee thereof shall have power to subpoena and require the attendance of witnesses and the production of books and papers relating to the investigations and inquiries authorized in this article, and to examine them in relation to any matter it has power to investigate, and to issue commissions for the examination of witnesses who are out of the state or unable to attend before the board or excused from attendance. (1933, c. 384, s. 6.)

§ 7128(7). Powers of board as to study of housing conditions and approval of housing projects.—The board is hereby empowered to (a) study housing conditions and needs throughout the state to determine in what areas congested and insanitary housing conditions constitute a menace to the health, safety, morals, welfare and reasonable comfort of the citizens of the state, (b) prepare programs for correcting such conditions, (c) collect and distribute information relating to housing, (d) investigate all matters affecting the cost of construction or production of dwellings, (e) study means of securing economy in the construction and arrangement of buildings, (f) recommend and approve the areas within which or adjacent to which the construction of housing projects by limited dividend housing companies may be undertaken, and (g) cooperate with local housing officials and planning commissions or similar bodies in cities and other localities in developments of projects they at any time may have under consideration. (1933, c. 384, s. 7.)

§ 7128(8). Consolidation of projects. — The board may permit the consolidation of two or more approved projects or the extension or amendment of any approved project or the consolidation of any approved project with a proposed project. In any of these events, the consolidation project shall be treated as an original project and an application shall be submitted as in the case of an original project and rents may be averaged throughout the consolidated or extended project. The board may likewise permit or decline to permit any limited dividend corporation to organize and operate more than one project or to take over any project heretofore approved by the board and to operate it independently of other projects of the corporation. (1933, c. 384, s. 8.)

§ 7128(9). Powers of board over housing corporations.—In pursuance of its power and authority to supervise and regulate the operations of limited dividend housing companies incorporated under this article the board may:

(a) Order any such corporation to make, at its expense, such repairs and improvements as will preserve or promote the health and safety of the occupants of buildings and structures owned or operated by such corporations.

(b) Order all such corporations to do such acts as may be necessary to comply with the provisions of the law, the rules and regulations adopted by the board or by the terms of any project approved by the board, or to refrain from doing any acts in violation thereof.

(c) Examine all such corporations and keep informed as to their general condition, their capitalization and the manner in which their property is constructed, leased, operated or managed.

(d) Either through its members or agents duly authorized by it, enter in or upon and inspect the property, equipment, buildings, plants, offices, apparatus and devices of any such corporation, examine all books, contracts, records, documents and papers of any such corporation and by subpoena duces tecum compel the production thereof.

(e) In its discretion prescribe uniform methods and forms of keeping accounts, records and books to be observed by such companies and to prescribe by order accounts in which particular outlays and receipt shall be entered, charged or credited.

(f) Require every such corporation to file with the board an annual report setting forth such information as the board may require verified by the oath of the president and general manager or receiver if any thereof or by the person required to file the same. Such report shall be in the form, cover the period and be filed at the time prescribed by the board. The board may further require specific answers to questions upon which the board may desire information and may also require such corporation to file periodic reports in the form covering the period and at the time prescribed by the board.

(g) From time to time make, amend and repeal rules and regulations for carrying into effect the provisions of this article. (1933, c. 384, s. 9.)

§ 7128(10). Fixing of rental and purchase prices.—The board shall fix the maximum rental or purchase price to be charged for the housing accommodations furnished by such corporation. Such maximum rental or purchase price shall be determined upon the basis of the actual final cost of the project so as to secure, together with all other income of the corporation, a sufficient income to meet all necessary payments to be made by said corporations, as hereinafter prescribed, and such rental or purchase price shall be subject to revision by the board from time to time. The payments to be made by such corporation shall be (a) all fixed charges, and all operating and maintenance charges and expenses which shall include taxes, assessments, insurance, amortization charges in amounts approved by the board to amortize the mortgage indebtedness in whole or in part, depreciation charges if, when and to the extent deemed necessary by the board; reserves, sinking funds and corporate expenses essential to operation and management of the project in amounts approved by the board. (b) A dividend not exceeding the maximum fixed by this article upon the stock of the corporation allotted to the project by the board. (c) Where feasible in the discretion of the board, a sinking fund in an amount to be fixed by the board for the gradual retirement of the stock, and income debentures of the corporation to the extent permitted by this article.

Letting, subletting or assignment of leases of apartments in such buildings or structures at greater rentals than prescribed by the order of the board are prohibited and all such leases will be voted for all purposes. (1933, c. 384, s. 10.)

§ 7128(11). Reorganization of limited dividend corporations.—(1) Reorganization of limited dividend housing companies shall be subject to the supervision and control of the board and no such reorganization shall be had without the authorization of such board.

(2) Upon all such reorganizations the amount of capitalization, including therein all stocks, income debentures and bonds and other evidence of indebtedness shall be such as is authorized by the board which in making its determination, shall not exceed the fair value of the property involved. (1933, c. 384, s. 11.)

§ 7128(12). Injunction against corporations violating law.—Whenever the board shall be of the opinion that any such limited dividend housing company is failing or omitting, or about to fail or omit, to do anything required of it by law or by order of the board and is doing or about to do anything, or permitting anything or about to permit anything to be done, contrary to or in violation of law or of any order of the board, or which is improvident or prejudicial to the interests of the public, the lienholders or the stockholders, it may commence an action or proceeding in the superior court of the county in which the said company is located, in the name of the board for the purpose of having such violations or threatened violations stopped and prevented by mandatory injunction. The board shall begin such action or proceeding by a petition and complaint to the said superior court, alleging the violation complained of and praying for appropriate relief by way of mandatory injunction. It shall thereupon be the duty of the court to specify the time, not exceeding thirty days after service of a copy of the petition and complaint, within which the corporation complained of must answer the petition and complaint.

In case of default in answer or after answer the court shall immediately inquire into the facts and circumstances in such manner as the court shall direct without other or formal pleadings, and without respect to any technical requirements. Such other persons or corporations as it shall seem to the court necessary or proper to join as parties in order to make its order or judgment effective, may be joined as parties. The final judgment in any such action or proceeding shall either dismiss the action or proceeding or direct that a mandatory injunction be issued as prayed for in the petition and complaint or in such modified or other form as the court may determine will afford appropriate relief. (1933, c. 384, s. 12.)

§ 7128(13). Acquisition of housing property after approval of project.—When the board shall have approved a project for the construction of housing accommodations presented to it by a limited dividend housing company, such company may undertake the acquisition of the property needed for said project. Such property may be acquired by gift, bequest, or purchase. (1933, c. 384, s. 13.)

§ 7128(14). Articles of incorporation. — Any number of natural persons, not less than three, a majority of whom are citizens of the United States, may become a corporation by subscribing, acknowledging and filing in the office of the secretary of state, articles of incorporation, hereinafter called "articles," setting forth the information required by the general corporation act of the state, except as herein modified or changed.

(a) The purposes for which a limited dividend housing company is to be formed shall be as follows: To acquire, construct, maintain and operate housing projects when authorized by and subject to the supervision of the board of housing.

(b) The shares of which the capital shall consist shall have a par value.

(c) Articles of incorporation shall contain a declaration that the corporation has been organized to serve a public purpose and that it shall remain at all times subject to the supervision and control of the board or of other appropriate state authority; that all real estate acquired by it and all structures erected by it shall be deemed to be acquired for the purpose of promoting the public health and safety and subject to the provisions of the state housing law and that the stockholders of this corporation shall be deemed, when they subscribe to and receive the stock thereof, to have agreed that they shall at no time receive or accept from the company, in repayment of their investment in its stock, any sums in excess of the par value of the stock, together with cumulative dividends at the rate of six per centum per annum, and that any surplus in excess of such amount if said company shall be dissolved shall revert to the state of North Carolina.

(d) The provisions of the general corporation act, as hereafter from time to time amended, shall apply to limited dividend housing companies, except where such provisions are in conflict therewith. (1933, c. 384, s. 14.)

§ 7128(15). Further limitation on dividends. — No stockholder in any company formed hereunder shall receive any dividend, or other distribution based on stock ownership, in any one year in excess of six per centum per annum except that when in any preceding year dividends in the amount prescribed in the articles of incorporation shall not have been paid on the said stock, the stockholders may be paid such deficiency without interest out of any surplus earned in any succeeding years. (1933, c. 384, s. 15.)

§ 7128(17). Income debenture certificates. — The articles of incorporation may authorize the issuance of income debenture certificates bearing no greater interest than six per centum per annum. After the incorporation of a limited dividend housing company, the directors thereof may, with the consent of two-thirds of the holders of any preferred stock that may be issued and outstanding, offer to the stockholders of the company the privilege of exchanging their preferred and common stock in such quantities and at such times as may be approved by the board of housing for such income debenture certificates, whose face value shall not exceed the par value of the stock exchanges therefor. (1933, c. 384, s. 17.)

§ 7128(18). Powers of corporations limited. — No limited dividend housing company incorporated shall under this article:

(1) Acquire any real property or interest therein unless it shall first have obtained from the board a certificate that such acquisition is necessary or convenient for the public purpose defined in this article.

(2) Sell, transfer, assign or lease any real property without first having obtained the consent of the board: Provided, however, that leases conforming to the regulations and rules of the board and for actual occupancy by the lessees may be made without the consent of the board. Any conveyance, incumbrance, lease or sub-lease made in violation of the provisions of this section and any transfer or assignment thereof shall be void.

(3) Pay interest returns on its mortgage indebtedness and its income debenture certificates at a higher rate than six per centum per annum.

(4) Issue its stock, debentures and bonds covering any project undertaken by it in an amount greater in the aggregate than the total actual final cost of such project, including the lands, improvements, charges for financing and supervision approved by the board and interest and other carrying charges during construction.

(5) Mortgage any real property without first having obtained the consent of the board.

(6) Issue any securities or evidences of indebtedness without first having obtained the approval of the board.

(7) Use any building erected or acquired by it for other than housing purposes, except that when permitted by law the story of the building above the cellar or basement and the space below such story may be used for stores, commercial, coöperative or community purposes, and when permitted by law the roof may be used for coöperative or community purposes.

(8) Charge or accept any rental, purchase price or other charge in excess of the amounts prescribed by the board.

(9) Enter into contracts for the construction of housing projects, or for the payments of salaries to officers or employees except subject to the inspection and revision of the board and under such regulations as the board from time to time may prescribe.

(10) Voluntarily dissolve without first having obtained the consent of the board.

§ 7128(19). Loans and security therefor regulated.—Any company formed under this article may, subject to the approval of the board, borrow funds and secure the repayment thereof by bonds and mortgage or by an issue of bonds under trust indenture. The bonds so issued and secured and the mortgage or trust indentures relating thereto may create a first or senior lien and a second or junior lien upon the real property embraced in any project. Such bonds and mortgages may contain such other clauses and provisions as shall be approved by the board, including the right to assignment of rents and entry into possession in case of default; but the operation of the housing projects in the event of such entry by mortgagee or receiver shall be subject to the regulations of the board under this article. Provisions for the amortization of the bonded indebtedness of companies formed under this article shall be subject to the approval of the board. (1933, c. 384, s. 19.)

§ 7128(20). Earnings transferred to surplus.— The amount of net earnings transferable to surplus in any year after making or providing for the payments specified in subdivisions (a), (b) and (c) of section 7128(10) shall be subject to the approval of the board. The amount of such surplus shall not exceed fifteen per centum of the outstanding capital stock and income debentures of the corporation, but the surplus so limited shall not be deemed to include any increase in assets due to the reduction of mortgage or amortization or similar payments. On dissolution of any limited dividend housing company, the stockholders and income debenture certificate holders shall in no event receive more than the par value of their stock and debentures plus accumulated, accrued and unpaid dividends of interest, less any payment or distributions theretofore made other than by dividends provided in section 7128(15), and any remaining surplus or other undistributed earnings shall be paid into the general fund of the state of North Carolina, or shall be disposed of in such other manner as the board may direct and the then governor may approve. (1933, c. 384, s. 20.)

§ 7128(21). Annual surpluses applied to rent reductions.—If in any calendar or fiscal year the gross receipts of any company formed hereunder should exceed the payments or charges specified in section 7128(10), the sums necessary to pay dividends, interest accrued or unpaid on any stock or income debentures, and the authorized transfer to surplus, the balance shall, unless the board of directors with the approval of the board of housing shall deem such balance too small for the purposes, be applied to the reduction of rentals. (1933, c. 384, s. 21.)

(2) Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this section, wherever it shall appear that a corporation, subject to the supervision either of the state insurance department or state banking department, or the federal government or any agency or department of the federal government, shall have loaned on a mortgage which is a lien upon any such property such corporation shall have all the remedies available to a mortgagee under the laws of the state of North Carolina, free from any restrictions contained in this section, except that the board shall be made a party defendant and that such board shall take all steps necessary to protect the interests of the public and no costs shall be awarded against it. (1933, c. 384, s. 22.)

§ 7128(23). Application to, and approval of board as to transfer of housing property.—Before any limited dividend housing corporation incorporated under this article shall purchase the property of any other limited dividend housing corporation, it shall file an application with the board in the manner hereinbefore provided as for a new project and shall obtain the consent of the board to the purchase and agree to be bound by the provisions of this article, and the board shall not give its consent unless it is shown to the satisfaction of the board that the project is one that can be successfully operated according to the provisions of this article. (1933, c. 384, s. 23.)

§ 7128(25). Fees of board for examination chargeable against housing corporation. — The board may charge and collect for a limited dividend housing corporation, incorporated under this article, reasonable fees in accordance with rates to be established by the rules of the board for the examination of plans and specifications and the supervision of construction in an amount not to exceed one-half of one per cent of the cost of the project; for the holding of a public hearing upon application of a housing corporation an amount sufficient to meet the reasonable cost of advertising the notice thereof and of the transcript of testimony taken thereat; for any examination or investigation made upon application of a housing corporation and for any act done by the board, or any of its employees, in performance of their duties under this act an amount reasonably calculated to meet the expense of the board incurred in connection therewith. In no event shall any part of the expenses of the board ever be paid out of the state treasury. The board may authorize a housing corporation to include such fees as part of the cost of a project, or as part of the charges specified in section 7128(10) pursuant to rules to be established by the board. (1933, c. 384, s. 25.)

§ 7128(26). Limit of existence of housing corporations.—The corporate existence of any corporation authorized hereunder shall not extend beyond twenty-five years from the date of incorporation, and promptly upon such termination the corporation shall be liquidated and its assets distributed as provided herein, unless the incorporation board, by approval of the state board of housing, should grant an extension for an additional period of time. (1933, c. 384, s. 27.)

Art. 8. Privies

§ 7129. Privy defined.—The term "privy" as used in this article shall be understood to include any and all buildings which are not connected with a system of sewerage, or with septic tanks of such construction and maintenance as approved by the state board of health and which are used for affording privacy in acts of urination or defecation. (1919, c. 71, s. 1.)

§ 7130. Sewerage, septic tank or approved privy required, when.—No person shall maintain or use a residence, located within three hundred yards of another residence, that is not provided with sewerage, or with septic tanks approved by the state board of health, or with a sanitary privy which complies in construction and maintenance with the requirements of this article: Provided, however, that nothing in this law shall curtail the right of a municipality to require and enforce immediate sewer connection. Provided, that plans and specifications for construction of privy buildings prescribed by the state board of health, by authority of this article shall be construed as recommendatory but not mendatory as to exact size, architecture and dimensions of same: Provided further, that privy buildings as used in this act shall not be construed to include any item pertaining to the exclusion of flies from excreta. (1919, c. 71, s. 2; Ex. Sess. 1921, c. 49, s. 2; 1927, c. 244.)

Editor's Note.—All of this section including and following the phrase "Provided that plans," was added by Public Laws 1927, ch. 244.

§ 7132. Certain privies to be maintained in accordance with regulations.—Every privy located within three hundred yards of the residence of any person other than that of the owner or tenant thereof shall be maintained in a sanitary manner and in accordance with reasonable rules and regulations to be prescribed by the state board of health and posted in suitable form inside of the privy by an officer of the said board. (1919, c. 71, s. 4.)

§ 7133. Responsibility for sanitary maintenance of privy.—The head of a family or household, the proprietor of a boarding-house, hotel, restaurant, or store, the principal or superintendent of a school, the agent or station-master of a railroad station or depot, or the person in charge of an office building, establishment, or institution, shall be responsible for the sanitary maintenance, as prescribed in section 7132, of such privy or privies as may be used by his or her household, guests, customers, pupils, passengers, occupants, employees, workers or other persons. (1919, c. 71, s. 5.)

§ 7134. Supervision of privies by board of health.—The state board of health, through its officers and inspectors, shall exercise such supervision over the sanitary construction and maintenance of privies as may be necessary to enforce the provisions of this article. (1919, c. 71, s. 6.)

§ 7135. Use of insanitary privies prohibited.—If an officer or an inspector of the state board of health shall find a privy located within three hundred yards of the residence of a person other than that of the owner or tenant thereof which is not constructed in accordance with the provisions of section 7131 of this article, he shall securely fasten on the said privy a notice reading, "Insanitary; unlawful to use"; and if the inspector or officer of the board shall find, in the course of his inspection, a privy not being maintained in a sanitary manner and in accordance with the reasonable rules and regulations of the state board of health for the maintenance of privies, he shall remove the license from the privy and securely fasten on the privy a notice, reading, "Insanitary; unlawful to use." (1919, c. 71, s. 7.)

§ 7136. Privy license not to be removed or defaced.—No person shall remove or deface a privy license or other official notice fastened on or in a privy by an officer of the state board of health. (1919, c. 71, s. 8.)

§ 7137. Violation of this article.—Any person who violates any of the provisions of this article, and any person who is responsible for the sanitary maintenance of a privy, and who permits such privy after an official notice reading, "Insanitary; unlawful to use," has been fastened on it, to be used, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and fined not less than five dollars nor more than fifty dollars or imprisoned not exceeding thirty days. (1919, c. 71, s. 9.)

§ 7138. Privy license fees.—(Repealed by Public Laws 1921, Chapter 44.)

§ 7139. Bureau of sanitary engineering and inspection; duties.—For the faithful execution of this article, the state board of health shall organize and maintain a bureau of sanitary engineering and inspection which shall (1) study, ascertain, and recommend for installation suitable types of privies for the variety of geologic, sociologic, and economic conditions found in the state of North Carolina; (2) exercise such oversight over the construction and maintenance of privies coming within the meaning of this article as may be necessary for the protection of public health; (3) organize, supervise, and direct a force of sanitary inspectors who shall (a) inspect, license, and close privies in accordance with the provisions of this article and the rules and regulations of the state board of health, as provided for in this article; (b) make such other sanitary inspections as are required of the state board of health by law; (c) assist in the enforcement of the public health laws of the state, more especially the vital statistics law and the quarantine law; (d) collect samples of water from public water supplies for analyses by the state laboratory of hygiene when such analyses are deemed necessary by the state board of health. (1919, c. 71, s. 11.)

§ 7140. Powers of board of health and inspectors; penalty for interference.—The members of the executive staff of the state board of health, and such additional state sanitary inspectors as shall be appointed for the enforcement of this article, are hereby authorized and are empowered to enter upon any premises and into any buildings or institutions for the purposes of inspection as provided for or required by state laws or regulations of the state board of health pursuant to such laws, but the privacy of no person shall be violated. Any person or persons who wilfully interfere with or obstruct the officers of the state board of health in the discharge of any of the aforementioned duties shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and subject to a fine of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than one thousand dollars, or imprisonment at the discretion of the court. (1919, c. 71, s. 12.)

When Judge May Direct Verdict. — In an indictment against one who is charged with willfully obstructing a sanitary inspector of the State Board of Health in the discharge of his duties, the trial judge may not direct a verdict, and it is only when uncontradicted evidence, if accepted as true, establishes the defendant's guilt that he may properly instruct the jury to return a verdict of guilty if they find the evidence to be true beyond a reasonable doubt. State v. Estes, 185 N. C. 752, 117 S. E. 581.

Mere words or opprobrious language with an expression of an intention to resist are not sufficient to sustain an indictment for willfully interfering with or obstructing an officer of the law in the performance of his duties, as prescribed by this section, unless spoken under circumstances which are calculated to deter an officer of ordinary courage and reasonable prudence in the discharge of his duty pertaining to his office, which raises an issue of facts for the jury to determine. State v. Estes, 185 N. C. 752, 117 S. E. 581.

§ 7141. Provisions of this article applicable to all privies on watersheds.—That the provisions of this article shall apply to all residences, institutions, and establishments, and all privies without regard to their distance from the homes of persons other than that of the owners or tenants thereof, which are located on the watershed of a public surface water supply. For the purpose of this article, the term "watershed" shall include the entire watershed of all streams, creeks, and rivers that have a daily average flow of less than ten million gallons, but for watersheds of streams, creeks or rivers that have a daily average flow of more than ten million gallons, the watershed shall include only such drainage areas as lie within fifteen miles of the waterworks intake. (1919, c. 71, s. 13.)

§ 7143. Repealed by Public Laws 1921, c. 44.

§ 7144. Exceptions to provisions of this article.—This article shall not apply to any city the population of which shall be in excess of twenty thousand according to the latest official estimates of the bureau of the census, if the authorities of such city, before October first, one thousand nine hundred and nineteen, shall officially request the state board of health to exempt it from its provisions. This article shall not apply to the residence of farmers and the homes of their tenants that are located more than one mile from the corporate limits of a town or city or the geographic center of a village. (1919, c. 71, s. 16; Ex. Sess. 1920, c. 71.)

Editor's Note.—Prior to the amendment, Ex. Sess, 1920, ch. 71, this section was by its last sentence made not to apply to residents and homes of farmers and tenants located more than three hundred yards from residents that come within the meaning of this article.

Art. 9. Infectious Diseases Generally

§ 7145. County quarantine officers enforce article; oath.—On the second Tuesday of July, one thousand nine hundred and seventeen, all county quarantine officers and all county health officers to whom the duties of county quarantine officer have been assigned, as provided in this chapter, shall appear before the clerk of the superior court in their respective counties and make official oath or affirmation to faithfully enforce the provisions of this article. In those counties where a county board of health fails or neglects to elect a county quarantine officer on or before the second Tuesday of July, one thousand nine hundred and seventeen, the secretary of the North Carolina state board of health shall appoint a quarantine officer for the county. On refusal or neglect of any quarantine officer, or county health officer acting as quarantine officer to make, within a period of ten days of the time named in this section, the aforesaid official oath or affirmation, the secretary of the North Carolina state board of health is hereby empowered to remove such quarantine or county health officer and to appoint a quarantine officer to enforce the provisions of this article, and on the appointee are conferred all the powers, privileges, and compensation herein provided for the county quarantine officer. (1917, c. 263, s. 1.)

§ 7146. Quarantine officers; election; term; vacancies.—The official term of service of a county quarantine officer, including those in office and serving on June first, one thousand nine hundred and seventeen, except in those counties where there is a county health officer, shall expire on the first Monday in January of the fourth year from the year of their appointment or election. In those counties having a county health officer who makes official oath or affirmation to enforce this article, the office of county quarantine officer shall be coterminous with the office of the said county health officer. The county board of health shall elect a successor to the county quarantine officer, or the county health officer acting as county quarantine officer, on or before the expiration of the term of service of said officer as herein defined. If the county quarantine officer, or the county health officer acting as such, is disqualified to continue in office by resignation, death, or otherwise, the county board of health shall, within five days thereafter, elect a county health officer or county quarantine officer to fill out the unexpired term. If the county board of health fails so to elect a successor to complete the unexpired term, the secretary of the North Carolina state board of health shall immediately appoint a county quarantine officer who shall make official oath or affirmation to enforce this article. (1917, c. 263, s. 2.)

oath or affirmation of office, inclosing a certified copy thereof, and failure to do so shall be construed as failure to have taken such official oath or affirmation. (1917, c. 263, s. 3.)

§ 7148. Failure of officer to enforce article; penalty.—Any county quarantine officer, or county health officer acting as county quarantine officer, who fails or refuses to enforce this article in his county shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and, on conviction, fined not exceeding fifty dollars, and may, if the secretary of the North Carolina state board of health so decide, be disqualified for continuance in office. (1917, c. 263, s. 4.)

§ 7149. Municipalities; how far included.—This article shall not apply to incorporated towns and cities of the state having a population, according to the last decennial census, of ten thousand or over; nor shall it apply to those counties the sanitary administration of which is directed by a joint board of health presiding over both the county and a town or city having a population, according to the last federal decennial census, of ten thousand or more; but the system of quarantine in force in such cities and counties shall be approved by the North Carolina state board of health, and reports of the occurrence of contagious diseases therein shall be made to the North Carolina state board of health as from all other cities and counties in the state. (1917, c. 263, s. 5.)

§ 7150. Compensation of quarantine officers.—For his services the county quarantine officer shall be paid monthly, on certification from the secretary of the North Carolina state board of health that he has performed the duties of his office in a satisfactory manner, out of the county funds by the county treasurer, or in those counties that have no county treasurer by that official who performs the usual duties of the treasurer's office. The said certification and the sum paid the quarantine officer by the county authority shall be in accordance with a system of fees determined by the North Carolina state board of health for each item of work involved in the duties of the quarantine officer: Provided, however, that the total annual payment for any county shall not be in excess of the sum stated for such county classified according to population as follows:

	Per month.
Counties with a population less than 10,000	$15.00
Counties with a population of from 10,000 to 15,000	17.50
Counties with a population of from 15,000 to 25,000	25.00
Counties with a population of from 25,000 to 40,000	35.00
Counties with a population of from 40,000 to 50,000	45.00
Counties with a population over 50,000	50.00

In addition to such monthly salary, the county treasurer, or the person acting as county treasurer, shall pay to the quarintine officer all financial statements with receipted bills attached for sums paid out for pilotage [postage] registration of letters, and disinfectants, the total sum not to exceed ten dollars in any month nor one hundred dollars in any one year. The secretary of the North Carolina state board of health shall supply the county quarantine officer, without cost to the county, with all forms, placards, and literature necessary for carrying out the provisions of this article. County authorities may revise their undertakings with those county physicians who are acting as both physicians to county charges and as quarantine officers, and whose terms of office as quarintine officer shall expire in January, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one, unless discontinued by death, resignation, or other disqualification, on a basis of compensation adequate to the new duties herein required; but in no case shall the compensation allowed for the services required of quarantine officers be less than that herein named. (1917, c. 263, s. 6; 1921, c. 53.)

Editor's Note.—Prior to the amendment, Public Laws 1921, ch. 53 which installed the fee system in this section, a salary was paid under the scale in this section, which now, because of the amendment, limits the amount of fees to be paid.

The word postage appearing in brackets should be substituted for pilotage immediately preceding it as it was used prior to the amendment of 1921, and as this amendment did not change this part of this section it is clear that the use of the word pilotage was a clerical error.

§ 7151. Physicians to report infectious diseases.—It shall be the duty of every physician to notify the county quarantine office of the name, address, including the name of the school district, of any person living or residing, permanently or temporarily, in the county about whom such physician is consulted professionally and whom he has reason to suspect of being afflicted with whooping-cough, measels, diphtheria, scarlet fever, smallpox, infantile paralysis, typhoid fever, typhus fever, Asiatic cholera, bubonic plague, yellow fever, or other disease declared by the North Carolina state board of health to be preventable, within twenty-four hours after obtaining reasonable evidence for believing that such person is so afflicted. If the afflicted person is a minor, the physician consulted professionally about him shall notify the county quarantine officer of the name and address of the parent or guardian of the minor in addition to the name, address, and school district of the minor himself. (Rev., s. 3448; 1893, c. 214, s. 11; 1917, c. 263, s. 7; 1921, c. 223, s. 1.)

Editor's Note.—By amendment, Public Laws 1921, ch. 223, sec. 1 the part of this section reading as follows: "or other disease declared by the North Carolina state board of health to be preventable" replaced a part reading as follows: "or other disease declared by the North Carolina state board of health to be infectious or contagious."

§ 7152. Parents and householders to report.—It shall be the duty of every parent, guardian, or householder in the order named to notify the county quarantine office of the name, address, including the name of the school district, of any person in their family or household about whom no physician has been consulted but whom they have reason to suspect of being afflicted with whooping-cough, measles, diphtheria, scarlet fever, smallpox, infantile paralysis, typhoid fever, Asiatic cholera, typhus fever, bubonic plague, yellow fever, or other disease declared by the North Carolina state board of health to be preventable. (1917, c. 263, s. 8; 1921, c. 223, s. 2.)

Editor's Note.—By amendment Public Laws, 1921, ch. 223, sec. 1 the last words of this section, i. e. "preventable" replaced the words "infectious or contagious."

§ 7153. Quarantine officers to report cases to state board of health.—It shall be the duty of the county quarantine officer to report all cases of whooping-cough, measles, diphtheria, scarlet fever, smallpox, infantile paralysis, typhoid fever, Asiatic cholera, typhus fever, bubonic plague, yellow fever, or other disease declared by the North Carolina state board of health to be preventable, reported to him by physicians and parents, guardians, or householders, within twenty-four hours of the receipt of such report to the secretary of the North Carolina state board of health at Raleigh, and to make this report on forms supplied him by the secretary and in accordance with the rules and regulations adopted by the North Carolina state board of health. (1917, c. 263, s. 9; 1921, c. 223, s. 3.)

Editor's Note.—By amendment, Public Laws, 1921, ch. 223, sec. 3, the following words, "declared by the North Carolina state board of health to be preventable" replaced, "declared by the North Carolina state board of health to be infectious and contagious."

§ 7154. Rules of state board of health; rules of local authorities. — The North Carolina state board of health shall adopt what in their judgment seems to be the necessary rules and regulations governing the management, supervision, or control of the diseases coming within the meaning of this article, and shall cause the rules and regulations adopted to be published in the North Carolina state board of health bulletin and to be supplied in suitable quantities to all concerned with the execution of this article, and the North Carolina state board of health shall revise such rules and regulations from time to time to adjust their requirements to new discoveries and improved methods for dealing with the sources and modes of infection of the diseases specified. The rules and regulations so adopted shall be regarded as the minimum requirements, and the authorities of any county, town, or city may adopt such additional rules and regulations for the control of the diseases mentioned in this article, and pay such additional fees and salaries as in their judgment seem necessary. (1917, c. 263, s. 10.)

§ 7155. Violation of article or rules misdemeanor.—Any person wilfully violating any of the provisions of this article and any person violating any of the rules and regulations adopted by the North Carolina state board of health, as provided in the preceding section, shall, in the absence of specific provisions in other sections of this article, be guilty of a misdemeanor and fined not exceeding fifty dollars, or imprisoned not more than thirty days, at the discretion of the court. In case the offender be stricken with the disease for which he is quarantinable, he shall be subject to the penalty on recovery, unless in the opinion of the secretary of the North Carolina state board of health the penalty should be omitted. (Rev., s. 3448; 1893, c. 214, s. 11; 1917, c. 263, s. 11.)

§ 7156. Bureau of epidemiology; appropriations.—For the purpose of seeing that this article and the rules and regulations adopted by the North Carolina state board of health, as provided in this article, are faithfully executed, a bureau of epidemiology and the office of state epidemiologist is hereby created, and an appropriation of four thousand dollars for the fiscal year of one thousand nine hundred and seventeen, and thereafter an annual appropriation of six thousand dollars is hereby appropriated. The aforesaid bureau and the state epidemiologist shall be under the control and supervision of the North Carolina state board of health. (1917, c. 263, s. 12.)

§ 7158. Disposal of bowel discharges in typhoid and cholera; penalties.—Any householder in whose family there is to his knowledge a person sick of cholera or typhoid fever, who shall permit the bowel discharges of such sick person to be emptied without first having disinfected them according to instructions to be obtained from the attending physician or county superintendent of health, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined not less than two nor more than twenty-five dollars, or imprisoned not less than ten nor more than thirty days. In cases where such undisinfected discharges are emptied on the watershed of any stream or pond furnishing the source of water supply for any public institution, city, or town, the penalty shall be a fine of not less than twenty-five dollars nor more than fifty dollars, or imprisonment for not more than thirty days. And any physician attending a case of cholera or typhoid fever who refuses or neglects to give the proper instructions for such disinfection as soon as the diagnosis is made shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined not less then ten dollars nor more than fifty dollars.

During an epidemic of cholera all common carriers shall so arrange their water-closets as to catch in water-tight receptacles the dejections of all persons using the same, and shall disinfect the said dejections in a manner satisfactory to the state board of health before emptying them. (Rev., s. 4459; 1893, c. 214, s. 16; 1909, c. 793, s. 8.)

§ 7159. Travel of infected persons regulated; inspectors; penalty.—The county or municipal boards of health in counties, cities, or towns near to or bordering upon either of the neighboring states, may appoint, by writing, suitable persons to attend at places by which travelers may pass from infected places in other states, who may examine such travelers as may be suspected of bringing any infection dangerous to the public health, and, if need be, may restrain them from traveling until licensed thereto by the quarantine officer or by the proper municipal health authorities of the city or town to which they may come. A traveler coming from such infected place who, without such license, travels within this state, except to return by the most direct route to the state whence he came, after he has been cautioned to depart by the persons so appointed, shall be isolated or ejected, at the discretion of the quarantine officer or of the municipal health authorities last mentioned. And all common carriers bringing into this state any such persons as named above are hereby required to return them to some point without this state, if required by the quarantine officer or municipal health authorities above specified; and upon refusal to comply with the regulations of such boards of health or municipal health authorities upon this subject, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined not less than twenty-five nor more than fifty dollars, or imprisoned not more than thirty days. Nothing in this section shall prevent the state board of health in time of epidemics from appointing such additional examiners as they may deem necessary to the preservation of the public health. (Rev., ss. 3454, 4506; 1893, c. 214, s. 15; 1901, c. 245, s. 6.)

§ 7160. Quarantine of infected travelers.—When a person comes to a city or town from abroad or from some other place in this state which is infected or has lately been infected with either of the diseases specified in this article or other disease declared by the North Carolina state board of health to be infectious or contagious, the quarantine officer or lawful municipal authority specified in this article shall make effective provision in the manner deemed best for the safety of the inhabitants by removing such person to a separate house or otherwise, and by providing nurses and other assistance and necessaries, which shall be at the charge of the person himself or his parents, where able, otherwise at the charge of the city, town, or county to which he belongs. (Rev., s. 4507; 1893, c. 214, s. 14; 1901, c. 245, s. 5.)

§ 7161. Transportation of bodies of persons dying of infectious diseases.—No railroad corporation or other common carrier or persons shall convey or cause to be conveyed through or from any city, town, or county in this state the remains of any person who has died of smallpox, measles, scarlet fever, diphtheria, typhus fever, yellow fever, or cholera until such body has been disinfected and encased in such manner as shall be directed by the state board of health, so as to preclude any danger of communicating the disease to others by its transportation; and no local registrar, clerk, or health officer or any other person shall give a permit for the removal of such body until he has received from the local board of health or other proper health authorities of the city, town, or county where the death occurred a certificate stating the cause of death and that the said body has been prepared in the manner set forth in this section; which certificate shall be delivered in duplicate to the agent or person who receives the body, and one copy shall be pasted on the box containing the corpse; said certificate shall be furnished in blank by the transportation company when no local board of health exists. (Rev., s. 4459; 1893, c. 214, s. 16.)

Art. 10. Smallpox

§ 7162. Notification of occurrence required; vaccination of school children.—On the appearance of a case of smallpox in any neighborhood, town, or city, the quarantine officer shall use all due diligence to warn the public of its existence and to notify the public of the proper means for preventing its spread; the said warning and notification to be according to the instructions of the state health officer. The board of health of any town, city, or county shall have authority to require children attending the public schools to present certificate of immunity from smallpox either through recent vaccination or previous attack of the disease. If any parent, guardian, school committee, principal, or teacher shall permit a child to violate such a requirement of the aforesaid authorities, he or she shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and fined not less than ten dollars nor more than fifty dollars. (1911, c. 62, s. 23; 1913, c. 181, s. 11.)

Prior to this section, under a regulation providing for vaccination of all the inhabitants of a town the school children were subject to vaccination the same as other persons in the town. Morgan v. Stewart, 144 N. C. 424, 57 S. E. 149.

Power to Require Vaccination.—Where a school board has entire and exclusive control of the public schools, they may require vaccination as a prerequisite to attendance. Hutchins v. School Committee, 137 N. C. 68, 49 S. E. 46.

§ 7163. Free vaccination.—On the appearance of a case of smallpox in any neighborhood due warning of the existence of the disease shall be given, and all persons not able to pay shall be vaccinated free of charge by the county physician or health officer or by the municipal physician or health officer, and the county physician or health officer shall vaccinate every person admitted into a public institution, jail, or county home as soon as practicable, unless he is satisfied, upon examination, that the person is already successfully vaccinated; the money for vaccine to be furnished by the county commissioners. (Rev., s. 4451; 1913, c. 181, s. 12.)

Constitutional.—There is no provision of the Constitution which forbids the Legislature to enact laws for the preservation of the health of the inhabitants of the state, and it is indeed an exercise of that governmental police power to legislate for the public welfare which is inherent in the General Assembly, except when restrained by some express constitutional provision. State v. Hay, 126 N. C. 999, 1000, 35 S. E. 459.

Such rules and regulations as provided for by this section, when reasonable and relevant to the purpose, are a valid exercise of authority. Morgan v. Stewart, 144 N. C. 424, 57 S. E. 149.

Reasonableness.—Clark, J., in State v. Hay, 126 N. C. 999, 1003, 35 S. E. 459, in discussing the vaccination laws says: "But even if we were of opinion with the small number of medical men who contend that vaccination is dangerous to health, and not a preventive of the disease, the Court is not a paternal despot, gifted with infallable wisdom, whose function is to correct the errors and mistakes of the Legislature."

Douglas J., concurring, in State v. Hay, 126 N. C. 999, 1004, 35 S. E. 459, says: "Compulsory vaccination is not an unreasonable requirement, as experience has shown that it is in times of epidemic necessary for the protection of the community and equally so of the individual."

Arrest of Persons Exposed. — A city is not liable to one arrested on the ground of having been exposed to smallpox, where the officers act without malice. Levin v. Burlington, 129 N. C. 184, 39 S. E. 822.

§ 7164. Rules as to vaccination; violations punished.—The board of health of any city, town, or county may make such regulations and provisions for the vaccination of the inhabitants of their city, town, or county, and impose such penalties as they may deem necessary to protect the public health, and the violations of such rules shall be a misdemeanor, punishable by fine not exceeding fifty dollars or imprisonment not exceeding thirty days. (Rev., s. 3455; 1913, c. 181, s. 12.)

As to constitutionality see note to preceding section.

Punishment Valid.—The punishment provided for by this section when administered for the violation of a reasonable regulation, is a valid exercise of authority. Morgan v. Stewart, 144 N. C. 424, 57 S. E. 149.

When Vaccination Would Be Dangerous.—The general law embraces all, leaving it optional to no one's private judgment whether to render compliance or not. If there are exceptional cases, where owing to the peculiar state of the health or system, vaccination would be dangerous, that would be matter of defense, the burden of which would be on the defendant, and a fact to be found by the jury. State v. Hay, 126 N. C. 999, 35 S. E. 459.

Art. 11. Diphtheria

§ 7166. Laboratory of hygiene to furnish antitoxin to counties.—The board of health shall keep on hand in the state laboratory of hygiene a supply of reliable diphtheria antitoxin, and shall distribute it, through the said laboratory, to the several counties of the state, whenever the boards of county commissioners thereof shall request it, and shall notify the secretary of the state board of health that they will pay for the same upon presentation of a bill, and shall designate the person or persons with whom it shall be deposited. The antitoxin shall be furnished at the lowest figure obtainable for a reliable preparation. (1909, c. 389, s. 2.)

§ 7167. Physician's requisitions for antitoxin.—Whenever a physician is called to a case of diphtheria in an indigent person or one in immediate need and unable to pay for antitoxin, he may obtain the same from one of the depositories or diphtheria stations by filling out and signing in duplicate the blank requisition form to be supplied with the antitoxin by the said board of health, and presenting the same to the county superintendent of health or any member of the county sanitary committee, or to such person as the said county sanitary committee may appoint, who, after satisfying himself as to the indigency of the person or persons for whom the antitoxin is intended, shall approve and countersign in duplicate the requisition. The person dispensing the antitoxin shall retain one copy of the requisition and shall mail the duplicate promptly to director of the laboratory of hygiene. He shall also return to the said director all packages of antitoxin in his possession as soon as they become out of date. (1909, c. 389, s. 3.)

§ 7168. Article applicable to cities and towns.—The provisions of this article shall apply to cities and towns upon the same conditions as it does to counties. (1909, c. 389, s. 4.)

§ 7169. Use of certain state lands for preparation of sera.—(Repealed by Public Laws, 1923, Chapter, 224, Section 1.)

Art. 12. Hydrophobia

§ 7170. Board of health to provide treatment.—The state board of health is hereby authorized and empowered to provide for and have conducted under its direction the preventive treatment of hydrophobia or rabies, whenever in its judgment circumstances, financial and other, will justify it. To meet the expenses of this treatment the said board is hereby given authority to supplement the revenue derived from the fees for the treatment by such sums from the treasury of the state laboratory of hygiene as may be necessary: Provided, that the usefulness and efficiency of the said laboratory is not thereby impaired. (1907, c. 891, s. 1.)

§ 7171. Treatment to be without charge.—The benefits of said treatment shall be given free of charge to all residents of the state who shall present to the secretary of the state board of health or its representative having in charge the management of this special work, an affidavit of inability to pay, duly sworn to and subscribed before a justice of the peace, or, if the case be a minor, such an affidavit by the parent or guardian. To meet as far as may be the expenses of this special work the said state board of health is hereby authorized and directed to demand from those able to do so the payment in advance of a reasonable fee, not to exceed in any case the usual charge made by the reputable Pasteur institutes of this country. (1907, c. 891, s. 2.)

Art. 13. Tuberculosis

§ 7172. Directors of State Sanatorium for tuberculosis.—The body politic and corporate existing under the name and style of the North Carolina Sanitorium for the Treatment of Tuberculosis shall be controlled and managed by a board of directors composed of nine (9) members to be appointed by the Governor. Within thirty days after March 10, 1925, the Governor shall name five (5) of said directors and within six months after March 10, 1925, the Governor shall name the remaining four (4) of said directors. At the time of naming the directors the Governor shall designate which of the present board his appointees are to succeed. All vacancies shall be filled by the Governor. The terms of the directors shall be four years from and after the date of their appointment. The Governor shall transmit to the Senate at the next session of the General Assembly the names of his appointees for confirmation. (1907, c. 964; Ex. Sess. 1913, c. 40, s. 1; 1925, c. 306, s. 12.)

As to effect on prior law, see note to sec. 7058.

See sections 7179(1) et seq., and note to 7179(2).

Editor's Note.—Prior to the amendment, Public Laws 1923, ch. 96 control was in the board of health. By this amendment a board of directors composed of nine members was created. This board was appointed in three classes at intervals of two years, the term being six years. By amendment Public Laws, 1925, ch. 306, sec. 12 it is provided that the board be appointed all in the same year, and the term is fixed at four years. For removal, as provided for in this section, see 5912, (b).

§ 7173. Powers of directors; election of officers.—The North Carolina sanatorium for the treatment of tuberculosis is hereby empowered and authorized to elect and employ such officials and to pay such fees and salaries (provided the appropriation is not exceeded) as the directors shall find necessary for the proper management and maintenance of the institution; the directors shall determine the qualifications for admission of those applying as patients to the institution; the directors shall make all such by-laws and regulations for the government of the said institution as shall be necessary, among which shall be such as shall make the institution as nearly self-supporting as shall be consistent with the purpose of its creation; and the directors shall do such other things as seem reasonably necessary and incident to the proper management and maintenance of the institution. (1907, c. 964; Ex. Sess. 1913, c. 40, s. 2.)

§ 7173(a). Indigent patients; recovery of charges from those able to pay.—The said directors in determining the qualifications for admission for those applying as patients to the institution and in making by-laws and regulations for the governing therein shall not provide or make any by-law, regulation, or qualification for admission therein which shall exclude any patient, otherwise properly qualified for admission, on account of inability to pay for examination and treatment, or either, at said institution. That all indigent patients who otherwise are proper patients for admission in said institution when there is space and accommodation for such patient, shall be received without regard to their indigent condition; but the directors of said institution shall require of all patients who are able to pay, including those having persons upon whom they are legally dependent who are able to pay the reasonable cost of treatment and care of said institution, and they shall make such by-laws and regulations as shall most equitably carry out the directions contained in section seven thousand one hundred and seventy-three of this article. In case those persons upon whom patients are legally dependent or patients not indigent shall refuse to pay such charges for treatment and care, then said directors are authorized and empowered to institute an action in the name of the said Sanatorium in the Superior Court of Hoke County for the collection thereof, and if the amount so charged is less than two hundred dollars ($200), then said action shall be instituted in the county where the defendant resides in a court having jurisdiction thereof; and upon said trial the charges so made shall be collectible, as upon express promise to pay the same. Provided, that nothing in this section shall be interpreted to conflict with or interfere with the provisions contained in section seven thousand one hundred and seventy-nine of the Consolidated Statutes. (1924, c. 86, s. 1; 1925, c. 291.)

Editor's Note.—The proviso at the end of this section was added by the 1925 amendment.

§ 7175. Bureau to maintain correspondence school.—The bureau of tuberculosis shall develop and maintain a correspondence school with those of the state's tuberculous population, to the end that the tuberculous population of this state shall be properly advised and directed both as to methods for obtaining cures and as to methods for preventing the spread of the disease to other persons. (Ex. Sess. 1913, c. 40, s. 4.)

§ 7176. Cases of tuberculosis reported to bureau.—All physicians and the executive officers of every private or public hospital, institution for the treatment of disease, or dispensary shall report, on blank forms and in accordance with the instructions of the bureau of tuberculosis, the names and other particulars of all persons afflicted with tuberculosis whom they are called upon to examine or treat or who are to be examined or treated in the hospital, institution, or dispensary of which he or she is the executive head, within seven days after the disease is recognized by such physician or executive officer. Any violation of this section shall be a misdemeanor and subject to a fine of not less than ten dollars nor more than one hundred dollars, and the judge, in addition to imposing the said fine, may, upon the evidence produced in the trial or upon such further evidence as may be produced before him, find and cause to be entered upon the records of the court that the physician deliberately and falsely diagnosed the disease, tuberculosis, as some other disease in order to avoid the requirements of this section, and the North Carolina board of medical examiners upon such record shall revoke the license of such physician. Nothing in this section shall abrogate the rights and powers of municipalities and counties to require the reporting of cases of tuberculosis by physicians to the local authorities; but municipalities and counties may, when desired, in lieu of such reports by physicians, call upon the bureau of tuberculosis for notification of cases of tuberculosis reported to the bureau from the municipality or county. (Ex. Sess. 1913, c. 40, s. 5.)

§ 7177. Directors may receive gifts for sanatorium.—The directors shall be empowered to receive or accept the gifts or donations for the benefit of the state sanatorium, and the directors shall, in their discretion, use the same for carrying out the purpose for which the sanatorium is established. (1907, c. 964, s. 14; Ex. Sess. 1913, c. 40, s. 6.)

§ 7179. Indigent tuberculous to be treated at state sanatorium.—Any city or town in the state of North Carolina, through its board of aldermen, town council, or other governing body, and any county in the state, through its board of commissioners, is hereby authorized and empowered to provide for the treatment of any tubercular person or persons resident in and who is a bona fide citizen of said city, town, or county, at the North Carolina sanatorium for the treatment of tuberculosis, and pay therefor to the North Carolina sanatorium for the treatment of tuberculosis an amount which shall not be more than one dollar per day per patient. (1915, c. 181, s. 1.)

§ 7179(1). Tubercular sanatorium established in western North Carolina.—There shall be established in western North Carolina in the manner hereinafter set out a sanatorium for the treatment of persons afflicted with tuberculosis. (1935, c. 91, s. 1.)

Editor's Note.—Section 3 of the Public Laws of 1935, from whence this section was codified, provides that sections 7172 and 7173 et seq., relating to the number, appointment, organization, etc., of the North Carolina sanatorium for the treatment of tuberculosis are repealed insofar as in conflict with the present law, "it being the intent and purpose of this act to place the control and management of the 'North Carolina Sanatorium for the Treatment of Tuberculosis' and the 'Western North Carolina Sanatorium for the Treatment of Tuberculosis' under the board of directors herein provided for."

Section 4 of the new act also provides for the appointment of the committee who shall recommend to the board of directors a site for the new hospital.

§ 7179(3). Terms of directors; ex-officio director.—The said board of directors shall be divided into four classes of three directors each, the first class to serve for a period of two years, the second class for a period of four years and the third class for a period of six years, and at the expiration of the terms of the several classes, shall be appointed for a period of six years. The secretary of the North Carolina state board of health shall be ex-officio a member of the board of directors. (1935, c. 91, s. 3, c. 138, s. 2.)

§ 7179(4). Vacancy appointments.—In case of a vacancy or vacancies in the board of directors for any cause, their successor or successors shall be appointed by the governor, and their appointment will be reported to the next succeeding session of the senate of the general assembly of North Carolina for confirmation. (1935, c. 91, s. 4.)

§ 7179(5). Directors incorporated. — The said board of directors shall be, and they are hereby constituted a body politic and corporate, under the name and style of the "western North Carolina sanatorium for the treatment of tuberculosis," and upon them, as such, are hereby conferred all the duties, powers, privileges and obligations incident to bodies corporate. (1935, c. 91, s. 5.)

§ 7179(6). Organization of directors; acquisition of site; appropriation.—Said board of directors are hereby given full power and authority to meet and organize and from their number select a chairman to purchase a site or sites in western North Carolina, to purchase, renovate, remodel or erect buildings and provide such apparatus and equipment as may be necessary to establish said sanatorium and prepare it for the reception of patients, such expenditure not to exceed the sum of two hundred and fifty thousand ($250,000) dollars hereinabove appropriated. (1935, c. 91, s. 6.)

§ 7179(8). Subordinate officers and employees.—Said superintendent shall employ such subordinate officers and employees of said sanatorium as may be necessary, and fix their compensation, subject to the approval of said board, and within the appropriation made to said institution; the said superintendent shall have the power to discharge any of the employees for incompetence or misconduct in office, and his proceedings in regard to any act of this character shall be reported to the said board of directors. (1935, c. 91, s. 8.)

§ 7179(9). Reports of superintendent; board meetings; reports to legislature. — The superintendent shall make monthly reports to the chairman of the board of directors, clearly setting forth the conditions and workings of the institution, and upon receipt of said report, said chairman shall have the authority to convene said board if, in his discretion, he deems it necessary to do so. Said superintendent shall make a detailed report of the conditions and workings of the institution every three months to the board of directors, and he shall annually make a detailed report to the governor of North Carolina. The board of directors shall be required to hold meetings of their board every three months or oftener if the chairman of said board shall call them together, and the said board shall be required to make biennial reports of the conditions and workings of the hospital to the governor and general assembly. (1935, c. 91, s. 9.)

§ 7179(10). Executive committee.—The board of directors shall at their first meeting select from their number an executive committee composed of the chairman of said board and two other members, who, in the absence of the board of directors, shall have the direction of the affairs of said hospital. The successors to the members of the executive committee and the manner and time of their election shall be provided by the by-laws and regulations made for the said institution. (1935, c. 91, s. 10.)

§ 7179(11). By-laws and regulations. — The board of directors shall make all by-laws and regulations for the government of said institution as shall be necessary, among which regulations shall be such as shall make said sanatorium as nearly self-supporting as shall be consistent with the purpose of its creation. (1935, c. 91, s. 11.)

§ 7179(12). Gifts and grants from governments or agencies; bond issues.—In addition to the powers generally granted to bodies corporate in North Carolina, the "western North Carolina sanatorium for the treatment of tuberculosis" shall have and is hereby granted authority to receive gift or grant from the United States government or any other agency or government, and shall have the right by vote of the board of directors, approved by the treasurer of the state of North Carolina, to issue bonds of said institution payable solely out of the receipts or revenues of any undertaking engaged in or undertaken by said board for which said bonds were issued, but shall not have the right to pledge any property of the institution or to make said bonds an obligation of said institution further than the revenue derived from the projects for which the bonds were issued, and said bonds so issued shall not be a charge upon the general property of the western North Carolina sanatorium for the treatment of tuberculosis, nor any obligation of the State of North Carolina. (1935, c. 91, s. 12.)

§ 7179(13). State treasurer as treasurer of sanatorium. — The treasurer of the State of North Carolina shall be ex-officio treasurer of said corporation and shall keep all accounts of said sanatorium and pay out all monies to its credit in the way and manner as now or hereafter may be provided by law for the disbursement of funds of the State of North Carolina specifically allotted to any institution or for any specified purpose. (1935, c. 91, s. 13.)

§ 7179(15). Appropriation for biennial maintenance. — For the purpose of maintaining and defraying the running expenses of said sanatorium, there is hereby appropriated for the year one thousand nine hundred thirty-five-thirty-six the sum of ten thousand ($10,000) dollars, and for the year one thousand nine hundred thirty-six-thirty-seven the sum of one hundred thousand ($100,000) dollars from the general funds of the State of North Carolina, and which shall be deposited with the treasurer of the State and disbursed in the manner all other appropriations to State institutions are disbursed. (1935, c. 91, s. 15.)

§ 7179(16). Gifts and donations for benefit of sanatorium.—The said board of directors shall be empowered to receive or accept gifts or donations for the benefit of said sanatorium which shall be used by said board in their discretion for the purpose of carrying out the work for which the sanatorium is established. (1935, c. 91, s. 16.)

§ 7179(17). Pay of directors. — Each member of the board of directors shall be entitled to receive as compensation the sum of five ($5.00) dollars per day while engaged in attending to the affairs of said sanatorium and in addition thereto his necessary traveling expenses and hotel bills. (1935, c. 91, s. 17.)

Art. 14. Inflammation of Eyes of Newborn

§ 7180. Ophthalmia neonatorum described.—Any inflammation, swelling, or unusual redness in either one or both eyes of any infant, either apart from or together with any unnatural discharge from the eye or eyes of such infant, independent of the nature of the infection, if any, occurring any time within two weeks after the birth of such infant, shall be known as "inflammation of the eyes of the newborn" (ophthalmia neonatorum). (1917, c. 257, s. 1.)

§ 7181. Inflammation of eyes of newborn to be reported.—It shall be the duty of any physician, surgeon, obstetrician, midwife, nurse, maternity home, or hospital of any nature, parent, relative, and any persons attendant on or assisting in any way whatsoever any infant, or the mother of any infant at childbirth or any time within two weeks after childbirth, knowing the condition, hereinabove defined, to exist, immediately to report such fact, as the state board of health shall direct, to the local health officer of the county, city, town, village, or whatever other political division there may be within which the infant or the mother of any such infant may reside. For such services the attending physician, surgeon, obstetrician, midwife, nurse, maternity home, or hospital shall receive from the state treasurer a fee of fifty cents. In the event of there being no health officer in the city, village, or town in which the infant resides, midwives shall immediately report the condition to some qualified practitioner of medicine, and thereupon withdraw from the case, except as she may act under a physician's instructions. On receipt of such receipt, the health officer, or the physician notified by a midwife where no health officer exists, shall immediately give to the parents or persons having charge of such infant a warning of the dangers to the eye or eyes of said infant, and shall for indigent cases provide the necessary treatment at the expense of the said county, city, village, or town. (1917, c. 257, s. 2.)

§ 7182. Eyes of newborn to be treated; penalty for omission.—It shall be unlawful for any physician or midwife practicing midwifery in the state of North Carolina to neglect or otherwise fail to instill or have instilled, immediately upon its birth, in the eyes of the newborn babe, two drops of a solution prescribed or furnished by the state board of health. (1917, c. 257, s. 3.)

This section does not impose upon the physician attempting in good faith to obey the statute the absolute duty of ascertaining the percentage of the solution furnished by a hospital for this purpose, and he is not liable for damages resulting from the use of a larger per cent of such solution when so furnished by the hospital. Covington v. Wyatt, 196 N. C. 367, 145 S. E. 673.

§ 7183. Duties of local health officer.—It shall be the duty of the local health officer:

1. To investigate or to have investigated each case as filed with him in pursuance with the law, and any other such cases as may come to his attention.

2. To report all cases of inflammation of the eyes of the newborn and the result of all such investigations as the state board of health shall direct.

3. To conform to such other rules and regulations as the state board of health shall promulgate for his further guidance. (1917, c. 257, s. 4.)

§ 7184. Duties of state board of health.—It shall be the duty of the North Carolina state board of health:

1. To enforce the provisions of this article.

2. To promulgate such rules and regulations as shall, under this article, be necessary for the purposes of this article, and such as the state board of health may deem necessary for the further and proper guidance of local health officers.

3. To provide for the gratuitous distribution of the scientific prophylactic for inflammation of the eyes of the newborn, as designated in section 7182, together with proper directions for the use and administration thereof, to all physicians and midwives as may be engaged in the practice of obstetrics or assisting at childbirth.

4. To publish and promulgate such further advice and information concerning the dangers of inflammation of the eyes of the newborn, and the necessity for prompt and effective treatment.

5. To furnish copies of this law to all physicians and midwives as may be engaged in the practice of obstetrics or assisting at childbirth.

6. To keep a proper record of any and all cases of inflammation of the eyes of the newborn as shall be filed in the office of the state board of health in pursuance with this law and as may come to their attention in any way, and to constitute such records a part of the biennial report to the governor and the legislature. (1917, c. 257, s. 5.)

§ 7185. Treatment in hospitals and institutions.—It shall be the duty of physicians, midwives, or other persons in attendance upon a case of childbirth in a maternity home, hospital, public or charitable institution, in every infant's eyes, within two hours after birth, to use the prophylactic against inflammation of the eyes of the newborn specified in this article, and to make record of the prophylactic used. It shall also be the duty of such institution to maintain such records of cases of inflammation of the eyes of the newborn as the state board of health shall direct. (1917, c. 257, s. 6.)

§ 7186. Violations of article; penalties.—Whoever being a physician, surgeon, midwife, obstetrician, nurse, manager, or person in charge of a maternity home or hospital, parent, relative, or person attendant upon or assisting at the birth of any infant, violates any of the provisions of this article shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof be fined in a sum not less than ten dollars nor more than fifty dollars, and, if possessed of the required amount of property, subject to suit by the parent or guardian of the child for damages resulting to the child; and if such a suit shall be brought the establishment of the fact that the physician or midwife did not place the drops in the child's eyes within two hours of its birth shall be accepted as prima facie evidence of the physician's or midwife's responsibility for the injury of the disease to the eye or eyes of the child. It shall be the duty of the prosecuting attorney to prosecute all violations of this article. (1917, c. 257, s. 7.)

§ 7189. Appropriation, disposal of fines and penalties; expenses.—The sum of three thousand dollars shall be annually appropriated for the use of the state board of health in enforcing and carrying out the provisions of this article. Any and all necessary and legitimate expenses that may be incurred in prosecuting a case under this article shall, on proper showing, be met by the state board of health out of this appropriation. In addition thereto, all fines and penalties recovered hereunder shall be paid into the state treasury and shall constitute a special fund for the use and purposes of the state board of health as herein enacted. (1917, c. 257, s. 10.)

§ 7190. Copies of article to be distributed.—Every health officer shall furnish a copy of this article to each person who is known to him to act as midwife or nurse in the county, city, or town for which such health officer is appointed, and the secretary of state shall cause a sufficient number of copies of this article to be printed and supply the same to the health officer of the county, city, or town, and the state board of health, on application. (1917, c. 257, s. 11.)

Art. 15. Venereal Diseases

Part 1. Control and Treatment

§ 7191. Venereal infection.—Syphilis, gonorrhea, and chancroid, hereinafter designated as venereal diseases, are hereby declared to be contagious, infectious, communicable, and dangerous to the public health. It shall be unlawful for any one infected with these diseases or any of them to expose another person to infection. (1919, c. 206, s. 1.)

§ 7192. Physicians and superintendents of institutions to report cases.—Any physician or other person who makes a diagnosis in or treats a case of venereal disease, and any superintendent or manager of a hospital, dispensary, or charitable institution in which there is a case of venereal disease, shall make a report of such case to the health authorities according to such form and manner as the North Carolina state board of health shall direct. (1919, c. 206, s. 2.)

§ 7193. Sources of infection investigated; suspected persons examined.—State, county, and municipal health officers, or their authorized deputies, within their respective jurisdictions are hereby directed and empowered, when in their judgment it is necessary to protect the public health, to make examinations of persons reasonably suspected of being infected with venereal disease, and to detain such persons until the results of such examinations are known; to require persons infected with venereal disease to report for treatment to a reputable physician and continue treatment until cured or to submit to treatment provided at public expense until cured; and also, when in their judgment it is necessary to protect the public health, to isolate or quarantine persons infected with venereal disease. It shall be the duty of all local and state health officers to investigate sources of infection of venereal disease, to coöperate with the proper officials whose duty it is to enforce laws directed against prostitution, and otherwise to use every proper means for the repression of prostitution. Provided, that no examination of any person for venereal diseases under this section shall be made by any one except a licensed physician. (1919, c. 206, s. 3; 1925, c. 217, s. 1.)

§ 7194. Prisoners examined and treated; isolation of patients.—All persons who shall be confined or imprisoned in any state, county, or city prison in the state shall be examined for and, if infected, treated for venereal diseases by the health authorities or their deputies. The prison authorities of any state, county, or city prison are directed to make available to the health authorities such portion of any state, county, or city prison as may be necessary for a clinic or hospital wherein all persons who may be confined or imprisoned in any such prison and who are infected with venereal disease, and all such persons who are suffering with venereal disease at the time of the expiration of their terms of imprisonment, and, in case no other suitable place for isolation or quarantine is available, such other persons as may be isolated or quarantined under the provisions of the first preceding section, shall be isolated and treated at public expense until cured; or, in lieu of such isolation, any of such persons may, in the direction of the North Carolina state board of health, be required to report for treatment to a licensed physician or submit to treatment provided at public expense as provided in section 7193. Nothing herein contained shall be construed to interfere with the service of any sentence imposed by a court as a punishment for the commission of crime. Provided, that no examination of any person for venereal disease under this section shall be made by any one except a licensed physician. (1919, c. 206, s. 4; 1925, c. 217, s. 2.)

Editor's Note.—By amendment, Public Laws 1925, ch. 217, sec. 2 the provision for examination by only licensed physicians was added.

§ 7195. Board of health may make rules and regulations to enforce this article.—The North Carolina state board of health is hereby empowered and directed to make such rules and regulations as shall in its judgment be necessary for the carrying out of the provisions of this article, including rules and regulations providing for the control and treatment of persons isolated or quarantined under the provisions of section 7193, and such other rules and regulations, not in conflict with provisions of this article, concerning the control of venereal diseases, and concerning the care, treatment, and quarantine of persons infected therewith, as it may from time to time deem advisable. All such rules and regulations so made shall be of force and binding upon all county and municipal health officers and other persons affected by this article, and shall have the force and effect of law. (1919, c. 206, s. 5.)

§ 7196. Expenses authorized.—The North Carolina state board of health, through its officers, are hereby empowered and authorized to incur such expenses in the examination, detention, quarantine, and treatment of persons suspected of having, or having, venereal diseases as in their judgment is necessary. (1919, c. 206, s. 6.)

§ 7197. Statements of expenses to county commissioners; payment of expenses.—The North Carolina state board of health shall submit to the county commissioners of the county in which persons suspected of having, or having, venereal diseases are suspected of having spread the disease, an itemized statement of expenses incurred in the examination, detention, quarantine, or treatment of such persons, and the county commissioners shall, within thirty days after the receipt of such statement of expenses, pay to the treasurer of the North Carolina state board of health a sum equal to that expended. (1919, c. 206, s. 7.)

§ 7198. Violation of this article or authority pursuant thereto a misdemeanor.—Any person who shall violate any of the provisions of this part of this article or any lawful rule or regulation made by the North Carolina state board of health pursuant to the authority herein granted, or who shall fail or refuse to obey any lawful order issued by any state, county, or municipal health officer, pursuant to the authority granted in this article, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be punished by a fine of not less than twenty-five dollars, nor more than fifty dollars, or by imprisonment for not more than thirty days. (1919, c. 206, s. 8.)

Part 2. Prescriptions and Reports

§ 7199. Treatment except by physician unlawful.—It shall be unlawful for any person except a regularly licensed physician to prescribe or give away any medicine for the treatment of any person afflicted with venereal disease. (1919, c. 214, s. 1.)

§ 7200. Patented and proprietary remedies; druggists to report sales of.—Any druggist or other person who sells at retail any patented, proprietary, or trade-mark remedy or alleged remedy advertised or recommended or sold for or used in the treatment of venereal diseases (gonorrhea, syphilis, or chancroid) or lost manhood, impotency, or sterility, or medicinal preparations containing the oils of cubebs, copaiba, sandalwood, or the oils themselves, iodides of mercury, or preparations compounded for urethral injections, shall report weekly on forms and in accordance with instructions supplied by the North Carolina state board of health the sale of such remedies or alleged remedies to the bureau of venereal diseases of the North Carolina state board of health. (1919, c. 214, s. 2.)

§ 7201. Obtaining prescription or remedy under false name a misdemeanor.—Any person who, in obtaining a prescription from a physician under section 7199, or in obtaining drugs or remedies mentioned in section 7200, gives a false or assumed name or address, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and subject to the penalties imposed in section 7206. (1919, c. 214, s. 3.)

§ 7203. Fees of quarantine officer and agents.—A quarantine officer or agent of a quarantine officer who issues a prescription for any such drug, remedy, or alleged remedy, and who instructs a person infected with venereal disease as required by the state laws and reports by number but without identification as now prescribed for reports by physicians for such diseases to the North Carolina state board of health, shall be entitled to a fee of fifty cents, twenty-five cents of which shall be paid by the bureau of venereal diseases of the North Carolina state board of health, and twenty-five cents of which shall be paid by the county commissioners of the county in which the quarantine officer has jurisdiction, on a certification of the bureau of venereal diseases of the North Carolina state board of health of the number of prescription issued by the quarantine officer or the quarantine officer's agent: Provided, that the municipal authorities shall pay the above amount for prescriptions issued by a municipal quarantine officer or his agent. No quarantine officer shall be entitled to any pay from either county or city for issuing prescriptions to persons who pay the quarantine officer in part or in full for the issuance of prescriptions. Several prescriptions issued on a single visit of the infected person to the quarantine officer shall entitle the said officer to not more than the fee for a single prescription. (1919, c. 214, s. 5.)

§ 7204. Druggists to keep record of prescriptions; subject to inspection.—Any and all prescriptions for venereal diseases (gonorrhea, syphilis, or chancroid), or impotency, sterility, or lost manhood, or prescriptions containing the drugs, remedies, or alleged remedies mentioned in section 7200, shall be kept by a druggist on a separate file, and shall be subject at any reasonable hour to inspection by an officer of the North Carolina state board of health. (1919, c. 214, s. 6.)

§ 7205. Purchaser of remedies may be examined.—The state health officer or his deputy or agent may require any purchaser of remedies or alleged remedies designated in section 7200, and who may be reasonably supposed to be infected with a venereal disease, to appear before a regularly licensed physician, quarantine officer or agent, for an examination for such disease. (1919, c. 214, s. 7.)

§ 7206. Violation of this article a misdemeanor.—Any person violating any of the provisions of this part of this article shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be fined not less than ten dollars nor more than fifty dollars, or imprisoned for not exceeding thirty days. (1919, c. 214, s. 8.)

Art. 16. Health of Prisoners

Part 1. Segregation of Tuberculous Prisoners

§ 7207. Tuberculous county prisoners to be segregated.—The board of county commissioners of the respective counties of North Carolina shall provide in the jail-house or in any camp or place where prisoners are committed for keeping or sentenced to a term of imprisonment in any county in the state of North Carolina, separate cells or rooms or a place in which shall be confined any prisoner or prisoners who may be committed for keeping or sentenced to said prison or place of confinement for a term of imprisonment, who has been examined by the county physician or county health officer and pronounced to be affected with tuberculosis. (1907, c. 567, s. 1.)

§ 7208. Sheriff to have prisoners suspected to be tuberculous examined and separated.—When a prisoner is placed in the custody of a sheriff for the purpose of being committed to jail or to any place where prisoners are kept, and the sheriff has reason to believe or suspect that the prisoner is suffering with tuberculosis, it shall be the duty of the sheriff to have such prisoner examined by the county physician or county health officer, and if upon examination the prisoner is pronounced tubercular, then he shall be separated from other prisoners and confined in a separate cell or other place of confinement. (1907, c. 567, s. 2.)

§ 7209. Tuberculous state prisoners to be segregated.—It shall be the duty of the board of directors of the state's prison to provide separate cells or apartments for the confinement of prisoners sentenced to that institution for a term of imprisonment, who have been examined and pronounced by the physician in charge to be affected with tuberculosis. (1907, c. 567, s. 3.)

§ 7210. Separate cells for tuberculous prisoners; fumigation.—Cells or places of confinement provided for prisoners affected with tuberculosis must be kept exclusively for such prisoners, and when they have been occupied by tuberculous prisoners they shall not be used for other prisoners until the county physician or county health officer, or the physician in charge and the health authorities of the state's prison, have been notified, and until such cells or places of confinement have been thoroughly fumigated and disinfected under the supervision of such officials in the manner required by the state board of health. (1907, c. 567, s. 4.)

§ 7211. Prison authorities to have prisoners suspected to be tuberculous examined.—When a prisoner is committed to any prison or place of confinement designated in this article, and the sheriff of the county, the warden of the state's prison or other authorities of the prison know or suspect the prisoner to be suffering with tuberculosis, it shall be the duty of such authorities to cause the prisoners to be examined by the county physician, the county health officer, or the physician in charge within five days after the prisoner has been committed or sentenced to the prison. (1907, c. 567, s. 5.)

§ 7212. Prisoners may be worked together.—Nothing contained in any of the preceding sections of this article shall be so construed as to interfere with or prevent the county or state authorities from working together all prisoners on public works as now provided for by law. (1907, c. 567, s. 6.)

Part 2. Prevention of Tuberculosis Among Prisoners

§ 7213. Tuberculous prisoners to be sent to state farm; prisoner's consent.—No prisoner suffering with tuberculosis shall be kept in any county convict camp, or on any public or private works, or in any jail (except, in the latter case, when said prisoner is awaiting trial), but such prisoner suffering with tuberculosis shall be sent to the state farm within forty-eight hours after the physician in charge shall have made a diagnosis of tuberculosis, the county in which said prisoner is confined bearing the expense of transfer, and it shall be the duty of the sheriff to make such transfer. But no such prisoner shall be sent to the state farm unless he has first consented thereto in writing in the presence of the sheriff of the county where the prisoner may be under sentence. The sheriff shall subscribe his name as a witness thereto and shall take and file the same with the clerk of the superior court of the county, who shall enter the same in a book to be kept for that purpose: Provided, that no such prisoner shall be kept at the state farm or central prison for a longer term than the length of his original sentence. (1917, c. 262, s. 1.)

§ 7214. Provision for care and cure of prisoners.—The board of directors of the central prison and state farm and the superintendent of the said central prison and state farm shall without delay make such provision for the care of such prisoners suffering with tuberculosis as will prevent their communicating the disease to the other prisoners, and to the end that such prisoners suffering with tuberculosis may be restored to health, if it be possible. (1917, c. 262, s. 2.)

§ 7215. Board of health must approve plans for prisoners.—It shall be the duty of the prison management to submit the plans for carrying into effect the two preceding sections to the state board of health for its approval, and they are required to make their plans, both for buildings and care of patients, conform to the recommendations of the state board of health. (1917, c. 262, s. 3.)

§ 7216. Health authorities to examine all prisoners.—It shall be the duty of every county physician or city physician, or county health officer, or city health officer, or other physician having in charge the medical care of prisoners in any city or county in this state, or on any public or private works where prisoners or convicts are employed, to make a thorough physical examination of every prisoner committed to the county or city jail or to the county or city chain-gang or road force, or any public or private works within forty-eight hours after the admission of such prisoner; and when he finds a prisoner suffering with tuberculosis, he shall make a written report of same to the state board of health, stating in detail the conditions found and the stage of the disease, within twenty-four hours after making such diagnosis, and he shall also report same to the superintendent of the chain-gang or the jailer or the superintendent of the public or private works, and to the sheriff of the county, in writing, within twenty-four hours after having made such diagnosis of tuberculosis. (1917, c. 262, s. 4.)

§ 7217. Officials in charge of prisoners to report on health.—Every superintendent of convicts, or superintendent of public or private works where convicts are employed, and the superintendent of the central prison and state farm, and every jailer, shall make such reports as to the existence of cases of tuberculosis or suspected cases of tuberculosis, or other disease or diseases, and loss of time on account of sickness, and the disease or diseases causing such loss of time and such other things that may have a bearing on the health of the prisoners and the sanitation of the camp, prison, or jail, to the state board of health at such stated periods and on such stated forms as may be requested by the state board of health. And every health officer or other physician having charge of prisoners in county convict camps, on county or city roads or streets or public or private works, or in jails or prisons, state, city, or county, shall likewise make such reports to the state board of health as to the physical condition and transfer of prisoners and as to the sanitary condition of camps, jails, or prisons, as may be requested by the state board of health. (1917, c. 262, s. 5.)

§ 7218. Reports to include transference and particulars as to tuberculous. — The superintendent of the central prison or state farm, convict camp, or of any public or private works where convicts are used, and the jailers of the county jails and the sheriff of the county, and the medical officer connected with any of the above mentioned places where convicts are kept or worked, shall make such reports to the state board of health as to transference of prisoners suffering with tuberculosis, giving name of prisoner, length of time said prisoner had been under his jurisdiction, the stage of the disease, point or place to which he was transferred, name and address and official title of the person to whom he was transferred, and such other information as may be requested by the state board of health. (1917, c. 262, s. 6.)

§ 7219. Food and work of tuberculous prisoners.—In order more effectively to promote the recovery of tuberculous prisoners, it shall be the duty of the superintendent of the central prison and state farm and such other officers as may have jurisdiction under him to provide such additional food for prisoners suffering with tuberculosis as may be prescribed or requested by the physician in charge. And such prisoners suffering with tuberculosis shall only do such work as may be prescribed by the prison physician. (1917, c. 262, s. 7.)

§ 7220. Violation of article misdemeanor.— Any person violating any of the provisions of this article shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be punished in the discretion of the court. (1907, c. 567, s. 7; 1917, c. 262, s. 8.)

Art. 16. Health of Prisoners

Part. 3. Sanatorium for Tubercular Prisoners

§ 7220(a). Establishment of sanatorium; power and authority of directors.—There shall be established at, or as near to as feasible, the North Carolina sanatorium for the treatment of tuberculosis, a sanatorium for the treatment of tubercular prisoners or convicts. The board of directors of the North Carolina sanatorium for the treatment of tuberculosis shall have all authority and power over said sanatorium as that conferred upon the state board of health over the said North Carolina sanatorium in section seven thousand one hundred and seventy-two, et seq. (1923, c. 127, s. 2.)

Editor's Note.—This act was reviewed in 1 N. C. Law Rev. 269.

§ 7220(b). Reports from county physicians or health officers; history of case, etc.—The county physician or county health officer of the various counties of the state who has examined any prisoner, or convict upon the public roads, and has pronounced him to be affected with tuberculosis, is required to report such case to the board of directors of the North Carolina sanatorium for the treatment of tuberculosis, giving a history of the same and such other facts as the board of directors of the North Carolina sanatorium for the treatment of tuberculosis may determine in its rules and regulations. (1923, c. 127, s. 3.)

Editor's Note.—The last sentence was added by the 1927 amendment.

§ 7220(d). Examination by directors of sanatorium; transfer to sanatorium.—The board of directors of the North Carolina sanatorium for the treatment of tuberculosis, upon receiving such reports, shall examine into the condition of these prisoners or convicts, and, if it is determined that such condition justifies it, shall direct their transfer from either county authorities, if a county prisoner, or the state prison, if a state prisoner, to the sanatorium herein provided. The cost of such transfer, if it is a county prisoner, shall be paid by the county from which he is transferred; if a state prisoner, the cost shall be paid by the state prison. If a tuberculous prisoner is thus transferred to the sanatorium, the county from which he is sent shall, upon notice from the sanatorium that the prisoner has recovered or is in such condition that it would be safe to return him to the county, within five days after such notice, send for such prisoner and return him to the county from which he was committed. Any failure on the part of the county to send for such prisoner as herein provided after such notice shall render the county liable for the expenses of maintaining the prisoner. (1923, c. 127, s. 5; 1927, c. 127.)

§ 7220(e). Care and safekeeping of convicts.—In addition to the authority to make rules and regulations hereinbefore conferred upon the board of directors of the North Carolina sanatorium for the treatment of tuberculosis, it is further authorized to make such rules and regulations as in its judgment may seem wise in relation to the care and safe-keeping of the prisoners and convicts so transferred to the state sanatorium for tubercular prisoners. (1923, c. 127, s. 6.)

§ 7220(f). Administration of article; rules and regulations.—The administration of this article is given exclusively to the board of directors of the North Carolina sanatorium for the treatment of tuberculosis, which board is expressly authorized and empowered to make such rules and regulations not inconsistent with this article as it may deem wise: first, as to the determination of whether a particular convict is suffering with tuberculosis, and second, whether or not the disease is in such a stage as to require special treatment. (1923, c. 127, s. 1.)

Art. 17. Surgical Operations on Inmates of State Institutions

§ 7221. Operations for improvement of mental, moral, or physical condition.—The medical staff of any penal or charitable hospital or institution of the state of North Carolina is hereby permitted and instructed to have any surgical operation performed by competent and skillful surgeons upon any inmate of any such penal or charitable hospital or institution when, in the judgment of the board hereinafter created in the next succeeding section, such operation would be for the improvement of the mental, moral, or physical condition of such inmate of any such institution: Provided, such operation shall not be performed until same shall have been affirmed by the governor and the secretary of the state board of health. (1919, c. 281, s. 1.)

§ 7222. Board of consultation for carrying out provisions of this article.—At least one representative of the medical staff of the several charitable and penal institutions of the state, and one from the state board of health, such representatives to be designated by the governing bodies of the several institutions, shall constitute a board of consultation for the carrying out of the provisions of this article. Such board shall cause a permanent record to be kept by one of its members, designated as secretary, of all its actions and judgments, taken at a meeting held only after due notice has been issued to all its members. (1919, c. 281, s. 2.)

Art. 18. Maritime Quarantine

Part. 1. Quarantine on Cape Fear River

§ 7223. North Carolina station for maritime quarantine.—There shall be established, at the nearest suitable site, opposite the present quarantine anchorage at Deepwater Point, a station to be known and designated as The North Carolina Station for Maritime Sanitation. For the purpose of selecting a suitable site, the quarantine board, the chairman of the board of commissioners of navigation and pilotage of the port of Wilmington, and the mayor of Southport shall constitute a board, who shall acquire by purchase, or otherwise, sufficient land and water privileges for the purpose—the title to which shall be vested in the quarantine board and their successors in office, who are hereby constituted trustees to hold said quarantine site for the state of North Carolina. Upon the site so acquired shall be erected such wharves, buildings, apparatus, and machinery as are necessary for all the purposes of maritime sanitation, and the system of sanitation to be used shall be devised by and subject to the approval of a board to consist of the quarantine board and the president and secretary of the state board of health. The said station, with its wharves, buildings, apparatus, and machinery, shall be erected under the direction and be under the supervision of the quarantine board, and they shall prescribe all such rules and regulations as are necessary for its government and its maintenance. (Rev., s. 4530; 1893, c. 505.)

§ 7224. North Carolina station available for all state ports.—Such quarantine station, established as provided in the preceding section, shall be and the same is hereby made a relief station to which vessels having on board persons who have been or are sick with infectious diseases, or the baggage of persons who have died of infectious disease during the voyage of said vessels, applying at any other port or ports of North Carolina, shall come for disinfection, whenever so directed by the quarantine officer of such other port or ports. (Rev., s. 4531; 1893, c. 505, s. 3.)

§ 7226. Fees and penalties for upkeep of North Carolina station.—All fees collected from vessels, as provided in section four thousand five hundred and twenty-two, and all penalties and forfeitures collected for violations of the quarantine regulations of the port of Wilmington, shall constitute a fund in the hands of the quarantine board, and shall be used by them for the purpose of preserving the site established on the Cape Fear river, improving the buildings and wharves and keeping them in repair, and for such other purposes as may be necessary for the efficient management of the quarantine service. (Rev., s. 4533; 1889, c. 521, s. 6.)

May, or as soon thereafter as practicable, and organize for the purposes before mentioned by the election of a president and secretary; and it shall be the duty of the president to call meetings whenever any special emergency shall arise requiring new quarantine rules and regulations, and of the secretary to keep a record of all such proceedings; and they shall be entitled to compensation for their services at the rate of one hundred dollars per year. (Rev., s. 4526; Code, s. 2912; 1889, c. 521; 1868, c. 33, s. 1; 1879, c. 123.)

§ 7229. Boat and crew for use of officer.—There shall be provided for the use of the quarantine officer on the Cape Fear river a suitable boat furnished with all necessary materials, and he shall employ a crew of four men, at such seasons as quarantine regulations are in force, or when the public health may require it. He shall cause the boat to be kept in repair and always ready for service, and may employ some competent person for the service, who shall be paid by the state treasurer, on the certificate of the medical officer that the services were necessary and the charges just and reasonable. (Rev., s. 4529; Code, s. 2914; 1868, c. 33, s. 3.)

§ 7231. Fees charged on vessels.—Every vessel subject to visit and inspection shall pay a fee of five dollars, if of no less than two hundred and fifty tons burden; if of more than two hundred and fifty and less than five hundred tons burden, eight dollars; if of more than five hundred and less than one thousand tons burden, ten dollars; if over one thousand tons, fifteen dollars, which shall be collected and accounted for by the quarantine officer, as provided for in this article, and every person taken to the hospital shall pay a fee not exceeding three dollars per day, until discharged by the quarantine officer, for the payment of which the vessel shall be responsible, and only such vessel shall be subject to visit and inspection as may be from ports designated, from time to time, by the medical officer, except that all vessels having sickness on board shall be brought to the visiting station for examination. (Rev., s. 4522; Code, s. 2916; 1868, c. 33, s. 5; 1891, c. 533.)

§ 7232. Pilots to bring vessels to station; penalty.—It shall be the duty of all pilots to bring vessels to the visiting station, as they may be required from time to time by the quarantine officer, and they shall not take any vessel subject to quarantine or visitation, past the station, until released by the quarantine officer; and any pilot who shall wilfully violate any quarantine regulation shall forfeit his branch or commission, and thence be incapable to act as a pilot in any port in the state. (Rev., s. 4512; Code, s. 2917; 1868, c. 33, s. 6.)

§ 7233. Master refusing to obey regulations; penalty.—Any master of a vessel who shall refuse to obey the quarantine regulations shall forfeit and pay a fine of two hundred dollars for each day he shall refuse to obey the same, for which forfeiture the property of the captain, together with the vessel and cargo, shall be held responsible. (Rev., s. 4523; Code, s. 2918; 1868, c. 33, s. 7.)

§ 7234. Violating quarantine regulations; penalty.—Any person who shall violate the quarantine regulations, as prescribed from time to time by the quarantine officers, shall forfeit and pay the sum of two hundred dollars for each offense; and all penalties and forfeitures imposed by this chapter may be recovered before any court having jurisdiction, one-half to the informer, the other half to the payment of the expenses of the quarantine establishment. Any person who shall violate any of the rules and regulations made by the quarantine board for the control, government, and maintenance of the quarantine station on Cape Fear river, as provided for in this part of this article, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. (Rev., ss. 3450, 4524; Code, s. 2919; 1868, c. 33, s. 8.)

§ 7236. Site may be sold and new site purchased.—If the quarantine board, on investigation, shall consider a site further removed from inhabited places as essential to the public safety and shall so recommend, it shall be the duty of the governor to sell the present hospital site at Price's Creek in such manner as he may deem best, and make title to the purchaser thereof, and the moneys received for said site to turn over to the quarantine board, to be used by them for quarantine purposes at some other point as convenient as possible to the quarantine anchorage off

Deepwater Point. (Rev., s. 4534; 1889, c. 521, s. 5.)

Part 2. General Provisions

§ 7237. Control of maritime quarantine; rules.—Except as otherwise provided in this chapter, the commissioners of navigation in the respective ports and inlets of the state, or where there are no commissioners of navigation, the governing authorities of any seaport town, may appoint such place or places as they may think proper for vessels to perform quarantine; and when a vessel shall arrive at any port or inlet of this state, having an infectious distemper on board, or shall come from any place or port which at the time of her sailing, or shortly before, was infected with any malignant disorder, the master and pilot of such vessel shall anchor her at the place so appointed, and give immediate information thereof to the county physician or health officer of the county in which such port is situated to the municipal physician or health officer of such town, who shall thereupon cause such vessel and her crew to be examined by the county or municipal health authorities, who shall have power to order and command the master of the vessel, crew, and passengers to perform such quarantine as shall be deemed most proper and reasonable to check or prevent any infectious distemper from spreading in this state, and to require every person on board such vessel strictly to perform quarantine, and to obey the orders given by the health authorities aforesaid respecting the victualing, purifying, and cleansing of such vessel and all articles on board, and regulate and control the intercourse of such persons with the inhabitants of the state, the receiving any person on board or the putting them on shore; and if any pilot or master neglect to give such information as above required, the pilot for such neglect shall forfeit and pay one hundred dollars, and the master for a like neglect shall forfeit and pay two hundred dollars. In case the master of any vessel ordered to perform quarantine should refuse to comply with or fail to fulfill the orders for performing quarantine with his vessel, he shall forfeit and pay two hundred dollars for each day he shall fail to perform the quarantine. The property of the captain, together with the vessel and cargo, whether owned by the captain or not, shall be liable for the penalty therein imposed. If there be at the port where the vessel enters a port physician, as provided for in this article, he shall perform the duties and have all the power by this section conferred upon the health authorities aforesaid. The state authorities shall coöperate in all matters of quarantine with the federal authorities. (Rev., s. 4510; Code, s. 2893; R. C., c. 94, s. 1; 1783, c. 194, s. 12; 1793, c. 379, s. 1; 1802, c. 624.)

§ 7238. Commissioners of navigation; appoint harbor master and health officer.—The commissioners of navigation of the several seaport towns in the state shall have power to appoint a harbor and health officer, to prescribe their duties and authority, to make rules and regulations for their government, allow them a reasonable compensation for their services, and determine how such compensation is to be paid. And they shall have power to pass such by-laws (not inconsistent with the laws of the land) for the better regulation of the quarantine to be performed by vessels arriving from ports infected or suspected to be infected with any infectious disease, and for preventing all intercourse between such vessels and persons on shore, as to them may seem meet and proper, and to enforce obedience to such by-laws by imposing such penalties as they may think proper. (Rev., s. 4537; Code, s. 2905; R. C., c. 94, s. 13.)

§ 7239. Governing authorities of seaport towns; powers.—The governing authorities of the several seaport towns and towns having a port of entry, where there are no commissioners of navigation, shall have the same power and authority and be subject to the same duties as are prescribed for the commissioners of navigation in relation to the quarantine of vessels in the ports of their respective towns; and all persons offending against the regulations of such governing authorities shall be subject to the same fines, penalties, and forfeitures as though the said regulations had been made by the commissioners of navigation. (Rev., s. 4536; Code, s. 2906; R. C., c. 94, s. 14.)

§ 7240. Port physician; appointment.—The commissioners of navigation in the several ports of the state, and, where there are no such commissioners, the governing authorities of the several seaport towns, may appoint port physicians, and regulate and prescribe the fees to which they shall be respectively entitled, according to the different quarantine stations, which they shall be bound to attend for the purpose of inspecting vessels, as required by this article, and giving certificates of their situation and condition, in regard to the health of their respective crews and passengers. (Rev., s. 4517; Code, s. 2896; R. C., c. 94, s. 3; 1817, c. 946, s. 2.)

§ 7241. Vessels from infected ports to anchor at quarantine; punishment for failure.—If any vessel shall be brought into the state from a place which at the time of her departure was infected with the yellow fever, smallpox, or other infectious disorder, or if any vessel, arriving in the state, shall have the smallpox or yellow fever or other infectious disorder on board, or shall have had such disorder on board during her passage to the state, such vessel shall be anchored at the place appointed for quarantine, and there remain until permitted to remove by the commissioners of navigation, or by the municipal authorities of the town to which the vessel is bound, or by the county physician or health officer. If such vessel shall come to any town or harbor without permission obtained as herein required, the pilot or master conducting the vessel or permitting her to be so conducted shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and fined not less than one thousand dollars and imprisoned not exceeding one year. (Rev., ss. 3451, 4511; Code, s. 2894; R. C., c. 94, s. 2; 1817, c. 946, s. 1.)

§ 7242. Pilots bringing in vessels without certificate; penalty.—If any pilot shall bring any vessel beyond the place fixed and limited by the commissioners of navigation without a certificate of the health officer declaring that there is no danger to be apprehended from any infectious disease on board said vessel, such pilot shall forfeit his branch or commission, and thence be incapable to act as pilot in any port of the state. (Rev., s. 4513; Code, s. 2904; R. C., c. 94, s. 12; 1797, c. 486, s. 2.)

§ 7243. Master must declare health of crew.—The commissioners of navigation or the county physician or health officer may, whenever they think proper, require the master of a vessel, on his arrival in the state, to declare on oath the state of the health of himself, crew, and passengers, and the place whence he came. And if any master shall give a false declaration, or any physician shall wilfully give a false certificate of the health of the persons on board any such vessel, he shall forfeit and pay two thousand dollars. (Rev., s. 4514; Code, s. 2901; R. C., c. 94, s. 9; 1793, c. 379, s. 6.)

§ 7246. Going on quarantined vessel; penalty.—When any vessel shall be directed to perform quarantine, and any person knowing of such order, by the information of the master or otherwise, shall go on board of such vessel without permission of the commissioners of navigation or the county physician or county health officer aforesaid, such person shall forfeit and pay one hundred dollars. If any person shall be permitted by the master to come on board without informing him of the orders as to quarantine and intercourse given as provided in section 7237 of this article, the master shall forfeit and pay two hundred dollars for every person so offending, and four hundred dollars for suffering any person so on board to depart his vessel without permission as provided in this article, and the commissioners of navigation or the county physician or county health officer are empowered to order every person who shall go on board any such vessel to remain there for such length of time as they may think proper; and if he disobey such order, he shall pay one hundred dollars. (Rev., s. 4518; Code, s. 2898; R. C., c. 94, s. 6; 1793, c. 397, s. 3.)

§ 7247. Landing goods from quarantined vessels; penalty.—If any master of a vessel ordered to ride quarantine shall convey, or cause or permit to be conveyed, any article of goods, wares, and merchandise from his vessel on any other lands or into any other boat or vessel than the commissioners or navigation or the county physician or county health officer shall authorize, he shall forfeit and pay two hundred dollars for every such offense. And any other person so conveying, or causing to be conveyed, any articles as above mentioned, shall be liable to the like penalty. (Rev., s. 4519; Code, s. 2900; R. C., c. 94, s. 8; 1793, c. 379, s. 5.)

§ 7248. Person breaking quarantine to be returned.—The commissioners of navigation or the county physician or county health officer, respectively, may issue their warrant to any sheriff or other officer, commanding him to take the body of any person that may have left any vessel ordered to ride quarantine, and carry him on board of said vessel; and the officer may summon such persons to assist him in the execution of the warrant as he may see fit. (Rev., s. 4520; Code, s. 2899; R. C., c. 94, s. 7; 1793, c. 379, s. 4.)

§ 7249. Penalty for breaking quarantine. —When a vessel shall be directed to perform quarantine, any seaman or passenger shall, contrary to the order and direction of the commissioners of navigation or the county physician or county health officer, leave the vessel and land on any other place than they shall allow, the seaman or passenger offending shall forfeit and pay two hundred dollars for each offense; and when he has left the vessel with the master's consent, the master shall pay a like penalty of two hundred dollars for every such offense of any of his passengers or seamen. (Rev., s. 4521; Code, s. 2897; R. C., c. 94, s. 5; 1793, c. 379, s. 2.)

§ 7250. Disposition of penalties and forfeitures. —All penalties and forfeitures imposed by this article may be recovered and applied, one-half to the use of the informer, the other half by the commissioners of navigation for the use and benefit of the navigation of the port within whose jurisdiction the penalty or forfeiture may have been incurred. (Rev., s. 4538; Code, s. 2903; R. C., c. 94, s. 11; 1793, c. 379, s. 8.)

Art. 19. Chapter Not to Affect Powers Under Special Laws

§ 7251. Powers of local boards not affected.—Nothing in this chapter shall operate as a repeal or abridgment of powers conferred by any special act on any local board of health. (Rev., s. 4458; 1893, c. 214, s. 30.)

Art. 20. Ice Cream Plants, Creameries, and Cheese Factories

§ 7251(a). Cleanliness and sanitation enjoined; wash rooms and toilets, living and sleeping rooms; animals.—For the protection of the health of the people of the state, all places where ice-cream, frozen custard, milk sherbet, sherbet, water ices, and other similar frozen food products are made for sale, all creameries, butter and cheese factories, when in operation, shall be kept clean and in a sanitary condition. The floors, walls, and ceiling of all work rooms where the products of plants named herein are made, mixed, stored or handled shall be such that same can be kept in a clean and sanitary condition. All windows, doors, and other openings shall be effectively screened during fly season. Suitable wash rooms shall be maintained, and if a toilet is attached, it shall be of sanitary construction and kept in a sanitary condition. No person shall be allowed to live or sleep in such factory unless rooms so occupied are separate and apart from the work or storage rooms. No horses, cows, or other animal shall be kept in such factories or close enough to contaminate products of same unless separated by impenetrable wall without doors, windows, or other openings. (1921, c. 169, s. 1; 1933, c. 431, s. 1.)

Editor's Note.—Public Laws of 1933, c. 431, made this section applicable to frozen custard, milk sherbet, etc. Section 5 of the amendatory act provides that the amendment shall not apply to Mecklenburg and Cabarrus counties.

§ 7251(b). Cleaning and sterilization of vessels and utensils.—Suitable means or appliances shall be provided for the proper cleaning or sterilizing of freezers, vats, mixing cans or tanks, conveyors, and all utensils, tools and implements used in making or handling cream, ice-cream, butter or cheese and all such apparatus shall be thoroughly cleaned as promptly after use as practicable. (1921, c. 169, s. 2.)

§ 7251(c). Purity of products.—All cream, ice-cream, butter, cheese, or other products produced in places named herein shall be pure, wholesome, and not deleterious to health, and shall comply with the standards of purity, sanitation, and rules and regulations of the board of agriculture provided for in section 7251(h), and whole milk, sweet cream, and ice cream mix shipped into this state from other states shall meet the same requirements and be subject to the same regulations and shall carry a tag or label showing grade or standard of quality of product. (1921, c. 169, s. 3; 1933, c. 431, s. 2.)

Editor's Note.—Public Laws 1933, c. 431, added the last clause of the section relating to products shipped into the state. Section 5 of the amendatory act provides that the amendment shall not apply to Mecklenburg and Cabarrus counties.

§ 7251(d). Receivers of products to clean utensils before return.—Every person, company, or corporation who shall receive milk, cream, or ice-cream which is delivered in cans, bottles, or other receptacles, shall thoroughly clean same as soon as practicable after the contents are removed and before the said receptacles are returned to shipper or person from whom the same was received or before such receptacles are delivered to any carrier to be returned to shipper. (1921, c. 169, s. 4.)

§ 7251(e). Correct tests of butter fat; tests by board of agriculture.—Creameries and factories that purchase milk and cream from products of same on a butter-fat basis, and pay for same on their own test, shall make and pay on correct test, and any failure to do so shall constitute a violation of this act. The board of agriculture, under regulations provided for in section 7251(h) shall have such test made of milk and cream sold to factories named herein that will show if dishonest tests and practices are used by the purchasers of such products. (1921, c. 169, s. 5.)

§ 7251(f). Department of agriculture to enforce law; examinations.—It shall be the duty of the department of agriculture to enforce this article, and the board of agriculture shall cause to be made by the experts of the department such examinations of plants and products named herein as are necessary to insure the compliance with the provisions of this article. For the purpose of inspection, the authorized experts of the department shall have authority, during business hours, to enter all plants or storage rooms where cream, ice-cream, butter, or cheese or ingredients used in the same are made, stored, or kept, and any person who shall hinder, prevent, or attempt to prevent any duly authorized expert of the department in the performance of his duty in connection with this article shall be guilty of a violation of the article. (1921, c. 169, s. 6.)

§ 7251(g). Closure of plants for violation of article; certificate to sclicitor of district.—If it shall appear from the examinations that any provision of this article has been violated, the commissioner of agriculture shall have authority to order the plant or place of manufacture closed until the law is complied with. If the owner or operator of place refuses or fails to comply with the order, law, or regulations, the commissioner shall then certify the facts in the case to the solicitor in the district in which the violtaion was committed. (1921, c. 169, s. 7.)

§ 7251(h). Standards of purity and sanitation.—The board of agriculture is authorized to make such definitions and to establish such standards of purity for products and sanitation for plants or places of manufacture named herein with such regulations, not in conflict with this article, as shall be necessary to make provisions of this article effective and insure the proper enforcement of same, and the violation of said standards of purity or regulations shall be deemed to be a violation of this article. (1921, c. 169, s. 8; 1933, c. 431, s. 3.)

Editor's Note.—Public Laws 1933, c. 431, added the clause "to make such definitions and." Section 5 of the amendatory act provides that the amendment shall not apply to Mecklenburg and Cabarrus counties.

§ 7251(i). Inspection fees; wholesalers; retailers and cheese factories.—For the purpose of defraying the expenses incurred in the enforcement of this article, the owner, proprietor, or operator of each ice-cream factory where ice cream, frozen custard, milk sherbet, sherbet, water ices and/or other similar frozen food products are made or stored or cheese factory or creamery in this state that disposes of its product at wholeseale to retail dealers, to be resold, shall pay to the commissioner of agriculture during the month of July of each year an inspection fee of twenty dollars ($20), and each maker of ice-cream, frozen custard, milk sherbet, sherbet, water ices, and/or other similar frozen food products who disposes of his product at retail only, and cheese factories, shall pay to the commissioner of agriculture an inspection fee of five dollars ($5) during the month of July of each year. (1921, c. 169, s. 9; 1933, c. 431, s. 4.)

Editor's Note.—Public Laws of 1933, c. 433, made this section applicable to frozen custards, milk sherbets, etc. Section 5 of the amendatory act provides that the amendment shall not apply to Mecklenburg and Cabarrus counties.

§ 7251(j). Violation of law a misdemeanor; punishment.—Any person, firm, or corporation who shall violate any of the provisions of this article shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not to exceed twenty-five dollars for the first offense, and for each subsequent offense in the discretion of the court. (1921, c. 169, s. 10.)

Art. 21. Public Bakeries

§ 7251(k). Sanitary condition of rooms; drainage; toilets.—Every room or other place occupied or used as a bakery for the preparation, production, storage, or display of bread, cakes, or other bakery products intended for sale for human consumption, shall be clean, properly lighted, and ventilated. The floors, walls, and ceilings of the rooms in which the dough or pastry is mixed, handled, or prepared for baking, or in which the bakery products or ingredients of such products are otherwise handled, stored, or displayed, shall be kept and maintained in a clean and sanitary condition. All openings into such rooms, including windows and doors, shall be properly screened to exclude flies. Every such bakery shall be provided with adequate drainage and suitable wash sinks. If a toilet or water closet is maintained in connection with such bakery, it must be of sanitary construction, and such toilet or water closet shall be well ventilated and kept in a sanitary condition. (1921, c. 173, s. 1.)

§ 7251(l). Tables, shelves, and implements; refuse; sleeping rooms.—All tables, shelves, troughs, trays, receptacles, utensils, implements, and machinery used in preparing, mixing or handling bakery products or the ingredients of same, must be thoroughly cleaned daily when in use, and kept in a clean, sanitary condition. All refuse, dirt, and waste matter subject to decomposition and decay incident to the production of bakery products must be removed from the bakery daily. The work rooms of bakeries, where bakery products are made, stored or displayed, shall not be used as sleeping or living rooms, and shall at all times be separate and closed from any such room. (1921, c. 173, s. 2.)

§ 7251(m). Employees; sitting or lying on tables; cleanliness.—No employee or other person shall sit or lie upon any of the tables, troughs, shelves, etc., which are used for the dough or other bakery products. Before beginning the work of preparing or mixing the ingredients, or after using toilet or water closet, every person engaged in the preparation or handling of bakery products shall wash the hands and arms thoroughly, and for this purpose sufficient wash basins or sinks, together with soap and clean towels, shall be provided by the bakery. (1921, c. 173, s. 3.)

§ 7251(n). Use of tobacco.—No person shall use tobacco in any form in any bakery or bread manufacturing plant where bread or other bakery products are manufactured or stored. (1921, c. 173, s. 3a.)

§ 7251(o). Ingredients and materials.—All ingredients used in the manufacture or making of bread or any other bakery products shall be pure and wholesome, and shall contain no substance that is poisonous or deleterious to health. All materials and ingredients used in bakery products shall be stored, handled, and kept in a way to protect them from spoilage and contamination, and no material shall be used which is spoiled or contaminated, or which may render the product unwholesome or unfit for food. (1921, c. 173, s. 4.)

§ 7251(p). Adulterants; stale products; infections.—No material or ingredient may be used which may deceive the purchaser, or which lowers or lessens the nutritive value of the product. No bread or other bakery products shall be sold or offered for sale for human food that has by age or otherwise become stale. All handling or sale of bread or other bakery products and all practices connected therewith shall be conducted so as to prevent the distribution of contamination or diseases and so as to prevent the distribution of the bakery infection in bread commonly known as "rope" or other bakery infections. No bread or other bakery products shall be returned by any dealer, restaurant, cafe or hotel keeper to bakery or distributor after same has been in stock where it may have been subject to contamination, no bakery or distributor shall directly or indirectly accept any such bread or other bakery products or make any allowance for such products. (1921, c. 173, s. 5; 1925, c. 286.)

Editor's Note. — The last two sentences were added by the 1925 amendment.

§ 7251(q). Department of agriculture to enforce law; examination of plant and products.—It shall be the duty of the department of agriculture to enforce this article, and the board of agriculture shall cause to be made by the experts of the department such examinations of plants and products named herein as are necessary to insure proper compliance with the provisions of this article. For the purpose of inspection, the authorized experts of the department shall have authority, during business hours, to enter all bakeries or storage rooms where bakery products are made, stored, or kept, and any person who shall prevent or attempt to prevent any duly authorized expert in the performance of his duty in connection with this article, shall be guilty of a violation of this article. (1921, c. 173, s. 6.)

§ 7251(r). Closing of plant; report of violation of law to solicitor.—If it shall appear fom examination that any provision of this article has been violated, the commissioner of agriculture shall have authority to order the bakery or place closed until the law has been complied with. If the owner or operator of same refuses or fails to comply with the law, the commissioners shall then certify the facts in the case to the solicitor in the district in which the violation was committed. (1921, c. 173, s. 7.)

§ 7251(s). Regulations; establishment; violation.—The board of agriculture is authorized to establish such regulations, not in conflict with this article, as may be necessary to make provisions of this article effective, and to insure the proper compliance of same, and a violation of the regulations shall be deemed to be a violation of this article. (1921, s. 173, s. 8.)

§ 7251(t). Inspection fee.—For the purpose of defraying expenses incurred in the enforcement of this article the owner or operator of each public bakery or bakery furnishing bakery products to the public operated in this state shall pay to the commissioner of agriculture during the month of May of each year, an inspection fee of ten dollars. (1921, c. 173, s. 9.)

§ 7251(u). Violation of law a misdemeanor.—Any person, firm, or corporation who shall violate any of the provisions of this article shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not to exceed twenty-five dollars for the first offense, and for each subsequent offense in the discretion of the court. (1921, c. 173, s. 10.)

§ 7251(v). Inspectors.—The inspectors who shall carry out the provisions of this article shall be the same inspectors who shall be sent out by the department of agriculture to inspect bottling works and general food inspections. (1921, c. 173, s. 10a.)

§ 7251(w). Repeal of laws; town ordinances.—All laws and clauses of laws in conflict with this article are hereby repealed: Provided, nothing in this article shall have the effect of repealing or rendering void ordinances upon this subject now in force in any municipality in North Carolina, but this article shall be construed to be supplemental and in addition thereto. (1921, c. 173, s. 11.)

Art. 21A. Milk and Milk Bottles, Crates, Cans and Other Containers of Dairy Products

§ 7251(w) 1. Regulation of use of milk containers.—No person, firm or corporation shall use, or permit to be used a milk bottle, or other receptacle designed as a milk container, or container of dairy products, and having the name, brand or trade mark of any other person, firm or corporation thereon, for any purpose other than as a milk container, or as a container of dairy products.

It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to use or permit to be used any milk bottle, can, crate, or any other container for milk or milk products which has the name, label, trade name or inscription of any other person, firm or corporation blown, embossed or marked thereon. (1933, c. 284, ss. 1, 2.)

§ 7251(w) 2. Purchase of containers regulated.—It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to purchase milk bottles except from a wholesale dealer, retail store or dairyman having the same for sale and it shall also be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation, other than dealers having the same for sale, to sell any milk bottles: Provided, that this section shall not apply to judicial sales. (1933, c. 284, s. 3.)

§ 7251(w) 3. Violation made misdemeanor.—Any person, firm or corporation or agent willfully violating any of the sections of this statute shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be subject to a penalty of a fine of not more than fifty ($50.00) dollars, or imprisonment of not more than thirty days for each and every violation thereof. (1933, c. 284, s. 4.)

§ 7251(w) 4. Supervision of dairy products by department of agriculture.—The state department of agriculture shall have full power to make and promulgate rules and regulations for the dairy division of the department of agriculture in its inspection and control of the purchase and sale of milk and other dairy products in North Carolina; to make and establish definitions, not inconsistent with the laws pertaining thereto; to qualify and determine the grade and contents of milk and of other dairy products sold in this state; to regulate the manner of testing the same not inconsistent with the standard methods as promulgated by the American public health association, and of all inspections which may be lawfully made except those relating to public health and sanitation, in the handling, treatment, and sale of the said milk products, and such other rules and regulations not inconsistent with the law as may be necessary in connection with the authority hereby given to the commissioner of agriculture on this subject, and may license Babcock testers and revoke license.

The commissioner of agriculture shall be given authority to inspect all Babcock testers, glassware, and scales, as provided for in these regulations, and condemn such as are not found accurate and in good repair. He shall visit either in person, or by a deputy, all creameries, cheese factories, milk depots, etc., where milk and cream, and milk products are sold in this state, as often as may be necessary, and shall supervise in any practical way, the work of all licensed testers as provided for in this section.

The commissioner of agriculture and his deputies shall be authorized and empowered to make such tests as are necessary to settle disputes when called upon by either buyer or seller of milk, cream, or other dairy products where such disputes arise over dissatisfaction regarding weight or tests of dairy products. Such tests shall be regarded as correct, and shall be used as a basis for settlement in such disputes. (1933, c. 550, ss. 1-3.)

§ 7251(w) 5. Misbranding milk or cream prohibited.—It shall be unlawful for any person, firm, association or corporation to sell or offer for sale in any city, county, or other unit of local government which has adopted the public health service milk ordinance, or within one mile of the boundaries thereof, milk or cream in any container, bottle, or can bearing any legend, letter or symbol likely to be misleading, or indicating that such milk or cream has been graded, unless said milk or cream does conform in every respect with the requirements of said public health service milk ordinance. Any person violating the provisions of this section is guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be subject to a fine of not more than $50.00, nor less than $10.00. (1933, c. 343, s. 1.)

Art. 22. Manufacture, etc., of Bedding

§ 7251(x). Definitions.—The term "bedding" as used in this article shall be construed to mean any mattress, upholstered spring, comforter, pad, cushion or pillow designed and made for use in sleeping or reclining, except where the filling thereof consists exclusively of sterilized feathers.

The word "person" as used in this article shall be construed to import the plural and the singular, as the case demands, and shall include individuals, corporations, partnerships, joint-stock companies, societies, and associations. (1923, c. 2, s. 1.)

§ 7251(y). Responsibility of principals for acts of employees.—When construing and enforcing the provisions of this article, the act, omission, or failure of any officer, agent, or other person acting for or employed by any individual, corporation, partnership, joint-stock company, society, or association, within the scope of his employment or office, shall in every case be also deemed the act, ommission or failure of such individual, corporation, partnership, joint-stock company, society, or association as well as that of the person. (1923, c. 2, s. 1.)

§ 7251(z). Use of material exposed to infection; "shoddy."—No person shall, in the making or remaking of any article of bedding as herein defined, for sale within the State of North Carolina use any material of any kind that has been used by or about any person having an infectious or contagious disease or has formed a part of any article of bedding which has been so used, or use in said manufacture any material known as "shoddy" and consisting in whole or part of old or worn clothing, carpets, or other fabric or material previously used, or use in said manufacture any other fabric or material from which shoddy is constructed. The word "shoddy" shall mean any material which has been spun into yarn knit or woven into fabric and subsequently cut up, torn up, broken up, or ground up. (1923, c. 2, s. 2; 1925, c. 191, s. 1.)

§ 7251(aa). Bedding exposed to infection.—No person shall sell, offer for sale, deliver, or consign for sale, or have in his possession with intent to sell, deliver, or consign for sale, any article of bedding that has been used by or about any person having an infectious or contagious disease. (1923, c. 2, s. 3.)

§ 7251(bb). Remaking or renovating of bedding; sale of used bedding without disinfection.—No person shall remake or renovate any article of bedding unless all the material to be used in said remade or renovated bedding shall first be thoroughly sterilized and disinfected by a process approved by the state board of health. No person shall sell, offer for sale, deliver, consign for sale, or have in his possession with intent to sell, deliver, or consign for sale, any article of bedding which has been previously used, unless the said article of bedding shall first be thoroughly sterilized and disinfected by a process approved by the state board of health. (1923, c. 2, s. 4.)

§ 7251(cc). Labeling or tagging bedding; fraud.—No person shall sell, offer for sale, consign for sale, or have in his possession with intent to sell, offer for sale, or consign for sale any article of bedding as herein designated, unless the same be labeled or tagged as follows:

Upon each of such articles of bedding there shall be securely sewed upon the outside thereof a muslin or linen label to be procured from the State Board of Health as hereinafter provided upon which shall be legibly written or printed, in the English language, a description of the material used as the filling of such article of bedding; if any and all the material used as the filling of such article of bedding shall not have been previously used, the words "Manufactured of new material" shall appear upon said tag, together with the name and address of the maker or vender thereof.

It shall be unlawful to use in the said statement concerning any mattress the word "felt" or words of like import, if there has been used in filling said mattress any materials which are not felted and filled in layers.

If any of the material used in the making or remaking of such article of bedding shall have been previously used, [and when sterilized in conformity with section 7251(bb)] the words "Manufactured of previously used material" or "Remade of previously used material," as the case may be, shall appear upon said tag or label, together with the name and address of the maker or vender thereof, and also a description of the material used in the filing of such article of bedding. The tag or label required under this section shall contain a replica of the seal of North Carolina printed thereon and shall be in the following form:

"OFFICIAL STATEMENT

Manufactured of New Material

Materials used in filling .....
Made by .....
Vender .....
Address .....

This article is made in compliance with an act of the general assembly of North Carolina of the session of one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three."

The statement of compliance required in the foregoing "official statement" shall not be construed to imply that it is prohibited to state, also, that the article of bedding is made in compliance with an act or acts of other states.

The words "Manufactured of new material," or "Manufactured of previously used material," or "Remade of previously used material," together with the description of the material used as the filling of an article of bedding, shall be in letters not less than one-eighth (⅛) of an inch in height.

In the case of all articles of bedding, the sewing of any edge of the tag securely into an outside seam of the article shall be deemed a compliance with that portion of the act requiring that the tag be "securely sewed" upon the article.

No term of description likely to mislead shall be used on any tag or label required by this article in the description of the materials used in the filling of any article of bedding. This article shall not be construed to prevent a person from making or having made any bedding out of materials furnished by said person for his or her own use, or to any person who does not make over six mattresses per week, provided said label is attached. The State Board of Health is hereby authorized and directed to contract for the printing of tags or labels required by this section and shall, upon the application of any person, firm or corporation, furnish the said tags or labels fashioned and formed in accordance with the provisions hereof in lots not less than one thousand (1,000) at a cost of twenty dollars ($20) per thousand to such person, firm or corporation. The said fees or charges for said tags shall be paid directly to the State Board of Health and when so collected shall constitute a separate fund, known as the bedding fund, and shall be expended and used solely by the Board of Health in carrying out the provisions of this article, and such moneys and funds collected by the State Board of Health are hereby specifically appropriated to the use of said Board of Health for the purposes herein enumerated, and the said State Board of Health is specifically charged with the enforcement of this article in the interest of the health of the people of the State. State Institutions engaged in manufacture of bedding shall not be required to pay a fee for the tags. All moneys collected under the provisions of this article shall be paid into the General Fund of the State. (1923, c. 2, s. 5; 1925, c. 191, ss. 2, 3; 1931, c. 225.)

Editor's Note.—The Act of 1931 added the last two sentences to this section, and changed the price of the tags refered to in the last paragraph from ten to twenty dollars.

§ 7251(dd). Tampering with tags.—Any person other than a purchaser for his own use who shall remove, deface, alter, or shall cause to be removed, defaced, or altered any label or tag upon any article of bedding so labeled or tagged under the provisions of this article shall be guilty of a violation thereof. (1923, c. 2, s. 6.)

§ 7251(ee). Failure to comply with law; unit for separate and distinct offense.—Any person who shall fail to comply with any of the provisions of this article shall be guilty of a violation thereof. The unit for separate and distinct offense in violation of this article shall be each and every article of bedding made, remade, sold, offered for sale, delivered, consigned, or possessed with an intent to sell, offer for sale, deliver or consign, contrary to the provisions hereof.

Any person who violates any provision of this article shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not less than twenty-five and not more than one thousand dollars or be imprisoned in the county jail not to exceed six months, or be both fined and imprisoned. (1923, c. 2, s. 7.)

§ 7251(ff). Supervision and inspection by state board of health; time to remedy unsanitary conditions.—Every place where articles of bedding are made, remade, or renovated, or held for sale, consignment, or delivery, shall be subject to supervision and inspection by the state board of health, whose duty it shall be to supervise and inspect the manufacture and sale of articles of bedding as defined in this act. Should said board of health find articles of bedding being made, remade, or renovated, or held for sale, consigment, or delivery, in other than sanitary conditions, then said state board of health shall give the person responsible for this unsanitary condition a definite length of time within the discretion of said board of health, said time, however, not to exceed sixty days, in which to remedy the said unsanitary condition or conditions, and in the event of failure to do so on the part of the person responsible therefor, the said failure shall become a violation of this article. Said state board of health shall have the power to prosecute all violations of this article. Should said state board of health have reason to believe that any person is violating or has violated any provisions of this article, it shall be the duty of said state board of health to prosecute such person therefor. (1923, c. 2, s. 8.)

§ 7251(gg). Power of state board of health to examine bedding; invoices and records.—If and when any officer of the state board of health has reason to believe that any article of bedding sold, offered for sale, delivered, consigned, or possessed with intent to sell, offer for sale, deliver, or consign, is not correctly labeled as to contents, the said officer shall be empowered to open such article of bedding to examine the material used in filling the same; and if said officer after examination of the material used as filling is unable to determine definitely whether the material used as filling is new or has been previously used, or whether the material used in filling such article of bedding is of the kind it is stated to be on the label, or in the case of feather pillows, whether the feathers used in filling same have been sterilized or not, the said officer shall have power to examine the purchase invoice or invoices of such material and such other records of the business as are necessary to determine definitely the kind and character of the material used in such articles of bedding. (1923, c. 2, s. 9.)

§ 7251(hh). Reports to solicitors; action by individuals.—Any person who has reason to believe that this article has been or is being violated may present the facts to the solicitor of the judicial district wherein such violation occurs. and it shall thereupon be the duty of said solicitor to investigate the said violation and to institute a prosecution if he finds reasonable cause to believe that there has been such violation. Any individual may institute proceedings to enforce this article and punish any violation thereof in the county where such violation occurs. (1923, c. 2, s. 10.)

§§ 7251(hh)1-7251(hh)12. Repealed by Public Laws of 1935, c. 167, s. 13, codified as § 7251-(hh)24.

§ 7251(hh)13. Definitions; possession as evidence of intent to sell; construction of words. — As used in this law:

The word "mattress" means: Any mattress, upholstered spring, comforter, pad, cushion, or pillow to be used in sleeping. This law shall not apply to any mattress smaller than twelve inches in its greatest dimension.

The word "person" means: Any individual, corporation, partnership, or association.

The term "new material" means: Any material which has not been used in the manufacture of another article or used for any other purpose; provided this shall not exclude by-products of industry that have not been in human use, unless included in the following paragraph.

The term "previously used material" means: (a) Any material which has been used in the manufacture of another article or used for any other purpose; (b) any material made into thread, yarn, or fabric, and subsequently torn, shredded, picked apart, or otherwise disintegrated, including jute and shearings.

The word "sell" or "sold" shall, in the corresponding tense, include; sell, offer to sell, or deliver or consign in sale, or possess with intent to sell, deliver, or consign in sale.

Possession of one or more articles covered by this law when found in any store, warehouse, or place of business, other than a private home, hotel, or other place where such articles are ordinarily used, shall constitute prima facie evidence that the article or articles so possessed are possessed with intent to sell, or sterilize and sell.

All words shall include plural and singular, masculine and feminine, as the case demands. (1935, c. 167, s. 1.)

§ 7251(hh)14. Sterilization; tagging mattresses received for renovation.—No person shall in making, remaking or renovating a mattress for another person, use any previously used material which, since last used, was not sterilized by a process approved by the state health officer.

No person shall sell a used mattress unless sterilized, since last used, by a process approved by the state health officer, but nothing in this law shall be construed or interpreted as preventing a sale by an executor or administrator of the mattresses of a decedent.

A detailed drawing and description of any sterilizing apparatus and process to be used under this law shall be submitted to the state health officer who shall, if the process effectively sterilizes, approve such process and give the person submitting it a dated sterilizing license expiring at the end of the calendar year in which issued, and the fee for which shall be twenty-five dollars a year.

Any person who receives a mattress for renovation or storage shall keep attached thereto, from the time received, a tag on which is legibly written the date of receipt and the name and address of the owner. (1935, c. 167, s. 2.)

§ 7251(hh)15. Tagging before sale.—No person shall sell a mattress to which is not securely sewed a cloth or cloth-backed tag at least two inches by three inches in size, to which is affixed the adhesive stamp provided in section 7251(hh)17.

Upon said tag shall be legibly stamped or printed with ink, in English (a) the name of the material or materials used to fill such mattress; (b) the name and address of the maker or vendor of the mattress; (c) in letters at least one-eighth inch high the words "made of new material," if such mattress contains no previously used material; or the words "made of previously used material" if such mattress contains any previously used material; or the word "second-hand" on any mattress which has been used but not remade.

Nothing likely to mislead shall appear on said tag and it shall contain all statements required by this law, and shall be sewed to the outside covering of every mattress being manufactured, before the filling material has been inserted.

Material known in the cotton waste trade as "sweeps" or "oily-sweeps" shall be named "mill floor sweepings" on the tag required by this law and shall not be used unless previously sterilized by a process approved by the state health officer.

The name "felt" shall not be used unless the material has been carded in layers by a garnett machine. (1935, c. 167, s. 3.)

§ 7251(hh)17. Enforcement funds.—The state health officer is hereby charged with the administration and enforcement of this law and he shall provide specially designed adhesive stamps for use under section 7251(hh)15. Upon request he shall furnish no less than five hundred said stamps to any person paying in advance ten dollars per five hundred stamps. State institutions engaged in the manufacture of mattresses for their own use or that of any other state institution shall not be required to use such stamps.

All money collected under this law shall be paid to the state health officer who shall place all such money in a special "bedding law fund," which is hereby created and specifically appropriated to the state board of health, solely for expenses in furtherance of the enforcement of this law. The state health officer shall semi-annually render to the state auditor a true statement of all receipts and disbursements under said fund, and the state auditor shall furnish a true copy of said statement to any person requesting it.

All money in the "bedding law fund" shall be expended solely for (a) salaries and expenses of inspectors and other employees who devote their time to the enforcement of this law or (b) expenses directly connected with the enforcement of this law, including attorney's fees, which are expressly authorized to be incurred when in the opinion of the state health officer it is advisable to employ an attorney to prosecute any person; provided, however, that a sum not exceeding twenty per cent of such salaries and expenses may be used for supervision and general expenses of the state board of health. (1935, c. 167, s. 5.)

§ 7251(hh)18. Enforcement. — The state board of health, through its duly authorized representatives, is hereby authorized and empowered to enforce the provisions of this law.

Every place where mattresses are made, remade, renovated, or sold or where material, which is to be used in the manufacture of mattresses, is mixed, worked, or stored, shall be inspected by duly authorized representatives of the state board of health.

Any person supplying material to a mattress manufacturer shall furnish an itemized invoice of all material so furnished. Each material entering into willowed or other mixtures shall be shown on such invoice. The mattress manufacturer shall keep such invoice on file for one year subject to inspection by any representative of the board of health.

When an authorized representative of the state board of health has reason to believe that a mattress is not tagged or filled as required by this law, he shall have authority to open a seam of such mattress to examine the filling; and if unable, after such examination, to determine if the filling is of the kind stated on the tag, he shall have power to examine any purchase records necessary to determine definitely the kind of material used in such mattress, and he shall have power to seize and hold for evidence any mattress or material made, possessed, or offered for sale contrary to this law. (1935, c. 167, s. 6.)

§ 7251(hh)19. Licenses. — No person, except for his own use, shall make, remake or renovate mattresses until he has secured a license from and has paid to the state health officer an annual inspection fee of twenty-five dollars. The license so issued shall be valid until the end of the calendar year in which issued, or until voided for violation of this law.

The state health officer may revoke and void the aforesaid licenses of any persons convicted a second time of violating this law; and such person shall not thereafter make, remake, renovate, or sell a mattress for a period of six months after such revocation, and then only when he has paid another inspection fee of twenty-five dollars for new license. (1935, c. 167, s. 7.)

§ 7251(hh)20. Unit of offense. — Any person who fails to comply with any provision of this law, or who counterfeits the stamp provided in section 7251(hh)17, shall be guilty of a violation of this law. Each stamp so counterfeited and each mattress made, remade or renovated or sold contrary to this law shall be a separate violation. (1935, c. 167, s. 8.)

§ 7251(hh)21. Swearing out warrants.—If any person submits reasonable proof to any officer, or a representative of the state board of health, it shall be the duty of said officer or representative of the state board of health to swear out a warrant against the offender. (1935, c. 167, s. 9.)

§ 7251(hh)22. Penalty.—A person who violates this law shall upon conviction thereof be fined fifty dollars, or imprisoned in the county jail not to exceed thirty days. (1935, c. 167, s. 10.)

§ 7251(hh)23. Exceptions in cases of blind persons.—In the cases where mattresses are made or renovated in a plant or place of business owned solely by blind persons, in which place of business not more than one seeing assistant is employed in the manufacture or renovation, neither the payment of tax nor the purchase of stamps shall be required. (1935, c. 167, s. 11.)

§ 7251(hh)24. Exceptions; refund of part of current license fee. — Chapter three hundred and thirty-nine of the Public Laws of one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three [§§ 7251(hh)1-7251(hh)11] is repealed, such repeal to be effective upon the ratification of this law: Provided, however, that such repeal shall not bar the prosecution of persons who have violated the provisions of chapter three hundred and thirty-nine of the Public Laws of one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three prior to its repeal. In case of any persons who have paid a license or inspection fee of fifty dollars for the calendar year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five, a refund of twenty-five dollars shall be made immediately upon the ratification of this law. (1935, c. 167, s. 13.)

Editor's Note.—Public Laws of 1933, ch. 349, was amended by Public Laws of 1933, ch. 538, formerly codified as § 7251(hh) 12, which added the proviso that in cases where mattresses are made solely by blind persons they shall be exempt from paying the tax provided in said chapter 349. However, the subject of the amendatory act was not covered by its caption which stated that it was an act to amend the former act so as to exempt Edgecombe, Wilson and Lenoir counties.

Art. 23. Transportation of Foodstuffs

§ 7251(ii). Sanitation of cars.—From and after March 4, 1925, it shall be unlawful for any carrier transporting food intended for human consumption to transport the same knowingly in cars or other vehicles which have been defiled by livestock or by human beings without having first put said car or vehicle in a sanitary condition.

It shall be unlawful for any person to defile any railroad car by urinating therein or by passing therein excreta.

Any person, firm, or corporation who shall violate any provision of this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be fined not more than fifty dollars or imprisoned not to exceed thirty days. (1925, cc. 114, 213.)

Art. 24. Electrical Materials, Devices, Appliances and Equipment

§ 7251(jj). Sale of electrical goods regulated.—Every person, firm or corporation before selling, offering for sale or exposing for sale, at retail to the general public or disposing of by gift as premiums or in any similar manner any electrical material, devices, appliances or equipment shall first determine if such electrical materials, devices, appliances and equipment complies with the provision of this law. (1933, c. 555, s. 1.)

§ 7251(kk). Identification marks required.—All electrical materials, devices, appliances and equipment offered for sale, exposed for sale at retail to the general public or disposed of by gift, as premiums or in any similar manner shall have the maker's name, trademark, or other identification symbol placed thereon, together with such other markings giving voltage, current, wattage, or other appropriate ratings as may be necessary to determine the character of the material, device, appliance or equipment and the use for which it is intended; and it shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to remove, alter, change or deface the maker's name, trademark or other identification symbol. (1933, c. 555, s. 2.)

§ 7251(ll). Acceptable listings as to safety of goods.—The electrical inspector shall accept, without further examination or test, the listings of Underwriters' Laboratories, Inc., as evidence of safety of such materials, etc. (so long as the listing continues in effect to his knowledge and), so long as information and experience have not demonstrated, in his judgment, that any specific listed materials, etc., are not safe.

The electrical inspector may accept as evidence of safety of such materials, etc., where not of types for which such Underwriters' laboratories listings are in effect, such evidence by way of records of tests and examinations by bodies he deems properly qualified, as he deems necessary to assure him of the safety of such materials, etc. But such acceptance cannot be made to apply to other than the stock of materials, etc., for which such evidence has been specifically secure. One body whose evidence of safety shall be accepted by the electrical inspector for specific stocks is the insurance commission of the state of North Carolina, if the stock in question has been submitted to the examinations and tests required by that commission, and that commission has certified that in its judgment the stock conforms to the state law, to the requirements of this law, and to any additional requirements deemed necessary for safety in the judgment of that commission.

The electrical inspector may decline to accept any evidence of safety other than that provided by Underwriters' laboratories listings, for specific materials, etc., of types for which such listings are available.

The electrical inspector, in accepting listings of Underwriters' laboratories, shall keep in file as far as practicable, copies of all Underwriters' laboratories listings in effect, and copies of the recorded standards, requirements, test and examinations of Underwriters' laboratories for such materials, etc., or shall when necessary refer to the files of such information maintained by the insurance commission of North Carolina. The words "electrical inspector" when used in this act shall be construed to refer to any duly licensed and employed electrical inspector of the state or any governmental agency thereof. (1933, c. 555, s. 3.)

§ 7251(mm). Legal responsibility of proper installations unaffected.—This article shall not be construed to relieve from or to lessen the responsibility or liability of any party owning, operating, controlling or installing any electrical materials, devices, appliances or equipment for damages to persons or property caused by any defect therein, nor shall the electrical inspector be held as assuming any such liability by reason of the approval of any material, device, appliance or equipment authorized herein. (1933, c. 555, s. 4.)

PUBLIC HOSPITALS

Art. 1. Orthopædic Hospital

§ 7253. Committee to select site.—The governor shall appoint a committee of five to select a proper site for the location of said orthopædic hospital, which committee, in making its selection, shall be governed by the advantages offered for the maintenance and support of the institution, and the board of trustees hereinafter named shall thereupon proceed to erect suitable buildings necessary to carry out the purposes of said orthopædic hospital. (1917, c. 199, s. 3.)

§ 7254. Board of trustees; term of office; organization and powers.—The governor shall appoint a board of trustees, consisting of nine members, for said institution, and they shall be divided into three classes of three members each. The first class shall be appointed for two years, the second for four years, and the third class for six years. They shall hold their offices until their successors have been appointed, and the term of office of each shall begin from the date of the selection of the site as above mentioned. The governor shall fill all vacancies occurring by reason of death, resignation, or otherwise. The board of trustees shall organize by electing from its members a president, a secretary, and a treasurer, and three of its members as an executive committee. The board shall have power to erect any buildings necessary, make improvements, or in general do all matters and things that may be beneficial to the good government of the institution, and to this end they may make by-laws for the government of the same. (1917, c. 199, s. 4.)

§ 7254(a). Authorized to accept donations.—The board of trustees of the North Carolina Orthopædic Hospital are hereby authorized and empowered to accept gifts, grants, donations, devices, and bequests of money, lands, goods and other property for and on behalf of said institution. (1927, c. 188, s. 1.)

Art. 2. Municipal Hospitals

Part 1. Hospitals in Counties, Townships, and Towns

§ 7255. Establishment of public hospitals; election, tax, and bond issue.—Any county, township, or town may establish a public hospital in the following manner:

1. Petition presented.—A petition may be presented to the governing body of any county, township, or town, signed by two hundred resident freeholders of such county, township, or town, one hundred and fifty of whom, in the case of a county, shall not be residents of the city, town, or village where it is proposed to locate such hospital, asking that an annual tax may be levied for the establishment and maintenance of a public hospital at a place in the county, township, or town named therein, or to be thereafter selected by the governing body of such county, township or town, and specifying the maximum amount proposed to be expended in purchasing or building such hospital.

2. Election ordered.—Upon the filing of such petition the governing body of the county, township, or town shall order a new registration and shall submit the question to the qualified electors at the next general election to be held in the county, township, or town, or at a special election called for that purpose, first giving ninety days' notice thereof by publication once a week for four successive weeks beginning ninety days before the day of said election in one or more newspapers published in the county, township, or town, if any be published therein, and by posting such notice, written or printed, in each township of the county, in case of a county hospital, which notice shall include the text of the petition and state the amount of the tax to be levied upon the assessed property of the county, township, or town. The election shall be held at the usual places in such county, township or town for electing officers, the election officers shall be appointed by the Board of county commissioners and the vote shall be canvassed in the same manner as in elections for officers for such county, township, or town.

No action to question the validity of any such election shall be brought or maintained after the expiration of sixty days from the canvassing of said vote, and after the expiration of said period it shall be conclusively presumed that said election has been held in accordance with the requirements of this section, unless within said period such action is instituted.

3. Tax to be levied.—The tax to be levied under such election shall not exceed one-fifteenth of one cent on the dollar for a period of time not exceeding thirty years, and shall be for the issue of county, township, or town bonds to provide funds for the purchase of a site and the erection thereon of a public hospital and hospital buildings. (1923, c. 42, s. 1; 1917, cc. 98, 268; 1919, c. 332, s. 1; 1923, c. 244, s. 1; 1929, c. 247, ss. 1, 2.)

Editor's Note.—By amendment Public Laws 1923, ch. 244, sec. 1 the provision in the first paragraph for soliciting a location after presenting the petition, was added, and in paragraph 3 the time for the bonds to run was extended from twenty to thirty years. See 1 N. C. Law Rev. 273.

§ 7256. Election on tax levy; collection and application of funds.—The governing body of such county, township, or town shall submit to the qualified electors thereof, at a regular or special election, the question whether there shall be levied upon the assessed property of such county, township, or town a tax of one-fifteenth of one cent on the dollar for the purchase of real estate for hospital purposes, for the construction of hospital buildings, and for maintaining same, or for either or all of such purposes. The ballots to be used at any election at which the hospital question is submitted shall be printed with a statement substantially as follows:

☐ Yes.

For a ..... cent tax for a bond issue for a public hospital and for maintenance of same.

☐ No.

If a majority of the qualified voters at such election on the proposition shall be in favor of a tax as submitted for a bond issue for a public hospital and for maintenance of same, the governing body shall levy the tax so authorized, which shall be collected in the same manner as other taxes are collected, and credited to the "Hospital Fund," and shall be paid out on the order of the hospital trustees for the purposes authorized by this article, and for no other purposes whatever. (1913, c. 42, s. 2; 1917, c. 268; 1919, c. 332, s. 2.)

§ 7256 (a). Curative statute. — All elections heretofore called or held under the provisions of this article, as amended, where notice has been given in accordance with section 7255, and the election officers have been appointed either in compliance with section three hereof or by the County Board of Elections are hereby validated and declared to be in accordance with the requirements of the statute on said subject. (1929, c. 247, s. 3.)

§ 7257. Trustees; term of office; qualification and election.—Should a majority of the qualified voters upon the question be in favor of establishing such county, township, or town hospital, the governing body shall proceed at once to appoint seven trustees chosen from the citizens at large with reference to their fitness for such office, three of whom may be women, all residents of the county, township, or town, not more than four of said trutsees to be residents of the city, town, or village in which said hospital is to be located, in case of a county hospital, who shall constitute a board of trustees for such public hospital. The trustees shall hold their offices until the next following general election, when seven hospital trustees shall be elected and hold their offices, two for two years, two for four years, three for six years, and who shall by lot determine their respective terms. At each subsequent general election the offices of the trustees whose terms of office are about to expire shall be filled by the nomination and election of hospital trustees in the same manner as other officers are elected, none of whom shall be practicing physicians. (1913, c. 42, s. 3; 1917, c. 98, s. 2; 1917, c. 268.)

Editor's Note. — For amendment applicable in Yancey County, see Public Laws, 1929, c. 117, § 2.

§ 7258. Officers elected by trustees; compensation. — The trustees shall, within ten days after their appointment or election, qualify by taking the oath of civil officers and organize as a board of hospital trustees by the election of one of their number as chairman, one as secretary, and by the election of such other officers as they may deem necessary, but no bond shall be required of them. The treasurer of the county, township, or town in which such hospital is located shall be treasurer of the board of trustees. The treasurer shall receive and pay out all moneys under the control of said board, as directed by it, but shall receive no compensation from such board. No trustee shall receive any compensation for his services performed, but he may receive reimbursement for any cash expenditures actually made for personal expenses incurred as such trustee, and an itemized statement of all such expenses and money paid out shall be made under oath by each of such trustees and filed with the secretary, and allowed only by the affirmative vote of all the trustees present at a meeting of the board. (1913, c. 42, s. 4; 1917, c. 268.)

§ 7259. Trustees to have control, and to make regulations.—The board of hospital trustees shall make and adopt such by-laws, rules and regulations for their own guidance and for the government of the hospital as may be deemed expedient for the economic and equitable conduct thereof, not inconsistent with this article and the ordinances of the city or town wherein such public hospital is located. They shall have the exclusive control of the expenditure of all money collected to the credit of the hospital fund, and the purchase of the site or sites, the purchase or construction of any hospital buildings, and of the supervision, care, and custody of the grounds, rooms, or buildings purchased, constructed, leased, or set apart for that purpose. (1913, c. 42, s. 4.)

§ 7260. Power of board to appoint superintendent and assistants.—The board of hospital trustees shall have power to appoint a suitable superintendent or matron, or both, and necessary assistants, and fix their compensation, and shall also have power to remove such appointees; and they shall in general carry out the spirit and intent of this article in establishing and maintaining a county, township, or town public hospital with equal rights to all and special privileges to none. (1913, c. 42, s. 4; 1917, c. 268.)

§ 7262. Vacancies filled.—Vacancies in the board of trustees occasioned by removals, resignations, or otherwise shall be reported to the governing body of the county, township, or town and be filled in like manner as original appointments, appointees to hold office until the next following general election, when such vacancies shall be filled by election in the usual manner. (1913, c. 42, s. 5; 1917, c. 268.)

§ 7263. Deposit and payment of funds.—All money received for such hospital shall be deposited in the treasury of the county, township, or town to the credit of the hospital fund, and paid out only upon warrants drawn by the auditor, or other proper officer, of such county, or township, or town upon the properly authenticated vouchers of the hospital board. (1913, c. 42, s. 4; 1917, c. 268.)

§ 7264. Regulations as to bond issue.—Whenever any county, township, or town in this state shall have provided for the appointment and election of hospital trustees, and voted a tax for a term not exceeding thirty years for hospital purposes, as authorized by law, the county, township, or town may issue bonds in anticipation of the collection of such tax in such sums and amounts as the board of hospital trustees shall certify to the governing body of such county, township, or town to be necessary for the purpose, contemplated by such tax, but such bonds in the aggregate shall not exceed the amount which might be realized by said tax, based on the amount which may be yielded on the property valuation of the year in which the tax is voted. Such bonds shall mature in thirty years from date and shall be in sums not less than one hundred dollars nor more than one thousand dollars, drawing interest at a rate not exceeding five per cent per annum, payable annually or semiannually; the bonds shall be payable at pleasure of county, township, or town after five years, and each of said bonds shall provide that it is subject to this condition, and shall not be sold for less than par, and shall be substantially in the form provided for county bonds, but subject to changes that will conform them to the provisions of this article, and be numbered consecutively and redeemable in the order of their issuance. The governing body shall have power and option of issuing, instead of long-term bonds, as above provided for, serial bonds in such forms and denominations as said governing body may determine, subject to the restrictions of this section. Said serial bonds may be issued as one issue or divided into two or more separate issues, and in either case may be issued all at one time or in blocks from time to time, and each issue thereof shall so mature that the aggregate principal amount of the issue shall be payable in annual installments or series, beginning not more than three years after the date of the bonds of such issue and ending not more than thirty years after such date. No installments shall be more than two and one-half times as great in amount as the smallest prior installment of the same bond issue. Said bonds, if said governing body shall elect to issue serial bonds instead of long-term bonds, may be either coupon bonds or registered bonds, and if issued in coupon form may be registerable as to principal, or as to both principal and interest, and shall be substantially in the form provided for county bonds as aforesaid, and likewise subject to changes that will conform them to the provisions of this article. (1913, c. 42, s. 6; 1917, c. 268; 1923, c. 244, ss. 3, 4.)

Editor's Note.—By amendment Public Law 1923, ch. 244, sec. 3 and 4, the tax term and time in which bonds should mature was raised from twenty to thirty years. The provision at the end of the section for issuing several bonds was added by this amendment.

§ 7265. Condemnation of land.—If the board of hospital trustees and the owners of any property desired by them for hospital purposes cannot agree as to the price to be paid therefor, they shall report the fact to the governing body of the county, township, or town, and condemnation proceedings shall be instituted by such governing body and prosecuted in the name of the county, township, or town wherein such public hospital is to be located, by the attorney for such county, township, or town, under the provisions of law for the condemnation of land for railroads. (1913, c. 42, s. 7; 1917, c. 268.)

§ 7266. Plans to be approved; advertisement for bids.—No hospital buildings shall be erected or constructed until the plans and specifications have been made therefor and adopted by the board of hospital trustees, and bids advertised for other county buildings. (1913, c. 42, s. 8.)

§ 7267. Additional appropriation. — In the counties, townships, or towns exercising the rights conferred by this article, the governing body may appropriate each year, in addition to tax for hospital fund hereinbefore provided for, not exceeding five per cent of its general fund for the improvement and maintenance of any public hospital so established. (1913, c. 42, s. 10; 1917, c. 268.)

§ 7268. Power to accept donations.—Any person, firm, corporation, or society desiring to make donations of money, personal property, or real estate for the benefit of such hospital shall have the right to vest title of the property so donated in said county, township, or town, to be controlled, when accepted, by the board of hospital trustees according to the terms of the deed, gift, devise, or bequest of such property. (1913, c. 42, s. 13; 1917, c. 268.)

§ 7269. Persons entitled to benefit of hospital. — Every hospital established under this article shall be for the benefit of the inhabitants of such county, township, or town, and of any person falling sick or being injured or maimed within its limits; but every person who is not a pauper shall pay to such board of hospital trustees, or such officers as it shall designate, for such county public hospital, a reasonable compensation for occupancy, nursing, care, medicine, or attendance, according to the rules and regulations prescribed by the board, such hospital always being subject to such reasonable rules and regulations as the board may adopt, in order to render the use of the hospital of the greatest benefit to the greatest number. The board may exclude from the use of such hospital all persons who shall wilfully violate such rules and regulations; the board may extend the privileges and use of such hospital to persons residing outside of such county, township, or town, upon such terms and conditions as may be prescribed from time to time by its rules and regulations. (1913, c. 42, s. 11; 1917, c. 268.)

§ 7270. All persons subject to hospital regulations.—When such hospital is established, the physicians, nurses, attendants, the persons sick therein, and all persons approaching or coming within the limits of same, and all furniture and other articles used or brought there, shall be subject to such rules and regulations as said board may prescribe. (1913, c. 42, s. 12.)

§ 7271. Municipal jurisdiction extended.—The jurisdiction of the city, town, or village in or near which a public hospital is located shall extend over all lands used for hospital purposes outside the corporate limits, if so located, and all ordinances of such cities and towns shall be in full force and effect in and over the territory occupied by such public hospital. (1913, c. 42, s. 9.)

§ 7272. Conditions and privileges of physicians to practice in public hospitals to be determined by the trustees.—The board of trustees of such hospitals shall determine the conditions under which the privileges of practice within the hospital may be available to physicians, and shall promulgate reasonable rules and regulations governing the conduct of physicians and nurses while on duty in said hospital. (1913, c. 42, s. 14; 1925, c. 177.)

Editor's Note. — Prior to the amendment Public Laws 1925, ch. 177 this section provided that no discrimination should be made and that a patient might employ his own physician.

§ 7273. Training school for nurses. — The board of trustees of such county, township, or town public hospital may establish and maintain, in connection therewith and as a part of said public hospital, a training school for nurses. (1913, c. 42, s. 15; 1917, c. 268.)

§ 7274. Room for examination of insane persons.—The board of trustees shall at all times provide a suitable room for the detention and examination of all persons who are brought before the commissioners of insanity for such county, provided that such public hospital is located at the county-seat. (1913, c. 42, s. 16.)

§ 7275. Charity patients determined. — The board of hospital trustees shall have the power to determine whether or not patients presented at the public hospital for treatment are subjects for charity, and shall fix the compensation to be paid by patients other than those unable to assist themselves. (1913, c. 42, s. 18.)

§ 7276. Department for tuberculous patients.— The board of trustees are authorized to provide as a department of the public hospital, but not necessarily attached thereto, suitable accommodations and means for the care and treatment of persons suffering from tuberculosis, and to formulate such rules and regulations for the government of such persons, and for the protection from infection of other patients and of nurses and attendants in such public hospital, as they may deem necessary; and it shall be the duty of all persons in charge of or employed at such hospitals, or residents thereof, to faithfully obey and comply with all such rules and regulations. The board of hospital trustees shall, if practicable, employ as head nurse to be placed in charge of the public tuberculosis sanatorium one who has had experience in the management and care of tuberculous persons. (1913, c. 42, s. 17.)

§ 7277. Plans for county and municipal tubercular sanatoria.—Any county or town desiring to erect a sanatorium or hospital, shack, tent, or other structure in which it is intended to keep persons suffering with tuberculosis shall first submit to the state board of health for its approval or rejection the plans of said sanatorium, hospital, shack, tent, or other structure, and it shall be unlawful for any county or town to begin the erection of any structure referred to above without the consent or approval of the state board of health.

Any person, firm, or corporation failing, neglecting, or refusing to comply with the provisions of this article shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined or imprisoned, in the discretion of the court. (1917, c. 216, ss. 1, 2.)

§ 7278. Nonresident tuberculous patients. — The governing body of any county, township, or town where no suitable provision has been made for the care of indigent tuberculous residents may contract with the board of hospital trustees of any public hospital for the care of such persons in the sanatorium department of such hospital, upon such reasonable terms as may be agreed upon. (1913, c. 12, s. 19; 1917, c. 268.)

Part 2. County Tuberculosis Hospitals

§ 7279. Power to establish.—Any county within the state shall have power and authority at any time to establish, erect, and maintain a hospital for the care and treatment of persons suffering with the disease known as tuberculosis, as hereinafter provided in this article. (1917, c. 99, s. 1.)

Proceedings under Conflicting Local Act Invalid. Where the county commissioners have proceeded under a special local act to submit to its electorate the question of erecting and maintaining a tuberculosis hospital, to issue $150,000 in bonds therefor, and levy an additional tax of eight cents on the $100 valuation of its property for maintenance, their action thus taken cannot be sustained under the provisions of the general law, ch. 119. this section et seq., authorizing an expenditure for the purpose of not exceeding $100,000, and a maintenance tax not to exceed five cents, the balloting also under the general law differing from that in the special act in requiring separate ballots to be taken in two boxes instead of one. Proctor v. Board, 182 N. C. 56, 108 S. E. 360, cited and distinguished. Armstrong v. Board, 185 N. C. 405, 117 S. E. 388.

§ 7280. Election for bond issue; special tax.— The board of county commissioners of any county in the state may, by majority vote of the board, or upon petition of one-fourth of the freeholders of the county shall, after thirty days notice at the courthouse door and publication in one or more newspapers published in the county, order an election to be held at the next general election, or order a special election to be held at such time as they may fix, to determine the will of the people of the county whether there shall be issued and sold bonds to an amount not to exceed two hundred and fifty thousand dollars, to bear interest at such rate as the board may fix and to be payable, both principal and interest, when and where they may decide. The proceeds of the bonds to be used in securing lands and erecting or altering buildings and equipping same, to be used as a hospital for the treatment of tuberculosis. If the majority of the qualified voters at said election shall vote in favor of the issuing of such bonds, then the bonds shall be issued and sold by the board and a special tax shall be levied to pay the interest and to provide a sinking fund to pay the bonds at maturity. The board of commissioners are also authorized to levy a special annual tax not to exceed five cents on the one hundred dollars valuation of property and fifteen cents on the poll to be used as a maintenance fund for the hospital for tuberculosis. The question of levying such special tax shall be submitted to the qualified voters of such county at an election to be held as hereinbefore provided. In the event the board of commissioners shall order a special election to determine the will of the people of the county upon the question of the issuance of the bonds or the levy of the special maintenance tax as herein provided, they may order a new registration of the qualified voters of the county for said election, and notice of said new registration shall be deemed to be sufficiently given by publication once in some newspaper published in said county at least thirty days before the close of the registration books. If both questions are submitted at the same election, only one registration need be ordered. The published notice of registration shall state the days on which the books will be open for registration of voters and the places at which they will be open on Saturdays. The books of such new registration shall close on the second Saturday before election. The Saturday before the election shall be challenge day. (1917, c. 99, s. 2; 1919, c. 159, s. 2; Ex. Sess. 1924, c. 74; 1925, c. 75; 1927, c. 34, s. 2.)

Editor's Note.—By amendment, Ex. Sess. 1924, ch. 47, the provision for holding special election was added. By Public Laws 1925, ch. 75, the bond limit was raised from one hundred thousand to two hundred and fifty thousand.

In Public Laws of 1927, ch. 34, sec. 1 and 2 the same amendment as was made in 1925, that is raising the bond limit from one hundred thousand to two hundred and fifty thousand was made without reference to the amendment of 1925. Evidently the Legislature overlooked the amendment of 1925 in making the amendment of 1927.

§ 7281. Manner of holding election. — The county commissioners at the next general election or special election shall cause to be placed at each voting precinct in the county a ballot box marked "County Tuberculosis Hospital," and cause to be printed and distributed official ballots labeled "For County Tuberculosis Hospital," and official ballots labeled "Against County Tuberculosis Hospital," said election to be governed by the laws of the state. The county commissioners shall, if they propose to levy the tax for maintenance fund as hereinbefore provided, also cause to be placed at each voting precinct in the county a ballot box marked "Maintenance of County Tuberculosis Hospital," and cause to be printed and distributed official ballots labeled "For Maintenance of County Tuberculosis Hospital," and official ballots labeled "Against Maintenance of County Tuberculosis Hospital," such election to be held as hereinbefore provided. (1917, c. 99, s. 3; 1919, c. 159, s. 3; 1927, c. 34.)

Editor's Note.—By amendment, Public Laws, 1927, ch. 34, sec. 3 the word "a" was inserted before the words "special election" in the first sentence.

§ 7282. Board of managers; term of office; compensation. — For each hospital so established, the board of county commissioners shall, by a majority, elect a board of managers to consist of five members, of whom one shall be a member of said board of commissioners and shall be chairman of said board of managers. None of the remaining four members of said board of managers shall be a member of the board of commissioners. The chairman of said board of managers shall be elected for a term of two years, and the other members of said board of managers shall be elected for terms of four years: Provided, that at the first election of said board of managers the chairman shall be elected for a term equal to the unexpired portion of his term as a member of the board of commissioners, and of the remaining members of said board of managers one member shall be elected for a term of one year, one member for a term of two years, one member for a term of three years, and one member for a term of four years: Provided, also, that any vacancy in said board, occurring at any time, shall be filled by the board of commissioners for the unexpired term. In all counties having a health officer, such health officer, in addition to the five elected members, shall be ex officio a member of such board of managers. Women shall be eligible to said board of managers. The compensation of the members of said board of managers shall be the same as that of the members of the board of commissioners: Provided, that in counties in which the chairman of the board of commissioners receives a fixed salary, and the remaining members of said board are compensated upon the basis of per diem and mileage, the compensation of the members of the board of managers shall be equal to that of the members of the board of commissioners, paid upon a per diem and mileage basis. The chairman of the board of managers shall be entitled to the same compensation as other members of said board, in addition to his compensation as a member of the board of commissioners. The county health officer, however, shall not receive compensation as a member of said board of managers: Provided, that this section shall not affect the present term of office of any member of a board of managers elected prior to the passage of this section, but as to such members this section shall become effective as their present term of office, respectively, shall expire. (1917, c. 99, s. 4; 1925, c. 313, s. 1.)

Editor's Note.—The provisions as to the membership of one of the commissioners, and the proviso as to per diem compensation are new with Public Laws 1925, c. 313, sec. 1.

§ 7283. Powers of board; title to property.—Authority in regard to the purchase of lands, election and maintenance of buildings, selection of officers, employees, and attendants, formulation of rules and regulations for the admission and government of patients, and general conduct of the hospital, shall vest in the board of managers. No one related by blood or marriage to any member of the board of managers shall be appointed to any office or position in connection with the hospital, except by unanimous vote of the board of managers. All property, both real and personal, pertaining to such hospital, shall be vested in the county: Provided, however, that any donations, bequests, or devises made for the use of such hospital shall be held by the county in trust according to the terms of such donation, devise, or bequest. Provided, that the board of commissioners, in their discretion, either may appoint the board of managers following the official determination of the election, in which event said board of managers shall have the sole authority as to the selection of a site for such hospital, the purchase of lands therefor, and the erecting and equipping of the buildings for such hospital; or the said board of commissioners may defer the appointment of said board of managers until such hospital is constructed, in which event said board of commissioners shall, themselves, select the site for such hospital, purchase lands therefor, erect and equip, or make contracts for erecting and equipping the buildings for such hospital, and shall thereafter turn such hospital over to said board of managers to be operated and maintained in accordance with this article. (1917, c. 99, s. 5; 1925, c. 313.)

Editor's Note.—By amendment, Public Laws 1925, ch. 313, the provision for appointment of a board of managers, their powers and the powers of the board of commissioners in regard to the appointment was added.

§ 7284. Contract power; regulations for admission.—The board of county commissioners, or the board of managers, according to the authority vested in them by the board of county commissioners or by this article, shall have power and authority to purchase property, both real and personal, to make contracts, to formulate, change, and alter rules and regulations for the admission and government of patients, and to do all things reasonably incidental or necessary to carry out the true intent and purpose of this article. Patients may be admitted and kept without charge or for such compensation as may be deemed just and proper in each particular case: Provided, that no person who is not a bona fide resident of the county maintaining such hospital shall be kept for less than actual cost. The county commissioners of any county may, instead of erecting the institution in the county where the vote is taken, use a part or all of the funds in erecting and maintaining a building or buildings at the state sanatorium at Montrose, or the county commissioners may in their discretion erect and maintain a tuberculosis hospital in the county where the bonds are issued, and may also use part of the funds to erect and maintain a building or buildings at Montrose, as they may deem best. Before erecting any building or buildings at Montrose the county commissioners shall make due arrangements and enter into the necessary contract or contracts with the board having charge of the state sanatorium at Montrose. And the board having in charge the state sanatorium at Montrose is hereby authorized and empowered to make contracts with any county in the state, specifying the terms upon which such building or buildings may be erected and making such arrangements as it may deem wise for the maintenance of such buildings and the care and support of such county patients. In case the board of commissioners of any county, or the people of any county, do not decide to issue bonds for the erection of such hospital, but do decide to levy the special tax provided for in section seven thousand two hundred and eighty (7280) of the Consolidated Statutes, they may make arrangements with the board having in charge the State Sanatorium at Montrose for the maintenance and care of tubercular patients of such county. (1917, c. 99, s. 6; 1919, c. 159, s. 3; 1921, c. 178; 1925, c. 313.)

Editor's Note.—By amendment Public Laws 1921, ch. 178 power was given the board of county commissioners to erect or maintain in their county a tuberculosis hospital. This power was repealed by Public Laws 1925, ch. 313 which also repealed a former provision for the use of the general funds of the county for maintenance of patients at Montrose.

Art. 3. Joint County General and Tuberculosis Hospitals

§ 7284(a). Authorization.—Any group of counties within the State of North Carolina shall have power and authority at any time hereafter to establish, erect, and maintain a hospital for the care and treatment of persons suffering with the disease known as tuberculosis, or a hospital for the general treatment of medical and surgical cases, one or both, as hereinafter provided in this article. (1925, c. 154, s. 1; 1927, c. 58, s. 1.)

Editor's Note.—This section was amended in 1927 so as to include hospitals for the general treatment of medical or surgical cases.

§ 7284(b). Vote on bond issue.—The boards of commissioners of each group of counties in North Carolina may, by majority vote of said boards or upon petition of five per cent (5%) of the freeholders of said counties, shall, after thirty days notice at the courthouse door of each of the counties and publication in one or more newspapers published in each of said counties, order an election to be held at the next general election, or order a special election to be held at such time as they may fix, to determine the will of the people in each of the counties in the group whether there shall be issued and sold bonds to an amount not to exceed two hundred thousand dollars ($200,000) for each county in the group, to bear interest at such rate as said boards may fix and to be payable, both principal and interest, when and where they may decide. The proceeds of said bonds to be used in securing lands and erecting or altering buildings and equipping same to be used as a hospital for the treatment of tuberculosis or as a general hospital for the treatment of medical or surgical cases, one or both as the case may be. If the majority of the qualified voters in each county of the group at said election shall vote in favor of the issuing of said bonds, then said bonds shall be issued and sold by said boards and a special tax shall be levied to pay the interest on said bonds and provide a sinking fund to pay said bonds at maturity. Said boards of commissioners are hereby also authorized to levy a special annual tax not to exceed five cents on the one hundred dollars valuation of property and fifteen cents on the poll to be used as a maintenance fund for said hospital for tuberculosis or general hospital for the treatment of medical and surgical cases, one or both, as the case may be. Provided that wherever there shall be donated to any group of counties within the State, land or buildings or equipment suitable and appropriate for the care and treatment of tuberculosis, in such cases the Boards of Commissioners of said counties are authorized and empowered to operate and maintain such hospital for the purposes donated, and shall have all power and rights conferred by this act without the necessity of an election as provided in this and the following sections. (1925, c. 154, s. 2; 1927, c. 58, s. 2.)

Editor's Note.—The provisions relating to general hospitals for the treatment of medical and surgical cases were inserted by the 1927 amendment. It was provided that the application of this amendment should be limited to the counties of Halifax, Martin and Edgecombe.

§ 7284(c). Ballots and boxes.—The county commissioners at the next general election or special election shall cause to be placed at each voting precinct in the counties of the group a ballot box marked "Joint County Hospital," and cause to be printed and distributed official ballots labeled "For Joint County Hospital," and official ballots labeled "Against Joint County Hospital," said election to be governed by the laws of the State. (1925, c. 154, s. 3; 1927, c. 58, s. 5.)

Editor's Note. — The 1927 amendment struck the word "tuberculosis" from before the word "hospital" wherever it appeared in the section.

§ 7284(d). Board of managers.—For each hospital so established there shall be elected a board of managers, consisting of two members from each county in the group and of one member at large. The two members from each county shall be elected by a majority vote of their respective board of county commissioners, and the one member at large shall be elected from any one of the counties in the group at a meeting of and by a majority vote of the combined boards of commissioners of the several counties in the group. The member at large shall hold office for two years and the other members shall hold office for four years where there are only two counties in the group, and for six years where there are more than two counties in the group, unless sooner removed for cause by the combined boards of commissioners of the several counties in the group: Provided, that the commissioners of all the counties of the group at a joint meeting shall determine the length of the term of office of the various members of the board of managers first elected; one member to serve one, two, three and four years, respectively, if there are only two counties in the group; one member to serve one, two, three, four, five and six years, respectively, if there are three counties in the group; one member to serve for one, two, three and four years, respectively, and two members to serve for five and six years, respectively, where there are four counties in the group; one member to serve for one year, and one for two years, and two members for three, four, five and six years, respectively, where there are five counties in the group: Provided, also, that any vacancies in such board may be filled by the boards of county commissioners for the unexpired term, unless the vacancy is for the office of member at large, in which case the vacancy shall be filled for the unexpired term by the commissioners of all the counties of the group at a joint meeting. In all counties having health officers, such health officers shall, in addition to the other members, be ex officio members of such board of managers. Women shall be eligible for election to such board of managers. The compensation for such board shall be the same as that of the county commissioners. (1925, c. 154, s. 4.)

§ 7284(e). Authority of board.—Authority in regard to the purchase of lands, erection and maintenance of buildings, selection of officers, employees and attendants, formulation of rules and regulations for the admission and government of patients, and general conduct of the hospital, shall vest in the board of managers; that no one related by blood or marriage to any member of the board of managers shall be appointed to any office or position in connection with the hospital, except by unanimous vote of the board of managers; that all property, both real and personal, pertaining to such hospital shall be vested jointly in the counties of the group: Provided, however, that any donations, bequests, or devises made for the use of such hospital shall be held by the counties in the group in trust according to the terms of such donation, devise, or bequest. (1925, c. 154, s. 5.)

§ 7284(f). Purchasing property; charges.—The boards of county commissioners of the group, or the board of managers, according to the authority vested in them by the boards of county commissioners of the group or by this article, shall have power and authority to purchase property, both real and personal, to make contracts, to formulate, change, and alter rules and regulations for the admission and government of patients, and to do all things reasonably incidental or necessary to carry out the true intent and purpose of this article. Patients may be admitted and kept without charge or for such compensation as may be deemed just and proper in each particular case: Provided, that no person who is not a bona fide resident of the counties maintaining such hospital shall be kept for less than actual cost. (1925, c. 154, s. 6.)

§ 7284(1). Additional method of establishing; election.—The board of commissioners for each county in the State shall have power to cause to be held in their county an election wherein §§ 7284(1)-7284(7) shall be submitted to the qualified voters of said county for their approval or disapproval. Said election shall be in all respects as nearly as may be, held and conducted conformably to the rules for the election of members of the General Assembly. The said board of commissioners shall provide registration and polling books, and shall publish due notice of said election. They shall cause a new registration of voters to be made for said election, and shall publish due notice of the time and place for such registration to be made, and of the time when challenges of such registered voters may be made, all of which shall conform as near as may be, to the general laws regulating the election of members of the General Assembly. At the election those who are in favor of §§ 7284(1)-7284(7) and the issuance of bonds and the levying of taxes as herein provided shall vote a ticket on which shall be printed or written, or partly printed or partly written the words "For County Tubercular Hospital," and those who oppose §§ 7284(1)-7284(7) and said bonds and tax shall vote a ticket on which shall be printed or written, or partly printed or written the words "Against County Tubercular Hospital." If in said election a majority of the voters of said county registered for said election, vote for said county tubercular hospital, then §§ 7284(1)-7284(7) and the following provisions thereof, shall thenceforth be in full force and effect in said county; but if in said election a majority of the said registered voters shall not vote for said county tubercular hospital, then the provisions of §§ 7284(1)-7284(7) shall be in no further force and effect in said county. (1927, c. 208, s. 1.)

§ 7284(2). County commissioners to appoint trustees.—In the event said election shall have been carried in favor of said county tubercular hospital, the board of commissioners for the county in which election shall have been held shall within thirty days after a declaration of such result of such election, appoint a board of trustees for said county tubercular hospital, consisting of twelve residents of said county, three of whom shall be physicians regularly practicing in said county, and three others of said trustees shall be women. Said trustees shall be appointed in four classes, one class to serve for one year, another for two years, another for three years, and the other for four years; (thereafter as their successors are appointed or elected, the term of office of such successors, except unexpired vacancies, shall be for four years). The successors of such trustees shall be appointed by the chairman of the board of commissioners for said county, the county superintendent of health, the Clerk of the Superior Court of said county, and the mayor of the municipality constituting the county seat of said county acting jointly, and by a majority vote. Vacancies in the offices of such trustees shall be filled by the same body of public officers last mentioned. (1927, c. 208, s. 2.)

§ 7284(3). Meeting for qualification and organization.—These said trustees shall within ten days after their appointment, meet and qualify by taking the oath of civil officers, and organize their board by the election of one of their members as chairman, and one as secretary, and by the election of such other officers as may be necessary. The treasurer of the county for which said trustees are appointed shall be treasurer of the said board of trustees, and such treasurer shall receive and pay out all moneys under the control of said board as directed by it, but shall receive no compensation from said board, and no trustee shall receive any compensation whatsoever for services performed as such trustee. Said board of trustees shall make and adopt such by-laws, rules and regulations for their own guidance and the government of the said hospital, as it may deem proper, not inconsistent with this act. It shall have the control of the expenditure of all moneys collected to the credit of the hospital, including the proceeds from the sale of such bonds, hereinafter mentioned, and said board of trustees shall have the supervisions, care and custody of the grounds, buildings and rooms purchased, constructed, leased or set apart for the purposes of such hospital, and they may employ such assistants, including a superintendent and matron and such other employees as they may deem necessary for the operation of said hospital, insofar as funds available for such purposes will permit. (1927, c. 208, s. 3.)

§ 7284(4). Counties to issue bonds.—The board of commissioners for any county in which this act shall have been approved as aforesaid shall issue bonds of said county in an amount not to exceed the principal sum of two hundred fifty thousand ($250,000.00) dollars, for the purpose of purchasing a site, constructing the necessary buildings, and equipping said hospital with the necessary equipment. Such bonds shall be payable at such time or times not to exceed forty years from the date thereof, and at such place or places and bear such rate of interest not to exceed six per cent per annum and be of such denominations as the board of commissioners for said county may in its discretion determine. Said bonds shall be sold by the said board of commissioners at public or private sale at not less than par, as said board may determine. Said bonds shall be signed by the chairman of the said board of commissioners, and bear the impressed seal of the said board, attested by the clerk of the said board; the interest coupons shall bear the lithographed or engraved facsimile of the signature of the said clerk of said board. The proceeds of the sale of said bonds as received, shall be at once deposited by the said board of commissioners with the treasurer of said county, to the credit of said board of trustees for said county tubercular hospital, the official name of said board of trustees shall be "Board of Trustees for the .....County Tubercular Hospital," the name of the county for which said board is appointed to be inserted in the blank space. (1927, c. 208, s. 4.)

§ 7284(5). Special tax for bonds.—The board of commissioners for any county issuing bonds under this act shall annually levy an ad valorem tax on the taxable property in such county sufficient to pay the interest on said bonds so issued, and provide a sinking fund for the payment of principal thereof, as the same may become due. Said board of commissioners shall further levy annually an additional tax not exceeding five cents on the dollar on taxable property in said county, for the purpose of providing funds sufficient when supplementing other income of said hospital, for the necessary maintenance and operation of said hospital. Said board of commissioners for such county shall also annually levy a sufficient tax to provide a sum equivalent to that expended out of moneys raised by taxes for the maintenance of said hospital, which funds so to be provided shall be disbursed by the board of commissioners for such county in the care of indigent residents of said county ill with diseases other than tuberculosis in other hospitals in such county. (1927, c. 208, s. 5.)

§ 7284(6). Hospital erected for benefit or residents.—The hospital established under §§ 7284(1)-7284(7), shall be for the benefit of the residents of the county in which it is situated who are or become sick with tuberculosis, but every such resident admitted to said hospital who is not a pauper, shall pay to such board of trustees of said hospital, or such other officers as it may designate, reasonable compensation for occupancy and attendance within said hospital, the amount thereof to be fixed by said board of trustees, and in the event a patient in said hospital is not able to pay in full, charges for treatment, but can pay some part thereof, arrangement may be made accordingly by said board of trustees in its discretion and as it deems right and just. (1927, c. 208, s. 6.)

§ 7284(7). Sections 7282(1) to 7282(7) cumulative of existing powers.—The powers conferred by §§ 7284(1)-7284(7) are conferred in addition to and not in substitution for the existing powers of counties. Any county may at its option proceed either under this act or under any other act conferring similar powers upon such county. (1927, c. 208, s. 7.)

Art. 4. Funds of Deceased Inmates

§ 7284(8). Applied to debts due by such inmates to such hospitals or institutions.—Whenever any funds shall be placed or deposited with the officials of any state hospital or other charitable institution by or for any patient or inmate thereof, and the person by or for whom such deposit is made dies while a patient or inmate of such state hospital or other charitable institution or who shall leave such institution and at the time of such death, or departure, such patient or inmate is indebted to said hospital or other charitable institution for care and maintenance while such patient or inmate, the board of directors or trustees of such state hospital or other charitable institution are hereby authorized, empowered and directed to apply such deposit, or so much thereof as may be necessary, and which may remain in their hands unclaimed for the space of three years after such death or departure on and in satisfaction of the indebtedness of such patient or inmate, to said state hospital or other charitable institution for said care and maintenance. If the whole of such amount so on deposit shall not be required or necessary for the payment in full of such indebtedness for such care and maintenance, the remainder shall continue to be held by said officials, and paid and applied as may be by law required. (1933, c. 352, s. 1.)

CHAPTER 120

PUBLIC PRINTING AND DEPARTMENT OF LABOR

Art. 1. Regulation of Public Printing

§ 7285. Public printing defined.—For the purposes of this chapter the term "Public Printing" shall be construed to mean all printing done directly for the state and paid for out of the general fund, and included in the following: All annual or biennial reports required to be made under laws that now or may hereafter exist, all blanks and blank books and office stationery required, and no more: Provided, that special bulletins and publications except for divisions of the government supported by state appropriations, may be allowed by order of the printing commission. (1911, c. 211, s. 1.)

§ 7286. Repealed by Public Laws 1931, c. 312, s. 14.

Editor's Note.—The Act of 1931 abolished the printing commission established under this section. See § 7310(j).

§ 7286(a). Powers and duties under article vested in director of purchase and contract.—All powers, authority, and duties vested in and imposed upon the printing commission, the commissioner of labor and printing, the governor and council of state, and the attorney general under and by virtue of this article are hereby transferred to, vested in, and imposed upon the Division of purchase and contract and the director of purchase and contract, subject to the provisions of the act of the general assembly creating said division of purchase and contract [§§ 7502(b)-7502(q)], and the said article of the Consolidated Statutes and the several sections of the Consolidated Statutes included in said articles are hereby amended so as to effect said transfer of authorities and duties. (1931, c. 312, s. 15.)

See sec. 7502(c).

§ 7287. Contract for state printing and binding.—The printing commission shall contract for having all printing and binding done for the state upon the best possible terms for the state; and the commissioner of labor and printing shall superintend the same. In any contract which they may make, they may fix and determine the times for the delivery of the public and private laws, and the journals and documents of the general assembly, or any part thereof, according to their judgment and discretion. The person with whom such contract is made is designated in this chapter as the public printer. (Rev., s. 5092; 1901, cc. 280, 401, 667; 1893, c. 161; 1917, c. 126.)

Editor's Note.—The powers and duties under this article are now vested in the division and director of purchase and contract. See section 7286(a).

Public Printer Not a Constitutional Officer.—The Act of 1869-'70, chap. 43, repeals the act establishing the office of Public Printer; and the Public Printer as now provided for is not an officer within the meaning of the Constitution. Brown v. Turner, 70 N. C. 93.

Contract Must Be in Writing.—An acceptance of a bid for public printing does not become a contract until reduced to writing. Capital Printing Co. v. Hocy, 124 N. C. 767, 33 S. E. 160.

Contract Covers All Departments. — A person who contracts for the state printing is entitled to all the printing and binding required by the State in its several departments. Stewart v. State, 118 N. C. 624, 24 S. E. 114.

Not Applicable to Supreme Court.—This section does not apply to printing, for the Supreme Court as that is provided for in section 7296. In re Printing of the Supreme Court Reports, 153 N. C. 649, 70 S. E. 620.

§ 7288. Bond of public printer.—Any person to whom may be awarded the public printing and binding shall give bond, with approved surety, payable to the state of North Carolina, in the sum of five thousand dollars, conditioned for the faithful performance of his duties and undertakings under his contract. The surety herein required shall justify before some person authorized to administer oaths. (Rev., s. 292; Code, s. 3621; 1899, c. 250, s. 2.)

§ 7289. Public printer failing to perform contract; course pursued.—If any person who has contracted to do the public printing for the state shall fail to perform his contract according to the terms thereof, the governor, council of state, attorney-general, and commissioner of labor and printing shall procure the public printing to be done by other parties, and the attorney-general shall institute suit in the superior court of Wake county in the name of the state to recover of the public printer and his bond any damages for failure to perform the contract. (Rev., s. 5094; 1899, c. 724; 1901, cc. 280, 401, 667.)

See editor's note under § 7287.

§ 7290. Work to be examined and approved; accounts audited.—The commissioner of labor and printing, aided by the assistant commissioner, shall carefully examine all printing and binding done for the state, or any department thereof, by the public printer, and shall certify that the workmanship of the printing and binding is properly executed and that the accounts rendered by the public printer for the same are accurate and just before the auditor shall issue any warrant for the payment thereof. Such accounts shall not be approved by the commissioner nor audited by the state auditor oftener than forty-eight times in a year. (Rev., s. 5095; Code, ss. 3622, 3623; 1871-2, c. 180, s. 4; 1885, c. 331; 1899, c. 373, s. 5, c. 622.)

See editor's note under § 7287.

Recovery of Money Wrongfully Paid.—The examination of the printing is only a prerequisite to payment of the account by the auditor and is not the action of a special tribunal provided for passing upon such accounts. The act of examining is not res judicata, and any money paid in excess of what is justly due for public printing may be recovered. Worth v. Stewart, 122 N. C. 258, 29 S. E. 579.

Application to Supreme Court Reports. — The Supreme Court Reports are a part of the public printing, and the Commissioner of Labor and Printing is charged with the same duty of furnishing paper and stationary therefor, and in the examination and superintendence thereof, as is required for the other public printing. See section 7296. In re Printing of the Supreme Court Reports, 153 N. C. 649, 70 S. E. 620.

§ 7291. Paper and stationery for public printing.—The commissioner of labor and printing shall purchase for the use of the state the paper and stationery used for public printing. (Rev., s. 5095.)

See editor's note under § 7287.

§ 7292. Binding of laws regulated.—The public laws shall be bound separately. The public-local and private laws shall be bound together in one volume, or in two volumes, according to the size of such volumes, in the discretion of the printing commission. Some of the volumes shall be bound in sheep or buckram and the residue in half-binding. The number to be bound in each shall be determined by the officials authorized by this chapter to contract for state printing and binding. (Rev., s. 5096; Code, s. 3633; 1893, c. 146; 1919, c. 314, s. 4.)

§ 7293. Size and style of state publications.—The printing commission shall regulate the sizes of books and publications and the general style of publication, the style of type and the paper to be used, to the end that a uniform standard may be established for state publications. (1911, c. 211, s. 8.)

See editor's note under § 7287.

§ 7294. Reports and publications; conciseness.—The reports and publications of every kind now authorized or required to be printed by the several state departments and state institutions shall be as compact and concise as is consistent with an intelligent understanding of the work of the department. The details of the work of the department shall not be printed when not necessary to an intelligent understanding of the work of the departments, but totals and results shall be tabulated and printed in said reports. It shall be the duty of the governor and council of state, the attorney-general and the commissioner of labor and printing to determine what details of the work of any departments or state institution shall be printed. The details shall be kept on file and subject to the inspection of the public. (1911, c. 211, s. 2.)

See editor's note under § 7287.

§ 7295. Laws and resolutions; number printed.—The printing commission shall have power to determine the number of public, public-local and private laws and the resolutions to be printed not to exceed, however, the number provided in this chapter. Of the public laws there shall be printed eight thousand and five hundred copies, and of the public-local and private laws one thousand and fifty copies. All of which copies shall be delivered to the secretary of state. (Rev., s. 5097; Code, s. 3632; 1893, c. 146, s. 2; 1897, c. 135; 1901, c. 401, s. 2; 1919, c. 314, s. 4.)

See editor's note under § 7287.

§ 7296. Supreme court reports; contract for printing.—The Supreme Court is authorized to contract from time to time for the printing of its reports; to select a printer for the same and to prescribe such terms of contract as will insure, under the supervision of the Court, the prompt issue of the reports as soon as practicable after a sufficient number of opinions are filed. Such contract shall be made after consultation with the State Printing Commission, or such other authority or commission as may hereafter perform the duties now performed by the State Printing Commission, after a comparison of prices for similar work in other states to such an extent as may be practicable. (Rev. s. 5003; 1905, c. 400; 1929, c. 39, s. 1.)

See §§ 7286(a), 7502(c).

In General.—Upon the Supreme Court devolves the duty only of selecting the printer and directing the style and general execution of the work, the price of which is restricted to that allowed and fixed by the committee. See section 7290. In re Printing of the Supreme Court Reports, 153 N. C. 649, 70 S. E. 620.

§ 7297. Supreme court reports; number printed.—Of the supreme court reports there shall be printed and bound in full sheep or buckram as many copies, not less than seven hundred and fifty, as in the opinion of the attorney-general and secretary of state may be sufficient to supply the demand. All such copies shall be delivered to the secretary of state. Advance sheets of the supreme court reports are hereby authorized to be printed, and to be sold, under the rules of the supreme court. (Rev., s. 5097; Code, s. 3632; 1893, c. 146, s. 2; 1897, c. 135; 1901, c. 401, s. 2; 1919, c. 314, s. 4; 1923, c. 25.)

Editor's Note.—By amendment, Public Laws 1923, c. 234 s. 1, the last sentence, providing for the printing and sale of advance sheets of the Supreme Court, was added.

§ 7298. Journals; number printed and bound.—Of each the senate and house journals there shall be printed four hundred and fifty copies in separate volumes, bound in sheep or buckram; all of which copies shall be delivered to the secretary of state. (Rev., s. 5099; Code, s. 3636; 1881, c. 16; 1872-3, c. 45, s. 10; 1919, c. 314, s. 4.)

§ 7299. Journals; preparation and filing by clerks of houses.—It shall be the duty of the principal clerks of the two houses of the general assembly to hasten the preparation of their journals for the public printer, so that in no case at any time shall the journal of either house of any one day's proceedings remain unprepared for the printer by the clerk for a longer period than six days after its approval, and such clerks shall, immediately after the preparation of any and every day's proceedings of their respective houses, send the same to the office of the secretary of state. (Rev., s. 5100; Code, ss. 3627, 3628; 1872-3, c. 45, ss. 2, 3.)

§ 7300. Public documents.—Of the reports of state officers, constituting a part of the public documents, the secretary of state shall be and is hereby required to file and keep in his office one copy of each, and the state librarian shall likewise be required to keep five copies of each, in the best binding in which any such report is issued; and these files shall take the place of these same reports as have heretofore been bound in the volumes known as the "Public Documents." The volumes known as the public documents shall contain only the reports of the various state institutions that are aided or sustained by special appropriations. Of these, there shall be bound not to exceed four hundred copies, one copy of which shall be furnished to each of the members and officers of the general assembly, and to the various state officers, and one copy to each of the state institutions, and one copy to the secretary of state, and five copies to the state librarian for filing. The remainder, if any, shall be delivered to the secretary of state. (Rev., s. 5101; 1911, c. 211, s. 7.)

§ 7301. Bills and legislative documents.—The bills and all other documents ordered to be printed by either branch of the general assembly shall be printed in octavo form without a title page. But the first page shall be printed as follows: At the head of the page there shall be four rules, one double, two single, and one parallel, extending across the page. Between said rules shall be printed, first, the name of the house where the bill originated, with the year and date of the session, the name of the introducer, and the name of the printer; after leaving a space the width of two-line pica, a synopsis, or caption of the bill, or report of the committee, or whatever it may be, shall be set up with pica capitals. After such heading, the said document to follow immediately, commencing with a paragraph, allowing a space the width of small pica between the heading and commencement of the same. (Rev., s. 5102; Code, s. 3644; R. C., c. 93, s. 3.)

§ 7302. Departmental reports to legislature; number printed. — Not to exceed eight hundred copies each of the annual or biennial reports of the several departments of the state government shall be printed, a copy of each of these to be furnished to each of the members and officers of the general assembly, one copy to each state officer, and five copies to the state librarian for filing, the remaining copies to be distributed in the discretion of the officer making such report: Provided, that the printing commission may permit the publication of a greater number of reports if in their judgment the same are necessary. (1911, c. 211, s. 2.)

See editor's note under § 7287.

§ 7303. Reports and blanks for state offices.—The governor, secretary of state, auditor, treasurer, superintendent of public instruction, attorney-general, insurance commissioner and adjutant general may have printed and prepared for their several offices such blank-books, blank forms, and other necessary printing as may be suitable and proper to enable them to discharge their official duties. They shall also be allowed all necessary postage, telephone, telegraph, post-office box, and express charges; and the auditor and treasurer shall each have two hundred copies of their respective reports printed for the use of their offices. The printing herein authorized shall be done by the public printer according to the rates prescribed by law; and charges for all items shall be approved by the commissioner of labor and printing. (Rev., s. 5103; Code, s. 3646; 1873-4, c. 174; R. C., c. 93, s. 10; 1891, c. 352; 1919, c. 16.)

See editor's note under § 7287.

§ 7304. Agricultural department, printing for.—The North Carolina agricultural experiment station is allowed to have the bulletins of the agricultural department printed as other state printing and paid for out of the general fund to an amount not to exceed two thousand five hundred dollars for each biennial period, the first biennial period ending on the first day of December, nineteen hundred and sixteen. (1915, c. 209.)

§ 7305. Department of public instruction, printing for.—The department of the superintendent of public instruction is hereby allowed to expend for the necessary printing of its department a sum not to exceed thirty-five thousand dollars for each biennial period, the first period beginning on the first day of July, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three, and ending June thirtieth, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five. (1915, c. 209; 1923, c. 234, s. 1.)

Editor's Note.—By amendment, Public Laws 1923, c. 234, s. 1, the sum allowed for each biennial period was raised from eighteen thousand dollars to thirty-five thousand dollars. The former provision for the first period to end on the first day of December 1916, was replaced by the provision for it to begin the first day of July 1923 and end June thirtieth 1925.

§ 7306. State institutions, printing of reports of.—The following institutions, and all other sustained by appropriations from the state treasury, are required to furnish to the commissioner of labor and printing, not later than December fifteenth of each biennial period, duplicates of the reports required to be furnished to the governor for his use and for the records of his office, for inclusion in the public documents; not to exceed two hundred copies of such reports may be furnished to the executive head of such institutions: The university of North Carolina, Chapel Hill; the North Carolina state college of agriculture and engineering, Raleigh; the North Carolina agricultural experiment station, Raleigh; the negro agricultural and technical college of North Carolina, Greensboro; the state school for the blind and the deaf, Raleigh; the Cullowhee normal and industrial school, Painter; the Appalachain training school, Boone; the Nortn Carolina school for the deaf, Morganton; the central hospital, Raleigh; the state hospital, Morganton; the state hospital (colored) Goldsboro; the state prison, Raleigh; the East Carolina teachers' college Greenville; the state board of health, including the bureau of vital statistics, the state laboratory of hygiene, and the North Carolina sanatorium for the treatment of tuberculosis, Sanatorium; Provided, that these reports shall carry only such matters as are essential to a proper understanding of the work and purposes of the institution, together with a financial statement covering the previous biennial period ending December first. (1915, c. 62, s. 5; Ex. Sess. 1921, c. 27.)

See editor's note under § 7287.

Editor's Note.—By amendment, Ex. Sess. 1921 c. 27 the name of The East Carolina Teachers' Training School was changed to East Carolina Teachers' College.

§ 7307. Printer's duties during session of general assembly.—It shall be the duty of the printer aforesaid, in person or by agent, to call on the secretary of state, or his chief clerk at the office of said secretary daily, within office hours, and apply for such certified copies of the acts and resolutions of said assembly, and for such proceedings of the two houses as have been filed by the clerks aforesaid in the office of said secretary; and these applications shall be continued daily by the public printer until all of the acts, resolutions, and proceedings aforesaid of the session have been received by him. (Rev., s. 5105; Code, s. 3629; 1872-3, c. 45, s. 4.)

§ 7308. How amount of printing for state departments settled. — Whenever in the judgment of the commissioner of labor and printing any requisition received by him from any state office or department goes beyond the intent of the laws allowing printing, he may decline to allow the expenditure required to cover the cost of printing or other similar matter required. The officer or department making the requisition shall have the right of appeal from the decision of the commissioner of labor and printing to the printing commission, whose decision shall be final. A full account of such appeal shall be filed with the joint committee on printing of the general assembly at the succeeding session. (1911, c. 211, s. 8; 1915, c. 61.)

See editor's note under § 7287.

§ 7308(a). Printing for state departments. — All printing for each department of the State, except the General Assembly, the Supreme Court, the State Highway Commission, the automobile License Bureau, the Department of Agriculture, and such other departments or divisions of departments operating on special funds, shall be furnished by the Commissioner of Labor and Printing, and paid for by him by warrants drawn by the Auditor upon the State Treasury out of the appropriation made for public printing: Provided, that the printing for the State Highway Commission, the Automobile License Bureau, the Department of Agriculture, and other departments and divisions of such departments operating on special funds be paid for out of such funds; and it is further provided, that the printing for the General Assembly and the Supreme Court be paid for as now provided by law. (1925, c. 247, s. 1.)

See editor's note under § 7287.

§ 7308(b). How supplies furnished; requisition. —Such printing and supplies shall be furnished to each department upon a requisition, in writing, therefor, which shall be made out and signed by the department or person requiring the same, on forms prescribed and furnished by the Commissioner of Labor and Printing, and in such requisition such department, or person, shall plainly state the amount and kind of printing and supplies desired, and, as far as may be possible, shall estimate the amount of the same needed, as a six months supply, and such requisition shall be filed with the Commissioner of Labor and Printing at least sixty days before the printing and supplies asked for are needed, and the said requisition shall be so filled, and a copy thereof furnished by the Commissioner of Labor and Printing to the Budget Bureau. (1925, c. 134, s. 2.)

See editor's note under § 7287.

§ 7308(c). Allocation of appropriation. — The said Commissioner of Labor and Printing and the Budget Bureau, in consultation with the heads of the several departments of State, shall, immediately upon the adjournment of each regular session of the General Assembly, allocate to the several departments the appropriations for public printing. (1925, c. 134, s. 3.)

See editor's note under § 7287.

§ 7308(d). Paper and form of printing. — The Commissioner of Labor and Printing and the Budget Bureau, in allocating such funds and in furnishing such printing and stationery supplies, shall use their best efforts to conserve the interest of the State, and to that end shall have authority and power to use such paper and such standard forms of printing, so that the best interest of the State may be promoted, and its funds economically conserved. (1925, c. 134, s. 4.)

See editor's note under § 7287.

§ 7308(e). Accounts of requisitions.—The said Commissioner of Labor and Printing shall keep an account in his office in which each department shall be credited with its allocation for printing and stationery supplies and shall be charged with the amount of each requisition therefor, when filled, and immediately upon the filling of each requisition such department shall be advised by the Commissioner of Labor and Printing as to the status of such account, and no requisition shall be filled, or allowed, in whole or in part, so as to exceed said allotment. (1925, c. 134, s. 5.)

See editor's note under § 7287.

§ 7308(f). Application of preceding sections.— Sections 7308(a) to 7308(e) shall apply to all legislative appropriations for public printing made by the regular session of the General Assembly one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five, and thereafter, and the allocations or allotments of the same shall be made so as to allot, immediately after the adjournment of the present session of the General Assembly, the said public printing appropriation, and to the end that the requisition of the first six months of the next fiscal biennium shall be made and filled hereunder. The said sections shall not apply to the needs of the several departments for printing and stationery supplies for the period ending June thirtieth, one thousand nine hundred twenty-five. The said sections shall not apply to issuance and the printing of the current volumes of the Supreme Court reports and the sheets containing the opinions of the Supreme Court, which shall remain under the supervision of the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court. (1295, c. 134, ss. 6, 6a.)

Art. 2. Department of Labor

§ 7309. Department of labor established. — A Department of Labor is hereby created and established. The duties of said department shall be exercised and discharged under the supervision and direction of a commissioner, to be known as the Commissioner of Labor. (Rev., s. 3309; 1919, c. 314, s. 4; 1931, c. 312, s. 1.)

Editor's Note.—Public Laws 1931, c. 312, effected a reorganization of the Department of Labor and Printing, henceforth to be known as the Department of Labor. Sec. 17 of the act provided: "This act shall be in force and effect from and after April first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one: Provided, that the Child Welfare Commission shall continue operating under existing laws until June thirtieth in order to complete the year's program of inspections, use printed material and complete statistical studies, but the Executive Secretary, the Commissioner of Labor, with the approval of the Governor, shall proceed to complete plans for reorganization of Department of Labor to be made effective promptly July first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one."

In 9 N. C. Law Rev. 413, 414, it is said: "There are some disappointing features and omissions in connection with the plan of reorganization. In the first place, the writer is of the opinion that the Commissioner of Labor should be appointed by the Governor rather than elected by popular vote. This office calls for an expert, and there is little reason to think that the person who is likely to be elected will possess the necessary qualifications. Secondly, there is complete absence of advisory boards to confer with and advise the Commissioner or heads of any of the several divisions. There seems little justification for burdening the Division of Standards and Inspections with the duty of collecting information and statistics concerning water-power, agriculture, dairying, etc. To be sure, these matters are important, and have a bearing, directly or indirectly, on the welfare of the working classes of the State. But so does almost any other aspect of economic activity that could be mentioned. Such inquiry properly belongs to other departments, and should not be required of a department that is going to have its hands full with matters with which it should properly concern itself. The practice of making the labor department a catch-all for all sorts of duties which other departments should, but do not do, is one that is altogether too common, and one that is not conducive to effective administration. Finally, the absence of machinery of any sort for the settlement of industrial disputes is a matter of some surprise. In view of the recent experiences in Gastonia, Marion, and elsewhere within the State it is almost incomprehensible. While the presence of such machinery by no means guarantees that disputes will be settled promptly and effectively, or at all, for that matter, the experience of other states which have such machinery, with competent men administering it, would seem to fully warrant its establishment. This omission, together with the above duties imposed upon the Division of Statistics and Inspections which are somewhat foreign to its primary purpose, seem to the writer the most serious defects in the plan of the reorganization which in most other respects is fairly satisfactory."

§ 7310. Election of Commissioner; term; Vacancy. — The Commissioner of Labor shall be elected by the people in the same manner as is provided for the election of the Secretary of State. His term of office shall be four years, and he shall receive a salary of four thousand, five hundred dollars per annum. Any vacancy in the office shall be filled by the Governor, until the next general election. The office of the Department of Labor shall be kept in the City of Raleigh and shall be provided for as are other public offices of the State. (Rev., ss. 3909, 3910; 1919, c. 314, s. 4; 1931, c. 312, s. 2.)

Editor's Note.—The Act of 1931 amended this section by adding the provisions as to salary and filling vacancies, and omitting a former provision as to the assistant commissioner. Sec. 3 of the Act provided that nothing in the above section "shall be construed as affecting or in any way interfering with the term of office of the present Commissioner of Labor and Printing, who shall hereafter be known as the Commissioner of Labor and who shall hold office until the expiration of his present term, to which he was elected, and until his successor has been elected and qualified" under the provisions of the above section.

As to criticism of election by the people, see editor's note to sec. 7309.

§ 7310(a). Divisions of department; commissioner; administrative officers.—The Department of Labor shall consist of the following officers, divisions and sections:

A Commissioner of Labor.

A Division of Workmen's Compensation, as a separate and distinct unit, the officers of the Industrial Commission or the Division of Workmen's Compensation acting separately and independently of the other officers, divisions and sections herein provided for.

A Division of Standards and Inspections.

A Division of Statistics.

Each division, except the Division of Workmen's Compensation, shall be in charge of a chief administrative officer and shall be organized under such rules and regulations as the Commissioner of Labor, the head of the division concerned, and with the approval of the Governor, shall prescribe and promulgate. The Commissioner of Labor, with the approval of the Governor, may make provision for one person to act as chief administrative officer of two or more divisions, when such is deemed advisable. The chief administrative officers of the several divisions, except the Industrial Commission, shall be appointed by the Commissioner of Labor with the approval of the Governor, and he shall fix their compensation, subject to the approval of the Salary and Wage Commission, or such other agency of the government as shall succeed to the powers and duties of the Salary and Wage Commission. The Commission of Labor, with the approval of the Governor may combine or consolidate the activities of two or more of the divisions of the departments except the Division of Workmen's Compensation, or provide for the setting up of other divisions when such action shall be deemed advisable for the more efficient and economical administration of the work and duties of the department. (1931, c. 312, s. 4.)

§ 7310(b). Authority, powers and duties of commissioner.—The commissioner of labor shall be the executive and administrative head of the department of labor. He shall be vested with all of the authority and powers and charged with the performance of all the duties vested in and imposed upon the commissioner of labor and printing and the assistant commissioner under sections 7312(a) to 7312(x).

In addition to the other powers and duties conferred upon the commissioner of labor by this article, the said commissioner shall have authority and be charged with the duty:

(a) To appoint and assign to duty such clerks, stenographers, and other employers in the various divisions of the department, with approval of said director of division as may be necessary to perform the work of the department, and fix their compensation, subject to the approval of the salary and wage commission or such other agency of government as shall succeed to the powers and duties of the salary and wage commission. The commissioner of labor may assign or transfer stenographers, or clerks, from one division to another, or inspectors from one division to another, or combine the clerical force of two or more divisions, or require from one division assistance in the work of another division, as he may consider necessary and advisable: Provided, however, the provisions of this subsection shall not apply to the industrial commission, or the division of workmen's compensation.

(b) To make such rules and regulations with reference to the work of the department and of the several divisions thereof as shall be necessary to properly carry out the duties imposed upon the said commissioner and the work of the department; such rules and regulations to be made subject to the approval of the governor.

(c) The commissioner of labor shall have power to take and preserve testimony, examine witnesses, administer oaths, and under proper restriction enter any public institution of the state, any factory, store, workshop, laundry, public eating-house or mine, and interrogate any person employed therein or connected therewith, or the proper officer of a corporation, or file a written or printed list of interrogatories and require full and complete answers to the same, to be returned under oath within thirty days of the receipt of said list of questions.

(d) He shall secure the enforcement of all laws relating to the inspection of factories, mercantile establishments, mills, workshops, public eating-places, and commercial institutions in the state and to aid him in the work shall have power to appoint factory inspectors and other assistants. The duties of such inspectors and other assistants shall be prescribed by the commissioner of labor.

(e) The commissioner of labor, his assistants and factory inspectors, shall visit and inspect at reasonable hours, as often as practicable, the factories, mercantile establishments, mills, workshops, public eating-places, and commercial institutions in the state, where goods, wares, or merchandise are manufactured, purchased, or sold, at wholesale or retail.

(f) It shall be the duty of the commissioner of labor to enforce the provisions of this section, and to prosecute all violations of laws relating to the inspection of factories, mercantile establishments, mills, workshops, public eating-houses, and commercial institutions in this state before any justice of the peace or court of competent jurisdiction.

(g) It shall be the duty of every employer to keep posted in a conspicuous place in every room where five or more persons are employed printed notice stating the provisions of the law relative to the employment of adult persons and children and the regulation of hours and working conditions. The commissioner of labor shall furnish the printed form of such notice upon request.

(h) It shall be the duty of the solicitor of the proper district or the prosecuting attorney of any city or county court, upon the request of the commissioner of labor, or any of his assistants or deputies, to prosecute any violation of law, which is made the duty of the said commissioner of labor to enforce. (1931, c. 312, ss. 5, 6; 1933, s. 24.)

See 11 N. C. Law Rev., 234, for changes made in this section by Public Laws 1933.

Editor's Note.—Public Laws of 1933, c. 244, added subsections (c) to (h) of this section as they now appear.

§ 7310(c). Annual report to Governor; recommendation as to legislation needed. — The commissioner of labor shall annually, on or before the first day of January, file with the governor a report covering the activities of the department, and the report so made on or before January first of the years in which the general assembly shall be in session shall be accompanied by recommendations of the commissioner with reference to such changes in the law applying to or affecting industrial and labor conditions as the commissioner may deem advisable. The report of the commissioner of labor shall be printed and distributed in such manner and form as the director of the budget shall authorize. (1931, c. 312, s. 7.)

§ 7310(d). Statistical report to Governor; no publication of information given by employers.— It shall be the duty of the commissioner of labor to collect in the manner herein provided for, and to assort, systematize, and present to the governor as a part of the report provided for in section 7310(c), statistical details relating to all divisions of labor in the State, and particularly concerning the following: The extent of unemployment, the hours of labor, the number of employees and sex thereof, and the daily wages earned; the conditions with respect to labor in all manufacturing establishments, hotels, stores, and workshops; and the industrial, social, educational, moral, and sanitary conditions of the labor classes, in the productive industries of the State. Such statistical details shall include the names of firms, companies, or corporations, where the same are located, the kind of goods produced or manufactured, the period of operation of each year, the number of employees, male or female, the number engaged in clerical work and the number engaged in manual labor, with the classification of the number of each sex engaged in such occupation and the average daily wage paid each: Provided, that the commissioner shall not, nor shall anyone connected with his office, publish or give or permit to be published or given to any person the individual statistics obtained from any employer, and all such statistics, when published, shall be published in connection with other similar statistics and be set forth in aggregates and averages. (1931, c. 312, s. 8.)

§ 7310(e). Power of commissioner to compel the giving of such information; refusal as contempt. — The commissioner of labor, or his authorized representative, for the purpose of securing the statistical details referred to in section 7310(d), shall have power to examine witnesses on oath, to compel the attendance of witnesses and the giving of such testimony and production of such papers as shall be necessary to enable him to gain the necessary information. Upon the refusal of any witness to comply with the requirements of the commissioner of labor or his representative in this respect, it shall be the duty of any judge of the superior court, upon the application of the commissioner of labor, or his representative, to order the witness to show cause why he should not comply with the requirements of the said commissioner, or his representative, if in the discretion of the judge such requirement is reasonable and proper. Refusal to comply with the order of the judge of the superior court shall be dealt with as for contempt of court. (1931, c. 312, s. 9.)

§ 7310(f). Employers required to make statistical report to Commissioner; refusal as contempt.—It shall be the duty of every owner, operator, or manager of every factory, workshop, mill, mine, or other establishment, where labor is employed, to make to the department, upon blanks furnished by said department, such reports and returns as the said department may require, for the purpose of compiling such labor statistics as are authorized by this article, and the owner or business manager shall make such reports and returns within the time prescribed therefor by said Commissioner, and shall certify to the correctness of the same. Upon the refusal of any person, firm, or corporation to comply with the provisions of this section, it shall be the duty of any judge of the superior court, upon application by the commissioner or by any representative of the department authorized by him, to order the person, firm, or corporation to show cause why he or it should not comply with the provisions of this section. Refusal to comply with the order of the judge of the superior court shall be dealt with as for contempt of court. (1931, c. 312, s. 10.)

§ 7310(g). Division of workmen's compensation.—The North Carolina industrial commission, created under the provisions of the workmen's compensation act [sections 8081(h)-8081(ffff)], is hereby transferred to the department of labor as one of its integral units. The powers, duties, and personnel of the said industrial commission shall continue as provided for in the workmen's compensation act, except and: Provided, however, that such adjustments shall be made in connection with the statistical work and the work of inspection of said industrial commission and the statistical work and work of inspection of other divisions of the department of labor as the commissioner of labor, with the advice of the industrial commission and of the heads of the divisions directly concerned, may, with the approval of the Governor, prescribe, for the purpose of facilitating, expediting, and improving the work of the department as a whole. (1931, c. 312, s. 11.)

§ 7310(h). Division of Standards and Inspection.—(a) The Division of Standards and Inspection shall succeed to and is hereby vested with all the duties, powers, purposes, responsibilities and jurisdiction heretofore vested in the North Carolina Child Welfare Commission under article one, chapter ninety, of the Consolidated Statutes, and said article and the several sections of the Consolidated Statutes included in said article are hereby amended to the extent necessary to make said transfer of duties, power, purposes, responsibilities and jurisdiction effective and to carry out the provisions, purposes and intent of this act. The organization and personnel of the Child Welfare Commission shall be continued subject to such changes therein as shall be made by the Commissioner of Labor, and the Director of said Division, with the approval of the Governor. Transfer of duties and power shall not, however, in any degree affect the validity of the rules and regulations heretofore adopted by said Child Welfare Commission, but the same shall remain in force and effect and be administered by said Division of Standards and Inspections. The Director of said Division, together with the Commissioner of Labor, with approval of the Governor, shall have authority to amend or abolish old rules and make such new rules and regulations as they may deem necessary not inconsistent with this act or existing law.

(b) To make studies and investigations of special problems connected with the labor of women and children, and to create the necessary organization, and to appoint an adequate number of investigators, with the consent of the Commissioner of Labor and the approval of the Governor; and the Director of said division, under the supervision and direction of the Commissioner of Labor and under such rules and regulations as shall be prescribed by said Commissioner, with the approval of the Governor, shall perform all duties devolving upon the Department of Labor, or the Commissioner of Labor, with relation to the enforcement of laws, rules, and regulations governing the employment of women and children.

(c) To report annually to the Commissioner of Labor the activities of the division, with such recommendations as may be considered advisable for the improvement of the working conditions for women and children.

(d) Shall also collect and collate information and statistics concerning the location, estimated and actual horsepower and condition of valuable water-powers, developed and undeveloped, in this State; also concerning farm lands and farming, the kinds, character, and quantity of the annual farm products in this State; also of timber lands and timbers, truck gardening, dairying, and such other information and statistics concerning the agricultural and industrial welfare of the citizens of this State as he may deem to be of interest and benefit to the public, and shall also perform the duties of mine inspector as prescribed in the chapter entitled Mines.

(e) The chief administrative officer of the Division of Standards and Inspection shall be known as the director of division. It shall be his duty, under the direction and supervision of the Commissioner of Labor, under rules and regulations to be adopted by the Department as herein provided, to make or cause to be made all necessary inspections to see that all laws, rules, and regulations concerning the safety and well-being of labor are promptly and effectively carried out.

(f) It shall further be the duty of the Division of Standards and Inspection to conduct such research and carry out such studies as will contribute to the health, safety, and general well-being of the working classes of the State. The findings of such investigations, with the approval of the Commissioner of Labor and the Governor and the coöperation of the chief administrative officer of the Division or Divisions directly concerned, shall be promulgated as rules and regulations governing work places and working conditions. All recommendations and suggestions pertaining to health, safety, and well-being of employees shall be transmitted to the Commissioner of Labor in an annual report which shall cover the work of the Division of Standards and Inspection.

(g) The division of standards and inspection shall make, promulgate and enforce rules and regulations for the protection of employees from accident and from occupational disease; and shall upon request, and after such investigation as it deems proper, issue certificates of compliance to such employers as are found by it to be in compliance with the rules and regulations made and promulgated in accordance with the provisions of this paragraph. (1931, c. 312, s. 12, c. 426; 1935, c. 131.)

Editor's Note.—Subsection (g) was added by the 1935 amendment.

§ 7310(i). Division of Statistics.—The Division of Statistics shall be in charge of a Chief Statistician. It shall be his duty, under the direction and supervision of the Commissioner of Labor, to collect, assort, systematize, and print all statistical details relating to all divisions of labor in this State as is provided in section 7310(d). (1931, c. 312, s. 13.)

§ 7310(j). Abolition of commissions. — The Printing Commission, established under section 7286, Consolidated Statutes, one thousand nine hundred and nineteen, and the State Child Welfare Commission, established under section 5031 of the Consolidated Statutes, one thousand nine hundred and nineteen, are hereby abolished. (1931, c. 312, s. 14.)

§ 7311. Commissioner to collect information.—The commissioners shall collect such information and statistics as he may deem advisable in connection with the work of his department. (Rev., s. 3910; 1897, c. 251; 1899, c. 373, ss. 3. 4; 1899, c. 622, ss. 1, 2; 1901, c. 280, s. 2; 1901, c. 401, s. 2; 1927, c. 217, s. 6.)

Editor's Note.—Prior to the amendment of this section by Public Laws 1927 c. 217, s. 6 there was a provision for aid by the assistant commissioner in collecting certain specified information besides the power to collect such information as he deemed advisable. The former law enumerated a number of things on which the commissioner should collect statistics.

§ 7312. Report of commissioner.—The commissioners shall make a full report to the Governor as other State officers are required to do, embodying therein such recommendations as he may deem calculated to promote the efficiency. (Rev., s. 3911; 1899, c. 373, s. 6; 1927, c. 217, s. 6.)

Editor's Note.—By amendment, Public Laws 1927 c. 217, s. 7 there was omitted a former provision for printing and paying for reports that were to be sent to every newspaper, state and county officer, member of the general assembly, labor organization, and citizen that applied for a copy within the state.

Art. 2A. Board of Boiler Rules and Bureau of Boiler Inspection

§ 7312(1) Board of boiler rules created; members, appointment; and qualifications; terms of office; vacancies; meetings.—There is hereby created the North Carolina board of boiler rules consisting of five members, of whom four shall be appointed to the board by the governor, one for a term of one year, one for a term of two years, one for a term of three years and one for a term of four years. At the expiration of their respective terms of office, their successors shall be appointed for terms of four years each. Upon the death or incapacity of any member, the vacancy for the remainder of the term shall be filled with a representative of the same class. Of these four appointed members, one shall be a representative of the owners and users of steam boilers within the State of North Carolina, one a representative of the boiler manufacturers or a boiler maker who has had not less than five years practical experience as a boilermaker within the State of North Carolina, one a representative of a boiler inspection and insurance company licensed to do business within the State of North Carolina, and one a representative of the operating steam engineers in the State of North Carolina. The fifth member shall be the commissioner of labor, who shall be chairman of the board. The board shall meet at least twice yearly at the state capitol or other place designated by the board. (1935, c. 326, s. 1.)

§ 7312(2). Formulation of rules and regulations.—The board shall formulate rules and regulations for the safe and proper construction, installation, repair, use and operation of steam boilers in this State. The rules and regulations so formulated shall conform as nearly as possible to the boiler code of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers and amendments and interpretations thereto made and approved by the council of the society. (1935, c. 326, s. 1.)

§ 7312(3). Approval of rules and regulations by governor. — The rules and regulations formulated by the board of boiler rules shall become effective upon approval by the governor, except that rules applying to the construction of new boilers shall not become effective to prevent the installation of such new boilers until six months after approval by the governor. Changes in the rules which would raise the standards governing the methods of construction of new boilers or the quality of material used in them shall not become effective until six months after approval by the governor. (1935, c. 326, s. 2.)

§ 7312(4). Appropriation for printing and distribution; pay and expenses.—A sum not exceeding five hundred dollars ($500.00) shall immediately be allotted from the state emergency fund to the North Carolina board of boiler rules for the printing and distribution of the rules promulgated by the said board and to cover expenses incidental to the preparation thereof, and said sum shall be repaid out of the fees collected by the said board of boiler rules to said emergency fund within a period of twelve months after the said allocation has been made. The members of the board of boiler rules, exclusive of the chairman thereof, shall serve without salary and shall receive their actual expenses, not to exceed their actual railroad fare plus four dollars ($4.00) per day each, for not to exceed twenty days in any year while in the performance of their duties as members of the board, to be paid in the same manner as in case of other state officers. The chairman of the board of boiler rules shall countersign all vouchers for expenditures under this section. (1935, c. 326, s. 3.)

§ 7312(5). Boilers now in use unaffected. — This article shall not be construed as in any way preventing the use or sale of steam boilers in this State which shall have been installed or in use in this State prior to the taking effect of this article and which shall have been made to conform to the rules and regulations of the board of boiler rules governing existing installations as provided in section 7312(13). (1935, c. 326, s. 4.)

§ 7312(6). Commissioner of labor empowered to appoint chief inspector; qualifications; salary.—After the passage of this article and at any time thereafter that the office may become vacant, the commissioner of labor shall appoint, and may remove for cause when so appointed, a citizen of this State who shall have had at the time of such appointment not less than five years' practical experience with steam boilers as a steam engineer, boilermaker or boiler inspector, or who has passed the same kind of examination as that prescribed for deputy or special inspectors in section 7312(10), to be chief inspector for a term of two years or until his successor shall have been appointed, at an annual salary of two thousand dollars ($2,000.00). (1935, c. 326, s. 5.)

§ 7312(7). Certain boilers excepted.—This article shall not apply to boilers under federal control or to stationary boilers used by railroads which are inspected regularly by competent inspectors, or to boilers used solely for propelling motor road vehicles; or to boilers of steam fire engines brought into the State for temporary use in times of emergency to check conflagrations; or to portable boilers used for agricultural purposes only or for pumping or drilling in the open field for water, gas or coal, gold, talc or other minerals and metals; or to steam heating boilers which carry pressures not exceeding fifteen pounds per square inch, built in accordance with the boiler code of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers. This article shall not apply to any boiler used for heating purposes. (1935, c. 326, s. 6.)

§ 7312(8). Powers of commissioner of labor; creation of bureau of boiler inspection. — The commissioner of labor is hereby charged, directed and empowered:

(a) To set up in the division of standards and inspections of the department of labor, a bureau of boiler inspection to be supervised by the chief inspector provided for in section 7312(6) and one or more deputy inspectors of boilers, who shall have passed the examination provided for in section 7312(10), at a salary not to exceed the salary of a senior factory inspector, and such office help as may be necessary.

(b) To have free access for himself and his chief boiler inspector and deputies, during reasonable hours, to any premises in the State where a steam boiler is built or where a steam boiler or power plant apparatus is being installed or operated, for the purpose of ascertaining whether such boiler is built, installed and operated in accordance with the provisions of this article.

(c) To prosecute all violators of the provisions of this article.

(d) To issue, suspend and revoke inspection certificates allowing steam boilers to be operated, as provided in this article.

(e) To enforce the laws of the State governing the use of steam boilers and to enforce the rules and regulations of the board of boiler rules.

(f) To keep a complete record of the type, dimensions, age, condition, pressure allowed upon, location and date of the last inspection of all steam boilers to which this article applies.

(g) To publish and distribute among boiler manufacturers and others requesting them, copies of the rules and regulations adopted by the board of boiler rules. (1935, c. 326, s. 7.)

§ 7312(9). Provision for special inspectors; examination required. — In addition to the deputy boiler inspectors authorized by section 7312(8), the commissioner of labor shall, upon the request of any company authorized to insure against loss from explosion of boilers in this State, issue to any boiler inspectors of said company commissions as special inspectors: Provided, that each such inspector before receiving his commission shall pass satisfactorily the examination provided for in section 7312(10), or, in lieu of such examination, shall hold a certificate of competency as an inspector of steam boilers for a state that has a standard of examination equal to that of the State of North Carolina, or a certificate from the national board of boiler and pressure vessel inspectors. The fee for such commission shall be one dollar ($1.00) and one dollar ($1.00) for each annual renewal thereof. Such special inspectors shall receive no salary from, nor shall any of their expenses be paid by the State, and the continuance of a special inspector's commission shall be conditioned upon his continuing in the employ of a boiler inspection and insurance company duly authorized as aforesaid and upon his maintenance of the standards imposed by this article. Such special inspectors shall inspect all steam boilers insured by their respective companies, and the owners of such insured boilers shall be exempt from the payment of the fees provided for in section 7312(15). Each company employing such special inspectors shall, within thirty days following each annual internal inspection made by such inspectors, file a report of such inspection with the commissioner of labor. (1935, c. 326, s. 8.)

§ 7312(10). Examination for inspectors; revocation of commission. — Examination for deputy or special inspectors shall be given by the board of boiler rules or by at least two examiners to be appointed by said board and must be written or part written and part oral recorded in writing and must be confined to questions the answers to which will aid in determining the fitness and competency of the applicant for the intended service and must be of uniform grade throughout the State. In case an applicant for an inspector's appointment or commission fails to pass this examination, he may appeal to the board of boiler rules for a second examination which shall be given by said board, or if by examiners appointed by said board, then by examiners other than those by whom the first examination was given and these examiners shall be appointed forthwith to give said second examination. Upon the result of this examination on appeal, the board shall determine whether the applicant be qualified. The record of any applicant's examination, whether original or on appeal, shall be accessible to him and his employer.

A commission may be revoked by the commissioner of labor upon the recommendation of the chief inspector of steam boilers, for the incompetence or untrustworthiness of the holder thereof or for wilful falsification of any matter or statement contained in his application or in a report of any inspection. A person whose commission is revoked may appeal from the revocation to the board of boiler rules which shall hear the appeal and either set aside or affirm the revocation and its decision shall be final. The person whose commission has been revoked shall be entitled to be present in person and by counsel on the hearing of the appeal. If a certificate or commission is lost or destroyed, a new certificate or commission shall be issued in its place without another examination. A person who has failed to pass the examination for a commission or whose commission has been revoked shall be entitled to apply for a new examination and commission after ninety days from such failure or revocation. (1935, c. 326, s. 9.)

§ 7312(11). Boiler inspections; fee; certificate; suspension. — On and after April first, nineteen hundred and thirty-five, each steam boiler used or proposed to be used within this State, except boilers exempt under section 7312(7), shall be thoroughly inspected internally and externally while not under pressure by the chief inspector or by one of the deputy inspectors or special inspectors provided for herein, as to its design, construction, installation, condition and operation; and if it shall be found to be suitable, and to conform to the rules and regulations of the board of boiler rules, the owner or user of a steam boiler as required in this article to be inspected shall pay to the chief inspector the sum of one dollar ($1.00) for each inspection certificate issued, and the chief inspector shall issue to the owner or user thereof an inspection certificate specifying the maximum pressure which it may be allowed to carry. Such inspection certificate shall be valid for not more than fourteen months from its date, and it shall be posted under glass in the engine or boiler room containing such boiler, or an engine operated by it, or, in the case of a portable boiler, in the office of the plant where it is located for the time being. No inspection certificate issued for a boiler inspected by a special inspector shall be valid after the boiler for which it was issued shall cease to be insured by a duly authorized insurance company. The chief inspector or any deputy inspector may, at any time, suspend an inspection certificate when, in his opinion, the boiler for which it was issued may not continue to be operated without menace to the public safety, or when the boiler is found not to comply with the rules herein provided for and a special inspector shall have corresponding powers with respect to inspection certificates for boilers insured by the company employing him. Such suspension of an inspection certificate shall continue in effect until said boiler shall have been made to conform to the rules and regulations of the board of boiler rules and until said inspection certificate shall have been reinstated by a state inspector, if the inspection certificate was suspended by a state inspector, or by a special inspector, if it was suspended by a special inspector. Not more than fourteen months shall elapse between such inspections and there shall be at least four such inspections in thirty-seven consecutive months. Each such boiler shall also be inspected externally while under pressure with at least the same frequency, and at no greater intervals. (1935, c. 326, s. 10.)

§ 7312(12). Operation of uninspected boiler prohibited. — On and after July first, nineteen hundred and thirty-five, it shall be unlawful for any person, firm, partnership or corporation to operate under pressure in this State a steam boiler to which this article applies without a valid inspection certificate as provided for in this article. The operation of a steam boiler without an inspection certificate, shall constitute a misdemeanor on the part of the owner, user or operator thereof and be punishable by a fine not exceeding one hundred dollars ($100) or imprisonment not to exceed thirty days, or both, in the discretion of the court. (1935, c. 326, s. 11.)

§ 7312(13). Installation of boilers not conforming to requirements prohibited; boilers now in use to conform.—No steam boiler which does not conform to the rules and regulations formulated by the board of boiler rules governing new installations shall be installed in this State after six months from the date upon which the said rules and regulations shall become effective by the approval of the governor.

All steam boilers installed and ready for use, or being used, before the said six months shall have elapsed, shall be made to conform to the rules and regulations of the board of boiler rules governing existing installations and the formula therein prescribed shall be used in determining the maximum allowable working pressure for such boilers. (1935, c. 326, s. 12.)

§ 7312(14). Inspection of boilers during construction in state; outside state.—All boilers to be installed after six months from the date upon which the rules and regulations of the board of boiler rules shall become effective by the approval of the governor shall be inspected during construction by an inspector authorized to inspect boilers in this State, or if constructed outside the State, by an inspector holding a certificate of authority from the commissioner of labor of this State, which certificate shall be issued by the said commissioner of labor to any inspector who holds a certificate of authority to inspect steam boilers issued by a State which shall have adopted boiler rules that require standards of construction and operation substantially equal to those of this State, or an inspector who holds a certificate of inspection issued by the national board of boiler and pressure vessel inspectors. (1935, c. 326, s. 12.)

§ 7312(15). Fee for internal and external inspections.—The owner or user of a steam boiler required by this article to be inspected by the chief boiler inspector, or a deputy inspector, shall pay to the inspector three dollars ($3.00) for each boiler internally inspected and two dollars ($2.00) for each steam boiler externally inspected while under pressure: Provided, that not more than five dollars ($5.00) shall be collected for such inspection of any boiler made for any one year. The inspector shall give receipts for said fees and shall pay all sums so received to the commissioner of labor, who shall pay the same to the treasurer of the state. The treasurer of the state shall hold the fees collected under this section and under section 7312(11) in a special account to pay the salaries and expenses incident to the administration of this article, the surplus, with the approval of the director of the budget, to be added to the appropriation of the division of standards and inspections of the department of labor for its general inspectional service. (1935, c. 326, s. 13.)

§ 7312(16). Bonds of chief inspector and deputy inspectors; counties excepted; ground sawmills excepted. — The chief inspector shall furnish a bond in the sum of five thousand dollars ($5,000), and each of the deputy inspectors shall furnish a bond in the sum of one thousand dollars ($1,000), conditioned upon the faithful performance of their duties and upon a true account of moneys handled by them respectively, and the payment thereof to the proper recipient. The cost of said bonds shall be paid by the state treasurer out of the special fund provided for in section 7312(15): Provided, this article shall not apply to Cleveland, Montgomery, McDowell, Rockingham, Moore, Swain, Bertie, Wayne, Halifax, Yancey, Franklin, Granville, Person, Martin, Robeson, Gaston, Lincoln, Mecklenburg, Cabarrus and Iredell Counties, Provided further, that this article shall not apply to ground sawmills. (1935, c. 326, s. 14.)

Art. 3. Free Employment Bureau

§ 7312(a). Creation of bureau; officer in charge; assistants and employees.—In order to promote the establishment and maintenance of free employment offices for men, women, and juniors, who are legally qualified, seeking employment, and for employers desiring workers, there is hereby created in the department of labor and printing a free employment bureau to be known as the state employment service. Such bureau shall be in charge of an officer to be known as the state employment director, appointed by the commissioner of labor in accordance with the regulations prescribed by the director of the United States employment service, said state director to receive an annual salary not to exceed three thousand dollars to be fixed by the commissioner of labor. There shall also be appointed in said bureau, by the commissioner of labor and printing, such assistants and other employees as are necessary to carry out the provisions of this article. (1921, c. 131, s. 1; 1935, c. 106, s. 1.)

Editor's Note.—The department referred to in this section is now the department of labor, and the commissioner of labor is vested with the powers and duties under this and the next two articles formerly vested in the commissioner of labor and printing. See §§ 7309, 7310(b).

Prior to the amendment of 1935 this section provided for an assistant to the commissioner instead of the state employment director.

§ 7312(a1). Acceptance by state of federal act establishing national employment system. — In order to achieve the purposes of this article, the State of North Carolina accepts the provisions of the Wagner-Peyser Act, approved June sixth, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three (48 Stat. 113; U. S. C. Title 29, Section 49), "An Act to provide for the establishment of the national employment system and for co-operation with the States in the promotion of such system, and for other purposes" in conformity with section four thereof. The state department of labor is hereby designated and constituted the agency of the State of North Carolina for the purposes of such act, and the commissioner of said department of labor is hereby given full power to co-operate with all authorities of the United States having powers or duties under such act and do and perform all things necessary to secure to the State of North Carolina the benefits of such act in the promotion and maintenance of a system of public employment offices. (1935, c. 106, s. 2.)

§ 7312(b). Duty of commissioner of labor and printing. — It shall be the duty of the commissioner of labor and printing and he shall have the power, jurisdiction, and authority:

To establish and conduct free employment offices in the state where in the opinion of the commissioner such action may be deemed advisable and expedient; to in all proper ways within the limitations of this article bring together employers seeking employees and applicants for employment seeking employers; to make known the opportunities of self-employment in the state; to devise and adopt the most efficient means to avoid unemployment; and to extend vocational guidance through the facilities of such service. (1921, c. 131, s. 2; 1925, c. 288; 1935, c. 106, s. 3.)

See note under § 7312(a).

Editor's Note.—Prior to the amendment the last clause of the second paragraph read: "to co-operate with the existing state and federal agencies in extending vocational guidance to minors seeking employment." By the amendment two paragraphs were omitted, relating to the maintenance of such sections as would best serve the public welfare and assist veterans in securing an adjustment of claims.

§ 7312(c). Coöperation with federal board for vocational education.—The employment bureau shall coöperate with the federal board for vocational education, division for rehabilitation of crippled soldiers and sailors, in endeavoring to secure suitable employment and fair treatment of the veterans of the world war. (1921, c. 131, s. 3.)

§ 7312(d). Employment of minors; farm employment; Promotion of Americanism.—The employment bureau shall have jurisdiction over all matters contemplated in this article pertaining to securing employment for all minors who avail themselves of the free employment service; to so conduct its affairs that at all times it shall be in harmony with laws relating to child labor and compulsory education; to aid in inducing minors over sixteen, who cannot or do not for various reasons attend day school, to undertake promising skilled employment; to aid in influencing minors who do not come within the purview of compulsory education laws, and who do not attend day school, to avail themselves of continuation or special courses in existing night schools, vocational schools, part-time schools, trade schools, business schools, library schools, university extension courses, etc., so as to become more skilled in such occupation or vocation to which they are respectively inclined or particularly adopted; to aid in securing vocational employment on farms for town and city boys who are interested in agricultural work, and particularly town and city high school boys who include agriculture as an elective study; to coöperate with various social agencies, schools, etc., in group organization of employed minors, particularly those of foreign parentage, in order to promote the development of real, practical Americanism through a broader knowledge of the duties of citizenship; to investigate methods or vocational rehabilitation of boys and girls who are maimed or crippled and ways and means for minimizing such handicap. (1921, c. 131, s. 4.)

Editor's Note.—This section is summorized in 1 N. C. Law Rev. 308.

§ 7312(e). Information to be disseminated; collection of information.—The employment bureau shall make public, through the newspapers and other media, information as to situations, it may have applicants to fill, and establish relations with employers for the purpose of supplying demands for labor. The bureau shall collect, collate, and publish statistical and other information relating to the work under its jurisdiction; investigate economic developments, and the extent and causes of employment and remedies therefor within and without the state, with the view of preparing for the information of the general assembly such facts as in its opinion may make further legislation desirable. (1921, c. 131, s. 5.)

§ 7312(f). Local offices; coöperation with United States service; financial aid from United States.—The commissioner of labor and printing is authorized to enter into agreement with the governing authorities of any municipality, county, township, or school corporation in the state for such period of time as may be deemed desirable for the purpose of establishing and maintaining local free employment offices, and for the extension of vocational guidance in co-operation with the United States employment service, and under and by virtue of any such agreement as aforesaid to pay, from any funds appropriated by the state for the purposes of this article, any part or the whole of the salaries, expenses or rent, maintenance, and equipment of offices and other expenses. (1921, c. 131, s. 6; 1935, c. 106, s. 4.)

See note under § 7312(a).

Editor's Note. — Prior to the amendment of 1935, this section applied to vocational guidance of minors. The section was extended by the amendment.

§ 7312(g). Acceptance and use of donations.— It shall be lawful for the commissioner of labor and printing to receive, accept, and use, in the name of the people of the state, or any community or municipal corporation, as the donor may designate, by gift or devise, any moneys, buildings, or real estate for the purpose of extending the benefits of this article and for the purpose of giving assistance to deserving maimed or crippled boys and girls through vocational rehabilitation. (1921, c. 131, s. 7.)

See note under § 7312(a).

§ 7312(h). Coöperation of towns, townships, and counties with bureau.—It shall be lawful for the governing authorities of any municipality, county, township, or school corporation in the state to enter into coöperative agreement with the commissioner of labor and printing, and to appropriate and expend the necessary money upon such conditions as may be approved by the commissioner of labor and to permit the use of public property for the joint establishment and maintenance of such offices as may be mutually agreed upon, and which will further the purpose of this article. (1921, c. 131, s. 8; 1935, c. 106, s. 5.)

See note under § 7312(a).

Editor's Note.—The amendment of 1935 inserted the clause reading "upon such conditions as may be approved by the commissioner of labor."

§ 7312(i). Appropriation.—For the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this article there is hereby appropriated out of the general funds of the state not otherwise appropriated the sum of seventy-five thousand dollars ($75,000.00) per annum for the purpose of maintaining the public employment offices created under this article and for the purpose of co-operating with the U. S. employment service. (1921, c. 131, s. 9; 1935, c. 106, s. 6.)

See note under § 7312(a).

Editor's Note.—The appropriation was increased by the amendment of 1935 from ten thousand to seventy-five thousand dollars.

§ 7312(i1). Manner of disbursing appropriation. — The funds appropriated herein, together with all federal funds made available to this state under said act of congress, shall be paid into the general treasury of this State, and said funds are hereby appropriated and made available for carrying out the provisions of this article in accordance with the provisions of the said act of congress. Upon the voucher of the commissioner of labor the auditor shall audit and the treasurer pay the expenses of the said free employment service not in excess of the funds available under the provisions of this article. (1935, c. 106, s. 7.)

Art. 4. Bureau of Labor for the Deaf

§ 7312(j). Creation.—There shall be created in the department of labor and printing a division devoted to the deaf. (1923, c. 122, s. 1.)

See note under § 7312(a).

§ 7312(k). Appointment of chief of bureau; duties.—The commissioner of labor and printing shall appoint a competent deaf man to take charge of such division, who shall devote his time to the special work of labor for the deaf under the supervision of the commission of labor and printing, and who shall be designated chief of the bureau of labor for the deaf. He shall collect statistics of the deaf, ascertain what trades or occupations are most suitable for them and best adapted to promote their interest, and use his best efforts to aid them in securing such employment as they may be fitted to engage in. He shall study the methods in use in the education of the deaf as exemplified in the deaf themselves, with a view to determining their practicability and respective values in lifting them to become self-supporting, useful citizens and enabling them to obtain the greatest amount of happiness in life. He shall keep a census of the deaf and obtain facts, information and statistics as to their condition in life, with a view to the betterment of their lot. He shall endeavor to obtain statistics and information of the condition of labor and employment and education of the deaf in other states, with a view to promoting the general welfare of the deaf in this state. He shall make reports and recommendations from time to time as may be provided by law, and he shall also issue special reports or pamphlets as may be deemed necessary, giving results and information that may be helpful. (1923, c. 122, ss. 2, 3.)

See note under § 7312(a).

§ 7312(l). Salary of chief; expenses.—The chief of the bureau of labor for the deaf shall receive a salary which shall not exceed the sum of two thousand dollars ($2,000.00) per annum, payable monthly on the certificate of the commissioner of labor and printing. Expenses necessarily incurred by such chief of the bureau of labor for the deaf, under the direction of the commissioner of labor and printing, not to exceed the sum of one thousand dollars ($1,000.00) per annum, shall also be paid out of the state treasury on the certificate of the commissioner of labor and printing. (1923, c. 122, s. 4.)

§ 7312(m). Assignment of other duties.—In case the duties herein enumerated should not occupy all of the time of such chief of the bureau of labor for the deaf, he shall perform such other duties in the department of labor and printing as may be assigned him by the commissioner of labor and printing. (1923, c. 122, s. 5.)

Art. 5. Regulation of Employment Agencies

§ 7312 (n). Employment agency defined.—Employment agency within the meaning of this article shall include any business operated by any person, firm or corporation for profit and engaged in procuring employment for any individual, for any person, firm or corporation in the State of North Carolina and making a charge on the employee or employer for the service. (1929, c. 178, s. 1.)

Editor's Note.—This article supersedes Public Laws 1925, c. 127 formerly regulating employment agencies.

§ 7312 (o). License from Commissioner of Labor; investigation of applicant. — No person, firm or corporation shall engage in the business of operating any employment agency, as designated in section 7312(n), in North Carolina without first making a written application to the Commissioner of Labor and Printing and being licensed by him as herein provided, to engage in such business. Upon receiving an application from such person, firm or corporation it shall be the duty of the Commissioner of Labor and Printing to make an investigation into the character and moral standing of the person, firm or corporation. If after such investigation, the Commissioner of Labor and Printing shall be satisfied that such person, firm or corporation is of such character and moral standing as to warrant the issuance of a license to engage in the business covered by this act then he shall issue a license to such person, firm or corporation as provided herein. (1929, c. 178, s. 2.)

See note under § 7312(a).

§ 7312 (p). Rules and regulations governing issuance of licenses.—The Commissioner of Labor and Printing is authorized and empowered to make general rules and regulations in relation to the licensing of such employment agencies and for the general supervision thereof in accordance with this act. (1929, c. 178, s. 3.)

See note under § 7312(a).

§ 7312 (q). Investigation of books and records of agencies licensed; power to rescind license for cause.—The Commissioner of Labor and Printing is authorized and empowered by himself, his assistant, or agents, duly authorized by him to that effect, to investigate the books and records of any employment agency licensed under this act, when he deems it best for the public interest to do so to effectuate the purposes of this act and for cause to rescind the license theretofore granted by him if upon such investigation he finds that such employment agency is not complying with the terms and conditions of this act, under which it was licensed by him, to engage in such business. Before rescinding the licenses issued hereunder, after such investigation the Commissioner of Labor and Printing, after first giving ten days' notice to the holder of such licenses, to appear and show cause why such license should not be revoked, shall hold a hearing at the County Court House of the County in which such licensee is doing business, when and where the results of the investigation of the Commissioner of Labor and Printing or his duly authorized agents shall be presented under oath, before the Commissioner of Labor and Printing and the said licensee may also and in accordance with said notice, present evidence to show why such license should not be revoked; and the licensee shall have the right of appeal within ten days to the Superior Court. (1929, c. 178, s. 4.)

See note under § 7312(a).

§ 7312 (r). Hearing. — The Commissioner of Labor and Printing, his Assistant or deputy shall be empowered to subpoena witnesses and administer oaths in making investigations and taking testimony to be presented at the hearing to be held before the Commissioner of Labor and Printing as hereinbefore provided for. (1929, c. 178, s. 5.)

See note under § 7312(a).

§ 7312 (s). Service of subpoenas and fees for, governed by general law.—The County Sheriffs and their respective deputies shall serve all subpoenas of the Commissioner of Labor and Printing, and shall receive the same fees as are now provided by law for like services, and each witness who appears in obedience to such subpoena shall receive for attendance the fees and mileage for witnesses in civil cases of courts of the County in which the hearing is held. (1929, c. 178, s. 6.)

See note under § 7312(a).

§ 7312 (t). Production of books, papers and records.—The Superior Court shall, on the application of the Commissioner of Labor and Printing, his assistant or duly authorized deputy, enforce by proper proceedings the attendance and testimony of witnesses and the production and examination of books, papers and records. (1929, c. 178, s. 7.)

See note under § 7312(a).

§ 7312 (u). License fee to be paid into special fund.—The license fee, charged under the provisions of this act, shall be paid into a special fund of the Department of Labor, and the proceeds of such license fees shall be used for the purpose of the supervision and regulation of the employment agencies, including costs of investigations or hearings to revoke licenses and the necessary traveling expenses and other expenditures incurred in administering this act. (1929, c. 178, s. 8.)

§ 7312 (v). Violations.—Any person, firm or corporation conducting an employment agency in the State of North Carolina, in violation of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and if a person punishable by a fine of not less than five hundred dollars, or imprisonment of not less than six months, or both; and if a corporation by a fine of not less than five hundred dollars and not more than one thousand dollars. (1929, c. 178, s. 9.)

§ 7312 (w). Government employment agencies unaffected.—This act shall not in any manner affect or apply to any employment agency operated by the State of North Carolina, the Government of the United States, or any City, County or Town, or any agency thereof. (1929, c. 178, s. 10.)

§ 7312 (x). License taxes placed upon agencies under Revenue Act, not affected.—This act shall in no wise conflict with or affect any license tax placed upon such employment agencies by the General Revenue Act of North Carolina but instead shall be construed as supplementary thereto in exercising the police powers of the State. (1929, c. 178, s. 11.)

PUBLIC WORKS

§ 7312 (y). Employment of architects, etc., on public works when interested in sale of materials prohibited.—It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to employ on any city, county or state work, supported wholly or in part with public funds, any architect, engineer, designer or draftsman, who is in any way connected with the sale or promotion of or in the manufacture of any material or items used in the construction of such works, or who is a stockholder, officer, partner, or owner of any manufacturing concern, or of any sales organization, engaged in the manufacture or sale of such material, or items, which may be used in the construction of such works. (1933, c. 66, s. 1.)

§ 7312(z). Drawing of plans by material furnisher prohibited.—It shall be unlawful for any architect, engineer, designer or draftsman, employed on county, state, or city works, to employ or allow any manufacturer, his representatives or agents, to write, plan, draw, or make specifications for such works or any part thereof. (1933, c. 66, s. 2.)

§ 7312(aa). Specifications to carry competitive items.—All architects, engineers, designers, or draftsmen, when designing, or writing specifications for materials to be used in any city, county or state work, shall specify in their plans at least three items of equal design or their equivalent design, which would be acceptable upon such works. Where it is impossible to specify three items due to the fact that there are not that many items in competition, then as many items as are available shall be specified. (1933, c. 66, s. 3.)

§ 7312(bb). Violation of chapter made misdemeanor.—Any person, firm, or corporation violating the provisions of this chapter shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction, license to practice his profession in this state shall be withdrawn for a period of one year and he shall be subject to a fine of not more than five hundred dollars. (1933, c. 66, s. 4.)

REFORMATORIES

Art. 1. Stonewall Jackson Manual Training and Industrial School

§ 7313. Incorporation.—The board of trustees of the Stonewall Jackson Manual Training and Industrial School is hereby declared a body corporate, by which name they may sue and be sued, plead and be impleaded, hold, use, sell and convey real estate, receive donations, gifts and appropriations and do all other things necessary and requisite for the purpose of carrying out the intent and purposes for which it is organized. (1907, c. 509, s. 1; 1907, c. 955; 1925, c. 306, s. 1.)

Editor's Note.—No material change is made in this section by the Public Laws 1925, except the omission of the names of certain individual trustees.

Constitutional.—This article is constitutional and committing a child to the institution is not imprisonment as for the punishment of crime, but is a paternal restraint exercised by the state for the protection of society and for the interest of the child. In re Watson, 175 N. C. 340, 72 S. E. 1049.

Detention Cannot Be for Punishment.—The punishment for vagrancy cannot exceed thirty days under our statute, and a legislative act which provides for a longer detention of a child in a reformatory for that offense, if merely for the purpose of punishment, would be violative of section 14 of the Bill of Rights. In re Watson, 157 N. C. 340, 72 S. E. 1049.

§ 7315. Power to purchase land and locate school.—The board of trustees shall select a suitable place outside of and away from any city, town, or village, for the location of such school, and they are empowered to purchase, at some suitable and convenient place in this state, not less than one hundred acres nor more than five hundred acres of land whereon to erect and operate such school. (1907, c. 509, ss. 2, 15.)

§ 7316. Appointment of trustees; vacancies. — The board of trustees of the Stonewall Jackson Manual Training and Industrial School shall consist of eleven (11) persons, whose terms of office shall be four years from the date of their appointment as herein provided for. Within thirty days after March 10, 1925 the Governor shall name and appoint six (6) members of the board of trustees, and within six months from March 10, 1925 the Governor shall name five (5) other members of the said board. At the time of naming and appointing the members as herein provided the Governor shall designate which of the present board are to be succeeded by his nominees and appointees. Should any vacancy occur in the said board, the Governor shall fill the same by appointment. The superintendent of the school shall from time to time notify the Governor as to any vacancies which shall occur and the expiration of the term of office of the members of the board. The Governor shall transmit to the Senate at the next session of the General Assembly following his appointment the names of the persons appointed by him for confirmation. (1907, c. 509, s. 6; 1907, c. 955, s. 2; 1925, c. 306, s. 2.)

Editor's Note.—Prior to the amendment by Public Laws 1925, c. 306, sec. 2 the board consisted of 15 trustees divided into classes according to the expiration of their terms, which were for six years. Some of the trustees were elected by the board. Now there are eleven trustees, all appointed by the governor in the same year for the term of four years. For removal of the officers provided for in this section see section 5912(h).

§ 7317. Application of funds; account required. —All moneys received by the trustees by private gifts, donations, or otherwise shall be expended in the establishment, operation, and maintenance of the school for the training and the moral and industrial development of such delinquent children, and in securing homes for them; and in case the trustees receive or are allowed any state aid for said school, it shall be their duty to duly account for all moneys so received by them and to make report of the manner of its expenditure and of the work done by them as hereinafter more particularly provided for. (1907, c. 509, s. 3.)

§ 7318. Trustees to employ superintendent and assistants, and make regulations.—The board of trustees shall have the management and control of the school, and shall have authority to employ a superintendent and such other assistants as they may deem necessary; to fix their salaries, to define their duties, to discharge any employees, and to make any and all rules and regulations as they may deem necessary for the management and conducting of such reformatory under the provisions of this article, and not inconsistent therewith. (1907, c. 509, s. 8.)

§ 7319. Treasurer and superintendent to give bond. — The treasurer and superintendent shall, before receiving any of said funds, make a good and sufficient bond, payable to the state of North Carolina, in such sums as may be named by the governor and approved by the state treasurer. (1907, c. 509, s. 7.)

§ 7320. Powers of superintendent. — The superintendent employed by the board is authorized to require obedience from all the inmates of the school, and is intrusted with the authority for correcting and punishing any inmate thereof to the same extent as a parent may under the law impose upon his own child, and the trustees shall have the right at any time to discharge the superintendent for cause. (1907, c. 509, s. 9.)

§ 7321. Governor to visit reformatory.—It shall be the duty of the governor of the state to visit the reformatory at least once in each year, and oftener if he deem it necessary, and to make such suggestions to the board of trustees as he may deem wise and for the best interests of the school or reformatory. (1907, c. 509, s. 10.)

§ 7322. Courts may commit offenders to reformatory. — The judges of the superior courts, recorders, or other presiding officers of the city or criminal courts of this state, shall have authority, and it shall be their duty, to sentence to the school all persons under the age of sixteen years convicted in any court of this state of any violation of the criminal laws: Provided, that such judge or other of said officers shall be of the opinion that it would be best for such person and the community in which he may be convicted, that he should be so sentenced. Any commitment under this article, whether by judge or court, as hereinbefore provided, shall be full, sufficient, and competent authority to the officers and agents of the school for the detention and keeping therein of the child so committed. (1907, c. 509, ss. 11, 17; 1907, c. 955, s. 1.)

In General.—The act creating the Stonewall Jackson Training School is "for the training and moral development of the criminally delinquent children of the State," and the superintendent is "intrusted with the authority for correcting and punishing any inmate thereof to the same extent as a parent may, under the law, impose upon his own child," and in its general scheme and purposes is for the benefit of a child therein detained. Hence, the provisions in the act that the child committed thereto must be "convicted" and "sentenced" by the court, construing the act as a whole, does not mean that detention therein is an imprisonment as a punishment for a crime, but that the "conviction" is merely evidence that the child needs the care and nurture of the State, and that the sentence is an order of detention. In re Watson, 157 N. C. 340, 72 S. E. 1049.

§ 7323. Governor may transfer prisoners to reformatory.—The governor of the state may by order transfer any person under the age of sixteen years from any jail, chain-gang, or penitentiary in this state to such reformatory. (1907, c. 509, s. 12.)

§ 7324. Department first established; sexes separated. — The board of trustees shall first establish and maintain such departments of the manual training school as shall be adopted to the use of such class of boys as in the discretion of the board may be most in need of such care and training and will probably be most benefited thereby. When both sexes are admitted, the males and females shall be kept in separate apartments or buildings. (1907, c. 509, ss. 17, 18.)

§ 7325. Industrial training provided. — There shall be established and conducted on such lands as may be owned in connection with the school such agriculture, horticulture, workshops, and other pursuits as the board of trustees may deem expedient so as to keep regularly at work all able-bodied inmates. (1907, c. 509, s. 4.)

§ 7326. General instruction and training given.—The officers of the school shall receive and take into it all children committed thereto by competent authority, or received therein as aforesaid, and shall cause all such children in the school to be instructed in such rudimentary branches of useful knowledge as may be suited to their various ages and capacities. The children shall be taught such useful trades and given such manual training as the board may direct, and shall perform such manual labor as the principal or other superintending officers, subject to the direction of the board, may order. All the inmates shall, if possible, be taught the precepts of the Holy Bible, good moral conduct, how to work and to be industrious. (1907, c. 509, ss. 5, 14.)

§ 7327. Ungovernable inmates removed.—If it shall appear to the board of trustees that any inmate of the school is or becomes ungovernable and is exerting an unwholesome influence over any other inmate, it shall be their duty to certify the same to the governor of the state, and he may order such inmate to the state's prison or to the jail or chain-gang in the county in which such inmate was convicted, where such person shall serve out his unexpired term. (1907, c. 509, s. 13.)

§ 7328. General legislative control. — Nothing contained in this article shall be construed to prevent the general assembly from altering, changing, and modifying the law and regulations governing such school and its officers and directors in such manner and at such time as to it may seem best. (1907, c. 509, s. 19.)

§ 7328(a). Trustees to receive gifts for cottages.—The board of trustees of the Stonewall Jackson training school are hereby empowered to receive specific gifts for individuals or other sources for the exclusive purpose of erecting and equipping cottages on the grounds of the institution under such rules and regulations as may be fixed by the said board of trustees. (Ex. Sess. 1920, c. 48, s. 1.)

§ 7328(b). Boys from counties making gifts; designation of cottage. — When such gifts, sufficient to erect or to erect and equip a cottage sufficient to accommodate thirty boys, are received from individuals or other sources from any given county of the state, the trustees of the Stonewall Jackson training school may enter into an obligation to receive and maintain in the institution only according to their fixed rules and regulations for entrance, maintenance and discharge, a number of boys from the said county equal to the number which may be accommodated in such building. Such cottage may be designated..... county cottage. (Ex. Sess. 1920, c. 48, s. 2.)

§ 7328(c). Cottages erected by two or more counties.—Should two or more counties desire to combine for the purpose of erecting such buildings, the same may be done under like conditions as stated in section 7328(b), and such cottage may be known by the names of the counties so combining. (Ex. Sess. 1920, c. 48, s. 3.)

§ 7328(d). Approval of state building commission; plans.—All buildings erected under this law shall receive the approval of the state building commission from plans prepared by the state architect. (Ex. Sess. 1920, c. 48, s. 3½.)

§ 7328(e). Contributions from public funds; bond issues.—It shall be lawful for county commissioners or the governing bodies of cities and towns to contribute from the public funds such amounts as they may deem proper for the purpose stated in sections 7328(b) and 7328(c), and such funds may be lawfully devoted from any public funds of said bodies or secured by bond issue under such rules of issue as may be ordained by said boards of county commissioners or governing bodies of towns and cities. (Ex. Sess. 1920, c. 48, s. 4.)

§ 7328(f). Cherokee Indians admitted. — The governing authorities of the Stonewall Jackson Training School at Concord and the state home and industrial school for girls at Samarcand are hereby authorized and directed to make proper provisions for admitting delinquent boys and girls respectively of the Cherokee Indian Race of Robeson county to these institutions under the same rules and regulations as are now provided for admitting delinquent boys and girls of the white race: Provided, however, that the boys and girls so admitted shall be separated from the white inmates of the said institutions. (1933, c. 490, s. 1.)

Editor's Note.—Section 2 of Public Laws of 1933, chapter 490, provided for an appropriation for carrying out the purpose of this section. This appropriation was extended and enlarged by Public Laws 1935, chapter 316.

Art. 2. State Home and Industrial School for Girls and Women

§ 7329. Incorporation and name.—A corporation to be known and designated as the State Home and Industrial School for Girls and Women is hereby created, and as such corporation it is authorized and empowered to accept and use donations and appropriations and to do all other things necessary and requisite to be done in furtherance of the purpose of its organizations and existence as hereinafter set forth. (1917, c. 255, s. 1.)

§ 7330. Board of managers; term of office.— The State Home and Industrial School for Girls and Women shall be under the control and Management of a board of ten managers, at least five of whom shall be women, all managers shall be appointed by the Governor and the term of each manager shall be four years from and after the date of his or her appointment. Within thirty days of the ratification of this act the Governor shall appoint six managers and within six months he shall appoint the remaining four. All vacancies occurring shall be filled by the Governor. The Governor shall transmit the names of his appointees to the Senate at the next session of the General Assembly for confirmation. (1925, c. 306, s. 4; 1927, c. 255, s. 2; 1929, c. 279, s. 1)

Editor's Note.—Under this section prior to Public Laws 1925, c. 306, s. 4, one of the then five managers was appointed each year for a term of five years. Under this act all were appointed in the same year for a term of four years. The Act of 1929 changed the number of managers to ten. For removal of the officers provided for in this section see § 5912(h).

§ 7331. Power to purchase land and erect buildings.—The board of managers is authorized to secure by gift or purchase suitable to real estate within the state, not less than fifty acres, at such place as the board may deem best, and with the money or other property which the corporation may have received for that purpose, either by donations from individuals or by appropriation from the state, the board shall proceed to erect on such real estate buildings suitable for carrying out the purposes for which the corporation is created. (1917, c. 255, s. 3.)

§ 7332. Power of control.—The board of managers shall have the general superintendence, management, and control of the institution; of the grounds and buildings, officers, and employees thereof; of the inmates therein and all matters relating to the government, discipline, contracts, and fiscal concerns thereof; and may make such rules and regulations as may seem to them necessary for carrying out the purposes of the institution. And the board shall have the right to keep, restrain, and control the inmates of the institution until such time as the board may deem proper for their discharge under such proper and humane rules and regulations as the board may adopt. The board shall endeavor as far as possible to classify the inmates and keep the different classes in separate wards or divisions, so as to produce the best results in the reformatory work. The board of managers shall constitute a board of parole of the institution and shall have power to parole and discharge the inmates under such rules and regulations as the board may prescribe. (1917, c. 255, s. 4.)

§ 7333. Appointment of officers; compensation; by-laws.—The board of managers shall appoint from among its members a president, secretary, and a treasurer, who shall hold office for one year from the date of appointment; and if the board deem it proper to do so, the office of secretary and treasurer may be combined in one. The board shall also appoint a superintendent, who shall be a woman of experience and training. The board shall fix the compensation of the superintendent and all officers and employees of the institution, and shall prescribe the duties of each. The board shall further adopt such by-laws as, in the judgment of the board, may be necessary, fixing the time and place of the meetings of the board and making such other provisions as may be necessary for the proper management of the institution. (1917, c. 255, s. 5.)

§ 7334. Persons committed to the reformatory; time of detention.—Any girl or woman who may come or be brought before any court of the state, and may either have confessed herself guilty or have been convicted of being a habitual drunkard, or being a prostitute, or of frequenting disorderly houses or houses of prostitution, or of vagrancy, or of any other misdemeanor, may be committed by such court for confinement in the institution aforesaid: Provided, such person is not insane or mentally or physically incapable of being substantially benefited by the discipline of such institution: and provided further, that before sentencing such person to confinement in the institution the court shall ascertain whether the institution is in position to care for such person; and it shall be at all times within the discretion of the board of directors as to whether the board will receive any person in the institution. No commitment shall be for any definite term, but any person so committed may be paroled or discharged at any time after her commitment by the board of managers, but no inmate shall in any case be detained longer than three years: Provided, that when any girl under twenty-one years of age shall have been committed to the institution the trustees shall have the sole right and authority to keep, restrain and control her until she is twenty-one years old, or until such time as they shall deem proper for her discharge, under such proper and humane rules and regulations as may be adopted by the trustees. When any such person shall come before any court for the purpose of confessing guilt or for trial, the court shall, as far as feasible and as far as consistent with public policy, give a private hearing, and in all respects avoid unnecessary publicity in connection with the proceedings before the court. (1917, c. 255, ss. 6, 12; Ex. Sess. 1921, c. 69.)

Editor's Note.—The provision allowing the restraining of girls under twenty one was added by Ex. Sess. 1921 c. 69.

§ 7335. Delivery of inmates to institution; expenses. — It shall be the duty of the county authorities of the county from which any girl or woman is sent to the home, or the city authorities, if any girl or woman is ordered to be sent to the home by any city court, to see that such girl or woman is safely and duly delivered to the home, and to pay all the expenses incident to her conveyance and delivery to the home. (1919, c. 122.)

§ 7336. Voluntary application for admission; care of children.—In addition to caring for such persons as may be committed to the institution by order of court, the board of managers may, in their discretion, receive into the institution any such person who may have in writing confessed herself guilty of any offense or any wayward conduct and may in writing express her desire to become an inmate of the institution; but the board shall not admit any such person unless upon examination of such person, freely and voluntarily held under the direction of the board, the board shall conclude that confinement in the institution will probably aid in the reformation of such person. Any person becoming an inmate of the institution under the provisions of this section shall be subject to the same rules and regulations as those who have been committed by order of court, and shall be detained for such time as the board, in its judgment, may deem best, not exceeding, however, the term of three years. And it shall further be the duty of the board of managers to make suitable provision for the care and maintenance of children born in the institution, and also of the infant children that any woman may have when she is committed to the institution. (1917, c. 255, s. 7.)

§ 7337. Law as to juvenile delinquents applied. —The provisions of the chapter pertaining to the reclamation and training of juvenile delinquents shall apply to young girls, and any court before whom a young girl is brought pursuant to the provisions of said chapter may be by order of court placed in the institution herein established, and shall be subject to all the provisions of law relating thereto: Provided, however, that no girl shall be admitted to the institution under this provision without the previous consent of the board of managers. (1917, c. 255, s. 8.)

§ 7338. Discharge on parole; arrest for escape or violation of parole.—The board of managers may conditionally discharge any person at any time, and if any such person shall violate any condition of her parole or shall violate any condition upon which she has been discharged, or if any inmate escape from the institution, the board of managers may cause any such person to be rearrested and returned to the institution and be detained therein for the unexpired portion of her term, dating from the time of her parole, conditional discharge, or escape. The board of managers is empowered to issue to any person designated by the board a commitment signed by the president and attested by the secretary, and having attached thereto the common seal of the corporation, by the terms of which commitment such person may be authorized and empowered to apprehend any such person who may have violated her parole or any condition of her discharge or that may have escaped, and carry such person back to the institution. Such commitment shall briefly state the reason for the issuance of the same, and the person designated to execute the same may execute it in any county in the state. (1917, c. 255, s. 9.)

§ 7339. Industrial training; compensation; power to detain. — The board of managers is authorized and empowered to establish and maintain within the institution an industrial school, and shall provide for the safe-keeping and employment of the inmates for the purpose of teaching each of them a useful trade or profession and improving her mental and moral condition. If the board of managers sees fit, they may pay each inmate reasonable compensation for labor performed, after deducting such sum as they may deem reasonable for necessary expenses of her maintenance and discipline. To secure the safe-keeping, obedience, and good order of the inmates, the superintendent shall have the same power as to such inmates as keepers of jails and other penal institutions possess as to persons committed to their custody. (1917, c. 255, s. 10.)

§ 7340. Bond issue authorized. — For the purpose of purchasing land and erecting buildings for a state home and industrial school for girls and women, the state treasurer is hereby authorized and directed to issue bonds of the state of North Carolina, payable ten years after the first day of July, one thousand nine hundred and seventeen, to an amount not to exceed the sum of twenty-five thousand dollars. (1917, c. 265, s. 1.)

§ 7341. Rate of interest on bonds. — All of such bonds shall bear interest at a rate not exceeding four per cent per annum from the first day of July, one thousand nine hundred and seventeen, until paid, which interest shall be payable semiannually on the first days of January and July of each year, so long as any portion of the bonds shall remain due and unpaid. (1917, c. 265, s. 2.)

§ 7342. Manner of issue and sale of bonds.— The bonds authorized and directed to be issued by the preceding sections shall be coupon bonds of the denomination of five hundred dollars and one thousand each, as may be determined by the state treasurer, and shall be signed by the governor and state treasurer and sealed with the great seal of the state. The coupons thereon may be signed by the state treasurer alone or may have a facsimile of his signature printed, engraved, or lithographed thereon, and the bonds shall in all other respects be in such form as the state treasurer may direct; and the coupons thereon shall, after maturity, be receivable in payment of all taxes, debts, dues, licenses, fines, and demands due the state of North Carolina of any kind whatsoever, which shall be expressed on the face of the bonds. Before selling the bonds herein authorized to be issued, the treasurer shall authorize the sale and invite sealed bids in such manner as in his judgment may seem to be most effectual to secure the best price. He is authorized to accept bids for the entire issue or of any portion thereof, and where the conditions are equal he shall give the preference of purchase to the citizens of North Carolina; and he is authorized to sell the bonds herein authorized in such manner as in his judgment will produce the best price. (1917, c. 265, s. 3.)

§ 7343. Bonds exempt from taxation; investment for fiduciaries.—The bonds and coupons shall be exempt from all state, county, or municipal taxation or assessment, direct or indirect, general or special, whether imposed for purposes of general revenue or otherwise, and the interest paid thereon shall not be subject to taxation as for income, nor shall the bonds and coupons be subject to taxation when constituting a part of the surplus of any bank, trust company, or other corporation. It shall be lawful for all executors, administrators, guardians, and fiduciaries generally to invest in said bonds. (1917, c. 265, ss. 4, 5.)

§ 7343(a). Unlawful acts of inmates and others; escape; prostitution, etc.—It shall be unlawful:

(a) For any inmate of the state home and industrial school for girls and women to escape from said school, or for any person to aid and abet any inmate to escape therefrom;

(b) For any person to advise, or solicit, or to offer to advise, or solicit, any inmate of said school to escape therefrom;

(c) For any person to transport, or to offer to transport, in automobile or other vehicle or conveyance, any inmate of said school to or from any place: Provided, this shall not apply to the superintendent and teachers of said school, or to employees acting under the superintendent and teachers thereof;

(d) For any person to engage in, or to offer to engage in prostitution with any inmate of said school;

(e) For any person to receive, or to offer to receive any inmate of said school into any place, structure, building or conveyance for the purpose of prostitution, or to solicit any inmate of said school to engage in prostitution;

(f) For any person to conceal an escaped inmate of said school, or to furnish clothing to an escaped inmate thereof to enable her to conceal her identity. (Ex. Sess. 1920, c. 40, s. 1.)

§ 7343(b). "Inmate" and "prostitution" defined. — The term "inmate" as used in section 7343(a) shall be construed to include any and all girls and women committed to, or received into said state home and industrial school for girls and women under the provisions of this article; and the term "prostitution" shall be construed to include the offering or receiving of the body for sexual intercourse. (Ex. Sess. 1920, c. 40, s. 2.)

§ 7343(c). Punishment for violation of section 7343(a). — Any person who shall knowingly and willfully violate any one of the provisions of section 7343(a) shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, shall be fined or imprisoned, or both fined and imprisoned, in the discretion of the court. (Ex. Sess. 1920, c. 40, s. 3.)

2A. The Industrial Farm Colony for Women

§ 7343(d). Name and establishment.—A State institution for women, to be known as the Industrial Farm Colony for Women, is hereby established. (1927, c. 219, s. 1.)

§ 7343(e). Management; directors to be appointed by governor.—The State Industrial Farm for Women shall be under the management of a board of five directors, who shall be appointed by the Governor. At least two members of the board shall be women. Immediately upon the passage of this article the Governor shall appoint five directors for four years each, and their successors shall be appointed for terms of four years each, except that any person chosen to fill a vacancy shall be appointed only for the unexpired term of the person whom he shall succeed. The directors shall receive no compensation for their services, but shall be paid their necessary expenses incurred while engaged in the performance of their official duties.

The board shall hold an organization within thirty days after appointment and shall elect from among its members a president, secretary and treasurer. The treasurer shall before receiving any funds, make a good and sufficient bond payable to the State of North Carolina in such sum as may be named by the Governor and approved by the State Treasurer. (1927, c. 219, s. 2.)

§ 7343(f). Located in healthful section.—The board of directors is authorized to use for the purpose of said institution, any site already owned by the State, when approved by the Governor and Council of State. Such land shall be located in a healthful section of the State and shall have natural drainage and adequate natural water supply. It shall also include woodland and arable land to the end that, as far as practicable, the food for the inmates may be produced on such land. The farm must also be accessible by rail or road to all sections of the State. (1927, c. 219, s. 3.)

§ 7343(g). Plans for buildings.—The directors shall cause to be prepared plans and specifications for remodeling or erecting on such site necessary buildings for a suitable plant for the institution. The directors shall furnish and equip the same ready for use. Contracts shall be made by the directors and those calling for an expenditure of over five hundred dollars shall be duly advertised and competitive bids received thereon, but whenever possible convict labor shall be used, the compensation for such to be agreed upon by the directors and Superintendent of the State Prison. When such buildings have been prepared and equipped, and the necessary staff of officers has been organized, the directors shall make announcement that the institution is ready for the reception of inmates. (1927, c. 219, s. 4.)

§ 7343(h). Authority of directors.—The directors shall have control of the institution; determine the policy of the same and make necessary rules for the discipline, instruction, mental and physicial examination and treatment of the inmates and for the labor of the inmates; cause to be kept proper records, including those of inmates; hold regular meetings, at least quarterly, at said institution and audit the accounts of the superintendent quarterly. They shall report biennially to the Governor the general and financial condition of said institution, with such recommendations as they desire to make. (1927, c. 219, s. 5.)

§ 7343(i). Power to appoint and remove.—The directors shall appoint and remove at their discretion, a superintendent of said institution who shall be a woman of liberal education and special training and who has had experience in institutional management or social work, not of their number, and who, before entering upon the duties of her office, shall be sworn to a faithful performance of her duties. The superintendent shall receive such compensation as shall be fixed by the directors and shall reside at said institution. (1927, c. 219, s. 6.)

§ 7343(j). Management of institution.—The superintendent shall manage such institution and have control over the inmates thereof, and shall make rules and regulations for the administration of said institution, subject to the approval of the board of directors. The superintendent shall, also, subject to the approval of the board of directors, determine the number, select, appoint and assign duties of all subordinate officers of said institution, who shall be women, as far as practicable, and shall be sworn to a faithful performance of their duties. As soon as the size of the institution demands it, a resident woman physician shall be employed. The superintendent may remove any officer appointed by her. (1927, c. 219, s. 7.)

§ 7343(k). Women subject to committal.—Women sixteen years of age and older belonging to the following classes and who are not eligible for admission to Samarcand may be committed by any court of competent jurisdiction to said institution, and not otherwise; persons convicted of, or who plead guilty to the commission of misdemeanors, including prostitution, habitual drunkenness, drug-using, disorderly conduct. The board of directors may in its discretion receive and detain as an inmate of the institution any woman or girl, not otherwise provided for, who may be sentenced by any court of the United States within this State. Immediately upon commitment, a careful physical and mental examination by a competent physician and a psychologist shall be made of each person committed. The court imposing sentence upon offenders of either class shall not fix the term of such commitment except as hereinafter provided. Commitment to said institution shall be made within one week after sentence is imposed, by the sheriff when sentenced by the Superior Court, and by a police officer when sentence is imposed by any city, town or inferior court, but no offender shall be committed to such institution without being accompanied by a woman in addition to the officer. The expenses of such commitment shall be paid the same as commitments to other penal institutions in the State. The trial court shall cause a record of the case to be set with the commitment papers on blanks furnished by the institution. The duration of such commitment, including the time spent on parole, shall not exceed three years, except where the maximum term specified by law for the crime for which the offender was sentenced shall exceed that period, in which event such maximum term shall be the limit of detention under the provisions of this act, and in such cases it shall be the duty of the trial court to specify the maximum term for which the offender may be held under such commitment. (1927, c. 219, s. 8.)

As to admission of Cherokee Indians, see § 7328(f).

§ 7343(l). Parole.—Any inmate of the institution may, upon recommendation of the board of directors to the Governor, be allowed to go on parole under the following conditions: That she is in good physicial condition, has ability to earn an honest living, has a satisfactory institutional record, based on the merit system, and a proper home to which she may go, or that suitable employment has been secured in advance. Each person paroled or discharged from said institution shall be given, if the superintendent deems it best, suitable clothing, transportation expenses and a sum of money not exceeding thirty dollars. Authority is conferred on said board of directors to establish such rules and regulations as it may deem necessary, setting forth the conditions upon which inmates may be discharged or recommended for parole, and to enforce such rules and regulations. (1927, c. 219, s. 9.)

§ 7343(m). Effect of parole.—While upon parole, each inmate of said institution shall remain in the legal custody and under the control of the board of directors, and subject at any time to be taken to said institution for any reason that shall seem sufficient to said board. Whenever any paroled inmate of said institution shall violate her parole and be returned to the institution, she may be required to serve the unexpired term of her maximum sentence, including the time she was out on parole or any part thereof, in the discretion of the board of directors, or she may be paroled again if said board of directors shall so recommend. The request of said board of directors or of any person authorized by the rules of said board, shall be sufficient warrant to authorize any officer of said institution or any officer authorized by law to serve criminal process within the State, to return any inmate on parole into actual custody; and it shall be the duty of police officers, constables and sheriffs to arrest and hold any paroled inmate when so requested, without any written warrant, and for the performance of such duty, the officer performing the same, except officers of said institution, shall be paid by the board of directors of said institution out of the institution funds such reasonable compensation as is provided by law for similar services in other cases. (1927, c. 219, s. 10.)

§ 7343(n). Escape of inmate.—If any inmate shall escape from said institution or from any keeper or officer having her in charge or from her place of work while engaged in working outside the walls of said institution, she shall be returned to said institution when arrested, and may be disciplined in such manner as the board of directors may determine. Any person who shall advise, induce, aid or abet any woman committed to the State Industrial Farm or to the charge of guardianship of the directors of said institution to escape from said farm, or from the custody of any person to whom such women shall have been entrusted by said directors or by their authority, shall be fined not more than five hundred dollars or imprisoned not more than one year, and any woman who shall have so escaped may, whether the limit of her original sentence shall have expired or not, be arrested and detained without warrant, by any officer authorized to serve criminal process, for a reasonable time to enable the superintendent or a director of said farm, or a person authorized in writing by the superintendent of said farm or said directors and provided with the mittimus by which such woman was committed, or with a certified copy thereof, to take such woman for the purpose of returning her to said institution, and the officer arresting her shall be paid by the State a reasonable compensation for her arrest and keeping. Any woman lawfully committed to said institution who shall escape therefrom may be imprisoned in said institution for not more than one year from the expiration of the term for which she was originally committed. Prosecutions under this article may be instituted in any county in which such woman may be arrested. (1927, c. 219, s. 11.)

§ 7343(o). Recommendation for discharge. — If it shall appear to said board of directors, that any inmate on parole, although not having completed her maximum term, has maintained a satisfactory parole record, and will continue to lead an orderly life if discharged, said board may recommend to the Governor that such inmate be discharged from said institution. (1927, c. 219, s. 12.)

§ 7343(p). General and industrial training.— The board of directors, in making rules and regulations for the government of said institution, shall make provision for a system of general and industrial training, including useful trades and home economics, and for proper recreation facilities. (1927, c. 219, s. 13.)

§ 7343(q). Bond issue.—In order to provide funds for the purposes of this article the State Treasurer is hereby authorized and directed at the request of the board of directors to be appointed hereunder and by and with the consent of the Governor and Council of State, to issue and sell not exceeding sixty thousand dollars ($60,000) in bonds of the State, properly designated and bearing such date or dates and such rate or rates of interest not exceeding five (5%) per cent per annum, payable semi-annually, as may be fixed by the Governor and Council of State, all of which bonds shall mature at one date in the year of nineteen hundred and sixty-seven. (1927, c. 219, s. 14.)

§ 7343(r). Interest coupons.—Said bonds shall carry interest coupons which shall bear the signature of the State Treasurer, or a facsimile thereof, and said bonds shall be subject to registration and be signed and sealed as is now or may hereafter be provided by law for State bonds, and the form and denomination thereof shall be such as the State Treasurer may determine in conformity with this article. (1927, c. 219, s. 15.)

§ 7343(s). Sale of bonds.—Before selling the bonds herein authorized to be issued, the State Treasurer shall advertise the sale and invite sealed bids in such manner as in his judgment may seem most effectual to secure the best price. He is authorized to accept bids for the entire amount of said bonds, or any portion thereof, and when the conditions are equal he shall give the preference of purchase to the citizens of North Carolina; and he is empowered to sell the bonds herein authorized in such manner as in his judgment will produce the best price, but not for less than par and accrued interest. (1927, c. 219, s. 16.)

§ 7343(t). Special fund.—The proceeds of said bonds and of the bond anticipation notes herein authorized (except the proceeds of bonds, the issuance of which has been anticipated by such bond anticipation notes), shall be placed by the Treasurer in a special fund to be designated "Farm Colony Building Fund 1927" and be disbursed only for the purposes of this act upon warrants drawn by the State Auditor. (1927, c. 219, s. 17.)

§ 7343(u). Borrowing on Notes.—By and with the consent of the Governor and Council of State, who shall determine the rate or maximum rate of interest and the date or approximate date of payment, the State Treasurer is hereby authorized to borrow money at the lowest rate of interest obtainable, and to execute and issue notes of the State for the same, but only in the following circumstances and under the following conditions:

(a) For anticipating the sale of any of said bonds to the issuance of which the Governor and Council of State shall have given consent, if the Treasurer shall deem it advisable to postpone the issuance of such bonds.

(b) For the payment of interest upon or principal of any of said bonds then outstanding if there shall not be sufficient funds in the State Treasury with which to pay such interest or principal as they respectively fall due.

(c) For the renewal of any loan evidenced by notes herein authorized. (1927, c. 219, s. 18.)

§ 7343(v). Funds used in payment of notes.—Funds derived from the sale of bonds shall be used in the payment of any bond anticipation notes that may have been issued in anticipation of the sale of such bonds and any renewal of such notes, and funds provided by the General Assembly for the payment of interest and/or principal of such bonds shall be used in paying the interest and/or principal of any notes or renewals thereof, the proceeds of which shall have been used in paying interest and/or principal of such bonds. Interest payments upon said notes may be evidenced by interest coupons in the Treasurer's discretion. (1927, c. 219, s. 19.)

§ 7343(w). Credit of state.—The full faith credit, and taxing power of the State are hereby pledged for the payment of the principal and interest of the bonds and notes herein authorized. (1927, c. 219, s. 20.)

§ 7343(x). Coupons receivable against claims of state.—The coupons of said bonds and notes after maturity shall be receivable in payment of all taxes, dues, licenses, fines and demands due the State of any kind whatsoever. (1927, c. 219, s. 21.)

§ 7343(y). Exemption from taxation. — All of the said bonds and notes and coupons shall be exempt from all State, county and municipal taxation or assessments, direct or indirect, general or special, whether imposed for the purpose of general revenue or otherwise, and the interest on said bonds and notes shall not be subject to taxation as for income; nor shall said bonds or notes or coupons be subject to taxation when constituting a part of the surplus of any bank, trust company, or other corporation. (1927, c. 219, s. 22.)

§ 7343(z). Lawful investment for trust funds. —It shall be lawful for all executors, administrators, guardians, and fiduciaries generally, and all sinking fund commissions, to invest any moneys in their hands in said bonds or notes. (1927, c. 219, s. 23.)

§ 7343(aa). Sinking fund created. — For the retirement of the principal of said bonds at maturity a sinking fund is hereby created, into which fund the State Treasurer shall pay during each fiscal year, beginning with the year ending June thirtieth, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three, from any funds not heretofore pledged or appropriated, an amount equal to one and one-half (1½%) per cent of the face value of the bonds theretofore issued under this article. (1927, c. 219, s. 24; 1931, c. 128.)

Editor's Note.—The Act of 1931 changed the date in lines six and seven of this section from 1929 to 1933, and changed the amount to be paid into the sinking fund from one to one and one-half percent.

Art. 3. Reformatories or Homes for Fallen Women

§ 7344. Counties and cities authorized to establish reformatories. — In all cities that have a population of over twenty thousand people the governing body of such city and the board of county commissioners of the county in which the city is situated are authorized and empowered to establish jointly a reformatory or home for fallen women. (1917, c. 264, s. 1.)

§ 7345. Power to purchase land, erect buildings, and maintain the institution. — The said city and county are authorized jointly to purchase a tract of land, not exceeding one hundred acres, for the use of such reformatory or home, the title to which shall be vested jointly in the city and county, and the reformatory shall be managed jointly by such city and county. The city and county are authorized to build such buildings and improvements on the land so purchased, to keep and maintain such reformatory or home for fallen women, and to make all necessary appropriations for buildings and keeping and caring for the inmates thereof: Provided, however, the cost of said buildings shall not exceed the sum of forty thousand dollars, and the maintenance and upkeep and operating expenses per annum shall not exceed the sum of twenty thousand dollars. (1917, c. 264 s. 1; 1919, c. 33; 1925, c. 176.)

Editor's Note.—By amendment, Public Laws 1925 c. 176 the cost allowed for the building was raised from twenty thousand dollars to forty thousand dollars, and the cost of operating was raised from ten thousand dollars to twenty thousand dollars.

§ 7346. Board of directors elected; officers; regulations. — The governing body of the city, at its annual election of officers for the city in May, shall elect for the term of two years two men as directors for such institution, and the board of county commissioners shall, in the same year, at their meeting in May, elect two men as directors for such institution to serve for two years. The mayor of the city and the chairman of the board of county commissioners shall be ex officio members of such board with equal right to vote, and the six directors shall have entire management and control of such reformatory for fallen women. The board shall elect one of their number president, and also elect a secretary and treasurer, and they shall have and exercise the usual powers incident to such officers. They shall make such rules and regulations as they see fit for the government and management of such institution. The directors shall take an oath to perform their service faithfully, and they shall continue as directors until their successors are duly elected and qualified. (1917, c. 264, s. 1.)

Editor's Note.—Public Laws, c. 253, applicable to Mecklenburg county only, struck out the first two sentences of this section and inserted in lieu thereof the following:

"The governing body of the City, at its annual election of officers for the City in May, shall elect, from the members of such governing body, two men as directors for such institution, and the Board of County Commissioners shall elect, at its meeting in May the same year the governing body of the City elects, two members of the Board of Commissioners as directors for such institution. The Mayor of the City and the Chairman of the Board of Commissioners of said County shall be ex-officio members of said Board with equal right to vote, and the said six directors shall have entire management and control of the reformatory for fallen women, and the Chairman of the Board of County Commissioners shall be purchasing agent for said institution. Such directors shall serve for the term of one year, and until their successors are elected and qualified: Provided, however, that in the event any of such directors elected by the governing body of the city shall cease to be a member of such governing body, or in the event any of such directors elected by the Board of County Commissioners shall cease to be a member of such board of County Commissioners, the term of office of such director shall expire and the governing body of the City or the Board of County Commissioners, as the case may be, at the first regular or special meeting thereafter, shall elect the successors of such directors whose terms have expired."

§ 7347. Advisory board of women. — The directors are authorized to appoint as an advisory board not more than twenty-five nor less than twelve discreet women to supervise and attend to the actual running of such institution. The advisory board of women shall be appointed for such term, not exceeding four years, as the directors may in their discretion think best. (1917, c. 264, s. 1.)

§ 7348. Special tax authorized. — To assist in carrying out the provisions of this article the county commissioners and governing body of the city shall each levy annually a tax not exceeding two cents on each one hundred dollars valuation of real and personal property in such city and county respectively. The tax shall be levied and collected in the same manner as the other county and city taxes are collected. This fund shall be used exclusively for the purposes contemplated and set forth in this article, and shall be kept separate from all other funds. (1917, c. 264, s. 2.)

§ 7349. Employment of superintendent and assistants; rules and regulations.—The board of directors shall have the management and control of the institution and shall have authority to employ superintendents and such other assistants as they may deem necessary; to fix their salaries, to define their duties, and to discharge any employee; and to make any and all rules and regulations as they may deem necessary for the management and conducting of the institution under the provisions of this article and not inconsistent therewith. (1917, c. 264, s. 5.)

§ 7350. Power of superintendent. — The superintendent of the institution employed by the board of directors shall have the right to require obedience from all the inmates of the institution, and to use such lawful measures as may be necessary to enforce the same to the same extent as the superintendent of any other penal institution in this state is empowered in like case. (1917, c. 264, s. 6.)

§ 7351. Physician employed. — For the purpose of treating the inmates of the institution for the whiskey, drug, or other habit or disease, the directors shall employ a competent physician or physicians to attend and treat said inmates. (1917, c. 264, s. 14.)

§ 7352. Purpose of home; persons to be admitted.—The reformatory or home shall be conducted for the correction of fallen women, and for the moral and industrial training of criminally delinquent women and girls, by teaching them useful trades and domestic science, etc., and the directors may, in their discretion, receive into the institution such women or girls as shall be committed thereto by the judge or other presiding officer of any superior or recorder's court held anywhere in the state of North Carolina within that judicial district in which county the reformatory is now or may hereafter be situated, as hereinafter provided: Provided, that the reasonable cost of maintaining any woman or girl committed to such institution from any county other than that in which such reformatory shall be located shall be borne by the county from which such person shall have been committed. (1917, c. 264, s. 3.)

§ 7354. Power of courts to commit persons to reformatory. — When the institution is ready to receive and care for inmates, the board of directors shall notify the clerks of the courts hereinbefore specified; and the judges or other presiding officers of the superior, recorders', county, or other courts having like criminal jurisdiction, in that judicial district in which the reformatory is now or may hereafter be situated and established, shall have authority to sentence to the reformatory for fallen women for a term of not less than thirty days nor more than one year all those women who are convicted in their several courts of drunkenness or the drug habit, where it appears that they are habitual drunkards or drug fiends; and the judges or other presiding officers of such courts shall have authority to sentence to the "Reformatory for Women" for a term of not less than thirty days nor more than three years all female persons convicted in the said courts of any violation of the criminal laws of this state prohibiting and punishing fornication and adultery, keeping a house of ill-fame, or a bawdy-house, or disorderly house, or violating the criminal laws of this state as to chastity or vagrancy: Provided, that such judge or other presiding officer as aforesaid shall be of the opinion that it would be best for such persons and the community in which such persons may be convicted hereunder. The order of commitment of such judge or other presiding officer as hereinbefore provided shall be full, sufficient, and competent authority to the officers and agents of the institution for the detention and keeping therein of the persons so committed: Provided, that nothing herein shall authorize a justice of the peace to impose a sentence of longer than thirty days: Provided further, that judges and recorders holding courts in counties other than that in which the reformatory is located shall have power to commit such persons to the institution on the conditions heretofore set forth in this article. (1917, c. 264, s. 7; 1919, c. 302.)

§ 7355. Clerk of superior court may commit in certain cases. — The clerk of the superior court shall have power and authority to commit to the institution for treatment any female person found by such clerk to be a habitual drunkard or habitually addicted to the drug habit, as such clerk is now authorized by law to commit to the hospital for the insane, private hospital, persons adjudged to be of unsound mind, and to that end such clerk of the court shall have all the power and authority conferred upon him by law with reference to insane persons. (1917, c. 264, s. 15.)

§ 7356. Voluntary application for admission. — Any person fulfilling the requirements as to sex and age as hereinbefore provided may, upon written application to the directors, setting forth that the applicant wishes to reform and the term for which such applicant wishes to be detained, be admitted to such institution, in the discretion of the board of directors; and any inmate so admitted shall be subject to the same restraint, control, and treatment as persons committed thereto, and such applications signed by the applicants shall be full and sufficient authority for the detention and control of the applicants in the institution for and during the full term as set out in the application: Provided, that the directors may, in their discretion, discharge any inmate so admitted at any time. (1917, c. 264, s. 8.)

§ 7357. Instruction and training to be given.— The officers of the institution shall take into the reformatory or home all persons committed thereto by competent authority, and shall cause all such persons to be instructed in such rudimentary branches of useful knowledge as may be suited to their various ages and capacities, and to be taught such useful trades and occupations as the board may direct; and such persons shall perform such labor as the principal and other superintending officers may order, subject to the discretion of the board of directors. All inmates of the institution shall, if possible, be taught the precepts of the Holy Bible, good moral conduct, how to work and be industrious. (1917, c. 264, s. 11.)

§ 7358. Industrial training; assistance to discharged inmates.—There shall be established and conducted on such lands as may be owned in connection with the institution such useful pursuits as the board of directors may deem expedient, so as to keep regularly at work all able-bodied inmates thereof, and as far as may be practicable the board of directors shall assist the inmates, when paroled or discharged, in procuring suitable homes and honorable and respectable employment. (1917, c. 264, s. 12.)

§ 7359. Discharge on parole; rearrest for escape or violation of parole.—The board of directors of the institution may detain therein, under the rules and regulations adopted by them, any person legally committed thereto, according to the terms of sentence and commitment; and with the approval and concurrence of the governor of the state first had and obtained, may conditionally parole or discharge such person at any time prior to the expiration of the term of commitment. If, however, any inmate shall escape or be conditionally paroled, or be conditionally discharged from the institution as aforesaid, and violate and break the condition of her parole or conditional discharge, the board of directors may, by and through their superintendent, cause her to be arrested and returned to the institution, to be detained therein for the unexpired portion of the commitment, dating from the time of escape or parole or conditional discharge. The superintendent of the institution, or any employee thereof under his control and direction, may rearrest, without a warrant, any inmate of the institution who may have escaped therefrom, in any county of this state, and shall forthwith convey her back to the institution from which she escaped; and a justice of the peace or any judicial officer may cause an escaped inmate from the institution to be rearrested and held in custody until she can be returned to the institution as in case of the first commitment thereto. Any person conditionally paroled or conditionally discharged from the institution may be also rearrested and returned thereto upon a warrant issued by the chairman of the board of directors, the warrant specifying briefly the reason for such rearrest and return, and such warrant of rearrest shall be directed and delivered to a person employed by the board of directors, and may be executed by such person in any county of this state where the paroled or conditionally discharged inmate may be found. (1917, c. 264, s. 13.)

§ 7360. Ungovernable inmates removed.—If it shall appear to the board of directors that any inmate of the institution is or becomes ungovernable, or is exerting an unwholesome influence over any other inmate of the institution, it shall be their duty to certify the same to the governor of the state, and he thereupon may order such inmate to the state's prison or to the county jail or to the workhouse in the county in which the inmate was convicted and sentenced, where such person shall serve out her unexpired term of imprisonment. (1917, c. 264, s. 10.)

§ 7361. Reports to be made by directors; inspection by grand jury.—The board of directors shall at least once a year file with the city and the board of county commissioners of the county in which the institution is situated a full detailed report of the institution, together with the superintendent's reports thereon. It shall be the duty of the grand jury to personally visit and inspect such institutions once every six months, and report to the court the conditions prevailing therein. (1917, c. 264, s. 9.)

§ 7362. General legislative control.—Nothing in this article shall prevent the general assembly from altering, changing, and modifying the laws and regulations governing such institutions, and their officers and directors, in such manner and at such time as it may deem best. (1917, c. 264, s. 16.)

Art. 4. Eastern Carolina Industrial Training School for Boys

§ 7362(a). Corporation created; name; powers.—A corporation to be known and designated as the eastern Carolina industrial training school for boys is hereby created, and as such corporation and under said name it may sue and be sued, plead and be impleaded, hold, use, and sell and convey real estate, receive gifts and donations and appropriations, and do all other things necessary and requisite for the purposes of its organization as hereinafter specified. (1923, c. 254, s. 1.)

§ 7362(b). Trustees; appointments; terms; expenses.—The Eastern Carolina Industrial School for Boys shall be under the control and management of a board of five trustees. The said trustees shall be appointed by the Governor of the State and the term of each trustee shall be four years from and after the date of his or her appointment. Within thirty days after March 10, 1925 the Governor shall appoint three of the trustees and within six months after March 10, 1925 the Governor shall appoint the remaining two. At the time of making the appointment the Governor shall designate which of the present trustees are to be succeeded by his appointees. All vacancies occurring in the board shall be filled by the Governor. The Governor shall transmit to the Senate at the next session of the General Assembly the names of his appointees for confirmation. Each member of the board shall be entitled to receive necessary expenses for each and every day engaged in the business of the institution. (1923, c. 254, s. 2; 1925, c. 306, s. 5.)

Editor's Note.—This school is of the same nature as the Stonewall Jackson Training School. 1 N. C. Law Rev. 269. This section was revised by the 1925 amendment, the manner of appointment being changed in some respects; the provisions requiring the submissions of names to the senate for ratification being inserted.

§ 7362(c). Establishment and operation of school; boys subject to committal; control; term of detention.—The trustees are empowered to establish and operate a school for the training and moral and industrial development of the criminally delinquent white boys of the state; and when such school has been organized the trustees may, in their discretion, receive therein such delinquent and criminal boys under the age of eighteen years as may be sent or committed thereto under any order or commitment by the judges of the superior courts, the judges of the juvenile courts, or the recorders, or other presiding officers of the city or criminal courts, and shall have the sole right and authority to keep, restrain, and control them during their minority, or until such time as they shall deem proper for their discharge, under such proper and humane rules and regulations as may be adopted by the trustees. All laws and clauses of laws in conflict with the provisions of this section are hereby repealed. (1923, c. 254, s. 3.)

§ 7362(d). Selection of location; power and size of purchase.—The board of trustees shall select a suitable place outside of and away from any city, town or village for the erection of such school, such location to be in the eastern part of North Carolina not farther west than twenty miles west of the main line of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad, and said board of trustees is empowered to purchase, at some suitable and convenient place, not less than one hundred acres nor more than five hundred acres of land whereon to erect and operate such school. (1923, c. 254, s. 4.)

§ 7362(e). Naming of trustees; meeting; officers.—It shall be the duty of the governor to name the board of trustees hereinbefore provided for and to call, not later than the first day of September, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three, a meeting of the trustees herein named, at his office in Raleigh, and at such meeting the trustees shall proceed to the election of a treasurer, superintendent for the school, and such other officers for the board and school as they deem proper. (1923, c. 254, s. 5.)

§ 7362(f). Receipts expended for school; accounting and reports.—All moneys received by the trustees by private gifts, donations, or otherwise shall be expended in the establishment, operation and maintenance of the school for the training and the moral and industrial development of such delinquent boys, and in securing homes for them; and it shall be their duty to duly account for all moneys so received by them and to make report of the manner of its expenditure and of the work done by them as hereinafter more particularly provided for. (1923, c. 254, s. 6.)

§ 7362(g). Bonds of superintendent and treasurer.—The treasurer and superintendent shall, before receiving any of said funds, make a good and sufficient bond, payable to the state of North Carolina, in such sums as may be named by the governor and approved by the state treasurer. (1923, c 254, s. 7.)

§ 7362(h). Enforcement of discipline; discharge of superintendent.—The superintendent employed by the board is authorized to require obedience from all the inmates of the school, and is entrusted with the authority for correcting and punishing any inmate thereof to the same extent as a parent may under the law impose upon his own child; and the trustees shall have the right at any time to discharge the superintendent for cause. (1923, c. 254, s. 8.)

§ 7362(i). Repealed by Public Laws 1931, c. 213.

§ 7362(j). Transfer by order of governor.—The governor of the state may by order transfer any boy under the age of eighteen years from any jail, chain-gang or penitentiary in this state to such school. (1923, c. 254, s. 10.)

§ 7362(k). Work to be conducted. — There shall be established and conducted on such lands as may be owned in connection with the school, such agriculture, horticulture, workshops, and other pursuits as the board of trustees may deem expedient so as to keep regularly at work all able-bodied inmates. (1923, c. 254, s. 11.)

§ 7362(l). Boys to be received; subjects of instruction.—The officers of the school shall receive and take into it all boys committed thereto by competent authority, or received therein as aforesaid, and shall cause all such boys in the school to be instructed in such rudimentary branches of useful knowledge as may be suited to their various ages and capacities. The boys shall be taught such useful trades and given such manual training as the board may direct, and shall perform such manual labor as the principal or other superintending officers, subject to the direction of the board, may order. All the inmates shall, if possible, be taught the precepts of the Holy Bible, good moral conduct, how to work and to be industrious. (1923, c. 254 s. 12.)

§ 7362(m). Management and control of school; rules and regulations.—The board of trustees shall have the management and control of the school, and shall have authority to employ a superintendent and such other assistants as they may deem necessary; to fix their salaries, to define their duties, to discharge any employees, and to make any and all rules and regulations as they may deem necessary for the management and conducting of such school under the provisions of this article and not inconsistent therewith. (1923, c. 254, s. 13.)

§ 7362(n). Certificate for removal from school; order or removal.—If it shall appear to the board of trustees that any inmate of the school is or becomes ungovernable and is exerting an unwholesome influence over any other inmate, it shall be their duty to certify the same to the governor of the state, and he may order such inmate to the state prison or to the jail or chain-gang in the county in which such inmate was convicted, where such person shall serve out his unexpired term. (1923, c. 254, s. 14.)

§ 7362(o). General legislative control.—Nothing contained in this article shall be construed to prevent the general assembly from altering, changing, and modifying the law and regulations governing such school and its officers and directors in such manner and at such time as to it may seem best. (1923, c. 254, s. 16.)

CHAPTER 121A

PUBLIC RECORDS

§ 7362(1). Public records defined.—Public records comprise all written or printed books, papers, letters, documents and maps made and received in pursuance of law by the public offices of the State and its counties, municipalities and other subdivisions of government in the transaction of public business. (1935, c. 265, s. 1.)

§ 7362(2). Custodian designated. — The public official in charge of an office having public records shall be custodian thereof. (1935, c. 265, s. 2.)

§ 7362(3). Destruction of records regulated. — No public official may destroy, sell, loan, or otherwise dispose of any public record, except in accordance with chapter one hundred and two, article one, section six thousand one hundred and forty-five of the Consolidated Statutes, without the consent of the North Carolina historical commission. Whoever unlawfully removes a public record from the office where it is usually kept, or alters, defaces, mutilates or destroys it shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction fined not less than ten dollars nor more than five hundred dollars. (1935, c. 265, s. 3.)

§ 7362(4). Disposition of records at end of official's term. — Whoever has the custody of any public records shall, at the expiration of his term of office, deliver to his successor, or, if there be none, to the North Carolina historical commission, all records, books, writings, letters and documents kept or received by him in the transaction of his official business; and any such person who shall refuse or neglect for the space of ten days after request made in writing by any citizen of the State to deliver as herein required such public records to the person authorized to receive them shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction fined not exceeding five hundred dollars. (1935, c. 265, s. 4.)

§ 7362(5). Demanding custody. — Whoever is entitled to the custody of public records shall demand them from any person having illegal possession of them, who shall forthwith deliver the same to him. If the person who unlawfully possesses public records shall without just cause refuse or neglect for ten days after a request made in writing by any citizen of the State to deliver such records to their lawful custodian, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction fined not exceeding five hundred dollars. (1935, c. 265, s. 5.)

§ 7362(6). Inspection and examination of records.—Every person having custody of public records shall permit them to be inspected and examined at reasonable times and under his supervision by any person, and he shall furnish certified copies thereof on payment of fees as prescribed by law. (1935, c. 265, s. 6.)

§ 7362(7). Keeping records in safe places; copying or repairing; certified copies.—In so far as possible, custodians of public records shall keep them in fireproof safes, vaults, or rooms fitted with non-combustible materials and in such arrangement as to be easily accessible for convenient use. All public records should be kept in the buildings in which they are ordinarily used. Record books should be copied or repaired, renovated or rebound if worn, mutilated, damaged or difficult to read. Any public official who causes a record book to be copied shall attest it and shall certify on oath that it is an accurate copy of the original book. The copy shall then have the force of the original. (1935, c. 265, s. 7.)

§ 7362(8). Assistance of historical commission. —The North Carolina historical commission shall have the right to examine into the condition of public records and shall give advice and assistance to public officials in the solution of their problems of preserving, filing and making available the public records in their custody. (1935, c. 265, s. 8.)

§ 7362(9). Violation of chapter a misdemeanor. —Any public official who refuses or neglects to perform any duty required of him by this chapter shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction fined not more than twenty dollars for each month of such refusal or neglect. (1935, c. 265, s. 9.)

RIVERS AND CREEKS

Art. 1. Commissioners for Opening and Clearing Streams

§ 7363. County Commissioners to appoint commissioners. — Where any inland river or stream runs through the county, or is a line of their county, the boards of commissioners of the several counties may appoint commissioners to view such river or stream, and make out a scale of the expense of labor with which the opening and clearing thereof will be attended; and if the same is deemed within the ability of the county, and to be expedient, they may appoint and authorize the commissioners to proceed in the most expeditious manner in opening and clearing the same, by taking such hands from the public roads as the board of county commissioners shall permit and direct to be allotted to such work; which hands shall be placed under overseers in companies, every overseer and company to have a distinct portion of such river or stream to be laid off by the board of commissioners. (Rev., s. 5297; Code, s. 3706; 1887, c. 370.)

As to building bridges, see section 3795 et seq.

Compared to Public Roads. — Avery, J., dissenting in Gwaltney v. Scottish Carolina Timber Co., 111 N. C. 547, 564, 16 S. E. 692, referring to this section and those following, etc., says: "it clearly recognizes the doctrine that all streams that are susceptible of use for commerce, are public highways, which may be taken in charge by the County Commissioners and cleared out and improved at the expense of the county, and placed in charge of overseers with certain designated hands subject to their orders just as is done in reference to public roads."

§ 7364. Overseers; appointment and duty.— Every overseer shall be appointed by the board of county commissioners; and the clerk shall issue a notice, expressing therein the name of the stream, the distance he is to work thereon, and the hands appointed under him, and the sheriff shall serve the same upon him, under the same rules as notices are served upon overseers of roads. The overseer and hands, upon receiving three days previous notice from the commissioners, shall proceed to work upon and clear out such river or stream, subject to the same rules and double penalties imposed upon overseers and hands working upon public roads; and no overseer or hands appointed to open and clear out navigable rivers and streams shall be compelled to work on public roads. And the board of county commissioners thereafter shall annually appoint overseers, and assign such hands as they may judge proper, to work on rivers and creeks, and keep in repair any slopes erected or to be erected; and such overseers, and the hands assigned, for a failure of duty shall be subject to all the penalties imposed upon overseers of roads and the hands liable to work thereon. (Rev., s. 5298; Code, s. 3707; R. C., c. 100, s. 2; 1784, c. 227, s. 16; 1796, c. 460, s. 2; 1809, c. 782, s. 3; 1812, c. 845, ss. 1, 2, 3; 1813, c. 859, ss. 1, 2; 1844, c. 66.)

Cited in Hutton v. Webb, 124 N. C. 749, 757, 33 S. E. 169.

§ 7365. Flats and appurtenances procured.— The board of county commissioners appointing the commissioners may direct them to purchase or hire a flat with a windlass and the appurtenances necessary to remove loose rock and other things, which may by such means be more easily removed, and allow the same to be paid for out of the county funds. (Rev., s. 5299; Code, s. 3708; R. C., c. 100, s. 3; 1785, c. 242, s. 2.)

§ 7366. Neuse river in certain counties.—The boards of commissioners of the counties of Johnston, Wayne, Lenoir, and Craven, at the first meeting which shall be held for their respective counties after the first day of July, may yearly appoint and lay off, in convenient districts, all the inhabitants of their counties, respectively, resident above Spring Garden on both sides of Neuse river, within such distances of the river as the boards of county commissioners shall appoint; and for each district appoint some person as overseer, who shall cause all persons within the district allotted to him, liable to work on public roads, to work at least six days in every year on the river, unless the boards of county commissioners shall otherwise direct; during which time he shall cause them to be employed in removing all logs, brush, and other obstructions to navigation; and for neglect he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor; and every person liable to work as aforesaid, or send hands, who shall fail when warned (as hands are for working on roads) to appear and work, with such tools as the overseer shall direct, shall pay for each day one dollar, to be recovered and applied in the same manner as fines for failing to work on public roads: Provided, that nothing in this section shall abridge or interfere with the rights and privileges of the Neuse river navigation company. (Rev., s. 5300; Code, s. 3709; R. C., c. 100, s. 4; 1823, c. 1197.)

§ 7367. Laid off in districts; passage for fish.— The board of county commissioners may appoint commissioners to examine and lay off the rivers and creeks in their county; and where the stream is a boundary between two counties, may lay off the same on their side; in doing so they shall allow three-fourths for the owners of the streams for erecting slopes, dams and stands; and one-fourth part, including the deepest part, they shall leave open for the passage of fish, marking and designating the same in the best manner they can; and if mills are built across such stream, and slopes may be necessary, the commissioners shall lay off such slopes, and determine the length of time they shall be kept open; and such commissioners shall return to their respective boards of county commissioners a plan of such slopes, dams, and other parts of streams viewed and surveyed. (Rev., s. 5301; Code, s. 3710; R. C., c. 100, s. 5; 1787, c. 272, s. 1.)

See notes to § 7368.

Cited in Hutton v. Webb, 124 N. C. 749, 757, 33 S. E. 169; Gwaltney v. Scottish Carolina Timber, etc., Co., 111 N. C. 447, 550, 566, 16 S. E. 692.

§ 7368. Commissioners to examine streams.— The commissioners appointed by the board of county commissioners to examine and lay off the rivers and creeks within the county, or where the stream is a boundary between counties, shall have power to lay off gates, with slopes attached thereto, upon any milldam built across such stream, of such dimensions and construction as shall be sufficient for the convenient passage of floating logs and other timber, in cases where it may be deemed necessary by the said board of county commissioners; and they shall return to the board of county commissioners appointing them a plan of such gates, slopes, and dams in writing. (Rev., s. 5302; Code, s. 3712; 1858-9, c. 26, s. 1.)

Only Applicable to Floatable Streams.—It would seem that these sections were passed entirely with reference to floatable streams because, without condemnation the Commissioners would have no right to enter upon and clean out beds of streams which were not natural highways. Commissioners v. Catawba Lumber Co., 116 N. C. 731, 744, 21 S. E. 941.

Dams Built under Permit.—Authority over streams, conferred upon county commissioners while it stands and is unimpeached by allegations of fraud or other illegal conduct, is a bar to the remedy by injunction. Therefore, a defendant will not be restrained from erecting a dam across a steam, when he is proceeding under the permit and direction of the commissioners. McLaughlin v. Hope Mfg. Co., 103 N. C. 100, 9 S. E. 307.

Cited in Gwaltney v. Scottish Carolina Timber, etc., Co., 111 N. C. 547, 550, 566, 16 S. E. 692.

§ 7369. Report made and confirmed. — Upon the confirmation of the report made by the commissioners, and notice thereof given to the owner or keeper of said mill, it shall be his duty forthwith to construct, and thereafter to keep and maintain, at his expense, such gate and slope, for the use of persons floating logs and other timber as aforesaid, so long as said dam shall be kept up, or until othewise ordered by the board of county commissioners. (Rev., s. 5303; Code, s. 3713; 1858-9, c. 26, s. 2.)

§ 7370. Gates and dams discontinued. — The commissioners at any time thereafter, appointed as aforesaid, when they may deem such gate and slope no longer necessary, may report the fact to their respective boards of county commissioners, and said boards of county commissioners may order the same to be discontinued. (Rev., s. 5304; Code, s. 3714; 1858-9, c. 26, s. 3.)

§ 7371. Failure of owner of dam to keep gates, etc.—If any owner or keeper of a mill, whose dam is across any stream, shall fail to build a gate and slope therein, or thereafter to keep and maintain the same as required by commissioners to lay off rivers and creeks, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. (Rev., s. 3383; Code, s. 3715; 1858-9, c. 26, s. 4.)

§ 7372. Repairing breaks. — Wherever any stream of water which is used to propel machinery shall be by freshet or otherwise diverted from its usual channel so as to impair its power as used by any person, such person shall have power to repair the banks of such stream at the place where the break occurs, so as to cause the stream to return to its former channel. (Rev., s. 5305; Code, s. 3716; 1879, c. 53, s. 1.)

§ 7373. Entry upon lands of another to make repairs.—In case the break occurs on the lands of a different person from the one utilizing the stream, the person utilizing the stream shall have power to enter upon the lands of such other person to repair the same, and in case such person objects, the clerk of the superior court of the county in which the break occurs shall, upon application of the party utilizing the stream, appoint three disinterested freeholders, neither of whom shall be related to either party, who after being duly sworn shall lay off a road if necessary by which said person may pass over the lands of such other person to the break and repair said break from time to time as often as may be necessary, so as to cause the stream to return to its original channel, and assess any damage which may thereby be occasioned: Provided, the party upon whose land the work is proposed to be done shall have five days notice in writing served on him or left at his place of residence: Provided further, that it shall be the duty of said commissioners to assess the damages of any one on whose land the road shall be laid off to be paid by the applicant for said road: Provided, also, that either party shall have the right of appeal to the superior court. (Rev., s. 5306; Code, s. 3717; 1879, c. 53, s. 2.)

§ 7374. Draws in bridges.— Whenever the navigation of any river or creek which, in the strict construction of law, might not be considered a navigable stream, shall be obstructed by any bridge across said stream, it shall be lawful for any person owning any boat plying on said stream to make a draw in such bridge sufficient for the passage of such boat; and the party owning such boat shall construct and maintain such draw at his own expense, and shall use the same in such manner as to delay travel as little as possible. (Rev., s. 5307; Code, s. 3719; 1879, c. 279, ss. 1, 2.)

Cited in Staton v. Wimberly, 122 N. C. 107, 29 S. E. 63.

§ 7375. Public landings.—The board of county commissioners may establish public landings on any navigable stream or water-course in the same manner that public roads are laid out and established. The board of county commissioners, on any petition for a public landing, shall order how the costs shall be paid. All places heretofore established as public landings shall remain such. (Rev., s. 5308; Code, s. 2982.)

Art. 2. Obstructions in Streams

§ 7376. Obstructing passage of boats.—If any person shall obstruct the free passage of boats along any river or creek, by felling trees, or by any other means whatever, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. (Rev., s. 3561; Code, s. 3711; R. C., 100, s. 6; 1796, c. 460, s. 2.)

See notes under following section.

Cited in Hutton v. Webb, 124 N. C. 749, 757, 33 S. E. 169.

§ 7377. Obstructing streams a misdemeanor.—If any person shall wilfully fell any tree, or wilfully put any obstruction, except for the purposes of utilizing water as a motive power, in any branch, creek, or other natural passage for water, whereby the natural flow of water through such passage is lessened or retarded, and whereby the navigation of such stream by any raft or flat may be impeded, delayed, or prevented, the person so offending shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and fined not to exceed fifty dollars, or imprisoned not to exceed thirty days. Nothing in this section shall prevent the erection of fish-dams or hedges which do not extend across more than two-thirds of the width of any stream where erected, but if extending over more than two-thirds of the width of any stream, the said penalties shall attach. (Rev., s. 3559; Code, s. 1123; 1872-3, c. 107, ss. 1, 2.)

Motive Power Defined.—Water used in "sluicing" is not used as a "motive power" within the meaning of this section. The section has obvious reference to the use of the energies of water dammed, as a moving force, and not to the operation of the current in motion. State v. Duplin Canal Co., 91 N. C. 637.

Applicable only to Navigable Streams.—The word "and" between the words "retarded" and "whereby" replaced "or" by judicial construction. The Supreme Court saying "But it cannot be supposed that an intelligent Legislature meant that every obstruction of a stream, no matter how insignificant, private, or removed from public access or use, shall be indictable and subject the offender to fine and imprisonment." State v. Pool, 74 N. C. 402.

Applicable Though Stream is Private Property.—The bed of a lake or water course may be private property, but if the waters are navigable in their natural state the public have an easement of navigation in them, which easement the owner of the soil cannot obstruct. State v. Narrows Island Club, 100 N. C. 477, 5 S. E. 411.

When Malice Must Be Shown. — In an action wherein actual damages were claimed, with punitive damages, for damming a navigable stream, made a misdemeanor by this section, it was held that to recover punitive damages it was insufficient to show merely that the stream was obstructed to plaintiff's damage, it being necessary to prove, in such cases, malice, fraud, wanton or willful disregard of the plaintiff's rights, or other circumstances of recklessness or aggravation. Warren v. Coharie Lumber Co., 154 N. C. 34, 69 S. E. 685.

Indictment. — The indictment under this section must charge that the obstruction was not "for the purpose of utilizing." Such a charge is not necessary in an indictment for obstructing waters, at common law. State v. Narrows Island Club, 100 N. C. 477, 5 S. E. 411.

Same—Compared with Common Law Rule.—At common law it was an offense to obstruct any navigable stream, but by this section, unless the act is wilful and not for the purpose of utilizing the water as a motive power the offense is not indictable. State v. Narrows Island Club, 100 N. C. 477, 5 S. E. 411; State v. Baum, 128 N. C. 600, 38 S. E. 900.

Railroad Bridges.—A railroad bridge built over a navigable stream, if obstructing passage of vessels is a nuisance, and tearing a portion of it down so that vessels may pass is not indictable. State v. Parrott, 71 N. C. 311.

Cited in Gwaltney v. Scottish Carolina Timber, etc., Co., 111 N. C. 547, 550, 571, 16 S. E. 692.

§ 7378. Local; sawdust in streams.—If any person shall throw sawdust into any stream he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and punished as indicated in this section.

1. By a fine not exceeding fifty dollars, or imprisonment not exceeding thirty days, in the counties of Alexander, Guilford, Henderson, Lincoln, Madison, Pamlico, Transylvania, Warren, and Yancey; in Catawba county, not to apply to sawmills run by water-power established prior to the first day of January, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-nine; in Davidson, not to apply to mills erected prior to the eighth day of February, one thousand nine hundred and five; in Jackson, not to apply to sawmills run by water-power; in Clay and Haywood, as to all streams which contain mountain or brook trout; in Anson county, to throw timber, slabs, or sawdust into any stream.

By the same penalty as regards the streams specified in the following counties and localities: Drowning creek and its tributaries in Cumberland, Moore, and Robeson; South river in Bladere, Cumberland and Sampson; Sawyer's creek or its tributaries in Graham; North and South Muddy creek in McDowell; Buffalo creek in Stokes; Eno river in Orange, from the head of Faucett millpond to the Durham county line; Brushy creek in Cleveland; Banner Elk and all streams in Watauga county which contain mountain or brook trout, but not to apply to sawmills run by water-power erected prior to the first day of January, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-nine, except in streams in which rainbow trout have been placed, and not to apply to Blue Ridge township, to Meadow creek and Gap creek in Stony Fork township, Elk creek in Elk Creek township, nor to Beaver Dam creek in Beaver Dam township. (Rev., s. 3382a; 1889, c. 52; (Pr.) 1895, c. 327; 1897, cc. 130, 285; 1899, cc. 285, 453, 656; 1901, c. 158; 1903, cc. 245, 627, 711, 741, 760; 1905, cc. 139, 191, 206, 214, 247, 474, 578, 775; 1907, cc. 27, 234, 266, 280, 370, 403, 683, 756; 1909, cc. 186, 267, 280, 600, 765; P. L. 1911, c. 568; P. L. 1913, cc. 36, 484, 532; P. L. 1915, c. 318.)

2. By a fine not exceeding five dollars or imprisonment not exceeding thirty days, in Edgecombe and Wilkes; and in Iredell, except as to the Big Rocky creek. (1907, c. 593; 1909, cc. 209, 242, 272; P. L. 1915, c. 699.)

3. By a fine not less than ten dollars and not more than fifty dollars, in Johnston, and each time is a separate offense; and in Montgomery, and each day is a separate offense. (Rev., s. 3382a; 1905, c. 206; 1909, c. 656; P. L. 1911, c. 75.)

4. By a fine of fifty dollars for each offense, in Rutherford. (1907, c. 255; P. L. 1911, c. 644.)

5. By a fine of not less than fifty nor more than one hundred dollars, or imprisonment for not less than thirty days nor more than sixty days, for throwing sawdust in or near any stream in Wake. (1907, c. 621; P. L. 1911, cc. 519, 611; P. L. 1915, c. 373.)

6. By punishment in the discretion of the court in Swain county, and as to North Fork and its tributaries above the iron bridge in McDowell county. (Rev., s. 3382a; 1899, c. 453; 1905, c. 206; 1909, c. 763; P. L. 1911, c. 296.)

§ 7378(a). Sawdust in streams in Avery county.—It shall be unlawful for any person, firm, or corporation to dump any sawdust into any of the streams of Avery county, North Carolina, or in such a place or within thirty feet of said streams. Any person, firm, or corporation violating any of the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and fined not exceeding fifty dollars. Every day that the provisions of this section are violated shall constitute a separate offense. (1921, c. 82.)

§ 7379. Local; Owners of mills throwing sawdust or other material into streams.—1. If any person owning or operating a sawmill shall throw sawdust, or permit it to be thrown, into any stream he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and punished as indicated in this section.

a. By fine or imprisonment in the discretion of the court, in Rockingham county; in Stanly county as to all rivers and creeks; in Surry county as to all rivers and creeks, but not to apply to mills run by water-power; as to any stream in Cheoah and Yellow Creek townships in Graham county; as to Cub creek or its tributaries, Bush creek and Pokeberry creek, in Riggsbee township in Chatham county, and as to any creek or branch in said county which empties into Cape Fear river. (Rev., s. 3382a; 1899, cc. 285, 741; 1905, cc. 206, 214; 1907, cc. 254, 601, 740; 1909, cc. 280, 323, 549, 693; P. L. 1911, cc. 443, 523, 755; P. L. Ex. Sess. 1913, c. 27.)

b. By a fine not exceeding fifty dollars or imprisonment not exceeding thirty days, in Polk county; in Franklin county, except Tar river; in Harnett county, except Cape Fear river; in Yadkin county, but not to apply to mills run by water-power; in Cleveland county, First Board river, Duncan's creek, Wards' creek, Hinton's creek, or their tributaries, and each day's violation is a separate offense, but this section does not apply to sawmills run by water-power. (Rev., s. 3382a; 1903, cc. 243, 721; 1907, cc. 255, 866, 873; 1909, c. 581; P. L. 1911, cc. 181, 611; P. L. 1913, c. 484.)

c. By a fine of not more than ten dollars or imprisonment not more than ten days, in Macon county, but not to apply to mills run by water-power established and in operation before the twenty-ninth day of January, one thousand nine hundred and nine. (Rev., s. 3382a; 1899, c. 285, 1905, c. 206; 1907, c. 266; 1909, s. 36.)

d. By a fine of not less than twenty dollars, or imprisonment, or both, in the discretion of the court, one half the fine to go to the informer, in Burke county, as to Cranberry creek, Linville river above gorge, Upper creek and Steele's creek, or their tributaries above the mill near Smyrna church. (Rev., s. 3382a; 1899, c. 656; 1905, c. 238; 1907, c. 430; P. L. 1913, c. 484.)

2. If any person owning or operating a sawmill or other woodworking machinery shall throw, or permit to be thrown, any sawdust or other refuse from the mill into any stream, or place such material where it will wash into any stream, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and punished as indicated in this section.

a. By a fine of not less than ten nor more than fifty dollars, or imprisoned not more than thirty days, in the counties of Avery, Caldwell, Forsyth, and Richmond; and in Mitchell county, but not to apply to sawmills which saw less than three thousand feet per day. (Rev., s. 3382a; 1905, cc. 775, 776; 1907, cc. 26, 371; P. L. 1911, c. 568; P. L. 1913, c. 484.)

b. By a fine or imprisonment in the discretion of the court, in Burke county, but not to apply to saw mills run by water-power prior to one thousand nine hundred and seven, not located in the fishing districts unless removed to a new site. (1909, c. 765.)

c. By a fine of not less than five nor more than twenty-five dollars or imprisonment for twenty days, in Alamance county, as to Haw river, Big Alamance creek and little Alamance creek, or their tributaries. (1909, c. 467.)

d. By a fine of not more than fifty dollars, or imprisonment not more than thirty days, in Nash county, except as to Tar river, Fishing, Swift, Turkey, Pigbasket, Stony, and Saponey creeks in said county, but not to apply to mills operated by water-power which have no means of hauling dust from the streams. (1909, c. 34.)

CHAPTER 123

RURAL COMMUNITIES

Art. 1. Organized Rural Communities

§§ 7380-7393: Repealed by Public Laws 1923, c. 136, s. 376.

Art. 2. Establishment of Conveniences in Rural Communities

§ 7394. Assistance by state highway commission.—In order to assist in providing for better and more comfortable living conditions in the rural sections throughout the state, by means of utilization of the many small water-powers that abound in many parts of the state, and by the installation of water systems in rural homes, and by the construction of rural telephone lines, the state highway commission is herewith authorized to advise and assist in providing a water supply and electric power and electric lights for rural communities and individuals outside of incorporated towns, by investigating water-powers and preparing plans for their development and the installation of such apparatus as may be needed to utilize such water-power in developing electric power and for supplying a water system and electric light system, and to furnish plans and specifications for the installation of rural telephone lines and to advise and assist in the formation of rural mutual telephone systems. (1917, c. 267, s. 1.)

CHAPTER 123A

RURAL REHABILITATION

Art. 1. State Rural Rehabilitation Law

§ 7395(1). Title of article.—This article shall be known as the "State Rural Rehabilitation Law." (1935, c. 459, s. 1.)

§ 7395(2). Declaration of necessity for subsistence homesteads; agencies established to effect purpose.—It is hereby declared that it is necessary in the public interest to make provision for the establishment of small individual farms or subsistence homesteads with the necessary dwellings and other structures in planned rural communities, together with livestock, farm implements, equipment and initial materials and supplies to enable success of the applicant and his family, and that the providing of such subsistence homesteads or farm homes and operating facilities in community settlements, being now otherwise impossible, it is essential that provision be made for the investment of private and public funds at low interest rates, the acquisition at fair prices of adequate parcels of land (not classed as sub-marginal lands) the construction of new agricultural facilities, the clearing, grading, draining of lands, and building of planned rural communities under public supervision in accord with proper standards of sanitation and safety at a cost which will permit their use or sale at prices which families of low income and/or families of agricultural experience or ability can afford to pay. Therefore, there are created and established the agencies and instrumentalities hereinafter prescribed which are declared to be the agencies and instrumentalities of the State of North Carolina and/or the agencies and instrumentalities of the United States government when and if designated by it as such, for the purpose of attending the ends herein recited and their necessity in the public interest. (1935, c. 459, s. 2.)

§ 7395(3). State board of rural rehabilitation created; appointment and terms of members; vacancies; compensation. — There is hereby created a state board of rural rehabilitation of the State of North Carolina, which will consist of three (3) members, to be appointed by the governor. Two of the three members shall be appointed for two years, and one for four years, and at the expiration of these terms their successors shall be appointed for a term of four years. All vacancies which may occur for any unexpired term shall be filled by the governor. The members of the board shall receive no salary, but shall be entitled to a per diem of not in excess of $10.00 when attending meetings of the corporation and the necessary traveling and other expenses incurred in the discharge of their duties, which shall be paid by the corporation. (1935, c. 459, s. 3.)

§ 7395(4). Officers and employees.—The members of the board shall choose from among their number a chairman, and the board may appoint such other officers and employees, including a secretary, as it may require, for the performance of its duties, and shall fix and determine their qualifications, duties and salaries. (1935, c. 459, s. 4.)

§ 7395(5). Submission to board of projects; community corporations; supervision of board over monies of such corporations; naming of trustee; duties; disbursement of funds.—No rural community project proposed by a corporation incorporated under this article shall be undertaken without the approval of the board.

(a) There shall be submitted to the board a community plan and financial plan in such forms and with such assurances as the board may prescribe to raise the actual cost of the lands and projected improvements and operating facilities by subscriptions to or the sale of the stock, income debentures, and/or mortgage bonds of such corporation. Whenever reference is made in this article to cost of projects or of buildings and improvements in projects, such cost shall include the necessary personal property in farm units and community buildings, charges for financing and supervision approved by the board, and carrying charges during construction required in the project, including interest on borrowed and, where approved by the board, on invested capital.

(b) The corporation agrees to accept a designee of the board of rural rehabilitation as a member of the board of directors of said corporation, which designee may be a representative of the United States or of the principal creditor of said corporation.

(c) If required by the board, the corporation shall deposit all monies received by it as proceeds of its mortgage bonds, notes, income debentures, or stock, with a trustee which shall be a banking corporation authorized to do business in the State of North Carolina and to perform trust functions, and such trustee shall receive such monies and make payment therefrom for the acquisition of land, the construction of improvements and other items entering into cost of land improvements and the personal property and supervision necessary for successful independent farm units and rural community centers, upon presentation of draft, check, or order signed by a proper officer of the corporation and, if required by the board, countersigned by the said board of a person designated by it for said purpose. Any funds remaining in the custody of said trustee after the completion of the said project and payment or arrangement in a manner satisfactory to the board for payment in full thereof, shall be paid to the corporation. (1935, c. 459, s. 5.)

§ 7395(6). Investigation into affairs of corporations; judicial powers. — The board shall have power to investigate into the affairs of limited dividend and/or non-dividend companies incorporated under this article, and into the dealings, transactions, or relationships of such companies with other persons. Any of the investigations provided for in this article may be conducted by the board or by a committee to be appointed by the board consisting of one or more members of the board. Each member of the board or a committee thereof shall have power to administer oaths, take affidavits, and to make personal inspections of all places to which their duties relate. The board or a committee thereof shall have power to subpoena and require the attendance of witnesses and the production of books and papers relating to the investigations and inquiries authorized in this article, and to examine them in relation to any matter it has power to investigate, and to issue commissions for the examination of witnesses who are out of the State or unable to attend before the board or excused from attendance. (1935, c. 459, s. 6.)

§ 7395(7). Study of rural conditions; programs for betterment; dissemination of information; approval of community projects; coöperation with local officials. — The board is hereby empowered to (a) study rural conditions and farm tenancy throughout the State, to determine in what areas unhealthful and unsanitary conditions constitute a menace to health, and reasonable comfort of the citizens of the State; (b) prepare programs for correcting such conditions as may be relieved by the purposes of this article: (c) collect and distribute information relating to rural development; (d) recommend and approve the areas within which or adjacent to which the construction of rural community projects by limited dividend and/or non-dividend companies may be undertaken, and (e) co-operate with local officials and planning commissions or similar bodies in the development of projects they may have under consideration. (1935, c. 459, s. 7.)

§ 7395(8). Consolidation of projects. — The board may permit the consolidation of two or more approved projects or the extension or amendment of any approved project, or the consolidation of any approved project with a proposed project. In any of these events the consolidation project shall be treated as an original project and an application shall be submitted as in the case of an original project, and sale prices may be averaged throughout the consolidated or extended project. The board may by approval of its charter likewise permit any limited dividend and/or non-dividend corporation to organize and operate one or more rural community projects which may be organized and operated independently of each other under such by-laws, rules and regulations authorized by the board, not inconsistent with the provisions of this article, as may be necessary for the proper conduct of the affairs of the corporation. (1935, c. 459, s. 8.)

§ 7395(9). Other powers of board.—In pursuance of its power and authority to supervise and regulate the operations of limited dividend and/or non-dividend companies incorporated under this article the board may in its discretion:

(a) Order all such corporations to do such acts as may be necessary to comply with the provisions of the law, the rules and regulations adopted by the board, or by the terms of any project approved by the board for protection of its security holders or creditors, or to refrain from doing any acts in violation thereof.

(b) Examine all such corporations and keep informed as to their general condition, their capitalization, and the manner in which their property is constructed, operated, or managed and sold.

(c) Either through its members or agents duly authorized by it, enter in or upon and inspect the property, equipment, buildings, plants, offices, apparatus, and devices of any such corporation, examine all books, contracts, records, documents, and papers of any such corporation, and by subpoena duces tecum compel the production thereof.

(d) In its discretion prescribe uniform methods and forms of keeping accounts, records, and books to be observed by such companies and to prescribe by order accounts in which particular outlays and receipt shall be entered, charged, or credited.

(e) Require every such corporation to file with the board an annual report setting forth such information as the board may require, verified by the oath of the president and general manager or receiver, if any, thereof, or by the person required to file the same. Such report shall be in the form, cover the period, and be filed at the time prescribed by the board.

(f) From time to time make, amend, and repeal rules and regulations for carrying into effect the provisions of this article. (1935, c. 459, s. 9.)

§ 7395(10). Price fixing for farms sold; determination of payments made by corporations; dividends; sinking funds.—The board shall fix the maximum and minimum purchase price to be charged for the farms sold by such corporation. Such purchase price shall be determined upon the basis of the actual final cost of the project so as to secure, together with all other income of the corporation, a sufficient income to meet all necessary payments to be made by said corporations, as herein prescribed, and such purchase prices shall be subject to revision by the board from time to time. The payments to be made by such corporation shall be (a) all fixed charges and all operating and maintenance charges and expenses, which shall include taxes, assessments, insurance, amortization charges in amounts approved by the board to amortize the mortgage indebtedness in whole or in part, depreciation charge, if, when, and to the extent deemed necessary by the board; reserves, sinking funds, and corporate expenses essential to operation and management of the project in amounts approved by the board. (b) A dividend, if any, not exceeding all the maximum fixed by this article upon the stock of the corporation allotted to the project by the board. (c) Where feasible, in the discretion of the board, a sinking fund in an amount to be fixed by the board for the general retirement of the stock and income debentures of the corporation to the extent permitted by this article, or specified in the issues outstanding. (1935, c. 459, s. 10.)

§ 7395(11). Reorganization of corporations. — (1) Reorganization of limited dividend and/or non-dividend companies incorporated under this article shall be subject to the supervision and control of the board and no such reorganization shall be had without its authorization.

(2) Upon all such reorganizations the amount of capitalization, including therein all stocks, income debentures and bonds and other evidence of indebtedness, shall be such as is authorized by the board, which, in making its determination, shall not exceed the fair value of the property involved. (1935, c. 459, s. 11.)

§ 7395(12). Power of board to enjoin illegal acts of corporations.—Whenever the board shall be of opinion that any such limited dividend and/or non-dividend company is failing or omitting, or about to fail or omit, to do anything required of it by law or by order of the board, and is doing or about to do anything, or permitting anything or about to permit anything to be done, contrary to or in violation of law or of any order of the board, or which is improvident or prejudicial to the interests of the public, the lien holders or the stockholders, it may commence an action or proceeding in the superior court of the county in which the said company is located, in the name of the board for the purpose of having such violations or threatened violations stopped and prevented by mandatory injunction. The board shall begin such action or proceeding by a petition and complaint to the said superior court, alleging the violation complained of and praying for appropriate relief by way of mandatory injunction. It shall thereupon be the duty of the court to specify the time, not exceeding thirty days after service of a copy of the petition and complaint, within which the corporation complained of must answer the petition and complaint.

In case of default in answer or after answer, the court shall immediately inquire into the facts and circumstances in such manner as the court shall direct without other or formal pleadings, and without respect to any technical requirements. The final judgment in any such action or proceeding shall either dismiss the action or proceeding or direct that a mandatory injunction be issued as prayed for in the petition and complaint, or in such modified or other form as the court may determine will afford appropriate relief. (1935, c. 459, s. 12.)

§ 7395(13). Acquisition by corporations of property for projects; power of eminent domain. —When the board shall have approved a project for the construction or establishment of a rural community or communities presented it by a limited dividend and/or non-dividend company, such company may undertake the acquisition of the property needed for said project. Such property may be acquired by gift, bequest, or purchase, or, in the case of limited dividend and/or non-dividend companies engaged in the construction and development of rural communities, by the exercise of the power of eminent domain under and pursuant to the law providing for the appropriation or condemnation of private property by corporations with specific authorization by the board to be in the public interest and necessary for the public use. (1935, c. 459, s. 13.)

§ 7395(14). Application for charter.—Any number of natural persons, not less than three, a majority of whom are citizens of the United States, may become a corporation by subscribing, acknowledging, and filing in the office of the secretary of state articles of incorporation, hereinafter called "articles," setting forth the information required by the general corporation act of the State, except as herein modified or changed. (1935, c. 459, s. 14.)

§ 7395(15). Purposes of incorporation enumerated.—The purposes for which a limited dividend and/or non-dividend rural development company is to be formed shall be as follows: To acquire, construct, maintain, and operate housing projects, subsistence homesteads and organized rural rehabilitation or community projects, and to establish, loan, make loans for, and to assist in the establishment of small individual farms and farm homes, together with the necessary buildings and other structures, livestock, equipment, implements and machinery, materials, supplies, facilities, medical, social and educational centers, cooperative enterprises and commercial establishments essential to the growth and development of said rural rehabilitation or community projects, when authorized by and subject to the supervision of the board of rural rehabilitation. (1935, c. 459, s. 14.)

§ 7395(16). Preference to applicants possessing certain qualifications. — Preference shall be given to applicants who are married or who have dependent families, have good moral character, and are experienced in farming and familiar with farm operations, or who are or recently were farmers, farm tenants, share croppers, or farm laborers or good families of small incomes who will contribute to social advantages of the community, and each of whom may be approved by designated representatives of the federal and state agricultural extention service. (1935, c. 459, s. 14.)

§ 7395(17). Capital stock.—The capital stock may consist of one or more classes, the shares of which shall have a par value. (1935, c. 459, s. 14.)

§ 7395(18). Declaration as to serving a public purpose; restriction on income from stock; disposition of surplus.—Articles of incorporation shall contain a declaration that the corporation has been organized to serve a public purpose, and that it shall remain at all times subject to the supervision and control of the board or of other appropriate state authority; that all real estate acquired by it and all structures erected by it shall be deemed to be acquired for the purpose of promoting the public health and safety and satisfactory social and agricultural conditions, subject to the provision of the State Rural Rehabilitation Law; and that the stockholders of this corporation shall be deemed, when they subscribe to and receive the stock thereof, to have agreed that they shall at no time receive or accept from the company, in repayment of their investment in its stock, any sums in excess of the par value of the stock, together with cumulative dividends at a rate not in excess of six per centum per annum, and that any surplus of such amount, if said company shall be dissolved, shall revert to the State of North Carolina, or to such federal department or agency that may have provided the funds for establishing a rural community as herein contemplated. (1935, c. 459, s. 14.)

§ 7395(19). Power to borrow money and issue bonds secured by mortgage; amortization.—Any company formed under this article may, subject to the approval of the board, borrow funds and secure the repayment thereof by bonds and mortgages, or by an issue of bonds under trust indenture. The bonds so issued and secured and the mortgage or trust indentures relating thereto may create a first or senior lien and a second or junior lien upon the real property embraced in any project or projects. Such bonds and mortgages may contain such other clauses and provisions as shall be approved by the board, including the right to assignment of rents and entry into possession in case of default; but the operation of the rural community projects in the event of such entry by mortgagee or receiver shall be subject to the regulation of the board under this article. Provisions for the amortization of the bonded indebtedness of companies formed under this article shall be subject to the approval of the board, and the amortization period shall begin three years after the farm family or families are established on the land and continue semi-annually up to a limit of forty years. (1935, c. 459, s. 14.)

§ 7395(20). Application of general corporation laws.—The provisions of the general corporation act, as hereafter from time to time amended, shall apply to limited dividend and/or non-dividend rural rehabilitation companies, except where such provisions are in conflict therewith. (1935, c. 459, s. 14.)

§ 7395(21). Dividends on stock restricted.—No stockholder in any company formed hereunder shall receive any dividend, or other distribution based on stock ownership, in any one year in excess of six per centum per annum, except that when in any preceding year dividends, the amount prescribed in the articles of incorporation, shall not have been paid on the said stock, the stockholders may be paid such deficiency without interest out of any surplus earned in any succeeding years. (1935, c. 459, s. 15.)

§ 7395(22). Issuance of stock and bonds regulated.—No limited dividend and/or non-dividend company incorporate under this article shall issue stock bonds, or income debentures except for money, services, or property actually received for the use and lawful purpose of the corporation. No stock, bonds, or income debentures shall be issued for property or services except upon a valuation approved by the board of rural rehabilitation and such valuation shall be used in computing actual or estimated cost. (1935, c. 459, s. 16.)

§ 7395(23). Exchange of stock and bonds for income debenture certificates.—The articles of incorporation may authorize the issuance of income debenture certificates bearing no greater interest than five per centum per annum. After the incorporation of a limited dividend rural rehabilitation company, the directors thereof may, with the consent of two-thirds of the holders of any preferred stock that may be issued and outstanding, offer to the stockholders of the company the privilege of exchanging their preferred and common stock in such quantities and at such times as may be approved by the board of rural rehabilitation for such income debenture certificates, whose face value shall not exceed the par value of the stock exchanged therefor. (1935, c. 459, s. 17.)

§ 7395(24). Restrictions on corporations.—No limited dividend nor non-dividend company incorporated shall under this article:

(1) Acquire any real property or interest therein unless it shall first have obtained from the board a certificate that such acquisition is necessary or convenient for the public purposes defined in this article.

(2) Sell, transfer, assign, or lease any real or personal property without first having obtained the consent of the board, Provided, however, that leases and/or sales conforming to the regulations and rules of the board and for actual occupancy by the lessees and/or purchasers may be made without the further consent of the board. Any conveyance, incumbrance, lease or sub-lease made in violation of the provisions of this section, and any transfer or assignment thereof, shall be void.

(3) Charge or accept any rental, purchase price, or other charge in excess of the amounts prescribed by the board, except for the insurance of mortgage loans as provided under the Federal Housing Act.

(4) Pay interest returns on its mortgage indebtedness and its income debenture certificates at a higher rate than six per centum per annum.

(5) Issue its stock debentures and bonds covering any project or projects undertaken by it in an amount greater in the aggregate than the total actual final cost of such project, including the lands, improvements, charges for financing and supervision approved by the board and interest and other carrying charges during construction and the necessary supervision of the project or projects thereafter.

(6) Mortgage any real property or issue any securities or evidences of indebtedness without first having obtained the approval of the board.

(7) Enter into contracts for the construction of rural community projects or for the payments of salaries to officers or employees except subject to the inspection and revision of the board and under such regulations as the board from time to time may prescribe.

(8) Voluntarily dissolve without first having obtained the consent of the board.

(9) Make any guaranty without the approval of the board. (1935, c. 459, s. 18.)

§ 7395(25). Earnings transferable to surplus; distribution upon dissolution; surplus paid into general fund of state.—The amount of net earnings transferable to surplus in any year after making or providing for the payments specified in subdivisions (a), (b), and (c) of section 7395-(10) shall be subject to the approval of the board. The amount of such surplus shall not exceed fifteen per centum of the outstanding capital stock and/or income debentures of the corporation, but the surplus so limited shall not be deemed to include any increase in assets due to the reduction of mortgage or amortization or similar payments. On dissolution of any limited dividend and/or non-dividend company the stockholders and income debenture certificate holders shall in no event receive more than the par value of their stock and debentures plus accumulated, accrued, and unpaid dividends or interest thereon less any payment or distributions theretofore made other than by dividends provided in section 7395(21), and any remaining surplus or other undistributed earnings shall be paid into the general fund of the State of North Carolina, or shall be disposed of in such other manner as the board may direct and the governor may approve. (1935, c. 459, s. 19.)

§ 7395(26). Foreclosure actions; foreclosure or other judicial sale; unrestricted rights of mortgagees.—(1) In any foreclosure action the board shall be a party defendant; and such board shall take all steps in such action necessary to protect the interest of the public therein, and no costs shall be awarded against the board. Foreclosure shall not be decreed unless the court to which application therefor is made shall be satisfied that the interests of the lienholder or holders cannot be adequately secured or safeguarded except by the sale of the property. In any such proceeding the court shall be authorized to make an order increasing the sale price to be charged for the farms, etc., in the project involved in such foreclosure, or appoint a receiver of the property, or grant such other and further relief as may be reasonable and proper. In the event of a foreclosure sale or other judicial sale, the property shall, except as provided in the next succeeding paragraph of this section, be sold to a limited dividend and/or non-dividend corporation organized under this article, provided such corporation shall bid and pay a price for the property sufficient to pay court costs and all liens on the property with interest. Otherwise the property shall be sold free of all restrictions imposed by this article.

(2) Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this section, wherever it shall appear that a corporation, subject to the supervision either of the state insurance department or state banking department, or the federal government or any agency or department of the federal government, shall have loaned on a mortgage, which is a lien upon any such property, such corporation shall have all the remedies available to a mortgagee under the laws of the State of North Carolina, free from any restrictions contained in this section, except that the board shall be made a party defendant and that such board shall take all steps necessary to protect the interests of the public, and no costs shall be awarded against it. (1935, c. 459, s. 20.)

§ 7395(27). Application to board for one corporation to purchase property of another. — Before any limited dividend or non-dividend corporation incorporated under this article shall purchase the property of any other limited dividend or non-dividend corporation, it shall file an application with the board in the manner hereinbefore provided as for a new project, and shall obtain the consent of the board to the purchase and agree to be bound by the provisions of this article, and the board shall not give its consent unless it is shown to the satisfaction of the board that the project is one that can be successfully operated according to the provisions of this article. (1935, c. 459, s. 21.)

§ 7395(28). Notice to board required before execution of judgment against corporation.—In the event of a judgment against a limited dividend or non-dividend corporation in any action not pertaining to the collection of a mortgage indebtedness, there shall be no sale of any of the real property of such corporation except upon sixty days' written notice to the board. Upon receipt of such notice the board shall take such steps as in its judgment may be necessary to protect the rights of all parties. (1935, c. 459, s. 22.)

§ 7395(29). Fees for examination of plans and supervision of construction and for other purposes; state not liable for board expenses. — The board may charge and collect from a limited dividend or non-dividend corporation, incorporated under this article, reasonable fees in accordance with rates to be established by the rules of the board for the examination of plans and specifications and the supervision of construction in an amount not to exceed one-quarter of one per cent of the cost of the project; for the holding of a public hearing upon application of a limited dividend or non-dividend corporation an amount sufficient to meet the reasonable cost of advertising the notice thereof and of the transcript of testimony taken thereat; for any examination or investigation made upon application of a limited dividend or non-dividend corporation and for any act done by the board, or any of its employees, in performance of their duties under this article an amount reasonably calculated to meet the expense of the board incurred in connection therewith. In no event shall any part of the expenses of the board ever be paid out of the state treasury. The board may authorize a limited dividend or non-dividend corporation to include such fees as part of the cost of a project, or as part of the charges specified in section 7395(10), pursuant to rules to be established by the board. (1935, c. 459, s. 23.)

§ 7395(30). Corporate existence limited; extension. — The corporation existence of any corporation authorized hereunder shall not extend beyond sixty years from the date of incorporation, and promptly upon such termination the corporation shall be liquidated and its assets distributed as provided herein, unless general corporation laws, by approval of the state board of rural rehabilitation should grant an extension for an additional period of time. (1935, c. 459, s. 25.)

Art. 2. North Carolina Rural Rehabilitation Corporation

§ 7395(31). Designated a state agency. — The North Carolina rural rehabilitation corporation, a non-profit corporation, organized by the members of the commission of the North Carolina emergency relief administration, and chartered by the State to serve as a social and financial instrumentality in assisting to rehabilitate individuals and families by enabling them to secure subsistence and gainful employment from the soil and co-ordinated and other enterprises in order to restore them as self sustaining citizens and thereby reduce the burden of public relief for the needy and unemployed, is hereby recognized and designated as an agency of the State of North Carolina and of the North Carolina emergency relief administration and its successor within the powers and limitations of its charter for the carrying out of said objects and purposes. (1935, c. 314, s. 1.)

§ 7395(32). Powers of corporation.—The corporation is hereby authorized to accept and receive loans, grants and other assistance from the United States government, departments and/or agencies thereof for its use or for relief and rehabilitation purposes as well as to receive like financial and other aid when extended by the State of North Carolina or any of its departments, political subdivisions or agencies or any municipality, or from other sources, either public or private, and to employ the same in carrying out its rehabilitation purposes and activities; to utilize such means and agencies as shall be found useful or necessary to carry out the purposes of this article and which will facilitate the securing of co-operation and financial assistance from the government of the United States, its departments or agencies, in aid thereof. (1935, c. 314, s. 2.)

§ 7395(33). Coöperation by state officers, boards, etc.—The various officers, boards, courts and governing bodies of the State engaged in any way in the relief of destitution and unemployment are hereby authorized to co-operate with the North Carolina rural rehabilitation corporation for the purposes specified in section 7395(31). (1935, c. 314, s. 3.)

STATE BOUNDARIES

§ 7396. Governor to cause boundaries to be established and protected. — The governor of North Carolina is hereby authorized to appoint two competent commissioners and a surveyor and a sufficient number of chainbearers, on the part of the state of North Carolina, to act with the commissioners or surveyors appointed or to be appointed by any of the contiguous states of Virginia, Tennessee, South Carolina, and Georgia, to rerun and remark by some permanent monuments at convenient intervals, not greater than five miles, the boundary lines between this state and any of the said states.

The governor is also anthorized, whenever in his judgment it shall be deemed necessary to protect or establish the boundary lines between this state and any other state, to institute and prosecute in the name of the state of North Carolina any and all such actions, suits, or proceedings at law or in equity, and to direct the attorney-general or such other person as he may designate to conduct and prosecute such actions, suits, or proceedings. (Rev., s. 5315; Code, s. 2289; 1889, c. 475, s. 1; 1881, c. 347, s. 1; 1909, c. 51, s. 1.)

State Boundaries — Line Between North Carolina and Tennessee.—Under the acts of 1821 of the states of North Carolina and Tennessee confirming the boundary line between the two states "as run and marked" by the joint commission, when it is clearly shown where the line between two known points but a few miles apart was run and marked by the commission, such line must be accepted by the courts, in a suit between private persons, as the true and ancient boundary, even though it now appears that a different line between such points might more accurately conform to a general call in the act of cession for "the extreme height" of a certain mountain for a distance of 100 miles. Stevenson v. Fein, 116 Fed. 147.

§ 7397. Payment of expenses of establishing boundaries.—When the line has been rerun and remarked as above provided between this state and any of the contiguous states, or such portion of said lines as shall be mutually agreed by the commissioners, the governor is authorized to issue his warrant upon the state treasurer for such portion of the expenses as shall fall to the share of this state. (Rev., s. 5316; Code, s. 2290; 1889, c. 475, s. 2; 1881, c. 347, s. 2.)

§ 7398. Appointment of arbitrators.—If any disagreement shall arise between the commissioners, the governor of this state is hereby authorized to appoint arbitrators to act with similar officers to be appointed by the other states in the settlement of the exact boundary. (Rev., s. 5317; Code, s. 2291; 1889, c. 475, s. 3; 1881, c. 347, s. 3.)

§ 7399. Disagreement of arbitrators reported to general assembly.—In case of any serious disagreement and inability on the part of the said arbitrators to agree upon said boundary, such fact shall be reported by the governor to the next general assembly for their action. (Rev., s. 5318; Code, s. 2282; 1889, c. 475, s. 4; 1881, c. 347, s. 4.)

§ 7400. Survey, how approved to be effective.—When the commissioners shall have completed the survey, or so much as shall be necessary, they shall report the same to the governor, who shall lay the same before the council of state; and when the governor and the council of state shall have approved the same the governor shall issue his proclamation, declaring said lines to be the true boundary line or lines, and the same shall be the true boundary line or lines between this and the states above referred to. (Rev., s. 5319; Code, s. 2293; 1889, c. 475, s. 5; 1881, c. 347, s. 5.)

STATE DEBT

Art. 1. Funded Debt

§ 7401. How bonds executed; interest coupons attached; where payable; minimum amount.—All bonds or certificates of debt of the state, hereafter to be issued as originals, or as substitutes for such as may be surrendered for transfer, by virtue of any act now or to be hereafter passed, shall be signed by the governor, and countersigned by the state treasurer, and sealed with the great seal of the state, and shall be made payable to bearer unless registered as hereinafter provided; and the principal shall be made payable by the state at a day named in the bond or certificate. Interest coupons shall be attached to the bonds or certificates unless they be bonds or certificates registered as to both principal and interest, and the bonds, certificates and coupons shall be made payable either at a bank in the city of New York to be designated by the state treasurer, or at the office of the state treasurer in Raleigh, as may be designated by the treasurer, or shall be made payable at the option of the holder, either at such bank in New York or at the office of the said treasurer: Provided, that no original bond or certificate of debt of the state shall be sold for a sum less than par value; nor shall any such bond or certificate, issuing in lieu of a transferred bond or certificate, be payable elsewhere than may be the original, except by the consent of the holder it may be made payable at the state treasury. (Rev., s. 5020; Code, s. 3563; R. C., c. 90, s. 3; 1848, c. 89, s. 22; 1852, cc. 9, 10, s. 10; Ex. Sess. 1921, c. 66, ss. 1, 2.)

Editor's Note.—By amendment, Ex. Sess. 1921 c. 66 ss. 1, 2 the provision for all bonds being made payable to bearer unless registered replaced a provision that they should be payable to the purchaser or to bearer. The provision in regard to not attaching registered interest coupons, and the provision for optional place of payment was added at the same time. The provision for no bonds below par replaced a provision for no bonds below one thousand dollars.

Cited in Galloway v. Jenkins, 53 N. C. 147, 174.

§ 7402. Title of act and year of enactment recited in bonds.—In every bond or certificate of debt issued by the state, and in the body thereof, shall be set forth the title of the act, with the year of its enactment, under the authority of which the same may be issued; or reference shall be made thereto by the number of the chapter, and the year of the legislative session. (Rev., s. 5023; Code, s. 3566; R. C., c. 90, s. 6; 1850, c. 90, s. 6.)

§ 7403. Record of Bonds kept by state treasurer.—The state treasurer shall enter in a book to be kept for that purpose a memorandum of every bond or certificate of debt of the state, issued or to be issued under any act whatever, together with the numbers, dates of issue, when and where payable, at what premium, and to whom the same may have been sold or issued. (Rev., s. 5021; Code, s. 3564; R. C., c. 90, s. 4; 1852, c. 10, s. 2.)

§ 7404. Books for registration and transfer.—The state treasurer shall keep in his office a register or registers for the registration and transfer of all bonds and certificates of the state heretofore or hereafter issued, in which he may register any bond or certificate at the time of its issue or at the request of the holder. When any bond or certificate shall have been registered as hereinafter provided, the state treasurer shall enter in a manner to be of easy and ready reference, a description of said bond, or certificates giving the number, series, date of issue, denomination, by whom signed, and such other data as may be necessary for the ready identification thereof, together with the name of the person in whose name the same is then to be registered and whether in his individual capacity or in a fiduciary relation, and if the latter, for whose benefit the same is to be registered. (Rev., s. 5019; Code, s. 3562; R. C., c. 90, s. 2; 1848, c. 37, s. 5; 1850, c. 58, s. 4; 1852, c. 11; Ex. Sess. 1921, c. 66, s. 3.)

Editor's Note.—Prior to the amendment of this section, Ex. Sess. 1921 ch. 66 s. 3, it provided for transfer by delivery, of bonds payable to bearer, but those payable to holder by name alone were transferred by delivery to the state treasury for cancellation, where new bonds were issued.

§ 7405. Registration as to principal.—Upon the presentation at the office of the state treasurer of any bond or certificate that has heretofore been or may hereafter be issued by the state, or upon the first issuance of any bond or certificate, the same may be registered as to principal in the name of the holder upon such register, such registration to be noted on the reverse of the bond or certificate by the state treasurer. The principal of any bond or certificate so registered shall be payable only to the registered payee or his legal representative, and such bond or certificate shall be transferrable to another holder or back to bearer only upon presentation to the state treasurer with a written assignment acknowledged or approved in a form satisfactory to the treasurer. The name of the registered assignee shall be written in said register and upon any bond or certificate so transferred. A bond or certificate so transferred to bearer shall be subject to future registration and transfer as before. (Rev., s. 5025; Code, s. 3568; 1883, c. 25; 1887, c. 287; Ex. Sess., 1921, c. 66, s. 4.)

Editor's Note.—Prior to the amendment Ex. Sess. 1921, ch. 66, sec. 4 registered bonds were issued in exchange for coupon bonds, and coupon bonds were issued in exchange for registered bonds on application. The denomination of such bonds to be issued was also specified and the time of maturity and rate of interest was to be the same as on the bond surrendered.

§ 7406. Registration as to principal and interest.—If, upon the registration of any such bond or certificate, or at any time thereafter, the coupons thereto attached, evidencing all interests to be paid thereon to the date of maturity, shall be surrendered, such coupons shall be canceled by the treasurer, and he shall sign a statement endorsed upon such bond or certificate of the cancellation of all unmatured coupons and of the fact that such bond has been converted into a fully registered bond, and shall make like entry in the said register. Thereafter the interest evidenced by such canceled coupons shall be paid at the times provided therein, to the registered owner or his legal representatives, in New York exchange, mailed to his address, unless he shall have requested the state treasurer to pay such interest in funds current at the state capital, which request shall be entered in the said register. (Rev., s. 5026; Code, s. 3569; 1856, c. 16; 1883, c. 25, s. 2; 1887, c. 287, s. 2; Ex. Sess. 1921, c. 66, s. 5.)

Editor's Note.—Prior to the amendment Ex. Sess. 1921 ch. 65 sec. 5 this section provided for registration of bonds, and the admission in evidence of the registry in case the bonds were lost, also a provision for signing and sealing registered bonds, and exemption for them from taxation. For registration of bonds now, see section 7404.

§ 7407. No charge for registration.—There shall be no charge for the registration of any bond or certificate whether registered at the time of issuance thereof or subsequently registered, and no charge for the transfer of registered bonds and certificates shall be made. (Rev., s. 5027; 1887, c. 2887, ss. 4, 5; Ex. Sess. 1921, c. 66, s. 6; 1925, c. 49.)

Editor's Note.—Prior to the amendment, Ex. Sess. 1921 ch. 66 sec. 6 a fee of two dollars was charged for exchange of bonds (which was for registration), All bonds surrendered were destroyed by the treasurer in the presence of the governor and attorney-general. By the amendment of 1921 a fee of twenty-five cents was charged for each registration or transfer. By the Public Laws 1925 ch. 49 it was provided that no fees be charged.

§ 7408. Application of sections seven thousand four hundred and one to seven thousand four hundred and nine.—Sections seven thousand four hundred and one to seven thousand four hundred and nine, both inclusive, as amended by this law, shall be applicable to all bonds or certificates of the state heretofore issued and now outstanding, and to all bonds or certificates of the state that may hereafter be issued in accordance with any law now in force or hereafter to be enacted. (Rev., s. 5028; Code, s. 3570; 1887, c. 287, s. 3; Ex. Sess. 1921, c. 66, s. 7.)

Editor's Note.—Prior to the amendment Ex. Sess. 1921 ch. 66 sec. 7 this section provided for negotiation of bonds by surrender, cancellation, and the issuance of a new bond.

§ 7409. Duties performed by other officers.—If the council of state shall at any time find that either the governor or the state treasurer is unable by reason of absence, disability, or otherwise, to sign any bonds or certificates, the lieutenant-governor may sign the same in lieu of the governor, and they may be signed in lieu of the treasurer by any member of the council of state designated by it. (Rev., s. 5024; Code, s. 3567; 1864-5, c. 24; Ex. Sess. 1921, c. 66, s. 8.)

Editor's Note.—Prior to the amendment by Ex. Sess. 1921, ch. 66, sec. 8, this section provided for a registration and transfer by the chief clerk in case the treasurer was absent.

§ 7410. State bonds exempt from taxation. — The original bonds or certificates of debt of the state, which have been issued since the first day of January, one thousand eight hundred and fifty-three, or which may hereafter be issued under the authority of any act whatever, as likewise the bonds and certificates substituted for such original bonds and certificates, shall be, they and the interest accruing thereon, exempt from taxation. (Rev., s. 5022; Code, s. 3565; R. C., c. 90, s. 5; 1852, c. 10, s. 4.)

§ 7411. What bonds are fundable.—When any person holding and owning any bond or bonds of the state, issued in pursuance of any act of assembly passed at any time before the twentieth day of May, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-one, exclusive of bonds issued for the construction of the North Carolina railroad, or in pursuance of the act of the general assembly passed at its session in one thousand eight hundred and sixty-five, it being chapter three of the laws of one thousand eight hundred and sixty-five, or in pursuance of an act passed by the general assembly at its session in one thousand eight hundred and sixty-seven, it being chapter fifty-six of the laws of one thousand eight hundred and sixty-seven, or in pursuance of an act entitled "An act to provide for the payment of the state debt contracted before the war," ratified on the tenth day of March, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-six, or in pursuance of an act entitled "An act to provide for funding the matured interest on the public debt," ratified the tenth day of August, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-eight; or any registered certificate or certificates belonging to the board of education, issued in pursuance of an act of the general assembly of one thousand eight hundred and sixty-seven, shall surrender and deliver, such bond or bonds, with the coupons attached thereto, or registered certificate or certificates, to the state treasurer, then and in that case it shall be the duty of the treasurer to issue and deliver to the person surrendering such bond or bonds, certificate or certificates, a new bond or bonds of the state, due and payable thirty years from the first day of July, one thousand eight hundred and eighty, bearing interest from date at the rate of four per cent per annum, payable semiannually on the first days of January and July in each successive year at the office of the state treasurer. (Rev., s. 5029; Code, s. 3571; 1879, c. 98, s. 1.)

§ 7412. Denomination and execution of bonds.—The said bonds to be issued in place of the bonds surrendered are to be coupon bonds of the denomination of fifty dollars, one hundred dollars, five hundred dollars, and one thousand dollars, and are to be numbered from one upwards, in accordance with the order of issue. They shall be signed by the governor and treasurer, and sealed with the great seal of the state; but the coupons thereon may be signed by the treasurer alone, or have a facsimile of his signature printed, engraved, or lithographed thereon. (Rev., s. 5030; Code, s. 3572; 1879, c. 98, s. 2.)

§ 7412(a). What officers may sign bonds.— State bonds duly authorized by law and approved by the Governor and Council of State shall be regarded as duly executed by proper officers if signed and sealed while in office by the officer or officers then authorized to sign and seal the same, notwithstanding one or more of such officers shall not be in office at the time of actual delivery of such bonds. (1925, c. 2.)

§ 7413. Form of bonds.—The bonds so issued shall be in the usual form of bonds of this state, except as modified and provided by this chapter, and shall have printed on the face of the same the words:

Issued in pursuance of an act entitled "An act to compromise, commute, and settle the state debt," ratified the .... day of ....., Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and seventy-nine.

And in large red letters—

"The Consolidated Debt of the State." (Rev., s. 5033; Code, s. 3575; 1879, c. 98, s. 5.)

§ 7413(a). Issuance of temporary bonds.— Whenever the State Treasurer shall be authorized by law to issue bonds or notes of the State, and all acts, conditions and things required by law to happen, exist and be performed, before the delivery thereof for value, shall have happened, shall exist and shall have been performed, except the printing, lithographing or engraving of the definite bonds or notes authorized and the execution thereof, the State Treasurer is authorized, by and with the consent of the Governor and Council of State, to issue and deliver for value temporary bonds or notes, with or without coupons, which may be printed or lithographed in any denomination or denominations which may be a multiple of one thousand dollars, and shall be signed and sealed as shall be provided for the signing and sealing of such definite bonds or notes, and shall be substantially of the tenor of such definite bonds or notes except as herein otherwise provided and except that such temporary bonds or notes shall contain such provisions as the treasurer may elect as to the conditions of payment of the semiannual interest thereon. Every such temporary bond or note shall bear upon its face the words "Temporary Bond (or Note) Exchangeable for Definite Bond." Upon the completion and execution of the definite bonds or notes, such temporary bonds or notes shall be exchangeable without charge therefor to the holder of such temporary bonds or notes for definite bonds or notes of an equal amount of principal. Such exchange shall be made by the treasurer or by a bank or trust company in North Carolina or elsewhere appointed by him as agent which shall have a capital and surplus of not less than the amount of the definite bonds or notes to be so exchanged, and in making such exchange the treasurer shall detach from the definite bonds or notes all coupons which represent interest theretofore paid upon the temporary bonds or notes to be exchanged therefor, and shall cancel all such coupons; and upon such exchange such temporary bonds or notes and coupons attached thereto, if any, shall be forthwith canceled by the treasurer or such agent. Until so exchanged, temporary bonds and notes issued under the authority hereof shall in all respects be entitled to all the rights and privileges of the definite securities. (1925, c. 43.)

§ 7414. Rate of exchange of bonds.—The said bonds shall be exchanged for the old bonds of the state, mentioned in section 7411, at the following rates:

Class 1. Bonds exchangeable at forty per cent:

For the bonds issued before the twentieth day of May, eighteen hundred and sixty-one, forty per cent of the principal of the bond or bonds so surrendered.

Class 2. Bonds exchangeable at twenty-five per cent:

For the bonds issued since the close of the war, by authority of acts passed before the war, to aid in the construction of the Western North Carolina railroad, and the bonds issued in pursuance of the said act of assembly of eighteen hundred and sixty-five, chapter three, and act of assembly, eighteen hundred and sixty-seven, chapter fifty-six; the bonds issued October first, eighteen hundred and sixty-one, by authority of the act of eighteen hundred and sixty-one, chapter one hundred and thirty-seven, for Western (Coalfield) railroad; the bonds issued October first, eighteen hundred and sixty-one, by authority of the act of eighteen hundred and fifty-four and fifty-five, chapter two hundred and twenty-eight, section thirty-five, and resolution September the twelfth, eighteen hundred and sixty-one; and the said registered certificates of the literary fund, for the bonds issued July the first, eighteen hundred and sixty-two, by authority of act of eighteen hundred and sixty and sixty-one, chapter one thousand and forty-two, for the construction of the Wilmington, Charlotte and Rutherford railroad, twenty-five per cent of the principal of the bonds or certificates so surrendered.

Class 3. Bonds exchangeable at fifteen per cent; proviso:

And those issued in pursuance of said funding acts of March tenth, eighteen hundred and sixty-six, and August twentieth, eighteen hundred and sixty-eight, fifteen per cent of the principal of the bond or bonds so surrendered: Provided, that all bonds issued in exchange for the new bonds shall be surrendered with all the coupons attached. (Rev., s. 5032; Code, s. 3574; 1879, c. 98, s. 4.)

§ 7415. List of surrendered bonds kept; bonds destroyed.—The treasurer shall provide a substantially bound book for the purpose, in which he shall make a correct description list of all bonds of the state surrendered, which list shall embrace the number, date and amount of each, and the purpose for which the same was issued, when this can be ascertained, and the names of the persons surrendering the same; and after such list shall be made, such surrendered bonds, being ascertained to be present, shall be consumed by fire in the presence of the governor, the treasurer, the auditor, the attorney-general, the secretary of state and superintendent of public instruction, who shall each certify under his hand respectively in such book that he saw such described bonds so consumed and destroyed. (Rev., s. 5035; Code, s. 3578; 1879, c. 98, s. 8.)

§ 7416. List kept of bonds issued.—The treasurer shall provide a well-bound book, in which shall be kept an accurate account and descriptive list of all the new bonds to be issued, and such descriptive list shall embrace the date, number, and amount of such bond or bonds for which the same was issued, and the name of the person to whom issued. (Rev., s. 5036; Code, s. 3579; 1879, c. 98, s. 9.)

§ 7417. Bonds exempt from taxation. — The said bonds shall be exempt from all state, county, or corporate taxation or assessment, direct or indirect, general or special, whether imposed for the purposes of general revenue or otherwise. The said coupons shall be receivable in payment of any and all state taxes, and the same shall be expressed on the face of each coupon. The coupon shall bear the same number as the bonds to which they are attached, and in addition be numbered from one upwards, in accordance with the date of their maturity. (Rev., s. 5031; Code, s. 3573; 1879, c. 98, s. 3.)

§ 7418. Fiduciaries may exchange bonds.—It shall be lawful for any executor, administrator, guardian, trustee, director of any corporation, and any and all other persons acting in a fiduciary capacity, holding bonds of the state, to make the exchange provided in this chapter, and they shall be absolved from all liability on account of said exchange. (Rev., s. 5037; Code, s. 3580; 1879, c. 98, s. 10.)

§ 7419. Extension of time to compromise state debt.—So much of this chapter as authorizes the exchange of bonds and the issue of new bonds in compromise and settlement of the state debt, being section 7411 of this chapter, shall continue in force until the first day of July, one thousand nine hundred and ten. The governor is directed to resist the collection of all such bonds as are not funded by the time specified herein: Provided, that in issuing such bonds under this extension the public treasurer shall, before delivering any new bonds thereunder, cut off and cancel all coupons whose date of maturity is prior to the time of such delivery. (Rev., s. 5038; Code, s. 3581; 1879, c. 98, s. 11; 1883, c. 6, ss. 1, 2; 1893, c. 47; 1901, c. 126; 1903, c. 39; 1907, c. 96; 1909, c. 703; 1919, c. 314, s. 5.)

§ 7420. Treasurer to give notice.—The state treasurer is authorized to give public notice of this plan for a settlement of the state's indebtedness by advertising in such newspapers as he may select. (Rev., s. 5045; Code, s. 3587; 1879, c. 98, s. 17.)

§ 7421. Certain taxes applied to interest on bonds.—All state taxes levied and collected from professions, trades, incomes, merchants, dealers in cigars, and three-fourths of all the taxes collected from wholesale and retail dealers in spirituous vinous, and malt liquors, shall be held and applied to the payment of the interest on said bonds, and the provisions of this section shall be deemed and taken to be a material part of the consideration for which the bonds of the state shall or may be surrendered. (Rev., s. 5039; Code, s. 3576; 1879, c. 98, s. 6.)

§ 7422. Interest also paid out of general funds.—As a further proviso for the purpose of paying the interest on the consolidated bonds, if the taxes for any one year upon the subjects of taxation hereinbefore mentioned shall be insufficient to pay said interest, then and in that case the state treasurer is authorized to apply any funds in the treasury not otherwise appropriated to that purpose. (Rev., s. 5040; Code, s. 3582; 1879, c. 98, s. 12.)

§ 7423. Excess funds invested in bonds.—If the whole fund raised by such taxes shall not in any one year be required to pay such accruing interest, then and in that case it shall be the duty of the treasurer, with the sanction of the governor and the auditor, to invest the surplus in such of the consolidated bonds or the state bonds issued in aid of the North Carolina railroad, known as construction bonds, or in the state's prison bonds of the issue of one thousand nine hundred and three, as he can buy at the lowest price; and the treasurer may, with the approval of the governor and auditor, sell any portion of the bonds so purchased if necessary to enable him to pay promptly the interest on the consolidated debt of the state. And the treasurer may, with the approval of the governor and auditor, sell any of the consolidated bonds in which he has heretofore invested such surplus and invest the proceeds in the state bonds in aid of the North Carolina railroad, known as construction bonds, to be held by the treasurer for the purpose of protecting the interest on the consolidated debt of the state and sold by him if necessary for that purpose. (Rev., s. 5034; Code, s. 3577; 1879, c. 98, s. 7; 1885, c. 403; 1887, c. 231.)

§ 7424. Contingent bonds to pay interest.—In the event that the taxes collected in any one year upon the aforesaid subjects of taxation and the funds not otherwise appropriated in the treasury, when added together, shall be inadequate to pay said interest, then, in order to provide for the deficiency, the state treasurer is authorized to issue coupon bonds of the denomination of five hundred dollars, bearing date the first day of October or April of the year of the issue, according as one or the other of said dates shall be nearest in point of time to the date of the issue. Said bonds shall be payable forty years after date, but redeemable after ten years at the option of the state, with interest at the rate of six per centum per annum, payable semiannually on the first days of April and October. Said bonds shall bear upon their face in red letters the words "Contingent Bonds," and shall be numbered from one upwards, in accordance with the order of their issue. They shall be signed by the governor and treasurer and sealed with the great seal of the state; but the coupons thereon may be signed by the treasurer alone, or have a facsimile of his signature printed, engraved, or lithographed thereon. The said bonds and coupons shall be exempt from all state, county, or corporate taxation or assessment, direct or indirect, general or special, whether imposed for the purposes of general revenue or otherwise, and they shall be lawful investments by all executors, administrators, guardians, and fiduciaries generally. The coupons on said bonds shall bear the same number as the bonds to which they are attached, and shall in addition be numbered from one upwards in accordance with the date of their maturity, and they shall be, and shall so express upon their face that they are, receivable at and after maturity in payment of all taxes, debts, demands, and dues to the state of every nature and kind whatsoever. (Rev., s. 5041; Code, s. 3583; 1879, c. 98, s. 13.)

§ 7425. Treasurer may sell bonds.—The state treasurer shall be authorized to sell so many of said bonds at par as shall be necessary to provide for the deficiencies aforesaid: Provided, that he shall not issue and sell in the aggregate more than six hundred of these bonds. (Rev., s. 5042; Code, s. 3584; 1879, c. 98, s. 14.)

§ 7426. Payment of interest on contingent bonds.—The provisions of this chapter for paying the interest on the consolidated bonds shall apply as well to the payment of the interest of the said contingent bonds. (Rev., s. 5043; Code, s. 3585; 1879, c. 98, s. 15.)

§ 7427. Appropriation to carry out this chapter.—For the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this chapter in relation to the furnishing of proper blank bonds and coupons, and for the purpose of advertising through the public journals, or otherwise, the details of exchange, for the information of the holders of the bonds, the state treasurer is authorized, with the approval of the governor, to use any funds not otherwise appropriated in the treasury, not exceeding the sum of five thousand dollars, and the public treasurer is authorized to use so much of such sum as may be necessary for the purpose of advertising through the public journals, or otherwise, the details of exchange for the information of holders of said bonds. (Rev., s. 5044; Code, s. 3586; 1879, c. 98, s. 16; 1901, c. 126, s. 3.)

§ 7428. New bond issue authorized.—For the purpose of paying off the consolidated debt bonds of the state, issued by virtue of chapter ninety-eight of the laws of one thousand eight hundred and seventy-nine, which bonds are outstanding in the sum of three million four hundred and twenty-seven thousand dollars, and mature on the first day of July, one thousand nine hundred and ten, the state treasurer is authorized and directed to issue bonds of the state of North Carolina, payable forty years after the first day of July, one thousand nine hundred and ten, to an amount not to exceed the sum of three million four hundred and thirty thousand dollars. (1909, c. 399, s. 1.)

§ 7429. Rate of interest on bonds.—All of said bonds shall bear interest at a rate not exceeding four per cent per annum from the first day of July, one thousand nine hundred and ten, until paid, which interest shall be payable semi-annually on the first days of January and July of each year, so long as any portion of the bonds shall remain due and unpaid. (1909, c. 399, s. 2.)

§ 7430. Denomination of bonds; application of proceeds.—The bonds authorized and directed to be issued by the preceding sections shall be coupon bonds of the denomination of five hundred dollars and one thousand dollars each, as may be determined by the state treasurer, and shall be signed by the governor and the state treasurer and sealed with the great seal of the state. The coupons thereon may be signed by the state treasurer alone, or may have a facsimile of his signature printed, engraved, or lithographed thereon; and the bonds shall in all other respects be in such form as the state treasurer may direct, and the coupons thereon shall, after maturity, be receivable in payment of all taxes, debts, dues, licenses, fines, and demands due the state of North Carolina of any kind whatsoever, which shall be expressed on the face of the bonds. Before selling the bonds herein authorized to be issued, the treasurer shall advertise the sale and invite sealed bids in such manner as in his judgment may seem to be most effectual to secure the best price. He is authorized to accept bids for the entire issue or of any portion thereof, and where the conditions are equal he shall give the preference of purchase to the citizens of North Carolina; and he is authorized to sell the bonds herein authorized in such manner as in his judgment will produce the best price. Any balance left in the hands of the state treasurer from the sale of said bonds, after paying the consolidated debt bonds and the costs of issuing the bonds herein provided for, shall be covered into the general fund. (1909, c. 399, s. 3; 1919, c. 314, s. 5.)

§ 7431. Exemption from taxation; investment by fiduciaries.—The bonds and coupons shall be exempt from all state, county, or municipal taxation or assessment, direct or indirect, general or special, whether imposed for purposes of general revenue or otherwise, and the interest paid thereon shall not be subject to taxation as for income, nor shall said bonds and coupons be subject to taxation when constituting a part of the surplus of any bank, trust company, or other corporation. All executors, administrators, guardians, and fiduciaries generally may invest in said bonds. (1909, c. 399, ss. 4, 5.)

§ 7432. Payment of compromise bonds.—The state treasurer is authorized to pay cash instead of issuing bonds to take up the outstanding compromise bonds according to the provisions of chapter ninety-eight, laws of one thousand eight hundred and seventy-nine, at fifteen, twenty-five, and forty cents on the principal only. (1913, c. 131.)

Art. 1A. General Fund Notes

§ 7432(a). Note issue authorized.—For the purpose of balancing the revenues and disbursements of the general fund at the close of the current fiscal year on June thirty, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five, and of facilitating the placing of the fiscal operations of the State upon a budgetary basis, whereby the cash revenues collected in each fiscal year may be made applicable to and sufficient for the cash expense disbursements of the same period, the State Treasurer is hereby authorized and directed, by and with the consent of the Governor and Council of State, to issue and sell notes of the State, to be designated "General Fund Notes," bearing such date or dates and such rate or rates of interest, not exceeding five per cent per annum payable semi-annually, as may be fixed by the Governor and Council of State. The notes hereby authorized shall mature in such amounts and in annual series, beginning not more than two years nor running longer than ten years from their date or respective dates of issue, as may be fixed by the Governor and Council of State. The aggregate principal amount of said notes shall not exceed the amount the State Auditor shall certify to the Governor and Council of State to be the debit balance resulting from current operations of the general fund June thirty, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five, after deducting therefrom the sum of (one million two hundred fifty-four thousand five hundred dollars) representing the amount of disbursements from the general fund for permanent improvements to various State institutions and the interest upon such disbursements; Provided, however, that such notes may be issued in the aggregate amount of five million dollars, notwithstanding the State Auditor shall not have so certified, it now being known that said debit balance will at least equal the sum of five million dollars. (1925, c. 112, s. 2.)

§ 7432(b). Interest; form; denomination.—Said notes shall carry interest coupons which shall bear the signature of the State Treasurer, or a facsimile thereof, and said notes shall be subject to registration and be signed and sealed as is now or may hereafter be provided by law for State bonds, and the form and denomination thereof shall be such as the State Treasurer may determine in conformity with this article. (1925, c. 112, s. 3.)

§ 7432(c). Sale of notes.—Subject to determination by the Governor and Council of State as to the manner in which said notes shall be offered for sale, whether by publishing notices in certain newspapers and financial journals or by mailing notices or by inviting bids by correspondence or otherwise, the State Treasurer is authorized to sell said notes at one time or from time to time at the best price obtainable, but in no case for less than par and accrued interest, and when the conditions are equal he shall give the preference of purchase to the citizens of North Carolina. All expenses necessarily incurred in the preparation and sale of the notes shall be paid from the proceeds of such sale. (1925, c. 112, s. 4.)

§ 7432(d). Proceeds of notes.—The proceeds of said notes shall be placed by the Treasurer in the general fund. (1925, c. 112, s. 5.)

§ 7432(e). Borrowing money to pay interest.—By and with the consent of the Governor and Council of State, who shall determine the rate or maximum rate of interest and the date or approximate date of interest, the State Treasurer is hereby authorized to borrow money at the lowest rate of interest obtainable, and to execute and issue notes of the State for the same, for the payment of interest upon or any installment of principal of any of the notes authorized by section 7432(a) then outstanding, if there shall not be sufficient funds in the State Treasury with which to pay such interest or installment as they respectively fall due, and for the renewal, from time to time, of any loan evidenced by the notes authorized by this section. Interest payments upon the notes authorized by this section may be evidenced by interest coupons in the Treasurer's discretion. (1925, c. 112, s. 6.)

§ 7432(f). Faith of state pledged. — The full faith, credit and taxing power of the State are hereby pledged for the payment of the principal and interest of all the notes herein authorized. (1925, c. 112, s. 7.)

§ 7432(g). Coupons receivable for debts due state.—The coupons of all said notes after maturity shall be receivable in payment of all taxes, debts, dues, licenses, fines and demands due the State of any kind whatsoever. (1925, c. 172, s. 8.)

§ 7432(h). Exemption from taxation.—All of said notes and coupons shall be exempt from all State, county and municipal taxation or assessments, direct or indirect, general or special, whether imposed for the purpose of general revenue or otherwise, and the interest on said notes shall not be subject to taxation as for income, nor shall said notes or coupons be subject to taxation when constituting a part of the surplus of any bank, trust company or other corporation. (1925, c. 112, s. 9.)

§ 7432(i). Fiduciaries may invest in notes.— It shall be lawful for all executors, administrators, guardians and fiduciaries generally, and all sinking fund commissions, to invest any moneys in their hands in any of said notes. (1925, c. 112, s. 10.)

§ 7432(j). Finding by Governor and Council. —Whenever it shall appear by formal finding of the Governor and Council of State, within seven days before any bonds or notes of the State or any interest thereon shall fall due, that it is advisable to issue notes of the State to provide for the renewal or payment of such bonds, notes or interest and that the State Treasurer is unable for any reason to negotiate or to issue such notes, it shall be the duty of the chief clerk of the State treasury, if the issuance of such notes shall have been authorized by law, upon certification to him of such finding, and in the name of the State Treasurer, to make all necessary negotiations and to sign and deliver such notes for value and to attach thereto the seal of the State Treasurer. (1927, c. 12, s. 1.)

§ 7432(k). Notes of State issued for balancing revenues and disbursements and in anticipation of taxes.—For the purpose of balancing the revenues and disbursements of the general fund at the close of the current fiscal year on June thirtieth, one thousand nine hundred thirty-one, so as to place the fiscal operations of the State for the biennium one thousand nine hundred thirty-one —one thousand nine hundred thirty-three upon a budgetary basis for said biennium without relation to preceding fiscal operations, and in anticipation of the collection of taxes from time to time so that such sums as may be necessary to make the payments of appropriations to the various institutions, departments and agencies of the State as even as possible during the biennium of one thousand nine hundred thirty-one—one thousand nine hundred thirty-three, and to preserve the best interest of the State in the conduct of its various departments, institutions and agencies during each fiscal year and said biennium, the state treasurer, upon direction of the director of the budget, by and with the consent of the governor and council of state, shall have authority to borrow, in the name of the State, and pledge the credit of the State for the payment thereof, such sum or sums as may be necessary for such purposes and as may be determined by the governor and council of state. General fund notes of the State, and renewals of such notes, bearing such date or dates and such rate or rates of interest, and maturing in such amounts and at such time or times as may be determined by the governor and council of state, shall be executed by the state treasurer and negotiated and disposed of by him in such manner as may be determined by the governor and council of state. (1931, c. 371, s. 2.)

See § 7472(zz).

Art. 2. Bonds for the Care of the Insane. 1909

§ 7433. Bond issue authorized.—For the purpose of paying the two hundred and fifty thousand dollars already borrowed by the state treasurer and to make provision for the two hundred and fifty thousand dollars yet to be expended by the state hospital commission by virtue of chapter one hundred and ninety-one of the public laws of one thousand nine hundred and seven, the state treasurer is hereby authorized and directed to issue bonds of the state of North Carolina, payable forty years after the first day of July, one thousand nine hundred and nine, to an amount not to exceed the sum of five hundred thousand dollars: Provided, that out of the proceeds of said bonds shall be paid the sum of twenty thousand dollars deficit existing in the accounts of the state hospital at Morganton, and also the sum of eleven thousand dollars deficit existing in the accounts of the eastern hospital at Goldsboro. (1909, c. 510, s. 1.)

Constitutional. — This article is constitutional and the amendment directing that some of the funds be applied to pay deficits in the accounts of the state hospital at Morganton, and the eastern hospital at Goldsboro, although added after the second reading and not passing all the aye and no vote, does not make the article unconstitutional, at the other constitutional requirements have been met. Raleigh Sav. Bank v. Lacy, 151 N. C. 3, 65 S. E. 441.

§ 7434. Rate of interest on bonds.—All of such bonds shall bear interest at a rate not exceeding four per cent per annum from the first day of July, one thousand nine hundred and nine, until paid, payable semiannually on the first days of January and July of each year, so long as any portion of the bonds remain due and unpaid. (1909, c. 510, s. 2.)

§ 7435. Formal execution and sale of bonds.—The bonds authorized and directed to be issued by the preceding sections shall be coupon bonds, of the denomination of five hundred dollars and one thousand dollars each, as may be determined by the state treasurer, and shall be signed by the governor and state treasurer and sealed with the great seal of the state. The coupons thereon may be signed by the state treasurer alone or may have a facsimile of his signature printed, engraved, or lithographed thereon, and the bonds shall in all other respects be in such form as the state treasurer may direct; and the coupons thereon shall, after maturity, be receivable in payment of all taxes, debts, dues, licenses, fines, and demands due the state of North Carolina, which shall be expressed on the face of the bonds. Before selling the bonds herein authorized to be issued, the treasurer shall advertise the sale and invite sealed bids, in such manner as in his judgment may seem to be most effectual to secure the best price. He is authorized to accept bids for the entire issue or of any portion thereof, and where the conditions are equal he shall give the preference of purchase to the citizens of North Carolina; and he is authorized to sell the bonds herein authorized in such manner as in his judgment will produce the best price. (1909, c. 510, s. 3.)

§ 7436. Exemption from taxation; investment by fiduciaries.—The bonds and coupons shall be exempt from all state, county, or municipal taxation or assessment, direct or indirect, general or special, whether imposed for the purpose of general revenue or otherwise, and the interest paid thereon shall not be subject to taxation as for income, nor shall the bonds and coupons be subject to taxation when constituting a part of the surplus of any bank, trust company, or other corporation. All executors, administrators, guardians, and fiduciaries generally may invest in such bonds. (1909, c. 510, ss. 4, 5.)

Bank Capital Invested in Bonds.—All bank stock is taxable at its value less the assessed value of the bank's real and personal property, although the capital is invested in bonds issued under section 7433. But so much of the surplus over and above the capital as is invested in such nontaxable bonds is exempt and must be deducted from the surplus in assessing the value of the stock for taxation. Pullen v. Corporation Comm., 152 N. C. 548, 68 S. E 155.

Art. 3. Bonds for State Building. 1911

§ 7437. Bond issue authorized.—For the purpose of erecting a state building as provided for in chapter sixty-six of the public laws of one thousand nine hundred and eleven, the state treasurer is authorized and directed to issue bonds of the state of North Carolina, payable forty years after the first day of July, one thousand nine hundred and eleven, to an amount not exceeding the sum of two hundred and fifty thousand dollars, such bonds to be issued and sold, after due advertisement, on the best obtainable terms from time to time as the money is needed to meet the expenses of the building commission. Said bonds shall not be sold for less than par. All of said bonds shall bear interest at a rate not exceeding four per cent per annum, from the date of issue until paid, which interest shall be paid semiannually on the first days of January and July of each year, so long as any portion of the bonds shall remain due and unpaid. If in the progress of the work funds should be needed at a time when financial conditions should seem unfavorable for the sale of bonds, then, in his discretion, the state treasurer may negotiate a temporary loan or loans upon the best obtainable terms, and, if necessary, pledge any of the unsold bonds as collateral therefor. (1911, c. 66, s. 8.)

§ 7438. Formal execution of bonds. — The bonds authorized to be issued by the preceding section shall be coupon bonds of the denomination of one hundred dollars, five hundred dollars, and one thousand dollars, as may be determined by the state treasurer, and shall be signed by the governor and the state treasurer, and sealed with the great seal of state. The coupons thereon may be signed by the state treasurer, or may have a facsimile of his signature printed, engraved, or lithographed thereon; and the bonds shall in all other respects be in such form as the state treasurer may direct. (1911, c. 66, s. 9.)

§ 7439. Exemption from taxation; investment by fiduciaries.—The bonds and coupons shall be exempt from all state, county, or municipal taxation or assessment, direct or indirect, general or special, whether imposed for the purpose of general revenue or otherwise, and the interest paid thereon shall not be subject to taxation as for income, nor shall the bonds or coupons be subject to taxation when constituting a part of the surplus of any bank, trust company, or other corporation, but when constituting a part of such surplus shall be deducted from the total assets in order to ascertain the taxable value of such shares. All executors, administrators, guardians, and fiduciaries generally may invest in such bonds. (1911, c. 66, ss. 10, 11.)

Art. 4. Bonds for Payment of State Debt (1903) and South Dakota Bonds. 1911

§ 7440. New bond issue authorized.—For the purpose of paying off the bonds of the state by virtue of chapter seven hundred and fifty of the public laws of one thousand nine hundred and three, and chapter five hundred and forty-three of the public laws of one thousand nine hundred and five, all of which bonds fall due on the first day of January, one thousand nine hundred and thirteen, the state treasurer is hereby authorized and directed to issue bonds of the state of North Carolina, payable forty years after the first day of January, one thousand nine hundred and thirteen, to an amount not to exceed the sum of five hundred and fifty thousand dollars. (1911, c. 73, s. 1.)

§ 7441. Rate of interest on bonds.—All of said bonds shall bear interest at a rate not exceeding four per cent per annum from the first day of January, one thousand nine hundred and thirteen, until paid, which interest shall be payable semiannually on the first days of January and July of each year, so long as any portion of the said bonds shall remain due and unpaid. (1911, c. 73, s. 2.)

§ 7442. Formal execution of bonds; application of proceeds.—The bonds authorized and directed to be issued by the preceding sections shall be coupon bonds of the denomination of five hundred dollars and one thousand dollars each, as may be determined by the state treasurer, and shall be signed by the governor and the state treasurer and sealed with the great seal of the state. The coupons thereon may be signed by the state treasurer alone, or may have a facsimile of his signature printed, engraved, or lithographed thereon; and the bonds shall in all other respects be in such form as the state treasurer may direct; and the coupons thereon shall, after maturity, be receivable in payment of all taxes, debts, dues, licenses, fines, and demands due the state of North Carolina, which shall be expressed on the face of said bonds. Before selling the bonds herein authorized to be issued, the treasurer shall advertise the sale and invite sealed bids in such manner as in his judgment may seem to be the most effectual to secure the best price. He is authorized to accept bids for the entire issue or of any portion thereof, and, where the conditions are equal, he shall give the preference of purchase to the citizens of North Carolina; and he is authorized to sell the bonds herein authorized in such manner as in his judgment will produce the best price. Any balance left in the hands of the state treasurer from the sale of the bonds, after paying the bonds falling due January first, one thousand nine hundred and thirteen, and the costs of issuing the bonds herein provided for, shall be covered into the general fund. (1911, c. 73, s. 3.)

§ 7443. Exemption from taxation; investment by fiduciaries.—The bonds and coupons shall be exempt from all state, county, or municipal taxation or assessment, direct or indirect, general or special, whether imposed for the purposes of general revenue or otherwise, and the interest paid thereon shall not be subject to taxation as for income, nor shall the bonds and coupons be subject to taxation when constituting a part of the surplus of any bank, trust company, or other corporation. All executors, administrators, guardians, and fiduciaries generally may invest in such bonds. (1911, c. 73, ss. 4, 5.)

§ 7444. Payment of bonds similar to South Dakota bonds.—The state treasurer is authorized to pay to any other holder and owner of the bonds of the issue upon which the South Dakota judgment was rendered, payment of which was provided for in chapter five hundred and forty-three of the public laws of one thousand nine hundred and five, the same price per bond as he is herein authorized to pay to Schaffer Brothers, to-wit, twenty-five per cent of said bonds, with interest on said twenty-five per cent. (1909, c. 718.)

Art. 5. Bonds for Central Heating Plant. 1913

§ 7445. Bond issue authorized.—For the purpose of providing a central heating plant as directed in chapter one hundred and forty-three of the public laws of one thousand nine hundred and thirteen, the state treasurer is authorized and directed to issue bonds of the state of North Carolina, payable forty years after the first day of July, one thousand nine hundred and thirteen, to an amount not exceeding the sum of forty thousand dollars, such bonds to be issued and sold, after due advertisement, on the best obtainable terms from time to time as the money is needed to meet the expenses of the board of public buildings and grounds. Said bonds shall not be sold for less than par. All of said bonds shall bear interest at a rate not exceeding four per centum per annum from the date of issue until paid, which interest shall be paid semiannually on the first days of January and July of each year, so long as any portion of the bonds remain due and unpaid. If in the progress of the work funds should be needed at a time when financial conditions should seem unfavorable for the sale of bonds, then, in his discretion, the state treasurer may negotiate a temporary loan or loans upon the best obtainable terms and, if necessary, pledge any of the unsold bonds as collateral therefor. (1913, c. 143, s. 3.)

§ 7446. Formal execution of bonds. — The bonds authorized and directed to be issued by the preceding section shall be coupon bonds of the denominations of one hundred dollars, five hundred dollars, or one thousand dollars each, as may be determined by the state treasurer, and shall be signed by the governor and the state treasurer, and shall be sealed with the the great seal of the state. The coupons thereon may be signed by the state treasurer, or may have a facsimile of his signature printed, engraved, or lithographed thereon; and the bonds shall in all other respects be in such form as the state treasurer may direct. (1913, c. 143, s. 4.)

§ 7447. Exemption from taxation.—The bonds and coupons shall be exempt from all state, county, or municipal taxation or assessment, direct or indirect, general or special, whether imposed for the purposes of general revenue or otherwise, and the interest paid thereon shall not be subject to taxation as for income, nor shall the bonds or coupons be subject to taxation when constituting a part of the surplus of any bank, trust company, or other corporation, but when constituting a part of such surplus shall be deducted from the total assets in order to ascertain the taxable value of such shares. (1913, c. 143, s. 5.)

Art. 6. Improvement Bonds. 1913

§ 7448. Bond issue authorized.—For the purpose of relieving the deficit in the state treasury, for furnishing, painting, and heating the new state building, for rearranging and furnishing the supreme court building, and installing a new equipment in the office of the state treasurer, and for meeting the appropriations made for permanent improvements for the several state institutions hereinafter mentioned, the state treasurer is authorized and directed to issue bonds of the state of North Carolina, payable forty years after the first day of July, one thousand nine hundred and thirteen, to an amount not to exceed the sum of one million one hundred and forty-two thousand and five hundred dollars. (1913, c. 102, s. 1.)

§ 7449. Rate of interest on bonds.—All of said bonds shall bear interest at a rate not exceeding four per centum per annum from the first day of July, one thousand nine hundred and thirteen, until paid, which interest shall be payable semiannually on the first days of January and July of each year so long as any portion of the bonds remain unpaid. (1913, c. 102, s. 2.)

§ 7450. Formal execution and sale of bonds.—The bonds authorized and directed to be issued by the preceding sections shall be coupon bonds of the denomination of five hundred dollars and one thousand dollars each, as may be determined by the state treasurer, and shall be signed by the governor and the state treasurer, and sealed with the great seal of the state. The coupons thereon may be signed by the state treasurer alone, or may have a facsimile of his signature printed, engraved, or lithographed thereon; and the bonds shall in all other respects be in such form as the state treasurer may direct; and the coupons thereon shall, after maturity, be receivable in payment of all taxes, debts, dues, licenses, fines, and demands due the state of North Carolina, which shall be expressed on the face of the bonds. Before selling the bonds herein authorized to be issued, the treasurer shall advertise the sale and invite sealed bids in such manner as in his judgment may seem to be the most effectual to secure the best price. He is authorized to accept bids for the entire issue or of any portion thereof, and, where the conditions are equal, he shall give the preference of purchase to the citizens of North Carolina; and he is authorized to sell the bonds herein authorized in such manner as in his judgment will produce the best price. (1913, c. 102, s. 3.)

§ 7451. Exemption from taxation; investment by fiduciaries.—The bonds and coupons shall be exempt from all state, county, or municipal taxation or assessment, direct or indirect, general or special, whether imposed for the purposes of general revenue or otherwise, and the interest paid thereon shall not be subject to taxation as for income, nor shall said bonds and coupons be subject to taxation when constituting a part of the surplus of any bank, trust company, or other corporation. All executors, administrators, guardians, and fiduciaries generally may invest in such bonds. (1913, c. 102, ss. 4, 5.)

§ 7452. Application of proceeds.—The proceeds from the sale of said bonds are to be expended in accordance with the provisions of the general appropriation bill, enacted at the session of the general assembly of one thousand nine hundred and thirteen, as follows: To cover the deficit in the state treasury, six hundred thousand dollars; for equipping and painting the new administration building, seventy-five thousand dollars; for remodeling and refurnishing the supreme court building and furnishing the office of the state treasurer, forty thousand dollars; for a central heating plant, forty thousand dollars; for permanent improvements at the several state institutions, as follows: state hospital at Morganton, fifty thousand dollars; state hospital at Goldsboro, twenty-five thousand dollars; North Carolina state college of agriculture and engineering at Raleigh, twenty-five thousand dollars; university of North Carolina, one hundred thousand dollars; the state normal and industrial college at Greensboro, fifty thousand dollars; the negro agricultural and technical college at Greensboro, seventeen thousand five hundred dollars; the Appalachian training school at Boone, fifteen thousand dollars; the Cullowhee normal and industrial school, fifteen thousand dollars; East Carolina teachers' training school at Greenville, forty thousand dollars; the North Carolina sanatorium for the treatment of tuberculosis, at Sanatorium, twenty thousand dollars; for the purchase of land for the state school for the blind and the deaf, near Raleigh, thirty thousand dollars. (1913, c. 102, s. 7.)

Art. 7. Bonds for Payment of North Carolina Railroad Bonds. 1919

§ 7453. New bond issue authorized.—For the purpose of paying off the bonds issued for the purpose of renewing and adjusting a portion of the state debt incurred to aid in the construction of the North Carolina railroad, issued by virtue of chapter one hundred and thirty-eight of the laws of one thousand eight hundred and seventy-nine, which bonds are now outstanding in the sum of two million seven hundred and twenty thousand dollars and will mature on the first day of April, one thousand nine hundred and nineteen, the state treasurer is hereby authorized and directed to issue bonds of the state of North Carolina to an amount not to exceed the sum of two million seven hundred and twenty thousand dollars, which said bonds may be issued, in the discretion of the state treasurer, in one or more series, payable and maturing not exceeding forty years after the first day of April, one thousand nine hundred and nineteen. (1919, c. 1, s. 1.)

§ 7454. Rate of interest on bonds.—All of said bonds shall bear interest at a rate not exceeding four per cent per annum from the first day of April, one thousand nine hundred and nineteen, until paid, which said interest shall be payable semi-annually on the first days of October and April of each and every year, so long as any portion of the said bonds shall remain due and unpaid. (1919, c. 1, s. 2.)

§ 7455. Execution and sale of bonds; application of proceeds.—The bonds authorized and directed to be issued by the preceding sections shall be coupon bonds of the denominations of five hundred dollars and one thousand dollars each, as may be determined by the state treasurer, and shall be signed by the governor and the state treasurer and sealed with the great seal of the state. The coupons thereon may be signed by the treasurer alone, or may have a facsimile of his signature printed, engraved, or lithographed thereon; and the said bonds shall in all respects be in such form as the said treasurer may direct and the coupons thereon shall, after maturity, be receivable in payment of all taxes, debts, dues, licenses, fines, and demands due the state of North Carolina, of any kind whatsoever, which shall be expressed on the face of said bonds. Before selling the bonds herein authorized to be issued, the treasurer shall advertise the sale and invite sealed bids in such manner as will secure the sale of the bonds at the highest price, not less than their par value. He is authorized to accept bids for the entire issue or for any portion thereof, and where the conditions are equal, he shall give the preference of purchase to the citizens of North Carolina; and he is authorized to sell the bonds herein authorized in such manner as will secure the sale of the bonds at the best price, not less than their par value. Any balance left in the hands of the state treasurer from the sale of these said bonds, after paying the said bonds issued for the purpose of renewing and adjusting a portion of the state debt incurred to aid in the construction of the North Carolina railroad, and the cost of issuing the bonds herein provided for, shall be covered into the general fund. (1919, c. 1, s. 3.)

§ 7456. Exemption from taxation; investment by fiduciaries.—Such bonds and coupons shall be exempt from all state, county, and municipal taxation or assessment, direct or indirect, general or special, whether imposed for the purpose of general revenue or otherwise, and the interest paid thereon shall not be subject to taxation as for income, nor shall said bonds and coupons be subject to taxation when constituting a part of the surplus of any bank, trust company, or other corporation. All executors, administrators, guardians, and fiduciaries generally may invest in such bonds. (1919, c. 1, ss. 4, 5.)

§ 7457. Treasurer may borrow and execute notes if bonds not sold.—In the event the state treasurer shall not be able to sell any or all of the state bonds herein authorized to be issued, and shall not be able to sell the bonds authorized to be issued under article 8 of this chapter, then the state treasurer is hereby authorized, empowered and directed, by and with the advice of the governor and his council of state, to borrow for a period not exceeding two years and at the lowest rate of interest obtainable, such sum of money as shall be required to pay in full the bonds of the state of North Carolina payable on April first, one thousand nine hundred and nineteen, and also to the amount of the bonds authorized to be issued under article 8 of this chapter, and the state treasurer is authorized and empowered, to execute and deliver, in the name of the state, notes for the money so borrowed, and to renew the same from time to time, if necessary, but, however, for a total period not longer than two years from April first, one thousand nine hundred and nineteen. And the said treasurer, in the event he shall not be able to sell, by the advertisement in this article directed, all of said bonds in this article authorized to be issued and the bonds authorized to be issued under article 8 of this chapter, is authorized, empowered and directed to sell thereafter any of said bonds from time to time, as he may be able, until the entire issues are sold, at the best price, but not less than the par value thereof and accrued interest. (1919, c. 1, s. 6.)

§ 7458. Notes exempted from taxation; investment by fiduciaries.—All notes authorized under this article to be issued by the state treasurer in lieu of bonds for borrowed money shall be exempt from all state, county, and municipal taxation or assessment, direct or indirect, general or special whether imposed for purposes of general revenue or otherwise, and the interest paid thereon shall not be subject to taxation as for income, nor shall said notes be subject to taxation when constituting a part of the surplus of any bank, trust company, or other corporation. All executors, administrators, guardians or other fiduciaries generally may invest in such notes. (1919, c. 11, ss. 1, 2.)

Art. 8. Improvement Bonds. 1917

§ 7459. Bond issue authorized.—For the purpose of permanently enlarging the state's educational and charitable institutions to make them adequate to the demands and necessities of the people of the state, the state treasurer is hereby authorized and directed to issue bonds of the state of North Carolina, payable in the manner and at the date hereinafter described, to an amount not exceeding three million dollars, and said bonds shall be issued in the following amounts, to wit:

To be issued in the year 1917	$500,000.00
To be issued in the year 1918	$500,000.00
To be issued in the year 1919	$500,000.00
To be issued in the year 1920	$500,000.00
To be issued in the year 1921	$500,000.00
To be issued in the year 1922	$500,000.00

As to effect of this section on prior tuberculosis laws, see note to section 7058.

§ 7460. Rate of interest on bonds.—All of said bonds shall bear interest at a rate not exceeding four per centum per annum from the date of issue until paid, and the bonds shall bear date as of the first day of July of each year in which they are authorized to be issued from the year one thousand nine hundred and seventeen to the year one thousand nine hundred and twenty-two, both inclusive, which interest shall be payable semiannually on the first days of January and of July of each year so long as any portion of the bonds shall remain due and unpaid. (1917, c. 154, s. 2.)

§ 7461. Execution and sale of bonds. — The bonds authorized and directed to be issued by the preceding sections shall be coupon bonds of the denomination of fifty dollars and of one hundred dollars and of five hundred dollars and one thousand dollars each, as may be determined by the state treasurer, and shall be signed by the governor and state treasurer and sealed with the great seal of the state. The coupons thereon may be signed by the state treasurer alone, or may have a facsimile of his signature printed, engraved, or lithographed thereon, and the bonds shall in all other respects be in such form as the state treasurer may direct. The coupons thereon shall, after maturity, be receivable in payment of all taxes, debts, dues, licenses, fines, and demands due the state of North Carolina, which shall be expressed on the face of the bonds. Before selling any of the series of bonds herein authorized to be issued, the state treasurer shall advertise the sale and invite sealed bids in such manner as in his judgment may seem to be most effectual to secure the par of the bonds at the lowest rate of interest. He is authorized to accept bids for the entire issue of the bonds in any one year, or of any portion thereof, and where the conditions are equal he shall give the preference of purchase to the citizens of North Carolina; and he is authorized to sell the bonds herein authorized in such manner as in his judgment will produce the par value of the bonds at the lowest rate of interest. He is further authorized to sell the bonds at not less than par and accrued interest at any time on and after the first day of July of each and every year until the full issue authorized to be issued under this article shall have been issued; and he may prescribe and publish the terms of payment for the bonds and receive subscriptions therefor: Provided, the state shall receive not less than the par value of the bonds, plus accrued interest thereon at the time of delivery. The bonds shall be due and payable, one hundred thousand dollars on July first, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three, and one hundred thousand dollars on July first of each year thereafter until the whole series authorized by this article to be issued shall be paid. (1917, c. 154, s. 3; 1919, c. 44, ss. 1, 2.)

§ 7462. Exemption from taxation; investment by fiduciaries.—The bonds and coupons shall be exempt from all state, county, or municipal taxation or assessment, direct or indirect, general or special, whether imposed for purposes of general revenue or otherwise, and the interest paid thereon shall not be subject to taxation as for income, nor shall the bonds and coupons be subject to taxation when constituting a part of the surplus of any bank, trust company, or other corporation. All executors, administrators, guardians, and fiduciaries generally may invest in such bonds. (1917, c. 154, ss. 4, 5.)

§ 7463. Application of proceeds.—The proceeds derived from the sale of said bonds shall be used entirely and exclusively for the permanent improvement and equipment of the following institutions of the state and in the following amounts, to wit:

The state hospital at Raleigh, two hundred thousand dollars.

The state hospital at Morganton, two hundred thousand dollars.

The state hospital at Goldsboro, one hundred and twenty-five thousand dollars.

The North Carolina school for the deaf, located at Morganton, sixty thousand dollars.

The Stonewall Jackson training school, near Concord, fifty thousand dollars.

The university of North Carolina, five hundred thousand dollars.

North Carolina sanatorium for the treatment of tuberculosis, located at Sanatorium, one hundred and fifty thousand dollars.

East Carolina teachers' training school at Greenville, two hundred thousand dollars.

Appalachian training school, at Boone, fifty thousand dollars.

Cullowhee normal and industrial school at Cullowhee, forty thousand dollars.

North Carolina state college of agriculture and engineering, located at Raleigh, three hundred thousand dollars.

The state normal and industrial college, located at Greensboro, five hundred thousand dollars.

For the negro agricultural and technical college at Greensboro, twenty-five thousand dollars.

For the state normal school for negroes, ten thousand dollars.

For the state board of education, for the purpose of aiding in building public schoolhouses in the state, five hundred thousand dollars.

For the erection of a state's storage warehouse in the city of Raleigh, and the purchase of land therefor, fifty thousand dollars.

For the installation of approved apparatus for the protection of the state's institutions against fire, forty thousand dollars.

The proceeds of the sale of bonds herein authorized shall be used solely and exclusively for the permanent enlargement and improvement of the state's institutions herein named and for the other purposes herein named; but the building commission is authorized and directed, if they shall deem it necessary, to use such part of the amount appropriated to any institution herein named for the repair or repairs of said institution which may in their judgment be necessary to preserve the buildings for all use.

The building commission is directed to prorate the proceeds of the sale of bonds issued each year under this article according to the amount appropriated to each institution or object. And the building commission shall not approve any expenditure or contract during the years one thousand nine hundred and seventeen and one thousand nine hundred and eighteen in excess of the appropriations for said years. (1917, c. 154, ss. 6, 8 joint resolution No. 40, 1917, 1919, c. 314, s. 5.)

Art. 9. Debt for Certain Institutions Authorized

§ 7464. Treasurer authorized to borrow and execute notes.—Whereas certain of the educational and charitable institutions of the state are inadequate to meet the demands of the people of the state, and it is required by the public interests that these institutions be permanently enlarged; and

Whereas the institutions for whose permanent enlargement bonds were authorized to be issued under article 8 of this chapter are now in great need of the amount of the bonds in said article apportioned to them, therefore for the purposes recited the state treasurer is hereby authorized, empowered, and directed, by and with the advice of the governor and his council of state, to borrow for a period of two years and at the lowest rate of interest obtainable, the sum of nine hundred and forty-six thousand dollars; and he is further authorized and empowered to execute in the name of the state of North Carolina and deliver notes for the money herein authorized to be borrowed, and to renew the same from time to time, if necessary, for a total period of not longer than two years from the date of the original notes. (1919, c. 328, s. 1.)

§ 7465. Disposition of proceeds.—The proceeds derived from the sale of such notes are appropriated and set apart for the permanent enlargement and improvement of the following educational and charitable institutions of the state and in the following amounts, to wit:

For the Caswell training school, three hundred thousand dollars.

For the state hospital at Raleigh, eighty thousand dollars.

For the agricultural and technical college for the negroes, at Greensboro, six thousand dollars.

For the state normal for the negroes, at Elizabeth City, thirty thousand dollars.

For the state normal for the negroes, at Fayetteville, thirty thousand dollars.

For the state sanatorium for tuberculosis, one hundred thousand dollars.

For the orthopedic hospital, twenty-thousand dollars.

For the erection and construction of a suitable and adequate building for the agricultural department on the lot now owned by it in the city of Raleigh, two hundred and fifty thousand dollars.

For the erection of suitable buildings for the state prison on the state farm or other place selected, one hundred thousand dollars.

For the Slater normal and industrial school at Winston-Salem, thirty thousand dollars: Provided, that of this amount only the sum of twenty-thousand dollars shall be immediately available, and the remainder, ten thousand dollars, shall become available only when the said Slater normal and industrial school shall raise from other sources and have available the sum of ten thousand dollars, which fact shall be certified to the state treasurer by the president and treasurer of said school, verified before a notary public. Out of said sum the trustees are authorized to buy such additional land and buildings for said school as may, in their judgment, be deemed necessary, not exceeding fifteen thousand dollars. (1919, c. 328, s. 2.)

§ 7466. Treasurer may borrow in anticipation of certain bonds.—The state treasurer is further authorized, empowered, and directed to borrow, by and with the advice of the governor and his council of state, in anticipation of the bonds authorized to be issued under article 8 of this chapter, and for the institutions therein named, but, however, not exceeding the total amount of the bonds authorized thereunder, such sums of money from time to time as the trustees or directors of the said institutions therein named may need and shall be approved by the state building commission; the said sums of money to be borrowed at the lowest rate of interest obtainable, and the state treasurer is authorized and empowered to execute in the name of the state of North Carolina and deliver notes for the money in this section authorized to be borrowed, and to renew the same from time to time, if necesary, until the bonds authorized to be issued under article 8 of this chapter are issued and sold as directed; and the said treasurer is directed to pay the notes issued pursuant to the authority conferred upon him in this section with the proceeds of the sale of said bonds as fast as and as soon as the said bonds are sold. (1919, c. 328, s. 5.)

§ 7466(a). Reimbursement of treasurer for interest.—Whenever it shall become necessary for the state treasurer to borrow money to provide the maintenance fund for any state institution, the said treasurer is authorized to deduct from the sum appropriated for maintenance of said institution the amount of interest the treasurer shall have to pay for the use of said fund. This section shall apply to all future laws creating a maintenance fund for any state institution, unless said laws shall specifically state otherwise. (1923, c. 210.)

§ 7467. Exemption from taxation; investment by fiduciaries.—Any and all notes issued by the state treasurer under the provisions of this article shall be exempt from all state, county, and municipal taxation or assessment, direct or indirect, general or special, whether imposed for purposes of general revenue or otherwise, and the interest paid thereon shall not be subject to taxation as for income, nor shall said notes be subject to taxation when constituting a part of the surplus of any bank, trust company, or other corporation; and it shall be lawful for all executors, administrators, guardians, and fiduciaries generally to invest in said notes. (1919, c. 328, s. 6.)

§ 7468. Construction from proceeds under supervision of state building commission. — All buildings built, improved, or constructed with the proceeds of the money herein authorized to be borrowed for and on account of the institutions named shall be constructed and built by and under the supervision of the state building commission. (1919, c. 328, s. 3.)

§ 7469. Liquidation of notes.—The state treasurer is further authorized and directed to apply the surplus in the treasury not otherwise appropriated at the end of the fiscal year of one thousand nine hundred and twenty to the liquidation, payment, and settlement of the notes herein in section 7464 authorized to be issued to the amount the same will pay. (1919, c. 328, s. 4.)

§ 7470. State prison converted to hospital from proceeds of hospital bonds.—The directors of the state hospitals are authorized to use and expend, under the supervision and direction of the state building commission as much of the proceeds of the bonds apportioned to the state hospital at Raleigh and the state hospital at Morganton, under article 8 of this chapter, as may be required to make available and suitable the property and buildings of the state prison at Raleigh, which have been, by an act of the general assembly of one thousand nine hundred and nineteen, directed to be turned over to and incorporated with the property of the state hospital at Raleigh. (1919, c. 328, s. 7.)

§ 7471. All construction as near fireproof as practicable; exception.—All buildings improved, constructed, or built for any of the institutions of the state from the proceeds of the sale of bonds authorized to be issued under article 8 of this chapter, or from the money borrowed under the provisions of this article, shall be improved, built, and constructed as near fireproof as in the judgment of the state building commission is practicable or possible, except the buildings erected by the state prison; and the approval by the state building commission of the plans furnished to it by the state institutions shall be final and conclusive. (1919, c. 328, s. 9.)

§ 7472. Sale of state blind institution property. —The governor and his council of state are hereby authorized, empowered, and directed to sell for the highest obtainable price the square and the buildings thereon now occupied in the city of Raleigh by the state blind institution, and the proceeds of such sale shall be paid to the state treasurer for the use of the blind institution for the completion of its new buildings and equipment thereof. Until such sale can be made, the state treasurer is authorized and empowered to borrow a sum not exceeding one hundred and fifty thousand dollars at the lowest obtainable rate of interest, and the said state treasurer is authorized to execute in the name of the state of North Carolina and deliver notes for the money herein authorized to be borrowed, and to renew the same from time to time, if necessary, until the said square and buildings are sold and paid for, when the said notes shall be discharged and paid for from such proceeds; and the surplus of said proceeds shall be placed to the credit of said blind institution. (1919, c. 328, s. 10.)

Art. 10. Bonds for Permanent Enlargement and Improvement of Educational and Charitable Institutions. 1921

§ 7472(a). Purpose of bond issue; issue authorized; amount and dates of issue.—For the purpose of permanently enlarging the state's educational and charitable institutions, to make them adequate to the demands and necessities of the people of the state, the state treasurer is hereby authorized and directed to issue bonds of the state of North Carolina, payable in the manner and at the dates hereinafter described, to an amount not exceeding six million seven hundred and forty-five thousand dollars ($6,745,000), and said bonds shall be issued in the following amounts to wit:

To be issued in the year 1921.....$3,372,500
To be issued in the year 1922.....$3,372,500

§ 7472(b). Interest and date.—All of said bonds shall bear interest at a rate not exceeding five per centum per annum from the date of said issue until paid, and the said bonds shall bear date as of the first day of July and January of each year in which they are authorized to be issued in the year one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one and one thousand nine hundred and twenty-two, both inclusive, which said interest shall be payable semiannually on the first day of July and January of each and every year so long as any one of said bonds shall remain due and unpaid. (1921, c. 165, s. 2; Ex. Sess. 1921, c. 82, s. 1.)

§ 7472(c). Nature of bonds; authentication; advertisement; sales below par. — The bonds authorized and directed to be issued by the preceding section shall be either coupon bonds or registered bonds of the denominations of five hundred dollars ($500) and one thousand dollars ($1,000) each, as may be determined by said state treasurer, and shall be signed by the governor of the state and the state treasurer, and sealed with the great seal of the state. The coupons thereon may be signed by the state treasurer alone or may, have a facsimile of his signature printed, engraved, or lithographed thereon, and the said bonds shall in all other respects be in such form as the state treasurer shall direct; and the coupons thereon shall, after maturity, be receivable in payment of all taxes, debts, dues, licenses, fines, and demands due the state of North Carolina, of any kind whatsoever, which shall be expressed on the face of said bonds. Before selling any of the series of bonds herein authorized to be issued, the state treasurer shall advertise the sale and invite sealed bids in such manner as in his judgment may seem to be most effectual to secure the par of said bonds at the lowest rate of interest not exceeding five per centum: Provided, that no bids shall be received, and none of the bonds herein authorized to be issued shall be sold at less than par value of the bonds plus the accrued interest thereon. He is authorized to accept bids for the entire issue of said bonds in any one year, or of any portion thereof, and where the conditions are equal he shall give preference of purchase to the citizens of North Carolina. The said bonds issued as of July first, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one, shall be due and payable forty years from their date, and the said bonds issued as of January first, one thousand nine hundred and twenty two, shall be due and payable forty years from that date. (1921, c. 165, s. 3; Ex. Sess. 1921, c. 82, s. 2.)

Editor's Note.—This amendment of 1921 inserted in the words "and January" wherever they now appear in the section.

§ 7472(d). Exemption from taxation. — The said bonds and coupons shall be exempt from all state, county, or municipal taxation or assessment, direct or indirect, general or special, whether imposed for purpose of general revenue or otherwise, and the interest paid thereon shall not be subject to taxation as for income, nor shall said bonds and coupons be subject to taxation when constituting a part of the surplus of any bank, trust company, or other corporation. (1921, c. 165, s. 4.)

§ 7472(e.) Investment for trust funds.—It shall be lawful for all executors, administrators, guardians, and fiduciaries generally to invest in said bonds. (1921, c. 165, s. 5.)

§ 7472(g). Supervision and direction of work; material and character of construction; diversion of appropriation.—The state building commission shall have the control, supervision and direction of the buildings to be built, altered and repaired for the several institutions for which appropriations are made in this article, and shall prescribe the material and character of construction to be used: Provided, that both shall be permanent, substantial and durable, and conform as near as may be to the character of construction of the buildings at present at such institutions, and shall, as speedily as possible, have the plans and specifications for such buildings, alterations, and repairs as herein specified to be prepared by the state architect and let to contract by competitive buildings, taking sufficient bonds from the contractors securing the faithful performance of the said contracts and the payment of all material used and labor furnished in the carrying out of the same, authority is hereby given to the said state building commission, by and with the consent and approval of the governor of the state, when it is ascertained by them that any institution is more urgently in need of other permanent improvements than those herein specified in this article, to divert such part of the appropriations herein made to said institutions for the purpose of this article as may be needed to provide the permanent improvements more urgently needed in the judgment of said building commission and the governor of the state. (1921, c. 165, s. 7.)

§ 7472(h). Purpose of article.—It is the purpose of this article that the proceeds of the sale, of bonds herein authorized shall be used for the permanent enlargement and improvement of the state's institutions herein named, and for the other purposes herein specified. (1921, c. 165, s. 8.)

§ 7472(i). State treasurer to negotiate bonds; notes for money borrowed; renewals; notes exempt from taxation; investments of trust funds.—In the event that the state treasurer shall not be able to sell any or all of the state bonds herein authorized to be issued, then the said state treasurer is hereby authorized, empowered, and directed, by and with the advice of the governor and council of state, to borrow for a period not exceeding two years, and at the lowest rate of interest obtainable, such sum of money as shall be required to meet the appropriations made in this article not exceeding the aggregate amount in any year of the bonds herein authorized to be issued in said year. And the said state treasurer is authorized and empowered to execute and deliver, in the name of the state, notes for the money so borrowed, and to renew the same, or borrow from time to time, if necessary, but, however, for a total period not longer than two years from July first, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one, and July first one thousand nine hundred and twenty-two, and the said notes so issued shall be exempt from all state, county, and municipal taxation or assessment, direct or indirect, general or special, whether imposed for the purposes of general revenue or otherwise, and the interest paid thereon shall not be subject to taxation as for income, nor shall said bonds and coupons be subject to taxation when constituting a part of the surplus of any bank, trust company, or other corporation, and it shall be lawful for all executors, administrators, guardians, and fiduciaries generally to invest in said notes. (1921, c. 165, s. 9.)

Art. 11. Bonds for Permanent Enlargement and Improvement of Educational and Charitable Institutions. 1923 and Subsequently

§ 7472(j). Purpose of bond issue; amount and dates of issue.—For the purpose of permanently enlarging the state's educational and charitable institutions, to make them adequate to the demands and necessities of the state, and for the purpose of opening inlets and encouraging the fish industry, and the improvement of the state's property, the state treasurer is authorized and directed to issue bonds of the state of North Carolina payable in the manner and at the date herein described, to an amount not exceeding ten million six hundred seventy-seven thousand five hundred dollars ($10,677,500.00). Said bonds shall be issued from time to time at the request of the board of directors of the various institutions for which the bonds are to be provided, upon the approval of the governor and council of state. (1923, c. 162, s. 1.)

Editor's Note.—Similar bond issues were authorized by Public Laws 1925, c. 192; 1927, c. 147; 1929, c. 295. The unallotted balances of the appropriations made under such acts were reappropriated and reallocated by Public Laws 1931, c. 40.

Public Laws of 1935, chapter 439, authorized bond issue for the purpose of permanently enlarging the State Hospital, Goldsboro; State Hospital, Raleigh; State Hospital, Morganton, and Caswell Training School, Kinston.

§ 7472(k). Interest and date. — All of said bonds shall bear interest at the rate not exceeding five per cent per annum from the date of said issue until paid, and the said bonds shall bear such date as may be fixed by the governor and council of state. Interest shall be paid semiannually on the date fixed by the governor and council of state. (1923, c. 162, s. 2.)

§ 7472(l). Nature of bonds; authentication; advertisement; sales below par.—The bonds authorized and directed to be issued by the preceding section shall be either coupon bonds or registered bonds of the denomination of five hundred dollars ($500) and one thousand dollars ($1,000) each, as may be determined by said state treasurer, and sealed with the great seal of the state. The coupons thereon may be signed by the state treasurer alone, or may have a facsimile of his signature printed, engraved and/or lithographed thereon, and the said bonds shall in all other respects be in such form as the state treasurer shall direct; and the coupons thereon shall, after maturity, be receivable in payment of all taxes, debts, dues, licenses, fines, and demands due the state of North Carolina, of any kind whatsoever, which shall be expressed on the face of said bonds. Before selling any of the series of bonds herein authorized to be issued, the state treasurer shall advertise the sale and invite sealed bids in such manner as in his judgment may seem to be most effectual to secure the par of said bonds at the lowest rate of interest, not exceeding five per centum: Provided, that no bids shall be received and none of the bonds herein authorized to be issued shall be sold at less than par value of the bonds, plus the accrued interest thereon. He is authorized to accept bids for the entire issue of said bonds in any one year, or of any portion thereof, and where the conditions are equal he shall give preference of purchase to the citizens of North Carolina. The bonds shall be due and payable forty years from their date and the date of issue. (1923, c. 162, s. 3.)

§ 7472(m). Exemption from taxation. — The said bonds and coupons shall be exempt from all state, county or municipal taxation or assessment, direct or indirect, general or special, whether imposed for purpose of general revenue or otherwise, and the interest paid thereon shall not be subject to taxation as from income, nor shall said bonds and coupons be subject to taxation when constituting a part of the surplus of any bank, trust company, or other corporation. (1923, c. 162, s. 4.)

§ 7472(n). Investment for trust funds. — It shall be lawful for all executors, administrators, guardians, and fiduciaries generally to invest in said bonds. (1923, c. 162, s. 5.)

§ 7472(o). Appropriation of proceeds. — The proceeds derived from the sale of said bonds shall be used for the permanent improvement and equipment as hereinafter set out for the following institutions of the state, and in following amounts, to wit:

The board of public buildings and grounds is authorized and empowered, in its discretion, to have the sum of one hundred and twenty-five thousand dollars used in the construction of an addition to the agricultural building upon the property now owned by the state, in lieu of providing an additional story upon said building. Said addition, when constructed, to be used as follows: First two floors by the state museum and the third, fourth and fifth floors by the state department of revenue. (1923, c. 162, s. 6; 1923, c. 164.)

Editor's Note. — The last paragraph of this section was taken from the ch. 164 of the Public Laws 1923.

§ 7472(p). Purpose of law; direction of expenditures.—It is the purpose of this article that the proceeds of the sale of bonds herein authorized shall be used for the permanent enlargement and improvement of the state's institutions herein named and for the purpose of opening inlets and providing necessary improvements to aid the fish and sea-food industry of the state, and the amount allowed to each industry to be spent by the governing body at each institution, namely, board of directors, trustees, or commissioners, as the case may be. (1923, c. 162, s. 7.)

§ 7472(q). Removal of director, trustee or commissioner voting for or aiding expense in excess of appropriation.—Any executive head of any institution or any director, trustee or commissioner, in any state institution or commission, who votes for or aids in spending more money for his institution than is herein appropriated, may be removed from office by the governor. (1923, c. 162, s. 8.)

Art. 11 (A). Sinking Fund Commission

§ 7472(q) 1. Creation; duties.—A State Sinking Fund Commission is hereby created, the members of which shall be the Governor, State Treasurer and Auditor, who shall serve without additional compensation. It shall be the duty of the commission to see that the provisions of all sinking fund laws are complied with and to provide for the custody, investment and application of all sinking funds. The commission and its members may call upon the Attorney-General for legal advice as to their duties, powers and responsibilities hereunder. (1925, c. 62, s. 2.)

§ 7472(q) 2. To adopt rules; organization. — The commission shall adopt rules for its organization and government and the conduct of its affairs. Its chairman shall be the Governor and its secretary the Auditor. All clerks and employees in the office of the Governor, Auditor and Treasurer may be called upon to assist the commission. (1925, c. 62, s. 3.)

§ 7472(q) 3. Treasurer of commission; liability.—The State Treasurer shall be ex officio treasurer of the commission and the custodian of the sinking fund and the investments thereof. He and the sureties upon his official bond as State Treasurer shall be liable for any breach of faithful performance of his duties under this article as well as his duties as State Treasurer, and his official bond shall be made to comply with this requirement. (1925, c. 62, s. 4.)

§ 7472(q) 4. Investment of sinking funds. — Moneys in the sinking funds herein shall not be loaned to any department of the State, but shall be invested by the commission in:

(a) Bonds of the United States;

(b) Bonds or notes of the State of North Carolina, and in the obligations of any quasi-public corporation in which the State of North Carolina owns not less than fifty-one per cent of its capital stock.

(c) Bonds of any other state whose full faith and credit are pledged to the payment of the principal and interest thereof;

(d) Bonds of any county in North Carolina, any city or town in North Carolina and any school district in North Carolina, provided such bonds are general obligations of the subdivision or municipality issuing the same and provided that there is no limitation of the rate of taxation for the payment of principal and interest of the bonds. (1925, c. 62, s. 5; 1931, c. 415; 1935, c. 146.)

Editor's Note.—The Act of 1931 amended this section by striking out all references to population.

The amendment of 1935 adds the last clause to subsection (b) relating to obligations to quasi public corporations. As to investment of bonds guaranteed by the United States, see section 220(a)1.

§ 7472(q) 5. Purchase of securities.—No such securities shall be purchased at more than the market price thereof, nor sold at less than the market price thereof. No securities shall be purchased except bonds of the United States or bonds or notes of the State of North Carolina unless the vendor shall deliver with the securities the opinion of an attorney believed by the commission to be competent and to be recognized by investment dealers as an authority upon the law of public securities, to the effect that the securities purchased are valid obligations and are securities which the commission is authorized to purchase, it being the intention of this requirement to assure the commission not only that such securities are valid and eligible for purchase under this act but that the same shall not be unsalable by the commission because of doubts as to the validity thereof. The commission is empowered to appoint one or more of its members for the purpose of making purchases and sale of securities. (1925, c. 62, s. 6.)

§ 7472(q) 6. Interest of securities held as part of sinking fund.—The interest and revenues received upon securities held for any sinking fund and any profit made on the resale thereof shall become and be a part of such sinking fund. Bonds and notes of the State of North Carolina purchased for any sinking fund shall not be canceled before maturity, but shall be kept alive, and the interest and principal thereof shall be paid into the sinking fund for which the same are held. (1925, c. 62, s. 7.)

§ 7472(q) 7. Registration of securities; custody thereof.—Where practicable securities purchased for sinking funds shall be registered as to the principal thereof in the name of "The State of North Carolina for the sinking fund for" (here briefly identify the sinking fund) and may be released from such registration by the signature of the State Treasurer, but the treasurer shall not make such release unless and until the securities to be so released shall have been sold by the commission or until the commission shall have ordered such release. The treasurer shall rent a safety deposit box or boxes in some responsible bank in Raleigh in which he may keep all securities purchased for sinking funds and in which it shall be his duty to keep all such securities not registered as to the principal thereof. (1925, c. 62, s. 8.)

§ 7472(q) 8. Expenses of commission. — The necessary expense of the commission for the rental of a safety deposit box, publication of advertisements, postage, insurance upon securities in transit, etc., not exceeding one-twentieth of one per cent of the amount in all sinking funds at the end of any fiscal year, shall be a charge upon the general fund. (1925, c. 62, s. 9.)

§ 7472(q) 9. Report of commission. — The commission shall make a report in writing to the General Assembly not later than the tenth day of each regular and extraordinary session thereof, stating the nature and amount of all receipts and disbursements of each sinking fund since the last preceding report, and the amount contained in each fund, and giving an itemized statement of all investments of each fund as to name of security, purpose of issuance, date of maturity and interest rate, which report shall be spread upon the journals of the Senate and House of Representatives. (1925, c. 62, s. 10.)

§ 7472(q) 10. Embezzlement by member of commission.—If any member of the commission shall embezzle or otherwise willfully and corruptly use or misapply any funds or securities in any sinking fund for any purpose other than that for which the same are held, such member shall be guilty of a felony, and shall be fined not more than ten thousand dollars, or imprisoned in the State's Prison not more than twenty years, or both, at the discretion of the court. (1925, c. 62, s. 11.)

§ 7472(q) 11. False entry by secretary or treasurer.—If the secretary or treasurer of the commission shall wittingly or falsely make, or cause to be made, any false entry or charge in any book kept by him as such officer, or shall wittingly or falsely form, or cause to be formed, any statement of the condition of any sinking fund, or any statement required by this article to be made, with intent in any of said instances to defraud the State, or any person or persons, such secretary or treasurer, as the case may be, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and fined at the discretion of the court not exceeding three thousand dollars, and imprisoned for not exceeding three years. (1925, c. 62, s. 12.)

§ 7472(q) 12. Interest of member in securities; removal.—If any member of the commission shall have any pecuniary interest, either directly or indirectly, proximately or remotely, in any securities purchased or sold by the commission, or shall act as agent for any investor or dealer for any securities to be purchased or sold by the commission, or shall receive directly or indirectly any gift, emolument, reward, or promise of reward for his influence in recommending or procuring any such purchase or sale, he shall forthwith be removed from his position, and shall upon conviction be guilty of a misdemeanor, and fined not less than fifty dollars nor more than five hundred dollars, and be imprisoned, in the discretion of the court. (1925, c. 62, s. 13.)

§ 7472(q) 13. Report of sufficiency of sinking fund.—When the funds or securities in sinking fund shall be found by the sinking fund commission to be sufficient with interest accretions reasonably to be expected for the retirement at maturity of all bonds for which such sinking fund is held, and when the commission shall file a statement of such finding in the office of the Auditor and in the office of the State Treasurer, further payments into such sinking fund shall be suspended and shall not again be made unless such fund should thereafter become insufficient for any reason. (1925, c. 62, s. 18.)

Art. 12. Sinking Funds for Certain State Bonds

§ 7472 (r). Institution bonds; annual payments into fund.—For the retirement of the principal of bonds of the state for permanent enlargement of its educational and charitable institutions issued and to be issued under articles 10 and 11 of this chapter, a sinking fund is created into which fund the state treasurer shall pay during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1924, from any fund not heretofore pledged or appropriated, the sum of one hundred and sixty-three thousand dollars or such greater amount as may be necessary to retire said bonds. (1923, c. 188, s. 1; 1925, c. 62, s. 14.)

Editor's Note.—The 1925 amendment substituted the words "fiscal years ending June 30, 1924" for "Calender Year."

This section reviewed and summarized in 1 N. C. Law Rev. 267.

As the section now reads it would seem to be obsolete.

§ 7472 (s). Highway bonds; annual payments.—For the retirement of the principal of nineteen million five hundred thousand dollars highway serial bonds heretofore issued under chapter two, Public Laws of one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one, Regular Session, a sinking fund is created, into which fund the state treasurer shall pay during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1924, from any funds not heretofore pledged or appropriated, the sum of one hundred thousand dollars. (1923, c. 188, s. 2; 1925, c. 62, s. 15.)

Editor's Note.—The words "fiscal year ending June 30, 1924" was substituted for the word year. As the section now reads it seems to be obsolete.

§ 7472 (t). Highway bonds not issued; annual payments.—For the retirement of the principal of bonds issued for highway purposes, chapter two, Public Laws of one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one, Regular Session, over and above the nineteen million five hundred thousand dollars heretofore issued, a sinking fund is hereby created into which fund the state treasurer shall pay during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1924, from any funds not heretofore pledged or appropriated, the sum of four hundred thousand dollars. (1923, c. 188, s. 3; 1925, c. 62, s. 16.)

Editor's Note. — The 1928 amendment substituted the words "the fiscal year ending June 30, 1924" for the word "year" as the section now reads it seems to be obsolete.

§ 7472 (u). Source of funds.—All of the highway bond sinking fund payments to be made under sections 7472(s) and 7472(t), aggregating five hundred thousand dollars ($500,000) annually, shall be made from the revenues collected under the provisions of said chapter two (2) public law of one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one, if such revenues are sufficient therefor after setting aside therefrom the moneys provided by said chapter two (2) for the maintenance of the State Highway Commission and the expenses of collecting highway revenues, and after setting aside moneys necessary for the payment of maturing principal of and interest upon highway bonds of the State: Provided, however, that no holder of any highway bonds of the State shall be prejudiced by this amendment or by any act amendatory of this section passed subsequent to the issuance of such bonds, and any such bondholder shall be entitled to all rights to which he would be entitled if no such amendment had been made. (1923, c. 188, s. 4; 1925, c. 45, s. 4; 1925, c. 133, s. 4.)

Editor's Note.—Originally this section provided for a payment of $250,000 instead of $500,000 as changed by the first amendment of 1925. The section was renewed by the second act of 1925.

§§ 7472(v)-7472(y). Repealed by Public Laws 1925, c. 62, s. 17.

Art. 13. Bonds to Pay off Certain Short-term Notes

§ 7472(z). Bond issue authorized; amount.—In order to enable the state of North Carolina to pay off notes aggregating four million five hundred thousand dollars, authorized by chapter forty-three of the laws of one thousand nine hundred twenty-one, the state treasurer is hereby authorized and directed to issue bonds of the state of North Carolina to an amount not to exceed the sum of four million five hundred thousand dollars. (1921, c. 107, s. 1.)

§ 7472(aa). Interest.—All of said bonds, when issued as hereinafter provided, shall bear interest at a rate not to exceed five per cent per annum from the date of issue until paid, which interest shall be payable semiannually at such time and place as shall be named in the face of the bonds and coupons attached thereto as hereinafter provided. (1921, c. 107, s. 2.)

§ 7472(bb). Form; denominations; authentication; receipt of coupons for taxes. — The bonds authorized and directed to be issued by this article shall be either coupon bonds or registered bonds, of the denomination of one hundred dollars, five hundred dollars, and one thousand dollars each, as may be determined by the state treasurer, and shall be signed by the governor and state treasurer, and sealed with the great seal of the state. The coupons thereon may be signed by the state treasurer alone, or may have a facsimile of his signature printed, engraved, or lithographed thereon; and the said bonds shall in all respects be in such form as the said treasurer may direct in conformity with this article, and the coupons thereon shall, after maturity, be receivable in payment of all taxes, debts, dues, licenses, fines, and demands due the state of North Carolina, of any kind whatsoever, which shall be expressed on the face of the said bonds. (1921, c. 107, s. 3.)

§ 7472(cc). Registration of bonds; conversion of coupon bonds. — If the bonds issued are registered bonds, they shall be made payable to the legal holder thereof, and shall be registered either in the office of the state treasurer or in the office of such transfer agent as shall be named in the bonds, which shall be agreed upon by the state treasurer, by and with the consent of the council of state. Any coupon bond may be converted into a registered bond by the lawful holder thereof, which privilege shall be expressed in the face of the bond, and when such coupon bond is presented for registration, with all coupons attached thereto which have not fallen due, a registered bond shall be issued in lieu thereof to the lawful holder thereof, and the coupon bond with all attached coupons shall be canceled as in case the bond had been paid by the state treasurer. (1921, c. 107, s. 4.)

§ 7472(dd). Serial bonds; maturity. — The said bonds, when issued, shall be serial bonds, and payable in not less than three nor more than thirty years after date of issue. (1921, c. 107, s. 4.)

§ 7472(ee). Sale; interest; exemption from taxation; exemption of interest.—The said bonds herein authorized to be issued shall be sold by the state treasurer by and with the consent of the governor and the council of state at such time and in such amounts and at such a rate of interest, not to exceed five per cent per annum, as shall be fixed and agreed upon by the governor and council of state. The state treasurer is authorized to accept bids for the entire issue or any portion thereof, and to sell the bonds herein authorized in such manner as will secure the sale of the bonds at the best price not less than their par value. All bonds herein authorized when issued shall constitute valid obligations of the state of North Carolina, and the full faith, credit, and taxing power of the state of North Carolina is hereby pledged for the payment of the said bonds and the interest thereon, and the said bonds and coupons thereon, when issued, shall be exempt from all state, county, and municipal taxation or assessments, direct or indirect, general or special, whether imposed for the purpose of general revenue or otherwise, and the interest thereon shall not be subject to taxation as for income, nor shall said bonds and coupons be subject to taxation when constituting a part of the surplus of any bank, trust company, or other corporation. (1921, c. 107, s. 5.)

§ 7472(ff). Investment of trust funds.—It shall be lawful for all executors, administrators, guardians, sinking fund commissioners, and fiduciaries generally to invest in said bonds, and when funds in their hands are so invested, such executors, administrators, guardians, sinking fund commissioners, and fiduciaries shall not be liable for any loss which may be incurred by reason of investing therein. (1921, c. 107, s. 6.)

§ 7472(gg). Appropriation of proceeds of sale; deficiency; expense. — All of the funds received from the sale of said bonds shall be used to retire the notes authorized to be issued under the act heretofore cited and referred to, and for no other purpose except to defray the expenses incident to the issuance and sale of said bonds, and if the said bonds are not sold for a sufficient sum to pay the said notes authorized to be issued and the expenses incident to the issuance and sale of the bonds authorized to be issued then such expenses shall be paid for out of funds in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated, the amount of expense incident to the issuance and sale of said bonds to be approved by the governor and council of state. (1921, c. 107, s. 7.)

§ 7472(hh). Aid and advice of citizens; sale commissioners; sale at par.—The governor is authorized to call in for aid and advice such citizens of North Carolina as in his opinion will aid in the selling of the bonds herein authorized to be sold, and who will from a patriotic sense of duty, be willing to render such aid and advice as may be requested and required of them, and if in the opinion of the governor and council of state it is proper so to do, the governor may appoint a commission of business men to take charge of the selling of the said bonds, and to make sale thereof, provided always the said bonds shall be sold at par and at the rate of interest fixed by the governor and council of state. (1921, c. 107, s. 8.)

§ 7472(ii). Repeal of laws.—In the event the bonds authorized by this article to be issued and sold are issued and sold, all other laws authorizing the sale of bonds for which the notes provided for in this article heretofore recited and referred to were issued, are repealed, it being the intent and purpose of the general assembly that if the bonds are sold under this article, this article shall take the place of and stand for all other laws under which the bonds called for are to be sold. (1921, c. 107, s. 9.)

Art. 14. Notes for Funding Prison Debt

§ 7472(jj). Debt transferred to treasury.—Inasmuch as the debit balance in the operating account of the State Prison, hereafter to be known as "The State Prison Department," has accumulated until it has now been ascertained that such debit balance is, as of January first, one thousand nine hundred twenty-five, two hundred and ninety-eight thousand eight hundred and forty-seven and forty-two one hundred dollars and since the operation of the said State Prison Department, from January first, one thousand nine hundred twenty-five to June thirtieth, one thousand nine hundred twenty-five, will further increase the said debit balance, the said total debit balance as finally ascertained, as of June thirtieth, one thousand nine hundred twenty-five, is hereby transferred to and declared to be a part of the debit balance of the State treasury, and that the same is a charge upon the general fund of the State; and since it is necessary to operate the State Prison Department out of the general fund of the State until July first, one thousand nine hundred twenty-five, the State Treasurer is vested with authority to pay for the operating of the State Prison Department until June thirtieth, one thousand nine hundred twenty-five, out of the general fund of the State, and the said State Treasurer shall have and use all authority and power which has been, or may be, at this session of the General Assembly, or hereafter, vested in the State Treasurer, to fund the debit balance of the treasury, by whatever name called, and such power and authority so to fund the same shall include full power and authority to fund the debit balance accruing in the State treasury, from the operation of the State Prison Department on June thirtieth, one thousand nine hundred twenty-five. All obligations issued to fund the same shall carry all the powers, privileges, exemptions and immunities as other obligations to fund the State debit balance. (1925, c. 132, s. 1.)

§ 7472(kk). Note issue authorized. — Inasmuch as it appears necessary to purchase industrial machinery for the use in the State Prison Department, from time to time, in such sum or sums as may be approved by the board of directors of the State Prison Department, not to exceed the sum of one hundred thousand dollars, and since it appears necessary to purchase fertilizer supplies for the farming operations of the State Prison Department, and that said purchase must be made and paid for prior to June thirtieth, one thousand nine hundred twenty-five, in such sums as may be approved by the board of directors of this department, not to exceed the sum of forty thousand dollars, the State Treasurer is hereby authorized an directed, by and with the consent of the Governor and Council of State, to borrow money, temporarily, or for such length of time as may be determined by the Governor and Council of State, not to exceed the sum of one hundred forty thousand dollars, for said purposes, and to agree to pay, and to pay, such rate or rates of interest at such times and places as may be fixed by the Governor and Council of State, and to execute and issue the notes of the State for same. (1925, c. 132, s. 2.)

§ 7472(ll). Faith of state pledged.—The full faith, credit and taxing power of the State are hereby pledged for the payment of the principal and interest of the obligations herein authorized. (1925, c. 132, s. 3.)

§ 7472(mm). Obligations receivable for debts due state.—The obligations hereby authorized, after maturity, shall be receivable in payment of all taxes, debts, dues, licenses, fines and demands due the State of any kind whatsoever. (1925, c. 132, s. 4.)

§ 7472(nn). Exemption from taxation; investment by fiduciaries.—All of the obligations of the State issued pursuant to this article shall be exempt from all State, county and muncipal taxation, or assessment, direct or indirect, general or special, whether imposed for the purpose of general revenue, or otherwise, and the interest on such obligations shall not be subject to taxation, as for income fund, nor shall said obligations be subject to taxation when constituting a part of the surplus of any bank, trust company, or other corporation. and it shall be lawful for all executors, administrators, guardians and fiduciary generally, and all sinking fund commissions, to invest any money in their hands in said obligations. (1925, c. 132, s. 5.)

Art. 15. Borrowing Money in Emergency

§ 7472(oo). Governor and Council of State may borrow on notes.—The Governor and Council of the State may authorize and empower the State Treasurer in the intervals between sessions of the General Assembly, to borrow money on short term notes to meet any emergency arising from the destruction of the State's property, whether used by department or institution, or from some unforeseen calamity not amounting to its destruction. (1927, c. 49, s. 1.)

Editor's Note.—Section four of the act from which this section was taken repeals a prior law which was similar to this section.

Public Laws 1931, c. 28, authorized the State Treasurer by and with the consent of the Governor and Council of State to borrow money on short term notes for paying obligation incurred under this section.

§ 7472(pp). Recital of facts entered on minutes; directions to treasurer; limit of amount.—The Council of State, when such emergency arises during such interval, shall recite upon its minutes the facts out of which it does arise, and thereupon direct the State Treasurer to borrow from time to time money needed to meet such emergency or calamity, not exceeding, however in the whole, five hundred thousand ($500,000) dollars in the aggregate in the period between the adjournment of the present session of the General Assembly and the convening of the General Assembly in regular session in one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine and not exceeding five hundred thousand ($500,000) dollars in the aggregate in any succeeding interval between regular sessions of the General Assembly, and to execute in behalf of the State of North Carolina notes for said money so borrowed to run not exceeding two years, and to bear interest not exceeding five per cent per annum, payable semiannually. Said notes shall be in such forms as the State Treasurer may determine, and the obligations for the interest thereupon after maturity shall be receivable in payment of taxes, debts, dues, licenses, fines and demands due the State of any kind whatsoever. The said notes shall be exempt from all State, County and municipal taxation or assessment, direct or indirect, general or special, whether imposed for the purpose of general revenue or otherwise, and the interest thereon shall not be subject to taxation as for income, nor shall said notes be subject to taxation when constituting a part of the surplus of any bank, trust company, or other corporation. (1927, c. 49, s. 2.)

§ 7472(qq). Report to General Assembly. — At each, the next regular or extra session of the General Assembly, the Governor and Council of State shall report to it the proceedings of the Governor and Council of State in borrowing money under this article, setting out fully the facts upon which they held that the emergency existed which authorized such borrowing. (1927, c. 49, s. 3.)

Art. 16. Special Building Fund to Aid Counties in Erection of Schoolhouses

§ 7472(rr). Bond issue authorized.—For the purpose of providing "a special building fund," to be loaned to the county boards of education for maintaining a six months school term, the treasurer is authorized and directed to issue bonds of the State of North Carolina, payable in the manner and on the date hereinafter described, to an amount not to exceed two million five hundred thousand dollars ($2,500,000.00). All of said bonds shall bear interest at a rate not to exceed four and one-half (4½) per cent per annum, payable semiannually on the first days of January and July of each year, and the said bonds shall bear date as of the first day of January of each and every year in which they may be issued, under the provisions of this article.

(a) Special building fund a separate fund. That the proceeds from the sale of these bonds shall be a separate fund in the hands of the State Treasurer and shall be kept distinct from all other funds of the State. The funds shall be paid out upon the warrant of the State Auditor, but no warrant shall be issued by the auditor except upon the requisition of the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, with the approval and at the direction of the State Board of Education. The bank or banks in which any money belonging to this fund is deposited by the State Treasurer shall be required to pay interest on monthly balances on said money at the rate of three per cent per annum, and all such money so collected shall be credited monthly by the State Treasurer to this fund.

(b) State Board of Education authorized to make loans. That the State Board of Education, under such rules and regulations as it may deem advisable, not inconsistent with the provisions of this chapter, may make loans from "The Special Building Fund" to the county board of education of any county for building, equipping and repairing public school buildings, dormitories, teacherages, and for the purchase of suitable sites: Provided, that no loan shall be made from this fund until the application for said loan has been made by the county board of education and approved by the county commissioners, nor until said commissioners shall certify that the loan is necessary to maintain a six months' school term: Provided, further, that no loan shall be made from this fund for erecting or repairing any school building containing less than seven rooms, nor shall any building be erected in whole or in part from funds borrowed from the State unless the plans for said building shall have been approved by the State Superintendent of Public Instruction.

(c) The first four installments paid back to the State by the counties, as contemplated in this article, are hereby declared to be a part of the special building fund and may, in the discretion of the State Board of Education, be loaned to the counties on the same terms and in accordance with the same rules as provided for an original loan. (1927, c. 199, s. 1.)

Editor's Note. — Attention is called to the prior sections that this section seems to supplement. Section 5688, et seq., was enacted in 1923, section 5694(a) et seq. was enacted in 1925, and this and the following sections in 1927. Reference should be made to all of these sections for a clear understanding of the law on this subject.

§ 7472(ss). Maturity of loans; interest. — Loans to county boards of education made under the provisions of this article shall be payable in twenty equal installments, shall bear interest payable annually in advance at the same rate that the State had to pay on the bonds issued under this article for securing "The Special Building Fund," and said loans shall be evidenced by the note or notes of the county board of education, executed by the chairman and secretary thereof, and deposited with the State Treasurer. The first installment of such loan, together with the interest on the balance of the principal remaining unpaid, shall be paid by the county board of education on or before the fifteenth day of December subsequent to the making of such loan, and the remaining installments, together with the interest, shall be paid, one each year, on the fifteenth day of December of each subsequent year until all shall have been paid: Provided, if at the end of any five-year period it shall appear the earnings of said fund are more than sufficient to retire said bonds the State Board may direct the State Treasurer to transfer such surplus to the State literary fund, and after all bonds are retired any balance remaining shall be turned over to the State literary fund. (1927, c. 199, s. 2.)

§ 7472(tt). Special building fund tax. — The county board of education shall provide in its May budget for a special tax, to be styled "A Special Building Fund Tax," sufficient to repay the annual installment, together with the interest due, and shall issue its order upon the treasurer of the county school fund therefor, who, prior to the fifteenth day of December, shall pay over to the State Treasurer the amount then due. Any amount loaned under the provisions of this article shall be a lien upon the total school fund of such county, in whatsoever hands such funds may be; and if the board of county commissioners fail to provide for a sufficient tax for the fund for the repayment of notes, loans and bonds to pay the loans and interest when due, so long as any part of said loan and the interest are due, the board of county commissioners shall borrow the money in order that the six months school term may be maintained in accordance with the Constitution. Upon failure of any county to pay any installment or interest, or part of either, when due, the State Treasurer may deduct a sufficient amount for the payment of the same out of any fund due such county from any special State appropriation for public schools, and if the amount necessary to conduct a six months school term has been decreased thereby, thus making it impossible to provide the funds for a six months term in every district in said county in accordance with law and the Constitution, the county commissioners shall borrow the amount necessary to meet the deficit caused thereby.

The State Treasurer may bring action against the county board of education of such county, or against any person in whose possession may be any part of the school funds of the county, or against the tax collector of such county; and if the amount of school fund then on hand be insufficient to pay in full the sum so due, then the State Treasurer shall be entitled to an order directing the tax collector of such county to pay over to the State Treasurer all moneys collected for school purposes until such debt and interest shall have been paid: Provided, this lien shall not lie against taxes collected to pay interest and principal on bonds issued by the authorities of any county or any district. (1927, c. 199, s. 3.)

tions for loans and the amount to be loaned to each county. When said board has received and approved applications for loans in an amount of not less than five hundred thousand dollars ($500,000), the State Board of Education shall direct the State Treasurer to sell, and he shall sell, in accordance with the provisions of this article, North Carolina bonds to provide funds for making the loans in accordance with the applications approved: Provided, that whenever applications are received and approved, in accordance with the provisions of this article, if the State Board of Education shall deem it unwise to sell bonds at that time, the State Treasurer, by and with the consent of the Governor and the Council of State, is hereby authorized to borrow money at the lowest rate of interest obtainable, in anticipation of the sale of the bonds herein authorized, and for the purposes for which said bonds are authorized. The State Treasurer shall execute and issue notes of the State for the money so borrowed, and he is hereby authorized to renew any such notes from time to time by issuing new notes. The rate of interest, the date of payment of said notes or renewals, and all matters and details in connection with the issuance and sale thereof shall be fixed and determined by the Governor and Council of State. Such notes when issued shall be entitled to all privileges, immunities and exemptions that the bonds authorized to be issued are entitled to. The full faith, credit and taxpower of the State are hereby pledged for the payment of such notes as may be issued, and interest thereon. The proceeds received from said notes shall be used for making loans to county boards of education in accordance with this article. The notes issued in anticipation of the sale of bonds shall be paid with the funds derived from the sale of said bonds whenever said bonds are sold. (1927, c. 199, s. 4.)

§ 7472(vv). Character and denomination of bonds.—The bonds authorized and directed to be issued by the preceding sections shall be coupon bonds of the denomination of five hundred dollars ($500) and one thousand dollars ($1,000) each, as may be determined by said State Treasurer, and shall be signed by the Governor of the State and State Treasurer and sealed with the Great Seal of the State. The coupons thereon may be signed by the State Treasurer alone, or may have a facsimile of his signature printed, engraved, or lithographed thereon, and the said bonds shall in all other respects be in such form as the State Treasurer may direct; and the coupons thereon shall, after maturity, be receivable in payment of all taxes, debts, dues, licenses, fines and demands due the State of North Carolina, of any kind whatsoever, which shall be expressed on the face of said bonds. Before selling any of the series of bonds herein authorized to be issued, the State Treasurer shall advertise the sale and invite sealed bids in such manner as in his judgment may seem to be most effectual to secure the par of said bonds at the lowest rate of interest.

He is authorized to sell the bonds herein authorized in such manner as in his judgment will produce the par value of said bonds at the lowest rate of interest, and where the conditions are equal he shall give the preference of purchase to the citizens of North Carolina.

One-twentieth of the total bonds issued under date of January first, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-eight, shall be due and payable on the first day of January, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three, and another one twentieth of the amount of said bonds shall be due and payable on January first of each year thereafter until the whole series shall be paid, and any bonds issued under this act on any subsequent January first shall be due and payable as follows: One-twentieth of the total amount of said bonds shall be due and payable on the first day of January five years after the date of issuance of said bonds, and one-twentieth on each subsequent January first of each year thereafter until the whole series authorized by this article shall be paid in full. (1927, c. 199, s. 5.)

§ 7472(ww). Exemption from taxation.—The said bonds and coupons shall be exempt from all State, county of municipal taxation or assessment, direct or indirect, general or special, whether imposed for the purpose of general revenue or otherwise, and the interest paid thereon shall not be subject to taxation as for income nor shall said bonds and coupons be subject to taxation when constituting a part of the surplus of any bank, trust company, or other corporation, and it shall be lawful for all executors, administrators, guardians, or other fiduciaries generally to invest in said bonds. (1927, c. 199, s. 6.)

§ 7472(xx). Loans by county board of education.—The county board of education, from any amount borrowed under the provisions of this article, may make loans to special charter, local tax or special school taxing districts, and the amount so loaned to any such district shall be payable in twenty annual installments, with interest thereon at the rate the county is required to pay, payable annually in advance. Any amount loaned under the provisions of this article shall be a lien upon the total tax funds produced in the district. Whenever the local taxes at any time may not be sufficient to pay the installments with the interest, the county board of education must supply the remainder out of the operating and equipment fund, and shall make provisions for the same when the county budget is made and presented to the commissioners in May: Provided, nothing in this section shall prevent the county board of education from assuming the entire expense of erecting said building or buildings in any district of the county.

All loans made to such districts, under the provisions of this act, shall be made upon the written petition of a majority of the committee, or board of trustees, of the said district asking for the loan and authorizing the county board of education to deduct a sufficient amount from the local taxes or other funds belonging to said district, other than the teacher's salary fund, to meet the indebtedness to the county board of education. Otherwise, the county board of education shall have no lien upon the local taxes for the repayment of this loan: Provided, this lien shall not lie against taxes collected or hereafter levied to pay interest and principal on bonds issued by the authority of any district. (1927, c. 199, s. 7.)

§ 7472(yy). Statement of expenditures to be filed; liability of members of county boards; or diverting expenditures.—Upon the completion of project for which the loan was made, the county board of education, upon blanks prepared for this purpose, shall file with the State Board of Education an itemized sworn statement of all expenditures on said project, including the loan from the State and all other funds invested in such building. Members of the county board of education and the county superintendent refusing or failing to make such report or authorizing the expenditure of said loan otherwise than upon the specific project, set forth in the approved application, or otherwise than as set out in the plans and specifications, approved by the State Board of Education, except upon the written approval of the State Board of Education, shall be severally guilty of a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine or imprisonment, or both, in the discretion of the court. (1927, c. 199, s. 8.)

Art. 17. Borrowing Money in Anticipation of Collection of Taxes

§ 7472(zz). Power given to director of budget to authorize State treasurer to borrow money.—The director of the budget by and with the consent of the Governor and Council of State shall have authority to authorize and direct the State Treasurer to borrow, in the name of the State and pledge the credit of the State for the payment thereof, in anticipation of the collection of taxes, such sums as may be necessary to make the payment on appropriations to the various institutions, departments and agencies of the State as even as possible so as to preserve the best interest of the State in the conduct of the various institutions, departments and agencies of the State during each fiscal year. (1927, c. 195, s. 1.)

See § 7432(k).

Editor's Note.—Public Laws of 1935, chapter 129, contains a section similar to the above with reference to borrowing to meet the appropriation for each biennium for the years 1935 and 1937.

Art. 18. Refunding Bonds

§ 7472(1). Title of article.—This article shall be known and may be cited as the "State Refunding Bond Act." (1935, c. 445, s. 1.)

§ 7472(2). Refunding bonds authorized for state.—The state treasurer is hereby authorized, by and with the consent of the governor and council of State, to issue at one time or from time to time bonds of the State for the purpose of refunding any or all bonds of the State then outstanding, but no such refunding bonds shall be issued except when such refunding may be accomplished at a saving to the State of North Carolina by securing a lower rate of interest than the interest rate on the bonds to be refunded. (1935, c. 445, s. 2.)

§ 7472(3). Date and rate of interest; maturity.—Such refunding bonds shall bear such date or dates and such rate or rates of interest, not exceeding six per cent per annum, payable semi-annually, and shall mature at such time or times, not more than forty years from date, as may be fixed by the governor and council of state. (1935, c. 445, s. 3.)

§ 7472(4). Execution; interest coupons; registration; form and denomination.—Such refunding bonds shall be signed by the governor and the state treasurer, and sealed with the great seal of the State, and shall carry interest coupons which shall bear the signature of the state treasurer, or a facsimile thereof, and such bonds shall be subject to registration as is now or may hereafter be provided by law for state bonds, and the form and denomination thereof shall be such as the state treasurer may determine in conformity with this article. (1935, c. 445, s. 4.)

§ 7472(5). Sale of bonds. — Subject to determination by the governor and council of state as to the manner in which such bonds shall be offered for sale, whether by publishing notices in certain newspapers and financial journals or by mailing notices or by inviting bids by correspondence or otherwise, the state treasurer is authorized to sell such bonds at one time or from time to time at the best price obtainable, but in no case for less than par and accrued interest. (1935, c. 445, s. 5.)

§ 7472(6). Proceeds directed to separate fund; use limited.—The proceeds of such bonds shall be placed by the state treasurer in a separate fund and used solely for the purpose specified in section 7472(2). (1935, c. 445, s. 6.)

§ 7472(7). State's credit and taxing power pledged.—The full faith, credit and taxing power of the State are hereby pledged for the payment of the principal and interest of the bonds herein authorized. (1935, c. 445, s. 7.)

§ 7472(8). Coupons receivable for debts due state.—The coupons of said bonds after maturity shall be receivable in payment of all taxes, debts, dues, licenses, fines and demands due the State of any kind whatsoever. (1935, c. 445, s. 8.)

§ 7472(9). Exemption from taxation. — All of such bonds and coupons shall be exempt from all State, county and municipal taxation or assessments, direct or indirect, general or special, whether imposed for the purpose of general revenue or otherwise, and the interest on such bonds shall not be subject to taxation as for income, nor shall such bonds or coupons be subject to taxation when constituting a part of the surplus of any bank, trust company, or other corporation. (1935, c. 445, s. 9.)

§ 7472(10). Investment in bonds made lawful for fiduciaries.—It shall be lawful for all executors, administrators, guardians and fiduciaries generally, and all sinking fund commissions, to invest any moneys in their hands in such bonds. (1935, c. 445, s. 10.)

STATE DEPARTMENTS, INSTITUTIONS, AND COMMISSIONS

Art. 1. State Budget Commission

§§ 7473-7486(i). Budget provisions.—(Repealed: Act 1925, c. 89, s. 21.)

Art. 1A. Executive Budget Act

§ 7486(j). Scope and definitions. — This act amends and reenacts and codifies chapters eighty-nine and two hundred and thirty, Public Laws of one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five. [Articles 1(A), and 1(B) of the Code of 1927.] It is intended hereby to combine in one law all of the provisions relating to the Budget Bureau, and in addition to the powers and duties heretofore prescribed for the Budget Bureau, it is desired that such changes and increase in its duties and powers shall be made as experience has suggested. This act shall be known, and may be cited, as "The Executive Budget Act." Whenever the word "Director" is used herein, it shall be construed to mean "Director of the Budget." Whenever the word "Commission" is used herein, it shall be construed to mean "Advisory Budget Commission," if the context shows that it is used with reference to any power or duty belonging to the Budget Bureau and to be performed by it, but it shall mean when used otherwise any state agency, and any other agency, person or commission by whatever name called, that uses or expends or receives any state funds. "State funds" are hereby defined to mean any and all moneys appropriated by the General Assembly of North Carolina, or moneys collected by or for the state, or any agency thereof, pursuant to the authority granted in any of its laws. (1925, c. 89, s. 1; 1929, c. 100, s. 1.)

§ 7486(k). Purposes.—It is the purpose of this act to vest in the Governor of the State a direct and effective supervision of all agencies, institutions, departments, bureaus, boards, commissions, and every State agency by whatsoever name now or hereafter called, including the same power and supervision over such private corporations and persons and organizations of all kinds that may receive, pursuant to statute, any funds either appropriated by, or collected for, the State of North Carolina, or any of its departments, boards, divisions, agencies, institutions and commissions; for the efficient and economical administration of all agencies, institutions, departments, bureaus, boards, commissions, persons or corporations that receive or use State funds; and for the initiation and preparation of a balanced budget of any and all revenues and expenditures for each session of the General Assembly.

The Governor shall be Ex-officio Director of the Budget and shall be the responsible head of the Budget Bureau, which Bureau is a part of the Governor's office. The Governor shall on or before the first day of July next after his inauguration appoint a budget officer, who shall be known as the "Assistant to the Director," and such officer shall serve for a term of four years beginning on the first day of July next after the inauguration of each Governor, at a salary to be fixed by the Director, who makes the appointment. The purpose of this act is to include within the powers of the Budget Bureau all agencies, institutions, departments, bureaus, boards, and commissions of the State of North Carolina under whatever name now or hereafter known, and the change of the name of such agencies hereafter shall not affect or lessen the powers and duties of the Budget Bureau in respect thereto.

The test as to whether an institution, department, agency, board, commission, or corporation or person is included within the purpose and powers and duties of the Budget Bureau shall be whether such agency or person receives for use, or expends, any of the funds of the State of North Carolina, including funds appropriated by the General Assembly and funds arising from the collection of fees, taxes, donations appropriative, or otherwise. (1925, c. 89, s. 2; 1929, c. 100, s. 2.)

Editor's Note.—As director of the budget, the Governor has large powers in supervising the expenditure of State funds and in determining what appropriations shall be made by the General Assembly. The idea that our governments, Federal, State and local, should be run in a business-like fashion is gaining prevalence and the budget system in government is an attempt to carry out the wishes of the people that government shall be administered economically and efficiently. 4 N. C. Law Rev. 17.

§ 7486(l). Examination of officers and agencies; disbursements.—The Director shall have power to examine under oath any officer or any head, and clerk or employee, of any department, institution, bureau, division, board, commission, corporation, association, or any agency; to cause the attendance of all such persons, requiring such persons to furnish any and all information desired relating to the affairs of such agency; to compel the production of books, papers, accounts, or other documents in the possession or under the control of such person so required to attend. The Director or his authorized representative shall have the right and the power to examine any State institution or agency, board, bureau, division, commission, corporation, person, and to inspect its property, and inquire into the method of operation and management.

The Director shall have power to have the books and accounts of any such agencies or persons audited; to supervise generally the accounting and auditing systems thereof now in force, and to inaugurate such changes in respect thereto which may be necessary, in his opinion, to exhibit and to furnish complete and correct information as to its financial condition, including the budget accounts of such departments, bureaus or associations within the terms of this act. The cost of making all audits and effecting all necessary changes in the system of accounting shall be paid from the regular maintenance appropriation made by the General Assembly for such bureaus, departments, divisions, institutions, commissions, persons or agencies that may be thus audited.

It shall be the duty of the Director to recommend to the General Assembly at each session such changes in the organization, management and general conduct of the various departments, institutions and other agencies of the State, and included within the terms of this act, as in his judgment will promote the more efficient and economical operation and management thereof.

The Director of the Budget under the provisions of the Executive Budget Act shall prescribe the manner in which disbursements of the several institutions and departments shall be made and may require that all warrants, vouchers or checks, except those drawn by the State Auditor and the State Treasurer, shall bear two signatures and of such officers as will be designated by the Director of the Budget. (1925, c. 89, s. 3; 1929, cc. 100, 337, ss. 3, 4.)

§ 7486(m). Advisory Budget Commission. — The Chairman of the Appropriations and the Finance Committees of the House and of the Senate, and two other persons to be appointed by the Governor, shall constitute the Advisory Budget Commission, whose duties shall be such as are hereinafter defined.

The members of the Advisory Budget Commission shall receive as full compensation for their services ten dollars per day for each day which they shall serve and their expenses. The Advisory Budget Commission shall be called in conference in January and July of each year, upon ten days' notice by the Director or Assistant to the Director of the Budget, and at such other times as in the opinion of the Director may be for the public interest.

Vacancies on the Commission shall be filled by the Governor: Provided, any vacancy caused by the death, resignation, or other removal from office of any member of the Commission by virtue of his office as a member of the General Assembly shall be filled by the Governor upon the recommendation of the presiding officer of that branch of the General Assembly in which such member holds office. (1925, c. 89, s. 4; 1929, c. 100, s. 4; 1931, c. 295.)

Editor's Note.—The Act of 1931 added the last paragraph to this section.

§ 7486(n). Appropriation Rules.—All moneys heretofore and hereafter appropriated shall be deemed and held to be within the terms of this act and subject to its provisions unless it shall be otherwise provided in the act appropriating the same; and no money shall be disbursed from the State Treasury except as herein provided. (1925, c. 89, s. 5; 1929, c. 100, s. 5.)

Cited in O'Neal v. Wake County, 196 N. C. 184, 189, 145 S. E. 28, 29.

§ 7486(o). Information from departments and agencies asking state aid.—On or before the first day of September biennially, in the even numbered years, each of the departments, bureaus, divisions, officers, boards, commissions, institutions, and other State agencies and undertakings receiving or asking financial aid from the State, or receiving or collecting funds under the authority of any general law of the State, shall furnish the Director all the information, data and estimates which he may request with reference to past, present and future appropriations and expenditures, receipts, revenue, and income.

Since it is not practicable to require the members of the Judicial system who preside over courts to attend and furnish such information, upon request of the Director, the Attorney-General shall furnish such information, data and estimates and expenditures as may be desired in reference to the Judicial Department of this State. (1925, c. 89, s. 6; 1929, c. 100, s. 6.)

§ 7486(p). Itemized statements and forms.— The statements and estimates required under the preceding section shall be itemized in accordance with the Budget Classification adopted by the Director, and upon forms prescribed by him, and shall be approved and certified by the respective heads or responsible officer of each department, bureau, board, commission, institution, or agency submitting same. Official estimate blanks which shall be used in making these reports shall be furnished by the Budget Bureau. (1925, c. 89, s. 7; 1929, c. 100, s. 7.)

§ 7486(q). Statements of Auditor as to legislative expenditures.—On or before the first day of September, biennially, in the even numbered years, the State Auditor shall furnish the Director a detailed statement of expenditures of the General Assembly for the current fiscal biennium, and an estimate of its financial needs, itemized in accordance with the Budget Classification adopted by the Director and approved and certified by the presiding officer of each House for each year of the ensuing biennium, beginning with the first day of July thereafter; and a detailed statement of expenditures of the Judiciary and any other institution or commission that may be requested by the Director for each year of the current fiscal biennium, and upon such request by the Director an estimate of its financial needs as provided by law, itemized in accordance with the Budget Classification adopted by the Director for each year of the ensuing biennium, beginning with the first day of July thereafter. The State Auditor shall transmit to the Director with these estimates an explanation of all increases or decreases. These estimates and accompanying explanations shall be included in the Budget by the Director with such recommendations as the Director may desire to make in reference thereto. (1925, c. 89, s. 8; 1929, c. 100, s. 8.)

§ 7486(r). Contents of statement.—On or before the first day of September, biennially in the even-numbered years, the State Auditor shall furnish the Director the following statements itemized in accordance with the budget classification adopted by the Director.

(1) A statement showing the balance standing to the credit of the several appropriations for each department, bureau, division, officer, board, commission, institution, or other State agency or undertaking of the State at the end of the last preceding appropriation year;

(2) A statement showing the quarterly expenditures and revenues from each appropriation account, and the total quarterly expenditures and revenues from all the appropriation accounts, including special and all other appropriations, in the twelve months of the last preceding appropriation year;

(3) A statement showing the annual expenditures in each appropriation account, and the revenue from all sources for each year of the last two appropriation years, with the increase or decrease for each source;

(4) An itemized and complete financial balance sheet for the State at the close of the last preceding fiscal year ending June thirtieth;

(5) Such other statements as the Director shall request. (1925, c. 89, s. 9.)

§ 7486(s). Information to be furnished upon request.—The departments, bureaus, divisions, officers, commissions, institutions, or other State agencies or undertakings of the State, upon request, shall furnish the Director, in such form and at such time as he may direct, any information desired by him in relation to their respective activities or fiscal affairs. The State Auditor shall also furnish the Director any special, periodic, or other financial statements as the Director may request. (1925, c. 89, s. 10; 1929, c. 100, s. 9.)

§ 7486(t). Preparation of budget and public hearing. — The members of the Commission shall, at the request of the Director, attend such public hearing and other meeting as may be held in the preparation of the Budget. Said Commission shall act at all times in an advisory capacity to the Director on matters relating to the plan of proposed expenditures of the State Government and the means of financing the same.

The Director, together with the Commission, shall provide for public hearings on any and all estimates to be included in the Budget, which shall be held during the months of October and/or November and/or such other times as the Director may fix in the even numbered years, and may require the attendance at these hearings of the heads or responsible representatives of all State departments, bureaus, divisions, officers, boards, commissions, institutions, or other State agencies or undertakings, and such other persons, corporations and associations, using or receiving or asking for any State funds. (1925, c. 89, s. 11; 1929, c. 100, s. 10.)

§ 7486(u). Survey of departments.—On or before the fifteenth day of December, biennially in the even numbered years, the Director shall make a complete, careful survey of the operation and management of all the departments, bureaus, divisions, officers, boards, commissions, institutions, and agencies and undertakings of the State and all persons or corporations who use or expend funds as hereinbefore defined, in the interest of economy and efficiency, and a working knowledge upon which to base recommendations to the General Assembly as to appropriations for maintenance and special funds and capital expenditures for the succeeding biennium. If the Director and the Commission shall agree in their recommendations for the Budget for the next biennial period, he shall prepare their report in the form of a proposed Budget, together with such comment and recommendations as they may deem proper to make. If the Director and Commisson shall not agree in substantial particulars, the Director shall prepare the proposed Budget based on his own conclusions and judgment and shall cause to be incorporated therein, such statement of disagreement and the particulars thereof, as the Commission or any of its members shall deem proper to submit as representing their views. The Budget report shall contain a complete and itemized plan of all proposed expenditures for each State department, bureau, board, division, institution, commission, State agency or undertaking, person or corporation who receive or may receive for use and expenditure any State funds as hereinbefore defined, in accordance with the Classification adopted by the Director, and of the estimated revenues and borrowings for each year in the ensuing biennial period beginning with the first day of July thereafter. Opposite each item of the proposed expenditures, the Budget shall show in separate parallel columns the amount expended for the last preceding appropriation year, for the current appropriation year, and the increase or decrease. The Budget shall clearly differentiate between General Fund expenditures for operating and maintenance, special fund expenditures for any purpose, and proposed capital outlays.

The Director shall accompany the Budget with:

(1) A Budget message supporting his recommendations and outlining a financial policy and program for the ensuing biennium. The message will include an explanation of increase or decrease over past expenditures, a discussion of proposed changes in existing revenue laws and proposed bond issues, their purpose, the amount, rate of interest, term, the requirements to be attached to their issuance and the effect such issues will have upon the redemption and annual interest charges of the State debt.

(2) An itemized and complete financial statement for the State at the close of the last preceding fiscal year ending June thirtieth.

(3) A statement of special funds.

(4) A statement showing the itemized estimates of the condition of the State Treasury as of the beginning and end of each of the next two appropriation years.

It shall be a compliance with this section by each incoming Governor, at the first session of the General Assembly in his term, to submit the Budget report with the message of the outgoing Governor, if he shall deem it proper to prepare such message, together with any comments or recommendations thereon that he may see fit to make, either at the time of the submission of the said report to the General Assembly, or at such other time, or times, as he may elect and fix. (1925, c. 89, s. 12; 1929, c. 100, s. 11.)

§ 7486(v). Bills containing proposed appropriations.—The Director, by and with the advice of the Commission, shall cause to be prepared and submitted to the General Assembly the following bills:

(a) A bill containing all proposed appropriations of the Budget for each year in the ensuing biennium, which shall be known as the "Budget Appropriation Bill."

(b) A bill containing the view of the Budget Bureau with respect to revenue for the ensuing biennium, which shall be known as the "Budget Revenue Bill," which will in the opinion of the Director and the Commission provide an amount of revenue for the ensuing biennium, sufficient to meet the appropriations contained in the Budget Appropriation Bill.

(c) A bill containing proposed methods and machinery for the collection of taxes and the listing of property for taxation, in the several counties of the State, and municipalities, which shall be known as the "Budget Machinery Bill," and such bill shall contain the judgment and the result of all the latest, most improved methods of listing and collection of taxes, for counties and municipalities, according to the best information obtainable by the Commission and the Director, with a view to the ease and simplification of the methods of the listing of property for such taxation and for the collection of the same, having in view the necessity of counties and municipalities to collect the highest percentage possible of taxes levied at the minimum cost.

To the end that all expenses of the State may be brought and kept within the Budget, the Budget Appropriation Bill shall contain a specific sum as a contingent or emergency appropriation. The manner of the allocation of such contingent or emergency appropriation shall be as follows: Any institution, department, commission, or other agency or activity of the State, or other activity in which the State is interested, desiring an allotment out of such contingent or emergency appropriation, shall upon forms prescribed and furnished by the Budget Bureau, present such request in writing to the Director of the Budget, with such information as he may require, and if the Director of the Budget shall approve such request, in whole or in part, he shall forthwith present the same to the Governor and Council of State, and upon their order only shall such allotment be made. If the Director shall disapprove the request of such an allotment out of the emergency or contingent appropriation, he shall transmit his refusal and his reason therefor to the Governor and Council of State for their information.

If the director and the commission shall not agree as to the appropriation, revenue and machinery bills in substantial particulars, the Director shall prepare the same, based on his conclusions and judgment, and shall cause to be submitted therewith such statements of disagreement, and the particulars thereof, as the Commission, or any of its members, shall find proper to submit as representing their own views. (1925, c. 89, s. 13; 1929, c. 100, ss. 12, 13, 14.)

§ 7486 (w). Printing copies of budget report and bills and rules for the introduction of the same.—The Director shall cause to be printed one thousand copies each of the Budget report, the Budget Appropriation Bill, the Budget Revenue Bill, and the Budget Machinery Bill. The Governor shall present copies thereof to the General Assembly, together with the biennial message, except incoming Governors may, at the first session of the General Assembly in their respective terms, submit the same after the biennial message has been presented to the General Assembly. The Budget Appropriation Bill shall be introduced by the Chairman of the Committee on Appropriations in each House of the General Assembly, and the Budget Revenue Bill and the Budget Machinery Bill shall be introduced by the Chairmen of the Finance Committees in each branch of the General Assembly: Provided, that for the years in which the Governor is elected, the Director shall deliver the Budget report and the Budget Appropriation Bill and the Budget Revenue Bill and the Budget Machinery Bill to the Governor-elect, on or before the fifteenth day of December, and the said Budget report, Appropriation, Revenue and Machinery Bills, shall be presented by the Governor to the General Assembly with such recommendations in the way of amendments, or other modifications, together with such criticism as he may determine. The provisions herein contained as to the introduction of the bills mentioned in this section shall be considered and treated as a rule of procedure in the Senate and House of Representatives until otherwise expressly provided for by a rule in either, or both, of said branches of the General Assembly. (1925, c. 89, s. 14; 1929, c. 100, s. 15.)

§ 7486 (x). Joint meetings of committees considering the budget report and appropriation bill. —The Appropriations Committees of the House of Representatives and the Senate and sub-committees thereof shall sit jointly in open sessions while considering the Budget and such consideration shall embrace the entire Budget plan, including appropriations for all purposes, revenue, borrowings and other means of financing expenditures. Such joint meetings shall begin within five days after the Budget has been presented to the General Assembly by the Governor. This joint committee shall have power to examine under oath any officer or head of any department or any clerk or employee thereof; and to compel the production of papers, books of account, and other documents in the possession or under the control of such officer or head of department. This joint committee may also cause the attendance of heads or responsible representatives of a department, institution, division, boards, commission, and agencies of the State, to furnish such information and answer such questions as the joint committee shall require. To these sessions of the joint committee or sub-committees shall be admitted, with the right to be heard, all taxpayers or other persons interested in the estimates under consideration. The Director or a designated representative shall have the right to sit at these public hearings and to be heard on all matters coming before the joint committee or sub-committees thereof. The said joint committee or any sub-committee thereof shall have full power and authority to punish for disobedience of its writs or orders requiring persons to attend such hearings and to answer under oath such questions as may be put to them by such committee or anyone acting in its behalf, such punishment shall be such as is now, and may hereafter be prescribed for direct contempt, but with the right of such offender to appeal from the judgment of such committee to the Superior Court of Wake County, upon the giving of such bond as may be required by such committee. In so far as this section prescribes the method and manner of hearings before such committees this section shall be considered and have the force of a rule of each branch of the General Assembly until and unless a change has been made by an express rule of such branch thereof. (1925, c. 89, s. 15; 1929, c. 100, s. 16.)

§ 7486 (y). Reduction and increase of items by general assembly. — The provisions of this act shall continue to be the legislative policy with reference to the making of appropriations and shall be treated as rules of both branches of the General Assembly until and unless the same may be changed by the General Assembly either by express enactment or by rule adopted by either branch of the General Assembly.

The General Assembly may reduce or strike out such item in the Budget Appropriation Bill as it may deem to be the interest of the public service, but neither House shall consider further or special appropriations until the Budget Appropriation Bill shall have been enacted in whole or in part or rejected, unless the Governor shall submit and recommend an Emergency Appropriation Bill or Emergency Appropriation Bills, which may be amended in the manner set out herein, and such Emergency Appropriation Bill, or Bills, when enacted, shall continue in force only until the Budget Appropriation Bill shall become effective, unless otherwise provided by the General Assembly.

The General Assembly may also increase any appropriation set out in the Budget Appropriation Bill and may provide additional appropriations for other purposes if additional revenue or revenues, equal to the amount of such additional appropriations and increases are provided for by corresponding amendment to the Budget Revenue Bill. No bill carrying an appropriation shall thereafter be enacted by the General Assembly, unless it be for a single object therein described and shall provide an adequate source of revenue for defraying such appropriation, or unless it appears from the Budget Report or the Budget Revenue Bill that there is sufficient revenue available therefor. The appropriation, or appropriations, in such bills shall be in accordance with the classification used in the Budget. (1925, c. 89, s. 16; 1929, c. 100, s. 17.)

§ 7486 (z). Operation of state departments and state agencies on maintenance appropriations. — Every State department, bureau, division, officer, board, commission, institution, State agency, or undertaking, shall operate under an appropriation made in accordance with the provisions of this act; and no State department, bureau, division, officer, board, commission, institution or other State agency or undertaking shall expend any money, except in pursuance of such appropriation and the rules, requirements and regulations made pursuant to this act. (1925, c. 89, s. 17; 1929, c. 100, s. 18.)

§ 7486 (aa). Requisition for allotment.—Before an appropriation to any spending agency shall become available, such agency shall submit to the Director, not less than twenty days before the beginning of each quarter of each fiscal year a requisition for an allotment of the amount estimated to be required to carry on the work of the agency during the ensuing quarter and such requisition to contain such details of proposed expenditures as may be required by the Director. The Director shall approve such allotments, or modifications of them, as he may deem necessary to make, and he shall submit the same to the State Auditor who shall be governed in his control of expenditures by said allotments. No allotment shall be changed nor shall transfers be made except upon the written request of the responsible head of the spending agency and by approval of the Director in writing. (1925, c. 89, s. 18; 1929, c. 100, s. 19.)

§ 7486 (bb). Expenditures of appropriations.—All incumbered balances of maintenance appropriations shall revert to the State Treasury to the credit of the general fund or special funds from which the appropriation and/or appropriations, were made and/or expended, at the end of the biennial fiscal period; except that capital expenditures for the purchase of land or the erection of buildings or new construction shall continue in force until the attainment of the object or the completion of the work for which such appropriations are made. (1925, c. 18, s. 19; 1929, c. 100, s. 20.)

§ 7486 (cc). Help to director.—The Director is hereby authorized to secure such special help, expert accountants, draftsmen and clerical help as he may deem necessary to carry out his duties under this act; and shall fix the compensation of all persons employed under this act; which shall be paid by the State Treasurer upon the warrant of the State Auditor. A statement in detail of all persons employed, time employed, compensation paid, and itemized statement of all other expenditures made under the terms of this act, shall be reported to the General Assembly by the Director, and all payments made under this act shall be charged against and paid out of the emergency contingent fund and/or such appropriations as may be made for the use of the Budget Bureau. (1925, c. 89, s. 20; 1929, c. 100, s. 21.)

§ 7486 (dd). Examination accounts state departments.—The Director shall examine or cause to be examined annually before and/or after the close of each fiscal year, the accounts of the State Treasurer and the Auditor and shall examine or cause to be examined, the accounts and vouchers relating to all money received into and paid out of the State Treasury during the preceding fiscal year, and shall cause a complete audit to be made annually of the condition of the State Treasury and shall certify and report to the Budget Bureau such audits and the Budget Bureau, through the Governor, shall transmit such reports to the General Assembly at its next session. (1925, c. 89, s. 22; 1929, c. 100, s. 22.)

§ 7486(ee). Power to administer oaths.—The Director, the assistant to the Director, and any member of the Advisory Budget Commission shall have full authority to administer oaths to any person for any purpose in connection with the performance of the duties of the said commissions, and such oath, when taken before said persons, shall be sufficient in all respects to support an indictment for perjury when the other elements of said crime exist. (1925, c. 89, s. 24.)

§ 7486(ff). Issuance of subpoenas. — The Director shall have and is hereby given full power and authority to issue the writ of subpœna for any and all persons who may be desired as witnesses concerning any matters being inquired into by the Director of the Commission, and such writs when signed by the Director shall run anywhere in this State and be served by any civil process officer without fees or compensation. Any failure to serve writs promptly and with due diligence, shall subject such officer to the usual penalties and liabilities and punishment as are now provided in the cases of like kind applying to sheriffs, and any persons who shall fail to obey said writ shall be subject to punishment for contempt in the discretion of the court and to be fined as witnesses summoned to attend the Superior Court, and such remedies shall be enforced against such offending witnesses upon motion and notice filed in the Superior Court of Wake County by the Attorney-General under the direction of the Director. Any and all persons who shall be subpœnæd and required to appear before the Director or the Commission as witnesses concerning any matters being inquired into shall be compellable and required to testify, but such persons shall be immune from prosecution and shall be forever pardoned for violation of law about which such person is so required to testify. (1925, c. 89, s. 26; 1929, c. 100, s. 23.)

§ 7486 (gg). Surveys, studies and examinations of departments and institutions.—The Director is hereby given full power and authority to make such surveys, studies, examinations of departments, institutions and agencies of this State, as well as its problems, so as to determine whether there may be an overlapping in the performance of the duties of the several departments and institutions and agencies of the State, and for the purpose of determining whether the proper system of modern accounting is had in such departments, institutions, commissions and agencies and to require and direct the installation of the same whenever, in his opinion, it is necessary and proper in order to acquire and to secure a perfect correlated and control system in the accounting of all departments, institutions, commissions, divisions, and State agencies including every department or agency handling or expending State funds, and to make surveys, examinations and inquiries into the matter of the various activities of the State, and to survey, appraise, examine and inspect and determine the true condition of all property of the State, and what may be necessary to protect it against fire hazard, deterioration, and to conserve its use for State purposes, and to make and issue and to enforce all necessary, needful or convenient rules and regulations for the enforcement of this act. All auditing systems or uses prescribed, or to be prescribed hereunder, shall be administered by the Auditor. (1925, c. 89, s. 26; 1929, c. 100, s. 23.)

§ 7486 (gg1). General regulation of the use of maintenance appropriated and authority to provide funds to insure an even availability thereof.—All appropriations now or hereafter made for the maintenance of the various departments, institutions and other spending agencies of the State, are for the purposes and/or objects enumerated in the itemized requirements of such departments, institutions and other spending agencies submitted to the General Assembly by the Director of the Budget and the Advisory Budget Commission, and/or as amended by the General Assembly. Transfers or changes as between objects and items in the Budget of any department, institution or other spending agency, may be made at the request in writing of the head of such department, institution or other spending agency by the Director of the Budget. (1929, c. 100, s. 24.)

§ 7486 (gg2). Borrowing of money by State Treasurer.—The Director of the Budget, by and with the consent of the Governor and Council of State, shall have authority to authorize and direct the State Treasurer to borrow in the name of the State, in anticipation of the collection of taxes, such sum or sums as may be necessary to make the payments on the appropriations as even as possible and to preserve the best interest of the State in the conduct of the various State institutions, departments, bureaus, and agencies during each fiscal year. (1929, c. 100, s. 25.)

§ 7486 (gg3). Maintenance appropriations dependent upon adequacy of revenues to support them.—All maintenance appropriations now or hereafter made are hereby declared to be maximum, conditional and proportionate appropriations, the purpose being to make the appropriations payable in full in the amounts named herein if necessary and then only in the event of the aggregate revenues collected and available during each fiscal year of the biennium for which such appropriations are made, are sufficient to pay all of the appropriations in full; otherwise, the said appropriations shall be deemed to be payable in such proportion as the total sum of all appropriations bears to the total amount of revenue available in each of said fiscal years. The Director of the Budget is hereby given full power and authority to examine and survey the progress of the collection of the revenue out of which such appropriations are to be made, and by and with the advice and consent of a majority of the Advisory Budget Commission to declare and determine the amounts that can be, during each quarter of each of the fiscal years of the biennium properly allocated to each respective appropriation. In making such examination and survey, he shall receive estimates of the prospective collection of revenues from the Commissioner of Revenue and every other revenue collecting agency of the State. The Director of the Budget, by and with the advice and consent of a majority of the Advisory Budget Commission, may reduce all of said appropriations pro rata when necessary to prevent an overdraft or deficit for the fiscal period for which such appropriations are made. The purpose and policy of this act are to provide and insure that there shall be no overdraft or deficit in the General Fund of the State at the end of the fiscal period, growing out of appropriations for maintenance and the Director of the Budget is directed and required to so administer this act as to prevent any such overdraft or deficit. (1929, c. 100, s. 26.)

§ 7486 (gg4). Director to exercise discretion in disbursement of appropriations.—The discretion exercised by the State Treasurer as to the manner of disbursing appropriations prescribed by section seven thousand six hundred and eighty-three of the Consolidated Statutes shall be exercised by the Director of the Budget subject to the provisions of this act and of the Executive Budget Act of one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five and amendments thereto. (1929, c. 100, s. 27.)

§ 7486 (gg5). Appropriations to educational charitable and correctional institutions are in addition to receipts by them.—All appropriations now or hereafter made to the educational institutions, and to the charitable and correctional institutions, and to such other departments and agencies of the State as receive moneys available for expenditure by them, are declared to be in addition to such receipts of said institutions, departments or agencies, and are to be available as and to the extent that such receipts are insufficient to meet the costs of maintenance of such institutions, departments, and agencies. (1929, c. 100, s. 28.)

§ 7486 (gg6). All State agencies under provisions of this act.—Section 7486 (ii) of this article as it formerly appeared is hereby repealed, and the following inserted in lieu thereof:

It is the intent and purpose of this act that every department, institution, bureau, division, board, commission, State agency, person, corporation, or undertaking, by whatsoever name now or hereafter called, that expends money appropriated by the General Assembly or money collected by or for such departments, institutions, bureaus, boards, commissions, persons, corporations, or agencies, under any general law of this State, shall be subject to and under the control of every provision of this act. Any power expressed in this act or necessarily implied from the language hereof or from the nature and character of the duties imposed, in addition to the powers and duties heretofore expressly conferred herein, shall be held and construed to be given hereby to the end that any and all duties herein imposed and made and all purposes herein expressed may be fully performed and completely accomplished, and to that end this act shall be liberally construed. (1929, c. 100, s. 29.)

§ 7486(hh). Request for appropriations for budget bureau.—The Budget Bureau shall make to the Director its request for appropriations for the biennium beginning June thirtieth, nineteen hundred and twenty-seven, and for each succeeding biennium thereafter, and the appropriations for the Budget Bureau shall be included in the emergency or contingent appropriation. (1925, c. 89, s. 27.)

§ 7486(ii). Act inapplicable to highways. — Nothing in this article shall be held or construed to apply to the State highway. (1925, c. 89, s. 28.)

§ 7486(jj). Delegation of power by director.— Any power or duty herein conferred on the Governor as Director may be exercised and performed by such person or persons as may be designated or appointed by him from time to time in writing. (1925, c. 89, s. 29; 1929, c. 100, s. 30.)

§ 7486(jj1). Laws repealed by 1925 Budget Acts remain repealed.—All laws repealed in whole or in part by chapters eighty-nine, two hundred and thirty and two hundred and seventy-five, Public Laws of one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five, shall remain repealed, and this act shall not be held to constitute a repeal of the repealing provisions thereof, but shall be held and constituted to be a reenactment of the same. (1929, c. 100, s. 31.)

Art. 1(B). Budget of State Institutions

§ 7486 (kk). Institution improvement and maintenance.—The several institutions of the State, boards, departments, commissions, agencies, persons or corporations, included with the terms hereof to which appropriations are made now or hereafter for permanent improvements or for maintenance, shall, before any of such appropriations, whether for permanent improvements or for maintenance, are available or paid to them or any one of them, budget their requirements and present the same to the Director of the Budget on or before the first day of June of each odd numbered year hereafter. There shall be a separate Budget presented for permanent improvements and for maintenance. Each of said Budgets shall contain the requirements of said institutions, boards, commissions, and agencies, persons or corporations, and undertakings, as hereinbefore defined, for the succeeding two years. Each institution, board, department, commission, agency, person or corporation, in the preparation of such Budget, shall follow as nearly as may be the itemized recommendations of the Director of the Budget and Advisory Budget Commission and/or as amended by the General Assembly. The forms, except when modified and changed by authority of the Director of the Budget, shall be the forms used in presenting the requests. (1925, c. 230, s. 2; 1929, c. 100, s. 32.)

§ 7486 (ll). Building and permanent improvement funds spent in accordance with budget.— All buildings and other permanent improvements, which shall be erected and/or constructed, shall be erected and/or constructed, and carried on and the money spent therefor in strict accordance with the Budget requests of such institution, board, commission, agency, person, or corporation filed with Director of the Budget. The expenditure of appropriations for maintenance shall be in strict accordance with the Budget recommendations for such institution, board, commission, agency, person or corporation and/or as amended or changed by the General Assembly. It shall be the duty of the Director of the Budget to see that all money appropriated for either permanent improvements or maintenance shall be expended in strict accordance with the Budget recommendations and/or as amended by the General Assembly for each department, institution, board, commission, agency, person or corporation. If the Director of the Budget shall ascertain that any department, institution, board, commission, agency, person or corporation has used any of the moneys appropriated to it for any purpose other than that for which it was appropriated and budgeted, as herein required, and not in strict accordance with the terms of this act, the Director of the Budget shall have the power and he is hereby authorized to notify such institution, board, commission, agency, person or corporation that no further sums from any appropriation made to it will be available to such department, institution, board, commission, agency, person or corporation until and after the persons responsible for the diversion of the said funds shall have replaced the same, and the Director of the Budget shall have the power and he is hereby authorized to notify the Auditor of the State not to approve or issue any further warrants for such department, institution, board, commission, agency, person or corporation for any unexpended appropriation and the Auditor is hereby prohibited from approving or issuing any further warrants for such department, institution, board, commission, agency, person or corporation until he shall have been otherwise directed by the Director of the Budget. (1925, c. 230, s. 3; 1929, c. 100, s. 33.)

§ 7486(mm). Person expending an appropriation wrongfully.—Any trustee, director, manager, building committee or other officer or person connected with any institution, or other State agency as herein defined, to which an appropriation is made, who shall expend any appropriation for any purpose other than that for which the money was appropriated and budgeted or who shall consent thereto, shall be liable to the State of North Carolina for such sum so spent and the sum so spent, together with interest and costs, shall be recoverable in an action to be instituted by the Attorney-General for the use of the State of North Carolina, which action may be instituted in the Superior Court of Wake County, or any other county, subject to the power of the court to remove such action for trial to any other county, as provided in the Consolidated Statutes four hundred and seventy, sub-section two thereof. (1925, c. 230, s. 4; 1929, c. 100, s. 34.)

§ 7486 (nn). Intent.—It is an intent and purpose of this act that all departments, institutions, boards, commissions, agencies, persons or corporations to which appropriations for permanent improvements and/or maintenance are made, shall submit to the Director of the Budget their requests for the payment of such appropriations in the form of a budget, following the recommendations made by the Director of the Budget and the Advisory Budget Commission and/or as amended by the General Assembly. (1925, c. 230, s. 5; 1929, c. 100, s. 35.)

§ 7486 (nn1). Penalties and punishment for violations.—That a refusal to perform any of the requirements of this act, and the refusal to perform any rule or requirement or request of the Director of the Budget made pursuant to, or under authority of, the Executive Budget Act, shall subject the offender to penalty of two hundred and fifty ($250.00) dollars, to be recovered in an action instituted either in Wake County Superior Court, or any other county, by the Attorney-General for the use of the State of North Carolina, and shall also constitute a misdemeanor, punishable by fine or imprisonment, or both, in the discretion of the court. If such offender be not an officer elected by vote of the people, such offense shall be sufficient cause for removal from office or dismissal from employment by the Governor upon thirty days' notice in writing to such offender. (1929, c. 100, s. 36.)

§ 7486(oo). Wrongful expenditure; procedure.—If any appropriation or any part thereof is used or expended for any purpose other than the purpose specified in the act making such appropriation, then, at the request of the Director of the Budget, a suit shall be instituted in the name of the State by the Attorney-General in Wake County for the purpose of recovering from each superintendent, director or trustee who voted for such diversion or aided and abetted in the same, the amount so diverted, with six per cent (6 per cent) interest thereon from the date of such diversion, together with the costs of such action and all expenses and costs incurred by the State in prosecuting such action, including any attorney's fees, to be fixed by the judge trying the action, and the Director of the Budget is authorized to notify the State Auditor and the State Treasurer not to issue any warrant for or to pay any warrant for the expenditure of the unexpended balance of such appropriation until the replacement of the funds so diverted, together with interest and costs and allowances as above provided, and upon the complete replacement of the same, such notice shall be given to the Auditor and State Treasurer of such replacement, to the end that the use of such appropriation may be resumed, as set out in the appropriating act, and in such cases the statute or statutes causing the lapse of unexpended balances, the appropriation for maintenance shall be suspended in the meantime as to any appropriation made to such institution or institutions. (1925, c. 275, s. 7.)

Art. 2. State Building Commission

Editor's Note.—The caption of the act of 1921, ch. 213, repealing the sections under this article stated that the power of control of building is thereby restored to the boards of trustees, directors, etc., which formerly controlled them.

The act specifically repeals sections 7492, 7493, and 7494, and recites "it being chapter three hundred and three of the Public Laws of one thousand nine hundred and nineteen, be and the same is hereby repealed." It would seem that it was the intent of the legislature to repeal all the sections of this article section 7487 to 7494.

Art. 2A. Building Code

§ 7494(1). N. C. building code.—This law shall be known and may be cited as the North Carolina building code. (1933, c. 392, s. 1.)

§ 7494(2). Purpose of article.—It is the purpose of this article to protect life, health, and property and all its provisions shall be construed liberally to that end. (1933, c. 392, s. 2.)

§ 7494(3). Administration by insurance commissioner.—The administration of such reasonable rules and regulations which may be hereafter adopted by the building code council which is herein provided for shall be enforced by the insurance commissioner or his deputy or deputies in coöperation with local officials in accordance with the consolidated statutes of North Carolina, sections 2738 to 2745, inclusive.

City ordinances may go more into detail, if desired, or may contain more stringent requirements, provided the same do not conflict with the rules and regulations hereafter adopted by the said building code council. (1933, c. 392, s. 3.)

§ 7494(4). Building code council created.—There is hereby created a building code council which shall consist of the following members registered in accordance with the laws of North Carolina where registration laws apply: One architect, one general contractor, one structural engineer, one plumbing and heating contractor, and one representative of organized labor. Members of the building code council shall be appointed or removed by the governor. The terms of office shall be as follows: One architect five years, one general contractor four years, one structural engineer three years, one plumbing and heating contractor two years and one representative of organized labor one year. Vacancies caused by expiration of term of office shall be filled by the governor and appointments made for a period of five years. Vacancies caused by resignation or otherwise shall be filled by the governor for the unexpired term of the person leaving office.

Within thirty days after the passage and publication of this article, the building code council shall meet and organize and shall have power to elect its own officers, to fix the times and places for its meetings, to adopt necessary rules of procedure, and to adopt all other rules and regulations not inconsistent herewith which may be necessary for the proper discharge of its duties and it shall keep an accurate record of all its proceedings. (1933, c. 392, s. 4.)

§ 7494(5). Appeals to council.—An appeal from the decision of the insurance commissioner upon any matter affecting the building code may be taken to the building code council as hereinafter provided. (1933, c. 392, s. 5.)

§ 7494(6). Pay of members.—The members of the building code council may each receive five dollars per day as compensation for the time given in the performance of his duty and may be reimbursed for compensation and actual traveling expenses from funds of the organization which he represents.

When the insurance commissioner shall reject or refuse to approve the mode or manner of construction proposed to be followed, or materials to be used in the erection or alteration of any building or structure, or when it is claimed that the provisions of this code do not apply, or that an equally good or more desirable form of construction can be employed in any specific case, the owner of such building or structure, or his duly authorized agent, may demand that the decision of the insurance commissioner be reviewed by the chairman and two or more members of the building code council who are qualified to render a fair and impartial decision where the amount in question shall exceed the sum of $1,000.00. The members best qualified in the opinion of the chairman shall be selected to review the decision of the insurance commissioner.

After a review of the decision of the insurance commissioner the chairman shall forward the findings and recommendations to the insurance commissioner immediately. It is understood that the building code council shall serve in an advisory capacity only and that the final decision and responsibility for such decision shall rest upon the insurance commissioner: Provided, nothing in this article shall prohibit the owner his right of appeal to the superior courts.

It shall be the duty of the council not only to make recommendations to the insurance commissioner relative to the proper construction of the pertinent provisions of the building code but it shall also recommend that he shall allow materials and methods of construction other than those required by the building code to be used, when in its opinion such other material and methods of construction are as good as those required by the code, and for this purpose the requirements of the building code as to such matters shall be considered simply as a standard to which construction shall conform. (1933, c. 392, s. 6.)

§ 7494(7). Violation of act subjects offender to fine.—If any employer, owner or other person shall violate any of the provisions of this article, or shall do any act prohibited herein, or shall fail to perform any duty lawfully enjoined within the time prescribed by the insurance commissioner or his deputy or shall fail, neglect, or refuse, to obey any lawful order given or made by the insurance commissioner, for each such violation, failure, or refusal, such employer, owner or other person upon conviction thereof shall be fined in any sum not less than ten dollars ($10.00), nor more than fifty dollars ($50.00) for each offense. Each seven days neglect shall constitute a separate and distinct offense. (1933, c. 392, s. 7.)

Art. 3. Coöperative Purchasing Committee for Certain Institutions

§§ 7495-7502. Repealed by Public Laws 1921, c. 193.

Editor's Note.—The repealing Act was codified as § 7502(a).

§ 7502(a). Repealed by Public Laws 1931, c. 261, s. 2.

See sec. 7502(c).

Art. 3(A). Division of Purchase and Contract

§ 7502(b). Creation of Division of Purchase and Contract; Director.—There is hereby created in the Governor's office a division to be known as the Division of Purchase and Contract, which division shall be under the supervision and control, subject to provisions of this article of a Director of Purchase and Contract. (1931, c. 261, s. 1; c. 396.)

§ 7502(c). Power and authority of Director. — The Director of Purchase and Contract provided for in this article shall have power and authority, and it shall be his duty, subject to the provisions of this article:

(a) To canvass all sources of supply, and to contract for the purchase of all supplies, materials and equipment required by the State Government, or any of its departments, institutions or agencies under competitve bidding in the manner hereinafter provided for.

(b) To establish and enforce standard specifications which shall apply to all supplies, materials and equipment, purchased or to be purchased for the use of the State Government for any of its departments, institutions or agencies.

(c) To purchase or contract for all telephones, telegraph, electric light power, postal and any and all other contractual services and needs of the State Government, or any of its departments, institutions, or agencies; or in lieu of such purchase or contract to authorize any department, institution or agency to purchase or contract for any or all such services.

(d) To rent or lease all grounds, buildings, offices, or other space required by any department, institution, or agency of the State Government: Provided, this shall not include temporary quarters for State Highway field forces or convict camps, or temporary places of storages for road materials.

(e) To have general supervision of all storerooms and stores operated by the State Government, or any of its departments, institutions or agencies; to provide for transfer and/or exchange to or between all State Departments, institutions and agencies, or to sell all supplies, materials and equipment which are surplus, obsolete or unused; and to maintain inventories of all fixed property and of all moveable equipment, supplies and materials belonging to the State Government, or any of its departments, institutions or agencies.

(f) To make provision for and to contract for all State printing, including all printing, binding, paper stock and supplies or materials in connection with the same. (1931, c. 261, s. 2.)

See § 7286(a).

§ 7502(d). Certain contractual powers exercised by other departments transferred to Director.—All rights, powers, duties and authority relating to State printing, or to the purchase of supplies, materials and equipment now imposed upon and exercised by the State Printing Commission, and/or the Commissioner of Labor and Printing and/or any other State department, institution, or agency under the several statutes relating thereto, are hereby transferred to the Director of Purchase and Contract and all said rights, powers, duty and authority are hereby imposed upon and shall hereafter be exercised by the Director of Purchase and Contract under the provisions of this article. (1931, c. 261, s. 3.)

§ 7502(e). Reports to Director required of all agencies as to needs.—It shall be the duty of all departments, institutions, or agencies of the State Government to furnish to the Director of Purchase and Contract when requested, and on blanks to be approved by him, tabulated estimates of all supplies, materials and equipment needed and required by such department, institution or agency for such periods in advance as may be designated by the Director of Purchase and Contract. (1931, c. 261, s. 4.)

The advisory budget commission shall have the necessary authority to adopt rules and regulations governing the following:

(a) Designating a board of award, composed of members of the budget commission, or other regular employees of the state or its institutions (who shall serve without added compensation), to act with the director in canvassing bids and awarding contracts.

(b) Fixing a quorum of the board of award and prescribing the routine and conditions to be followed in canvassing bids and awarding contracts.

(c) Prescribing routine for securing bids and awarding contracts on items that do not exceed $2,000 in value.

(d) Prescribing items and quantities to be purchased locally.

(e) Providing that where bids are unsatisfactory the division, with the approval and consent of the budget commission, may reject all bids and purchase the article in the open market, but only at a lower price.

(f) Prescribing procedure to encourage the purchase of North Carolina farm products, and products of North Carolina manufacturing enterprises.

(g) Adopting any other rules and regulations necessary to carry out the purpose of this article. (1931, c. 261, s. 5; 1933, c. 441, s. 1.)

Editor's Note.—Public Laws of 1933, c. 441, added to this section the part containing subsections (a) to (g).

§ 7502(g). Requisitioning for supplies by agencies; must purchase through sources certified.—After sources of supply have been established by contract under competitive bidding and certified by the Director of Purchase and Contracts to the said departments, institutions and agencies as herein provided for, it shall be the duty of all departments, institutions and agencies to make requisition on blanks to be approved by the Director of Purchase and Contract, for all supplies, materials and equipment required by them upon the sources of supply so certified, and, except as herein otherwise provided for, it shall be unlawful for them, or any of them, to purchase any supplies, materials or equipment from other sources than those certified by the Director of of Purchase and Contract. One copy of such requisition shall be sent to the Director of Purchase and Contract when the requisition is issued. (1931, c. 261, s. 6.)

§ 7502(h). Certain purchases excepted from provisions of article.—Unless otherwise ordered by the Director of Purchase and Contract, with the approval of the Advisory Budget Commission, the purchase of supplies, materials and equipment through the Director of Purchase and Contract shall not be mandatory in the following cases:

(a) Technical instruments and supplies and technical books and other printed matter on technical subjects; also manuscripts, maps, books, pamphlets and periodicals for the use of the State Library or any other library in the State supported in whole or in part by State funds.

(b) Perishable articles and such as fresh vegetables, fresh fish, fresh meat, eggs and milk: Provided, that no other article shall be considered perishable within the meaning of this clause, unless so classified by the Director of Purchase and Contract with the approval of the Advisory Budget Commission.

All purchases of the above articles made directly by the departments, institutions and agencies of the State Government shall wherever possible be based on at least three competitive bids. Whenever an order or contract for such articles is awarded by any of the departments, institutions and agencies of the State Government a copy of such order or contract, together with a record of the competitive bids upon which it was based, shall be forwarded to the Director of Purchase and Contract. (1931, c. 261, s. 7.)

§ 7502(k). Preference given to North Carolina products and articles manufactured by state agencies; sales tax considered.—The director of purchase and contract shall in the purchase of and/or in the contracting for supplies, materials, equipment, and/or printing give preference as far as may be practicable to materials, supplies, equipment and/or printing manufactured or produced in North Carolina: Provided, however, that in giving such preference no sacrifice or loss in price or quality shall be permitted: and, Provided further, that preference in all cases shall be given to surplus products or articles produced and manufactured by other state departments, institutions, or agencies which are available for distribution:

Provided further, that in canvassing and comparing bids there shall be taken into consideration any sales tax or excise tax that will accrue to the state of North Carolina which is levied now or hereafter may be levied and in no case shall a bidder subject to such tax suffer in comparison with bids from those to whom such tax would not apply. (1931, c. 261, s. 10; 1933, c. 441, s. 2.)

Editor's Note.—Public Laws of 1933, c. 441, added the last proviso of this section as it now reads.

§ 7502(l). Rules and regulations covering certain purposes.—The Director of Purchase and Contract, with the approval of the Advisory Budget Commission, may adopt, modify, or abrogate rules and regulations covering the following purposes, in addition to those authorized elsewhere in this article:

(a) Requiring monthly reports by State departments, institutions or agencies of stocks of supplies and materials and equipment on hand and prescribing the form of such reports.

(b) Prescribing the manner in which supplies, materials and equipment shall be delivered, stored and distributed.

(c) Prescribing the manner of inspecting deliveries of supplies, materials and equipment and making chemical and/or physical tests of samples submitted with bids and samples of deliveries to determine whether deliveries have been made to the departments, institutions or agencies in compliance with specifications.

(d) Prescribing the manner in which purchases shall be made by the Director of Purchase and Contract in all emergencies as defined in section 7502(i).

(e) Providing for such other matters as may be necessary to give effect to the foregoing rules and the provisions of this article. (1931, c. 261, s. 11.)

§ 7502(m). Standardization Committee. — It shall be the duty of the Governor to appoint a standardization committee to consist of seven members as follows: The Director of Purchase and Contract, who shall be Chairman of said Committee; and engineer from the State Highway Commission to be appointed by the Governor upon the recommendation of the Chairman of the State Highway Commission; a representative of the State educational institutions to be appointed by the Governor, a representative of the State Departments to be appointed by the Governor, a representative of the State Charitable and Correctional Institutions to be appointed by the Governor, and two members of the Advisory Budget Commission to be designated by the Governor. Four members of said committee shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business, or the performance of any duties imposed upon the committee by this article. The Committee shall meet at such time, or times, as it shall by rule or regulation prescribe, but it may meet at other times at the call of the Chairman. The Committee shall keep official minutes and such minutes shall be open to public inspection. It shall be the duty of the Standardization Committee to formulate, adopt, establish and/or modify standard specifications applying to State contracts. In the formulation, adoption and/or modification of any standard specifications, the Standardization Committee shall seek the advice, assistance and coöperation of any State department, institution or agency to ascertain its precise requirements in any given commodity. Each specification adopted for any commodity shall in so far as possible satisfy the requirements of the majority of the State departments, institutions or agencies which use the same in common. After its adoption each standard specification shall until revised or rescinded apply alike in terms and effect, to every State purchase of the commodity described in such specifications. In the preparation of any standard specifications the Standardization Committee shall have power to make use of any State laboratory for chemical and physical tests in the determination of quality. (1931, c. 261, s. 12.)

§ 7502(n). Law applicable to printing Supreme Court Reports not affected.—Nothing in this article shall be construed as amending or repealing section 7296, relating to the printing of the Supreme Court Reports, or in any way changing or interfering with the method of printing or contracting for the printing of the Supreme Court Reports as provided for in said section. (1931, c. 261, s. 13.)

§ 7502(o). Appointment of Director and compensation; qualifications; assistants; bond.—The Director of Purchase and Contract shall be appointed by the Governor, who shall fix his compensation subject to the approval of the Advisory Budget Commission. The Director shall have had at least two years experience in buying supplies, materials and equipment for governmental agencies, or for a private concern or corporation. He shall serve at the pleasure of the Governor and he shall have authority to employ such assistants as he shall deem necessary and fix their compensation, subject to the approval of the Salary and Wage Commission or such other department or agency as the duties of the Salary and Wage Commission shall be transferred to by law. The Director shall give such bond for the faithful performance of his duties as shall be fixed by the Governor. (1931, c. 261, s. 14.)

§ 7502(p). Financial interest of officers in sources of supply; acceptance of bribes.—Neither the Director of Purchase and Contract, nor any assistant of his, nor any member of the Advisory Budget Commission, nor of the Standardization Committee shall be financially interested, or have any personal beneficial interest, either directly or indirectly, in the purchase of, or contract for, any materials, equipment or supplies, nor in any firm, corporation, partnership or association furnishing any such supplies, materials, or equipment to the State Government, or any of its departments, institutions or agencies, nor shall such Director, assistant, or member of the Commission or Committee accept or receive, directly or indirectly, from any person, firm or corporation to whom any contract may be awarded, by rebate, gifts or otherwise, any money or anything of value whatsoever, or any promise, obligation or contract for future reward or compensation. Any violation of this section shall be deemed a felony and shall be punishable by fine or imprisonment, or both. Upon conviction thereof, any such Director, assistant or member of the Commission or Committee shall be removed from office. (1931, c. 261, s. 15.)

§ 7502(q). Conflicting laws repealed; Executive Budget Act unaffected; date article effective. — All laws and clauses of laws in conflict with the provisions of this article, in so far as they conflict herewith, are hereby repealed, but nothing in this article shall be construed as repealing, amending or in any way changing any of the provisions of the Executive Budget Act, codified as sections 7486(j) et seq. This article shall be in force and effect from and after April first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one, except as to the provisions of sections 7502(g)-7502(j), which said sections and provisions thereof shall be in force and effect after July first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one. (1931, c. 261, ss. 16, 17.)

Art. 4. State Reconstruction Commission

§ 7504. Duties.—It shall be the duty of such commission to make investigations and to report in reference to the industrial, commercial, economic, sociological, and military needs and requirements of the state which have been produced by the world war and the readjustment of the state to conditions of peace; to take such advisory measures as it may deem fit in reference to such matters; to consult with the several state and federal departments and such civic organizations as may offer information or recommendations in reference to such matters; to make investigation and suggest plans for the coördination and coöperation of the resources of the state during the period of adjustment after such war, and to make investigations and recommendations on all matters requiring the cooperation of federal and state governments, and to plan methods of coöperating with the federal authorities in devising and carrying out national policies during the period of war reconstruction. (1919, c. 261, s. 2.)

§ 7506. Appropriation.—The members of the commission shall serve without compensation; but a sum of not exceeding five hundred dollars per annum for the years one thousand nine hundred and nineteen and one thousand nine hundred and twenty be and the same is hereby appropriated out of the public funds of the state to be used for the payment of postage and clerical assistance in the carrying out of the work of the commission; such sum to be paid upon warrant of the state auditor by the state treasurer, upon request of the executive chairman or secretary of the said commission. (1919, c. 261, s. 4.)

Art. 5. Soldier Settlement Board

§ 7507. Object of article.—The object of this article is, in recognition of military services, to provide useful employment and rural homes for soldiers, sailors, marines, and others who have served with the armed forces of the United States in the European war or other wars of the United States, including former American citizens who served in allied armies against central powers and have been repatriated, and who have been honorably discharged; and to accomplish such purpose by coöperation with the agencies of the United States engaged in work of a similar character. This article may be cited as "The North Carolina Soldier Settlement Act." (1919, c. 266, s. 1.)

Editor's Note.—The first act passed in North Carolina reserving land for officers and soldiers serving in the army of this state was passed in 1780. This act was lost. In 1782 another act for relief of officers and soldiers in the continental line, was passed. This act gave specified quantities of land to the officers and soldiers. By this act 25,000 acres was given to Major General Nathaniel Green. The title of Major General Green's heirs was questioned by others claiming title, but Marshall Ch. J. for the entire court in Rutherford v. Green, 2 Wheat. 196, 4 L. Ed. 218, held that the grant by the legislature vested a valid title in Major Gen. Green and his heirs.

§ 7509. Coöperation with federal agencies.—The board shall satisfy itself of the practicability of each project to be undertaken hereunder, utilizing all state agencies to such end. Projects may be undertaken in coöperation with the United States, involving the reclamation of the lands within this state by drainage, irrigation, and removal of trees and stumps, the building of levees, sea walls, necessary roads, land leveling, fertilization, sanitation, or involving such other means as may be found practicable and desirable to make the land suitable for agricultural purposes and rural homes. The board may acquire, in the name of the state, by purchase, gift, all lands and other property needed for the purposes hereof, and may take title in trust. With the consent of the coöperating federal agencies, the board may sell any land or other property acquired hereunder found not to be required for any project. The board may also utilize all lands of the state for the purposes of this article: Provided, that nothing in this section contained shall be construed to repeal any law relating to the price of state lands. The periods during which payment for state lands may be made and the rates of interest under existing statutory law may be modified by the board, if deemed advisable in order properly to coöperate with federal agencies. (1919, c. 266, s. 3.)

§ 7510. Power to contract with federal government and with other states.—The board is authorized to contract with the United States pursuant to acts of congress and the rules and regulations thereunder for soldier settlement and related purposes. For the purposes of general coöperation with the federal government hereunder, the board may also contract with other states, and with municipal, quasi-municipal, and public corporations and private corporations and individuals. (1919, c. 266, s. 4.)

§ 7511. Powers under contract with federal government.—The board may also, under contract with the United States, undertake any work of farm improvement, subdivision of the land, supervision of settlement, the selection of settlers, the agricultural training of prospective settlers, the supervision of short-term loans, the rejection of applicants for allotments, the collection of moneys, the operation and maintenance of the projects undertaken, and may perform such other acts as may be necessary to effectuate full coöperation with federal agencies. (1919, c. 266, s. 5.)

§ 7512. Additional powers; proceeds of operations.—The board may also lease or assent to the lease of any lands pending receipt of application for the purchase thereof; may dedicate lands for schools, churches, roads, cemeteries, and other public purposes; may establish, develop, and open for sale such town-sites as may be desirable and provided by contract with the United States. The proceeds of all operations under this act shall be covered into the North Carolina soldier settlement fund. (1919, c. 266, s. 6.)

§ 7513. State reimbursable as provided for federal government.—The board, in coöperation with the United States, is authorized to obtain suitable security by lien, by coöperation with public corporations or otherwise for the reimbursement of moneys expended hereunder by the United States, or by the state or by both jointly, or otherwise. All moneys expended by the state upon any project undertaken shall be reimbursable to the state in manner similar and to the same extent that moneys disbursed by the United States for coöperation with the state shall be reimbursable, and with the same interest, if any, upon such plan of amortization or other method or reimbursement as may be agreed upon pursuant to such acts of congress. (1919, c. 266, s. 7.)

§ 7514. State lands and lands acquired subject to taxation.—State lands utilized hereunder and lands acquired pursuant to this article shall be subject to state and local taxation and assessment for improvement purposes from the date of the execution of the contract for the purchase thereof by settlers upon any project undertaken hereunder. If the contracting purchaser shall fail to pay such taxes and assessments, the same may be paid from the fund hereby provided and charged to the purchaser, with interest at the rate of ten per cent per annum from the date of payment. (1919, c. 266, s. 8.)

§ 7515. Reports of board.—The board shall make annual report to the governor, with a full statement of its operations and the results of its investigations and experience resulting from operations under this article, together with recommendations for legislation, and shall furnish a copy of its report to the secretary of the interior. (1919, c. 266, s. 9.)

§ 7516. Board to make necessary rules and regulations.—The board is hereby authorized to perform such acts and make such rules and regulations as it may deem necessary and proper to carry this article into full force and effect. (1919, c. 266, s. 10.)

Art. 5(A). Ship and Water Transportation Commission

§ 7516(a). Creation; number; appointment and removal; organization; seal; rules.—A state ship and water transportation commission is hereby created to consist of nine members, who shall be appointed by the governor and confirmed by the senate, who shall be known as the state ship and water transportation commission: Provided, that any commissioner appointed under this article may be removed by the governor for cause. In the case of death, resignation, removal by the governor for cause, or mental disability of any commissioner during his term of office, his successor shall be appointed by the governor to fill out his unexpired term. If the senate shall refuse to confirm any appointee of the governor, then it shall be the duty of the governor to appoint another and send his name to the senate for its action. The board of commissioners shall at their first meeting, to be held not later than April fifteenth, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three, at a place in the city of Raleigh to be designated by the governor, elect one of their number chairman and another secretary, who shall hold for one year and until their successors are elected. The headquarters and main office of the commission shall be located in the state capitol. The members of the said commission at their first meeting shall organize and adopt a common seal. They shall keep minutes of their meetings, which shall be open to public inspection. They shall have the power to adopt and enforce rules and regulations for the government of their meetings and proceedings, and for the transaction of the business of the commission, and shall have the power and authority to make all rules and regulations for the carrying out the true intend and purposes of this article. They shall meet at the offices of the commission at such regular times, not less than quarterly, as they may by rule provide, and may hold special meetings at any time and place at the call of the chairman or any four members. (1923, c. 94, s. 1.)

Editor's Note. — This act is summarized in 1 N. C. Law Rev. 292.

§ 7516(b). Duties; reports.—The commission shall, as soon as practicable after its first meeting, carefully inquire, investigate and ascertain:

1. If it is feasible and will be reasonably profitable to operate, freight rates and other advantages being considered, one or more lines of ship and water transportation on the navigable rivers, sounds, and other navigable waters within the boundaries of the state and between the towns located on such navigable waters and towns and cities located beyond the boundaries of the state to the north and to the south, along the Atlantic seaboard and elsewhere.

2. The cost of purchasing suitable and adequate boats and ships and the cost of maintaining and operating the same.

3. The practicability of obtaining docks, wharves and other landing places along the banks of the said navigable rivers, and at towns located thereon within the state, and the feasibility of obtaining terminal facilities at towns or cities without the boundaries of the state, and the cost of building, buying or renting the same.

4. The reasonable estimate of the earnings of said one or more lines of water transportation to be operated and maintained by said commission.

The commission shall, after said investigation hereinbefore provided, report in writing its findings and conclusions to the governor and council of state, and shall cause to be printed a complete report of their findings of facts and conclusions and mail copy of same to each member of the general assembly, and if the said governor and the council of state, after considering the said report, shall conclude that it is feasible, practicable and will be reasonably profitable to operate the said one or more lines of water transportation recommended, if any, by the said commission, then the governor shall report the findings of said commission and council of state to a subsequent general or special meeting of the general assembly. But if the said governor and council of state shall from said report find that it is not feasible or advisable for the said lines of water transportation to be established and operated, then nothing further shall be done under this article, but the governor shall report to the next general assembly of North Carolina the action of the governor and the council of state, and shall transmit the report of the said commission. (1923, c. 94, s. 2.)

§ 7516(c). Oath of office.—The members of the commission shall each before entering upon the discharge of his duties take an oath that he will faithfully and honestly execute the duties of the office during his continuance in office. (1923, c. 94, s. 3.)

§ 7516(d). Pay of commissioners.—The members of the commission shall each receive ten dollars ($10.00) per day while engaged in the discharge of the duties of their offices and their actual traveling expenses, and the same shall be paid upon voucher signed by the commissioner and approved by the chairman and secretary of the commission. (1923, c. 94, s. 5.)

Art. 5(B). Transportation Advisory Commission

§ 7516(e). Commission created.—An advisory commission is hereby created to be known as the Transportation Advisory Commission. The commission shall consist of twelve citizens of the State of North Carolina, whose experience and knowledge as business men and shippers are such as to enable them to give intelligent consideration to the problems assigned them by this article for investigation. The members of the commission shall be appointed by the Governor, who shall also appoint the chairman and vice chairman of the commission, and shall fill any vacancies that may occur in the membership of the commission. (1925, c. 266, s. 2.)

§ 7516(f). Organization meeting.—It shall be the duty of the chairman to call the commission into session at an early time and at a place to be designated by him, at which session the commission shall organize and adopt rules for its administration and the conduct of its proceedings. The commission shall elect a secretary, and is authorized to employ clerks, assistants, competent counsel and experts. (1925, c. 266, s. 3.)

§ 7516(g). Compensation; expenses. — The members of the commission shall be allowed the same per diem as members of the General Assembly for such time as actually engaged in the performance of their duties under this article and actual traveling expenses. The chairman and secretary of the commission may be allowed such special compensation as may be approved by the Governor and Council of State. Upon recommendation of the commission, an allotment of funds shall be made from time to time by the director of the budget, from the contingent fund in the general appropriation bill, to meet the necessary expenses incurred under this article, which necessary expenses shall not exceed twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000) in the biennial period following March 10, 1925. Such necessary expenses shall be paid by the State Treasurer upon warrant of the State Auditor, to be issued upon the filing with the Auditor of a statement of such expenses, sworn to by the member or members incurring the same, or upon requisition by the chairman and secretary for necessary expenses other than that of members of the commission. (1925, c. 266, s. 4.)

§ 7516(h). Duties of commission.—It shall be the duty of the commission to make a complete and thorough survey of the entire structure of freight rates to, from and within North Carolina to ascertain if there is discrimination against receivers and shippers of freight in this State in any of such schedules of freight rates, the probable causes thereof, together with the recommendations as to the action which, in the judgment of the commission, will afford a remedy for any such discrimination found to exist; and in particular what action, if any, the State can safely and properly take in co-operation with the Federal government or otherwise, to aid in the development of water transportation to and from North Carolina ports. (1925, c. 266, s. 5.)

§ 7516(i). Commission to take testimony.—It shall be the duty of the commission, or of a committee appointed by it, to take testimony of any interested parties, upon any or all phases of the subject-matter assigned to them by this article for investigation, or which may have a bearing upon the questions which they are directed to investigate. (1925, c. 266, s. 6.)

§ 7516(j). Hearings; production of books and papers.—The commission may hold hearings at such times and places in this State as it may find convenient, and may designate one or more members to take testimony outside the borders of the State, and within the State of North Carolina may compel the production of books and papers by the same process and proceedings authorized by law to compel the production of books and papers in the Superior Court. (1925, c. 266, s. 7.)

§ 7516(k). Report to governor; proceedings before interstate commission and shipping board.—The commission shall from time to time make report to the Governor, setting forth the facts ascertained and conclusions reached from its investigations, including recommendations as to any course to be taken either by the institution of proceedings before the Interstate Commerce Commission, the Shipping Board or in the courts in respect to freight rates, or recommendations for legislative measures which in their judgment should be enacted by the General Assembly. If any recommendation for institution of proceedings as aforesaid shall be approved by the Governor, it shall be the duty of the Corporation Commission to institute and prosecute, by and with the advice of the Transportation Advisory Commission, such acts and proceedings as may be so recommended and approved. (1925, c. 266, s. 8.)

§ 7516(l). Recommendations involving expenditures.—No recommendations that involve expenditures not authorized by this article shall become effective unless such recommendation is adopted by, and an appropriation for such purpose made by the General Assembly, but it shall be the duty of the Governor to lay before the General Assembly any recommendation of the commission for further legislative action, and to indicate at the same time his own opinions concerning such recommendations. (1925, c. 266, s. 9.)

Art. 6. Officers of State Institutions

§ 7517. Secretary to be elected from directors.—The board of directors of the various state institutions shall elect one of their number as secretary, who shall act as such at all regular or special meetings of such boards. (1907, c. 883, s. 1.)

As to treasurer, see section 7689.

§ 7518. Directors to elect officers and employees.—All officers and employees of the various state institutions who hold elective positions shall be nominated and elected by the board of directors of the respective institutions. (1907, c. 883, s. 3.)

§ 7518(a). Places vacated for failure to attend meetings.—Unless otherwise specially provided by law, whenever a trustee or director of any institution supported in whole or in part by State appropriation, shall fail to be present for two successive years at the regular meetings of the board, his place as trustee or director shall be deemed vacant and shall be filled as provided by law for other vacancies on such boards.

This section shall not apply to any trustee or director who holds office as such by virtue of another public office held by him and shall not apply to any trustee or director chosen by any agency or authority other than the State of North Carolina. (1927, c. 225.)

§ 7519. Director not to be elected to position under board.—It shall be unlawful for any board of directors, board of trustees or other governing body of any of the various state institutions (penal, charitable, or otherwise) to appoint or elect any person who may be or has been at any time within six months a member of such board of directors, board of trustees, or other governing body, to any position in the institution, which position may be under the control of such board of directors, board of trustees, or other governing body. (1909, c. 831.)

§ 7520. Superintendents to be within call of board meetings.—The superintendent of each of the various state institutions shall be present on the premises of his institution and within the call of the board of directors during all regular or special meetings of the board, and shall respond to all calls of the board for any information which it may wish at his hands. (1907, c. 883, s. 1.)

§ 7521. Trading by interested officials forbidden.—The directors, stewards, and superintendents of the state institutions shall not trade directly or indirectly with or among themselves, or with any concern in which they are interested, for any supplies needed by any such institutions. (1907, c. 883, s. 2.)

§ 7521(a). Diversion of appropriations to state institutions.—It shall be unlawful for the board of trustees, board of directors, or other body controlling any state institution, to divert, use, or expend any moneys appropriated for the use of said institutions for its permanent improvement and enlargement to the payment of any of the current expenses of said institution or for the payment of the cost of the maintenance thereof; it shall likewise be unlawful for any board of trustees, board of directors, or other controlling body of any state institution to which money is appropriated for its maintenance by the state to divert, use, or expend any money so appropriated for maintenance, for the permanent enlargement or permanent equipment, or the purchase of land for said institution. (1921, c. 232, s. 1.)

§ 7521(b). Trustee, director, officer or employee violating law guilty of misdemeanor.—Any member or members of any board of trustees, board of directors, or other controlling body governing any of the institutions of the state, or any officer, employee of, or person holding any position with any of the institutions of the state, violating any of the provisions of the preceding section, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction in any court of competent jurisdiction judgment shall be rendered by such court removing such member, officer, employee, or person holding any position from his place, office or position, and shall be fined or imprisoned, in the discretion of the court. (1921, c. 232, s. 2.)

§ 7521(c). Venue for trial of offenses.— All offenses against this law shall be held to have been committed in the county of Wake and shall be tried and disposed of by the courts of said county having jurisdiction thereof. (1921, c. 232, s. 3.)

Art. 6(A). Accounting by State Departments and Institutions

§ 7521(d). System to be devised and established; controlling accounts; use of books of account.—The state auditor shall have the power and authority, and it shall be his duty, to devise and establish accounting procedures for the state, its departments and institutions, to record in detail all transactions affecting the acquisition, custodianship, and disposition of values, including cash receipts and disbursements, so that the recorded facts can be presented periodically to the public in such summaries and analytical schedules in detailed support thereof as shall be necessary to show the full effect of such transactions upon the finances of the state; to devise systems for control and disbursement of funds of the state, its departments and institutions; to devise and establish a general set of books of accounts with controlling accounts of all the assets and liabilities of the state departments and institutions, and of revenues and expenses of the state, its departments and institutions, and of all appropriations of the state, and such books and accounts generally as are necessary and proper to carry out and put into effect the systems of accounting procedures and control and disbursement of funds devised for state departments and institutions; to establish the date for the beginning of the fiscal year of the state, and to require all officers of the state, its departments, and institutions, at such time or any other time he may select, to put into effect the systems of accounting procedure and control and disbursement of funds, and to use the books of accounts in accordance with system devised. (1921, c. 163, s. 1.)

§ 7521(e). Employment and compensation of accountants.—The state auditor shall have the power and the authority to employ accountants to assist in the work in devising a system of accounting procedures and control and disbursement of funds and books of accounts mentioned in this article, and to pay to such accountants such compensation as may be agreed upon between him and such accountants: Provided, such compensation shall be considered and approved by the governor. (1921, c. 163, s. 2.)

§ 7521(f). Systems to be used by state and institutions.—The officers of the state and its institutions shall, at the time selected by the state auditor, put into effect the systems of accounting procedures and control of funds and disbursement thereof, and begin the use of the sets of books and accounts devised and selected for them. (1921, c. 163, s. 3.)

§ 7521(g). State auditor may require reports; examination of departments and institutions. — The state auditor may require all state departments and institutions to make reports from time to time, and is empowered to have all departments of the state government and state institutions examined and audited from time to time, and shall employ such experts to make audits and examinations and analyze the reports of such institutions and departments as he may deem to be necessary. (1921, c. 163, s. 4.)

§ 7521(h). Commission for examination of departments and institutions.—At any time, upon complaint made to him or upon his own motion, the governor may appoint a special commission to investigate any state department or institution which commission shall have power to subpœna witnesses, require the production of books and papers, and to do all things necessary to a full and thorough investigation, and shall submit its findings to the governor. The members of such commission shall, while engaged in the performance of their duties, receive their actual expenses and four dollars per diem. (1921, c. 163, s. 5.)

Art. 6(B). Check on License Forms, Tags and Certificate Used or Issued

§ 7521(i). Blank forms of licenses, etc., to be delivered to State Auditor; monthly report to Auditor; spoiled and damaged forms.—In all cases where blank forms of licenses, tags or certificates are prepared and delivered to any State department or agency for the use of any State department or agency in issuing such license, tag or certificate upon the payment of any fees prescribed by law, a sample of the same, together with a list of the numbers of all such license forms, tags or certificates, and the type of business or privilege to which they relate, shall be delivered to the State Auditor. On or before the tenth day of each calendar month each State department or agency issuing and delivering licenses, tags or certificates shall make report to the State Auditor of all such licenses, tags or certificates delivered during the preceding calendar month, showing the numbers thereof, the business or privilege for which issued, and the person or persons or corporations to whom such licenses, tags or certificates have been so issued. If there be any of such blank license forms, tags or certificates spoiled or in any way damaged so as to be incapable of being used, all such spoiled license forms, tags, or certificates shall be transmitted to the State Auditor and by him securely kept. (1931, c. 398, s. 1.)

§ 7521(j). Auditor to check forms monthly; report of discrepancies. — It shall be the duty of the State Auditor, as soon as practicable after the tenth day of each calendar month and not later than the thirtieth of such month, to thoroughly examine and check the reports so received, together with all such spoiled forms, tags or certificates, and the remaining such blank license forms, tags or certificates then in the hands of the department or agency to which they have heretofore been delivered. If any discrepancy be found by the State Auditor upon such checking and examination, he shall at once report the same to the Director of the Budget. (1931, c. 398, ss. 2, 3.)

Art. 6(C). Division of Personnel under the Budget Bureau

§ 7521(k). Division established.—There is hereby established in the governor's office under the budget bureau a division of personnel, to be under the supervision of the assistant director of the budget, who shall, subject to the provisions of this article, be vested with the powers and authorities and charged with duties and obligations herein described: Provided, that no additional compensation shall be allowed said assistant director of the budget on account of the duties performed hereunder. (1931, c. 277, s. 1; 1933, c. 46, s. 1.)

See 11 N. C. Law Rev., 250, for criticism of change made in this section in 1933.

Editor's Note.—Public Acts 1931, c. 277, s. 15, abolished the Salary and Wage Commission established under Public Laws 1925, c. 125.

Public Laws of 1933, c. 46, repealed the former section and inserted the above in lieu thereof. A comparison of the two sections is necessary to determine the changes.

§ 7521(l): Repealed by Public Laws 1933, c. 46, s. 2.

§ 7521(m). Survey of needs for personal service in all branches of state government.—The assistant director of the budget, together with the head of each and every department, bureau and/or commission of the state, shall make a survey and investigation of the needs for personal service in all state departments and bureaus and of the cost in value of the services rendered by all subordinates and employees of such departments and bureaus, and from time to time publish the information so assembled. (1931, c. 277, s. 3; 1933, c. 46, s. 3.)

Editor's Note.—Public Laws of 1933, c. 46, substituted "assistant director of the budget" for "director of personnel."

§ 7521(n). Classification of number of employees needed; nature of work; standard of salaries and wages; hours of labor, etc.—The assistant director of the budget shall, after making such survey and investigation and upon the information so assembled, together with the head of each and every department, bureau and/or commission, fix, determine and classify the necessary number of subordinates and employees in any and all departments and bureaus, the type and nature of work to be performed by such subordinates and employees, and/or positions to be filled by subordinates and employees in said departments and bureaus, and together with the head of each and every department, bureau and/or commission, and with the approval of the advisory budget commission fix, establish and classify a standard of salaries and wages with a minimum salary rate and a maximum salary rate and/or such intermediate salary rate or rates as may be deemed necessary and equitable, to be paid for all such services and positions and to all such subordinates and employees of said departments and bureaus. The assistant director of the budget, together with the head of each and every department, bureau and commission shall also fix, determine and establish the hours of labor in such department and/or bureau and make all such rules and regulations with respect to holidays, vacations or sick leave, and any and all other matters having direct relationship to services to be performed and the salaries and wages to be paid therefor as shall be approved as herein provided: Provided that the provisions of this article shall not apply to the maintenance or construction forces of the state highway commission employed on an hourly basis of wages: Provided further, the provisos of this article shall not apply to the supreme court. (1931, c. 277, s. 4; 1933, c. 46, s. 3.)

Editor's Note.—Public Laws of 1933, c. 46, substituted "assistant director of the budget" for "director of personnel."

§ 7521(o). Report of survey to governor and agency heads.—As such survey and investigation proceeds and is completed with respect to a particular department or bureau, the assistant director of the budget shall file a report with the governor and with the head of such department or bureau, setting out in such report the number of allowable subordinates and employees, the services to be performed, and/or the positions to be filled and the salaries or wages to be paid to each of the subordinates and employees in said department or bureau. (1931, c. 277, s. 5; 1933, c. 46, s. 3.)

Editor's Note.—Public Laws of 1933, c. 46, substituted "assistant director of the budget" for "director of personnel."

§ 7521(p). Findings in such report standard as to personal service.—When said report with respect to any such department or bureau has been so completed and filed with the Governor, and the head of such department or bureau, the findings in such report shall then become the fixed standard for the number of, the services to be performed, and/or the positions to be filled by, and the salaries or wages to be paid to, any and all subordinates and employees in the department or bureau to which said report relates, and it shall thereupon be the duty of the head of such department or bureau on the first day of the next month, beginning not less than thirty days subsequent to the reception of said report by him, to put the same into effect, and thereupon, with respect to such department or bureau, the number of employees, the services to be performed, and/or the positions to be filled, and the salaries and wages specified in said report, shall become the only allowable standard for, and with respect to such department or bureau. (1931, c. 277, s. 6.)

§ 7521(q). Changes in need for personal service made by assistant director of the budget. — It shall be the duty of the assistant director of the budget to keep informed from time to time of changes in the needs for personal services in the several state departments and bureaus and to reconsider the report hereinbefore provided for, and with the approval of the advisory budget commission to make changes therein in accordance with his findings; and upon report by him to the head of any department or bureau, setting out such findings and changes, it shall be the duty of the head thereof to put such findings and changes into effect on the first day of the next month, beginning not less than thirty days after the receipt by him of such report. (1931, c. 277, s. 7; 1933, c. 46, s. 3.)

Editor's Note.—Public Laws of 1933, c. 46, substituted "assistant director of the budget" for "director of personnel."

§ 7521(r). Employment of persons by certification of name to assistant director of the budget and by his investigation.—All persons employed in any bureau, department or commission on the first day of July, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one, shall be deemed qualified. From and after the first day of July, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one, if the head of any department or bureau shall desire to fill any vacancy or to employ other and further subordinates or employees, such head may certify the name or names of any applicant or applicants to the assistant director of the budget who shall immediately inquire into the qualifications of such person and if such person is found duly qualified and the assistant director of the budget shall deem it necessary that the employment be made, the said assistant director of the budget shall fix the salary and approve of the employment. (1931, c. 277, s. 8; 1933, c. 46, ss. 3, 4.)

Editor's Note.—Public Laws of 1933, c. 46, substituted "assistant director of the budget" for "director of personnel."

§ 7521(s). Applications for employment to be filed with assistant director of the budget; list of qualified applicants.—The assistant director of the budget may adopt rules and regulations to the end that applicants for positions in the various departments, bureaus, and/or commissions, may file with the assistant director of the budget such application for employment and the assistant director of the budget shall examine into the qualifications of such person and may certify for and keep a list of such persons so qualified, which said list shall be open to the inspection of the heads of the various departments, bureaus and commissions and such heads may from time to time fill the positions from such list. (1931, c. 277, s. 9; 1933, c. 46, ss. 3, 5.)

Editor's Note.—Public Laws of 1933, c. 46, substituted "assistant director of the budget" for "director of personnel."

§ 7521(t). Copies of personnel reports to state auditor. — The assistant director of the budget shall transmit to the state auditor copies of his report or reports with respect to the various departments and bureaus, and the salaries and wages for such subordinates and employees in the several departments and bureaus shall be paid out of the appropriations for such purpose and in accordance with the schedule set out in said report or reports. (1931, c. 277, s. 10; 1933; c. 46, s. 3.)

Editor's Note.—Public Laws of 1933, c. 46, substituted "assistant director of the budget" for "director of personnel."

§ 7521(u). Disputes between assistant director of the budget and agency heads settled by advisory budget commission. — In the event there shall be disagreement between the assistant director of the budget and the head of any department or bureau over the ruling of the assistant director of the budget upon any question involving such department or bureau or any of its subordinates or employees, the matters in dispute shall be heard by the advisory budget commission and the action of said commission thereon shall be final. (1931, c. 277, s. 11; 1933, c. 46, s. 3.)

Editor's Note.—Public Laws of 1933, c. 46, substituted "assistant director of the budget" for "director of personnel."

§ 7521(v). Payrolls submitted to assistant director of the budget; approval of payment of vouchers.—From and after July first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one, all payrolls of all departments, institutions, and agencies of the state government shall prior to the issuance of vouchers in payment therefor be submitted in triplicate to the assistant director of the budget, who shall check the same against the budget allotments to such departments, institutions and agencies for such purposes, and if found to be within said budget allotments, he shall approve the same and return one to the department, institution or agency submitting same and transmit one copy to the state auditor, and no voucher in payment of said payroll or any item thereon shall be honored or paid except and to the extent that the same has been approved by the assistant director of the budget. (1931, c. 277, s. 12; 1933, c. 46, s. 3.)

Editor's Note.—Public Laws of 1933, c. 46, substituted "assistant director of the budget" for "director of personnel."

§ 7521(w): Repealed by Public Laws 1933, c. 46, s. 6.

§ 7521(x). Quorum of Advisory Budget Commission.—In all matters where action on the part of the Advisory Budget Commission is required by this article, three members of said Commission shall constitute a quorum for performing the duties or acts required of said Commission. (1931, c. 277, s. 14.)

§ 7521(y). Appropriation for expenses of division of personnel.—The necessary expenses of the division of personnel under the budget bureau as authorized by this article shall be paid in accordance with the appropriation act of one thousand nine hundred thirty-one; but for lack thereof, or of a sufficient appropriation, said expenses shall be paid out of the contingency and emergency fund. (1931, c. 277, s. 16; 1933, c. 46, s. 7.)

Editor's Note.—Formerly this section provided for the expenses of the department of personnel.

Art. 7. Various Powers and Regulations

§ 7522. State institutions may exercise eminent domain.—Whenever the directors or managers of any state institution find it necessary to acquire lands in order to carry out the purposes of the institution, or to acquire lands, rights of way, or easements for the purposes of obtaining and protecting water supplies, or for constructing and maintaining dams, reservoirs, standpipes, pipe lines, flumes, or conduits for water-supply purposes, and are unable to purchase the same from the owners at a reasonable price, or are unable to obtain a good and sufficient title therefor by purchase from the owners, then such state institution may exercise the right of eminent domain and acquire any such lands, rights of way, or easements necessary for the aforesaid purposes by condemnation in the manner prescribed by law under the chapter Eminent Domain. (Rev., s. 3062; 1917, cc. 51, 132.)

§ 7523. Entry on land to lay water pipes.—For the purpose of providing water supplies, the directors or other lawful managers of any public institution of the state may enter upon the lands through which they may desire to conduct their pipes for such purpose, and lay them under ground, and they, at all times, shall have the right to enter upon such lands for the purpose of keeping the water line in repair and do all things necessary to that end. (Rev., s. 3061; 1893, c. 63, s. 1; 1911, c. 62, s. 26.)

§ 7524. Governor to execute deeds of state lands held for institutions.—The governor of the state is hereby authorized and empowered to execute a deed under the great seal of the state to any lands the title to which is now vested in the state, for the use of any state institution, upon application of the trustees or directors of such institution shall show such conveyance is for the best interests of the institution, and shall be approved by the council of state. (1917, c. 129.)

§ 7524(a). Method of alienation of real property held by any State agency.—Wherever the power and authority to convey real property held or owned by any State institution, agency, board, commission, person, or corporation that exercises State functions, have been or may be hereafter given by the General Assembly, then the method and manner of conveying the same shall be as herein provided. (1929, c. 143, s. 1.)

§ 7524(b). Execution; signature; attestation; seal.—Such conveyance shall be in the usual form of deeds of conveyance of real property and shall be executed in the name of the State of North Carolina, and signed in the name of the State of North Carolina by the Governor and attested by the Secretary of State, and the Great Seal of the State of North Carolina shall be affixed thereto. (1929, c. 143, s. 2.)

§ 7524(c). Admission to registration in Counties.—Such conveyances shall be admitted to registration in the several counties of the State upon the probate required by law for deeds of corporations. (1929, c. 143, s. 3.)

§ 7524(d). Exclusive method of conveying such property.—The manner and method of conveying real property in the State of North Carolina herein set out shall be the exclusive and only method of conveying same. Any conveyance thereof by any other person and/or executed in any other manner or method shall not be effectual to convey the State's interest or estate in such real property. (1929, c. 143, s 4.)

§ 7524(e). Act not applicable to State Board of Education as to its lands.—This act shall not be held or construed to apply to the State Board of Education insofar as it relates to the authority to convey lands held by the State Board of Education, but when the State Board of Education shall have determined to convey any of its real property in accordance with the statutes now or hereafter applying to lands held by the State Board of Education, then the method of conveying the same shall be as herein set out and not otherwise. (1929, c. 143, s. 5.)

§ 7525. Grant of easements to public-service corporations.—The directors of the various state institutions are authorized and empowered to grant privileges and easements to individuals or companies to run telegraph, telephone, or power transmission lines over lands belonging to such institutions, when in their judgment it is right and proper to do so, and subject to such terms and conditions as they may impose, and subject in each case to the approval of the attorney-general of the state. (1909, c. 484.)

§ 7526. Injury to water supply misdemeanor.—If any person shall in any way intentionally or maliciously damage or obstruct any water line of any public institution, or in any way contaminate or render the water impure or injurious, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be fined or imprisoned in the discretion of the court. (Rev., s. 3458; 1893, c. 63, s. 3.)

§ 7527. Keeping swine near state institutions; penalty.—On the petition of a majority of the legal voters living within a radius of one-quarter of a mile of the administrative building of any state educational or charitable institution, it shall be unlawful for any person to keep swine or swine pens within such radius of one-quarter of a mile. Any person violating this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be subject to a fine of not less than ten nor more than fifty dollars. (1909, c. 706.)

§ 7528. Expenditures for departments and institutions; accounting and warrants.—All expenditures of any character allowed by the general assembly in making appropriations and not covered in the appropriations named shall be charged against the department or institution for which the expense is incurred, and the state auditor's warrant shall be made to show clearly for what purpose the expenditure is made. The warrant shall be charged against the department or institution, thereby showing the total amount expended for the maintenance and expenses of such department or institution. (1917, c. 289.)

§ 7529. Institutions to file monthly statements with auditor.—On the fifteenth of each month it shall be the duty of the head of each state institution to prepare an itemized statement of all the disbursements of such institution for the preceding month, and file the same with the state auditor on blanks to be prepared and furnished to him by the auditor. (1911, c. 99.)

§ 7531. Reports of departments and institutions; investigations and audits. — All state departments and state institutions shall make reports to the governor from time to time as may be required by him, and the governor is empowered to have all departments of the state government and state institutions examined and audited from time to time, and shall employ such experts to make audits and examinations and to analyze the reports of such institutions and departments as he may deem to be necessary. (1917, c. 58, s. 7.)

§ 7532. Special investigations.—At any time, upon complaint made to him or upon his own motion, the governor may appoint a special commission to investigate any state department or state institution, which commission shall have power to subpœna witnesses, require the production of books and papers, and to do all things necessary to a full and thorough investigation, and shall submit its findings to the governor. The members of such special commission shall, while engaged in the performance of their duties, receive their actual expenses and per diem of four dollars. (1917, c. 58, s. 8.)

§ 7532(a). Governor given authority to direct investigation.—The Governor is hereby authorized and empowered to call upon and direct the Attorney-General to investigate the management of or condition within any department, agency, bureau, division or institution of the State, or any other matters pertaining to the administration of the Executive Department, when the Governor shall determine that such an investigation shall be necessary. (1927, c. 234, s. 1.)

§ 7532(b). Conduct of investigation.—Whenever called upon and requested by the Governor as in the preceding section set out, the Attorney-General shall conduct such investigation at such reasonable time and place as may be determined by him. He shall have power to issue subpœnas, administer oaths, compel the attendance of witnesses and the production of papers necessary and material in such investigation. All subpœnas issued by him shall be served by the sheriff or other officer of any county to which they may be directed. Parties interested in such investigation may appear at the hearing and be represented by counsel, who shall have the right to examine or cross-examine witnesses.

All persons subpœnaed to attend any hearing before the Attorney-General shall, for a failure so to attend and testify, be subject to the same penalties as prescribed by law for such failure in the Superior Court. (1927, c. 234, s. 2.)

§ 7533. Commission to determine scope of reports.—There is hereby established a commission to be composed of the governor, the attorney-general, and the commissioner of labor and printing, the duty of which commission shall be to confer with the various departments and to subscribe the scope of the matter to be published in any report now prescribed, required, or permitted, to the end that unnecessary matter may be eliminated. (1917, c. 202, s. 2.)

Editor's Note.—While the act of 1927, ch. 217 (by the caption thereof) purports to amend this section, there is no mention of the section contained therein. The amendment was either omitted from the act, or reference to this section was inserted in the caption by mistake.

§ 7534. Reports of departments to be printed biennially.—All laws requiring reports to be made, published, and printed by any department oftener than once in two years are hereby amended to the extent that the report of any department is required or permitted to be printed only once in any biennial period: Provided, that this section shall not apply to the report of the state auditor and of the state treasurer. (1917, c. 202, s. 1.)

§ 7534(c). Dismissal for failure to comply with two preceding sections.—Any officer of a state institution whose duty it is to make these reports, failing to file said biennial report or budget request as required in sections 7534(a) and 7534(b), unless an extension of time is given by the governor, shall be subject to dismissal from office. (1923, c. 197, s. 3.)

Art. 8. Inmates of State Institutions to Pay Costs

Editor's Note.—This act is an attempt to place all State charitable institutions on the same basis, with similar policies, so that the expense which the State bears will be lightened by requiring those who are able to pay to bear the expense of their care, maintenance and treatment. Suits may be brought in favor of the State for the recovery of the cost of caring for patients who are able to pay, and such patients may be removed from State institutions if no payment is made. 4 N. C. Law Rev. 17.

§ 7534(e). Governing board to fix cost and charges.—The respective boards of trustees or directors of each of said institutions, by whatever name they may be called, are hereby empowered with the final authority to determine and fix the actual cost of such training, treatment, care and maintenance, to be paid for by or for each inmate or patient, and the said boards of trustees or directors shall, to the best of their ability, fix such cost so as to include all the cost of such care, maintenance, treatment and training at such institutions, for each respective inmate, pupil or patient thereof, and the said sum, when so fixed, shall be the actual cost thereof: Provided, that the respective boards of directors of each of said institutions above named, in determining and fixing the actual cost of such care, maintenance and treatment to be paid for by non-indigent inmates thereof, are hereby given full and final authority to fix a general rate of charge, to be paid on a monthly basis by inmates able to pay same, or in cases where indigent inmates later are found to be non-indigent, then such cost for past care and maintenance of such inmates shall be paid in one or more payments based on the monthly rates of cost in effect for the period or periods of time during which such inmates have been confined in said institutions. The past acts of the boards of directors in fixing a monthly rate to be paid by non-indigent inmates for their care and maintenance in such institutions are hereby in every respect ratified and validated, and on all claims and causes of actions for such purpose now pending and are unsettled, or which hereafter may be made or begun for the payment of said past indebtedness for care, maintenance and treatment, the rates so fixed by said board of directors shall prevail and said collections shall be made in accordance therewith. In any action by any of said state's charitable institutions for the recovery of the cost of the care, maintenance and treatment of any inmate, now pending or which may hereafter be instituted, a verified and itemized statement of the account, showing the period of time during which the said non-indigent inmate was confined to the institution, the monthly rate of charge as fixed by said board of directors of such institution for the period of time that the inmate was confined therein, the total amount claimed to be due thereon as predicated upon said rate of charge, and the proper credits for any payments which may have been made on said account, shall be filed with the complaint and shall constitute a prima facie case, and such state institution shall be entitled to a judgment thereon in the absence of allegation and proof on the part of the inmate's guardian, trustee, administrator, executor, or other fiduciary, that said verified and itemized statement of the superintendent or bookkeeper of said institution is not correct because of—

(a) an error in the calculation of the amount due as predicated upon said monthly rate or charge fixed by the board of directors, or

(b) an error as to the period of time during which the inmate was confined in said state institution or

(c) an error in not properly crediting the account with any cash payment, or payments, which may have been made thereon. (1925, c. 120, s. 2; 1935, c. 186, s. 1.)

Editor's Note.—The proviso at the end of this section relating to the right to fix general rate charges was added by the 1935 amendment.

§ 7534(f). Payments.—Such cost, when so fixed and determined by the respective boards of trustees or directors of each institution, shall be paid by the patient, pupil or inmate thereof, or by his parent, guardian, trustee or other person legally responsible therefor, and the payment thereof shall constitute a valid expenditure of the funds of any such pupil, patient or inmate by any fiduciary who may be in the control of such fund, and a receipt for the payment of such cost in the hands of such fiduciary shall be a valid voucher to the extent thereof in the settlement of his accounts of his trust. Immediately upon the determination of the cost, as herein provided for, the superintendent of the institution shall notify the patient, pupil, inmate, parent, guardian, trustee, or such other person who shall be legally responsible for the payment thereof, of the monthly amount thereof, and such statement shall be rendered from month to month. The respective boards of trustees or directors of the various institutions are vested with full and complete authority to arrange with the patient, pupil, inmate, parent, guardian, trustee, or other person legally responsible for the cost, for the payment of any portion of such cost monthly or otherwise, in the event such patient, pupil, inmate, parent, guardian, trustee or other person legally responsible therefor shall not be able to pay the total cost. The head of the various institutions shall annually file with the Auditor of the State a list of all unpaid accounts. The provisions of this article directing the boards of directors of the various institutions of this State above named to ascertain which of the inmates are non-indigent and able to pay for their care, maintenance and treatment, and also directing said boards of directors to make certain periodical demands upon the guardians or other persons responsible for said inmates for the payment of said charges, and which further directs them to remove all of those inmates found able to pay but who refuse to pay, and all of the other provisions of this article relating to the manner in which said board shall collect said costs, shall be construed to be directory provisions on the part of the authorities of said institutions and not mandatory, and the failure on the part of said authorities of such institutions to perform any or all of said provisions shall not affect the right of the state institutions so named to recover in any action brought for that purpose, either during the life-time of said inmates or after their death, in an action against their guardian if alive, or other fiduciary, or against the inmate himself, and if dead, against their personal representatives for the cost of their care, maintenance and treatment in said institutions. (1925, c. 120, s. 3; 1935, c. 186, s. 2.)

Editor's Note.—The last sentence of this section was added by the 1935 amendment.

§ 7534(g). Determining who is able to pay.—From and after March 4, 1925, the respective boards of trustees or directors of each institution shall ascertain which of the various patients, pupils or inmates thereof, or which of the parents, guardians, trustees, or other persons legally responsible therefor, are financially able to pay the cost, to be fixed and determined by this article, and so soon as it shall be ascertained such patient, pupil, inmate, parent, guardian, trustee or other person legally responsible therefor, shall be notified of such cost, and in general of the provisions of this article and such patient, pupil, inmate or the parent, guardian, trustee, or other person legally responsible therefor, shall have the option to pay the same or to remove the patient, pupil or inmate from such institution, unless such person was committed by an order of a court of competent jurisdiction, in which event, the liability for the cost as fixed by this article shall be fixed or determined and payment shall be made in accordance with the terms of this article. (1925, c. 120, s. 4.)

Where patient is indigent at time of admission to state hospital and later becomes nonindigent, under this section, the hospital is entitled to recover the actual cost of the ward's care and maintenance for the whole period the ward was an inmate of the hospital, including the time the ward was indigent as well as the time he was nonindigent, and including the period both before and after demand by the hospital for the cost of his maintenance, and this is true even though this section was ratified after the admission of the ward. State v. Security Nat. Bank, 207 N. C. 697, 698, 178 S. E. 487.

§ 7534(h). Action to recover costs.—Immediately upon the fixing of the amount of such actual cost, as herein provided, a cause of action shall accrue therefor in favor of the State for the use of the institution in which such patient, pupil or inmate is receiving training, treatment, maintenance or care, and the State for the use of such institution may sue upon such cause of action in the courts of Wake County, or in the courts of the county in which such institution is located, against said patient, pupil or inmate, or his parents, or either of them, or guardian, trustee, committee, or other person legally responsible therefor, or in whose possession and control there may be any funds or property belonging to either the said pupil, patient or inmate, or to any person upon whom the said patient, pupil, or inmate may be legally dependent, including both parents. (1925, c. 120, s. 5.)

Applied in State v. Security Nat. Bank, 207 N. C. 697, 178 S. E. 487.

§ 7534(i). No limitation of such action.—No statute of limitation shall apply to or constitute a defense to any cause of action asserted by any of the above-named institutions for the collection of the cost of care, treatment, training or maintenance, or any or all of these against any person liable therefor, as herein provided, and all statutes containing limitations which might apply to the same are hereby pro tanto repealed, as to all such causes of action or claims, and this section shall apply to all claims, and causes of action for like cost heretofore incurred with such institutions and now remaining unpaid. (1925, c. 120, s. 6.)

Applied in State v. Security Nat. Bank, 207 N. C. 697, 178 S. E. 487.

§ 7534(j). Power of trustees to admit indigent persons.—This article shall not be held or construed to interfere with or to limit the authority and power of the management of the boards of trustees, or directors of any of the institutions named herein, to make provision for the care, custody, treatment and maintenance of all indigent persons who may be otherwise entitled to admission in any of the said institutions, and as to indigent pupils, inmates, and patients, the same provisions now contained in the several statutes relating thereto shall continue in force, but if at any time any of the said indigent patients, pupils or inmates shall succeed to or inherit, or acquire, in any manner, property, or any of the persons named above as legally responsible for the cost of care, treatment and maintenance of the pupil, inmate and patient at the above named institutions, shall acquire property, or shall otherwise be reputed to be solvent, then each of said institutions shall have the full right and authority to collect and sue for the entire cost and maintenance of such inmate, pupil or patient, without let or hindrance on account of any statute of limitation whatsoever. (1925, c. 120, s. 7.)

Applied in State v. Security Nat. Bank, 207 N. C. 697, 178 S. E. 487.

§ 7534(k). Suit by attorney general; venue.—At the request of such institution, all actions and suits shall be sued upon and prosecuted by the Attorney General, and such institution shall have the right to elect as to whether it will institute such action in the courts of Wake County or in the courts of the county in which such institution is located. (1925, c. 120, s. 8.)

§ 7534(m). Death of inmate; lien on estate.—In the event of the death of any inmate, pupil or patient, or either of said institutions above named, leaving any such cost of care, maintenance, training and treatment unpaid, in whole or in part, then such unpaid cost shall constitute a first lien on all the property, both real and personal, of the said decedent, subject only to the payment of funeral expenses and taxes to the State of North Carolina. (1925, c. 120, s. 10.)

§ 7534(n). Money paid into state treasury.—All money collected by any institution pursuant to this article shall be by such institution paid into the State treasury, and shall be by the State Treasurer credited to the account of the institution collecting and turning the same into the treasury, and shall be paid out by warrants drawn by the Auditor as in cases of appropriations made for the maintenance of such institutions and shall be used by such institution as it uses and is authorized by law to use appropriations made for maintenance. (1925, c. 120, s. 11.)

Art. 9. State Building Contracts

§ 7534(o). Separate specifications for building contracts.—Every officer, board, department, commission or commissions charged with the duty of preparing specifications or awarding or entering into contract for the erection, construction or altering of buildings for the State, when the entire cost of such work shall exceed ten thousand dollars, must have prepared separate specifications for each of the following branches of work to be performed: 1. Heating and ventilating. 2. Plumbing and gas fitting. All specifications must be so drawn as to permit separate and independent bidding upon each of the classes of work enumerated in the above subdivisions. All contracts hereafter awarded by the State or a department, board, commissioner, or officer thereof, for the erection, construction or alteration of buildings, or any part thereof, shall award the respective work specified in the above subdivisions separately to responsible and reliable persons, firms or corporations regularly engaged in their respective line of work. (1925, c. 141, s. 2; 1929, c. 339, s. 2; 1931, c. 46.)

Editor's Note.—This section applies only to public contracts with counties and cities and also in case of the State itself. 4 N. C. Law Rev. 14.

The Act of 1929 which substituted "may" for the words "must" and "shall" in lines eight and eighteen of this section, was repealed by the Act of 1931.

§ 7534(o) 1. Competitive bids required before letting public construction contracts. — No construction or repair work, or purchase of apparatus, supplies, materials, or equipment requiring the expenditure of public money, the estimated cost of which equals or exceeds one thousand ($1,000.00) dollars, except in cases of special emergency involving the health and safety of the people or their property: Provided that nothing in this section shall operate so as to require any public agency to enter into a contract that will prevent the use of unemployment relief labor paid for in whole or in part by appropriations or funds furnished by the state or federal government, shall be performed or contract awarded by any board or governing body of the state or sub-divisions thereof, unless proposals shall have been invited by advertisement at least one week before the time specified for opening of said proposals in a newspaper having circulation in the state of North Carolina. Such advertisement shall state the time and place where plans and specifications of proposed work or complete description of apparatus, supplies, materials or equipment may be had, and the time and place for opening the proposals, and shall reserve to said board or governing body the right to reject any or all such proposals. Proposals shall not be rejected for the purpose of evading the provisions of this act and no board or governing body of the state or subdivision thereof shall assume responsibility for construction or purchase contracts or guarantee the payments of labor or materials therefor. All proposals shall be opened in public and shall be recorded on the minutes of the board or governing body and the award shall be made to the lowest responsible bidder, taking into consideration quality and the time specified in the proposals for the performance of the contract. Each proposal shall be accompanied with a deposit to the board or governing body of cash or a certified check on some bank or trust company authorized to do business under the laws of the state of North Carolina in an amount equal to not less than two per centum of the proposal; said deposit to be retained in the event of failure to execute the contract within ten days after the award, or to give satisfactory security as required herein. All contracts required herein shall be executed in writing, and where the amount involved is one thousand ($1,000.00) dollars or more, the board or governing body shall require the person, firm or corporation to whom the award of contract is made to furnish bond in some surety company authorized to do business in the state, or require a deposit of money, certified check or government securities for the full amount of said contract for the faithful performance of the terms of said contract; and no such contract shall be altered except by written agreement of the contractor, the sureties on his bond and the board or governing body. Such surety bond or securities required herein shall be deposited with the treasurer of the branch of the government for which the work is to be performed until the contract has been carried out in all respects. (1933, c. 400, s. 1.)

§ 7534(o) 2. Allowance for convict labor must be specified.—In cases where the board or governing body may furnish convict or other labor to the contractor, manufacturer or others entering into contracts for the performance of construction work, installation of apparatus, supplies, materials or equipment, the specifications covering such projects shall carry full information as to what wages shall be paid for such labor or the amount of allowance for same. (1933, c. 400, s. 2.)

§ 7534(o) 3. No evasion permitted.—No bill or contract shall be divided for the purpose of evading the provisions of this article. (1933, c. 400, s. 3.)

§ 7534(o) 5. Limitation of application of sections.—Sections 7534(o) 1 to 7534(o) 4 shall not apply in so far as they affect governmental agencies of sub-divisions of the state of North Carolina doing or performing by or through its or their duly elected officers or agents work for such agency up to and including an amount not to exceed five thousand ($5.000.00) dollars. (1933, c. 552, ss. 1, 2.)

Art. 10. Construction Contracts of State Institutions

board or governing body of any institution of the State Government unless proposals for same shall have been invited by advertisement in at least one newspaper having general daily circulation in the State of North Carolina, publication to be not less than ten days before the time specified for the opening of said proposals. Such advertisement shall state the time and place where plans and specifications of the proposed work may be had and the time and place for the opening of proposals in answer to such advertisement, and shall reserve to said board or governing body the right to reject any and all such proposals. All such proposals shall be opened in public, shall be recorded on the minutes of the board of governing body, and the award, if any be made, shall be made to the lowest responsible bidder. Each proposal shall be accompanied by a deposit with the board or governing body of cash or a certified check on some bank or trust company organized under the laws of this State in an amount equal to not less than two per centum of the proposals; said deposit to be retained in the event of failure on the part of the successful bidder to execute the contract within ten days after the award, or to give satisfactory security as required herein. All contracts required herein shall be executed in writing and the contractor shall furnish bond in some surety company authorized to do business in this State for the full amount of the contract for the faithful performance of the terms thereof. No such contract shall be altered except by written agreement of the contractor, the sureties on his bond and the board or governing body of the institution. (1931, c. 291, s. 1.)

§ 7534(r). Three proposals necessary for contracts up to $5,000; five proposals, where contract exceeds $5,000. — No contracts covered by the provisions of this article for construction or repair work on any permanent improvement of any institution of the State shall be awarded by any board or governing body of such institution unless proposals shall have been made by at least three reputable contractors where the estimated cost thereof shall not exceed $5,000.00 (five thousand dollars) and by at least five reputable contractors where the estimated cost thereof shall exceed $5,000.00 (five thousand dollars). (1931, c. 291, s. 3.)

§ 7534(s). State and county prison projects excepted. — The provisions of this article shall not apply to any construction by or for the State Prison or county prison projects. (1931, c. 291, s. 4.)

§ 7534(t). Conflicting laws repealed; Executive Budget Act preserved.—All laws and clauses of laws in conflict with the provisions of this article in so far as they conflict herewith are hereby repealed: Provided, that nothing herein shall be considered as in any way affecting or repealing any of the provisions of the Executive Budget Act, chapter one hundred, Public Laws one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine [§§ 7486(j) et seq.], the provisions of which act shall be continued in full force and effect. (1931, c. 291, s. 5.)

Art. 11. State Fair

§ 7534(u). Land set apart.—For the purpose of the holding annually of a State Fair and exposition which will properly represent the agricultural, manufacturing, industrial and other interests of the State of North Carolina, there is hereby dedicated and set apart two hundred acres of land owned by the State or any department thereof within five miles of the State Capitol, the particular acreage to be selected, set apart, and approved by the Governor and Council of the State of North Carolina. (1927, c. 209, s. 1.)

Editor's Note.—This section repealed Public Laws 1927, c. 209, s. 2, providing for the management and operation of the fair by a board of directors.

§ 7534(x). Funds from sale of old fair grounds to be made available.—The city of Raleigh and the North Carolina Agricultural Society are hereby authorized and empowered to give and deliver over unto the State of North Carolina in complete and perfect ownership in furtherance of said object, any and all funds or properties received or at any time available from the sale of the old State Fair Grounds. (1927, c. 209, s. 4.)

§ 7534(y). Lands dedicated by State may be repossessed at will of general assembly.—Any lands which may be dedicated and set apart under the provisions of this article may be taken possession of and repossessed by the State of North Carolina, at the will of the General Assembly. (1927, c. 209, s. 4(a).)

Art. 12. Commission to Study Departments

§ 7534(z). Governor to appoint commission to make study of administrative government.—The Governor may appoint a commission, the number of which shall be fixed by him, and such commission, when appointed, shall be charged with and directed to perform the following duties:

(a) The study of all departments, divisions and agencies of the State of North Carolina.

(b) To collect and codify all available information and thought upon the performance of the duties of each department, board or agency in the State of North Carolina.

(c) To study and collect information and advise the extent of all overlapping in the duties enjoined upon all boards, departments, divisions or agencies and the overlapping, if any, in the actual performance of these duties.

(d) To use all the information collected by the boards and commissions and agencies who have heretofore studied and reported about the matters included in this act, as well as all cognate matters to the end that the work of this commission shall be in furtherance of the work on these subjects already done.

(e) The said commission shall make its report to the Governor who shall transmit the same to the General Assembly with such recommendations as he shall see fit to make in regard thereto.

(f) That the report of the said commission shall contain and include separate studies and recommendations as to all departments, boards and agencies that are statutory, either in their creation or in the fixing of their duties, and shall draft and present therewith such bills for legislative consideration as may to it seem proper and sufficient to carry out their recommendations in regard thereto.

The said report shall also contain, as a distinct part thereof, its studies and recommendation as to all constitutional offices, departments, boards or agencies, and their recommendations thereon, together with a draft of such constitutional amendments as may, in their opinion, be necessary, in order to bring about the recommended changes therein. (1929, c. 104, s. 1.)

§ 7534(bb). Power to serve subpoenas and examine witnesses; execution of writs.—Said commission is given full power to issue subpoenas or any other writs necessary or required to compel the attendance of witnesses and such process shall run anywhere in the State and be served by all officers now charged with the duty of serving civil process, without fees for such service. Said commission shall have full power to punish for disobedience to any of its writs or subpoenas in the same manner as the Superior Court may now punish in like offenses but the offender shall have the right of appeal to the Superior Court of Wake County upon the giving of such security for his attendance therein as may be required by the commission. All persons shall be bound to obey such writs, except the Governor and the Judiciary. All writs shall be executed in the name of the chairman of the commission and a seal thereto shall not be necessary or required. (1929, c. 104, s. 3.)

Art. 13. Commission to Study Control of Alcoholic Beverages

§ 7534(2). Pay and expenses limited. — Said commission shall not be authorized to pledge the credit of the State of North Carolina or to incur any expenses, nor shall its members receive any compensation for their services other than the compensation now paid the members of the budget commission as provided by law. (1935, c. 476, s. 2.)

Art. 14. State Planning Board

§ 7534(3). Board approved as advisory agency of state; membership; vacancies; compensation.— The state planning board as designated by the governor, on January twenty-sixth, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five, is hereby approved as an advisory agency of the State, under direction of the governor, and that membership on said board shall constitute "commissioner for special purposes" within the meaning of section seven of article fourteen of the Constitution. The persons named upon the said state planning board by the governor on January twenty-sixth, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five, shall constitute the membership of said board during the pleasure of the governor, and all vacancies on the board may be filled by the governor. The members of the said board shall serve without pay. (1935, c. 488, s. 1.)

§ 7534(4). Duties of board as to public projects; investigations and assembling of data. — It shall be the duty of the said board to collect and arrange data concerning various projects in the State of North Carolina that in the opinion of the board may constitute proper and useful projects for development within the scope of the various agencies of the State or agencies of the federal government for which funds are now or may hereafter be made available. The said board shall have authority to make investigations and to correlate information on all such matters as may be referred to it by the governor or the various agencies of the State. (1935, c. 488, s. 2.)

§ 7534(5). Provision for expenses out of contingent fund.—In order to carry out the purposes of the board, the governor may from time to time make provision for any necessary expenses thereof, not provided by the federal government, out of the contingent fund appropriated for the use of the governor's office, and the said board may be authorized to accept and disburse under the approval of the director of the budget any contributions that may be made available for the work in which it is engaged by any state or federal agency or private or public endowment. (1935, c. 488, s. 3.)

Art. 15. Revenue Bonds and Governmental Aid

§ 7534(6). State agencies may issue bonds to finance certain public undertakings.—The several departments, institutions, agencies and commissions of the State of North Carolina, acting at the suggestion of the governor of North Carolina, with the approval of the council of state, are hereby authorized to issue bonds of several departments, agencies or commissions of the state, in such sum or sums, not to exceed in the aggregate two million dollars, at such time or times, in such denominations as may be determined, and at such rate of interest as may be most advantageous to the several departments, institutions, agencies and commissions of the State, the said bonds to run for a period not exceeding thirty years from date, which bonds may be sold and delivered as other like bonds of the State of North Carolina: Provided, however, that the credit of the State of North Carolina, or any of its departments, institutions, agencies or commissions, shall not be pledged further in the payment of such bonds, except with respect to the rentals, profits and proceeds received in connection with the undertaking, for which said bonds are issued, and said bonds and interest so issued shall be payable solely out of the receipts from the undertaking for which they were issued, without further obligation on the part of the State of North Carolina, or any of its departments, institutions, agencies or commissions, provided that no state department or institution issuing any of said bonds shall be allowed to pledge any of its appropriations received from the State as security for these bonds; Provided, further, that no state department, institution, agency or commission of the State shall make application for or issue any bonds, as provided in this section, after December thirty-one, one thousand nine hundred thirty-six. (1935, c. 479, s. 1.)

§ 7534(7). Acceptance of federal loans and grants permitted.—The said State of North Carolina, and its several departments, institutions, agencies and commissions, is hereby authorized to accept and receive loans, grants, and other assistance from the United States government, departments and/or agencies thereof, for its use, and to receive like financial and other aid from other agencies in carrying out any undertaking which has been authorized by the governor of North Carolina, with the approval of the council of state. (1935, c. 479, s. 2.)

STATE FLAG

§ 7535. State flag.—The flag of North Carolina shall consist of a blue union, containing in the center thereof a white star with the letter "N" in gilt on the left and the letter "C" in gilt on the right of said star, the circle containing the same to be one-third the width of said union. The fly of the flag shall consist of two equally proportioned bars, the upper bar to be red, the lower bar to be white; the length of the bars horizontally shall be equal to the perpendicular length of the union, the total length of the flag shall be one-third more than its width. Above the center of the union there shall be a gilt scroll in semicircular form, containing in black letters this inscription: "May 20th, 1775," and below the star there shall be a similar scroll containing in black letters the inscription: "April 12th, 1776." (Rev., s. 5321; 1885, c. 291.)

§ 7536. State Motto.—The words "esse quam videri" are hereby adopted as the motto of this state, and as such shall be engraved on the great seal of North Carolina and likewise at the foot of the coat-of-arms of the state as a part thereof. On the coat-of-arms, in addition to the motto, at the bottom, there shall be inscribed at the top the words, "May 20th, 1775." (Rev., s. 5320; 1983, c. 145.)

§ 7539. Flags to conform to law.—No state flag shall be allowed in or over any building here mentioned unless such flag conforms to the description of the state flag contained in this chapter. (1907, c. 938, s. 4.)

CHAPTER 127A

STATE SONG

§ 7539(a). "The Old North State."—The song known as "The Old North State," as hereinafter written, adopted and declared to be the official song of the State of North Carolina, said song being in words as follows:

"Carolina! Carolina! Heaven's blessings attend her!
While we live we will cherish, protect and defend her;
Though the scorner may sneer at and witlings defame her,
Our hearts swell with gladness whenever we name her.
Hurrah! Hurrah! The Old North State forever!
Hurrah! Hurrah! the good Old North State!

Though she envies not others their merited glory,
Say, whose name stands the foremost in Liberty's story!
Though too true to herself e'er to crouch to oppression,
Who can yield to just rule more loyal submission?

Plain and artless her sons, but whose doors open faster
At the knock of a stranger, or the tale of disaster?
How like to the rudeness of their dear native mountains,
With rich ore in their bosoms and life in their fountains.
And her daughters, the Queen of the Forest resembling—
So graceful, so constant, yet to gentlest breath trembling;
And true lightwood at heart, let the match be applied them,
How they kindle and flame! Oh! none know but who've tried them.

Then let all who love us, love the land that we live in
(As happy a region as on this side of Heaven),
Where Plenty and Freedom, Love and Peace smile before us, Raise aloud, raise together, the heart-thrilling chorus!"

(1927, c. 26, s. 1.)

STATE LANDS

SUBCHAPTER I. ENTRIES AND GRANTS

Art. 1. Lands Subject to Grant

§ 7540. Vacant lands; exceptions.—All vacant and unappropriated lands belonging to the state shall be subject to entry by any citizen thereof, in the manner hereinafter provided, except—

1. Lands covered by navigable waters.

2. Lands covered by the waters of any lake, or which, though now covered, may hereafter be gained therefrom by the recession, draining, or diminution of such waters, or have been so gained heretofore and not lawfully entered.

3. Marsh or swamp land, where the quantity of land in any one marsh or swamp exceeds two thousand acres, or where, if of less quantity, the same has been surveyed by the state, or by the state board of education, with a view to draining and reclaiming the same. (Rev., s. 1693; Code, s. 2751; R. C., c. 42, s. 1; 1854-5, c. 21.)

Cross Reference.—As to "land covered by navigable water" see sec. 7543 and notes; as to Indian lands see 7 N. C. Enc. Dig. 472, 10 N. C. Enc. Dig. 575, 583; as to land in general not subject to entry see 10 N. C. Enc. Dig. 597.

Effect of Grant.—Lands once granted by the state to individual citizens do not become "vacant lands" within the meaning of the statute, where the state subsequently acquires title to them but abandons the actual use to which they were put. State v. Bevers, 86 N. C. 588.

Swamp lands, within the meaning of this section are those too wet for cultivation except by drainage. Beer v. Whiteville Lumber Co., 170 N. C. 337, 86 S. E. 1024.

Swamp lands of two creeks may be separate and not subject to the same application of this section though it appears that sometimes during freshets and high water these are all covered with one sheet of water. Beer v. Whiteville Lumber Co., 170 N. C. 337, 86 S. E. 1024.

A tract of land within the area of swamp lands coming within the meaning of this section need not necessarily be free from knolls or higher and drier places. State Board v. Roanoke R. Co., 158 N. C. 313, 73 S. E. 994.

Grants to Land Not Subject to Entry.—An entry made to swamp land when the body contains more than 2,000 acres is void, and a grant under such entry is void. State Board v. Roanoke R. Co., 158 N. C. 313, 73 S. E. 994.

§ 7541. What swamp lands subject to grant.—Marsh or swamp lands, lying in a swamp where the quantity of land does not in the whole swamp or marsh exceed two thousand acres, and which has not been surveyed by the state or state board of education, and marsh or swamp lands, unsurveyed as aforesaid, not exceeding fifty acres in one body, though lying within a marsh or swamp of a greater number of acres than two thousand, may be entered, when the same shall be situated altogether between the lines of tracts heretofore granted. (Rev., s. 1694; Code, s. 2751; R. C., c. 42, s. 1; 1854-5, c. 21.)

§ 7541(a). Department of conservation and development to locate land subject to entry.—"The State Department of Conservation and Development is hereby directed to investigate and locate all vacant and unappropriated lands now subject to entry and grant as described in sections seven thousand five hundred and forty and seven thousand five hundred and forty-one of the Consolidated Statutes, and determine what parcels of land among them seem suitable for State parks, State forests, State game refugees or shooting grounds, and report at once the result of their investigation to the Governor of the State, together with their findings thereupon, and such recommendations as to the disposition of the particular parcels of land within the meaning of this section as they may determine best. If upon such report the Governor should determine that it is to the interest of the State that any particular parcel of such land should be devoted to such purposes, he shall recommend to the next succeeding session of the General Assembly the withdrawal of such parcel or parcels of land from entry, and immediately upon publication of such proclamation, such parcel or parcels of land shall be devoted to the public purpose designed and specified. Upon such withdrawal from entry such parcel or parcels of land shall be administered for the purposes to which it is devoted by the said State Department of Conservation and Development." (1927, c. 83, s. 1.)

§ 7542. Swamp lands defined. — The words "marsh and swamp land" wherever employed in this chapter, and the words "swamp lands" employed in the statutes creating the literary fund and literary board of North Carolina and the state board of education of North Carolina, or in any act in relation thereto, shall be construed to include all those lands which have been or may now be known and called "swamp" or "marsh" lands, "pocosin bay," "briary bay," and "savanna." and all lands which may be covered by the waters of any lake or pond. (Rev., s. 1695; 1891, c. 302.)

§ 7542(a). Investigating and locating marsh or swamp lands. — The State Department of Conservation and Development is hereby directed to investigate and locate the body or bodies, or parcel or parcels of marsh or swamp land, the title to which is now vested in the State Board of Education under sections seven thousand five hundred and forty and seven thousand five hundred and forty-two of the Consolidated Statutes, and determine what parcels of land among them seem suitable for State parks, State forests, State game refuges or shooting grounds, and report at once the result of their investigation to the Governor of the State, together with their findings thereupon and such recommendations as to the disposition of the particular parcels of land within the meaning of this section as they may determine best. Upon such report to the Governor, he shall bring the matter to the attention of the next succeeding session of the General Assembly and if his recommendation thereupon is approved by the General Assembly, said parcel or parcels of marsh or swamp lands shall be withdrawn from sale and shall be administered for the benefit of the people of the State for the purposes set out in this act by said Department of Conservation and Development. (1927, c. 83.)

§ 7543. Land covered by water, for wharves. —Persons owning lands on any navigable sound, river, creek or arm of the sea, for the purpose of erecting wharves on the side of the deep waters thereof, next to their lands, may make entries of the lands covered by water, adjacent to their own, as far as the deep water of such sound, river, creek, or arm of the sea, and obtain title as in other cases. But persons making such entries shall be confined to straight lines, including only the fronts of their own tracts, and shall in no respect obstruct or impair navigation. When any such entry shall be made in front of the lands in any incorporated town, the town corporation shall regulate the line on deep water to which wharves may be built. This shall not affect existing rights. For all lands thus entered there shall be paid into the treasury not less than one dollar per acre. When any person has erected a wharf on public lands of the description aforesaid, before the first of January, one thousand nine hundred and three, such person shall have liberty to enter such land, including his wharf, under the restrictions and upon the terms above set forth: Provided, no land covered by water shall be subject to entry within thirty feet of any wharf, pier or stand used as a wharf in existence, or which may hereafter be erected by any person on his own land or land under his control, or on an extended line thereof; but land covered by water as aforesaid for the space of thirty feet from the landing place or line of any wharf, pier or stand used as a wharf, as aforesaid, shall remain open for free ingress and egress of the owner and other persons to and from such wharf, pier, or stand: Provided further, no person shall be allowed to enter and obtain a grant for any land in the waters of Onslow county, in which the tide ebbs and flows, within thirty feet of the shore at low-water mark, unless the enterer shall be the owner of the adjacent shore. (Rev., s. 1696; Code, s. 2751; R. C., c. 42, s. 1; 1854-5, c. 21; 1889, c. 555; 1891, c. 532; 1893, c. 4; 1893, c. 17; 1893, c. 349; 1901, c. 364.)

As to rights in general see Wharves 12 N. C. Enc. Dig. 363.

Editor's Note.—In State v. Eason, 114 N. C. 787, 19 S. E. 88 it was held that a city whose limits extended to a navigable stream has jurisdiction only to the low water mark. In view of this case it would seem that a city can only regulate the deep water line, for the purpose of entry when the stream is in the city, and it has not the power of regulating the deep water line when it extends only to the stream, unless so provided by its charter or express legislation.

Entry by Riparian Owner.—Navigable waters may be entered to the deep water line, for wharfage purposes, Barfoot v. Willis, 178 N. C. 200, 100 S. E. 303, but this right of entry is restricted to riparian owner, and applies only to this immediate water front. Bond v. Wood, 107 N. C. 139, 12 S. E. 281.

A grant to a riparian owner of land covered by navigable water conveys only an easement therein, and a deed of the land adjoining the navigable water conveys the easement in the land covered by the water. Shephard's Point Land Co. v. Atlantic Hotel, 132 N. C. 517, 44 S. E. 39.

Regulating Deep Water Line by Mandamus.—Mandamus will lie by a riparian owner of land lying within the limits of an incorporated town, or city, to compel the town or city to "regulate the deep water line to which wharves may be built" as required by this section. Wool v. Edenton, 115 N. C. 10, 20 S. E. 165.

Prior to this case the court had held, because of statute that a riparian owner in a city could not make an entry and the secretary of state could not issue a grant until the line of deep water had been regulated by the municipal corporation. Wool v. Saunders, 108 N. C. 729, 13 S. E. 294. But by statute now the duty of the town is "when any such entry is made," not in terms to fit the line of deep water to which entry may be extended, but to, "regulate the line of deep water to which wharves may be built."—Ed. Note.

Rights go with Land.—Riparian rights being incident to land abutting on navigable water can not be conveyed without a conveyance of such land, and lands covered by navigable water are subject to entry only by the owner of the land abutting thereon. Zimmerman v. Robinson, 114 N. C. 39, 19 S. E. 102; Land Co. v. Hotel, 134 N. C. 397, 46 S. E. 749. A plaintiff acquires only an easement in the bed of navigable waters in front of its shore lots, for the purpose of building a wharf. Atlantic, etc., R. Co. v. Way, 172 N. C. 774, 779, 90 S. E. 937.

Same—Fishing Rights.—The right to build a wharf in front of riparian property does not give the riparian owner exclusive fishing privilege in the navigable part of the stream on which his property fronts. But the riparian owner will be protected from wrongful interference. Beil v. Smith, 171 N. C. 116, 87 S. E. 987.

Erroneous Survey of the Deep Water Line.—In case the line marked out is not the deep water line a riparian owner has a right to have the error corrected, and he will not be estopped because of a grant had under the erroneous survey. Wool v. Edenton, 117 N. C. 1, 23 S. E. 40.

§ 7544. Certain lakes not to be sold.—White lake, Black lake, Waccamaw lake, and any other lake in Bladen, Columbus, or Cumberland counties, containing five hundred acres or more, shall never be sold nor conveyed to any person, firm, or corporation, but shall always be and remain the property of the state of North Carolina for the use and benefit of all the people of the state. (1911, c. 8.)

For an act to preserve the recreational advantages of the State Lakes, see Public Laws 1933, c. 516.

§ 7544(a). State lakes of 50 acres or more prohibited from ever being sold.—All lakes now belonging to the State, having an area of fifty acres or more, shall never be sold nor conveyed to any person, firm or corporation, but shall always be and remain the property of the State of North Carolina for the use and benefit of all the people of the State to be administered as provided for other recreational areas now owned or to be acquired by the State. (1929, c. 165, s. 1.)

§ 7545. Void grants; not color of title.—Every entry made, and every grant issued, for any lands not authorized by this subchapter to be entered or granted, shall be void; and every grant of land made since the sixth day of March, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-three, in pursuance of the statutes regulating entries and grants, shall, if such land or any portion thereof has been heretofore granted by this state, so far as relates to any such land heretofore granted, be absolutely void for all purposes whatever, shall confer no rights upon the grantee therein or those claiming under such grantee, and shall in no case and under no circumstances constitute any color of title to any person. (Rev., s. 1699; Code, s. 2755; R. C., c. 42, s. 2; 1893, c. 490.)

As to void grants because of prior grants, in general see 10 N. C. Enc. Dig. 597.

In General. — Where there are two or more conflicting titles derived from the State, the elder shall be preferred, upon the familiar maxim that he who is prior in time shall be prior in right and shall be adjudged to have the better title. Berry v. Lumber Co., 141 N. C. 386, 54 S. E. 278.

Under the express provisions of this statute where land in controversy has been previously granted to plaintiff's predecessor in title, a subsequent grant of the same land, under which defendants claimed title, was void for all purposes. Johnston v. Kramer Bros., 203 Fed. 733, 734.

State Not Interested in Conflicting Grants.—A protest to the entry raises the issue of title solely between the enterer and protestant, in which the State is not interested. The burden being on the enterer to prove the protestants grant does not cover the land described in his entry. Walker v. Parker, 169 N. C. 150, 151, 85 S. E. 306.

Title by Adverse Possession.—Where upon protest to the entry of State's lands it is ascertained that the lands described in the entry are not contained in the former grant, the protestant may show, that the lands are not vacant and unappropriated by sufficient adverse possession to take the title out of the State and vest it in himself. Walker v. Parker, 169 N. C. 150, 151, 85 S. E. 306.

Title to Lappage by Adverse Possession.—To mature a title under the junior grant, there must be shown adverse and exclusive possession of the lappage, or the law will presume possession to be in the true owner as to all that portion of the lappage not actually occupied by the junior claimant. Land Co. v. Floyd, 167 N. C. 686; 83 S. E. 687; Currie v. Gilchrist, 147 N. C. 648, 61 S. E. 581; McLean v. Smith, 106 N. C. 172, 11 S. E. 184; Boomer v. Gibbs, 114 N. C. 76, 19 S. E. 226; Carolina Central Land Co. v. Potter, 189 N. C. 56, 127 S. E. 343.

Application to Grants Prior to March 6, 1893.—This section providing that a junior grant shall not be color of title so far as it covers land previously granted, applies, by the terms of that section, only to grants issued since March 6, 1893. Weaver v. Love, 146 N. C. 414, 415, 417, 59 S. E. 1041; Land Co. v. Western, 177 N. C. 248, 98 S. E. 706.

Art. 2. Entry-Taker

§ 7546. Election and term of office. — The board of commissioners of the several counties shall elect one person to receive entries of claims for lands within each county; and such entry-taker shall hold his office for four years. (Rev., s. 1700; Code, s. 2756.)

Deputies Not Allowed.—The duties of the entry-taker are personal and cannot be performed by a deputy or any other person. Pearson v. Powell, 100 N. C. 86, 6 S. E. 188; Maxwell v. Wallace, 38 N. C. 593.

§ 7547. Oath of office; fees.—The entry-taker shall take the oath of office and receive the fees, and no other, prescribed in the chapters respectively entitled Oaths and Salaries and Fees. (Rev., s. 1703; Code, s. 2760; 1868-9, c. 173, s. 5.)

§ 7549. Office of entry-taker at courthouse.— The entry-taker shall keep his office at the courthouse of his county, or within one mile thereof, on pain of forfeiting one hundred dollars to the county, to be sued for by the county treasurer. (Rev., s. 1704; Code, s. 2759; 1868-9, c. 173, s. 4.)

§ 7550. Annual returns. — Every entry-taker shall make return to the secretary of state annually, on the first day of January, of all lands entered with him, under a penalty of two hundred dollars. (Rev., s. 1705; Code, s. 2775; R. C., c. 42, s. 18; 1796, c. 455, s. 9; 1881, c. 265.)

§ 7551. Penalty for failure to make returns; how recovered.—The secretary of state shall furnish the attorney-general, at every spring term of the superior court of Wake county, with a certificate of failure in every case where an entry-taker shall fail to make return according to law; and the attorney-general shall move for judgment against such entry-taker and his sureties, and the courts shall give judgment accordingly. (Rev., s. 1706; Code, s. 2776; R. C., c. 42, s. 19; 1833, c. 15.)

§ 7552. Warrants issued by successor in office. —In all cases where an entry is made, and the entry-taker dies or resigns before a warrant is issued thereupon, his successor shall issue a warrant. (Rev., s. 1702; Code, s. 2772; R. C., c. 42, s. 15; 1835, c. 19.)

§ 7553. Register of deeds acts in case of vacancy.—When a vacancy exists in the office of entry-taker, the register of deeds shall act as entry-taker until such vacancy is filled by an election by the commissioners. The register of deeds, in such case, shall take charge of the books belonging to the office, shall discharge all the duties and receive the emoluments, and shall be subject to the rules, regulations, and penalties prescribed for entry-takers. (Rev., s. 1701; Code, s. 2757; 1868-9, c. 100, s. 2; 1868-9, c. 173, s. 2.)

Art. 3. Entries

§ 7554. Who entitled to make entries.—Any citizen of this state, and all persons who come into the state with the bona fide intent of becoming residents and citizens thereof, have the right and privilege of making entries of, and obtaining grants for, vacant and unappropriated lands. (Rev., s. 1692; Code, s. 2754; 1869-70, c. 19, s. 1.)

As to entries in general, see, 10 N. C. Enc. Dig. 578-590.

Title of Nonresident Grantee. — A nonresident claiming under a state grant has a valid title, unless it appears that he did not conform the statute in procuring the grant. The burden of proof is upon the plaintiff in setting aside a grant for any cause not appearing upon the face. Weaver v. Love, 146 N. C. 414, 415, 59 S. E. 1041.

How Title of Nonresident Questioned. — An alien has capacity to take, but not capacity to hold land; . . . he cannot hold it against the sovereign, should the sovereign choose to assert his claim thereto as forfeited. But against all the rest of the world the alien has full capacity to hold, and he can hold even against the sovereign until the estate be divested by an office found or some other equally solemn sovereign act. Rouche v. Williamson, 25 N. C. 141, 146; Wilson v. Land Co., 77 N. C. 457; Johnson v. Eversole Lumber Co., 144 N. C. 717, 720, 57 S. E. 518.

Rights of Alien Bona-Fide Entered.—A resident of another State coming into this State with the intention of becoming a bona fide resident, and entering vacant land, is of right entitled to recover grants for the same, provided he moved and settled here within the time required to perfect his entries. Mockridge v. Howerton, 72 N. C. 221.

Railroads Not Included.—A railroad company having no power to acquire lands except that which is limited to railroad purposes, does not come within the intent and meaning of this section. Wallace v. Moore, 178 N. C. 114, 100 S. E. 237.

Enterer Must Show Land is Vacant.—The burden is upon the enterer to sustain his right to make entry by showing such to be in substantial form a compliance with the statute, that the lands were vacant and unappropriated. Walker v. Carpenter, 144 N. C. 674, 57 S. E. 461.

§ 7555. Entries in writing, with description of land.—The claimant of land shall produce to the entry-taker a writing, signed by such claimant, setting forth where the land is situated, the nearest water-courses and remarkable places, and such water-courses and remarkable places as may be therein, the natural boundaries and the lines of any other person, if any, which divide it from other lands; and every such writing shall be one-quarter sheet of paper at least. (Rev., s. 1707; Code, s. 2765; R. C., c. 42, s. 11; 1777, c. 114, s. 5; 1783, c. 185, s. 11; 1885, c. 132; 1891, c. 70; 1893, cc. 120, 270; 1903, c. 272, s. 3.)

Rights Acquired by Entry.—By making the entry as prescribed by law the enterer does not acquire any title to the land, but only the right to call for a grant upon compliance with the statute. Janney v. Blackwell, 138 N. C. 437, 50 S. E. 857; Wool v. Saunders, 108 N. C. 729, 13 S. E. 294.

Rights Acquired by Floating Entry.—An entry that is so vague that the land claimed is not identified is a "floating entry" and unless the land is identified by survey in the required time such entry is not good against subsequent entry. Fisher v. Owen, 144 N. C. 649, 57 S. E. 393.

It was said in an early decision, Harris v. Ewing, 21 N. C. 369, that an entry is not absolutely void in any case, merely because it is not as "special" as the party could have made it by the use of all the indicia, internal and external, supplied by the act as evidence of identity, but it is valid or invalid in respect of a subsequent enterer according to the fact that he may or may not have sustained loss by the want of particularity in it. Cain v. Downing, 161 N. C. 592, 594, 77 S. E. 764.

Applied in Walker v. Parker, 169 N. C. 150, 85 S. E. 306.

§ 7556. Duty of entry-taker.—The entry-taker shall immediately endorse the same with the name of the claimant, the number of acres claimed, and date of the entry; and shall copy the same in a book well bound, and ruled with a large margin into spaces of equal distance, each space to contain one entry only, and every entry to be made in the order of time in which it shall be received, and numbered in the margin. The entry-taker shall thereupon cause a copy of the entry to be posted for thirty days at three public places in the township or townships in which the land covered by the entry is located. A copy of the entry shall also be posted for thirty days at the courthouse door of the county in which such land lies, and advertised for thirty days in a newspaper published at the county-seat of such county. If there be no newspaper published in such county, then the advertisement provided for shall be made in the nearest newspaper. (Rev., s. 1708; Code, s. 2765; 1903, c. 272, s. 3.)

Purpose of Notice.—The purpose of this notice is to give information to the public, any person who claims title or interest in the land covered by the entry has the right within the time provided for the publication of the notice and the advertisement, and not thereafter, to file his protest (Garrison v. Williams, 150 N. C. 674, 677, 64 S. E. 783), which should contain a denial that the land is vacant and unappropriated land belonging to the State, and allegations as to his claim or interest therein. Walker v. Parker, 169 N. C. 150, 152, 85 S. E. 306.

Entry Must Be Made by the Entry-Taker.—The entry must be made by the entry-taker and an entry made, as in this case by the claimant is void. The entry-taker is not authorized by Statute to appoint a deputy. Pearson v. Powell, 100 N. C. 86, 87, 6 S. E. 188.

An entry made by the wife of the entry-taker in his absence is void, although he allowed her to make entries, and subsequently acquiesced to what she had done. Maxwell v. Wallace, 38 N. C. 593.

§ 7557. Protest filed; bonds required.—If any person shall claim title to or an interest in the land covered by the entry, or any part thereof, he shall, within the time of the advertisement as above provided, file his protest in writing with the entry-taker against the issuing of a warrant thereon; and upon the filing of such protest, the entry-taker shall certify copies of the entry and protest to the superior court; thereupon a notice shall be issued by the clerk of the superior court to both parties, commanding them to appear before the clerk in twenty days and file their respective bonds for costs as in other cases where the title to real estate is in controversy, and to the claimant to appear at the next term of the court and show cause why the entry shall not be declared inoperative and void. This section shall not deprive either party of the advantage of prosecuting or defending without giving bond, as provided in other cases. (Rev., s. 1709; Code, s. 2765; 1903, c. 272, s. 3; 1907, c. 66, s. 1.)

As to protest, right of protest, and time of filing see 10 N. C. Enc. Dig. 586-589.

Purpose of Section.—The purpose of this statute is to protect a landowner's estate from irreparable damages by subsequent entries that might be fraudulent or mistaken. In re Drewery, 130 N. C. 342, 41 S. E. 937.

This case as decided In re Drewery, 129 N. C. 457, 40 S. E. 208, and McNeil v. Lewis, 4 N. C. 517, are overruled.—Ed. Note.

Grounds for Filing Protest. — Unless the entry by the claimant is to land claimed by the protestant protest will not lie. This is the only grounds for filing protest. Cain v. Downing, 161 N. C. 592, 77 S. E. 764.

Burden on Protestant.—"The right to protest is not given to intermeddlers, but to those who claim title to or interest in the land (Lumber Co. v. Clarke, 162 N. C. 544, 546, 67 S. E. 1057), and the protestant is therefore required to assert his title or interest." Walker v. Parker, 168 N. C. 150, 153, 85 S. E. 306.

If a protestant shows that he claims under a grant from the state and the claimant's entry is to the same land, the entry will be set aside. The protestant does not have to show a perfect claim of title as he would have to do in ejectment. Lumber Co. v. Coffey, 144 N. C. 560, 57 S. E. 344.

Protestant Can Only Show His Title.—A protestant can only enter evidence as to his title. A grant to land out side of his grant under which he claims no interest or title cannot be put in evidence to disprove claimant's right to enter the land in question. Lumber Co. v. Clarke, 152 N. C. 544, 67 S. E. 1057.

Title by Adverse Possessions.—It is not necessary that the protestant claim title by grant, he may claim title by adverse possession. When a claim of adverse possession is interposed the burden of proof shifts to the protestant. Walker v. Parker, 169 N. C. 150, 85 S. E. 306.

Floating Entry Not Notice.—An entry that is so vague that the land entered cannot be identified is a floating entry and is not sufficient notice for filing protest as provided by this section. Cain v. Downing, 161 N. C. 592, 77 S. E. 764.

Applied in Walker v. Parker, 169 N. C. 150, 85 S. E. 306.

§ 7558. Payment of price; lapse of entry.—All entries of land shall, in every event, be paid for within one year from the date of entry, unless a protest be filed to the entry, in which event they shall be paid for within twelve months after final judgment on the protest; and all entries of land not thus paid for shall become null and void, and may be entered by any other person. (Rev., s. 1731; Code, s. 2766; R. C., c. 42, s. 8; 1854-5, c. 49.)

Editor's Note.—Prior to 1905 this section, provided that "all entries to land, made in the course of one year, shall, in every event, be paid for, on or before the thirty-first day of December, which shall happen, in the second year thereafter; and all entries of land, not thus paid for, shall become null and void, and may be entered by other person."

In Barker v. Donton, 150 N. C. 723, 64 S. E. 774, the section is construed and prior cases cited. This case construes the section in a different light to the construction given in some of the early cases.

As the section was made clear by the code of 1905 the question of payment of entry will more often arise in regard to entries prior to that time.

This section is not applicable to Cherokee Lands as the entry and grant of this land is governed by chapter 11 of the code of 1883. Frasier v. Gibson, 140 N. C. 272, 52 S. E. 1035; Kimsey v. Munday, 112 N. C. 816, 17 S. E. 583.

§ 7559. When entry lapses, subsequent entry valid.—Whenever an entry of land shall be made in any entry-taker's office, and the enterer shall fail to have the land surveyed and pay the price for the same within the time limited by law, any person who may have made a subsequent entry for the same land may have the same surveyed and pay the price and have a grant. (Rev., s. 1710; Code, s. 2767; R. C., c. 42, s. 9; 1809, c. 771.)

As to subject in general, see 10 Enc. Dig. 598.

In General.—"Where an enterer allows his entry to lapse, before taking out his grant the entry becomes null, and any grant founded upon it is also void on its face, and, even without a direct proceeding to impeach it, will be treated by the courts as inoperative and insufficient to divest title out of the State, because it is apparent on inspection that it was issued without authority of law, when the efficacy of the entry was gone by the efflux of time, and, after the right of another, who had shown more diligence, accrued. Stanly v. Biddle, 57 N. C. 383; Wilson v. Land Co., 77 N. C. 457; Horton v. Cook, 54 N. C. 270; Bryson v. Dobson, 38 N. C. 138." Gilchrist v. Middleton, 107 N. C. 663, 678, 12 S. E. 85.

By failure to have a grant issued on an entry in the required time, the entry will lapse and a junior entry will give good title. Kimsey v. Munday, 112 N. C. 816, 17 S. E. 583.

When Senior Enterer Trustee for Junior Enterer.—Under an entry where the purchase-money has been paid to the state in due time the enterer has a right to call on the state for a grant even 46 years after the entry. But if there has been a subsequent entry by an innocent person without notice the senior enterer will hold as trustee for the junior enterer with senior grant. Gilchrist v. Middleton, 108 N. C. 705, 13 S. E. 227.

§ 7560. Lapsed entries not renewed within one year.—No lands entered on the books of the entry-taker, the entry of which shall be suffered to lapse by nonpayment of the price thereof, shall be reëntered within one year after the time at which such entry shall lapse, by the person in whose name such entry was made, but such reëntry shall be void. (Rev., s. 1712; Code, s. 2768; R. C., c. 42, s. 10.)

§ 7561. Entry for benefit of entry-taker.—If any entry-taker shall desire to make an entry in his own name, the same shall be made in its proper place, before a justice of the peace of the county, not being a surveyor or assistant; which entry the justice shall return to the next meeting of the board of county commissioners, who shall insert it; and every entry made by or for such entry-taker, in any other manner, shall be void. (Rev., s. 1711; Code, s. 2773; R. C., c. 42, s. 16; 1777, c. 114, s. 17.)

Strictly Construed.—This section was passed to prohibit improper practice and therefore must be followed. An entry by an entry-taker in any other manner is void. Terrell v. Manney, 6 N. C. 375, 377.

Art. 4. Surveys

§ 7562. Warrant for survey issued.—If no protest be filed, or where the protest is filed and the right of the claimant to make the entry is sustained, the entry-taker shall deliver to the party a copy of the entry with its proper number and a warrant to the surveyor to survey the same, which warrant shall contain a copy of the entry with its number and date, and a certificate that notice has been given as above provided, and that no protest has been filed, or that protest has been filed and that the court has decided in favor of the claimant. Each warrant shall be delivered to the surveyor in the order of time in which the entry was made. (Rev., s. 1713; Code, s. 2765; 1903, c. 272, s. 3.)

§ 7563. Duplicate warrants.—When any person duly makes an entry of lands which has not become void by lapse of time, and upon which the entry-taker has issued his warrant of survey, and the same be lost by accident, the entry-taker, on due proof being made to his satisfaction, by affidavit of the claimant or the surveyor or deputy surveyor, may issue a duplicate warrant of survey, of the same tenor and date, taking care to set forth, on the face of such warrant, that the same is a duplicate; in which case such warrant shall be made as valid as the original. (Rev., s. 1714; Code, s. 2771; R. C., c. 42, s. 14; 1814, c. 878, s. 1.)

§ 7564. Surveys according to priority of entry.—The surveyor shall survey all entries of land according to the priority of entry, paying due respect to the number of each warrant; and every grant obtained by any subsequent entry otherwise than is by this chapter directed, shall be void: Provided, nothing herein shall be construed to prevent any person who shall make a subsequent entry from surveying and obtaining a grant, as the law directs, for all such surplus land as shall remain, after the enterer of such land has surveyed his entry as aforesaid. (Rev.,

s. 1715; Code, s. 2770; R. C., c. 42, s. 13; 1787, c. 279.)

Time of Junior Entry.—It is not necessary that the prior entry lapse before the junior entry is made, for the junior entry is only good as to what remains after the survey of the prior entry, or by lapse of the prior entry. Stanly v. Biddle, 57 N. C. 383, 384.

Survey by a Deputy.—A survey by a deputy not duly sworn is not sufficient to give enterer good title under the survey. Avery v. Walker, 8 N. C. 140.

§ 7565. Chainbearers sworn.—No survey for the purpose of obtaining a grant shall be made until the chainbearers shall be sworn to measure justly and truly, and to deliver a true account thereof to the surveyor. The chainbearers shall actually measure the land surveyed. The surveyor is empowered to administer the oath. (Rev., s. 1717; Code, s. 2769; R. C., c. 42, s. 12; 1777, c. 114, s. 10.)

In General.—It is necessary that the chain-carrier be sworn before a bill for relief and conveyance of legal title will lie, against one claiming under a junior entry and grant. Avery v. Walker, 8 N. C. 140.

§ 7566. Survey made and plots prepared.—Every county surveyor, upon receiving the copy of the entry and order of survey for any claim of lands, shall, within ninety days, lay off and survey the same agreeably to this chapter; and make thereof two fair plots, the scale whereof and the number of the entry shall be mentioned on such plots; and shall set down in words the beginning, angles, distances, marks, and watercourses, and other remarkable places crossed or touched by or near to the lines of such lands, and also the quantity of acres; and land lying on any navigable water shall be surveyed in such manner that the water shall form one side of the survey, and the land be paid off back from the water. (Rev., s. 1716; Code, s. 2769; R. C., c. 42, s. 12; 1777, c. 114, s. 10; 1903, c. 272, s. 4.)

Plots Evidence of Land Actually Surveyed.—The plots are evidence of the survey and in case of a mistake of the draughtsman in drawing the deed they are admissible to show the land actually surveyed, and intended to be included in the grant and deed. Higdon v. Rice, 119 N. C. 623, 26 S. E. 256.

A plat may be introduced to show that the grant does not include the land surveyed. Dugger v. McKesson, 100 N. C. 1, 6 S. E. 746.

The original plat is made a part of the grant for the purpose of indicating the shape and location of the boundary, and is, of course, evidence, though not conclusive, to be submitted to the jury as to the true shape and location of the land. Redmond v. Mullenax, 113 N. C. 505, 512, 18 S. E. 708.

Line on Navigable Waters.—A grant of riparian property running with a navigable stream, will be construed to grant only to the low water mark. This rule applies to municipal corporations as well as to individuals. State v. Eason, 114 N. C. 787, 791, 19 S. E. 88.

§ 7567. Plots and warrants sent to secretary of state.—The surveyor shall, within one year, transmit the plots, together with the warrant or order of survey, to the office of the secretary of state, or deliver them to the claimant. The secretary of state shall, on receipt of the plots, file one in his office, and attach the other to the grant. (Rev., ss. 1718, 1734; Code, s. 2769; R. C., c. 42, s. 12; 1777, c. 114.)

See notes to preceding section.

Plots as Evidence.—As the county surveyor is required to send two plats to the Secretary of State, a certified copy can be used in evidence to show the shape of the land surveyed. Such evidence is not conclusive. Higdon v. Rice, 119 N. C. 623, 26 S. E. 256.

§ 7568. Special surveyor appointed, if no county surveyor.—When the office of county surveyor is vacant, the county commissioners may appoint a special surveyor to survey any lands that may be entered; and the plots and certificates of such special surveyor, accompanied by a copy of the order of the county commissioners appointing him, shall be held valid, as if done by a county surveyor duly elected. (Rev., s. 1719; Code, s. 2769; R. C., c. 42, s. 12; 1777, c. 114, s. 10.)

§ 7569. Special surveyor, when county surveyor interested.—When a county surveyor wishes to have lands surveyed in a county where he acts as principal surveyor, for the purpose of obtaining a grant, the board of county commissioners of the county shall appoint some person to make the survey, and the entry-taker shall direct his warrant of survey to such person; and all certificates, surveys, and plots of the same shall be made under the same regulations as prescribe the duty of the county surveyor in similar cases. (Rev., s. 1721; Code, s. 2774; R. C., c. 42, s. 17; 1828, c. 23.)

A deputy surveyor cannot be appointed by a county surveyor, and if properly appointed a deputy cannot survey his own land. Avery v. Walker, 8 N. C. 140.

§ 7570. Record of surveys to be kept.—The county commissioners of the several counties of the state shall provide a suitable book or books for recording of surveys of entries of land, to be known as Record of Surveys, to be kept in the office or register of deeds as other records are kept. And such record shall have an alphabetical and numerical index to run consecutively. And it shall be the duty of every county surveyor or his deputy surveyor who makes a survey to record in such book a perfect and complete record of all surveys of land made upon any warrant issued upon any entry, and date and sign same as of the day such survey was made. (Rev., s. 1722; 1905, c. 242.)

Vague Record Not Good against Junior Enterer.—Prior to this section an entry of the State's vacant and unappropriated lands too vague to give notice of the boundaries of the land intended to be entered was not sufficient notice to a second enterer who has perfected his grant in ignorance of the first; and the mere running of the lines of the lands by survey or the making of a map by the first enterer which he could keep in his possession, or the warrant to the county surveyor, necessarily no more definite than the original entry, did not remedy the defective description of the entry. This section provides for notice of all surveys and such will not hereafter arise. Lovin v. Carver, 150 N. C. 710, 64 S. E. 775.

§ 7571. Former surveys recorded.—Where any ex-county surveyor is alive and has correct minutes or notes of surveys of land on entries made by him during his term of office, it shall be lawful for him to record and index such survey in such record of surveys, and the county commissioners shall pay for such services ten cents for each survey so recorded and indexed. (Rev., s. 1725; 1905, c. 242, s. 2.)

§ 7572. What record must show; received as evidence.—All surveys so recorded in such book shall show the number of the tract of land, the name of the party entering, and the name of the assignee if there be any assignee, and shall be duly indexed, both alphabetically and numerically in such record in the name of the party making the entry, and the name of the assignee if there be any assignee. Such record of any surveyor or deputy surveyor when so made shall be read in evidence in any action or proceeding in any court: Provided, that if such record differs from the original certificates of survey heretofore made or on file in office of secretary of state, such original or certified copy of the certificate in secretary or state's office shall control. (Rev., s. 1723; 1905, c. 242, ss. 2, 3, 6.)

§ 7573. Fees for recording.—For recording and indexing such surveys the surveyor may charge twenty-five cents, which shall be paid by the party for whom the survey is made; and any surveyor shall not be required to make any survey until his fees provided by law are paid, including the twenty-five cents for recording and indexing. (Rev., s. 1724; 1905, c. 242, s. 4.)

§ 7574. Penalty for failure to make record.—Any county surveyor or deputy surveyor failing to make such record of any survey within sixty days after he makes a survey shall forfeit and pay to any party who may sue for the same two hundred dollars, and be subject to be removed from office by the board of county commissioners, and if any surveyor is removed the county commissioners shall appoint his successor, and all papers and records of a public nature in the possession of such surveyor so removed, or who may die, shall be turned over to his successor in office. (Rev., s. 1726; 1905, c. 242, s. 5; 1907, c. 579, s. 1.)

Art. 5. Grants

§ 7575. Price to be paid for land. — Whenever an entry and survey of any vacant and unappropriated land belonging to the state shall be filed in the office of the secretary of state, he shall immediately investigate the character of the land and determine its market value from its character and location, and thereupon fix the price per acre for said lands. Said price so fixed by the secretary of state shall be paid by the enterer to the treasurer of the state before any grant of the same is made by the secretary of state: Provided, that for each acre of land entered in Cherokee, Clay, Graham, Macon and Swain counties, there shall be paid to the state treasurer the sum of one and one-half dollars. (Rev., s. 1733; 1909, c. 447; 1927, cc. 8, 83; 1929, cc. 78, 210; 1931, c. 119; 1933, c. 72.)

Editor's Note.—By Public Laws 1927, c. 8, this section was amended by adding at the end thereof the following. "Provided that for each acre of land entered in Moore County, North Carolina, there shall be paid to the State Treasurer the sum of seven dollars." By Public Laws 1927, c. 83, which made no reference to the former amendment, this section was amended to read as it appears above. Public Laws 1929, c. 78, amended Public Laws 1927, c. 8, by adding Cherokee County to the proviso. Subsequently Public Laws 1929, c. 210, amended this section by adding the proviso, "that for each acre of land in Cherokee County, North Carolina, there shall be paid to the State Treasurer the sum of seven dollars." Public Laws 1931, c. 119, repealed Public Laws 1929, c. 210.

Public Laws of 1933, c. 72, added the proviso of the section as it now reads.

Prior Grants Not Affected by Subsequent Grant.—If a person lay an entry upon and procure a grant for land covered by a grant, he acquires no title thereto, as the state by the senior grant parted with its title. Janney v. Blackwell, 138 N. C. 437, 50 S. E. 857.

§ 7576. Price paid state treasurer.—The state treasurer shall receive the money for vacant and unappropriated lands upon the presentation to him of the certificate of the secretary of state, setting forth the number and date of the entry, and the quantity of acres found by the surveyor to be vacant, as the same may appear by the returns made to him from the surveyor or entry-taker, or from the entry-taker's warrant, or the plots of survey. (Rev., s. 1732; Code, s. 2777; R. C., c. 42, s. 20; 1827, c. 23; 1829, c. 30.)

Payment into the state treasury without the certificate of the Secretary of State is a voluntary unauthorized act and does not entitle the party to a grant, under his entry. Buchannan v. Fitzgerald, 41 N. C. 121.

§ 7577. Grant issued on auditor's certificate.—No grant shall issue on the treasurer's receipt for the money; but the auditor shall make out and deliver to the secretary of state a certificate, conformable to each receipt by him countersigned, on which the secretary shall issue the grant. (Rev., s. 1728; Code, s. 2778; R. C., c. 42, s. 21; 1799, c. 525, s. 4.)

§ 7578. Manner of issuing grant.—The secretary of state, on application of claimants, shall make out grants for all surveys returned to his office, which grants shall be authenticated by the governor, countersigned by the secretary, and recorded in his office. The date of the entry,.... the number of the survey from the certificate of survey upon which the grant is founded shall be inserted in every grant, and a copy of the plot shall be attached to the grant; and no grant shall issue upon any survey unless the same be signed by the surveyor of the county. Upon certificate from the entry-taker that the claimant has assigned his interest under the entry, a grant shall be issued in the name of the assignee: Provided, that the assignee is a citizen and resident of this state, or has come into the state with the bona fide intent of becoming a resident and citizen thereof. (Rev., ss. 1729, 1734, 1735; Code, s. 2779, c. 522; R. C., c. 42, s. 22; 1783, c. 185, s. 14; 1796, c. 455; 1799, c. 525, s. 2.)

Grants under the State Seal. — A grant without the Great Seal of the State affixed does not show title under that grant, as it is mandatory that the seal be affixed to authenticate the signature of the Governor and Secretary of State. Howell v. Hurley, 170 N. C. 798, 83 S. E. 699.

A paper signed by the Governor and countersigned by the Secretary of State, although not bearing the Great Seal of the State, is admissible in evidence to show title. Howell v. Hurley, 170 N. C. 401, 87 S. E. 107.

This case came up twice to be heard, and it was decided that as a grant it was not admissible in evidence but as an abstract of grant it was admissible as it was entered on record, and it will be presumed that the officers performed their duty in issuing the grant. Ed. Note.

Secretary of State Must Sign.—A grant of land if not signed by the Secretary of State is void. Hunter v. Williams, 8 N. C. 221.

Deputy Signing.—It is necessary that the Secretary of State sign the grant, and if he signs it it is valid no matter if there has been an attempt to sign by one of the deputies. Fowler v. Development Co., 158 N. C. 48, 73 S. E. 488.

Section 7592 makes valid grants signed by a deputy of the Secretary of State, provided no vested rights are interferred with. Ed. Note.

Place of Signature Immaterial.—It is not necessary that the Secretary of State countersign at any especial place on the grant to make it valid. Richards v. Lumber Co., 158 N. C. 54, 73 S. E. 485.

Secretary of State Must Issue.—Where the claimant has complied with the law, and it appears from the warrant and survey that the entry taker and surveyor have discharged their duties, the Secretary must issue the grant, and has no discretion in the matter. Wool v. Saunders, 108 N. C. 729, 13 S. E. 294.

§ 7579. Registration of grants.—Every person obtaining a grant shall, within two years after such grant is perfected, cause the same to be registered in the county where the land lies; and any person may cause to be there registered any certified copy of a grant from the office of the secretary of state, which shall have the same effect as if the original had been registered. (Rev., s. 1729; Code, s. 2779; R. C., c. 42, s. 22; R. S., c. 42, s. 24; 1793, c. 185, s. 14; 1796, c. 455; 1799, c. 525, s. 2.)

As to extension of time for registration of grants, see sec. 7593; as to registration in general, see 10 N. C. Enc. Dig. 599.

Grant Not Void for Failure to Register it.—A grant is not void because of failure to record it. A junior grant that is recorded is not valid until there has been seven years adverse possession. North Carolina Mining Co. v. Westfeldt, 151 Fed. 290.

Sufficient Evidence for Registration.—The certificate of the Secretary of State of North Carolina, attached to a grant of land and attested by the great seal of the State, is sufficient evidence of its official character to warrant its registration without further proof. Barcello v. Hapgood, 118 N. C. 712, 732, 24 S. E. 124; Wyman v. Taylor, 124 N. C. 426, 32 S. E. 740; Ray v. Stewart, 105 N. C. 472, 11 S. E. 182.

Extension of Time for Registration.—"Prior to 1885 the statutes provided that all grants, deeds, etc., be registered in the county wherein the land was situated within two years from the date thereof. With one or two omissions, the Legislature uniformly extended the time for registration for two years. The Supreme Court with equal uniformity held that such instruments, when registered within two years from their date or within the extended period, were good and valid for all purposes from their date by relation." Janney v. Blackwell, 138 N. C. 437, 438, 439, 50 S. E. 857.

§ 7580. Grant issued in case of claimant's death.—In case of the death of any person having made an entry of lands, pending the same or before making out the grant, the secretary shall issue the grant in the name of the decedent; and those interested, as heirs at law, devisees, tenants in dower, by the curtesy, or otherwise, shall have the same estate as if the land had been granted during the life of the decedent. (Rev., s. 1730; Code, s. 2780; R. C., c. 42, s. 23; 1715, c. 44, s. 6; 1789, c. 439, s. 6.)

§ 7581. When secretary of state may withhold grant.—When application is made for a grant, if the secretary of state has reason to believe that the land covered by any entry and the surveys made in pursuance of the same is the property of the state board of education, he may, in his discretion, withhold the issuance of a grant for same until the engineer of the state board of education or surveyor appointed by the board shall have examined into the matter and made his report. And if the engineer or surveyor shall report that the lands in question are the property of the state board of education and not subject to entry, the secretary of state shall not issue a grant on such entry and surveys. If the secretary of state has reason to believe that the land for which a grant is sought has already been granted and does not belong to the state, he shall not issue grant for the same until it appears to his satisfaction that the land does belong to the state and is subject to entry.

The secretary of state shall withhold a grant to any and all vacant and unappropriated lands lying within or immediately adjacent to the boundaries of any and all national forest purchase areas; also to lands within or near state forests and parks, and such other areas as the department of conservation and development may request to be withheld for dedication to public use as state forests, state parks, game refuges or other recreational areas. The secretory of state is further authorized to furnish to the department of conservation and development all available information on such tracts or parcels of vacant land. The department of conservation and development, after proper investigation, may then request the permanent dedication of these lands to the State as state forests and parks, game and wild life refuges or other type of economic or recreational areas. If the department of conservation and development should decide that the lands in question are too small or in other ways unsuitable for administration as such state forests and parks but are more suitable for the consolidation of publicly owned forests, parks, game refuges or other recreational areas, it may upon approval by the governor request the secretary of state and the said secretary is hereby directed, payment of the usual official and service fees therefor to be made in such manner as the said secretary may direct, to issue a grant for said land to such agency as may have the direction and supervision over such publicly owned forests, parks, game refuges or other recreational areas, or it may enter into agreement with federal or other public and private agencies for exchange of lands in order to bring about the consolidation of publicly owned forests, parks, game refuges or other recreational areas; and on approval of such agreements for exchange by the governor, the secretary of state, on request of the department of conservation and development, shall issue grants in accordance with such agreements. (Rev., s. 1727; 1903, c. 272, s. 3; 1935, c. 173.)

Editor's Note.—The case of Wool v. Saunders, 108 N. C. 729, 13 S. E. 294, laid down the rule that the Secretary of State must issue a grant when enterer had complied with all requirements. But by this section the rule is changed.

The last paragraph of this section was added by the 1935 amendment.

§ 7583. Lands conveyed to United States for inland waterway.—For the purpose of aiding in the construction of a proposed inland waterway by the United States from the city of Norfolk, in the state of Virginia, to Beaufort inlet, in the state of North Carolina, the secretary of state is hereby authorized to issue to the United States of America a grant to the land located within a distance of one thousand feet on either side of the center of the said inland waterway, in so far as such land is subject to grant by the state of North Carolina, the said grant to issue upon a certificate furnished to the secretary of state by the secretary of war, or by any authorized officer of the corps of engineers of the United States army, or by any other authorized official, exercising control of the construction of the said waterway.

Wherever, in the construction of the said inland waterway or in the improvement of any other waterway within this state, lands theretofore submerged shall be raised above the water by deposit of excavated material, the lands so formed shall become the property of the United States for a distance of one thousand feet on either side of the center of such canal or channel, and the secretary of state is hereby authorized to issue to the United States a grant to the land so formed within the distance above mentioned, the grant to issue upon a certificate furnished to the secretary of state by some authorized official of the United States as above provided. (1913, c. 197.)

§ 7584. Card index system for grants.—The secretary of state shall install in his office a card index system for grants, and every warrant, plot, and survey that can be found shall be encased in separate envelopes. Each card and envelope shall show substantially the following:

..... County. ..... Acres.
Name .....
Grant No. ..... Issued .....
Grant Book ..... Page .....
Entry No. ..... Entered .....
File No. .....
Location .....
Remarks: .....

Such grant books as are old and falling to pieces shall be recopied, and whenever any part of the record of a grant is partly gone or destroyed the secretary of state shall restore same, if he can do so with accuracy from the description in the plot and survey upon which the grant was issued and original record made. (1909, c. 505, ss. 1, 2, 3.)

§ 7584(a). Grant of Moore's Creek battlefield authorized.—In the event that Congress passes the bill now pending in Congress introduced by Congressman C. L. Abernethy authorizing the United States Government to take title to Moore's Creek Battlefield, Pender County, preserving the same as an historic battlefield, the Governor of the State of North Carolina is hereby authorized to execute to the United States Government a deed vesting the title in said United States Government on behalf of the State of North Carolina: Provided, that the consent of the State of North Carolina to such acquisition by the United States is upon the express condition that the State of North Carolina shall so far retain a concurrent jurisdiction with the United States over such battlefield as that all civil and criminal processes issued from the courts of the State of North Carolina may be executed thereon in like manner as if this authority had not been given: Provided further, that the title to said battlefield so conveyed to the United States shall revert to the State of North Carolina unless land is used for the purpose for which it is ceded. (1925, c. 40; 1927, c. 56.)

Editor's Note.—The 1927 amendment struck the words "and that the state of North Carolina also reserves authority to prevent all violation of its criminal laws committed on said tract of land so ceded" which immediately preceded the last proviso.

Art. 6. Correction of Grants

§ 7585. Change of county line before grant issued or registered.—All grants issued on entries for land which were entered in one county, and before the issuing of the grants therefor, or the registration of the grants, by the change of former county lines, or the establishment of new lines, the lands so entered were placed in a county, or in counties different from that in which they were situated, and the grants were registered in the county where the entries were made, shall be good and valid, and the registration of the grants shall have the same force and effect as if they had been registered in the county where the lands were situated; and all persons claiming under and by such grants may have them, or a certified copy of the same, from the office of the secretary of state, or from the office of the register of deeds when they had been erroneously registered, recorded in the office of the register of deeds of the county or counties where the lands lie, and such registration shall have the same force and effect as if the grants had been duly registered in such county or counties. (Rev., s. 1736; 1897, c. 37.)

When the entry and survey are made in one county, the registering of the deed in that county gives good title although a new county may have been organized including the land granted before the grant was registered. Wyman v. Taylor, 124 N. C. 426, 32 S. E. 740; McMillan v. Gombill, 106 N. C. 359, 11 S. E. 273.

§ 7586. Entries in wrong county.—Whereas many citizens of the state, on making entries of lands near the lines of the county wherein they reside, either for want of proper knowledge of the land laws of the state or not knowing the county lines, have frequently made entries and extended their surveys on such entries into other counties than those wherein they were made, and obtained grants on the same; and whereas doubts have existed with respect to the validity of the titles to lands situated as aforesaid, so far as they extend into other counties than those where the entries were made; for remedy whereof it is hereby declared that all grants issued on entries made for lands situated as aforesaid shall be good and valid against any entries thereafter made or grants issued thereon. (Rev., s. 1737; Code, s. 2784; R. C., c. 42, s. 27; 1805, c. 675; 1834, c. 17.)

Entry in County Where No Part of Land Lies.—Land can only be entered in the county when it lies, and entry and grant in another county is void. Lunsford v. Bostion, 16 N. C. 483; Harris v. Norman, 96 N. C. 59, 2 S. E. 72; Avery v. Strother, 1 N. C. 558.

Found in Two Counties.—This section only extends to cases where the entry of land lying partly in two counties, which is unknown to the grantee, is made only in one county. In such cases the statute cures the defect. Harris v. Norman, 96 N. C. 59, 2 S. E. 72.

§ 7587. Errors in surveys of plots corrected.—Whenever there may be an error by the surveyor in plotting or making out the certificate for the secretary's office, or the secretary shall make a mistake in making out the courses agreeable to such returns, or misname the claimant, or make other mistake, so as such claimant shall be injured thereby, the claimant may prefer a petition to the superior court of the county in which the land lies, setting forth the injury which he might sustain in consequence of such error or mistake, with all the matters and things relative thereto; and the court may hear testimony respecting the truth of the allegations set forth in the petition; and if it shall appear by the testimony, from the return of the surveyor or the error of the secretary, that the patentee is liable to be injured thereby, the court shall direct the clerk to certify the facts to the secretary of state, who shall file the name in his office, and correct the error in the patent, and likewise in the records of his office. The costs of such suit shall be paid by the petitioner, except when any person may have made himself a party to prevent the prayer of the petitioner being granted, in which case the costs shall be paid as the court may decree. The benefits granted by this section to the patentees of land shall be extended in all cases to persons claiming by, from, or under their grants, by descent, devise, or purchase. When any error is ordered to be rectified, and the same has been carried through from the grant into mesne conveyances, the court shall direct a copy of the order to be recorded in the register's book of the county: Provided, no such petition shall be brought but within three years after the date of the patent; and if brought after that time, the court shall dismiss the same, and all proceedings had thereon shall be null and of no effect: Provided further, nothing herein shall affect the rights or interest of any person claiming under a patent issued between the period of the date of the grant alleged to be erroneous and the time of filing the petition, unless such person shall have had due notice of the filing of the petition, by service of a copy thereof, and an opportunity of defending his rights before the court according to the course of the common law. (Rev., s. 1738; Code, s. 2785; R. C., c. 42, s. 28; 1790, c. 326; 1798, c. 504; 1804, c. 655; 1814, c. 876.)

§ 7588. Resurvey of lands to correct grants.—Persons who have heretofore entered or may hereafter enter vacant lands shall not be defeated in their just claims by mistakes or errors in the surveys and plots furnished by surveyors, but in every case where the purchase money has been paid into the state treasury within the time prescribed by law after entry and survey or plot furnished shall be found to be defective or erroneous, the party having thus made entry and paid the purchase price may obtain another warrant of survey from the entry-taker of the county where the land lies, and have his entry surveyed as is directed by existing laws, and on presenting a certificate of survey and two fair plots thereof to the secretary of state within six months after the payment of the purchase money, the party making such entry and paying such purchase price shall be entitled to receive, and it shall be the duty of the secretary of state to issue to him, the proper grant for the lands so entered. (Rev., s. 1739; 1901, c. 734.)

§ 7589. Lost seal replaced.—In all cases where the seal annexed to a grant is lost or destroyed the governor may, on the certificate of the secretary of state that the grant was fairly obtained, cause the seal of the state to be affixed thereto. (Rev., s. 1740; Code, s. 2781; R. C., c. 42, s. 24; 1807, c. 727.)

§ 7590. Errors in grants corrected.—If in issuing any grant the number of the grant or the name of the grantee or any material words or figures suggested by the context have been omitted or not correctly written or given, or the description in the body of the grant does not correspond with the plot and description in the surveyor's certificate attached to the grant, or if in recording the grant in his office the secretary of state has heretofore made or may hereafter make any mistake or omission by which any part of any grant has not been correctly recorded, the secretary of state shall, upon the application of any party interested and the payment to him of his lawful fees, correct the original grant by inserting in the proper place the words, figures, or names omitted or not correctly given or suggested by the context; or if the description in the grant does not correspond with the surveyor's plot or certificate, he shall make the former correspond with the latter as the true facts may require. In case the party interested prefer it, the secretary of state shall issue a duplicate of the original grant, including therein the correction made; and in those cases in which grants have not been correctly recorded he shall make the proper corrections upon his records, or by rerecording, as he may prefer; and any grant corrected as aforesaid may be recorded in any county of the state as other grants are recorded, and have relation to the time of the entry and date of the grants as in other cases. (Rev., s. 1741; 1889, c. 460.)

The power conferred upon the Secretary of State to correct errors in grants of State's land, by supplying omissions, or correcting the names of grantees, material words or figures, etc., confers on him only a ministerial authority and not a judicial power. Herbert v. Union Development Co., 179 N. C. 662, 103 S. E. 380.

§ 7591. Irregular entries validated.—Wherever persons have prior to January first, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-three, irregularly entered lands and have paid the fees required by law to the secretary of state, and have obtained grants for such lands duly executed, the title to the lands shall not be affected by reason of such irregular entries; and the grants are hereby declared to be as valid as if such entries had been properly made. (Rev., s. 1743; Code, s. 2761; 1868-9, c. 100, s. 4; 1868-9, c. 173, s. 6; 1874-5, c. 49.)

In General.—An irregularity in receiving grants from the state is cured by this act. Wyman v. Taylor, 124 N. C. 426, 32 S. E. 740.

§ 7592. Grant signed by deputy secretary of state validated.—Where state grants have heretofore been issued and the name of the secretary of state has been affixed thereto by his deputy or chief clerk, or by any one purporting to act in such capacity, such grants are hereby declared valid; but nothing herein contained shall interfere with vested rights. (Rev., s. 1744; 1905, c. 512.)

As to holdings prior to this section, see sec. 7578.

This section does not interfere with vested rights, therefore a grant countersigned by a clerk is not valid if it conflicts with a prior grant, but is valid as between the state and the grantee, if there was no prior grant. Richard v. Ritter Lumber Co., 158 N. C. 54, 73 S. E. 485.

§ 7593. Time for registering grants extended.—All grants from the state of North Carolina of lands and interests in lands heretofore made, which were required or allowed to be registered within a time specified by law, or in the grants themselves, may be registered in the counties in which the lands lie respectively at any time within six years from the first day of January, nineteen hundred and eighteen, notwithstanding the fact that such specified time has already expired, and all such grants heretofore registered after the expiration of such specified time shall be taken and treated as if they had been registered within such specified time: Provided, that nothing herein contained shall be held or have the effect to divest any rights, titles, or equities in or to the land covered by such grants, or any of them, acquired by any person from the state of North Carolina by or through any entry or grant made or issued since such grants were respectively issued, or those claiming through or under such subsequent entry or grant. (Rev., s. 1747; 1893, c. 40; 1901, c. 175; 1905, c. 6; 1907, c. 805; 1909, c. 167; 1911, c. 182; Ex. Sess. 1913, c. 27; Ex. Sess. 1913, c. 45; 1915, c. 170; 1917, c. 84; Ex. Sess. 1920, c. 78; 1921, c. 153.)

Editor's Note.—By the Public Laws of Extra Session 1920 the time for registration was extended two years. The Public Laws of 1921 extended this time two years more.

Registration against Junior Grant.—Where neither party has possession the senior grant is valid against a junior grant duly recorded no matter how long registration may have been delayed by senior grantee. Janney v. Blackwell, 138 N. C. 437, 50 S. E. 857.

It is not necessary that a grant from the state be registered to make it valid. The retroactive statutes making grants registered after the time prescribed, valid, gives good title against a junior grant duly recorded. Dew v. Pyke, 145 N. C. 300, 59 S. E. 76.

§ 7593(a). Time for registering grants extended.—That the time is hereby extended until September first, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-six, for the proving and registering of all deeds of gift, grants from the State, or other instruments of writing heretofore executed and which are permitted or required by law to be registered, and which were or are required to be proved and registered within a limited time from the date of their execution; and all such instruments which have heretofore been or may be probated and registered before the expiration of the period herein limited shall be held and deemed, from and after the date of such registration, to have been probated and registered in due time, if proved in due form, and registration thereof be in other respects valid: Provided, that nothing in this section shall be held or deemed to validate or attempt to validate or give effect to any informal instrument; and Provided further, that this section shall not affect pending litigation: Provided further, that nothing herein contained shall be held deemed to place any limitation upon the time allowed for the registration of any instrument where no such limit is now fixed by law. (1924, c. 20.)

For editorial comment upon this section as affecting section 3315, see the notes to section 3315.

§ 7593(b). Time for registering grants extended.—The time for the registration of grants issued by the State of North Carolina be and the same is hereby extended for a period of two years from January first, nineteen hundred and twenty-five: Provided, that nothing herein contained shall be held or have the effect to divest any rights, titles or equities in or to the land covered by such grants, or any of them, acquired by any person from the State of North Carolina by or through any entry or grant made or issued since such grants were respectively issued, or those claiming through or under such subsequent entry or grant. (1925, c. 97.)

§ 7593(c). Further Extention.—The time for the registration of grants issued by the State of North Carolina, or copies of such grants duly certified by the Secretary of State under his official seal, be and the same hereby is extended for a period of two years from the first day of January, nineteen hundred twenty-seven, and such grants or copies thereof duly certified as the original might have been registered at any time heretofore: Provided, that nothing herein contained shall be held or have the effect to divest any rights, titles, or equities in or to the land covered by such grants or any of them, acquired by any person from the State of North Carolina by or through any entry or grant made or issued since such grants were respectively issued, or those claiming through or under such subsequent entry or grant. (1927, c. 140, s. 1.)

Art. 7. Grants Vacated

§ 7594. Civil action to vacate grant.—When any person claiming title to lands under a grant or patent from the king of Great Britain, any of the lords proprietors of North Carolina, or from the state of North Carolina, shall consider himself aggrieved by any grant or patent issued or made since the fourth day of July, one thousand seven hundred and seventy-six, to any other person, against law or obtained by false suggestions, surprise, or fraud, the person aggrieved may bring a civil action in the superior court for the county in which such land may be, together with an authenticated copy of such grant or patent, briefly stating the grounds whereon such patent should be repealed and vacated, whereupon the grantee, patentee, or the person, owner, or claimant under such grant or patent, shall be required to show cause why the same shall not be repealed and vacated. (Rev., s. 1748; Code, s. 2786; R. C., c. 42, s. 29.)

As to colonial grants, see 10 N. C. Enc. Dig. 627.

Collateral Attack of Grant.—If the land be not subject to entry, the grant is void and may be attacked collaterally. Janney v. Blackwell, 138 N. C. 437, 50 S. E. 857.

Plaintiff Must Claim an Interest in Land.—An action cannot be had under this section unless it is made to appear that the plaintiff has an interest in the land claimed by the defendant. Wadsworth v. Cozard, 175 N. C. 15, 94 S. E. 670. Jones v. Riggs, 104 N. C. 281, 70 S. E. 465.

Where the state has no interest in the land an action to vacate a grant must be brought by the party in interest in his own name and at his own expense. State v. Bland, 123 N. C. 739, 31 S. E. 475.

A grant cannot be set aside at the suit of a junior grantee on the ground of fraud practiced on the state. Henry v. McCoy, 131 N. C. 586, 42 S. E. 955.

Action for Land in Several Counties.—When it appears in an action for the cancellation of several grants brought under the provisions of this section, some of which lay in a different county from that wherein the action was brought, that the allegation of fraud and false suggestion involve one and the same transaction, affecting each and all the grants, the subject of the litigation. It is unnecessary to bring a separate action in respect to the grants issued in the other county, some of the lands, the subject of the action lying in the county wherein the action was brought. Hardwood v. Waldo, 161 N. C. 196, 76 S. E. 680.

Only Means of Attacking Grants.—It is well settled that a grant can only be vacated by proceedings under the statute secs. 7594, 7596. Crow v. Holland, 15 N. C. 417. Kimsey v. Munday, 112 N. C. 816, 830, 17 S. E. 583. McNamee v. Alexander, 109 N. C. 242, 13 S. E. 777.

§ 7595. Judgment recorded in secretary of state's office.—If, upon verdict or demurrer, the court believe that the patent or grant was made against law or obtained by fraud, surprise, or upon untrue suggestions, they may vacate the same; and a copy of such judgment, after being recorded at large, shall be filed by the petitioner in the secretary's office, where it shall be recorded in a book kept for that purpose; and the secretary shall note in the margin of the original record of the grant the entry of the judgment, with a reference to the record in his office. (Rev., s. 1749; Code, s. 2787; R. C., c. 423, s. 39.)

§ 7596. Action by state to vacate grants.—An action may be brought by the attorney-general, in the name of the state, for the purpose of vacating or annulling letters patent granted by the state, in the following cases:

1. When he has reason to believe that such letters patent were obtained by means of some fraudulent suggestion or concealment of a material fact, made by the person to whom the same were issued or made, or with his consent or knowledge; or

2. When he has reason to believe that such letters patent were issued through mistake, or in ignorance of a material fact; or

3. When he has reason to believe that the patentee, or those claiming under him, have done or omitted an act, in violation of the terms and conditions on which the letters patent were granted, or have by any other means forfeited the interest acquired under the same. (Rev., s. 1750; Code, s. 2788; C. C. P., s. 367.)

State Must Be a Party Interested.—The state can only bring action under this section to vacate a grant, when title would vest in the state upon cancellation of the grant. State v. Bland, 123 N. C. 739, 31 S. E. 475.

Attorney-General Must Bring Action.—The right to bring action to set aside a grant because of fraud practiced on the state must be brought by the attorney-general in the name of the state, and cannot be brought by any other person. Henry v. McCoy, 131 N. C. 586, 42 S. E. 955; Jones v. Riggs, 154 N. C. 281, 70 S. E. 465.

Grounds for Vacating.—Where a grant has been in strict compliance with the law, rights of property have been acquired which can not be taken away, even by the state, in the absence of an allegation of fraud or mistake, except after compensation and under the principle of eminent domain. State v. Spencer, 114 N. C. 770, 19 S. E. 93.

Applicable Only to Land Grants.—A license to sell liquor is not a letter patent to be vacated by quo warranto under this section. Hargett v. Bell, 134 N. C. 394, 46 S. E. 959.

Proceeding by the attorney-general to vacate a charter of a corporation cannot be brought under this section, or because of any authority vested by this section, but must be brought under section 1187. Attorney-General v. Holly Shelter R. Co., 134 N. C. 481, 46 S. E. 959.

Art. 8. Phosphate Beds

§ 7597. Phosphate beds in navigable waters entered.—Any resident of this state who shall make affidavit before the clerk of the superior court of any county through which such navigable stream may flow, that he has discovered in any navigable stream or waters of this state any phosphate rock or phosphate deposit therein shall have authority and power to enter under the entry laws of this state so much of the bed of any such navigable stream or waters as shall not exceed in any one entry two miles in length up the middle of any such stream or water for the purpose of digging, or removing any such deposit or rock. (Rev., s. 1751; 1891, c. 476.)

§ 7598. Grant obtained; term; royalty.—Upon such affidavit being filed with the entry-taker, and upon a survey and plot being made of such entry by the county surveyor as is now required by law in cases of entry of land, being made and certified to the secretary of state with a copy of such affidavit and entry so made, the secretary of state shall issue a patent or grant to such person, his heirs or assigns, for a term of twenty-five years for the land, with the proviso and condition inserted therein that the grantee therein shall pay to the treasurer of the state at the end of every three months a royalty of one dollar per ton for every ton of the crude phosphate rock or deposit mined, dug, or removed. (Rev., s. 1752; 1891, c. 476, s. 2.)

§ 7599. Exclusive right to mine; bond for royalty.—Such grantee, his heirs or assigns, shall have the exclusive right to mine, dig, or remove any such phosphate rock or deposit for the term of twenty-five years from the date of the patent upon paying the royalty of one dollar specified in the patent: Provided, however, that as a condition precedent to the granting of any such patent each company or person making any such entry shall enter into bond with sufficient surety in the penal sum of five thousand dollars, conditioned for the making of faithful and true returns to the treasurer of the state of the number of tons of phosphate rock and phosphate deposit so dug, mined, or removed, at the end of every month, and the punctual payment to the treasurer of the royalty of one dollar per ton upon every ton of the crude rock, without being steamed or dried, at the end of every three months, and the bond and sureties shall be subject to the approval now required by law for the bonds of state officers. (Rev., s. 1753; 1891, c. 476, s. 3.)

§ 7600. Navigation not obstructed by grantee.—No grant issued under the provisions of this article shall confer upon the person receiving the same the right to obstruct the navigation of any such stream or water, nor confer upon such person or his assigns any other right than that granted to take, mine, or dig phosphate rock or deposit therefrom. (Rev., s. 1754; 1891, c. 476, s. 4.)

§ 7601. Fees for issuing grant for phosphate beds.—No fee or cost shall be charged or collected by the secretary of state of any person or corporation receiving any patent or grant under this article, except the fee allowed by law to the secretary of state for issuing a patent under the entry laws of the state. (Rev., s. 1755; 1891, c. 476, s. 5.)

§ 7602. Failure to operate for two years vacates grant.—Any person or corporation who shall fail to dig, mine or remove phosphate rock or deposit from any such stream or water to which he or it may be entitled under any patent or grant issued under the provisions of this article for the period of two years from the date of the patent, or after beginning digging, mining, or removing the same, shall fail to continue to so dig, mine, or remove the same for the period of two years, shall forfeit all rights therein granted, and the territory shall immediately thereupon become subject to entry under the provisions of this article without making the affidavit of the discovery of any such deposits or rocks. (Rev., s. 1756; 1891, c. 476, s. 6.)

§ 7603. Mining phosphate without grant.—Any person or corporation resident of this state shall have the right to mine, dig, or remove phosphate rock or deposits from any of the navigable streams or waters in this state to which no exclusive patent or grant may have been issued, upon such person or corporation first entering into bond in the penal sum of five thousand dollars, payable to the treasurer of the state, for the payment of the same royalty, in the same manner and under the same regulations as are prescribed in this article for persons operating under a grant; but nothing in this section shall be construed to give to any such person or corporation any exclusive franchise or privilege to dig, mine, or remove any such phosphate rock or deposit from any stream or water of this state. (Rev., s. 1757; 1891, c. 476, s. 7.)

§ 7604. Mining phosphate rock in rivers.—If any person shall dig, mine, or remove any phosphate rock or deposit from any of the navigable waters of this state, except for the purpose of prospecting and discovering as allowed by law, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall also forfeit and pay ten dollars per ton for every ton of phosphate rock or deposit so mined, dug, or removed, one-half to the use of the state and the other one-half to go to the informer. (Rev., s. 3744; 1891, c. 476, s. 8.)

SUBCHAPTER II. LANDS CONTROLLED BY STATE BOARD OF EDUCATION

Art. 9. Swamp Lands Reclaimed

§ 7605. Power in state board of education.—The state board of education is invested with full power to adopt all necessary ways and means for causing so much of the swamp lands to be surveyed as it may deem capable of being reclaimed, and shall cause to be constructed such canals, ditches, roads, and other necessary works of improvement as it may deem proper and necessary. (Rev., s. 4036; Code, s. 2508; R. C., c. 66, s. 5; R. S., c. 6, 7, s. 5; 1885, c. 70, ss. 1, 2, 4; 1899, c. 253, s. 5.)

§ 7606. Expenditures limited.—The state board of education shall not lend or expend any part of the public moneys, stocks, funds or property vested in it by law, or under its control for, the purpose of reclaiming lands, or for any other purpose whatsoever, except by the direction of the general assembly. (Rev., s. 4037; Code, ss. 2515, 2530; R. C., c. 66, s. 12; 1870-1, c. 279.)

§ 7607. Purchase and exchange of land.—Whenever, in the process of drainage, it may be necessary, in order to prevent a sacrifice of the interests of the state, to purchase small tracts owned by individuals, the corporation may buy them, or exchange for them some other portions of the swamp lands; and the lands thus acquired by the corporation shall be held by it as other swamp lands. (Rev., s. 4038; Code, s. 2517; R. C., c. 66, s. 14.)

§ 7608. Title vested in board by written consent.—Whenever it is necessary to construct any such works on the lands of any individual proprietor, his written consent, without any formal deed of conveyance of the lands necessary to the work and its future enjoyment, shall vest the title thereof in the corporation forever; and when any infant or person non compos mentis or feme convert is owner thereof, his guardian is authorized to give such consent; and the feme convert and her husband may do so without any private examination; and the consent so given shall be valid for all purposes. (Rev., s. 4039; Code, s. 2509; R. C., c. 66, s. 6; R. S., c. 67, s. 6.)

§ 7609. Condemnation of lands.—Whenever the consent of the proprietor shall be withheld, the corporation's agents may enter on the lands and lay off so much as may be necessary to be used in such work, the value of which shall be assessed to the proprietor according to law; and, upon the payment thereof, the title shall be vested in the corporation forever. In the assessment of valuation, the benefit that will accrue to the proprietor by reason of the improvement may be likewise reckoned and set off against the damages. The proceedings for such condemnation shall be the same as are provided for condemnation of lands by railroad corporations. And the corporation's officers and agents shall have a right to enter upon the lands of all persons whomsoever, for the purpose of surveying. (Rev., s. 4040; Code, ss. 2510, 2513; R. C., c. 66, s. 7; R. S., c. 67. s. 7.)

§ 7610. Private lands assessed for benefits.—When there are lands owned by individuals which can be reclaimed by reason of the canals, ditches, or other works of the corporation, the same shall be assessed to contribute an equitable proportion of the cost of such works; which assessment shall be made by the board or a board of commissioners appointed by them, and the same shall be charged on the lands; but the corporation, by contract with individual proprietors, may agree upon the assessment, and accept payment thereof in labor or money. (Rev., s. 4041; Code, s. 2511; R. C., c. 66, s. 8; R. S., c. 67, s. 8.)

§ 7611. Regulations for surveying, reclaiming, and assessing.—The state board of education may enact all necessary rules and regulations for surveying and reclaiming the swamp lands; for assessing the lands of individuals which may be improved by the works, and for collecting assessments; and the assessments shall be published weekly for five weeks in one of the newspapers published in Raleigh, and also filed in the office of the clerk of the superior court of the county wherein the lands assessed are situate. If no objections are filed at the court next after such advertisement, the assessments shall be confirmed by the court and the lands adjudged liable for the amount, and execution may be issued for the sale thereof to satisfy the same, on motion to the court for that purpose; and if any reasons be shown against the assessments, they shall be heard and determined by the court, and the assessments shall be increased or diminished, as the court shall adjudge. (Rev., s. 4042; Code, s. 2512; R. C., c. 66, s. 9; R. S., c. 67, s. 9; 1899, c. 253, 1901, c. 529.)

§ 7612. Engineer, surveyor, and other servants employed.—The state board of education may appoint an engineer and surveyor and other servants to plan the works directed by this subchapter, and such board may annually apoint an agent to superintend and supervise all the swamp lands belonging to the state board of education. (Rev., s. 4043; Code, ss. 2512, 2523; R. C., c. 66, ss. 9, 20; R. S., c. 67, s. 9; 1854, c. 48; 1899, s. 253, s. 1, 2, 5; 1901, c. 529.)

§ 7613. Agent's duties. — Such agent shall devote his entire attention to the business; abandon all prior engagements that may conflict with the interest of the state board of education; aid and assist counsel in the preparation and trial of all suits that may be directed by the corporation; collect information as to the location and value of all such lands; survey or have surveyed such tracts of such lands, or such other lands necessary to ascertain the location of lands belonging to the corporation as he may deem necessary, under the direction of the corporation. He shall make reports from time to time to the corporation of all the information he obtains, with such suggestions as he may deem proper; and shall prepare a statement of each tract of land owned by the corporation and its location, quantity, as well as ascertained and probable value, distinguishing between those tracts the title to which is doubtful or good; and this statement shall be recorded by him in a book to be kept by the corporation and in a manner, by index or otherwise, easy for reference. (Rev., s. 4044; Code, s. 2524; R. C., c. 66, s. 21; 1899, c. 253, s. 3.)

§ 7614. Agent may be removed.—The agent may be removed by the state board of education at any time and another appointed to supply the vacancy, the agent removed being paid a pro rata compensation. The agency may be continued in the discretion of the board. (Rev., s. 4045; Code, s. 2525; R. C., c. 66, s. 22; 1899, c. 253, s. 4; 1901, c. 529.)

Art. 10. Lands Sold for Taxes

§ 7615. Title vested in state board of education.—The title of all lands acquired by the state by virtue of being sold for taxes hereby vested in the state board of education. (1917, c. 209.)

§ 7616. Protection of interest in lands sold for taxes.—Whenever any lands in which the state board of education has an interest, by way of mortgage or otherwise, are advertised to be sold for any taxes, special assessment, or under any lien, the state board of education is authorized, if in its judgment it is necessary to protect the interest of the board, to appear at any sale of such lands and to buy the same as any other person would, and for the purpose of paying therefor use any funds which the state board of education may have on hand, or, if necessary, borrow the money with which to make such purchase and to execute its notes therefor, and may use any funds coming to the state board of education from the sale of any property or otherwise to pay such notes. (1917, c. 246.)

Art. 11. Controversies Concerning Lands

§ 7617. Title presumed in the board; tax titles.—In all controversies and suits for any of the swamp lands to which the state board of education or its assigns shall be a party, the title to such lands shall be taken and deemed to be in that corporation or its assigns until the other party shall show that he has a good and valid title to such lands in himself.

In all controversies touching the title to or the right of possession to any lands claimed by the state, the state board of education or the university of North Carolina, under any sale for taxes at any time heretofore made or which hereafter may be made, the deed of conveyance made by the sheriff or other officer or person making such sale or who have been authorized to execute such deed shall be presumptive evidence that the lands therein mentioned were, at the time the lien for such taxes attached and at the time of the sale, the property of the person therein designated as the delinquent owner; that such lands were subject to taxation; that the taxes were duly levied and assessed; that the lands were duly listed; that the taxes were due and unpaid; that the manner in which the listing, assessment, levy, and sale were conducted was in all respects as the law directed; that all the prerequisites of the law were duly complied with by all officers or persons who had or whose duty it was to have had any part or action in any transaction relating to or affecting the title conveyed or purporting to be conveyed by the deed, from the listing and valuation of the property up to the execution of the deed, both inclusive; and that all things whatsoever required by law to make a good and valid sale and vest the title in the purchaser were done, and that all recitals in such deed contained are true as to each and every of the matters so recited.

In all controversies and suits involving the title to real property claimed and held under and by virtue of a deed made substantially as above the person claiming title adverse to the title conveyed by such deed shall be required to prove, in order to defeat such title, either that the real property was not subject to taxation for the year or years named in the deed, that the taxes had been paid before the sale, that the property had been redeemed from the sale according to the provisions of law, and that such redemption was had or made for the use or benefit of persons having the right of redemption under the laws of this state, or that there had been an entire omission to list or assess the property or to levy the taxes or to sell the property; but no person shall be permitted to question the title acquired under such sale and deed without first showing that he or the person under whom he claims title had title to the property at the time of the sale, and that all taxes due upon the property have been paid by such person or the person under whom he claims title. (Rev., s. 4047; Code, s. 2527; R. C., c. 66, s. 24; 1842-3, c. 36, s. 3; 1889, c. 243.)

Title Presumed to Be in the Board. — When it is shown that the land is swamp land and within a swamp of more than 2,000 acres the law persumes that the Board of Education is the owner thereof, because grants of such land are void and unauthorized. Board v. Makely, 139 N. C. 31, 34, 51 S. E. 784. State Board v. Roanoke R. Co., 158 N. C. 313, 317, 73 S. E. 994.

Presumption Rebuttable.—The presumption of title in the Board of Education lasts only until good title is shown to be in another party. Shingle Co. v. Lumber Co., 178 N. C. 221, 100 S. E. 332.

Presumption That Officers Do Their Duty.—It is entirely proper and competent for the state to provide that the presumption that public officials have done their duty should apply, and throw upon any adverse claimant the burden of proving the contrary. This decision does not, in any way, conflict with the cases of King v. Cooper, 128 N. C. 347, 38 S. E. 924; Warren v. Williford, 148 N. C. 474, 62 S. E. 697; Matthews v. Fry, 141 N. C. 582, 54 S. E. 379, and Rexford v. Phillips, 159 N. C. 213, 74 S. E. 337, the facts in those cases and this one being very different. State v. Remick, 160 N. C. 562, 570, 76 S. E. 627.

§ 7618. Statute of limitations.—No statute of limitation shall affect the title or bar the action of the state board of education or its assigns, unless the same would protect the person holding and claiming adversely against the state; and no statute of limitation shall be a bar to the state board of education or of its assigns in the trial of any action in any court of competent jurisdiction against any person, firm, or corporation for damages for timber heretofore or hereafter cut and removed from lands owned by the board of education or for any other acts of trespass committed on such lands. (Rev., s. 4048; Code, s. 2528; R. C., c. 66, s. 25; 1842, c. 36, s. 5; 1917, c. 287.)

Editor's Note.—Tillery v. Lumber Co., 172 N. C. 296, 90 S. E. 196 laid down the rule that this statute was not intended to protect an assignee of the state against the statute of limitations when the action was for damage to timber. By amendment 1917 the part of the section following the semi-colon was added making it clear that the statute of limitations was not to be applied in actions for damages to timber.

Assignee Not Barred by Statute of Limitations.—In an action for land the plaintiff is not barred by the statute of limitations, which does not run in such cases, unless the state would have been barred by adverse possession. State Board v. Roanoke R. Co., 158 N. C. 313, 315, 73 S. E. 994.

§ 7619. Actions by board; counsel; compromise.—The state board of education may employ counsel learned in the law to aid and assist it in the investigation and prosecution of its title to any of the swamp lands; and may compromise upon such terms as to it shall seem reasonable and just, for the title, so as to secure the corporation an indefeasible right in such lands. (Rev., s. 4051; Code, s. 2516; R. C., c. 66, s. 13.)

§ 7620. Agreement with others to prosecute or survey.—The state board of education has full power and authority to agree with any person to prosecute its claim to any swamp lands in any county or counties, or to survey and indentify its lands in such counties, and allow to such person a share of any such land as a compensation for his services. (Rev., s. 4052; Code, s. 2526; R. C., c. 66, s. 23; 1854, c. 48.)

Art. 12. Sale of Lands

§ 7621. Sale of swamp lands.—The state board of education is authorized and directed to sell and convey the swamp lands at public or private sale at such times, for such prices, in such portions, and on such terms as to it may seem proper; but it shall not sell at a price less than twelve and one-half cents per acre. It shall report each sale to the next session of the general assembly. The proceeds, as also money received on entries of vacant land, shall become a part of the state literary fund. The corporation shall not sell any canal by it constructed under this subchapter. (Rev., s. 4049; Code, ss. 2514, 2515, 2529; R. C., c. 66, s. 12; 1872-3, c. 194, s. 2; 1889, c. 243, s. 4.)

§ 7622. Reservation to the state.—In any sale which shall be made by the state board of education the following powers shall be expressly reserved to the state, to be exercised under such laws as are now or may be enacted by the general assembly: 1. To make any expedient regulations respecting the repairs of the canals which have been cut by the state, or enlargement of such canals. 2. To impose taxes on the lands benefited by those canals for their repair, and which shall not be closed. 3. That the navigation of the canal shall be free to all persons, subject to a right in the state to impose tolls. 4. That all landowners on the canals may drain into them, subject only to such general regulations as now are or hereafter may be made by the general assembly in such cases. 5. That the roads along the banks of the canal shall be public roads. (Rev., s. 4050; Code, s. 2534; 1872-3, c. 118.)

§ 7623. Forfeiture for failure to register deeds.—All the grants and deeds for swamp lands, heretofore made must have been proved and registered in the county where the lands are situate, within twelve months from November first, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-three, and every such grant or deed, not being so registered within that time, shall be void, and the title of the proprietor in such lands shall revert to the state; but the provisions of this section shall be applicable to the swamp lands only which have been surveyed or taken possession of by, or are vested in, the state board of education or its agents. (Rev., s. 4046; Code, ss. 2513, 3866; R. C., c. 66, s. 10; R. S., c. 67, s. 10.)

§ 7623(1). Withdrawal of swamp lands from sale under certain conditions; lease or sale to department of conservation and development. — When it shall be reported to the state board of education, after investigation by the department of conservation and development, that any part of the lands now known as "swamp lands" should be retained and reserved from sale in the public interest because of the suitability of the waters thereupon for oyster culture, or for game refuge, or other purposes consistent with public use, the board of education shall, if upon examination it is found that the reservation of the said lands for such purpose is proper and to the public interest, reserve the same and make such disposition as will best conserve the public interest by lease or sale to the department of conservation and development as may be thought proper. Such lease or sale to the department of conservation and development may be upon such terms as may be determined upon by the board of education: Provided, that no lands now belonging to the state board of education upon which there is any natural oyster bed, or which is suitable for oyster culture, shall be subject to sale by the said board of education without first giving to the department of conservation and development an opportunity to investigate and to report to the board of education as to whether it is desirable to make a reservation thereof under this section. (1935, c. 342.)

STATE OFFICERS

Art. 1. Classification and General Provisions

§ 7624. Public state officials classified.—The public officers of the state are legislative, executive, and judicial. But this classification shall not be construed as defining the legal powers of either class. (Rev., s. 5323; Code, s. 3317; 1868-9, c. 270, ss. 1, 2.)

For full treatment of officers see 9 N. C. Enc. Dig. 774, 11 N. C. Enc. Dig. 414, 15 N. C. Enc. Dig. 132, and 490.

§ 7625. Legislative officers.—The legislative officers are:

1. Fifty senators; 2. One hundred and twenty members of the house of representatives. 3. A speaker of the house of representatives; 4. A clerk and assistants in each house; 5. A doorkeeper and assistants in each house; 6. As many subordinates in each house as may be deemed necessary. (Rev., s. 5324; Code, s. 3318; 1868-9, c. 117, s. 2.)

§ 7626. Executive officers.—Executive officers are either: 1. Civil. 2. Military. Civil executive officers are: 1. General, or for the whole state. 2. Special, or for special duties in different parts of the state. 3. Local, or for a particular part of the state.

The general civil executive officers of this state are as follows: 1. A governor. 2. A lieutenant governor. 3. Private secretary for the governor. 4. A secretary of state. 5. An auditor. 6. A treasurer. 7. An attorney-general. 8. A superintendent of public instruction. 9. The members of the governor's council. 10. A commissioner of agriculture. 11. A commissioner of labor and printing. 12. An insurance commissioner. (Rev., s. 5352; Code, s. 3319; 1868-9, c. 270, ss. 24, 25, 26; 1899, c. 373, c. 54, ss. 3, 4; 1901, c. 479, s. 4.)

§ 7627. Executive officers; election; term; induction into office.—The executive department shall consist of a governor, a lieutenant governor, a secretary of state, an auditor, a treasurer, a superintendent of public instruction, and an attorney-general, who shall be elected for a term of four years by the qualified electors of the state, at the same time and places and in the same manner as members of the general assembly are elected. Their term of office shall commence on the first day of January next after their election and continue until their successors are elected and qualified. The return of every election for officers of the executive department shall be sealed up and transmitted to the seat of government by the returning officers, directed to the speaker of the house of representatives, who shall open and publish the same in the presence of a majority of the members of both houses of the general assembly. The persons having the highest number of votes respectively shall be declared duly elected; but if two or more be equal and highest in votes for the same office, then one of them shall be chosen by joint ballot of both houses of the general assembly. Contested elections shall be determined by a joint ballot of both houses of the general assembly in such manner as shall be prescribed by law. On the first Tuesday after the convening of the general assembly, following the election of any or all state officers of the executive department and of the commissioner of agriculture and the commissioner of labor and printing, there shall be a joint session of the house of representatives and senate in the hall of the house of representatives, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon, when and where the speaker of the house of representatives shall proceed, in compliance with the provisions of the constitution above set forth, to open and publish the vote for governor and other officers of the executive department and for the commissioner of agriculture and the commissioner of labor and printing cast at the last preceding election, and as soon as the result of the election shall be ascertained and published, as provided in this section, the person so ascertained and published to be elected governor at such election shall, in the presence of the joint session of the two houses of the general assembly, held as herein provided, take the oath of office prescribed by law and be immediately inducted into the office of governor. Should the governor-elect not be present at such joint session, then he may, as soon thereafter as he may deem proper, take the oath of office before some justice of the supreme or judge of the superior court and be inducted into office. As soon as the result of such election as to other officers of the executive department named in article three, section one, of the constitution, and as the commissioner of agriculture and the commissioner of labor and printing, shall be ascertained and published as provided herein, the officers elected to such offices shall, as soon as may be, take oath of office prescribed by law for such officers and be inducted into the offices to which they have been elected. (Rev., s. 5326; Const., art. 3, ss. 1, 3; 1897, c. 1, ss. 1, 2, 3.)

For cases see notes Art. III, secs. 1 and 3 of the Constitution.

§ 7628. Executive officers and certain boards report to governor; reports transmitted to general assembly.—It shall be the duty of the officers of the executive department to submit their respective reports to the governor to be transmitted by him with his message to the general assembly. (Rev., s. 5373; 1813, c. 60, s. 2.)

Art. 2. Payment of Moneys Collected

§ 7629. Officers collecting state moneys pay to state treasury monthly.—Each and every officer of the state or of any department thereof who is authorized by law to collect any fee, license tax, tag tax, or who collects money from any corporation or person, or partnership, by authority of any statute of this state, shall pay the same to the state treasurer on the tenth day of the calendar month next following, which payment shall be accompanied by an itemized statement showing from what sources and under what statutes such amounts have been collected, and a copy of said statement shall at the same time be filed in the office of the state auditor. (1919, c. 117, s. 1.)

§ 7630. Expenses paid by warrants of state auditor; statements filed. — All salaries, purchases of equipment and expenses authorized by law to be paid out of the various funds herebefore mentioned shall be paid by warrant drawn by the state auditor on the state treasurer. The officer of state or the head of any department thereof shall file with the state auditor an itemized statement of the salaries, bills for purchases of equipment and other expenses of his department, and the state auditor shall draw warrants on the state treasurer for the payment of all salaries, purchases of equipment, and expenses as authorized by law, to be paid by the said officer of state or head of any department thereof, as evidenced by statements so approved and filed. The state treasurer is hereby authorized and directed to pay said warrants. (1919, c. 117, s. 2.)

§ 7631. Traveling expenses on state's business. —When, to efficiently and properly carry into effect and execute any of the duties imposed by his appointment or by the provision of any statute of this state and provide for the expenses thereof, it is required that any officer of the state or any employee of any department thereof shall travel from place to place, such traveling and other expenses as shall be required shall be approved by said officer or head of the department whose employee incurs such expenses, and certified monthly to the state auditor in itemized form, and the state auditor is directed to draw his warrants upon the treasurer for such amounts. (1919, c. 117, s. 3.)

§ 7632. Emergency traveling fund; heads of departments may retain.—For the purpose of providing an emergency or contingent fund to cover the traveling expenses or other authorized expenses of any officer of state or of any department of state falling within the provisions of section 7631, such officer or head of the department is permitted to retain in his hands, from the moneys, fees, or licenses so collected or received by him from the sources named in section 7629, or draw from the state treasury an amount not to exceed at any one time the sum of two thousand dollars, and from this emergency or contingent fund such officer or head of department is authorized to advance and pay the traveling expenses of himself or other employees, when the same shall be required, until vouchers covering said expense accounts can be issued by the auditor and paid by the treasurer monthly as in section 7631 provided. At the expiration of his term of office the said officer of the state or head of department shall pay to the state treasurer the money retained by him under this section. (1919, c. 117, s. 4.)

§ 7633. Contingent funds accounted for and statements filed with budget commission.—Each and every official of the state, or of any department thereof, to whom is given by law any special contingent or other fund to be used in the work of the said official or department for contingent or other purposes, shall on or before the first day of November of each year file with each member of the legislative examining committee and with the budget committee a full and itemized statement in detail of all amounts received, with the source and date thereof, and amounts expended, to whom and for what purpose paid out, with a statement of any balance unexpended. It shall be the duty of any such official or head of the department to give to the said legislative examining committee or budget committee, any further information or details that they may desire. (1919, c. 117, s. 5.)

§ 7634. Construction.—This article shall not be construed as requiring the payment to the state treasurer of any money or funds collected for and directed to be paid to any party other than the state. (1919, c. 117, s. 6.)

§ 7634(a). Mileage allowance to officers or employees using public or private automobiles. — Where it is provided by any law affecting the State of North Carolina, or any sub-division thereof, whereby any employee or officer of the same is allowed to charge mileage for the use of any motor vehicle when owned by the State or any sub-division thereof or by any such employee or officer of the State or any sub-division thereof, when in the discharge of any duties imposed upon him by reason of his employment or office, the same is hereby repealed to the extent that said charge shall be limited to the actual miles traveled by said motor vehicle and no mileage charge shall be allowed for but one occupant of any motor vehicle so used, and provided further, that no such mileage charge shall exceed six cents per mile. (1931, c. 382, s. 1.)

§ 7634(b). Unlawful to pay more than allowance.—It shall be unlawful for any officer, auditor, bookkeeper, clerk or other employee of the State of North Carolina or any sub-division thereof to knowingly approve any claim or charge on the part of any person for mileage by reason of the use of any motor vehicle owned by the State or any sub-division thereof or by any person and used in the pursuit of his employment or office in excess of six cents per mile as set out in section 7634(a) and any officer, auditor, bookkeeper, clerk or other employee violating the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. (1931, c. 382, s. 2.)

Art. 3. The Governor

§ 7635. Governor to reside in Raleigh; mansion and accessories.—The governor shall reside in the city of Raleigh during his continuance in office. A convenient and commodious furnished dwelling-house, supplied with necessary lights, fuel, and water, shall be provided for his accommodation; and an automobile and driver shall be provided and maintained for the use of the executive mansion. (Rev., s. 5327;

Code, ss. 3325, 3326; 1868-69, c. 270, ss. 32, 33; 1885, c. 244; 1919, c. 307.)

§ 7636. Powers and duties of governor.—In addition to the powers and duties prescribed by the constitution, the governor has the powers and duties prescribed in this and the following sections:

1. He is to supervise the official conduct of all executive and ministerial officers; and when he shall deem it advisable he shall visit all state institutions for the purpose of inquiring into the management and needs of the same, and for the purpose of paying the expenses of such visitation the auditor is hereby directed to draw an order on the treasurer in favor of the governor to pay his expenses for each visitation.

2. He is to see that all offices are filled, and the duties thereof performed, or in default thereof apply such remedy as the law allows, and if the remedy is imperfect, acquaint the general assembly therewith.

3. He is to make the appointments and supply the vacancies not otherwise provided for in all departments.

4. He is the sole official organ between the government of this state and other states, or the government of the United States.

5. He has the custody of the great seal of the state.

6. If he be apprised by the affidavits of two responsible citizens of the state that there is imminent danger that the statute of this state forbidding prize fighting is about to be violated, he shall use, as far as necessary, the civil and military power of the state to prevent it, and to have the offenders arrested and bound to keep the peace. (Rev., s. 5328; Code, s. 3320; 1868-9, c. 270, s. 27; 1870-1, c. 111; 1883, c. 71; 1895, c 28, s. 5; 1905, c. 446.)

As to governor's power to appoint, see Art. III, secs. 10, and 13; Art. IV. secs. 25 and 28; Art. XIV, sec. 5 of the State Constitution.

Editor's Note.—Public Laws of 1935, chapter 492, makes provision for the governor to set up machinery for administering unemployment compensation fund.

Mandamus to Compel Performance of Duties.—Under par. 1 and 2 of this section the Governor has the right to bring mandamus proceedings against the State Auditor to compel the performance of the ministerial duties prescribed by statute which do not involve any official discretion. Russell v. Ayer, 120 N. C. 180, 27 S. E. 133.

Par. 3—Appointments.—The governor making appointments under par. 3 of this section, can only do so when the Senate is not in session, and then the appointment is only for the interval until the Senate meets. And an appointment made in accordance with Art. III, sec. 10 of the Constitution. Salisbury v. Croom, 167 N. C. 223, 83 S. E. 354.

The right of the governor to appoint officers is limited to constitutional officers, and then only when the constitution expressly provides for such an appointment. Salisbury v. Croom, 167 N. C. 223, 83 S. E. 354.

§ 7637. May convene council of state.—The governor may convene his council for consultation whenever he may deem it proper. (Rev., s. 5329; Code, s. 3335; 1868-9, c. 270, s. 40.)

§ 7638. Private secretary; official correspondence preserved; books produced before general assembly.—The governor shall appoint a private secretary, who shall enter in books kept for that purpose all such letters, written by and to the governor, as are official and important, and such other letters as the governor shall think necessary. Such books shall be deposited in the office of the executive by the private secretary, and there carefully preserved, and the governor shall produce the same before the general assembly whenever requested. (Rev., s. 5330; Code, ss. 3326, 3327; 1868-9, c. 270, ss. 33, 34.)

§ 7639. Records kept; certain original applications preserved.—The governor shall cause to be kept the following records:

1. A register of all applications for pardon, or for commutation of any sentence, with a list of the official signatures and recommendations in favor of such application.

2. An account of all his official expenses and disbursements, including the incidental expenses of his department, and the rewards offered by him for the apprehension of criminals, which shall be paid upon the warrant of the auditor.

These records and the originals of all applications, petitions, and recommendations and reports therein mentioned shall be preserved in the office of the governor, but when applications for offices are refused he may, in his discretion, return the papers referring to the application. (Rev., s. 5331; Code, ss. 3322, 3323; 1868-9, c. 270, ss. 29, 30; 1870-1, c. 111.)

§ 7640. May employ counsel in cases wherein state is interested.—No department, agency, institution, commission, bureau or other organized activity of the State which receives support in whole or in part from the State shall employ any counsel, except by and with the consent and approval of the Governor. In any case, civil or criminal, in any court in the State or in any other state or territory or in any United States court, or in any other matter, thing, or controversy, of whatever nature or kind, in which the State of North Carolina is interested, the Governor may employ such special counsel as he may deem proper or necessary to represent the interest of the State, and he may direct the Auditor to draw his warrant upon the Treasurer for such compensation as he may fix for their services. The Attorney-General, with his assistants, shall be counsel for all such departments, agencies, institutions, commissions, bureaus or other organized activities of the State which receive support in whole or in part from the State, and whenever the Attorney-General shall advise the Governor that it is impracticable for him and his assistants to render legal services to any State agency, institution, commission, bureau or other organized activity, the Governor may employ such counsel as, in his judgment, should be employed to render such services, and he may direct the Auditor to draw his warrant upon the Treasurer for such compensation for their services as he may fix, and he may direct that such warrant be paid out of the appropriations to such department, agency, institution, commission, bureau or other organized activity of the State, or out of the contingent fund. (1925, c. 207, s. 3.)

Editor's Note.—No material change in the effect of this section is made by the Public Laws of 1925, ch. 207, sec. 3, although the wording is greatly altered.

§ 7641. To appoint a day of thanksgiving.—The governor is directed to set apart a day in every year, and by proclamation give notice thereof, as a day of solemn and public thanksgiving to Almighty God for past blessings and of supplication for His continued kindness and care over us as a state and a nation. (Rev., s. 5333; Code, s. 3334; 1868-9, c. 270, s. 39.)

§ 7641(a). Governor granted exclusive pardon power over inmates of state's institutions. — To the end that greater efficiency and uniformity may be observed in the matter of paroling persons imprisoned or detained under authority of law, exclusive authority is hereby given to the governor with respect to parole of all persons confined, held, or detained in any prison, reformatory, penal or corrective institution, in the State of North Carolina, by whatsoever name called, where such person is held in such institution by virtue of any final order or judgment of any court in this State, including juvenile courts. (1935, c. 273.)

§ 7642. Form and contents of applications for pardon.—Every application for pardon must be made to the governor in writing, signed by the party convicted, or by some person in his behalf. And every application shall contain the grounds and reasons upon which the executive pardon is asked, and shall be in every case accompanied by a certified copy of the indictment, and the verdict and judgment of the court thereon. (Rev., s. 5334; Code, s. 3336; 1869-70, c. 171; 1870-1, c. 61.)

Cross Reference.—As to application containing prison record, see section 7739. As to governor's power to pardon, see Art. III, sec. 6 of the Constitution. For notes under this section, see notes to section 7644. As to pardon from state prison, see section 7753.

§§ 7642(a)-7642(c): Repealed by Public Laws 1933, c. 30.

§ 7643. Conditional pardons may be granted. —In any case in which the governor is authorized by the constitution to grant a pardon he may, upon the petition of the prisoner, grant it, subject to such conditions, restrictions, and limitations as he considers proper and necessary, and he may issue his warrant to all proper officers to carry such pardon into effect in such manner as he thinks proper, (Rev., s. 5335; 1905, c. 356.)

See notes under section 7644.

§ 7644. Governor's duties when conditions of pardon violated.—If a prisoner who has been pardoned upon conditions to be observed and performed by him violates such conditions, or any of them, the governor, upon receiving information of such violation, shall forthwith cause him to be arrested and detained until the case can be examined by him. The governor shall examine the case of such prisoner, and if it appears by his own admission or by such evidence as the governor may require that he has violated the condition of his pardon, the governor shall order him remanded and confined for the unexpired term of his sentence; said confinement, if the prisoner is under any other sentence of imprisonment at the time of said order, to begin upon expiration of such sentence. In computing the period of his confinement the time between the conditional pardon and subsequent arrest shall not be taken to be a part of the time of his sentence. If it appears to the governor that he has not broken the conditions of his conditional pardon he shall be released and his conditional pardon shall remain in force. (Rev., s. 5336; 1905, c. 356, ss. 2, 3.)

Editor's Note.—This section is reviewed and its merits considered in an able article appearing in 1 N. C. Law Rev. 47, 48, when the law of parol generally is fully discussed.

Conditional Pardon.—The Governor may grant a pardon upon a condition precedent that the prisoner pay costs of trial; and upon condition subsequent, that he remain of good character, and be sober and industrious. See Constitution, sec. 6, Art. 3. In re Williams, 149 N. C. 436, 63 S. E. 108.

Same—Revocation.—After delivery and acceptance of a pardon with conditions precedent and subsequent, it is irrevocable upon the compliance by the prisoner with the condition precedent, unless he shall violate the conditions subsequent by his conduct after the release. In re Williams, 149 N. C. 436, 63 S. E. 108.

Rearrest of Paroled Prisoner.—Under the provisions of our State Constitution and Statutes, a "parole" granted by the governor to a prisoner imports a conditional pardon, and the governor may cause his rearrest either upon his own admissions, or on such evidence as he may require, for violating the conditions which the prisoner has accepted under the terms of the parole. State v. Yates, 183 N. C. 753, 111 S. E. 337.

Reasonable Conditions Imposed.—The power of the governor to grant a conditional pardon is generally subject to the limitation that the conditions imposed must not be illegal, immoral or impossible of performance, which does not apply to cases wherein he is only required not to violate the statute law, and remain of good conduct. State v. Yates, 183 N. C. 753, 111 S. E. 337.

Same—Breach by Prisoner.—Where the prisoner has accepted his freedom upon the terms of the conditional pardon from the governor, his breach of such conditions avoids the pardon and cancels his right to further immunity from punishment. State v. Yates, 183 N. C. 753, 111 S. E. 337.

The essential part of a sentence for a violation of the criminal law is the punishment for the offense committed, and not the time the sentence shall begin and end; and where the prisoner has accepted a conditional pardon from the governor and has obtained his freedom, the breaking of the condition after the term would have otherwise expired, affords no legal excuse why he should not be recommitted to serve out the balance of his sentence. State v. Yates, 183 N. C. 753, 111 S. E. 337.

§ 7645. Duty of sheriff and clerk on pardon granted.—If a prisoner is pardoned conditionally or unconditionally, or his punishment is commuted, the officer to whom the warrant for such purpose is issued shall, as soon as may be after executing it, make return thereof, signed by him, with his doing thereon, to the governor's office, and shall file in the office of the clerk of the court in which the offender was convicted an attested copy of the warrant and return, and the clerk shall file the same in his office and subjoin a brief abstract thereof to the record of the conviction and sentence, and at the next regular term of said court said warrant shall be entered upon the minutes of the court. (Rev., s. 5337; 1905, c. 356, s. 4.)

When Sheriff Cannot Defeat Pardon.—The sheriff, by returning a pardon after its delivery and acceptance by the prisoner, cannot defeat or impair its legal results. In re Williams, 149 N. C. 436, 63 S. E. 108.

Recovery of Fine Paid before Pardon.—Where one convicted of a crime has paid the fine imposed by the court and then has obtained a pardon from the Governor, it is the duty of the court to return the fine upon his application and presenting the pardon, so long as the money remains in its possession and the rights of third persons have not intervened; but where the fine collected has reached its final destination, it is beyond the reach of Executive clemency, and may not be recovered. Bynum v. Turner, 171 N. C. 86, 87 S. E. 975.

§ 7646. To procure great seal of state; its description.—The governor shall procure for the state a seal, which shall be called the great seal of the state of North Carolina, and shall be two and one-quarter inches in diameter, and its design shall be a representation of the figures of Liberty and plenty, looking toward each other, but not more than half fronting each other and otherwise disposed as follows: Liberty, the first figure, standing, her pole with cap on it in her left hand and a scroll with the word "Constitution" inscribed thereon in her right hand. Plenty, the second figure, sitting down, her right arm half extended towards Liberty, three heads of wheat in her right hand, and in her left, the small end of her horn, the mouth of which is resting at her feet, and the contents of the horn rolling out; there shall also be inserted thereon the words "esse quam videri." It shall be the duty of the governor to file in the office of secretary of state an impression of the great seal, certified to under his hand and attested by the secretary of state, which impression so certified the secretary of state shall carefully preserve among the records of his office. (Rev., s. 5339; Code, ss. 3328, 3329; 1868-9, c. 270, s. 35; 1883, c. 392; 1893, c. 145.)

§ 7647. Affixing great seal a second time to public papers.—In all cases where any person may find it necessary to have the great seal of the state put again to any public paper, other than a grant for lands, he may prefer his petition to the governor and council, who shall, if they deem the same proper, direct the seal to be put thereto. (Rev., s. 5338; Code, s. 3333; 1868-9, c. 270, s. 38.)

§ 7648. To procure seals for departments and courts.—The governor shall also procure a seal for each department of the state government to be used for attesting and authenticating grants, proclamations, commissions, and other public acts, in such manner as may be directed by law and the usage established in the public offices; also a seal for every court of record in the state, for the purpose of authenticating the papers and records of such court. All such seals shall be delivered to the proper officers, who shall give a receipt therefor and be accountable for their safe-keeping. (Rev., s. 5340; Code, ss. 3328, 3332; 1868-9, c. 270, ss. 35, 37; 1883, c. 71.)

§ 7649. Seal of department of state described.—The seal of the department of state shall be two inches in diameter and shall be of the same design as the great seal of the state, with the words "State of North Carolina, Department of State," surrounding the figures. (Rev., s. 5341; Code, s. 3330; 1883, c. 238.)

§ 7650. To provide new seals when necessary.—Whenever the great seal of the state, the seal of any department or any seal of a court of record shall be lost, or so worn or defaced as to render it unfit for use, the governor shall provide a new one, and when new seals are provided the former ones shall not be used. (Rev., s. 5342; Code, s. 3331; 1868-9, c. 270, s. 36.)

§ 7651. Payment for seals. — The treasurer shall pay the expense of procuring all seals provided for in this chapter, upon the warrant of the auditor. (Rev., s. 5343; Code, s. 3332; 1868-9, c. 270, s. 37; 1883, c. 71.)

Art. 4. Secretary of State

§ 7652. Office and office hours.—The secretary of state shall attend at his office, in the city of Raleigh, between the hours of ten o'clock a. m. and three o'clock p. m., on every day of the year, Sundays and legal holidays excepted. (Rev., s. 5344; Code, s. 3339; 1868-9, c. 270, s. 44; 1870-1, c. 111.)

§ 7653. Bond of secretary of state.—The secretary of state shall give bond with sufficient surety, approved by the governor and auditor, for the sum of one hundred thousand dollars, payable to the state, and conditioned for the faithful performance of his duties. And the bond of the secretary of state shall be deposited in the treasurer's office for safe-keeping; and he shall take the oath prescribed for public officers. (Rev., s. 287; Code, s. 3338; 1868-9, c. 270, ss. 42, 43; 1923, c. 91.)

Editor's Note.—By amendment Public Laws 1923, c. 91 the bond was raised from twenty thousand dollars to one hundred thousand dollars.

§ 7654. Duties of secretary of state.—It is the duty of the secretary of state:

1. To attend at every session of the legislature for the purpose of receiving bills which shall have become laws, and to perform such other duties as may then be devolved upon him by resolution of the two houses, or either of them. 2. To attend the governor, whenever required by him, for the purpose of receiving documents which have passed the great seal. 3. To receive and keep all conveyances and mortgages belonging to the state. 4. To distribute annually the statutes, the legislative journals and documents, and the reports of the supreme court. 5. To distribute the acts of congress received at his office in the manner prescribed for the statutes of the state. 6. To keep a receipt book, in which he shall take from every person to whom a grant shall be delivered a receipt for the same; but he may inclose grants by mail in a registered letter at the expense of the grantee, unless otherwise directed, first entering the same upon the receipt book. (Rev., s. 5345; Code, s. 3340; 1868-9, c. 270, s. 45; 1881, c. 63.)

As to issuing grants, see section 7578.

§ 7655. To purchase stationery and fuel.—The secretary of the state shall purchase suitable stationery for the general assembly, the supreme court, and state library upon the best terms the same can be procured. And he shall contract with the lowest bidder, under sealed proposals, for the necessary lights and fuel for the general assembly, the public offices, and the governor's dwelling. (Rev., s. 5346; Code, s. 3341; R. C., c. 104, s. 6; 1842, cc. 48, 68; 1873-4, c. 129.)

§ 7656. Custodian of statutes, records, deeds, etc.—The secretary of state is charged with the custody of all statutes and joint resolutions of the legislature, all documents which pass under the great seal, and of all the books, records, deeds, parchments, maps, and papers now deposited in his office or which may hereafter be there deposited pursuant to law, and he shall from time to time make all necessary provisions for their arrangement and preservation. (Rev., s. 5347; Code, s. 3337; R. C., c. 104, s. 105; 1868-9, c. 270, s. 41; 1873-4, c. 129.)

§ 7657. To keep records of oyster grants.—The secretary of state shall keep books of records in which shall be recorded a full description of all grounds granted for oyster beds under the provisions of chapter one hundred and nineteen of the laws of one thousand eight hundred eighty-seven, and laws amendatory thereof, and shall keep a map or maps showing the position and limits of all public and private grounds. (Rev., s. 2381; 1887, c. 119, s. 14.)

§ 7658. Binding original statutes, resolutions, and documents.—The original statutes and joint resolutions passed at each session of the general assembly the secretary of state shall immediately thereafter cause to be bound in volumes of convenient size. Each such volume shall be lettered on the back with its title and the date of its session. (Rev., s. 5348; Code, s. 3343; 1866-7, c. 71; 1868-9, c. 270, s. 46.)

§ 7659. Public, public-local, and private laws.—The secretary of state shall divide the laws into three classes—public, public-local, and private laws; and it shall be his duty, at the time of making the marginal notes, to mark on the upper right-hand corner of each act the words "public" or "public-local" or "private," and acts thus marked shall be kept separate by the state printer. The public laws and resolutions shall be published in one volume to themselves. The public-local and private laws shall be kept separate and indexed separately, but may, in the discretion of the secretary of state, be bound together in one or more volume or volumes, which volume or volumes shall be published and distributed as are now the private laws. (Rev., s. 5349; 1909, c. 473.)

Whether an act of the Legislature is public or private, general or special, within the meaning of a constitutional provision affecting its validity for that reason, depends upon its purpose and not its classification by the public official charged with the duty of making such classification under this section. Webb v. Port Comm., 205 N. C. 663, 172 S. E. 377.

§ 7660. Supplies departments of general government with laws and documents.—The secretary of state shall supply and transmit to the different departments of the general government and the New York historical society copies of the acts, both private and public, and the public documents and journals of the general assembly, and with the reports of the supreme court of this state. (Rev., s. 5350; Code, ss. 3601, 3603, 3344; R. C., c. 91, s. 2; 1868-9, c. 270, s. 48; 1885, c. 382.)

§ 7661. Transmits statutes and reports to other states.—The secretary of state, as soon as published, shall transmit, at the expense of this state, to the executive of every state and territory in the union, one copy of the statutes of each year, and of the reports of the supreme court, and request a similar transmission to be made to him of the statutes and reports of the higher courts of the several states and territories. When the statutes of any state or territory are received, he shall deposit one copy in the executive library, but in case only one copy is received it shall be deposited in the supreme court library.

The secretary of state shall furnish the library of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill twenty-five copies, in addition to all now furnished, of the public, public-local, and private laws of the house and senate journals, legislative documents and all reports and publications of the state of North Carolina and its several agencies, institutions and departments, for use in exchange with other southern states, municipalities and institutions and with a selected list of states outside of the south. In order to enable the library of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill to complete the project for exchange of public documents with other states undertaken pursuant to this section, the secretary of state shall furnish that library with fifteen (15) additional volumes of the current annual supreme court reports of North Carolina beginning with the 12th day of March, 1935: Provided that no re-printing of the public, public-local, and private laws of the house and senate journals, legislative documents and reports and publications of the State of North Carolina and its several agencies, institutions and departments shall be made to comply with the provisions hereof. (Rev., s. 5351; Code, ss. 3321, 3344; 1868-9, c. 270, ss. 28, 48; 1933, c. 355; 1935, c. 88.)

Editor's Note.—Public Laws of 1933, c. 355, added the last paragraph to this section relating to exchanging documents for libraries.

The clause immediately preceding the proviso in the second paragraph, requiring furnishing fifteen additional copies to the library, was inserted by the 1935 amendment.

§ 7662. Furnishes laws and documents to institutions of learning.—The secretary of state, upon application made by any chartered institution of learning in this state, for which provision is not elsewhere made in this article, having a library of not less than five thousand volumes, shall furnish and transmit to each of such institutions, to be kept in its library, a copy of all future current supreme court reports, public and private acts of the general assembly and journals of both houses and public documents, whenever the same shall be ready for distribution. He shall also furnish to each of such institutions, if he have them on hand, or when reprinted or otherwise obtained, one volume each of such of the supreme court reports as have not been heretofore furnished. (Rev., s. 5352; Code, s. 3619; 1881, c. 277; 1889, c. 249.)

§ 7663. Distribution of statutes.—The secretary of state shall distribute copies of the public, public-local, and private laws, as follows: To the governor, lieutenant governor, treasurer, secretary of state, auditor, superintendent of public instruction, attorney-general, commissioner of agriculture, commissioner of labor and printing, insurance commissioner, corporation commission, legislative reference library, state board of health, state highway commission, state board of charities and public welfare, state geologist, superintendents of the several state hospitals for the insane, and of the several institutions for the deaf, dumb, and the blind, and of the state's prison, to the North Carolina state college of agriculture and engineering, to the several justices of the supreme court, the judges of the superior courts, the judges of the United States courts, the several solicitors and United States district attorneys, the clerks of the superior and federal courts, the sheriffs of the several counties, the several registers of deeds, members and clerks of the general assembly, and county commissioners, one copy each; to the state library, twenty copies; to the library of the University, ten copies of the public laws and four copies of the public-local laws, and private laws; to the supreme court library, eleven copies; to the library of the supreme court of the United States, one copy; to the several states and territories of the Union, including the District of Columbia, and to the Dominion of Canada, to the provinces of Canada, to Australia and to New Zealand, one copy each, and to each of said states, territories, districts, dominions and provinces which shall be willing to exchange their own similar publications therefor, an additional copy of the public laws, such publications received in exchange to be sent to the library of the University for the use of the school of law; and two copies to be deposited in the offices of each department of the state government; to the clerks of the superior court of the several counties of the state for distribution among such justices of the peace as said clerk may deem advisable, the number of copies to be furnished in their respective counties being as follows: five copies in each county with a population under ten thousand according to the last Federal census, fifteen copies for each county with a population of more than ten thousand and less than thirty thousand, and twenty copies for each county with a population over thirty-five thousand: Provided, however, that no copies of the public-local and private laws shall be distributed to clerks of the superior court for the justices of the peace of the county. (Rev., s. 5353; Code, s. 3632; R. C., c. 93, ss. 8, 19; 1870-1, c. 111, s. 2; 1872-3, c. 45, ss. 7, 8; 1879, c. 271; 1881, c. 107; 1885, c. 82; 1891, c. 471; 1893, c. 146, s. 2; 1897, c. 135; 1901, cc. 88, 401, s. 2; 1903, c. 801; 1919, c. 195, s. 1; 1927, c. 87, s. 1, c. 217, s. 3; 1933, c. 2.)

Editor's Note.—By amendment Public Laws 1927, ch. 217, sec. 3, the last part of this section, in regard to distribution to justices of the peace through the clerks of the superior court to the several counties, replaces a provision for furnishing a copy "to the several justices of the peace."

Public Laws of 1933, c. 2, provided for twenty instead of two copies to the state library.

§ 7664. Distribution of senate and house journals.—The senate and house journals shall be distributed by the secretary of state, as follows: One each to the governor, lieutenant governor, secretary of state, auditor, treasurer, attorney-general, superintendent of public instruction, commissioner of agriculture, commissioner of labor and printing, insurance commissioner, corporation commission, legislative reference library, the North Carolina state college of agriculture and engineering; each senator and representative, principal, assistant, engrossing clerks, the several registers of deeds and clerks of the superior court; to the state library, twenty copies; to the library of the University, three copies. (Rev., s. 5354; Code, s. 3636; 1872-3, c. 45, s. 10; 1881, c. 16; 1901, c. 88; 1903, c. 5; 1919, c. 195, s. 2; 1919, c. 314, s. 6.)

§ 7665. Distribution of public documents.—Of the public documents, seventy copies shall be delivered by the secretary of state to the secretary of the senate, as soon as printed, for the use of the senate, and one hundred and fifty to the clerk of the house for the use of the house, and the residue, three hundred and sixty-five copies, shall be distributed as follows: To the governor, lieutenant governor, treasurer, attorney general, secretary of state, auditor, superintendent of public instruction, commissioner of agriculture, commissioner of labor and printing, insurance commissioner, each clerk of the superior court, the superintendent of the several state hospitals for the insane, of the several ininstitutions for the deaf, dumb, and the blind, and of the state's prison, to the North Carolina state college of agriculture and engineering, each representative and senator, and each judge of the supreme and superior courts, one copy each; to the state library, ten copies; to the senate library, ten copies; to the house library, twelve copies; to the supreme court library, five copies; to the library of the university, three copies. (Rev., s. 5355; Code, s. 3637; 1872-3, c. 45, s. 11; 1881, c. 16; 1901, c. 88; 1919, c. 314, s. 6.)

§ 7666. First copies of laws and reports to go to judiciary and solicitors.—The secretary of state, immediately upon the receipt of the first bound copies of the laws and reports, shall transmit the same by mail, one each to the justices of the supreme court, and the judges, solicitors, and clerks of the superior court, and may then, in his discretion, expose for sale a limited number of each. The residue of the laws, reports, documents, and journals, as soon as they are delivered to the secretary of state, shall be transmitted and distributed by him according to this article, by express or otherwise, as he may deem best. (Rev., s. 5356; Code, ss. 3640, 3641; 1872-3, c. 45, ss. 14, 15; 1919, c. 314, s. 6.)

§ 7667. Distribution of supreme court reports.—The supreme court reports shall be distributed by the secretary of state as follows: To the governor, lieutenant governor, attorney-general, treasurer, secretary of state, auditor, superintendent of public instruction, commissioner of labor and printing, commissioner of agriculture, and insurance commissioner, corporation commission, legislative reference library, the justices of the supreme court and judges of the superior courts, the judges of the federal courts residing in the state, the clerks of the supreme and superior courts, and of the United States courts for North Carolina, one copy each; to the supreme court library, twelve copies; to the state library, two copies; to the library of the supreme court of the United States, one copy; to the library of the university ten copies, whereof eight shall be for the use of the school of law, and to the library of Wake Forest and Trinity colleges, five copies; to North Carolina State College of Agriculture and Engineering, one copy; and Lenoir Rhyne College and Elon College and Guilford College and to each state and territory in the Union, including the District of Columbia, one copy; and to the Dominion of Canada, to the provinces of Canada, and Australia, and to New Zealand, one copy each, and to each of said states, territories, districts, provinces and dominions which shall be willing to exchange their own similar publications therefor, an additional copy, such publications received in exchange to be sent direct to the library of the University for the use of the school of law, and one copy each to each court in foreign states as the supreme court may direct. (Rev., s. 5357; Code, s. 3635; 1873-4, c. 34, s. 2; 1876-7, c. 164, s. 2; 1881, c. 107; 1881, c. 104, s. 2; 1885, c. 82; 1891, c. 471; 1899, cc. 37, 667; 1903, c. 689; 1919, c. 195, s. 3; 1925, c. 52; 1927, cc. 36, 87; 1931, c. 113.)

§ 7667(a). Allotment of laws, reports, etc., to universities and colleges for completion of sets.—Upon written request of the librarian of the University of North Carolina or of the librarian of Duke University or the librarian of the Law School of Wake Forest College, the secretary shall furnish to each of such schools making such requests from the publication of the State now available, such volumes as may be necessary to complete such incomplete sets as said schools now have in the main library or law library of such schools, of Supreme Court Reports, public, public-local and private laws, Senate and House Journals and public documents; and in addition thereto, three complete sets of the State Supreme Court Reports for the use of the law schools of said schools. (1927, c. 87, s. 2.)

§ 7667(b). Reports, etc., allotted Wake Forest College and Duke University.—The secretary of State is hereby authorized and directed to furnish to the law library at Duke University and the law library at Wake Forest College, each, three complete sets of the Supreme Court Reports and Consolidated Statutes; also such volumes as may be necessary to complete three other broken sets of North Carolina reports now on hand in said schools. The volumes necessary to complete the broken sets aforesaid to be furnished upon lists presented by the deans of the respective schools. (1927, c. 218, s. 1.)

§ 7667(c). Clerks of superior courts to furnish inventory of reports; lending prohibited.—On or before the first Monday in June of each and every year hereafter, the clerks of the Superior Courts of the State are required to furnish to the Secretary of State an inventory of the volumes of the reports of the Supreme Court of North Carolina which they have on hand.

The clerks of the Superior Courts of the State of North Carolina are held officially responsible for the volumes of the North Carolina Supreme Court reports furnished and to be furnished them by the said State.

The said clerks of the various courts shall not lend or permit to be taken from their custody the said reports, nor shall any person with or without the permission of the said clerks take them from their possession. (1927, c. 259.)

§ 7667(d). North Carolina reports for Justices of Supreme Court.—To each of the Justices of the Supreme Court there shall be furnished for use in his chambers in the Supreme Court building, one complete set of North Carolina Supreme Court reports for use in his home, or private office, and the set so provided for the members of the court for use in their private office shall be and remain their property. (1929, c. 30, s. 1.)

§ 7668. Transmission of laws, etc., for use of counties and members of general assembly.—The statutes, journals, and documents for the use of each county, and for members of the general assembly and other officers therein shall be transmitted to the clerk of the court of each county in such manner as the secretary of state may think best; the statutes to be transmitted as soon as practicable after adjournment of the general assembly. (Rev., s. 5358; Code, s. 3344; 1868-9, c. 270, s. 48.)

§ 7668(a). Secretary of state to send copies of laws changing procedure to superior court judges and clerks.—Upon the ratification of any act changing the procedure in civil actions or special proceedings, it shall be the duty of the secretary of state forthwith to send copies of such parts of such acts as change the procedure to all judges and clerks of the superior courts. (1921, c. 162.)

§ 7669. Expenses of transmitting publications.—The transmission of all publications directed by this article to be distributed shall be at the expense of the state. (Rev., s. 5359; Code, s. 3344; 1868-9, c. 270, s. 48.)

§ 7670. Sale of laws, journals, and documents.—Such laws, journals, and documents as may be printed under the provisions of this article in excess of the number directed to be distributed, the secretary of the state may sell at such price as he deems reasonable, not exceeding two dollars for full bound copies of the public laws; and he shall pay the proceeds into the treasury. In his annual report he shall give an account of the number sold and number on hand. He may sell such number of copies of the journals and public documents as the general assembly may by joint resolution direct at a price not exceeding ten per centum in advance of the cost. (Rev., s. 5360; Code, ss. 3344, 3642; 1868-9, c. 270, s. 48; 1872-3, c. 45, s. 16; 1881, c. 104; 1921, c. 221; Ex. Sess. 1921, c. 84.)

§ 7671. Reprints of Supreme Court reports.—The Supreme Court is authorized to have such of the reports of the Supreme Court of the State of North Carolina as are not on hand for sale, republished and numbered consecutively, retaining the present numbers and names of the reporters and by means of star pages in the margin retaining the original numbering of the pages. The Supreme Court is authorized and directed to have such reports reprinted without any alteration from the original edition thereof, except as may be directed by the Supreme Court. The contract for such reprinting and republishing shall be made by the Supreme Court in the manner prescribed in section one of this act. Such republication shall thus continue until the State shall have for sale all of such reports; and hereafter when the editions of any number or volume of the Supreme Court reports shall be exhausted, it shall be the duty of the Supreme Court to have the same reprinted under the provisions of this act. In reprinting the reports that have already been annotated, the annotations and the additional indexes therein shall be retained and such reports shall be further annotated so as to make the annotations in all reprints complete up to the date of the reprinting thereof. In reprinting reports the Supreme Court is authorized to provide for, and to secure, such further annotations for reports that have been heretofore annotated and for the annotating of the reports that have not been heretofore annotated and the costs thereof as provided in the contract made by the Supreme Court with the annotator selected by it, shall be paid as a part of the cost of reprinting the said reports. (Rev., s. 5361; Code, s. 3634; 1885, c. 309; 1899, c. 473, ss. 1-4, 6; 1907, c. 503; 1917, cc. 201, 292; 1923, c. 176; 1929, c. 39, s. 2.)

§ 7672. Sale of supreme court reports.—The secretary of state shall sell any and all of the supreme court reports, both the current reports and the reprints, at such price as he deems reasonable, not less than one dollar and fifty cents per volume, but he may allow to regular licensed book-sellers in this state such discount as to him may seem reasonable and just. For his services in making such sales he shall receive a commission of five per centum upon his receipts, which commission he may deduct when he settles with the state treasurer, to whom he shall pay over, monthly, the moneys arising from such sales. (Rev., s. 5362; Code, s. 3635; 1889, c. 473, s. 5; 1899, c. 37; 1919, c. 195, s. 4.)

As to sale to a bookseller, see Smith v. Thompson, 122 N. C. 215, 29 S. E. 223.

§ 7673. Payment of accounts and expenses of secretary of state.—The accounts of the secretary of sate for the expenditures provided for in this subchapter, and all other expenses which he may incur, the payment whereof is not otherwise provided for, shall be passed on by the governor and council of state, and if allowed, shall be paid by the treasurer, on a warrant which the auditor shall draw. (Rev., s. 5363; Code, s. 3342; R. C., c. 104, s. 7; 1842, c. 48, s. 1; 1842, c. 68, s. 3; 1873-4, c. 129.)

§ 7673(a). Sale of justices' edition of Consolidated Statutes.—The secretary of state is hereby authorized and empowered to sell to any one desiring the same a copy of said justices' edition of the Consolidated Statutes of North Carolina, charging therefor the sum of three dollars and fifty cents. (Ex. Sess. 1920, c. 59, s. 2.)

§ 7673(b). Commission allowed dealers.—The secretary of state shall allow to all licensed book dealers handling said books the commissions now allowed by law to said book dealers handling the publications of the state. (Ex. Sess. 1920, c. 59, s. 3.)

Art. 5. Auditor

§ 7674. Office and office hours.—The auditor shall keep his office at the city of Raleigh, and shall attend thereat between the hours of ten o'clock a. m. and three o'clock p. m., Sundays and legal holidays excepted. (Rev., s. 5364; Code, s. 3353; 1868-9, c. 270, ss. 69, 70.)

§ 7674(a). Bond.—The State Auditor shall be placed under an official bond in a penal sum to be fixed by the Governor and Council of State at not less than fifty thousand ($50,000) dollars. Such official bond shall be corporate surety and furnished by a company admitted to do business in the State. The premiums will be paid by the State out of the appropriations to the State Auditor's Office. (1929, c. 337, s. 1.)

§ 7675. Duties of auditor.—It is the duty of the auditor:

1. To superintend the fiscal concerns of the state.

2. To report to the governor, annually, and to the general assembly at the beginning of each biennial session thereof; a complete statement of the funds of the state, of its revenues and of the public expenditures during the preceding fiscal year, and, as far as practicable, an account of the same down to the termination of the current calendar year, together with a detailed estimate of the expenditures to be defrayed from the treasury for the ensuing fiscal year, specifying therein each object of expenditure and distinguishing between such as are provided for by permanent or temporary appropriations, and such as must be provided for by a new statute, and suggesting the means from which such expenditures are to be defrayed.

3. To suggest plans for the improvement and management of the public revenue.

4. To keep and state all accounts in which the state is interested.

5. To examine and settle the accounts of all persons indebted to the state, and to certify the amount of balance to the treasurer.

6. To direct and superintend the collection of all moneys due to the state.

7. To examine and liquidate the claims of all persons against the state, in cases where there is sufficient provision of law for the payment thereof; and where there is no sufficient provision, to examine the claim and report the fact, with his opinion thereon, to the general assembly.

8. To require all persons who have received any moneys belonging to the state, and have not accounted therefor, to settle their accounts.

9. To have the exclusive power and authority to issue all warrants for the payment of money upon the state treasurer; and it shall be the auditor's duty, before issuing the same, to examine the laws authorizing the payment thereof, and satisfy himself of the correctness of the accounts of persons applying for warrants; and to this end he shall have power to administer oaths, and he shall also file in his office the voucher upon which the warrant is drawn and cite the law upon said warrant.

10. To procure from the books of the banks in which the treasurer makes his deposits, monthly statements of the moneys received and paid on account of the treasurer.

11. To keep an account between the state and the treasurer, and therein charge the treasurer with the balance in the treasury when he came into office, and with all moneys received by him, and credit him with all warrants drawn or paid by him.

12. To examine carefully on the first Tuesday of every month, or oftener if he deems it necessary, the accounts of the debts and credits in the bank book kept by the treasurer, and if he discovers any irregularity or deficiency therein, unless the same be rectified or explained to his satisfaction, to report the same forthwith, in writing, to the governor.

13. To require, from time to time, all persons who have received moneys or securities, or have had the disposition or management of any property of the state, of which an account is kept in his office, to render statements thereof to him; and all such persons shall render such statements at such time and in such form as he shall require.

14. To require any person presenting an account for settlement to be sworn before him and to answer orally as to any facts relating to its correctness.

15. To annually audit the accounts of the county officers of Washington county. (Rev., s. 5365; Code, s. 3350; 1868-9, c. 270, ss. 63, 64, 65; 1883, c. 71; 1919, c. 153.)

As to being constitutional office, see Art. III, sec. 1 and 13 of the Constitution; as to mandamus by governor to compel performance of certain duties, see note to section 7636.

Par. 7—Mandamus to Compel Payment.—The duty of the auditor under par. 7 is not a ministerial duty but is one involving judgment and discretion, and mandamus will not lie against him for refusal to issue a warrant for payment of a claim he does not approve. Burton v. Furnam, 115 N. C. 166, 20 S. E. 443.

Where a Clerk of the General Assembly had received a warrant for the entire number of days to which he was entitled, at seven dollars per day, he had no right to a writ of mandamus against the Auditor of the State because he refused to give him a warrant for three dollars per day additional for the same number of days for which he had heretofore obtained a warrant. Boner v. Adams, 65 N. C. 639.

Report to the General Assembly.—The Auditor of the State is not a mere minsterial officer, when a claim is presented to him against the state, he is to decide whether there is a sufficient provision of law for its payment, and if in his opinion there is not sufficient provision of law, he must examine the claim and report the fact, with his opinion, to the General Assembly. Boner v. Adams, 65 N. C. 639.

Cited in Bank v. Worth, 117 N. C. 146, 147, 155, 23 S. E. 160.

§ 7675(a). Warrants to bear limitations; presented within sixty days.—From and after March 10, 1925 all warrants drawn by the State Auditor on the Treasurer shall bear, and there shall be printed upon the face thereof in plain type so as to be easily read, the following words, to-wit: "This warrant will not be paid if presented to the Treasurer after the expiration of sixty days from the date hereof;" and the State Treasurer shall not and he is hereby prohibited from paying any warrant drawn by the Auditor unless the same shall be presented within sixty days from the date of such warrant. (1925, c. 246, s. 1.)

§ 7675(b). Surrender of barred warrant; issue of new warrant.—Any person, firm or corporation holding a warrant drawn by the State Auditor which cannot be paid because of the provisions of section 7675(a) may present the same to the State Auditor, and upon satisfactory proof that such person, firm or corporation is the owner thereof and is entitled to have and receive the proceeds of such warrant and that the obligations for which the warrant is drawn is a subsisting obligation against the State of North Carolina, may surrender said warrant to the Auditor and cancel the same, whereupon the Auditor is authorized and empowered to issue another warrant for like amount in lieu thereof. (1925, c. 246, s. 2.)

§ 7675(c). Warrants issued before March 10, 1925.—Every person, firm or corporation holding a warrant, drawn and issued by the State Auditor prior to March 10, 1925, shall present the same for payment on or before the first day of May, one thousand nine hundred twenty-five. If such warrant is not presented to the State Treasurer for payment prior to the first day of May, one thousand nine hundred twenty-five, the same shall not be paid, but the holder thereof shall be notified of the provision of sections 7675(a) to 7675(c), and upon satisfactory proof that the holder thereof is the proper owner and is entitled to have and receive the proceeds of such warrant and that the obligation for which the warrant is drawn is a subsisting obligation against the State of North Carolina, the warrant may be surrendered to the Auditor and cancelled and the Auditor is authorized and empowered to issue another and new warrant for like amount in lieu thereof. (1925, c. 246, s. 3.)

§ 7675(d). Assignments of claims against state.—All transfers and assignments made of any claim upon the State of North Carolina or any of its departments, bureaus or commissions or upon any State institution or of any part or share thereof or interest therein, whether absolute or conditional and whatever may be the consideration therefor and all powers of attorney, orders or other authorities for receiving payment or any such claim or any part or share thereof, shall be absolutely null and void unless such claim has been duly audited and allowed and the amount due thereon fixed and a warrant for the payment thereof has been issued; and no warrant shall be issued to any assignee of any claim or any part or share thereof or interest therein: Provided that this section shall not apply to assignments made in favor of hospitals, building and loan associations, and life insurance companies. (1925, c. 249; 1935, c. 19.)

For assignments in general, see 13 N. C. Law Rev., 113, 118.

Editor's Note.—The proviso at the end of this section was added by the 1935 amendment.

§ 7676. Warrants for money paid into treasury by mistake.—Whenever the governor and council of state are satisfied that moneys have been paid into the treasury through mistake, they may direct the auditor to draw his warrant therefor on the treasurer, in favor of the person who made such payment; but this provision shall not extend to payments on account of taxes nor to payments on bonds and mortgages. (Rev., s. 5366; Code, s. 3351; 1868-9, c. 270, s. 66.)

§ 7677. Accounts to be examined. — His accounts shall be closed on the thirtieth day of November of each year, and shall be examined at the same time and by the same officials as provided for examination of the treasurer's accounts. (Rev., s. 5367; Code, s. 3360; 1885, c. 334.)

§ 7678. Warrants for surplus proceeds of sale of property mortgaged to state.—Whenever any real property mortgaged to the state, or bought in for the benefit of the state, of which a certificate shall have been given to a former purchaser, is sold by the attorney-general on a foreclosure by notice, or under a judgment, for a greater sum than the amount due to the state, with costs and expenses, the surplus money received into the treasury, after a conveyance has been executed to the purchaser, shall be paid to the person legally entitled to such real property at the time of the foreclosure on the forfeiture of the original contract. The auditor shall not draw his warrant for such surplus money but upon satisfactory proof, by affidavit or otherwise, of the legal rights of such person. (Rev., s. 5368; Code, s. 3352; 1868-9, c. 270, s. 68.)

Art. 6. Treasurer

§ 7679. Office and office hours.—The treasurer shall keep his office at the city of Raleigh, and shall attend there between the hours of ten o'clock a. m. and three o'clock p. m., Sundays and legal holidays excepted. He shall be allowed such office room as may be necessary. (Rev., s. 5369; Code, s. 3362; 1868-9, c. 270, ss. 80, 81.)

§ 7680. Bond of treasurer. — The state treasurer-elect, before qualifying, shall file with the secretary of state a bond to the state in some reliable company, or companies, in the sum of two hundred and fifty thousand dollars, conditioned that he will faithfully execute the duties of his office, and the premium on such bond shall be paid out of the general state funds. Such bond, before acceptance, shall be approved by the speaker of the house of representatives and the president of the senate, and shall be deemed to extend to the faithful execution of the office of treasurer by the person elected thereto until a new election of treasurer be made and a new bond given by the person elected. (Rev., s. 288; Code, s. 3357; 1868-9, c. 270, s. 74; 1915, c. 168, s. 2.)

In General.—The treasurer's bond is a safeguard not only against his misuse or misappropriation of the funds committed to him, but against his payment of illegal claims, for the bond provides for the "faithful execution of the duties of his office," and one of those duties is to pay out no money except on warrant drawn by the auditor and to pay all legal warrants drawn by him. Illegal warrants, not authorized by law, the treasurer pays at his peril. Bank v. Worth, 117 N. C. 146, 147, 156, 23 S. E. 160.

§ 7681. Bonds of treasurer's clerks. — The clerks in the treasurer's office shall enter into good and sufficient bonds, payable to the state of North Carolina, each in such sums as the treasurer shall require, conditioned upon the faithful performance of the duties of their respective offices and the faithful accounting for all moneys and things of value which may come into their hands by virtue or color of their respective offices. These several bonds shall be in addition and cumulative to the official bond of the state treasurer, and shall not be construed to affect in any way the liability of the state treasurer upon his official bond. The bonds shall be approved by the treasurer, and, if given in a surety company, the costs thereof, not to exceed the current costs of similar bonds, may be paid by the state. (Rev., s. 289; 1919, c. 8; 1921, s. 175.)

Editor's Note.—By amendment, Public Laws 1921, c. 175, the discretion of the treasurer in fixing the bond replaced a provision for a ten thousand dollar bond for the chief clerk, and five thousand dollars for other clerks. Allowing current rates to surety companies replace a rate of not exceeding forty cents on the one hundred dollar penalty.

Bond to Treasurer Individually.—A bond by a clerk executed to the State Treasurer individually is not an official bond and does not extend beyond the term during which the clerk was appointed. Jackson v. Martin, 136 N. C. 196, 48 S. E. 672.

§ 7682. To receive and disburse moneys; to make reports.—It is the duty of the treasurer to receive all moneys which shall from time to time be paid into the treasury of this state; to pay all warrants legally drawn on the treasurer by the auditor; and no moneys shall be paid out of the treasury except on the warrant of the auditor; to report to the governor annually and to the general assembly at the beginning of each biennial session thereof the exact balance in the treasury to the credit of the state, with a summary of the receipts and payments of the treasury during the preceding fiscal year, and so far as practicable an account of the same down to the termination of the current calendar year. (Rev., s. 5370; Code, s. 3356; 1868-9, c. 270, s. 71.)

Editor's Note.—For an act providing that the state treasurer shall settle with counties for the ad valorem school taxes for 1931, see Public Laws of 1935, chapter 397.

Duty to Pay Warrants.—As it is the duty of the State Treasurer to keep his accounts, showing the transactions of each fiscal year ending December 31st, he has no right to pay out money except upon proper warrants drawn upon the proper funds in the treasury. Arendell v. Worth, 125 N. C. 111, 34 S. E. 232.

The public treasurer is not required to pay any and every warrant which the auditor may sign, but only those which are legally drawn, and the fact that the auditor finds that a claim for which he issues a warrant on the public treasurer is authorized by law is not binding upon or a protection to the latter. Bank v. Worth, 117 N. C. 146, 147, 23 S. E. 160.

Mandamus for Payment of Warrant.—The State Treasurer is not liable to a mandamus for refusing to pay a warrant improperly drawn, and he is entitled to a mandamus to enforce the drawing of proper warrants upon the proper funds before paying them, as they are his vouchers. Arendell v. Worth, 125 N. C. 111, 34 S. E. 232.

Same—When Fraud Is Alleged.—Where the State Treasurer denies the correctness of a claim audited by the State Auditor and alleges fraud in the creation of the indebtedness or that the services for which a warrant was issued were not rendered, mandamus will not lie to compel him to pay it, the question raised by such claim being for the Legislature, and not the courts, to determine. Garner v. Worth, 122 N. C. 250, 29 S. E. 364.

Mandamus without Warrant.—Mandamus will not lie to compel the treasurer to pay a claim as he can only pay on the warrant of the auditor. See 7675 as to auditor. Burton v. Furnam, 115 N. C. 166, 20 S. E. 443.

Court Compelling Payment of Claim.—The courts cannot direct the State Treasurer to pay a claim against the State, however just and unquestioned, when there is no legislative appropriation to pay the same; and when there is such an appropriation the coercive power is applied not to compel the payment of the State liability but to compel a public servant to discharge his duty by obedience to a legislative enactment. Garner v. Worth, 122 N. C. 250, 29 S. E. 364.

§ 7683. Discretion as to manner of paying annual appropriations.—Unless otherwise provided, it shall be discretionary with the treasurer whether he shall pay any annual appropriation in monthly, quarterly or semiannual installments or in a single payment. (Rev., s. 5372; 1897, c. 368.)

Editor's Note.—The discretion exercised by the State Treasurer as to the manner of disbursing appropriations prescribed by this section shall be exercised subject to the provisions of the act of 1927, c. 79, and the executive budget act of one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five.

§ 7683(a). Discretion vested in director of budget.—The discretion as to the manner of paying annual appropriations prescribed in section seven thousand six hundred and eighty-three is hereby vested in the Director of the Budget. (1925, c. 275, s. 9.)

Editor's Note.—For the corresponding provisions replacing these sections, see section 7472(zz).

§ 7684. Deposits of state funds in banks regulated.—Banks having state deposits shall furnish to the auditor of the state, upon his request, a statement of the moneys which have been received and paid by them on account of the treasury. The treasurer shall keep in his office a full account of all moneys deposited in and drawn from all banks in which he may deposit or cause to be deposited any of the public funds, and such account shall be open to the inspection of the auditor. The treasurer shall sign all checks, and no depository bank shall be authorized to pay checks not bearing his official signature. No depository bank shall make any charge for exchange or for the collection of the treasurer's checks or for the transmission of any funds which may come into his hands as state treasurer. The corporation commission and the bank examiners, when so required by the state treasurer, shall keep the state treasurer fully informed at all times as to the condition of all such depository banks, so as to fully protect the state from loss. The state treasurer shall, before making deposits in any bank, require ample security from the bank for such deposit.

The payment of interest on deposits of state money in any bank or banks shall be controlled by the governor and council of state, who shall have full power and authority to determine for what periods of time payment of interest on such deposits shall or shall not be required, and to fix the rate of interest to be paid thereon. The interest collected on the bank balances from time to time shall be paid into the state's general fund; but the treasurer shall credit to the funds of the agricultural department all money which is received as interest on the funds of the department, and he shall notify the commissioner of agriculture when such amounts are paid. (Rev., s. 5371; 1905, c. 520; 1915, c. 168; 1917, c. 159; 1933, c. 175, s. 1.)

Editor's Note.—In conformity to § 221(s) the words "commissioner of banks" should be substituted for "corporation commission" in the first paragraph of this section.

Public Laws of 1933, c. 175, struck out the first sentence of the last paragraph of this section and substituted the present reading in lieu thereof.

The interest rate on state deposits which was temporarily fixed by P. L. 1931, ch. 127 at 2½% is by the 1933 amendment left to determination of the Governor's Council of State and a corresponding change is made in relation to deposit by the Commissioner of Banks of funds from the liquidation of banks. See 11 N. C. Law Rev., 202.

§ 7684(a). Investment of state funds in government bonds. — As now, on account of conditions in the State, the State Treasurer has, from time to time, large cash balances on hand, which cannot be adequately secured under section 7691(b), he is hereby authorized and empowered to invest said cash balances, when, in his discretion, conditions are such as to require it, temporarily in United States bonds or North Carolina State bonds, which are to be registered in the name of the State. From time to time, as demand may be made upon the Treasurer for cash payments and it is necessary to do so, he is authorized and empowered to sell and transfer to the purchaser a sufficient number of such United States bonds or State bonds to meet the cash demand upon the State Treasurer. If there is any loss accruing to the State from such transaction, the State Treasurer shall be, and he is, hereby exonerated from said loss, whenever he has exercised a sound business judgment in the premises, and said loss shall be regarded as insurance for the safety of the funds. If there is any profit in the transaction, it shall accrue for the benefit of the State Treasury.

This section shall cease to be effective from and after the first day of February, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three. (1931, c. 127, ss. 2, 3.)

As to investment in bonds guaranteed by United States, see section 220(a) 1.

Editor's Note.—The first sentence of this temporary section suggests that the investment in bonds is to be made only when adequate security cannot be obtained but the clause giving the treasurer discretion contains no such condition. He is exonerated from any loss which may accrue, provided he "has exercised sound business judgment in the premises." Since the test is by this language not made one of good faith, some risk is thrown on him and he will hesitate to buy bonds on a falling market. 9 N. C. Law Rev. 393.

§ 7685. To make short-term notes in emergencies.—Subject to the approval of the governor and council of state, the state treasurer is authorized to make short-term notes for temporary emergencies, but such notes must only be made to provide for appropriations already made by the general asembly. (1915, c. 168, s. 3.)

§§ 7685(a) to 7685(c): (Repealed by Laws 1927, c. 49, s. 4.)

§ 7687. To construe revenue and machinery acts.—It shall be the duty of the state treasurer to decide all questions presented to him which may arise upon the construction and execution of all acts of the general assembly to raise revenue, commonly called revenue acts, and all acts providing for the assessment of property and collection of taxes, commonly called machinery acts, except where the decision of such questions is expressly conferred upon some other official or department. Such decisions of the treasurer shall be prima facie correct and a protection to the officers affected thereby. (Rev., s. 5374; 1895, c. 119, s. 17.)

§ 7688. May demand and sue for money and property of state.—The treasurer is authorized to demand, sue for, collect and receive all money and property of the state not held by some person under authority of law. (Rev., s. 5375; Code, s. 3359; 1866, c. 46.)

Action in Name of Treasurer.—An action for the collection of the license tax imposed by this section and made payable directly to the State Treasurer, was properly brought by that officer in his own name, although it might have been brought in the name of the State. Worth v. Wright, 122 N. C. 335, 29 S. E. 361.

Same—Change of Treasurers.—Where a State Treasurer goes out of office pending a suit by him in his official capacity, the incoming Treasurer is entitled to be made a party in his stead. Lacy v. Webb, 130 N. C. 545, 41 S. E. 549.

§ 7689. Ex officio treasurer of state institutions; duties as such.—The treasurer shall be ex-officio the treasurer of the department of agriculture, of the North Carolina state college of agriculture and engineering, of the North Carolina school for the deaf and dumb at Morganton, of the North Carolina institution for the deaf and dumb and the blind at Raleigh, for the state hospitals (for the insane) at Raleigh, Morganton, and Goldsboro, for the state's prison and soldiers home. He may appoint deputies to act for him at Morganton and Goldsboro, and may pay such deputies reasonable compensation. He shall keep all accounts of the institutions, and shall pay out all moneys, upon the warrant of the respective chief officiers or superintendents, countersigned by two members of the board of directors, managers, or trustees. He shall report to the respective boards at such times as they may call on him, showing the amount received on account of the institution, amount paid out, and amount on hand. He shall perform his duties as treasurer of these several institutions under such regulation as shall be prescribed in each case by their respective boards of managers, trustees, or directors, with the approval of the governor; and shall be responsible on his official bond for the faithful discharge of his duties as treasurer of each of the several institutions. As treasurer of such institutions he shall, annually, after the examination, verification, and cancellation of his vouchers, deposit the same with the respective institutions, and the superintendents thereof shall be responsible for their safekeeping. (Rev., s. 5376; Code, ss. 2235, 2251, 3723; 1879, c. 240, s. 2; 1881, c. 211, s. 9, c. 128; 1883, c. 156, s. 12, c. 405; 1895, c. 434; 1899, c. 1, s. 11; 1919, c. 314, s. 6.)

As to separation of prison funds, see § 7711. As to abolition of office of treasurer of state institutions, see § 7689(a).

§ 7689(a). Office of treasurer of each State Institution abolished.—The office of Treasurer of each of the several State institutions of which the State Treasurer is ex-officio Treasurer is hereby abolished. (1929, c. 337, s. 3.)

§ 7689(b). Office of State Treasurer declared office of deposit and disbursement.—The office of the State Treasurer is declared to be an office of deposit and disbursement and only such records and accounts as may be necessary to disclose the accountability of the State Treasurer shall be kept. The purpose of this section is to prevent duplication in account and record keeping and such accounts as may be necessary shall be prescribed by the Director of the Budget under the terms of the Executive Budget Act. (1929, c. 337, s. 2.)

§ 7690. May authorize chief clerk to act for him; treasurer liable.—The treasurer may authorize his chief clerk to perform any duties pertaining to the office, except signing checks; but the treasurer is responsible for the conduct of all his clerks. (Rev., s. 5377; Code, s. 3358; 1868-9, c. 270, s. 76.)

As to clerk's liability on bond, see section 7681, and note.

§ 7691. Liability for false entries in his books.—If the treasurer of the state shall wittingly or falsely make, or cause to be made, any false entry or charge in any book kept by him as treasurer, or shall wittingly or falsely form, or procure to be formed, any statement of the treasury, to be by him laid before the governor, the general assembly, or committee thereof, or to be by him used in any settlement which he is required to make with the auditor, with intent, in any of said instances, to defraud the state or any person, such treasurer shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and fined, at the discretion of the court, not exceeding three thousand dollars, and imprisoned not exceeding three years. (Rev., s. 3606; Code, s. 1119; R. C., c. 34, s. 68.)

§ 7691(a). Daily deposit of funds to credit of treasurer.—All funds belonging to the State of North Carolina, in the hands of any head of any department of the State which collects revenue for the State in any form whatsoever, and every institution, agency, officer, employee, or representative of the State, or any agency, department, division or commission thereof, collecting or receiving any funds or money belonging to the State of North Carolina, shall daily deposit the same in some bank, or trust company, or other designated depository, selected or designated by the State Treasurer, in the name of the State Treasurer, at noon, or as near thereto as may be, and shall report the same daily to said Treasurer: Provided, that the Treasurer may refund the amount of any bad checks which have been returned to the department by the Treasurer when the same have not been collected after thirty days trial. (1925, c. 128, s. 1.)

§ 7691(b). Treasurer to select depositories; bond.—The State Treasurer is hereby authorized and empowered to select and designate, whereever necessary, in this State some bank or banks or trust company as an official depository of the State, and the said Treasurer shall require of such depository a bond, or in lieu there of collaterial security for such deposit, consisting of such bonds as are approved for investment by the State sinking fund, as provided for in sections 7472(q) 13 to 7472(q) 25, payable to the State of North Carolina, in a sufficient amount to protect the State on account of any deposit of State funds made therein. (1925, c. 128, s. 2.)

§ 7691(b) 1. Deposits of state funds in banks that have provided for safety of deposits without requiring depository bonds.—Where any bank or trust company, state or national, has come within the provisions of the national banking laws, providing guarantee or insurance on security, in full, for the deposits in such bank or trust company, and for payment thereof upon demand of the depositor, and when thereby such protection is afforded depositors of such bank or trust company, and where any such bank or trust company may be properly designated as a depository for the deposits of moneys of the state of North Carolina, or of any county, city, town, or other political subdivision of the state of North Carolina, it shall be permissible and lawful to deposit the moneys of the state, or of such county, city, town, or other political subdivision therein, without requiring of the said bank or trust company to furnish any additional security for the protection of such deposits, or the payment thereof upon demand, as now required by law: Provided, however, that the council of state shall have previously passed upon the character and extent of the guarantee afforded by the United States banking laws, and shall have approved the same as satisfactory: Provided further, that the approval of such bank or trust company as a depository for moneys of the state of North Carolina must be given by the council of state, and approval by the local government commission must be secured for such bank or trust company to act as a depository for any county, city, town, or other political subdivision of the state: Provided further, that any action in regard to these matters shall be discretionary with the council of state as far as this section applies to them, and with the local government commission as far as this section applies to it.

Where the deposits are guaranteed or insured only in part, the bank or trust company receiving such deposits shall be required to deposit bonds or security only to the extent of the unguaranteed portion of said deposits. (1933, c. 461, ss. 1, 1½.)

See 11 N. C. Law Rev., 201, for review of this section.

§ 7691(c). Deposit in other banks unlawful; liability.—It shall be unlawful for any funds of the State to be deposited by any person, institution, or department or agency in any place or bank or trust company, other than those so selected and designated as official depositories of the State of North Carolina by the State Treasurer, and any person so offending or aiding and abetting in such offense shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and punished by a fine or imprisonment, or both, in the discretion of the court, and any person so offending or aiding and abetting in such offense shall also immediately become civilly liable to the State of North Carolina in the amount of the money or funds unlawfully deposited, and, at the instance of the State Treasurer, or at the instance of the Governor, the Attorney-General shall forthwith institute the civil action in the name of the State of North Carolina against such person or persons, either in the courts of Wake County, according to their respective jurisdiction, or in the county in which said unlawful deposit has been made, according to the selection made by the officer requesting the institution of such action, for the purpose of recovering the amount of the money so unlawfully deposited, with interest thereon at six per cent per annum, and for the cost of said action, and the court in which said action is tried may also tax, as a part of the cost in said action, to the use of the State of North Carolina, a sum sufficient to reimburse the State of North Carolina for all expense incidental to or connected with the preparation and prosecution of such action. (1925, c. 128, s. 3.)

§ 7691(d). Number of depositories; contract.—The State Treasurer is authorized and empowered to select as many depositories in one place and in the State as may appear to him to be necessary and convenient for the various officers representatives and employees of the State, to comply with the purposes of sections 7691(a) to 7691(g), and may make such contracts with said depositories for the payment of interest on average daily or monthly balances as may appear advantageous to the State in the opinion of such treasurer and the Governor. (1925, c. 128, s. 4.)

§ 7691(e). Accounts of funds kept separate.—In order to preserve and keep separate all funds that are now required by law to be kept separately administered, both by State departments, institutions, commissions, and other agencies or divisions of the State which collect or receive funds belonging to the State, or handle or maintained as trust funds in any form by such department, division, or institutions, shall be evidenced in daily reports by distribution sheets, which shall reflect and show an exact copy of the accounts, showing the distribution of said money kept by such collecting departments, institutions and agencies, and the same shall be entered in the records of the office of the State Treasurer, so as to keep and maintain in the office where the same is first collected or received the same account thereof, and of the distribution thereof, the same records and accounts as are kept in the office of the State Treasurer relating thereto. (1925, c. 128, s. 5.)

§ 7691(f). Receipts from Federal government and gifts not affected.—Sections 7691(a) to 7691(g) shall not be held or construed to affect or interfere with the receipts and disbursements of any funds received by any institution or department of this State from the Federal Government or any gift or donation to any institution or department of the State or commission or agency thereof when either in the act of Congress, relating to such funds received from the Federal government, or in the instrument evidencing the said private donation or gift, a contrary disposition or handling is prescribed or required, and the said sections shall not apply to any moneys paid to any department, institution or agency, or undertaking of the State of North Carolina, as a part of any legislative appropriation, or allotment from any contingent fund, as provided by law, after the same has been paid out of the State treasury. (1925, c. 128, s. 6.)

§ 7691(g). Auditor to furnish forms; reports; refund of excess payments.—The State Auditor, by and with the advice, consent and approval of the Governor, shall prescribe and furnish all forms necessary for full compliance with sections 7691(a) to 7691(g), and the cost of printing and furnishing the same shall be charged in the printing account of the several departments, institutions and agencies receiving and using such forms and such daily reports shall be made by mail by those departments, institutions and collecting agencies and officers and employees who are not in the city of Raleigh, when required to make such daily deposits and reports, and, in addition to such daily reports, the treasurer may require a report, as to the amount deposited, by wire, and all such departments, institutions, agencies, officers and employees, who are at or in the city of Raleigh, when required to make such deposits and reports, shall deliver the same, in person or by messenger, to the State Treasurer, whenever taxes of any kind have been by clerical error, misinterpretation of the law, or otherwise, collected and paid into the State Treasurer in excess of the amount found to be legally due the State. The State Auditor shall issue his warrant for the amount so illegally collected, to the person entitled thereto, upon certificate from the head of the department through which said tax was collected, or his successor in the performance of the functions of that department, and the Treasurer shall pay said warrant. (1925, c. 128, s. 7.)

§ 7692. Fiscal year.—The fiscal year of the state government shall annually close on the thirtieth day of June. The accounts of the treasurer, the auditor and the charitable and penal institutions of the state shall be annually closed on the date. (Rev., s. 5378; Code, s. 3360; 1868-9, c. 270, s. 77; 1883, c. 60; 185, c. 334; 1905, c. 430; 1921, c. 229; Ex. Sess. 1921, c. 7; 1925, c. 89, s. 21.)

Editor's Note.—Prior to the amendment Ex. Sess. 1921, ch. 7, the fiscal year closed on the thirtieth day of November, by that amendment it was changed to June thirtieth. By Public Laws 1925, ch. 89, sec. 21, a sentence providing for examination of the accounts of the treasurer, auditor and insurance commissioner by commissioner appointed by the legislature, was omitted.

Section 2 of Chapter 229, Public Laws 1921, provides that "All appropriations made by the general assembly of one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one for the support and maintenance of the institutions of the state where the said appropriations are made for the years one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one and one thousand nine hundred and twenty-two shall be continued until the end of the fiscal year one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three, and for the months following the present ending of the fiscal year shall be in proportion to the appropriation for the year one thousand nine hundred and twenty-two."

Applied, as fixing salary of sheriff, in Martin v. Swain County, 201 N. C. 68, 158 S. E. 843.

§ 7693. Duties of the attorney-general and of the director of the budget.—The Attorney-General shall, as soon as may be after the first day of each month, compare the warrants drawn by the Auditor on the Treasury during the preceding month with the several laws under which the same purport to have been drawn, and shall certify whether the Auditor had power to draw such warrants, such certificate to be filed with the warrants of the appropriate month. If any are found which, in the opinion of the Attorney-General, the Auditor had no power to draw, such warrants shall be specified in such certificate, accompanied by his reason for the opinion, and a copy of the certificate shall in each instance be furnished forthwith to the director of the budget. Whenever the Treasurer dies or resigns during his term, or is succeeded at the expiration of his term by another, the director of the budget shall examine or cause to be examined his accounts. The director of the budget shall also examine the warrants drawn on the Treasurer by the officials of the various public institutions of the State whose duty it is to draw such warrants, and the director of the budget shall have the same authority over the warrants drawn by the officials of all public institutions as over the warrants drawn by the Auditor. (Rev., s. 5379; Code, s. 3361; 1868-9, c. 270, ss. 78, 79; 1903, c. 738; 1919, c. 27; 1925, c. 89, s. 21, c. 121, s. 1.)

Editor's Note.—This section was repealed in toto by chapter 89 of the Public Laws of 1925 and reenacted in part by chapter 121, omitting the portion referring to an annual examination of accounts, and in the part which is reenacted substitution "director of the budget" for the "legislative commission."

§ 7693(a). Additional clerical assistance authorized; compensation and duties.—The state treasurer, by and with the consent and advice of the governor and council of state, is authorized to employ an additional clerk in the treasury department whose compensation and duties shall be fixed by the state treasurer, by and with the consent and advice of the governor and council of state. The compensation of such additional clerk as may be employed pursuant to this section shall be paid as other officers and clerks are paid. (1923, c. 172.)

Art. 7. Attorney-General

§ 7694. Duties.—It shall be the duty of the attorney-general—

1. To defend all actions in the supreme court in which the state shall be interested, or is a party; and also when requested by the governor or either branch of the general assembly to appear for the state in any court or tribunal in any cause or matter, civil or criminal, in which the state may be a party or interested.

2. At the request of the governor, secretary of state, treasurer auditor, corporation commissioners, insurance commissioner or superintendent of public instruction, he shall prosecute and defend all suits relating to matters connected with their departments.

3. To represent all state institutions, including the state's prison, whenever requested so to do by the official head of any such institution.

4. To consult with and advise the solicitors, when requested by them, in all matters pertaining to the duties of their office.

5. To give when required, his opinion upon all questions of law submitted to him by the general assembly, or by either branch thereof, or by the governor, auditor, treasurer, or any other state officer.

6. To pay all moneys received for debts due or penalties to the state immediately after the receipt thereof into the treasury.

7. To compare the warrants drawn by the auditor on the state treasury with the laws under which they purport to be drawn. (Rev., s. 5380; Code, s. 3363; 1868-9, c. 270, s. 82; 1871-2, c. 112, s. 2; 1893, c. 379; 1901, c. 744.)

As to proceedings against corporations when reports filed by corporation commission, see section 1062; as to actions by the attorney-general, see section 870.

§ 7694(a). To devote whole time to duties.—The Attorney-General shall devote his whole time to the duties of the office and shall not engage in the private practice of law. (1929, c. 1, s. 1.)

§ 7695. Superseded by sec. 7695(a).

§ 7695(a). Assistants; compensation; assignments.—The Attorney-General shall be allowed three assistants, to be appointed by him, and each of said assistants shall receive a salary of three thousand six hundred dollars per year, payable monthly. One of said assistants shall be assigned to the State Highway Commission, and shall be paid by said State Highway Commission; another of said assistants shall be assigned to State Department of Revenue and the salary of said assistants so assigned shall be paid by said Department of Revenue; and the other assistant shall perform such duties as may be assigned by the Attorney-General: Provided, however, the provisions of this section shall not be construed as preventing the Attorney-General from assigning additional duties to the assistants assigned to the Highway Commission and the State Department of Revenue as above set forth. (1925, c. 207, s. 1.)

As to dispensing with one assistant, see § 7695(c).

§ 7695(b). Additional clerical help.—Since it appears probable that the clerical work in the office of the Attorney-General will be gradually increased by the provisions of section 7695 (a), the Attorney-General shall be allowed such additional clerical help as shall be necessary; the amount of such help and the salary therefor shall be fixed by the Budget Bureau and the Attorney-General. (1925, c. 207, s. 2.)

§ 7695(c). Dispensing with one assistant. — The Attorney-General shall dispense with one Assistant to his office. (1929, c. 1, s. 2.)

Art. 8. Solicitors

§ 7696. To prosecute cases removed to federal courts.—It shall be the duty of the solicitors of this state, in whose jurisdiction the circuit and district courts of the United States are held, having first obtained the permission of the judges of said courts, to prosecute, or assist in the prosecution of, all criminal cases in said courts where the defendants are charged with violations of the laws of this state and have moved their cases from the state to the federal courts under the provisions of the various acts of congress on such subjects. (Rev,. s. 5381; Code, s. 1239; 1874-5, c. 164, s. 1.)

§ 7697. Compensation of solicitors in federal courts.—For every such case in which the solicitor shall appear and prosecute, or assist in prosecuting, he shall be allowed twenty dollars; and if he cannot appear himself, by reason of a conflict of the time of holding his courts, or other good cause, he may appoint some one to act in his stead, who shall receive like compensation, and the prosecuting attorney shall be paid said fee by the treasurer of the state, upon the warrant of the auditor. (Rev., s. 5382; Code, s. 1240; 1874-5, c. 164, s. 2.)

Art. 9. Payment of Premiums on Bonds

§§ 7697(a), 7697(b) Repealed: Laws 1925, c. 275, s. 6.

CHAPTER 130
STATE PRISON

Art. 1. Government by Highway and Public Works Commission

Editor's Note.—The state prison, which was formerly governed by a board of directors, is now under the control of the highway and public works commission. See note to § 7703.

§§ 7698 to 7702: Repealed by Acts 1933, ch. 172, § 12.

§ 7703. Directors to employ servants and agents.—The board of directors, by and with the consent and approval of the Governor, are authorized to employ such managers, superintendents and wardens as they may deem necessary; and the board of directors are further authorized to employ such physicians, supervisors, overseers and other servants and agents as they may deem necessary for the management of the affairs of the State Prison Department, and the safekeeping and employment of the convicts therein confined. The compensation and duties of the managers, superintendents and wardens shall be fixed by the board of directors, by and with the consent and advice of the Governor. The board of directors shall fix the compensation of all physicians, supervisors, overseers and other servants and agents, prescribe their duties by proper rules and regulations, and may discharge them at will. Any manager, superintendent or warden may be discharge by the board of directors, by and with the consent and approval of the Governor. (Rev., s. 5387; 1901, c. 472, s. 10; 1925, c. 163.)

Editor's Note.—Public Laws of 1933, c. 172, §§ 2, 18, codified as sections 7748(b) and 7748(n), created the state highway and public works commission and conferred upon it all the powers and duties formerly exercised by the state prison department. And section 18 of said chapter further provided for the substitution of the terms "highway and public works commission," etc. for "prison department," etc., throughout this chapter.

§ 7704. Employees' bonds; money paid to state treasurer.—The board of directors shall require of its officers, employees, or agents, who may be authorized by law, or hereafter authorized by the board of directors, to collect or receive the moneys and earnings of said institution, to enter into bonds payable to the State of North Carolina in such penal sums as may be approved by the board, with such security or securities, conditioned upon the faithful performance of the duties of such officers, employees or agents in collecting and receiving, and paying over the moneys and earnings of the State Prison. Only such corporate security shall be accepted by the said board as is licensed to do business within the State of North Carolina. (Rev., s. 5389; 1901, c. 472, s. 7; 1923, c. 156; 1925, c. 163.)

See note under section 7703.

§ 7705. Acquisition and alienation of property.—Whenever it may be necessary or convenient in the conduct of the operations of the State Prison Department, or when hereafter expressly authorized by law, such property, both real and personal, as may be desired by the board of directors, by and with the advice, consent and approval of the Budget Bureau, and Governor, and Council of State, may be acquired by gift, devise, purchase, or lease; and all such gifts, devises, purchase or lease shall be made to the State of North Carolina; and whenever it may be necessary or convenient, in the opinion of the said board of directors, by and with the advice, consent and approval of the Budget and the Governor, and Council of State to dispose of any such property, either real or personal, or any interest or estate therein by lease, subletting, sale or conveyance, such disposal may be effected upon the adoption of the resolution of the board of directors by vote of majority of the board of directors, and approved by the Budget Bureau, and Governor and Council of State. All leases, bills of sale, and conveyance necessary to execute such powers of lease, subletting, sale and conveyance shall be executed in the name of the State of North Carolina by the Governor, attested by the Secretary of State, with the Great Seal of the State of North Carolina affixed thereto; and such conveyance shall be admitted to registration in the several counties of the State upon such probate as is now required by law for other corporate conveyances. (Rev., s. 5392; 1901, c. 472, ss. 2, 6; 1925, c. 163.)

See note under section 7703.

§ 7706. Directors manage property and convicts.—The board of directors shall have charge of, and, through its agents and employees, manage all the property and effects of the State Prison Department, and conduct the operation of all its affairs subject to the provisions of this chapter. The board of directors may adopt and enforce such rules and regulations for the government of the State Prison Department, its agents and employees and the convicts therein confined as to them may seem just and proper. (Rev., s. 5390; 1901, c. 472, s. 4; 1925, c. 163.)

See note under section 7703.

As to subsequent statutes on this subject, see §§ 7748(c) and 7748(d).

§ 7707. Custody, employment, hiring out and recapture of convicts. — The board of directors shall make provision for receiving, keeping in custody until discharging by law, all such convicts as may be now confined in said prison and such as may be hereafter sentenced to imprisonment therein by the several courts of this State. The board of directors shall have full power and authority to provide for the employment of such convicts, either in the prison or on farms leased or owned by the State of North Carolina, or elsewhere, or otherwise; and may contract for the hire or employment of any able-bodied convicts upon such terms as may be just and fair, but such convicts so hired, or employed, shall remain under the actual management, control and care of the board of directors, or its employees, agents and servants: Provided, however, that no female convict shall be worked on public roads or streets in any manner. (Rev., s. 5391; 1895, c. 194, s. 5; 1897, c. 270; 1901, c. 472, ss. 5, 6; 1925, c. 163.)

See note under section 7703.

As to subsequent statute on this subject, see § 7748(e).

Editor's Note.—By amendment, Public Laws 1925, the provision for work on any property owned by the state replaced a provision for work on property owned by the state prison. There was also a former provision restricting prisoners to be hired out to those not necessary to be detained in the prison near Raleigh, which was omitted by the Public Laws 1925. The provision for recapture in section 7707(a) was separated from this section by the Public Laws 1925.

§ 7707(a). Recapture of convicts.—The board of directors may provide for the recapture of convicts that may escape from such prison and may pay such reward and expense of recapture to any person making the same. Any citizen of North Carolina shall have authority without warrant to apprehend any convict who may escape before the expiration of the term of his imprisonment, and to retain him in custody and redeliver him to the State Prison Department. (1925, c. 163.)

See note under section 7703.

As to subsequent statute on this subject, see § 7748(q).

§ 7707(b). Inspection of mines.—The board of directors of the State's Prison is hereby authorized, in its discretion, to have monthly inspection made of all mines in North Carolina in which State convicts are or may be employed and to employ for this purpose the services of an accredited mine inspector approved by the United States Bureau of Mines.

In order to carry out the provision of this section, the said board of directors of the State's Prison is authorized to expend not more than twenty-five hundred dollars of any moneys in the hands of the State Treasurer to the credit of the State's Prison, not otherwise appropriated. (1929, c. 292, ss. 1, 2.)

See note under section 7703.

§§ 7708 to 7711: Repealed by Acts 1933, ch. 172, § 12.

§ 7712. Work of convicts on public roads.—The board of directors of the State Prison Department are authorized to work the prisoners committed to their charge on the public roads of the State by organizing State camps for housing and feeding the prisoners while at work on such roads, but the construction of such camps must be in accordance with plans approved by the State Highway Commission and the State Board of Health, but if worked upon the public roads of any county or subdivision thereof, then such county or subdivision shall pay to the State Prison such compensation as may be agreed upon by such county, or subdivision thereof, and the board of prison directors. (1917, c. 286, s. 11; 1919, c. 80, s. 6; 1925, c. 163.)

See note under section 7703.

As to subsequent statute on subject, see § 3846(27). And see § 3846(19) et seq. See also § 7748(a).

§ 7712(a). Automobile license tags to be manufactured at State Prison.—The State Prison Department is hereby authorized to purchase and install automobile license tag plant equipment for the purpose of manufacturing license tags and for such other purposes as the State Prison Department may direct.

The Commissioner of Revenue or such other authority as may exercise the authority to purchase automobile license tags is hereby directed to purchase from, and to contract with, the State Prison Department for the State automobile license tag requirements from year to year.

The price to be paid to the State Prison Department for such tags shall be fixed and agreed upon by the Governor, the Directors of the State Prison Department and the Revenue Commissioner or such authority as may be authorized to purchase such supplies.

The State Prison Department is authorized to expend the sum of thirty thousand dollars ($30,000) or so much thereof as may be necessary, for the establishment, equipment and installation of an automobile license tag plant in the State's Prison, and out of the balances and the receipts of the State's Prison at the credit of the State Prison Department with the State Treasurer. (1929, c. 221, s. 1.)

See note under section 7703.

§ 7712(b). Shoe factory authorized for central prison. — The state highway and public works commission is hereby authorized to purchase and install at the central prison in Raleigh, North Carolina, a shoe factory equipped for the purpose of manufacturing shoes for the inmates of the various state institutions.

The director of the division of purchase and contract for the State of North Carolina, or such other authority as may exercise the right to purchase shoes for the various state institutions, is hereby directed to purchase from, and to contract with, the state highway and public works commission for the shoe requirements for said institutions from year to year.

The price to be paid to the state highway and public works commission for such shoes shall be fixed and agreed upon by the governor, the state highway and public works commission, and the director of the division of purchase and contract, or such other authority as may be authorized to purchase shoes for the inmates of the various state institutions.

The state highway and public works commission is authorized to spend the sum of twenty-five thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, for the establishment, equipment, and installation of said shoe factory at the central prison, and out of the balances and receipts of the state highway and public works commission at the credit of the state highway and public works commission with the state treasurer. (1935, c. 165.)

§ 7713. Supervision of jails and camps by board of health.—The State Board of Health shall have the same supervision of all jails, county camps or other places of confinement of county or city prisoners in regard to the method of construction, sanitary or hygienic care as they have over the State Prison Department, and no jail, county camp, or other place of confinement of county or city prisons shall be construed or used as such for a period of six months, unless the State Board of Health shall have approved the same, and the violation of this section shall constitute a misdemeanor punishable by fine or imprisonment, or both, in the discretion of the court. (1917, c. 286, s. 11½; 1925, c. 163.)

See note under section 7703.

§ 7714. Sanitary and hygienic care of prisoners. —The sanitary and hygienic care of the prisoners shall be under the direction, supervision, and regulation of the State Board of Health, and all camps and camp equipment shall conform to the plans and specifications of and be approved by the State Board of Health; and the board of directors of the State Prison shall do such things as may be necessary to carry out the recommendations of the State Board of Health. The supervision of the State Board of Health shall apply to the State Prison, the State farms, and county or State camps or other places where the prisoners are confined or housed, and such recommendations as shall be made by the State Board of Health regarding clothes, bedding, tableware, and bathing for the prisoners shall be carried out by the board of directors of the State Prison. (1917, c. 286, s. 8; 1919, c. 80, s. 4; 1925, c. 163.)

See note under section 7703.

As to subsequent statute on this subject, see section 7748(r).

§ 7715. Quarters at state farm.—In order to erect suitable quarters for the prisoners kept at the State farms, the board of directors of the State Prison Department is authorized and directed to spend a sufficient amount of the funds, under the control of the board, for permanent improvements, to pay for the erection of sanitary quarters for the prisoners with individual cells, when cells are deemed necessary, for each prisoner, and the plans and specifications for the erection of such quarters shall be approved by the State Board of Health. (1917, c. 286, s. 14; 1925, c. 163.)

See note under section 7703.

Art. 2. Prisoners Sent to State Prison

§ 7716. Quarters and work for women prisoners; what prisoners assigned to work under state highway and public works commission.—The state highway and public works commission may provide within the bounds of the central prison at Raleigh, or elsewhere in the State, suitable quarters for women prisoners, and arrange for work suitable to their capacity; and the several courts of the State may assign women convicted of offenses, whether felonies or misdemeanors, to such quarters so provided. No woman prisoner, however, shall be assigned to work under the supervision of the state highway and public works commission whose term of imprisonment is less than six months, or who is under eighteen year of age. No male person shall be assigned to labor under the supervision of the state highway and public works commission whose term of imprisonment as fixed by the judgment of the court is less than thirty days. (1935, c. 257, s. 3.)

Editor's Note.—Prior to the amendment of 1935, this section provided for sentencing persons for felonies and misdemeanors. The section is so radically changed that no comparison can be made.

§ 7717. Convicts sent to place of labor.—The board of directors shall, as far as practicable, make arrangements for the conveying of convicts from the places where convicted direct to the place where they are to be worked, when it would be to the interest of the State so to do. (Rev., s. 5379; Code, s. 3428; 1879, c. 333, s. 5; 1881, c. 289, s. 2; 1925, c. 163.)

See note under section 7703.

Editor's Note.—This section and the remainder of this article though section 7720 was reenacted without change by Public Laws 1925.

§ 7718. To be sent within five days.—The sheriff, having in charge any prisoner sentenced to the State Prison Department shall proceed to send him to the State Prison Department or place of assignment within five days after the adjournment of the court at which he was sentenced, if no appeal has been taken. (Rev., s. 5398; Code, s. 3432; 1869-70, c. 180, s. 3; 1925, c. 163.)

See note under section 7703.

§ 7719. Copy of affidavit filed with commissioners.—The sheriff shall file with the board of commissioners of his county a copy of his affidavit as to necessary guard, together with a copy of his itemized account of expenses, both certified to by the auditor as true copies of those on file in his office. (Rev., s. 5399; Code, s. 3437; 1874-5, c. 107, s. 3; 1925, c. 163.)

As to failure to file reports, see section 4384, 4386.

§ 7720. State not liable for expenses before convicts received.—The State is not liable for the expenses of maintaining convicts until they have been received by the State Prison Department authorities, nor shall any moneys be paid out of the treasury for support of convicts prior to such reception. (Rev., s. 5400; Code, s. 3438; 1870-1, c. 124, s. 3; 1925, c. 163.)

See note under section 7703.

Expense of Conveying.—This section only applies to expense of maintenance and does not apply to expense of conveying convicts to the penitentiary. By the Acts of 1869-70 it was especially provided that the expense of conveying should be paid by the state and this section did not repeal that act. Taylor v. Adams, 66 N. C. 338.

Art. 3. Prison Regulations

§ 7721. Board to make regulations.—The board of directors is authorized to adopt such rules and regulations for enforcing discipline as their judgment may indicate, not inconsistent with the constitution and laws of the State. And they shall print and post the same in the cells of the convicts, and the same shall be read to every convict in the State Prison Department when received. (Rev., s. 5401; Code, s. 3444; 1873-4, c. 158, s. 15; 1925, c. 163.)

See note under section 7703.

Editor's Note.—This section and sections 7722, 7723, and 7724, were re-enacted, without material change, by Public Laws 1925.

§ 7722. Infraction of rules recorded.—The board of directors shall require to be kept a book in which shall be entered a record of every infraction of the published rules of discipline, with the name of the prisoner so guilty, and the punishment inflicted therefor, which record shall be submitted to the directors at their monthly meeting. (Rev., s. 5402; Code, s. 3445; 1873-4, c. 158, s. 16; 1899, c. 457; 1925, c. 163.)

See note under section 7703.

§ 7723. Prisoners classified and distinguished.—The board of directors of the State Prison Department shall direct the classification of all male prisoners committed to their charge into three classes or grades, as follows: In the first class shall be included all those prisoners who have given evidence that they will, or whom it is believed will, observe the rules and regulations and work diligently, and are likely to maintain themselves by honest industry after their discharge; in the second class shall be included those prisoners who have not as yet given evidence that they can be trusted, but are competent to work and are reasonably obedient to the rules and regulations of the institution; and in the third class shall be those prisoners who have demonstrated that they are incorrigible, have no respect for the rules and regulations, and seriously interfere with the discipline and the effectiveness of the labor of the other prisoners. The men of the first class shall be known as honor men, and when grouped together in camps as hereinafter provided for the camp shall be known as "honor camp," and shall wear a distinctive but not very conspicuous uniform, and shall be worked without guards, and when in prison or camps, or in any other place of detention, they shall not be chained or under armed guards at night. The men of the second class shall wear a conspicuous uniform, and shall be worked under armed guards, but shall not wear chains, while at work, but may or may not be chained at night, in the discretion of the superintendent. The men of the third class shall be dressed in stripes, shall be worked under armed guards, wear chains during the day, whenever this is considered necessary, and be chained at night when in camp, and shall be worked as far as possible in stockades, inclosing rock quarries, but may be worked on public roads in camps containing only this class of men, at the discretion of the superintendent, or that may hereafter be made by the General Assembly. The classification of male prisoners shall apply to female prisoners so far as it relates to commutation of time and pay for their work. Honor men may be worked wherever any work is being carried on by the prison, provided their privileges and immunities as set forth in this section are in no wise abridged. (1917, c. 286, s. 4; 1919, c. 80, s. 2; 1925, c. 163.)

See note under section 7703.

See notes to 7728.

As to subsequent statutes on this subject, see §§ 7748(s) and 7757(17).

§ 7724. Assignment to classes and changes.—Persons sentenced to the penitentiary, or State Prison Department, for the first time shall be placed in the first or second class, but the assignment of a prisoner to any one of the three classes referred to in this article shall not be considered to mean that such prisoner must remain in such class, but a prisoner may be changed from a lower to a higher class or from a higher class to a lower class, depending upon his behavior, and it is the purpose and intent of this section to direct the board of directors of the State Prison to encourage and assist the men to improve themselves that they can be transferred from a lower to a higher class or grade. (1917, c. 286, s. 5; 1925, c. 163.)

See note under section 7703.

As to subsequent statutes on this subject, see §§ 7748(s) and 7757(17).

§ 7725. Commutation of time.—The men of the first class shall be allowed a commutation of their sentence of one hundred and four days for each year served, and the men of the second class shall be allowed a commutation of their sentence of seventy-eight days for each year they serve, and the men of the third class shall be allowed a commutation of their sentence of fifty-two days for each year they serve. If a man remains in the third class for three continuous years, he shall not be allowed any further commutation of time. In the event any prisoner shall be sentenced for a less period of time than one year, said prisoner shall be entitled to a proportionate commutation of his sentence. The board of directors of the State Prison Department, by and with the advice and consent and approval of the Governor, and Commissioner of Public Welfare, may make such regulations and pay such sums to prisoners at the expiration of their sentence as may in their judgment adequately aid such prisoners in securing employment and in defraying their expenses to the place of such employment within this State, or to the place from which said prisoners were sent to the State Prison, having due regard to article eleven, section eleven, of the Constitution, "that all penal and charitable institutions shall be made as nearly self-supporting as is consistent with the purposes of their creation." (Rev., ss. 5402, 5403; Code, s. 3445; 1873-4, c. 158, s. 16; 1899, c. 457; 1901, c. 726; 1911, c. 153; 1917, c. 286, s. 6; 1919, c. 80, s. 3; 1925, c. 163.)

See note under section 7703.

As to subsequent statutes on this subject, see §§ 7757(17) and 7757(18).

Editor's Note.—The provision for adequate compensation at the discretion of the board, governor, and commissioner of Public Welfare, by Public Laws 1925 replaced a former scale of daily compensation for the different grades of prisoners.

Prisoners for Life.—A prisoner for life is not entitled to diminution of imprisonment on account of good behavior. But a prisoner whose term has been commuted from a life sentence to a term of years is so entitled, from and after the date of such commutation, but not before. In re McMahon, 125 N. C. 38, 34 S. E. 193.

§ 7726. Employment at useful labor.—The board of directors of the State Prison Department shall, through the superintendent, wardens, managers, or officials of the penitentiary, state farms, or reformatories in the State, so far as is practicable, cause all the prisoners in such institutions who are physically capable thereof to be employed at useful labor. (1917, c. 286, s. 3; 1925, c. 163.)

See note under section 7703.

Editor's Note.—By Public Laws 1925 a former provision for a ten hour day in the prison and nine hour day when hired to persons or corporations, Sundays and public holidays excepted, was omitted.

§ 7727. Prisoners examined for assignment to work.—Each prisoner committed to the charge of the board of directors of the State Prison Department shall be carefully examined by a competent physician in order to determine his physical and mental condition, and his assignment to labor and the work he is required to do shall be dependent upon the report of said physician as to his physical and mental capacity. (1917, c. 286, s. 22; 1925, c. 163.)

See note under section 7703.

Editor's Note.—This section and sections 7728, 7729, 7730, 7731, 7732, 7733, and 7734 were reenacted without material change by Public Laws 1925. Except in the use of "State Prison Department" where formerly "board" was used these sections are copied almost verbatim.

§ 7728. Whipping or flogging prisoners.—It is unlawful for the board of directors of the State Prison to whip or flog, or have whipped or flogged, any prisoner committed to their charge until twenty-four hours after the report of the offense or disobedience, and only then in the presence of the prison physician or prison chaplain; and no prisoner other than those of the third class as defined in this article shall be whipped or flogged at any time. (1917, c. 286, s. 7; 1925, c. 163.)

See note under section 7703.

As to control of county convicts, see section 1361.

Editor's Note.—In State v. Nipper, 166 N. C. 272, 81 S. E. 164 decided in 1914 it was held that there was no law which allowed flogging of convicts to enforce discipline, and its infliction was contrary to law. Clark, C. J., in writing the opinion discusses prison conditions in other countries and how most of them have abolished flogging in all cases, where formerly they allowed it in the armies, navies, school and homes. Although it seemed that flogging had been a custom so well established in controlling prisons that the right to administer it had never been formerly questioned, there was no direct statute allowing it. The above section was enacted in 1917 and though the right and power to punish by flogging is guarded and limited it shows that the legislature still leaves flogging power in the guards as means of control, and enforcing discipline.

Constitutionality.—Where a public-local law provides for whipping to be administered to convicts sentenced to work upon the roads as an extreme necessary means to enforce discipline, safeguarded in respect to its being humanely administered after due notice to the offender, under proper rules and regulations, with report to the commissioners of the county to which the local law applies, making it a misdemeanor for the one designated to do so brutally or without mercy: Held, the statute is not inhibited by any provision of our Constitution and is a valid enactment. Constitution, Art. XI, sec. 1. State v. Revis, 193 N. C. 192, 193, 136 S. E. 346. This case was quoted from in Oct. 1927 no. of Law Notes Vol. 31 No. 7, published by The Edward Thompson Co.

Excessive Punishment.—Where a guard is charged with an assault upon a convict, and it is shown that his superior officer instructed him to take the convict over the hill away from the rest of the prisoners and give him five or six licks for refractory conduct; but that the guard used a leather strap 2½ inches wide, 2½ feet long, and ¼ inch thick, upon the prisoner's bare back, with other prisoners holding his head, legs, and feet, in the presence of the "whole crowd," and administered "fifteen or twenty licks," it is held that the guard exceeded his authority, and the punishment inflicted was excessive and unnecessarily humiliating. State v. Mincher, 172 N. C. 895, 896, 90 S. E. 429.

§ 7729. Prisoner's supplies and clothes to be marked.—The prisoner's number shall be used for marking all clothes, bedclothing, beds, and other supplies used by prisoners, so that when such clothes, bedclothing, and supplies are washed and cleaned they shall be always returned for the use of the same prisoner. (1917, c. 286, s. 9; 1925, c. 163.)

§ 7730. Uniform for prisoners; felon's stripes.—It is the duty of the several judicial officers of the State, in assigning any person to work the public roads of any county, to designate in each judgment that such as may be convicted of a felony shall wear felon's stripes, and such as are convicted of a misdemeanor shall not wear felon's stripes. In order to carry into effect the provisions of this section, the State Prison Board shall prescribe a uniform to be worn by persons convicted of felony, and a uniform to be worn by persons convicted of a misdemeanor which shall be different and easily distinguished from the uniform of the felon; but the board of directors of the State Prison Department or other governing authority may in their discretion allow prisoners sentenced for misdemeanor only to wear clothes similar to that worn by the ordinary citizen. The board of commissioners of the respective counties in which convicts are worked on the public roads shall provide uniforms of each kind, except in those cases exempted in this section. (1911, c. 64, ss. 1, 2, 3; 1925, c. 163.)

See note under section 7703.

See notes to following section.

§ 7731. Violation as to work in felon's uniform; officer liable.—It shall be unlawful to work persons convicted of a felony in other than the uniform of a felon, or to clothe a person convicted of a misdemeanor in the uniform of a felon. Any superintendent of convicts or other persons in authority who shall violate this law shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and fined or imprisoned, or both, in the discretion of the court; and, moreover, be liable in damage to the party aggrieved, to be recovered in a civil action, which may be brought in either the county from which the party was sentenced or the county in which the wrong was done. (1911, c. 64, ss. 4, 5; 1925, c. 163.)

Purpose and Result of Section.—One of the intentions of the Legislature in enacting secs. 7730, 7731, requiring a district difference in dress between those convicted of a felony and misdemeanants, was to apprise the guard over them of this difference, and where the guard has unlawfully killed one in the latter class while endeavoring to escape, he may not avoid the consequences of his act upon the ground that he could not tell for which offense the prisoner had been sentenced. Holloway v. Moser, 193 N. C. 185, 136 S. E. 375.

Judge Must Designate Offense.—It is necessary that the judge imposing the sentence designate in the judgment whether the person was convicted of a felony or misdemeanor, or the kind of clothes the convict should wear; and where the judge has failed to do so, the one in charge of the person convicted is not indictable when the conviction is for manslaughter, though a well known felony, and the prisoner is not clothed in the garb required for one guilty of this offense. State v. Earnhardt, 170 N. C. 725, 86 S. E. 960.

Cited in State v. Nipper, 166 N. C. 272, 279, 81 S. E. 164.

§ 7732. Recreation and instruction of prisoners.—The board of directors of the State Prison Department is authorized and directed to arrange certain forms of recreation for the prisoners, and to arrange so that the prisoners during their leisure hours between work and time to retire shall have an opportunity to take part in games, and attend lectures, and take part in other forms of amusements as may be provided by the board. The board is also authorized to enable classes to be organized amongst the prisoners so that those who desire may receive instruction in various lines of educational pursuits. The board of directors shall utilize, where possible, the services of the prisoners who are sufficiently educated to act as instructors for such classes in education; such services, however, shall be voluntary on the part of the prisoner. The board of directors of the State Prison Department is further authorized and directed to make such arrangements as will be necessary so that religious services may be held for the prisoners on Sunday and at such other times as they may deem wise. The attendance of the prisoners at such religious services shall be voluntary. The provisions of this section shall apply to the State Prison Department, State Farms and State Camps. (1917, c. 286, s. 15; 1925, c. 163.)

See note under section 7703.

§ 7733. Use of intoxicants forbidden to employees.—No one addicted to the use of intoxicating liquors shall be employed as superintendent, warden, guard, or in any other position connected with the State Prison Department, where such position requires the incumbent thereof to have any charge or direction of the prisoners; and any one holding such position, or any one who may be employed in any other capacity in the State Prison Department, who shall come under the influence of intoxicating liquors, shall at once cease to be an employee of any of the institutions and shall not be eligible for reinstatement to such position or be employed in any other position in any of the institutions. Any superintendent, warden, guard, supervisor, or other person holding any position in the State Prison Department who curses a prisoner under his charge shall at once cease to be an employee of the institution and shall not be eligible for reinstatement. (1917, c. 286, s. 16; 1919, c. 80, s. 8; 1925, c. 163.)

See note under section 7703.

§ 7734. Correspondence of prisoners regulated.—The prisoners confined at any State Prison, State Farm, or State Camp who are in the first class or grade authorized by this article shall be allowed general correspondence privileges in so far as such correspondence does not interfere with the work and discipline of the prison, farm, or camp; prisoners who are in the second class or grade shall be allowed similar correspondence privileges, but somewhat more restricted than those in the third class or grade; and prisoners who are in the third class or grade shall only be allowed such correspondence privileges as may be deemed best by the superintendent. Any prisoner shall be permitted to write a letter to the Governor of the State at any time he desires, and such letter shall be mailed for him as other letters are mailed. (1917, c. 286, s. 17; 1925, c. 163.)

§ 7735. Divine services; Sunday school.—The board of directors is authorized to provide for divine service for the convicts each Sunday, if possible, and to secure the visits of some minister at the hospital to administer to the spiritual wants of the sick. (Rev., s. 5405; Code, s. 3446; 1873-4, c. 158, s. 18; 1883, c. 349; 1925, c. 163; 1925, c. 275, s. 6.)

See note under section 7703.

Editor's Note.—A former provision for five hundred dollars appropriation for administering to the spiritual wants of the sick, and fifty dollars for the Sunday school was omitted by the Public Laws 1925.

§ 7736. Religious instruction at Caledonia farm.—The board of directors of the State Prison Department is authorized and directed, in order to provide religious worship for the prisoners confined in the State's Prison, known as the Caledonia farm, to employ a resident minister of the gospel and to provide for his residence and support in such manner as the board may determine. (1915, c. 125, ss. 1, 2; 1925, c. 163.)

See note under section 7703.

Editor's Note.—This section was not materially changed by the reenactment, Public Laws 1925.

§ 7737. (Obsolete: Laws 1925, c. 163. See §§ 7749 et seq.)

§ 7738. Indeterminate sentence and discharge.—The various judges of the Superior Courts of North Carolina are authorized and directed, in their discretion, in sentencing prisoners to the State Prison, to pass upon such prisoner a minimum and maximum sentence, thus making the sentence of the prisoner an indeterminate sentence, and the board of directors of the State Prison Department is authorized and directed to consider at least once every six months the cases of such prisoners as have been committed to the State Prison with an indeterminate sentence, as to whether such prisoner is entitled to a discharge, and to take into consideration the prisoner's record since committed to the charge of the board of directors of the State Prison Department: Provided, that the prisoner has served the minimum time to which he was sentenced after the allowing credit for good behavior as authorized by law. (1917, c. 286, s. 19; 1925, c. 163.)

See note under section 7703.

Editor's Note. — This section and the following sections through section 7746 were not materially changed by the reenactment, Public Laws 1925.

Work on Public Roads.—This section applies only to the State Prison; it does not authorize an indeterminate sentence to work on the public roads. State v. Barnhardt, 194 N. C. 622, 140 S. E. 435.

Misdemeanors.—An indictment charging separately the unlawful manufacture of spirituous liquor, permitting the operation of a distillery on his land, the unlawful possession, and the unlawful manufacture after conviction for the same offense, charges only misdemeanors except as to the last count, and when there is no evidence as to the former conviction, a general verdict of guilty should be set aside as to this count, and a judgment imposing a maximum sentence is reversible error. State v. Barnhardt, 194 N. C. 622, 140 S. E. 435.

§ 7739. Application for pardon to include record.—Any application for the pardon of a prisoner committed to the discharge of the board of directors of the State Prison shall include a record of such prisoner since he was committed to the charge of the board; and in determining whether or not a parole or pardon shall be granted, consideration shall be given to the record of such prisoner; and the record of such prisoner shall be available to those making the application. (1917, c. 286, s. 20; 1925, c. 163.)

As to form and contents of application, see section 7642.

§ 7740. Prisoners of different races kept separate.—White and colored prisoners shall not be confined or shackled together in the same room of any building or tent, either in the State Prison or at any State or county convict camp, during the eating or sleeping hours, and at all other times the separation of the two races shall be as complete as practicable. Any officer or employee of either the State or any county in the State having charge of convicts or prisoners who shall violate or permit the violation of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined not more than fifty dollars or imprisoned not more than thirty days. (1909, c. 832, ss. 1, 2; 1917, c. 286, s. 24; 1925, c. 163.)

As to subsequent statute on this subject, see, § 7748(u).

§ 7741. Separation of youthful prisoners.—Youthful convicts shall be kept separate from old and hardened criminals in sleeping quarters. (1917, c. 286, s. 24; 1925, c. 163.)

As to subsequent statute on this subject, see § 7748(u).

§ 7742. Punshment for recaptured prisoners.—If a prisoner of the first or second class or grade attempts to escape or leaves the State Prison, State Farm, or State Camp without permission, he shall, upon being recaptured, be reduced to the third class or grade and shall permanently loose all his accumulated time and money; and the board of directors of the State Prison Department is authorized and directed to use every means possible to recapture any escaping or leaving without permission, any of the State Prisons, Camps, or Farms, regardless of expense. (Rev., s. 5407; Code, s. 3442; 1873-4, c. 158, s. 13; 1917, c. 286, s. 73; 1925, c. 163.)

See note under section 7703.

Time Convict is Free Not Counted.—Both on precedent and, by express provision of our statute, the time when he was wrongfully out of prison by reason of his escape is not to be counted. Clark v. Commonwealth, 62 Va. 777; State v. Finch, 177. N. C. 599, 603, 99 S. E. 409.

Pursuit by Officer.—Russel on Crimes, 586, the principle is given as follows: "It seems to be clearly agreed by all of the books that an officer, making fresh pursuit after a prisoner who has escaped through his negligence, may retake him at any time afterwards whether he find him in the same or a different county, and it is said generally in some books that an officer who has negligently suffered a prisoner to escape may retake him whenever he finds him without mentioning any fresh pursuit, and indeed, since the liberty gained by the prisoner is wholly owing to his own wrong there seems to be no reason why he should have any manner of advantage from it." State v. Finch, 177 N. C. 599, 606, 99 S. E. 409.

§ 7743. Recapture of escaping felons; reward.—It is the duty of the superintendent of the State Prison Department, when any person escapes from the State Prison Department who has been confined or placed to work, to immediately notify the Governor, and to accompany such notice with a full description of the escaped, together with such information as will be of service in the recapture. The Governor is authorized to offer such rewards as he may deem advisable and necessary for the recapture and return to the State Prison Department of any person who may escape or who heretofore has escaped therefrom. Such reward earned shall be paid by the Treasurer of the State upon the warrant of the Governor and charged to the penitentiary board, and by said board to be repaid to the State Treasurer, and accounted for as a part of the expense of maintaining the State's prisoners. (1917, c. 236; 1925, c. 163.)

See note under section 7703.

As to subsequent statute on this subject, see § 7748(q).

§ 7744. Copy of this article supplied to prisoners.—This article shall be printed in pamplet form and each prisoner committed to the charge of the board of directors of the State Prison Department shall be supplied with a copy, and its contents shall be explained to him at the time he is brought to the State Prison. (1917, c. 286, s. 21; 1925, c. 163.)

See note under section 7703.

§ 7745. Overseers and guards may maintain discipline.—When a convict or several combined shall offer violence to any officer, overseer or guard, or to any convict, or attempt to do any injury to the prison building or the workshops, or shall attempt to escape, or shall resist, or disobey any lawful command, the officer, overseer, or guard shall use any means necessary to defend himself, to enforce the observance of discipline, to secure the person of the offender and to prevent an escape. (Rev., s. 5408; Code, s. 3443; 1873-4, c. 158, s. 14; 1925, c. 163.)

As to power to flog, see section 7728; as to furnishing convicts with arms and liquor, see sections 4508, 4406.

Killing Misdemeanants.—The superintendent of a convict gang, not known to be an officer, has no right to shoot or kill one who, having committed petty larceny and having escaped from prison, is running away to avoid arrest. State v. Stancill, 128 N. C. 606, 38 S. E. 926.

The court in discussing the liability of a guard for killing a misdemeanant after citing this section says; "Under this enactment it is no doubt the law that a guard or overseer of penitentiary convicts would be justified in using any means necessary to prevent an escape, even to the taking of the convict's life, if need be. Jackson v. State, 76 Ga. 743, 30 C. J., 42. But this statute, we apprehend, was intended to apply only to the management of convicts who are felons, or who have been sentenced to the State prison—all of whom are felons, section 4171—and has no application to the discipline of misdemeanants who have been sentenced to the county roads." Holloway v. Moser, 193 N. C. 185, 136 S. E. 375.

§ 7746. Death of convict investigated by directors.—It shall be the duty of the board of directors, or some member thereof, upon information of the death of a convict other than by natural causes, to investigate the cause thereof and report the result of such investigation to the Governor, and for his purpose the board of directors, or any member thereof, shall have power to administer oaths, and send for persons and papers. (Rev., s. 5409; 1885, c. 379, s. 2; 1925, c. 163.)

See note under section 7703.

§ 7747. Convict furnished transportation.—The Superintendent of the State Prison Department shall furnish to every convict, upon the expiration of his sentence, such transportation and such other money, or property, as may be prescribed by the rules and regulations of the board of directors adopted pursuant to the provisions of section seven thousand seven hundred and twenty-five of the Consolidated Statutes. (Rev., s. 5404; 1893, c. 370; 1925, c. 163.)

See note under section 7703.

As to subsequent statute on this subject, see § 7757(20).

§ 7748. Children born in state prison department.—Any child born of a female convict while she is in the custody of the State Prison Department that shall not be taken in charge upon arrival at an age suitable to be separate from the mother by some of its kindred or other responsible party, shall, on the application of the deputy warden to the clerk of the Superior Court of the county of Wake, be disposed of as the law provides in the case of children whose parents are dead or unable to provide for them. (Rev., s. 5406; Code, s. 3447; 1873-4, c. 158, s. 19; 1925, c. 163.)

See note under section 7703.

As to subsequent statute on this subject, see § 7748(x).

Art. 3A. Labor on Roads

§ 7748(a). Intent of State to maintain public roads with prison labor.—It is hereby declared to be the public policy of this state to build and maintain a state system of dependable highways and to maintain and improve the public roads in the several counties at the state's expense; and to that end to make the most economical use of the prison labor of the state in the construction, improvement and maintenance of said highways and roads. (1933, c. 172, s. 1.)

For review of this section and those following, see 11 N. C. Law Rev., 252.

§ 7748(b). State highway and public works commission created.—A highway and public works commission is hereby created, to be and continue a department of the state government and to be known as "state highway and public works commission." Said commission shall consist of a chairman and six (6) members, the chairman and three of said commissioners shall be appointed by the governor for a term of four years and three of said commissioners shall be appointed for a term of two years, and until their successors are appointed and qualified: Provided, that the chairman, or any commissioner, appointed pursuant to this article may be removed by the governor for cause. In case of the death, resignation or removal from office of said chairman or any commissioner prior to the expiration of his term of office, his successor shall be appointed by the governor to fill out the unexpired term. At the expiration of the term for which said chairman and commissioners are first appointed, their successors shall be appointed for a term of four (4) years each. The chairman shall devote his entire time and attention to the work of the commission, and shall receive as compensation not exceeding six thousand ($6,000.00) dollars per annum, to be fixed by the governor and advisory budget commission, payable monthly, and his actual traveling expenses when engaged in the discharge of his duties. Said chairman shall be vested with all authority of the commission when same is not in session, and shall be the executive officer of said commission, and shall execute all orders, rules and regulations established by said commission. The members of said commission, other than the chairman, shall each receive seven ($7.00) dollars per day while engaged in the discharge of the duties of his office, and his actual traveling expenses. The governor and the state treasurer shall be privileged to attend any and all meetings of said commission in an advisory capacity, but they shall not have the authority to vote upon any question before said commission. The headquarters and main office of said commission shall be located at the state capital, Raleigh. The first meeting of said commission shall be called by the governor, and at said meeting the commission shall organize and adopt a common seal, and shall automatically succeed to all the rights, powers, duties and obligations of the present state highway commission and of the present state prison department. Said commission shall keep minutes of all of its meetings, which shall at all times be open to public inspection; it shall have the power to adopt and enforce rules and regulations for the government of its meetings and proceedings, and for the transaction of all business of the commission; and to make all necessary rules and regulations for carrying out the intent and purposes of this article, and the duties and powers heretofore conferred by law upon the state highway commission and the state prison department. Said commission shall meet at its main office at least once in each ninety days, or at such regular time as the commission may by rule provide, and may hold special meetings at any time and place within the state at the call of the chairman, or the governor, or any three members of the commission. It is the intent and purpose of this article that all of said commissioners and the chairman shall represent the state at large and not be representative of any particular district. The commission may, with the approval of the governor, designate a member of the commission or some other suitable person as acting chairman and confer upon the said acting chairman all authority of the chairman, or such restricted authority as the commission may by resolution determine to be exercised, in the event the chairman, on account of absence from the State, illness, or other cause, may be unable temporarily to discharge the duties of his office. (1933, c. 172, s. 2; 1935, c. 257, s. 1.)

Editor's Note.—The amendment of 1935 added the last sentence to the section.

§ 7748(c). Surrender of highway and prison property to new commission. — It shall be the duty of the superintendent of the state's prison and the directors of the present state prison department, and of the chairman and commissioners of the present state highway commission, to turn over and to deliver to state highway and public works commission, created by this article, immediately upon its organization, all of their respective books, accounts, records and property of every kind and description; and to facilitate the transfer of said books, records, accounts and property state highway and public works commission is authorized and empowered to adopt and enforce such rules and regulations as it may deem necessary. (1933, c. 172, s. 3.)

§ 7748(d). Control of prison property to new commission.—The control and custody of all state highway prison camps, together with all property of every kind assigned thereto, the central prison at Raleigh, and all farms, camps and places of whatever kind now under the control of the state prison department, together with all property of every kind and description, together with all books, accounts and records, shall pass to the control and management of state highway and public works commission herein created; and it shall be the duty of every person connected with either the state highway commission or the state prison department in any wise exercising any control or authority over said property to relinquish said control to the duly appointed agents of said commission. (1933, c. 172, s. 4.)

§ 7748(e). Control and custody of prisoners.— The control and custody of all prisoners serving sentence either in the state's prison or in the prison camps now under the control of the state highway commission shall pass under the control of state highway and public works commission, herein provided for, and subject to all the rules and regulations of said commission legally adopted. The authorized agents of the commission shall have all the authority of peace officers for the purpose of transferring prisoners from place to place in the State as their duties might require for apprehending, arresting, and returning to prison escaped prisoners, and may be commissioned by the governor, either generally or specially, as special officers for returning escaped prisoners or other fugitives from justice from outside the State, when such persons have been extradited or voluntarily surrendered. (1933, c. 172, s. 5; 1935, c. 257, s. 2.)

Editor's Note.—The amendment of 1935 added the last sentence of the section.

§ 7748(f). Prisoners previously sentenced. — Any prisoners in any of the jails of the several counties, or out on bail, or who have escaped custody and are thereafter captured, who have been previously sentenced by any court of competent jurisdiction to serve a term either in the state's prison or in a common jail to be assigned to work on the public roads, shall thereafter, with proper commitments, be delivered to state highway and public works commission herein created at such place as their respective sentences may require, according to the terms of this article. (1933, c. 172, s. 6.)

§ 7748(g). Sentencing of prisoners to central prison.—The several judges of the superior courts of this state are hereby given express authority in passing sentence upon persons convicted of a felony, when, in their opinion, the nature of the offence or the character or condition of the defendant makes it advisable to do so, to sentence such person to the central prison at Raleigh, and thereupon a sheriff or other appropriate officer of the county shall cause such prisoner to be delivered with the proper commitment papers to the warden of the central prison. (1933, c. 172, s. 7.)

§ 7748(h). Sentencing to public roads.—In all cases not provided for in the preceding sections, the courts sentencing defendants to imprisonment with hard labor shall sentence such prisoners to jail, to be assigned to work under state highway and public works commission, and the clerks of the several courts in which such sentences are pronounced shall notify the superintendent of the nearest highway prison camp, or such other agent of the commission as he may be advised by them is the proper person to receive such notice. Whereupon, the commission shall cause some duly authorized agent thereof to take such prisoners into custody, with the proper commitments therefor, and deliver them to such camp or station as the proper authorities of the commission shall designate: Provided, however, the commission shall not be required to accept any prisoner from any court inferior to the superior court when an appeal has been taken to the superior court, or when the judge of such inferior court shall retain control over the sentence for the purpose of modifying or changing the same. (1933, c. 172, s. 8.)

§ 7748(i). Existing prison and highway departments abolished. — State prison department and the present state highway commission are hereby abolished, but each shall continue in operation as heretofore provided by law until the governor, by executive order, declares state highway and public works commission organized as provided by this article and ready to function. (1933, c. 172, s. 9.)

§ 7748(j). Oath of office of new commission members.—Before entering upon the performance of their duties, the chairman and each member of state highway and public works commission shall take and subscribe to oath of office before some person authorized to administer oaths that he will faithfully support the constitution of the state of North Carolina and all laws enacted pursuant thereto and not inconsistent therewith, and that he will faithfully perform the duties of said office.

Said oath shall be filed and preserved by the commission as a part of its permanent records. No member of the highway and public works commission shall be eligible to any other employment in connection with said commission, and no member of said commission, or any salaried employee thereof, shall furnish or sell any supplies or materials, directly or indirectly, to said commission. (1933, c. 172, s. 10.)

§ 7748(k). Annual reports to governor.—State highway and public works commission shall make to the budget bureau, or to the governor, a full report of its finances and the physical condition of the state's prison, prison camps, and other buildings, depots and properties under its supervision and control, on the first day of July of each year, and at such other times as the governor or directors of the budget may call for the same. (1933, c. 172. s. 11.)

§ 7748(l). Central prison at Raleigh retained; warden to be named; powers and duties; gainful employment of prisoners intended.—It is intended and directed that provisions shall be made under the provisions of this article for the maintenance of the central prison at Raleigh in such manner as to conform to all of the requirements of the constitution, article eleven, relating to a state's prison, and that a suitable person shall be selected and appointed, under the terms of this act, as a warden of said central prison, and such warden shall succeed to and be invested with all the rights, duties, and powers now invested by law in the superintendent of the state's prison or the warden thereof with respect to capital punishment, or any matter of discipline of the inmates of said prison not herein otherwise provided for.

It is further declared to be the intent and purpose of this act to provide for the gainful employment of all able-bodied prisoners of the state; and to this end state highway and public works commission is directed to provide for the employment in the maintenance and construction of the public roads of the state of as many of the male prisoners as, under the terms of their sentences, may be thus employed and who are physically fit for such work, the commission can arrange economically to use for such purpose, and that the remainder of the inmates of such prison division shall be employed as far as practicable, with due regard to their physical condition, in agriculture, prison industries, and forestry work, giving preference to the production of food supplies and necessary articles of use in state highway department and other state supported institutions or activities, and the development and improvement of state-owned properties. (1933, c. 172, s. 14.)

§ 7748(m). Chapter 2, Pubilc Laws 1921, amended.—Chapter two, public laws of 1921, and all acts amendatory thereof and additional thereto relating to the state highway system and the state highway commission, and not expressly repealed by this article, are hereby amended conformably to this article, so that wherever in said laws reference is made to "state highway commission," "highway commission," "chairman of the state highway commission," there shall be substituted for such words the appropriate terms "highway and public works commission" or "chairman of state highway and public works commission" as the context may require to the end that state highway and public works commission and the chairman of state highway and public works commission shall have and exercise all the powers and duties heretofore conferred by law upon the state highway commission or the chairman of the state highway commission. (1933, c. 172, s. 17.)

§ 7748(n). Consolidated statutes ch. 130, likewise amended.—Chapter one hundred thirty of the consolidated statutes relating to the state's prison and/or state's prison department, and all acts amendatory thereof and additional thereto and not expressly repealed by this article, are hereby amended so that wherever, in said laws, reference is made to "the state prison department," "prison department," "superintendent of state's prison," "superintendent of prison department," "board of directors," "directors of the state's prison," "directors of the prison department," there shall be substituted for such words the appropriate terms "highway and public works commission," "chairman of state highway and public works commission" as the context may require, to the end that state highway and public works commission and the chairman of state highway and public works commission shall have and exercise all the powers and duties heretofore conferred by law upon the state prison department and the board of directors of the state prison department and the superintendent of the state prison department. (1933, c. 172, s. 18.)

§ 7748(o). Additional prison camps authorized.—In addition to the highway prison camps now operated by the state highway commission and the farms now operated by the state's prison, the commission is hereby authorized to establish such additional camps for use for the division of prisons as are necessary, such camps to be either of a permanent type of construction, or of temporary or movable type as the commission may find most advantageous to the particular needs, to the end that work to be done by the prisoners under its supervision may be so distributed throughout the state as to render their employment most economical and profitable, the said commission to be the sole judges of the type and character of such buildings without the control of any other department. To this end, and for this purpose state highway and public works commission shall have authority to purchase or lease camp sites and suitable lands adjacent thereto, and to erect necessary buildings thereon, all within the limits of allotments as approved from time to time by the budget bureau for this purpose. (1933, c. 172, s. 19.)

§ 7748(p). Nineteen hundred and twenty seven bond issue directed to providing needed prison facilities.—In order to provide for the necessary employment of the prisoners under the control of the division of prisons the proceeds of the four hundred thousand dollars bond issue authorized by chapter one hundred and fifty-two (152) of the public laws of 1927, and amendments thereto, shall be made available from time to time in such allotments as the governor and advisory budget bureau may authorize for use by state highway and public works commission in providing for the purchase or lease of additional lands the erection of additional buildings, or the remodeling of existing buildings, and for the establishment and installation of industries suitable for prison employment, and the proper stocking and equipment of prison farms, and the establishments of plants for storage, and/or processing of supplies and farm products for use in the state's several institutions, and for the production of agricultural lime, with the right to sell the surplus either directly or through the department of agriculture to the farmers of the state. (1933, c. 172, s. 20.)

§ 7748(q). Recapture of escaped prisoners. — State highway and public works commission may, in the rules and regulations to be adopted by it, provide for the recapture of convicts that may escape, or any convicts that may have prior to the effect of this article escaped from the state's prison or highway prison camps, or county road camps of this state, and may pay such reward or expense of recapture as the commission may by regulation provide to any person making the same. Any citizen of North Carolina shall have authority to apprehend any convict who may escape before the expiration of his term of imprisonment whether he be guilty of a felony or misdemeanor, and retain him in custody and deliver him to the division of prisons. (1933, c. 172, s. 21.)

§ 7748(r). Sanitary and health conditions supervised by board of health.—The state board of health shall have general supervision over the sanitary and health conditions of the central prison, over the prison camps, or other places of confinement of prisoners under the jurisdiction of the division of prisons and shall make periodic examinations of same and report to the commission the conditions found there with respect to the sanitary and hygienic care of such prisoners. (1933, c. 172, s. 22.)

§ 7748(s). Grading prisoners. — State highway and public works commission in the adoption of rules and regulations hereinbefore provided for shall provide for the classification of prisoners according to conduct into at least three classes known and designated as "A," "B" and "C" grade prisoners. The several classes of prisoners may be designated by appropriate and distinguishing uniforms, but no person not convicted of a felony shall be required to wear a uniform of stripes such as are usually used to designate felons. A system of rewards and privileges applicable to the several classifications of prisoners as an inducement to good conduct may be adopted, and the commutation of time within the maximum limits of the provisions now provided by law in consolidated statutes 7725 may be included in said rules and regulations. (1933, c. 172, s. 23.)

As to subsequent statute on this subject, see § 7757(17).

§ 7748(t). Indeterminate sentences.—The several judges of the superior court are authorized in their discretion in sentencing prisoners for a term in excess of twelve months to provide for a minimum and maximum sentence, and the commission is authorized to consider at least once in every six (6) months the cases of such prisoners that have thus been committed with indeterminate sentences, and to take into consideration the prisoners' conduct, and to authorize his discharge at any time after the service of the minimum term subject to his earned allowance for good behavior which his conduct may justify. (1933, c. 172, s. 24.)

§ 7748(u). Segregation as to race, sex and age. —The commission shall provide separate sleeping quarters and separate eating space for the different races and the different sexes; and, in so far as it is practical to do so, shall provide for youthful convicts to segregate to themselves. (1933, c. 172, s. 25.)

§ 7748(v). Penalty for escaping or assisting in. —Any prisoner who escapes or attempts to escape, or in any manner connives, aids or assists in helping other persons to escape or attempt to escape shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be imprisoned at the discretion of the court, such term of imprisonment to commence at the termination of the sentence being served at the time of the offense, and such offending prisoner shall likewise forfeit all gained time that he has earned by previous good conduct. (1933, c. 172, s. 26.)

§ 7748(w). Degree of protection against violence allowed.—When any prisoner, or several combined shall offer violence to any officer, overseer, or guard, or to any fellow prisoner, or attempt to do any injury to the prison building, or to any workshop, or other equipment, or shall attempt to escape, or shall resist, or disobey any lawful command, the officer, overseer, or guard shall use any means necessary to defend himself, or to enforce the observance of discipline, or to secure the person of the offender, and to prevent an escape. (1933, c. 172, s. 27.)

§ 7748(x). Disposition of child born of female prisoner.—Any child born of a female convict while she is in custody shall upon the arrival of a suitable age be surrendered to the clerk of the superior court of Wake county for disposition as the law provides in the case of children whose parents are dead or unable to provide for them. (1933, c. 172, s. 28.)

§ 7748(y). Parole powers of governor unaffected. — But nothing herein contained shall be construed to limit or restrict the power of the governor to parole prisoners under such conditions as he may himself impose or prevent the reimprisonment of such prisoners upon the violation of the conditions of such parole, as now provided by law. (1933, c. 172, s. 29.)

As to subsequent statute on this subject, see § 7757(21).

§ 7748(z). Prison labor furnished other state agencies.—State highway and public works commission may furnish to any of the other state departments, state institutions, or agencies, upon such conditions as may be agreed upon from time to time between the commission and the governing authorities of such department, institution or agency, prison labor for carrying on any work where it is practical and desirable to use prison labor in the furtherance of the purposes of any state department, institution or agency, and such other employment as is now provided by law for inmates of the state's prison under the provisions of consolidated statutes 7707: Provided that such prisoners shall at all times be under the custody and controlled by the duly authorized agent of such commission. (1933, c. 172, s. 30.)

§ 7748(aa). Power of sentencing prisoners to work on county property unaffected.—But nothing contained in this act shall be construed to prevent the courts of appropriate jurisdiction from sentencing prisoners to the county jail to be assigned to work at the county home, at the county farm or other county supported institution, and the commission may in its discretion provide prison labor upon terms and conditions agreed upon from time to time for doing specific tasks of work for the several county homes, county farms, or other county owned properties, but prisoners assigned to such work shall be at all times under the control and custody of a duly authorized agent or agents of the division of prisons. (1933, c. 172, s. 31.)

§ 7748(bb). Purpose of act as to consolidation, explained.—It is hereby declared to be the purpose of this article to effect a consolidation of the present state prison department and the present state highway commission into a single department to be known as state highway and public works commission, and this article and all laws heretofore enacted relating to the state prison department and/or to the state highway commission, and not expressly repealed by this article shall be liberally construed so as to confer upon state highway and public works commission all the powers, duties and responsibilities heretofore exercised by or conferred upon the state prison department and/or the state highway commission. All laws inconsistent and in conflict with the purpose of this article are hereby repealed. (1933, c. 172, s. 32.)

§ 7748(cc). Prison indebtedness not assumed by highway commission.—Nothing in this article shall be construed to permit the state highway commission to assume or pay off any part of the present deficit of the state prison, nor to convert or use any part of the funds derived from the sale of the four hundred thousand ($400,000.00) dollar prison building bonds except in accordance with the provisions of section 7748(p) both of which are expressly prohibited by this article. (1933, c. 172, s. 33.)

Art. 4. Paroles

§ 7749. Governor may parole.—The Governor may and it shall be his duty to parole such of the convicts in the State Prison Department as may be in his opinion necessary or useful in the upkeep of the State buildings and grounds in Raleigh, and for such other work in connection with any activities in which the State, its departments, or institutions may be engaged, with full power and authority to place such convicts under custody of any person, or persons designated by the Governor, and to cause such convicts to be managed and controlled under his direction, and to be returned to the State Prison at such times as he may direct, and to make such regulations, or arrangements by which the State Prison Department shall be properly compensated for the labor of such convicts so used. (1925, c. 163.)

As to subsequent statutes on this subject, see § 7757(1) et seq.

§ 7750. Record of conduct of prisoners.—It is the duty of the superintendent of the State Prison Department and superintendents of county chain gangs or road forces, under rules and regulations to be made and promulgated by the board of directors of the State Prison Department, to keep a record of the conduct and demeanor of all prisoners held in the State Prison Department and on county chain gangs. (1917, c. 278, s. 2; 1919, c. 191, s. 2; 1925, c. 163.)

§§ 7751-7753. (Obsolete: Laws 1925, c. 163.)

§ 7754. No female prison work on streets or roads.—Nothing in this article shall be held or construed to permit the working or hiring of female convicts for work upon any street, road or highway. (1925, c. 163.)

As to subsequent statute on this subject, see § 7716.

§ 7755. Reimprisonment. — If the Governor shall order the reimprisonment of any person discharged on parole, he may issue his order directly to the sheriff of any county in the State, directing the arrest of such person and his return by such officer to the State Prison Department, the expense of which shall be paid by the State Treasurer upon a warrant issued by the State Auditor on an order made by the superintendent of the State Prison Department. (1917, c. 278, s. 7; 1925, c. 163.)

§ 7756. No deduction of time.—If any such person be reimprisoned by order of the Governor for violation of the conditions of his parole, the time such person has been out on parole shall not be deducted from the term of imprisonment to which he was originally sentenced by the court, but the time of his imprisonment shall be understood as continuing from the time he was discharged on his parole. (1917, c. 278, s. 8; 1925, c. 163.)

§ 7757. No impairment of Governor's powers.—Nothing herein is to be taken as in any way attempting to interfere with, or regulate the power of the Governor to grant reprieves, commutations, and pardons and paroles. (1917, c. 278, s. 9; 1925, c. 163.)

As to subsequent statutes on this subject, see §§ 7748(y) and 7757(21).

§ 7757(a). Governor empowered to set up new parole system.—The governor of North Carolina is hereby authorized and empowered to set up rules and regulations according to which he will hear applications for pardons, reprieves, and commutations or by which such proceedings may be initiated. He may designate some one as commissioner of parole who shall, under his direction, aid him in more fully performing all the duties required of him in examining, hearing, sorting and arranging such material as is presented in connection with this article and to do such other service as the governor may assign him. Such person shall be paid a salary, to be fixed by the governor, of not more than four thousand and five hundred dollars per annum, with reasonable clerical assistance, and shall serve at the will of the governor. (1933, c. 111, s. 1; 1935, c. 275, s. 1.)

See 11 N. C. Law Rev., 250.

Editor's Note.—Prior to the amendment of 1935 the section provided for a salary of not more than three thousand dollars.

§ 7757(b). Method of paroling prisoners.—Such rules and regulations shall include a system of parole whereby prisoners who have served a reasonable part of their sentences and have shown their worthiness of such consideration may be allowed to complete their terms outside the custody of the prison or prison camps, and without expense thereto, but under supervision and in accordance with conditions set forth in their parole. And such conditions shall include one whereby the released person may be immediately retaken and returned to prison in case of his willful violation of the conditions under which he has been paroled, and be required to complete his original term. (1933, c. 111, s. 2.)

§ 7757(c). Appointment of parole supervisors.—For the purpose of exercising authority over paroled prisoners, to assist paroled prisoners or those about to be paroled to find and retain self-supporting means, to maintain contact with such prisoners to see that they observe the conditions of their parole and assist them in so doing, the governor is hereby authorized to require the support by the state prison and the state highway commission of not more than four competent parole supervisors, particularly adapted for such work, one to be selected by the commissioner of parole as soon as needed and the others when the number of paroled prisoners to be supervised requires their services. Such parole supervisors are to be designated by the governor from among personnel now maintained by the state prison and/or the highway commission, or are to replace a like number of the present personnel, and in no case are to be an addition to the number of persons now maintained by the said state prison and highway commission. Each of the said parole supervisors shall perform his duties under the sole direction of the governor. (1933, c. 111, s. 3.)

As to subsequent statute on this subject, see § 7757(5).

§ 7757(d). Case histories of prisoners provided for.—The governor is authorized and empowered to direct any employee of the state department of public welfare, the state prison, or the state highway commission, and any county superintendent of public welfare, to prepare and submit case histories or other information in connection with any case under consideration for parole, such work to be done without extra compensation and as a part of the regular duties of such employees or county superintendents. (1933, c. 111, s. 4.)

As to subsequent statute on this subject, see § 7757(7).

Art. 4A. Advisory Board of Paroles

§ 7757(1). Advisory board of paroles created; term of office; vacancy appointments. — The governor of North Carolina is hereby authorized and empowered to name an advisory board of paroles of six members, consisting of the attorney general, the chairman of the state highway and public works commission, the superintendent of public welfare, and three others, who are not state office holders and who are not connected officially with the state highway and public works commission, to be selected by the governor and to serve for the term of his appointment, and to perform such duties in the state prison program as may be assigned to them by the governor. The members of the board, other than ex-officio members, shall be appointed as follows: One for a term of one year, one for a term of two years, and one for a term of three years. Appointments to fill any and all vacancies shall be made by the governor. (1935, c. 414, s. 1.)

§ 7757(2). Board meetings; quorum; chairman and secretary; pay of members.—The board shall meet at the call of the governor at times and places designated by him. At said meetings three members shall constitute a quorum. The governor shall be chairman and the commissioner of paroles shall be secretary of the board. The governor and other ex-officio members may designate some other person to act for them at the meetings of the board. The members of the board, other than the ex-officio members, shall receive as compensation the sum of seven dollars per day and actual expenses while attending the meetings of the board, or while performing such other duties as may be assigned to them by the governor: Provided, however, the compensation may be raised to the sum of ten dollars per day by the governor at his discretion. (1935, c. 414, s. 1.)

§ 7757(3). Commissioner of paroles; assistants.—The governor of North Carolina is authorized and empowered to appoint a commissioner of paroles and one or more assistants to said commissioner as he may deem wise and expedient, who shall, under the governor's direction, aid the governor in more fully performing all of the duties required of him in the exercise of the powers contemplated herein, and to perform such other services as may be assigned by the governor. The parole commissioner shall be provided with reasonable clerical assistance, whose compensation shall be fixed in accordance with the provisions of section 7775(6). (1935, c. 414, s. 2.)

§ 7757(4). Investigators and investigations of cases of prisoners, prisons and prison camps. — For the purpose of investigating the cases of all prisoners serving both determinate and indeterminate sentences in the state prison, in prison camps, and on prison farms, the governor is hereby authorized and empowered to appoint an adequate staff of competent investigators, particularly qualified for such work, with such reasonable clerical assistance as may be required, who shall, under the governor's direction, investigate all cases designated by him, and otherwise aid the governor in passing upon the question of the parole of prisoners, to the end that every prisoner in the custodial care of the State may receive full, fair and just consideration. The governor may cause an investigation to be made by the said investigators of any prison, prison camp, prison farm, and/or any penal and correctional institution in the State when, in his judgment, the situation warrants an investigation. Each and every investigator provided for herein shall perform his duties under the sole direction of the governor. (1935, c. 414, s. 3.)

§ 7757(5). Parole supervisors provided for; duties.—The governor is hereby authorized to appoint a sufficient number of competent parole supervisors, who shall be particularly qualified for and adapted to the work required of them, and who shall, under the direction of the governor and under regulations prescribed by him exercise supervision and authority over paroled prisoners, assist paroled prisoners, and those who are to be paroled in finding and retaining self-supporting employment, and to promote rehabilitation work with paroled prisoners, to the end that they may become law abiding citizens. The supervisors shall also, under the direction of the governor, maintain frequent contacts with paroled prisoners and find out whether or not they are observing the conditions of their paroles, and assist them in every possible way toward compliance with the conditions of their paroles, and they shall perform such other duties in connection with paroled prisoners as the governor may require. The number of supervisors may be increased by the governor as and when the number of paroled prisoners to be supervised requires or justifies such increase. (1935, c. 414, s. 4.)

§ 7757(6). Pay and expenses of assistants, investigators and supervisors.—The salaries and expense allowances of all personnel appointed under sections 7757(3)-7757(5) shall be fixed by the governor with the approval of the advisory budget commission, and all such salaries and expenses, other than that of the parole commissioner, shall be paid by the state highway and public works commission upon vouchers approved by the commissioner of paroles. (1935, c. 414, s. 5.)

§ 7757(7). Preparation of case histories for commissioner of paroles. — The governor is authorized and empowered to direct any employees of the state department of public welfare, and of the state highway and public works commission, and any county superintendent of public welfare, and any member of the staff investigators provided for in this article to prepare and submit to the commissioner of paroles case histories or other information in connection with any case under consideration for parole, such work to be done without extra compensation and such work shall be considered as a part of the regular duties of such employees or superintendents of welfare. (1935, c. 414, s. 6.)

§ 7757(8). Rules and regulations for parole applications. — The governor of North Carolina is hereby authorized and empowered to set up and establish rules and regulations, in accordance with which applications for paroles may be heard and by which such proceedings may be initiated and heard. (1935, c. 414, s. 7.)

§ 7757(9). Time of eligibility of prisoners for hearing on applications.—All prisoners shall be eligible for a hearing on application for parole when they have served a fourth of their sentence, if their sentence is determinate, and a fourth of their minimum sentence, if their sentence is indeterminate: Provided, that any prisoner serving a sentence for life shall be eligible for such hearing when he has served ten years of his sentence. Nothing in this section shall be construed as making mandatory the release of any prisoner, but shall be construed only as guaranteeing to every prisoner a hearing of his case upon its merits. (1935, c. 414, s. 8.)

§ 7757(10). Duties of clerks of all courts as to commitments; statements filed with commissioner of paroles.—The several clerks of the superior courts and the clerks of all inferior courts shall attach to the commitment of each prisoner sentenced in such courts a statement furnishing such information as the governor shall by regulations prescribe, which information shall contain, among other things, the following: (1) The court in which the prisoner was tried; (2) the name of the prsioner and of all co-defendants; (3) the date or term when the prisoner was tried; (4) the offense with which the prisoner was charged and the offense for which convicted; (5) the judgment of the court and the date of the beginning of the sentence; (6) the name and address of the presiding judge; (7) the name and address of the prosecuting solicitor; (8) the name and address of private prosecuting attorney, if any; (9) the name and address of the arresting officer; and (10) all available information of the previous criminal record of the prisoner.

The prison authorities receiving the prisoner for the beginning of the service of sentence shall detach from the commitment the statement furnishing such information and forward it to the commissioner of paroles, together with any additional information in the possession of such prison authorities relating to the previous criminal record of such prisoner, and the information thus furnished shall constitute the foundation and file of the prisoner's case. Forms for furnishing the information required by this section shall, upon request, be furnished to the said clerks by the state highway and public works commission without charge. (1935, c. 414, s. 9.)

§ 7757(11). Time for release of prisoners discretionary.—The time of releasing each prisoner eligible for consideration for parole as provided for herein shall be discretionary, and due consideration shall be given to the reasonable probability that the prisoner will live and remain in liberty without violating the law; that the release of the prisoner is not incompatible with the welfare of society, and that the record of the prisoner during his confinement established that the prisoner is obedient to prison rules and regulations, and has shown the proper respect for prison officials, and due regard and consideration for his fellow prisoners; and that the prisoner harbors no resentment against society or the judge, prosecuting attorneys, or jury that convicted the prisoner. (1935, c. 414, s. 10.)

§ 7757(12). Contents of release order.—When a prisoner is released on parole, the parole instrument shall specify in writing the conditions of the parole, the place of residence of the parolee, within or without the State, the name and address of the party to whom the parolee is to report, and times and places when and where the said parolee shall report to the said party during the entire period of the parole. (1935, c. 414, s. 11.)

§ 7757(13). Automatic revocation of parole upon conviction of crime.—Upon the parolee's conviction and sentence to a term of imprisonment in any court of record in the State of North Carolina and/or in any other State, and/or in any federal court, the parole of the parolee shall become automatically revoked and the parolee, if without the State of North Carolina, shall become forthwith a fugitive from justice. (1935, c. 414, s. 12.)

§ 7757(14). Arrest powers of police officers. — Any officer who is authorized to make arrests of fugitives from justice shall have full authority and power to arrest any parolee whose parole has been revoked. (1935 c. 414, s. 13.)

§ 7757(15). Coöperation of prison officials; information to be furnished. — The warden of each prison and the superintendent of each camp and farm and all officers and employees thereof and all other public officials shall at all times coöperate with the governer and parole commissioner and shall furnish to them all information that may be requested from time to time that will assist them in performing their functions, and all such wardens and other employees shall at all times give to the governor and parole commissioner and his staff free access to all prisoners. (1935, c. 414, s. 14.)

§ 7757(16). Rules and regulations as to grades, allowance of time for good behavior, etc. — The state highway and public works commission is hereby granted full power and authority, with the approval of the governor, to make and promulgate rules and regulatons relating to grades of prisoners, allowances of time for their good behavior, the amount of cash, clothing, etc., to be awarded prisoners after their discharge or parole; and until such rules are so made and promulgated by the state highway and public works commission, with the approval of the governor, the regulations set out in sections 7757(17)-7757(20) shall be the regulations governing these matters. (1935, c. 414, s. 15.)

§ 7757(17). Three grades for prisoners established; good-time allowances.—All prisoners shall be divided into three grades, "A," "B," and "C"; that "A" grade shall be the highest grade. No prisoner shall be placed in this grade until after he has demonstrated by his conduct that he is obedient to prison rules and regulations, respectful to prison officers and employees, considerate of fellow prisoners, trustworthy, and will assist in preserving prison morale and discipline.

"B" grade shall be the second highest grade. No prisoner shall be placed in this grade until after he has demonstrated by his conduct that he is seeking to make a good prisoner and has proved obedient to all prison rules and regulations.

"C" grade is the third grade, and shall be the lowest grade. All prisoners shall be placed in this grade when they are first admitted to prison, and all prisoners under discipline shall be placed in this grade.

The good-time allowances shall be nine days per month for prisoners in "A" grade, and seven days per month for prisoners in "B" grade. Prisoners in "C" grade shall receive no good-time allowance.

Prisoners who have not been subject to discipline may have their good time computed in their highest grade from the date of their admission into prison. (1935, c. 414, s. 16.)

§ 7757(18). Double time allowances.—Every prisoner who works on Sunday or any of the legal holidays in the State of North Carolina shall earn double time allowance. (1935, c. 414, s. 17.)

§ 7757(19). "Governor's good time." — A grant of good time, to be known as the "governor's good time," shall be given to each prisoner at the end of each and every year of prison servitude as follows: To each and every prisoner in "A" grade forty-five days; to each and every prisoner in "B" grade thirty-five days: Provided, that no prisoner who has been disciplined during that year of prison servitude may receive the "governor's good time" grant. (1935, c. 414, s. 18.)

§ 7757(20). Money and other allowances for prisoners discharged; certificates of competency.—All prisoners upon being discharged, except short-term prisoners convicted of misdemeanors, paroled or pardoned from prison, shall be given a small sum of money, transportation to the place in North Carolina designated in parole or discharge papers, and sufficient clothing for neat and comfortable appearance. If any prisoner demonstrated during his prison service that he is competent or proficient in any gainful trade, he shall also be given upon his discharge, parole, or pardon a certificate of competency in such trade signed by the proper authorities. (1935, c. 414, s. 19.)

§ 7757(21). Pardon power of governor unimpaired. — Nothing herein contained shall be construed to impair the power of the governor of North Carolina in granting a pardon, conditional pardon, or commutation in any case or in any way to impair, limit, or revoke his constitutional power of pardon or commutation. (1935, c. 414, s. 20.)

§ 7757(22). Time of appointments by governor; board meetings. — The appointments provided herein to be made by the governor shall be made by the governor as soon as he conveniently can after this article takes effect. The board shall meet at the call of the governor at times and places designated by him. (1935, c. 414, s. 21.)

Art. 5. Farming out Convicts

§ 7758. Counties and towns may employ.—It shall be lawful for the board of commissioners of any county, and likewise for the corporate authorities of any city or town to contract, in writing, with the board of directors of the State Prison Department for the employment of convicts in the State Prison Department upon the highways or streets of such county, city or town, and such contracts when so exercised shall be valid and enforcible against such county, city or town, and in the name of the State the Attorney-General may prosecute an action in the Superior Court of Wake County for the enforcement thereof. (Rev., s. 5410; Code, s. 3449; 1881, c. 127, s. 1; 1925, c. 163.)

See note under section 7703.

§ 7759. Duty to hire to counties and towns.—Upon application to them, it shall be the duty of the board of directors of the State Prison Department, in their discretion, to hire to the board of commissioners of any county, and to the corporate authorities of any city, or town, for purposes specified in the preceding section, such convicts as may be mentally and physically capable of performing the work or labor contemplated and shall not at the time of such application be so hired, or otherwise engaged in labor under the direction of said board of directors; but the convicts hired for services under the preceding section shall be fed, clothed and quartered while so employed by the board of directors, or managers of the State Prison Department. (Rev., s. 5411; Code, s. 3450; 1881, c. 127, s. 2; 1925, c. 163.)

See note under section 7703.

§ 7760. Contract for hire; how enforced.—The board of commissioners of any county, the corporate authorities of any city or town, so hiring such convicts shall pay into the treasury of the State for the labor of any convict so hired such a sum or sums of money at such time, or times, as may be agreed upon in the contract of hire; and if any such county, city or town, fail to pay the State money due for such hiring, the same shall bear interest from the time it shall become due until paid at the rate of six per cent per annum; and an action to recover the same may be instituted by the Attorney-General in the name of the State in the courts of Wake County. (Rev., s. 5412; Code, s. 3451; 1881, c. 127, s. 3; 1925, c. 163.)

§ 7761. Counties to appoint superintendent.—The board of commissioners of any county and the corporate authorities of any city or town so hiring such convicts shall have power to appoint and remove at will all such necessary agents to superintend the construction or improvement of such highways and streets as they may deem proper, or to pay the costs and expenses incident to such hiring may levy taxes and raise money as in other respects. (Rev., s. 5413; Code, s. 3452; 1881, c. 127, s. 4; 1925, c. 163.)

§ 7762. Contracts for labor, or products of labor regulated.—The board of directors of the State Prison Department shall in the case of any and all contracts for labor provide under their direction and management for the feeding and clothing of such convicts by the State Prison Department and shall maintain, control, and guard the quarters in which such convicts live during the time of such contracts; and the said board shall provide for the guarding and working of such convicts under its sole supervision and control. The board of directors of the State Prison Department may make such contract for the hire of the convicts confined in the State Prison as may, in its discretion, be proper and will promote the purpose and duty to make the State Prison Department as nearly self-supporting as is consistent with the purpose of its creation, as set forth in section eleven, article eleven of the Constitution; and the said board of directors may engage in and use the labor of convicts confined in the State Prison Department in such work on farms, in manufacturing, either within or without the State Prison, as the board of directors may hereafter determine to be proper and profitable to be carried on by the State Prison Department; and the said board of directors may dispose of the products of the labor of said convicts either in farming, or in other industry at the State Prison or to or for any public institution owned, managed, or controlled by the State, to or for any county, city or town within this State; and may sell or dispose of the same elsewhere and in the open markets or otherwise, as in its discretion may seem profitable. (1917, c. 286, s. 2; 1919, c. 80, s. 1; 1925, c. 163.)

See note under section 7703.

§ 7763. To make state prison department self-supporting.—It is the purpose of this chapter to make the State Prison Department self-supporting as contemplated by the Constitution, and to that end the directors thereof are hereby authorized and empowered to employ the convicts therein in such form of work and to transfer such convicts from one form of work and employment to another when in the opinion of such board of directors such form of employment shall best serve the purpose.

It is further declared to be the State's policy in the conduct of the State Prison Department that convict labor shall be devoted primarily to State use, and to that end the board of directors of the State Prison Department shall as a primary purpose employ labor of such convicts in farming and in the production of such material as may be necessarily used by said State Prison Department and other institutions and departments, having due regard at all times to the promotion of the purpose set out in article eleven, of the Constitution. (1919, c. 10; 1925, c. 163.)

See note under section 7703.

Art. 5a. Prison Farms

§ 7763(a). Title.—This article shall be known and may be cited as "The Prison Farm Act of 1927." (1927, c. 152, s. 1.)

§ 7763(b). Acquisition of land.—Upon resolution of the majority of the Board of Directors of the State's Prison, approved by a majority of the Budget Advisory Commission and the Director of the Budget, the Board of Directors of the State Prison, by and with the consent and approval of the Governor and Council of State, are hereby authorized and empowered to purchase and take deed for in fee simple not exceeding 3000 acres of land suited for a prison farm, said acreage to include cleared and uncleared lands, and are further authorized by and with the consent and approval of the Governor and Council of State, to erect such buildings and make such improvements and purchase such equipment as may be necessary and proper for the use of said farm. (1927, c. 152, s. 2.)

See note under section 7703.

Editor's Note.—The appropriation under this section was reallocated for the purpose of making improvements on property already owned by the State Prison. See § 7763(n).

§ 7763(c). Bonds.—In order to acquire land for a farm and for buildings and equipment thereon to be used as a State Prison to confine convicts committed thereto by the courts of the State, the State Treasurer is hereby authorized and directed, at the request of the Board of Directors of the State Prison and by and with the consent of the Governor and Council of State, to issue and sell not exceeding four hundred thousand dollars ($400,000.00) in bonds of the State, properly designated and bearing such date or dates and such rate or rates of interest not exceeding five (5%) per cent per annum payable semi-annually as may be fixed by the Governor and Council of State, all of which bonds shall mature at one date in the year nineteen hundred and sixty-seven. (1927, c 152, s. 3.)

See note under section 7703.

§ 7763(d). Interest coupons; registration.—That said bonds shall carry interest coupons which shall bear the signature of the State Treasurer, or a facsimile thereof, and said bonds shall be subject to registration and be signed and sealed as is now or may hereafter be provided by law for state bonds, and the form and denomination thereof shall be such as the State Treasurer may determine in conformity with this article. (1927, c. 152, s. 4.)

§ 7763(e). Sale of bonds.—Before selling the bonds herein authorized to be issued, the State Treasurer shall advertise the sale and invite sealed bids in such manner as in his judgment may seem most effectual to secure the best price. He is authorized to accept bids for the entire amount of said bonds, or any portion thereof, and when the conditions are equal he shall give the preference of purchase to the citizens of North Carolina; and he is empowered to sell the bonds herein authorized in such manner as in his judgment will produce the best price, but not for less than par and accrued interest. (1927, c. 152, s. 5.)

§ 7763(f). Proceeds constitute special fund.—The proceeds of said bonds and of the bond anticipation notes herein authorized (except the proceeds of bonds, the issuance of which has been anticipated by such bond anticipation notes), shall be placed by the Treasurer in a special fund to be designated "Prison Building Fund 1927" and be disbursed only for the purposes of this act upon warrants drawn by the State Auditor. (1927, c 152, s. 6.)

§ 7763(g). Loans on anticipation notes.—By and with the consent of the Governor and Council of State, who shall determine the rate or maximum rate of interest and the date or approximate date of payment, the State Treasurer is hereby authorized to borrow money at the lowest rate of interest obtainable, and to execute and issue notes of the State for the same, but only in the following circumstances and under the following conditions:

(a) For anticipating the sale of any of said bonds to the issuance of which the Governor and Council of State shall have given consent, if the Treasurer shall deem it advisable to postpone the issuance of such bonds.

(b) For the payment of interest upon or principal of any of said bonds then outstanding if there shall not be sufficient funds in the State Treasury with which to pay such interest or principal as they respectively fall due.

(c) For the renewal of any loan evidenced by notes herein authorized. (1927, c. 152, s. 7.)

§ 7763(h). Payment of anticipation notes.—Funds derived from the sale of bonds shall be used in the payment of any bond anticipation notes that may have been issued in anticipation of the sale of such bonds and any renewal of such notes, and funds provided by the General Assembly for the payment of interest and/or principal of such bonds shall be used in paying the interest and/or principal of any notes or renewals thereof, the proceeds of which shall have been used in paying interest and/or principal of such bonds. Interest payments upon said notes may be evidenced by interest coupons in the Treasurer's discretion. (1927, c. 152, s. 8.)

§ 7763(i). Faith, credit and taxing power of state pledged.—The full faith, credit, and taxing power of the state are hereby pledged for the payment of the principal and interest of the bonds and notes herein authorized. (1927, c. 152, s. 9.)

§ 7763(j). Bonds, notes and coupons exempt from taxation.—All of said bonds and notes and coupons shall be exempt from all State, county and municipal taxation or assessments, direct or indirect, general or special, whether imposed for the purpose of general revenue or otherwise, and the interest on said bonds and notes shall not be subject to taxation as for income; nor shall said bonds or notes or coupons be subject to taxation when constituting a part of the surplus of any bank, trust company, or other corporation. (1927, c. 152, s. 11.)

§ 7763(k). Lawful investment for trust funds.—It shall be lawful for all executors, administrators, guardians, and fiduciaries, generally, and all sinking fund commissions, to invest any moneys in their hands in said bonds and notes. (1927, c. 152, s. 12.)

§ 7763(l). Sinking fund.—For the retirement of the principal of said bonds at maturity a sinking fund is hereby created, into which fund the State Treasurer shall pay during each fiscal year, beginning with the year ending June thirtieth, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine, from any funds not heretofore pledged or appropriated, an amount equal to one (1%) percent of the face value of the bonds theretofore issued under this article. (1927, c. 152, s. 13.)

§ 7763(m). Funds appropriated.—The proceeds of bonds or notes herein authorized as well as the unused balances from appropriations for permanent improvements heretofore made for the State's Prison, may be used for the purposes of this article. (1927, c. 152, s. 14.)

§ 7763(n). Appropriation reallocated for improvements on property now owned.—The appropriation of four hundred thousand ($400,000) dollars made to the State's Prison under chapter one hundred fifty-two, Public Laws of one thousand nine hundred twenty-seven [§§ 7763(a)-7763(m)], is reappropriated and reallocated for the purpose of carrying out the recommendations of the Prison Advisory Commission and for making improvements on property now owned by the State's Prison in lieu of the purposes stated and provided for in the said act of one thousand nine hundred twenty-seven, as follows:

(1) Erecting a prison building on the Cary farm or lands to be acquired contiguous to the Cary farm, and supplying the same with proper plumbing, heating and necessary equipment, providing a proper stockade and supplying tanks, wells and water system;

(2) Erecting the necessary buildings now owned or to be acquired by the State's Prison and installing therein ice making plant or plants and/or cold storage and packing plant or plants together with the necessary machinery;

(3) Erecting and installing canning plant or plants on property now owned or to be acquired by the State's Prison and installing the necessary machinery for the purpose of canning and preserving fruits and vegetables;

(4) Erecting a house or houses on property now owned or to be acquired by the State's Prison for the dry storage of potatoes, seeds, etc.;

(5) Erecting and equipping on property now owned, or to be acquired, by the State's Prison a new dairy barn, silos, poultry and swine houses, and adding to the present dairy barn on the Caledonia farm and acquiring additional cows, swine and poultry;

(6) Erecting on property now owned, or to be acquired, by the State's Prison proper buildings for vocational work among prisoners and supplying same with necessary tools and equipment for teaching shoe repairing and/or auto and tractor repairing and/or printing and/or tailoring, and/or woodworking, and/or blacksmith work, and/or plumbing, and/or electrical work, and/or painting, and/or masonry.

(7) The acquisition or purchase of such lands as shall be necessary for the proper provision for the erection and establishment of the improvements above enumerated: Provided, that the acquisition of such additional lands shall only be made with the approval of the Governor and the Prison Advisory Commission hereinafter established. (1931, c. 110, s. 1.)

§ 7763(o). Preparation of plans; expenditures.—The plans for the improvements provided for in section 7763(n) shall be prepared by the board of directors of the State's Prison, subject to the approval of the director of the budget and of the Prison Advisory Commission provided for in section 7763(q); and the expenditures for such improvements shall be made under the joint supervision of the board of directors of the State's Prison and of the said Prison Advisory Commission, subject to the approval of the director of the budget. (1931, c. 110, s. 2.)

§ 7763(p). Preference given among improvements if sum insufficient for all.—The board of directors of the State's Prison and the Prison Advisory Commission shall be vested with the discretion and power to give preference among the several items of improvements enumerated above in the event it shall be determined that the appropriation of the four hundred thousand dollars ($400,000) provided for these purposes under the provisions of section 7763(n) shall be insufficient to make all of such improvements. (1931, c. 110, s. 3.)

§ 7763(q). Appointment of Prison Advisory Commission by Governor. — Within sixty days after the ratification of this act the Governor shall appoint a Prison Advisory Commission composed of five members, to serve during the will of the Governor and until the duties imposed upon said Prison Advisory Commission under this act have been performed and discharged. The said Prison Advisory Commission shall be vested with all the rights and powers, and charged with all the duties imposed upon said commission under sections 7763(o) and 7763(p). (1931, c. 110, s. 4.)

Editor's Note.—The Act provided that this appointment should be within sixty days after the ratification, which was on March 13, 1931.

Art. 6. Reformatory

§ 7764. Directors may establish reformatory.—There may be established in connection with the North Carolina State Prison Department, under the control and direction of the board of directors of that institution, a reformatory either within the enclosure of the penitentiary or elsewhere as said board shall deem most practicable and economical, in which reformatory convicts under the age of eighteen years sentenced to the penitentiary shall be confined separate and apart from other convicts. (Rev., s. 5414; 1887, c. 356, s. 1; 1913, c. 72; 1925, c. 163.)

See note under section 7703.

§ 7765. May exempt from convict garb.—It shall be in the discretion of the board to exempt the convicts confined in the reformatory from the requirements of wearing the usual convict garb. (Rev., s. 5415; 1887, c. 356, s. 2; 1925, c. 163.)

See note under section 7703.

§ 7766. Not to apply to certain crimes.—Nothing in the two preceding sections shall apply to convicts sentenced for crimes of murder, arson, rape, or burglary. (Rev., s. 5416; 1887, c. 356, s. 3; 1925, c. 163.)

§ 7766(a). Supervision and visitation of the state prison department.—It shall be the duty of the State Board of Charities and Public Welfare to exercise a supervision over the State Prison Department, as contemplated by the Constitution, under proper rules and regulations; and that the rules and regulations be prescribed by the Governor. (1925, c. 163.)

See note under section 7703.

Art. 7. Bureau of Identification

§ 7766(b). Bureau established.—The State bureau to be entitled a Bureau of Identification be and the same is hereby established. (1925, c. 228, s. 1.)

§ 7766(c). Director.—A deputy warden of the State Prison is hereby designated as director of said bureau, who shall be a finger-print expert and familiar with other means of identifying criminals and who shall have complete control of said bureau within the limits hereinafter prescribed, said director to devote a sufficient portion of his time to the purposes of said bureau and shall maintain the principal offices of the same at the State Prison, and the said bureau with full equipment as herein provided for shall be established and maintained by the board of trustees of the penitentiary out of the general appropriation to the State Prison. (1925, c. 228, s. 2.)

§ 7766(d). Duty of bureau.—It shall be the duty of the said bureau of identification to receive and collect police information, to assist in locating, identifying, and keeping records of criminals in this State, and from other states, and to compare, classify, compile, publish, make available and disseminate any and all such information to the sheriffs, constables, police authorities, courts or any other officials of the State requiring such criminal identification, crime statistics and other information respecting crimes local and national, and to conduct surveys and studies for the purpose of determining so far as is possible the source of any criminal conspiracy crime wave, movement or coöperative action on the part of the criminals reporting such conditions and to coöperate with all officials in detecting and preventing. (1925, c. 228, s. 3.)

§ 7766(e). Henry system maintained. — The director is required to use and maintain the Henry system. (1925, c. 228, s. 4.)

§ 7766(f). Annual report. — The director of the bureau is directed to submit in his report for the fiscal year ending February first, nineteen hundred and twenty-six, and annually thereafter as a part of the report of the State Prison, a full account of all funds received and expenses to the Governor, and an estimate of what is necessary to carry out the provisions of this article. (1925, c. 228, s. 5.)

§ 7766(g). Finger prints taken.—Every chief of police and sheriff in the State of North Carolina is hereby required to take or cause to be taken on forms furnished by this bureau the finger prints of every person convicted of a felony, and to forward the same immediately by mail to the said bureau of identification. That the said officers are hereby required to take the finger prints of any other person when arrested for a crime when the same is deemed advisable by any chief of police or sheriff, and forward the same for record to the said bureau. (1925, c. 228, s. 6.)

Editor's Note.—The discretion given the police officials seem to be a fairly large discretion to leave in the hands of the average police official, when a person has merely been arrested. 3 N. C. Law Rev. 144.

§ 7766(h). Seal of bureau; certification of records.—The director shall provide a seal to be affixed to any paper, record, copy or form or true copy of any of the same in the files or records of said bureau of identification and when so certified under seal such record or copy shall be evidenced in any court of the State. (1925, c. 228, s. 7.)

§ 7766(i). Report of disposition of persons finger printed.—Every chief of police and sheriff shall advise said bureau of final disposition of all persons finger printed. (1925, c. 228, s. 8.)

CHAPTER 131

TAXATION

SUBCHAPTER I. LEVY OF TAXES (REVENUE ACT OF 1935)

§§ 7767-7780: Superseded by §§ 7880(1) et seq.

Editor's Note.—Public Laws of 1935, c. 23, expressly repealed section 7843 of the Consolidated Statutes relating to the promotion of stock raising.

Art. 1. Schedule A. Inheritance Tax

§ 7880(1). General provisions.—A tax shall be and is hereby imposed upon the transfer of any property, real or personal, or of any interest therein or income therefrom, in trust or otherwise, to persons or corporations, in the following cases:

First. When the transfer is by will or by the intestate laws of this State from any person dying, seized or possessed of the property while a resident of the State.

Second. When the transfer is by will or intestate laws of this or any other State of real property or of goods, wares and merchandise within this State, or of any property, real, personal, or mixed, tangible or intangible, over which the State of North Carolina has a taxing jurisdiction, including State and municipal bonds, and the decedent was a resident of the State at the time of death; when the transfer is of real property or tangible personal property within the State, or intangible personal property that has acquired a situs in this State, and the decedent was a non-resident of the State at the time of death.

Third. When the transfer of property made by a resident, or non-resident, is of real property within this State, or of goods, wares and merchandise within this State, or of any other property, real, personal, or mixed, tangible or intangible, over which the State of North Carolina has taxing jurisdiction, including State and municipal bonds, by deed, grant, bargain, sale, or gift made in contemplation of the death of the grantor, vendor, or donor, or intended to take effect in possession or enjoyment at or after such death, including a transfer under which the transferor has retained for his life or any period not ending before his death (a) the possession or enjoyment of, or the income from, the property or (b) the right to designate the persons who shall possess or enjoy the property or the income therefrom. Every transfer by deed, grant, bargain, sale, or gift, made within three years prior to the death of the grantor, vendor, or donor, exceeding three per cent of his or her estate, or in the nature of a final disposition or distribution thereof, and without an adequate valuable consideration, shall, in the absence of proof to the contrary, be deemed to have been made in contemplation of death within the meaning of this section,

Fourth. When any person or corporation comes into possession or enjoyment, by a transfer from a resident, or from a non-resident decedent when such non-resident decedent's property consists of real property within this State or tangible personal property within the State, or intangible personal property that has acquired a situs in this State, of an estate in expectancy of any kind or character which is contingent or defeasible, transferred by any instrument taking effect after the passage of this act, or of any property transferred pursuant to a power of appointment contained in any instrument.

Fifth. Whenever any person or corporation shall exercise a power of appointment derived from any disposition of property made either before or after the passage of this act, such appointment when made shall be deemed a transfer taxable under the provisions of this act, in the same manner as though the property to which such appointment relates belonged absolutely to the donee of such power, and had been bequeathed or devised by such donee by will, and the rate shall be determined by the relationship between the beneficiary under the power and the donor; and whenever any person or corporation possessing such power of appointment so derived shall omit or fail to exercise the same within the time provided therefor, in whole or in part, a transfer taxable under the provisions of this act shall be deemed to take place to the extent of such omission or failure, in the same manner as though the persons or corporations thereby becoming entitled to the possession or enjoyment of the property to which such power related and succeeded thereto by will of the donee of the power failing to exercise such power, taking effect at the time of such omission or failure.

Sixth. Whenever any real or personal property, or both, of whatever kind or nature, tangible or intangible, is disposed of by will or by deed to any person or persons for life, or the life of the survivor, or for a term of years, or to any corporation for a term of years, with the power of appointment in such person or persons, or in such corporation, or reserving to the grantor or devisor the power of revocation, the tax, upon the death of the person making such will or deed, shall, on the whole amount of property so disposed of, be due and payable as in other cases, and the said tax shall be computed according to the relationship of the first donee, or devisee, to the devisor.

Seventh. Where real property is held by husband and wife as tenants by the entirety, the surviving tenant shall be taxable only on one-half of the value of the property so transferred, unless, where it shall appear that the husband supplied the entire purchase money and the husband predeceases the wife, the wife shall be chargeable with the entire value of the property for inheritance tax; and where it appears that the wife supplied the entire purchase money and the wife predeceases the husband, the husband is chargeable with the value of the property for inheritance tax; and in the absence of evidence as to the proportions of the purchase price paid by the husband and wife, the presumption will be that each paid equal amounts, and only one-half of the value of the property shall be charged to the survivor for inheritance tax. (1935, c. 371, s. 1.)

Cross Reference.—For general treatment of the subject, see 11 N. C. Enc. Dig. 656 et seq., 15 N. C. Enc. Dig. 573 et seq. For history of the inheritance tax statute, see State v. Scales, 172 N. C. 915, 90 S. E. 439.

See note 12 N. C. Law Rev., 180, on "Fate of the Trust as Device to Escape Inheritance Taxes."

Editor's Note.—The annotations under this and the following sections are constructions of the corresponding sections (sections 7772 et seq.) of the Consolidated Statutes and of subsequent revenue acts.

Public Laws 1935, c. 371, herein codified, superseded all revenue laws enacted subsequent to the Consolidated Statutes.

Constitutionality.—The provisions of section 7772 of the prior law was held not in conflict with Art. I, § 17, of the State Constitution or of the Fourteenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States in Rhode Island Hospital Trust Co. v. Doughton, 187 N. C. 263, 121 S. E. 741, discussed in 3 N. C. Law Rev. 107. The judgment of this court, however, was reversed, on a writ of error, by the Supreme Court of the United States. Trust Co. v. Doughton, 270 U. S. 69, 46 S. Ct. 256, 70 L. Ed. 475, 43 A. L. R. 1374. It was there held that the statute under which the tax was assessed and collected was invalid, upon the principle that the subject to be taxed must be within the jurisdiction of the state assessing and collecting the tax, and that this principle applies as well in the case of a transfer tax as in that of a property tax. Rotan v. State, 195 N. C. 291, 141 S. E. 733.

Liberal Construction.—A liberal construction will be given to inheritance tax statutes to the end that all property fairly and reasonably coming within their provision may be taxed. State v. Scales, 172 N. C. 915, 90 S. E. 439. See, also, Norris v. Durfey, 168 N. C. 321, 84 S. E. 687.

Under this liberal construction in favor of the government, every transfer of property that could be reasonably brought within the purview of the law has been subjected to taxation. Norris v. Durfey, 168 N. C. 321, 84 S. E. 687.

Basis of Inheritance Tax.—"The theory on which taxation of this kind on the devolution of estates is based and its legality upheld is clearly established and is founded upon two principles: (1) A succession tax is a tax on the right of succession to property, and not on the property itself. (2) The right to take property by devise or descent is not one of the natural rights of man, but is the creature of the law." Brown, J., in In re Morris, Estate, 138 N. C. 259, 262, 50 S. E. 682, cited and approved in Rhode Island Hospital Trust Co. v. Doughton, 187 N. C. 263, 267, 131 S. E. 741. See Waddell v. Doughton, 194 N. C. 537, 140 S. E. 160.

Situs for Taxation.—"The personal property of a decedent, whatever its character and wherever located, is subject to an inheritance tax in the State in which its owner was a resident at the time of his death. Bullen v. Wisconsin, 240 U. S. 625, 36 S. Ct. 473. This position is upheld upon the principle that the situs of personal property, for the purpose of taxation, is said to be in the State where the owner resides and has his domicile. Mobila sequuntur personam." Rhode Island Hospital Trust Co. v. Doughton, 187 N. C. 263, 268, 121 S. E. 741.

Thus if the testator or intestate has his domicile abroad and his personal estate were also, no tax would be demanded of the legatee or next of kin, though they might be resident in the state. State v. Brim, 57 N. C. 300, 301. After the legacy or distributive share has been received, it then becomes a part of the property of one of the citizens of the state, and then it may be taxed in common with any other property of the like kind. Id.

Transfers Subject to Tax.—The right to impose an inheritance tax does not depend upon the kind of property transferred. In re Morris Estate, 138 N. C. 259, 50 S. E. 682.

A widow's dower and year's allowance allotted to her upon her dissent from her husband's will, is property passing by will or by intestate laws within the meaning of this statute. State v. Dunn, 174 N. C. 679, 94 S. E. 481.

The corresponding section of the prior law includes and lays a tax upon an interest made subject by will to the appointment of a third person. In re Inheritance Tax, 172 N. C. 170, 90 S. E. 203.

Same—Shares of Corporate Stock.—Under the provisions of the prior law an inheritance or transfer tax is imposed upon the right of nonresident legatees or distributees to take by will or to receive, under the intestate laws of another State, from a nonresident testator or intestate, shares of stock in a corporation of another State domiciled here, under the laws of this State, as a condition precedent to the right to have said stock transferred on the books of the corporation having the statutory proportion of its property located within this State and conducting its business here. The constitutionality was upheld. Rhode Island Hospital Trust Co. v. Doughton, 187 N. C. 263, 121 S. E. 741. See dissenting opinion as to constitutionality. A discussion of this case may be found in a note contained in 3 N. C. Law Rev. 107.

§ 7880(2). Property exempt. — The following property shall be exempt from taxation under this article:

(a) Property passing to or for the use of the State of North Carolina, or to or for the use of municipal corporations within the State or other political subdivisions thereof, for exclusively public purposes.

(b) Property passing to religious, charitable, or educational corporations, or to churches, hospitals, orphan asylums, public libraries, religious, benevolent, or charitable organizations, or passing to any trustee or trustees for religious, benevolent, or charitable purposes, where such religious, charitable, or educational institutions, corporations, churches, trusts, etc., are located within the State and not conducted for profit.

(c) Property passing to religious, educational, or charitable corporations not conducted for profit, incorporated under the laws of any other State, and receiving and disbursing funds donated in this State for religious, educational, or charitable purposes.

(d) Proceeds of life insurance policies, not exceeding in the aggregate twenty thousand dollars, when payable to a beneficiary or beneficiaries named in such policy or policies, and such beneficiary or beneficiaries are any such person or persons as are designated in section 7880(3), subsection (a), and also proceeds of all life insurance policies payable to beneficiaries named in subsections (a), (b), and (c) of this section. And also proceeds of all policies of insurance paid by the United States government to the beneficiary or beneficiaries or heirs at law of any deceased soldier of the World War under the present laws of congress or any amendment that may be hereafter made thereto. (1935, c. 371, s. 2.)

See note to following section. Section 7773 was the corresponding provision of the consolidated statutes.

§ 7880(3). Rate of tax—Class A.—(a) Where the person or persons entitled to any beneficial interest in such property shall be the lineal issue, or lineal ancestor, or husband or wife, or stepchild of the person who died possessed of such property aforesaid, or child adopted by the decedent in conformity with the laws of this State or of any of the United States, or of any foreign kingdom or nation, at the following rates of tax (for each one hundred dollars or fraction thereof) of the value of such interest:

First $10,000, above exemption	1 per cent
Over $10,000 and to $25,000	2 per cent
Over $25,000 and to $50,000	3 per cent
Over $50,000 and to $100,000	4 per cent
Over $100,000 and to $200,000	5 per cent
Over $200,000 and to $500,000	6 per cent
Over $500,000 and to $1,000,000	7 per cent
Over $1,000,000 and to $1,500,000	8 per cent
Over $1,500,000 and to $2,000,000	9 per cent
Over $2,000,000 and to $2,500,000	10 per cent
Over $2,500,000 and to $3,000,000	11 per cent
Over $3,000,000	12 per cent

(b) The persons mentioned in this class shall be entitled to the following exemptions: Widows, ten thousand dollars; each child under twenty-one (21) years of age, five thousand dollars; all other beneficiaries mentioned in this subsection, two thousand dollars each: Provided, a grandchild or grandchildren shall be allowed the single exemption or pro rata part of the exemption of the parent which he or they represent. The same rule shall apply to the taking under a will, and also in case of a specific legacy or devise: Provided, that when any person shall die leaving a widow and child or children under twenty-one years of age, and leaving all or substantially all of his property by will to his wife, the wife shall be allowed an additional exemption of five thousand dollars for each child under twenty-one years of age. (1935, c. 371, s. 3.)

Real Property, as well as personal, is included in this section. Norris v. Durfey, 168 N. C. 321, 84 S. E. 687. See section 7880(1).

Who Entitled to Exemption.—The court in State v. Scales, 172 N. C. 915, 90 S. E. 439, in construing the words "all other beneficiaries in this section," contained in sub-division one of the corresponding section of the prior law holds that the word "section" was intended and meant for the subdivision in which it was placed and does not apply to the whole section to exempt strangers of the blood of the testator along with the beneficiaries of the first class. It is to be noted, however, that the word "section" is not longer included in this clause, the word "subchapter" having been substituted therefor.

Formerly a bequest to a church or college could be taxed. Barringer v. Cowan, 55 N. C. 436.

The interest acquired by the child of testator is taxable and does not escape by reason of the fact that the testator placed it under the discretionary control and disposition of its mother. In re Inheritance Tax, 172 N. C. 170, 90 S. E. 203.

§ 7880(4). Rate of Tax—Class B.—Where the person or persons entitled to any beneficial interest in such property shall be the brother or sister or descendant of the brother or sister, or shall be the uncle or aunt by blood of the person who died possessed as aforesaid, at the following rates of tax (for each one hundred dollars or fraction thereof) of the value of such interest:

First $5,000	4 per cent
Over $5,000 and to $10,000	5 per cent
Over $10,000 and to $25,000	6 per cent
Over $25,000 and to $50,000	7 per cent
Over $50,000 and to $100,000	8 per cent
Over $100,000 and to $250,000	10 per cent
Over $250,000 and to $500,000	12 per cent
Over $500,000 and to $1,000,000	14 per cent
Over $1,000,000 and to $1,500,000	16 per cent
Over $1,500,000 and to $2,000,000	18 per cent
Over $2,000,000 and to $2,500,000	20 per cent
Over $2,500,000 and to $3,000,000	22 per cent
Over $3,000,000	24 per cent

§ 7880(5). Rate of tax—Class C.—Where the person or persons entitled to any beneficial interest in such property shall be in any other degree of relationship or collateral consanguinity than is hereinbefore stated, or shall be a stranger in blood to the person who died possessed as aforesaid, or shall be a body politic or corporate, at the following rates of tax (for each one hundred dollars or fraction thereof) of the value of such interest:

First $10,000	8 per cent
Over $10,000 and to $25,000	9 per cent

Over $25,000 and to $50,000.....10 per cent
Over $50,000 and to $100,000.....11 per cent
Over $100,000 and to $250,000.....13 per cent
Over $250,000 and to $500,000.....15 per cent
Over $500,000 and to $1,000,000.....17 per cent

Over $2,000,000 and to $2,500,000....23 per cent
Over $2,500,000 .....25 per cent

(1935, c. 371, s. 5.)

§ 7880(6). Estate tax.—(a) A tax in addition to the inheritance tax imposed by this schedule is hereby imposed upon the transfer of the net estate of every decedent dying after the enactment of this schedule, whether a resident or nonresident of the State, where the inheritance tax imposed by this schedule is in the aggregate of a lesser amount than the maximum credit of eighty per cent of the federal estate tax allowed by the Federal Estate Tax Act as contained in the Federal Revenue Act of 1926, or subsequent acts and amendments, because of said tax herein imposed, then the inheritance tax provided for by this schedule shall be increased by an estate tax on the net estate so that the aggregate amount of tax due this State shall be the maximum amount of credit allowed under said Federal Estate Tax Act; said additional tax shall be paid out of the same funds as any other tax against the estate.

(b) Where no tax is imposed by this schedule because of the exemptions herein or otherwise, and a tax is due the United States under the Federal Estate Tax Act, then a tax shall be due this State equal to the maximum amount of the credit allowed under said Federal Estate Tax Act.

(c) The administrative provisions of this schedule, wherever applicable, shall apply to the collection of the tax imposed by this section. The amount of the tax as imposed by subsection (a) of this section shall be computed in full accordance with the Federal Estate Tax Act as contained in the Federal Revenue Act of 1926, or subsequent acts and amendments.

(d) If this section, or any subsection, phrase or clause thereof, is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portion or portions of this schedule in force at the time of the enactment of this section, nor shall such decision affect the validity of the remaining portion or portions of this section. (1935, c. 371, s. 6.)

See 13 N. C. Law Rev., 271, 281, for article on "The Federal Estate Credit Clause."

Editor's Note.—In 1924 the Federal Government provided in its estate tax act that the estate of the decedent should be credited up to 25% of Federal tax therein imposed for any payment of estate, inheritance, legacy, or succession taxes actually made to any of the several states, in respect of any property included in the gross estate. See Federal Revenue Act of 1924, Title III, part I, section 301(b). Since such credit is made to the estate, the Federal Government does not collect the 25% or less for the state, but leaves it to the state to make such collections under its own laws.

As a result, the legislatures of the several states, including New York, Massachusetts, Georgia and Pennsylvania, have amended their inheritance tax statutes to take advantage of such provisions. And this section was enacted with that view.

§ 7880(7). Deductions. — In determining the clear market value of property taxed under this article, or schedule, the following deductions, and no others, shall be allowed:

(a) Taxes that have become due and payable, and the pro rata part of taxes accrued for the fiscal year that have not become due and payable.

(b) Drainage and street assessments (fiscal year in which death occurred.)

(c) Reasonable funeral and burial expenses.

(d) Debts of decedent.

(e) Estate and inheritance taxes paid to other States, and death duties paid to foreign countries, and Federal estates taxes, except additional estate taxes levied by act of congress, effective June 6, 1932.

(f) Amount actually expended for monuments not exceeding the sum of five hundred dollars ($500).

(g) Commissions of executors and administrators actually allowed and paid.

(h) Costs of administration, including reasonable attorneys' fees. (1935, c. 371, s. 7.)

§ 7880(8). Where no personal representative appointed, clerk of superior court to certify same to commissioner of revenue. — Whenever an estate subject to the tax under this act shall be settled or divided among the heirs at law, legatees or devisees, without the qualification and appointment of a personal representative, the clerk of the superior court of the county wherein the estate is situated shall certify the same to the commissioner of revenue, whereupon the commissioner of revenue shall proceed to appraise said estate and collect the inheritance tax thereon as prescribed by this act. (1935, c. 371, s. 8.)

§ 7880(9). Tax to be paid on shares of stock before transferred, and penalty for violation. — (a) Property taxable within the meaning of this act shall include bonds or shares of stock in any incorporated company incorporated in this State, regardless of whether or not any such incorporated company shall have any or all of its capital stock invested in property outside of this State and doing business outside of this State, and the tax on the transfer of any bonds and/or shares of stock in any such incorporated company owning property and doing business outside of the State shall be paid before waivers are issued for the transfer of such shares of stock. No corporation of this State shall transfer any bonds or stock of said corporation standing in the name of or belonging to a decedent or in the joint names of a decedent and one or more persons, or in trust for a decedent, unless notice of the time of such transfer is served upon the commissioner of revenue at least ten days prior to such transfer, nor until said commissioner of revenue shall consent thereto in writing. Any corporation making such a transfer without first obtaining consent of the commissioner of revenue as aforesaid shall be liable for the amount of any tax which may thereafter be assessed on account of the transfer of such bonds and/or stock, together with the interest thereon, and in addition thereto a penalty of one thousand dollars, which liability for such tax, interest, and penalty may be enforced by an action brought by the State in the name of the commissioner of revenue. The word "transfer" as used in this act shall be taken to include the passing of property or any interest therein, in possession or enjoyment, present or future, by distribution, or by statute, descent, devise, bequest, grant, deed, bargain, sale, gift, or otherwise. A waiver signed by the commissioner of revenue of North Carolina shall be full protection for any such company in the transfer of any such stock.

(b) Any incorporated company not incorporated in this State and owning property in this State which shall transfer on its books the shares of stock of any resident decedent holder of bonds and/or shares of stock in such company exceeding in value two hundred dollars before the inheritance tax, if any, has been paid, shall become liable for the payment of said tax; and any property held by such company in this State shall be subject to execution to satisfy same. A receipt or waiver signed by the commissioner of revenue of North Carolina shall be full protection for any such company in the transfer of any such stock. (1935, c. 371, s. 9.)

§ 7880(10). Commissioner of revenue to furnish blanks and require reports of value of shares of stock. — (a) The commissioner of revenue shall prepare and furnish, upon application, blank forms covering such information as may be necessary to determine the amount of inheritance tax due the State of North Carolina on the transfer of any such bonds and/or stock; he shall determine the value of such bonds and/or stock, and shall have full authority to do all things necessary to make full and final settlement of all such inheritance taxes due or to become due.

(b) The commissioner of revenue shall have authority, under penalties provided in this act, to require that any reports necessary to a proper enforcement of this act be made by any such incorporated company owning property in this State. (1935, c. 371, s. 10.)

§ 7880(11). Life insurance policies.—The proceeds of all life insurance policies payable at or after the death of the insured, when the premiums have been paid by the insured, and whether payable to the estate of the insured or to a beneficiary or beneficiaries named in the policy, shall be taxable at the rates provided for in this article, subject to the exemptions in section 7880(2). (1935, c. 371, s. 11.)

§ 7880(12). Recurring taxes.—Where property transferred has been taxed under the provisions of this article, such property shall not be assessed and/or taxed on account of any other transfer of like kind occurring within two (2) years from the date of the death of the former decedent: Provided, that this section shall apply only to the transferees designated in sections 7880(3) and 7880(4). (1935, c. 371, s. 12.)

§ 7880(13). Reciprocal provisions of other states. — (a) The terms "death tax" and "death taxes," as used in the five following sub-sections, shall include inheritance, succession, transfer and estate taxes and any taxes levied against the estate of a decedent upon the occasion of his death.

(b) At any time before the expiration of eighteen months after the qualification in any probate court in this commonwealth of any executor of the will or administrator of the estate of any non-resident decedent, such executor or administrator shall file with such court proof that all death taxes, together with interest or penalties thereon, which are due to the state of domicile of such decedent, or to any political subdivision thereof, have been paid or secured, or that no such taxes, interest or penalties are due as the case may be, unless it appears that letters testamentary or of administration have been issued on the estate of such decedent in the state of his domicile in the four following sub-sections called the domiciliary state.

(c) The proof required by sub-section (b) may be in the form of a certificate issued by the official or body charged with the administration of the death tax laws of the domiciliary state. If such proof has not been filed within the time limited in sub-section (b), and if within such time it does not appear that letters testamentary or of administration have been issued in the domiciliary state, the register of probate shall forthwith upon the expiration of such time notify by mail the official or body of the domiciliary state charged with the administration of the death tax laws thereof with respect to such estate, and shall state in such notice so far as is known to him (a) the name, date of death and last domicile of such decedent, (b) the name and address of each executor or administrator, (c) a summary of the values of the real estate, tangible personalty, and intangible personalty, wherever situated, belonging to such decedent at the time of his death, and (d) the fact that such executor or administrator has not filed theretofore the proof required in subsection (b). Such register shall attach to such notice a plain copy of the will and codicils of such decedent, if he died testate, or, if he died intestate, a list of his heirs and next of kin, so far as is known to such register. Within sixty days after the mailing of such notice the official or body charged with the administration of the death tax laws of the domiciliary state may file with such probate court in this commonweath a petition for an accounting in such estate, and such official or body of the domiciliary state shall, for the purposes of this section, be a party interested for the purpose of petitioning such probate court for such accounting. If such petition be filed within said period of sixty days, such probate court shall decree such accounting, and upon such accounting being filed and approved shall decree either the payment of any such tax found to be due to the domiciliary state or subdivision thereof or the remission to a fiduciary appointed or to be appointed by the probate court, or other court charged with the administration of estates of decedents, of the domiciliary state, of the balance of the intangible personalty after the payment of creditors and expenses of administration in this commonwealth.

(d) No final account of an executor or administrator of a non-resident decedent shall be allowed unless either (1) proof has been filed as required by sub-section (b), or (2) notice under sub-section (c) has been given to the official or body charged with the administration of the death tax laws of the domiciliary state, and such official or body has not petitioned for an accounting under said sub-section within sixty days after the mailing of such notice, or (3) an accounting has been had under said sub-section (c), a decree has been made upon such accounting and it appears that the executor or administrator has been paid such sums and remitted such securities, if any, as he was required to pay or remit by such decree, or (4) it appears that letters testamentary or of administration have been issued by the domiciliary state and that no notice has been given under said sub-section (c).

(e) Sub-sections (a) to (d), inclusive, shall apply to the estate of a non-resident decedent, only in case the laws of the domiciliary state contain a provision, of any nature or however expressed, whereby this commonwealth is given reasonable assurance, as finally determined by the commissioner, of the collection of its death taxes, interest and penalties from the estates of decedents dying domiciled in this commonwealth, when such estates are administered in whole or in part by a probate court, or other court charged with the administration of estates of decedents, in such other state.

(f) The provisions of sub-sections (a) to (e), inclusive, shall be liberally construed in order to insure that the domiciliary state of any non-resident decedent whose estate is administered in this commonwealth shall receive any death taxes, together with interest and penalties thereon, due to it from the estate of such decedent. (1935, c. 371, s. 29.)

§ 7880(14). When all heirs, legatees, etc., are discharged from liability.—All heirs, legatees, devisees, administrators, executors, and trustees shall only be discharged from liability for the amount of such taxes, settlement of which they may be charged with, by paying the same for the use aforesaid as hereinafter provided. (1935, c. 371, s. 13.)

§ 7880(15). Discount for payment in six months; interest after twelve months; penalty after two years.—All taxes imposed by this act shall be due and payable at the death of the testator, intestate, grantor, donor or vendor, and if the same are paid within six months from the date of the death of the testator, intestate, grantor, donor, vendor, a discount of three per centum shall be allowed and deducted from such taxes; if not paid within twelve months from date of death of the testator, intestate, grantor, donor or vendor, such tax shall bear interest at the rate of six per centum per annum, to be computed from the expiration of twelve months from the date of the death of such testator, intestate, grantor, donor, or vendor until paid: Provided, that if the taxes herein levied shall not be paid in full within two years from date of death of testator, intestate, grantor, donor, or vendor, then and in such case a penalty of five per centum upon the amount of taxes remaining due and unpaid shall be added: Provided further, that the penalty of five per centum herein imposed may be remitted by the commissioner of revenue in case of unavoidable delay in settlement of estate or of pending litigation, and the commissioner of revenue is further authorized, in case of protracted litigation or other delay in settlement not attributable to laches of the party liable for the tax, to remit all or any portion of the interest charges accruing under this schedule, with respect to so much of the estate as was involved in such litigation or other unavoidable cause of delay: Provided, that time for payment and collection of such tax may be extended by the commissioner of revenue for good reasons shown. (1935, c. 371, s. 14.)

§ 7880(16). Collection to be made by sheriff if not paid in two years.—If taxes imposed by this act are not paid within two years after the death of the decedent, it shall be the duty of the commissioner of revenue to certify to the sheriff of the county in which the estate is located the amount of tax due upon such inheritance, and the sheriff shall collect the same as other taxes, with an addition of two and one-half per cent as sheriff's fees for collecting same, which fees shall be in addition to any salary or other compensation allowed by law to the sheriffs for their services; and the sheriff is hereby given the same rights of levy and sale upon any property upon which the said tax is payable as is given in the Machinery Act for the collection of other taxes. The sheriff shall make return to the commissioner of revenue of all such taxes within thirty days after collection. (1935, c. 371, s. 15.)

§ 7880(17). Executor, etc., shall deduct tax. — The executor or administrator or other trustee paying any legacy or share in the distribution of any estate subject to said tax shall deduct therefrom at the rate prescribed, or if the legacy or share in the estate be not money, he shall demand payment of a sum to be computed at the same rates upon the appraised value thereof for the use of the State; and no executor or administrator shall pay or deliver any specific legacy or article to be distributed, subject to tax, except on the payment into his hands of a sum computed on its value as aforesaid; and in case of neglect or refusal on the part of said legatee to pay the same such specific legacy or article, or so much thereof as shall be necessary, shall be sold by such executor or administrator at public sale, after notice to such legatee, and the balance that may be left in the hands of the executor or administrator shall be distributed as is or may be directed by law; and every sum of money retained by any executor or administrator or paid into his hands on account of any legacy or distributive share for the use of the State shall be paid by him to the proper officer without delay. (1935, c. 371, s. 16.)

§ 7880(18). Legacy for life, etc., tax to be retained, etc., upon the whole amount.—If the legacy or devise subject to said tax be given to a beneficiary for life or for a term of years, or upon the condition or contingency, with remainder to take effect upon the termination of the life estate or the happening of the condition or contingency, the tax on the whole amount shall be due and payable as in other cases, and said tax shall be apportioned between such life tenant and the remainderman, such apportionment to be made by computation based upon the mortuary and annuity tables set out as sections one thousand seven hundred and ninety and one thousand seven hundred and ninety-one of the Consolidated

Statutes, and upon the basis of six per centum of the gross value of the estate for the period of expectancy of the life tenant in determining the value of the respective interests. When property is transferred or limited in trust or otherwise, and the rights, interest, or estate of the transferees or beneficiaries are dependent upon contingencies or conditions whereby they may be wholly or in part created, defeated, extended or abridged, a tax shall be imposed upon said transfer at the highest rate, within the discretion of the revenue commissioner, which on the happening of any of the said contingencies or conditions would be possible under the provisions of this act, and such tax so imposed shall be due and payable forthwith out of the property tranferred, and the commissioner of revenue shall assess the tax on such property. (1935, c. 371, s. 17.)

§ 7880(19). Legacy charged upon real estate, heir or devisee to deduct and pay to executor, etc.—Whenever such legacy shall be charged upon or payable out of real estate, the heir or devisee of such real estate, before paying the same to such legatee, shall deduct the tax therefrom at the rates aforesaid, and pay the amount so deducted to the executor or administrator or the commissioner of revenue, and the same shall remain a charge upon such real estate until paid, and in default thereof the same shall be enforced by the decrees of the court in the same manner as the payment of such legacy may be enforced: Provided, that all taxes imposed by this act shall be a lien upon the real and personal property of the estate on which the tax is imposed or upon the proceeds arising from the sale of such property from the time said tax is due and payable, and shall continue a lien until said tax is paid and receipted for by the proper officer of the State: Provided further, that no lien for inheritance or estate taxes which accrued prior to May first, one thousand nine hundred twenty-three, shall attach or affect the land. (1935, c. 371, s. 18.)

§ 7880(20). Computation of tax on non-resident decedents.—A tax shall be assessed on the transfer of property, including property specifically devised or bequeathed, made subject to tax as aforesaid in this State of a non-resident decedent, if all or any part of the estate of such decedent, wherever situated, shall pass to persons or corporations taxable under this act, which tax shall bear the same ratio to the entire tax which the said estate would have been subject to under this act if such non-resident decedent had been a resident of this State, and all his property, real and personal, had been located within this State, as such taxable property within this State bears to the entire estate, wherever situated. It shall be the duty of the personal representative to furnish to the commissioner of revenue such information as may be necessary or required to enable the commissioner to ascertain a proper computation of his tax. Where the personal representative fails or refuses to furnish information from which this assessment can be made, the property in this State liable to tax under this act shall be taxed at the highest rate applicable to those who are strangers in blood. (1935, c. 371, s. 19.)

§ 7880(21). Regulations governing access to safe deposits of a decedent.—No safe deposit company, trust company, corporation, bank, or other institution, person or persons having in possession or in control or custody, in whole or in part, securities, deposits, assets, or property belonging to or standing in the name of a decedent, or belonging to or standing in the joint names of a decedent and one or more persons, shall deliver or transfer the same to any person whatsoever, whether in a representative capacity or not, or to the survivor or to the survivors when held in the joint names of a decedent and one or more persons, without retaining a sufficient portion or amount thereof to pay taxes or interest which would thereafter be assessed thereon under this act; but the commissioner of revenue may consent in writing to such delivery or transfer, and such consent shall relieve said safe deposit company, trust company, corporation, bank, or other institution, person or persons from the obligation herein imposed. Every safe deposit company, trust company, corporation, bank or other institution, person or persons engaged in the business of renting lock boxes for the safe keeping of valuable papers and personal effects or having in their possession or supervision in such lock boxes such valuable papers or personal effects shall, upon the death of any person using such lock box, as a condition precedent to the opening of such lock box by the executor, administrator, personal representative, or cotenant of such deceased person, require the presence of the clerk of the superior court, or deputy, or representative of the clerk of the superior court of the county in which such lock box is located. It shall be the duty of the clerk of the superior court, or his representative, in the presence of an officer or representative of the safe deposit company, trust company, corporation, bank, or other institution, person or persons, to make an inventory of the contents of any such lock box and to furnish a copy of such inventory to the commissioner of revenue, to the executor, administrator, personal representative, or cotenant of the decedent, and a copy to the safe deposit company, trust company, corporation, bank, or other institution, person or persons having possession of such lock box. Notwithstanding any of the provisions of this section any life insurance company may pay the proceeds of any policy upon the life of a decedent to the person entitled thereto as soon as it shall have mailed to the commissioner of revenue a notice, in such form as the commissioner of revenue may prescribe, setting forth the fact of such payment; but if such notice be not mailed, all of the provisions of this section shall apply.

Failure to comply with the provisions of this section shall render such safe deposit company, trust company, corporation, bank or other institution, person or persons liable for the amount of the taxes and interest due under this act on the succession to such securities, deposits, assets, or property, but in any action brought under this provision it shall be a sufficient defense that the delivery or transfer of securities, deposits, assets, or property was made in good faith without knowledge of the death of the decedent and without knowledge of circumstances sufficient to place the defendant on inquiry. (1935, c. 371, s. 21½.)

§ 7880(22). Duties of the clerks of the superior court.—(a) It shall be the duty of the clerk of the superior court to obtain from any executor or administrator, at the time of the qualification of such executor or administrator, the address of the personal representative qualifying, the names and addresses of the heirs at law, legatees, distributees, devisees, etc., as far as practical; the approximate value and character of the property or estate, both real and personal; the relationship of the heirs at law, legatees, devisees, etc., to the decedent, and forward the same to the commissioner of revenue on or before the tenth day of each month; and the commissioner of revenue shall furnish the several clerks blanks upon which to make said report, but the failure to so furnish blanks shall not relieve the clerk from the duty herein imposed. The clerk shall make no report of a death where the estate of a decedent is less than two thousand dollars in value, when the beneficiary is husband or wife or child or grandchild of the decedent. Any clerk of the superior court who shall fail, neglect or refuse to file such monthly reports as required by this section shall be liable to a penalty in the sum of one hundred dollars ($100) to be recovered by the commissioner of revenue in an action to be brought by the commissioner of revenue.

(b) It shall also be the duty of the clerk of the superior court of each of the several counties of the State to enter in a book, prepared and furnished by the commissioner of revenue, to be kept for that purpose, and which shall be a public record, a condensed copy of the settlement of inheritance taxes of each estate, together with a copy of the receipt showing payment, or a certificate showing no tax due, as shall be certified to him by the commissioner of revenue.

(c) For these services, where performed by the clerk, the clerk shall be paid by the commissioner of revenue, when certificates and receipts are sent in to be recorded, as follows: For recording the certificate of the commissioner of revenue showing no tax due, the sum of fifty cents ($.50). For recording the certificate of the commissioner of revenue showing that the tax received by the State is one hundred dollars ($100) or less he shall be paid the sum of one dollar ($1.00). For recording the certificate of the commissioner of revenue showing that the tax received by the State is more than one hundred dollars ($100) and not over five hundred dollars ($500) he shall be paid the sum of two dollars ($2.00). For recording the certificate of the commissioner of revenue showing that the tax received by the State is more than five hunred dollars ($500) he shall be paid the sum of five dollars ($5.00), which sum shall be the maximum amount paid for recording the certificate of the commissioner of revenue for any one estate: Provided, that where the decedent owns real estate in one or more counties, other than the county in which the administration of the estate is had, then the fee of the clerks of the court of such other counties for recording the certificate of the commissioner of revenue shall be fifty cents ($.50) each, and the same fee shall be paid for like service by the clerks in case of the settlement of the estates of nonresidents. The clerk of the superior court shall receive the sum of fifty cents for making up and transmitting to the commissioner of revenue the report required in this section, containing a list of persons who died leaving property in his county during the preceding month, etc.: Provided further, that where the clerk of the superior court has failed or neglected to make the report required of him in this section, in that case he shall only receive for recording the certificate of the commissioner of revenue the sum of fifty cents ($.50).

The clerks of the superior court of the several counties shall be allowed the fees provided for in this section in addition to other fees or salaries received by them, and any and all provisions in local acts in conflict with this act are hereby repealed. (1935, c. 371, s. 20.)

§ 7880(23). Information by administrator and executor. — Every administrator shall prepare a statement in duplicate, showing as far as can be ascertained the names of all the heirs at law and their relationship to decedent, and every executor shall prepare a like statement, accompanied by a copy of the will, showing the relationship to the decedent of all legatees, distributees, and devisees named in the will, and the age at the time of death of the decedent of all legatees, distributees, devisees to whom property is bequeathed or devised for life or for a term of years, and the names of those, if any, who have died before the decedent, together with the postoffice address of executor, administrator, or trustee. If any of the heirs at law, distributees, and devisees are minor children of the decedent, such statement shall also show the age of each of such minor children. The statement shall also contain a complete inventory of all the real property of the decedent located in the State, and of all personal property of the estate, of all insurance policies upon the life of the decedent, together with an appraisal under oath of the value of each class of property embraced in the inventory, and the value of the whole, together with any deductions permitted by this statute, so far as they may be ascertained at the time of filing such statement; and also the full statement of all gifts or advancements made by deed, grant, or sale to any person or corporation in trust or otherwise within three years prior to the death of the decedent. The statement herein provided for shall be filed with the commissioner of revenue at Raleigh, N. C., within ninety days after the qualification of the executor or administrator, upon blank forms to be prepared by the commissioner of revenue. If any administrator or executor fails or refuses to comply with any of the requirements of this section, he shall be liable to a penalty in the sum of five hundred dollars, to be recovered by the commissioner of revenue in action to be brought by the commissioner of revenue to collect such sum in the superior court of Wake county against such administrator or executor. The commissioner of revenue, for good cause shown, may remit all or any portion of the penalty imposed under the provisions of this section. Every executor or administrator may make a tentative settlement of the inheritance tax with the commissioner of revenue, based on the sworn inventory provided in this section: Provided, that this does not apply to estates of less than two thousand dollars in value when the beneficiaries are husband or wife or children or grandchildren, or parent or parents of the decedent. If any executor, administrator, collector, committee, trustee or any other fiduciary within or without this State holding or having control of any funds, property, trust or estate, the transfer of which becomes taxable under the provisions of this act, shall fail to file the statements herein required, within the times herein required, the commissioner of revenue is authorized and shall be required to secure the information herein required from the best sources available, and therefrom assess the taxes levied hereunder, together with the penalties herein and otherwise provided. (1935, c. 371, s. 21.)

§ 7880(24). Supervision by commissioner of revenue. — The commissioner of revenue shall have complete supervision of the enforcement of all provisions of the Inheritance Tax Act and the collections of all inheritance taxes found to be due thereunder, and shall make all necessary rules and regulations for the just and equitable administration thereof. He shall regularly employ such deputies, attorneys, examiners, or special agents as may be necessary for the reasonable carrying out of its full intent and purpose. Such deputies, attorneys, examiners, or special agents shall, as often as required to do so, visit the several counties of the State to inquire and ascertain if all inheritance taxes due from estates of decedents, or heirs at law, legatees, devisees, or distributees thereof have been paid; to see that all statements required by this act are filed by administrators and executors, or by the beneficiaries under wills where no executor is appointed; to examine into all statements filed by such administrators and executors; to require such administrators and executors to furnish any additional information that may be deemed necessary to determine the amount of tax that should be paid by such estate. If not satisfied, after investigation, with valuation returned by the administrator or executor, the deputy, attorney, examiner, or appraiser shall make an additional appraisal after proper examination and inquiry, or may, in special cases, recommend the appointment by the commissioner of revenue of a special appraiser, who, in such case, shall be paid five dollars per day and expenses for his services. The administrator or executor, if not satisfied with such additional appraisal, may appeal within thirty days to the commissioner of revenue, which appeal shall be heard and determined as other cases. From this decision the administrator or executor shall have the right to appeal to the superior court of the county in which said estate is situated for the purpose of having said issue tried; said appeal to be made in the same way and manner as is now provided by law for appeals from the decisions of the public utilities commission: Provided, that the tax shall first be paid, or satisfactory surety bond in double the amount of any alleged deficiency shall be filed with the commissioner pending an appeal; and if it shall be determined upon trial that said tax or any part thereof was illegal or excessive, judgment shall be rendered therefor with interest, and the amount of tax so adjudged overpaid or declared invalid shall be certified by the clerk of court to the commissioner of revenue, who is authorized and directed to draw his account on the state treasurer for the amount thereof. (1935, c. 371, s. 22.)

§ 7880(25). Proportion of tax to be repaid upon certain conditions. — Whenever debts shall be proven against the estate of a decedent after the distribution of legacies from which the inheritance tax has been deducted in compliance with this act, and the legatee is required to refund any portion of the legacy, a proportion of the said tax shall be repaid to him by the executor or administrator if the said tax has not been paid into the state treasury, or shall be refunded by the state treasurer, if it has been so paid in, upon certificate of the commissioner of revenue. (1935, c. 371, s. 23.)

§ 7880(26). Commissioner of revenue may order executor, etc., to file account, etc.—If the commissioner of revenue shall discover that reports and accounts have not been filed, and the tax, if any, has not been paid as provided in this act, he shall issue a citation to the executor, administrator, or trustee of the decedent whose estate is subject to tax, to appear at a time and place therein mentioned, not to exceed twenty days from the date thereof, and show cause why said report and account should not be filed and said tax paid; and when personal service cannot be had, notice shall be given as provided for service of summons by publication in the county in which said estate is located; and if said tax shall be found to be due, the said delinquent shall be adjudged to pay said tax, interest and cost; if said tax shall remain due and unpaid for a period of thirty days after notice thereof, the commissioner of revenue shall certify the same to the sheriff, who shall make collection of said tax, cost and commissions for collection, as provided in section 7880(15). (1935, c. 371, s. 24.)

§ 7880(27). Failure of administrator, executor, or trustee to pay tax.—Any administrator, executor, or trustee who shall fail to pay the lawful inheritance taxes due upon any estate in his hands or under his control within two years from the time of his qualification shall be liable for the amount of the said taxes, and the same may be recovered in an action against such administrator, executor, or trustee, and the sureties on his official bond. Any clerk of the court who shall allow any administrator, executor, or trustee to make a final settlement of his estate without having paid the inheritance tax due by law, and exhibiting his receipt from the commissioner of revenue therefor, shall be liable upon his official bond for the amount of such taxes. (1935, c. 371, s. 25.)

§ 7880(28). Uniform valuation. — (a) If the value of any estate taxed under this schedule shall have been assessed and fixed by the federal government for the purpose of determining the federal taxes due thereon prior to the time the report from the executor or administrator is made to the commissioner of revenue under the provisions of this act, the amount or value of such estate so fixed, assessed, and determined by the federal government shall be stated in such report. If the assessment of the estate by the federal government shall be made after the filing of the report by the executor or administrator with the commissioner of revenue, as provided in this act, the said executor or administrator shall, within thirty days after receipt of notice of the final determination by the federal government of the value or amount of said estate as assessed and determined for the purpose of fixing federal taxes thereon, make report of the amount so fixed and assessed by the federal government, under oath or affirmation, to the commissioner of revenue. If the amount of said estate as assessed and fixed by the federal government shall be in excess of that theretofore fixed or assessed under this schedule for the purpose of determining the amount of taxes due the State from said estate, then the commissioner of revenue shall reassess said estate and fix the value thereof at the amount fixed, assessed, and determined by the federal government, unless the said executor or administrator shall, within thirty days after notice to him from the commissioner of revenue, show cause why the valuation and assessment of said estate as theretofore made should not be changed or increased. If the valuation placed upon said estate by the federal government shall be less than that theretofore fixed or assessed under this act, the executor or administrator may, within thirty days after filing his return of the amount so fixed or assessed by the federal government, file with the commissioner of revenue a petition to have the value of said estate reassessed and the same reduced to the amount as fixed or assessed by the federal government. In either event the commissioner of revenue shall proceed to determine, from such evidence as may be brought to his attention or which he shall otherwise acquire, the correct value of the said estate, and if valuation is changed, he shall reassess the taxes due by said estate under this act and notify the executor or administrator of such fact. In the event the valuation on said estate shall be decreased, and if there shall have been an overpayment of the tax, the said commissioner shall, within sixty days after the final determination of the value of said estate and the assessment of the correct amount of tax against the same, refund the amount of such excess tax theretofore paid.

(b) If the executor or administrator shall fail to file with the commissioner of revenue the return under oath or affirmation, stating the amount of value at which the estate was assessed by the federal government as provided for in this section, the commissioner of revenue shall assess and collect from the executor or administrator a penalty equal to twenty-five per cent of the amount of any additional tax which may be found to be due by such estate upon reassessment and reappraisal thereof, which penalty shall under no condition be less than twenty-five dollars ($25.00) or more than five hundred dollars ($500.00), and which cannot be remitted by the commissioner of revenue except for good cause shown. The commissioner of revenue is authorized and directed to confer quarterly with the department of internal revenue of the United States government to ascertain the value of estates in North Carolina which have been assessed for taxation by the federal government, and he shall co-operate with the said department of internal revenue, furnishing to said department such information concerning estates in North Carolina as said department may request. (1935, c. 371, s. 26.)

§ 7880(29). Executor defined.—Wherever the word "executor" appears in this act, it shall include executors, administrators, collectors, committees, trustees, and all fiduciaries. (1935, c. 371, s. 27.)

§ 7880(29)a. Additional remedies for enforcement of tax. — In addition to all other remedies which may now exist under the law, or may hereafter be established, for the collection of the taxes imposed by the preceding sections of this article, the tax so imposed shall be a lien upon all of the property and upon all of the estate, with respect to which the taxes are levied, as well as collectible out of any other property, resort to which may be had for their payment; and the said taxes shall constitute a debt, which may be recovered in an action brought by the commissioner of revenue in any court of competent jurisdiction in this State, and/or in any court having jurisdiction of actions of debt in any State of the United States, and/or in any court of the United States against an administrator, executor, trustee, or personal representative, and/or any person, corporation, or concern having in hand any property, funds, or assets of any nature, with respect to which such tax has been imposed. No title or interest to such estate, funds, assets, or property shall pass, and no disposition thereof shall be made by any person claiming an interest therein, until the said taxes have been fully paid. (1935, c. 371, s. 28.)

Art. 2. Schedule B. License Taxes

§ 7880(30). Taxes under this article. — Taxes in this article or schedule shall be imposed as a state license tax for the privilege of carrying on the business, exercising the privilege, or doing the act named, and nothing in this act shall be construed to relieve any person, firm, or corporation from the payment of the tax prescribed in this article or schedule.

(a) If the business made taxable or the privilege to be exercised under this article or schedule is carried on at two or more separate places, a separate state license for each place or location of such business shall be required.

(b) Every state license issued under this article or schedule shall be for twelve months, shall expire on the thirty-first day of May of each year, and shall be for the full amount of the tax prescribed: Provided, that where the tax is levied on an annual basis and the licensee begins such business or exercises such privilege after the first day of January and prior to the thirty-first day of May of each year, then such licensee shall be required to pay one-half of the tax prescribed other than the tax prescribed to be computed and levied upon a gross receipts and/or percentage basis for the conducting of such business or the exercising of such privilege to and including the thirty-first day of May, next following. Every county, city and town license issued under this article or schedule shall be for twelve months, and shall expire on the thirty-first day of May or thirtieth day of June of each year as the governing body of such county, city or town may determine: Provided, that where the licensee begins such business or exercises such privilege after the expiration of seven months of the current license year of such municipality, then such licensee shall be required to pay one-half of the tax prescribed other than the tax prescribed to be computed upon a gross receipts and/or percentage basis.

(c) The state license thus obtained shall be and constitute a personal privilege to conduct the business named in the state license, shall not be transferable to any other person, firm, or corporation, and shall be construed to limit the person, firm, or corporation named in the license to conducting the business and exercising the privilege named in the state license to the county and/or city and location specified in the state license, unless otherwise provided in this article or schedule: Provided, that if the holder of a license under this schedule moves the business for which a license has been paid to another location, a new license may be issued to the licensee at a new location, for the balance of the license year, upon surrender of the original license for cancellation and the payment of a fee of five dollars ($5.00) for each license certificate reissued.

(d) Whenever, in any section of this article or schedule, the tax is graduated with reference to the population of the city or town in which the business is to be conducted or the privilege exercised, the minimum tax provided in such section shall be applied to the same business or privilege when conducted or exercised outside of the municipality, unless such business is conducted or privilege exercised within one mile of the corporate limits of such municipality, in which event the same tax shall be imposed and collected as if the business conducted or the privilege exercised were inside of the corporate limits of such municipality: Provided, that with respect to taxes in this article, assessed on a population basis, the same rates shall apply to incorporated towns and unincorporated places or towns alike, with the best estimate of population available being used as a basis for determining the tax in unincorporated places or towns. The term "places or towns" means any unincorporated community, point or collection of people having a geographical name by which it may be generally known, and is so generally designated.

(e) All State taxes imposed by this article shall be paid to the commissioner of revenue, or to one of his deputies; shall be due and payable on or before the first day of June of each year, and after such date shall be deemed delinquent, and subject to all the remedies available and the penalties imposed for the payment of delinquent state license and privilege taxes: Provided, that if a person, firm, or corporation begins any business or the exercise of any privilege requiring a license under this article or schedule after the thirty-first day of May and prior to the thirty-first day of the following May of any year, then such person, firm, or corporation shall apply for and obtain a state license for conducting such business or exercising any such privilege in advance, and before the beginning of such business or the exercise of such privilege; and a failure to so apply and to obtain such state license shall be and constitute a delinquent payment of the state license tax due, and such person, firm, or corporation shall be subject to the remedies available and penalties imposed for the payment of such delinquent taxes.

(f) The taxes imposed and the rates specified in this article or schedule shall apply to the subjects taxed on and after the first day of June, one thousand nine hundred thirty-five, and prior to said date the taxes imposed and the rates specified in the Revenue Act of one thousand nine hundred thirty-three shall apply.

(g) It shall be the duty of a grantee, transferee, or purchaser of any business or property subject to the state license taxes imposed in this article to make diligent inquiry as to whether the state license tax has been paid, but when such business or property has been granted, sold, transferred, or conveyed to an innocent purchaser for value and without notice that the vendor owed or is liable for any of the state license taxes imposed under this article, such property, while in the possession of such innocent purchaser, shall not be subject to any lien for such state license taxes.

(h) All county or municipal taxes levied by the board of county commissioners of any county, or by the board of aldermen or other governing body of any municipality within this State, under the authority conferred in this act, shall be collected by the sheriff or tax collector of such county and by the tax collector of such city, and the county or municipal license shall be issued by such officer.

(i) Any person, firm, or corporation who shall wilfully make any false statement in an application for a license under any section of this article or schedule shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined and/or imprisoned in the discretion of the court, which fine shall not be less than the amount of tax specified under such section, and shall be in addition to the amount of such tax.

(j) Wherever the business taxed in sections 7880(57)a, 7880(58), 7880(76), and 7880(81) is of a seasonal character at summer or winter resorts, license may be issued for such seasonal business at one-half of the annual license tax for the four months' period from June 1st to October 1st in summer resorts and from December 1st to April 1st in winter resorts. (1935, c. 371, s. 100, c. 454.)

Several Kinds of Business Conducted by Individual.—Where several occupations are conducted in a town by the same individual, a privilege tax on one does not prevent a similar tax on another. Guano Co. v. Tarboro, 126 N. C. 68, 35 S. E. 231.

Where Goods Manufactured in Another State.—The right of a state to tax traders, professions and avocations within the borders of the state is unquestionable, though the goods dealt in be manufactured in another state. State v. Gorham, 115 N. C. 721, 20 S. E. 179.

§ 7880(31). Amusement parks.—Every person, firm, or corporation engaged in the business of operating a park, open to the public as a place of amusement, and in which there may be either a bowling alley, trained animal show, penny or nickel machine for exhibiting pictures, theatrical performance, or similar entertainment, shall apply for and obtain from the commissioner of revenue a state license for the privilege of conducting such amusement park, and shall pay for such license the following tax:

State license for two months.....$200.00
State license for four months..... 400.00
State license for eight months..... 600.00
State license for twelve months..... 800.00

This section shall not apply to bathing beaches which are not operated for more than four months each year.

(a) The licensee shall have the privilege of doing any or all the things set out in this section; but the operation of a carnival, circus, or a show of any kind that moves from place to place shall not be allowed under the state license provided for in this section.

(b) Counties shall not levy a license tax on the business taxed under this section. (1935, c. 371, s. 102.)

§ 7880(32). Amusements — traveling theatrical companies, etc.—Every person, firm, or corporation engaged in the business of a traveling theatrical, traveling moving picture, and/or traveling vaudeville company, giving exhibitions or performances in any hall, tent, or other place not licensed under sections 7880(31) or 7880(34), whether on account of municipal ownership or otherwise, shall apply for and obtain from the commissioner of revenue a state license for the privilege of engaging in such business, and pay for such license a tax of twenty-five dollars ($25.00) for each day or part of a day's exhibits or performances: Provided, that

(a) Artists exhibiting paintings or statuary work of their own hands shall only pay two dollars ($2.00) for such state license.

(b) Such places of amusement as do not charge more than a total of fifty (50) cents for admission at the door, including a reserved seat, and shall perform or exhibit continuously in any given place as much as one week, shall be required to pay for such state license twenty-five dollars ($25.00) for the first day and a total of twenty-five dollars ($25.00) for the next succeeding five days, or any part thereof, and thirty dollars ($30.00) per week or any part thereof thereafter.

(c) The owner of the hall, tent, or other place where such amusements are exhibited or performances held shall be liable for the tax.

(d) In lieu of the State license tax, hereinbefore provided for in this section, such amusement companies, consisting of not more than ten performers, may apply for an annual State-wide license, and the same may be issued by the commissioner of revenue for the sum of three hundred dollars ($300.00), paid in advance, prior to the first exhibition in the State, and shall be valid in any county of this State, and shall be in full payment of all state license taxes imposed in this section.

(e) Any traveling organization which exhibits animals or conducts sideshows in connection with its exhibitions or performances shall not be taxed under this section, but shall be taxed as herein otherwise provided.

(f) The owner, manager, or proprietor of any such amusements described in this section shall apply in advance to the commissioner of revenue for a state license for each county in which a performance is to be given.

That upon all performances taxable under this section there is levied, in addition to the license tax levied in this section, a tax upon the gross receipts of such business at the rate of tax levied in Article V, Schedule E, of this act [§§ 7880(156)a-7880(156)w] upon retail sales of merchandise. The license tax herein levied shall be treated as an advance payment of the tax upon gross receipts herein levied, and the license tax shall be applied as a credit upon or advance payment of the gross receipts tax. The commissioner of revenue may adopt such regulations as may be necessary to effectuate the provisions of this section and shall prescribe the form and character of reports to be made, and shall have such authority of supervision as may be necessary to effectuate the purposes of this act.

(g) Counties, cities and towns may levy a license tax not in excess of the license tax levied by the State. (1935, c. 371, s. 103.)

§ 7880(33). Amusements—manufacturing, selling, leasing, or distributing moving picture films or checking attendance at moving picture shows.—Every person, firm, or corporation engaged in the business of manufacturing, selling, or leasing, furnishing, and/or distributing films to be used in moving pictures within this State shall apply for and obtain from the commissioner of revenue a state-wide license for the privilege of engaging in such business in this State, and shall pay for such license a tax of six hundred and twenty-five dollars ($625.00).

Any person, firm, or corporation engaged under contract or for compensation in the business of checking the attendance at any moving picture or show for the purpose of ascertaining attendance or amount of admission receipts at any theatre or theatres shall apply for and obtain from the commissioner of revenue a state-wide license for the privilege of engaging in such business in this State, and shall pay for such license an annual tax of two hundred and fifty dollars ($250.00).

Counties, cities, and towns shall not levy a license tax on the business taxed under this section. (1935, c. 371, s. 104.)

§ 7880(34). Amusements—moving pictures or vaudeville shows — admissions. — Every person, firm, or corporation engaged in the business of operating a moving picture show or place where vaudeville exhibitions or performances are given or operating a theatre or opera house where public exhibitions or performances are given for compensation shall apply for and obtain in advance from the commissioner of revenue a state license for the privilege of engaging in such business and shall pay for such state license for each room, hall, or tent used the following base tax:

In cities or towns of less than 1,500 population	$ 25.00
In cities or towns of 1,500 and less than 3,000 population	62.50
In cities or towns of 3,000 and less than 5,000 population	125.00
In cities or towns of 5,000 and less than 10,000 population	175.00
In cities or towns of 10,000 and less than 15,000 population	275.00
In cities or towns of 15,000 and less than 25,000 population	375.00
In cities or towns of 25,000 population or over	425.00

(a) For any moving picture show operated more than two miles from the business center of any city having a population of 25,000 or over (for the purpose of this provision, the term "business center" to be defined as the intersection of the two principal business streets of the city), the base tax levied shall be two hundred dollars ($200.00).

In addition to the base tax levied in the above schedule of this section, such person, firm, or corporation shall pay an additional tax upon the gross receipts of such business at the rate of tax upon all such gross receipts levied in Article V, Schedule E, of this act [§§ 7880(156)a-7880(156)w] upon retail sales of merchandise. Reports shall be made to the commissioner of revenue in such form as he may prescribe within the first ten days of each month, covering all such gross receipts for the previous month, and the additional tax herein levied shall be paid monthly at the time such reports are made. The annual license tax herein levied shall be treated as an advance payment of the tax upon gross receipts herein levied, and the annual license tax shall be applied as a credit upon or advance payment of the gross receipts tax.

(b) Upon any and all other forms of entertainment and amusement not otherwise taxed or specifically exempted in this act, including athletic contests of all kinds, high school and elementary school contests, for which an admission is charged in excess of fifty cents (50c), including football, baseball, basketball, wrestling and boxing contests, an annual license tax of $5.00 shall be paid for each location where such charges are made, and an additional charge upon the gross receipts at the rate of tax levied in Article V, Schedule E, of this act [§§ 7880(156)a-7880(156)w] upon retail sales of merchandise, the additional tax upon gross receipts to be levied and collected as provided in this section for motion picture shows, or in accordance with such regulations of payment as may be made by the commissioner of revenue. The tax levied in this subsection shall apply to all privately-owned toll bridges, including all charges made for all vehicles, freight and passenger, and the minimum charge of twenty-five cents for admission shall not apply to bridge tolls.

(c) Counties shall not levy any license tax on the business taxed under this section, but cities and towns may levy a license tax not in excess of one-half the base tax levied in this section. (1935, c. 371, s. 105.)

Educational Entertainment Hall Exempt.—A musical conservatory, owning a hall in which it gives musical entertainments for the special benefit of its pupils and teachers, charging for admission thereto, is not liable for the opera-house tax herein provided. Markham v. Southern Conservatory, 130 N. C. 276, 277, 41 S. E. 531.

The Federal Census in use at the time is the basis of determining the population for the purposes of this section. State v. Prevo, 178 N. C. 740, 101 S. E. 370.

§ 7880(35). Amusements — circuses, menageries, wild west, dog and/or pony shows, etc.—Every person, firm, or corporation engaged in the business of exhibiting performances, such as a circus, menagerie, wild west show, dog and/or pony show, or any other show, exhibition or performance similar thereto, or not taxed in other sections of this article, shall apply for and obtain a state license from the commissioner of revenue for the privilege of engaging in such business, and pay for such license the following tax for each day or part of a day:

(a) Such shows and/or exhibitions traveling on railroads and requiring transportation of:

Not more than two cars	$ 30.00
Three to five cars, inclusive	45.00
Six to ten cars, inclusive	90.00
Eleven to twenty cars, inclusive	125.00
Twenty-one to thirty cars, inclusive	175.00
Thirty-one to fifty cars, inclusive	250.00
Over fifty cars	300.00

(b) Such shows and/or exhibitions traveling by automobiles, trucks, or other vehicles, other than railroad cars, and requiring transportation by:

Not over two vehicles	$ 7.50
Three to five vehicles	10.00
Six to ten vehicles	15.00
Eleven to twenty vehicles	20.00
Twenty to thirty vehicles	40.00
Thirty to fifty vehicles	55.00
Over fifty vehicles, per vehicle in excess thereof	5.00

It is the intent of this subsection that every vehicle used in transporting circus property or personnel, whether owned by the circus or by others, shall be counted in computing the tax.

(c) Each sideshow, curiosity show, or other similar show, exhibiting on the same or contiguous lots with a circus, the tax shall be fifteen dollars ($15.00) per day or part of a day.

(d) Every person, firm, or corporation by whom any show or exhibition taxed under this section is owned or controlled shall file with the commissioner of revenue, not less than five days before entering this State for the purpose of such exhibitions or performances therein a statement under oath, setting out in detail such information as may be required by the commissioner of revenue covering the places in the State where exhibitions or performances are to be given, the character of the exhibition, the mode of travel, the number of cars or other conveyances used in transferring such shows, and such other and further information as may be required. Upon receipt of such statement, the commissioner of revenue shall fix and determine the amount of state license tax with which such person, firm, or corporation is chargeable, shall endorse his findings upon such statement, and shall transmit a copy of such statement and findings to each such person, firm, or corporation to be charged, to the sheriff or tax collector of each county in which exhibitions or performances are to be given, and to the division deputy of the commissioner of revenue, with full and particular instructions as to the state license tax to be paid. Before giving any of the exhibitions or performances provided for in such statement, the person, firm, or corporation making such statement shall pay the commissioner of revenue the tax so fixed and determined. If one or more of such exhibitions or performances included in such statement and for which the tax has been paid shall be canceled, the commissioner of revenue may, upon proper application made to him, refund the tax for such canceled exhibitions or performances. Every such person, firm, or corporation shall give to the commissioner of revenue a notice of not less than five days before giving any of such exhibitions or performances in each county.

(e) The sheriff of each county in which such exhibitions or performances are advertised to be exhibited shall promptly communicate such information to the commissioner of revenue; and if the statement required in this section has not been filed as provided for herein, or not filed in time for certified copies thereof, with proper instructions, to be transmitted to the sheriffs of the several counties and the division deputy commissioner, the commissioner of revenue shall cause his division deputy to attend at one or more points in the State where such exhibitions or performances are advertised or expected to exhibit, for the purpose of securing such statement prescribed in this section, of fixing and determining the amount of state license tax with which such person, firm, or corporation is taxable, and to collect such tax or give proper instructions for the collection of such tax.

(f) Every such person, firm, or corporation by whom or which any such exhibition or performance described in this section is given in any county, city, or town, or within five miles thereof, wherein is held an annual agricultural fair, during the week of such annual agricultural fair, shall pay a state license of one thousand dollars ($1,000.00) for each exhibition or performance, in addition to the license tax first levied in this section, to be assessed and collected by the commissioner of revenue or his duly authorized deputy.

(g) The provisions of this section, or any other section of this act, shall not be construed to allow, without the payment of the tax imposed in this section, any exhibition or performance described in this section for charitable, benevolent, educational, or any other purpose whatsoever, by any person, firm, or corporation who is engaged in giving such exhibitions or performances, no matter what terms of contract may be entered into or under what auspices such exhibitions or performances are given. It being the intent and purpose of this section that every person, firm, or corporation who or which is engaged in the business of giving such exhibitions or performances, whether a part or all of the proceeds are for charitable, benevolent, educational, or other purposes or not, shall pay the state license tax imposed in this section.

(h) Every such person, firm, or corporation who shall give any of such exhibitions or performances mentioned in this section within this State, before the statement provided for has been filed with the commissioner of revenue, or before the state license tax has been paid, or which shall after the filing of such statement give any such exhibition or performance taxable at a higher rate than the exhibition or performance authorized by the commissioner of revenue upon the statement filed, shall pay a state license tax of fifty per cent greater than the tax hereinbefore prescribed, to be assessed and collected either by the commissioner of revenue or by his division deputy.

That upon all performances taxable under this section there is levied, in addition to the license tax levied in this section, a tax upon the gross receipts of such business at the rate of tax levied in Article V, Schedule E, of this act [§§ 7880(156)a-7880(156)w] upon retail sales of merchandise. The license tax herein levied shall be treated as an advance payment of the tax upon gross receipts herein levied, and the license tax shall be applied as a credit upon or advance payment of the gross receipts tax. The commissioner of revenue may adopt such regulations as may be necessary to effectuate the provisions of this section and shall prescribe the form and character of reports to be made, and shall have such authority of supervision as may be necessary to effectuate the purposes of this act.

(i) In lieu of the tax levied in section 7880(83), each circus, or other form of amusement taxed under this section, advertising by means of outdoor advertising displays, a bill posting or as otherwise defined in section 7880(83), shall pay a tax of one hundred dollars ($100.00) for a State-wide license for the privilege of advertising in this manner, said tax to be in addition to the other taxes levied in this section.

(j) Counties, cities and towns may levy a license tax on the business taxed under this section not in excess of one-half of the license tax levied by the State, but shall not levy a parade tax or a tax under subsection (i) of this section. (1935, c. 371, s. 106.)

§ 7880(36). Amusements — carnival companies, etc.—Every person, firm, or corporation engaged in the business of a carnival company or a show of like kind, moving pictures and vaudeville shows, museums and menageries, merry-go-rounds, ferris wheels, riding devices, and other like amusements and enterprises, conducted for profit, under the same general management, or an aggregate of shows, amusements, eating places, riding devices, or any of them operating together on the same lot or contiguous lots or streets, traveling from place to place, whether owned and actually operated by separate persons, firms, or corporations or not, filling week-stand engagements, or giving week-stand exhibitions, under canvas or not, shall apply for and obtain from the commissioner of revenue a state license for the privilege of engaging in such business or amusements, and shall pay for such license for each week, or part of a week, the following tax:

Consisting of not more than two distinct attractions, per week or part thereof $200.00
Consisting of more than two and not more than five distinct attractions, per week or part thereof 300.00
Consisting of more than five distinct attractions, per week or part thereof.... 400.00

Provided, that when a person, firm, or corporation exhibits only riding devices which are not a part of, nor used in connection with, any carnival company the tax shall be ten dollars ($10.00) per week for each such riding device, and no additional tax shall be levied by counties, cities and towns under this proviso.

(a) This section shall not repeal any local act prohibiting any of the shows, exhibitions, or performances mentioned in this section, or to limit the authority of the board of county commissioners of any county, or the board of aldermen or other governing body of any city or town, in prohibiting such shows, exhibitions, or performances.

If the commissioner of revenue shall issue a state license for any such show, exhibition, or performance in any county or municipality having a local statute prohibiting the same, then the said state license shall not authorize such show, exhibition, or performance to be held in such county or municipality, but the commissioner of revenue shall refund, upon proper application, the tax paid for such state license.

(b) No person, firm, or corporation, nor any aggregation of same, giving such shows, exhibitions, or performances, shall be relieved from the payment of the tax levied in this or pursuant to this section or any part thereof, for the benefit of the State, by reason of the donation or appropriation of the whole or any part of the proceeds arising from charitable, educational, or other cause whatsoever. It being the intent and purpose of this section that every person, firm, or corporation, or aggregation of same, who is engaged in the giving of such shows, exhibitions, performances, or amusements, whether the whole or a part of the proceeds are for charitable, benevolent, educational, or other purposes whatsoever, shall pay the state license taxes provided for in this section.

That upon all performances taxable under this section there is levied, in addition to the license tax levied in this section, a tax upon the gross receipts of such business at the rate of tax levied in Article V, Schedule E, of this act [§§ 7880(156)a-7880(156)w] upon retail sales of merchandise. The license tax herein levied shall be treated as an advance payment of the tax upon gross receipts herein levied, and the license tax shall be applied as a credit upon or advance payment of the gross receipts tax. The commissioner of revenue may adopt such regulations as may be necessary to effectuate the provisions of this section and shall prescribe the form and character of reports to be made, and shall have such authority of supervision as may be necessary to effectuate the purposes of this act.

Section 4944 of the Consolidated Statutes is hereby amended by striking out all of said section and substituting in lieu thereof the following: Any society or association organized under the provisions of this chapter, desiring to be exempted from the payment of State, county, and city license taxes on its exhibits, shows, attractions, and amusements, shall each year, not later than sixty (60) days prior to the opening date of its fair, file an application with the commissioner of revenue for a permit to operate without the payment of said tax; said application shall state the various types of exhibits and amusements for which the exemption is asked, and also the date and place they are to be exhibited. The commissioner of revenue shall immediately refer said application to a committee consisting of the president of the North Carolina association of agricultural fairs, the commissioner of agriculture, and the director of the extension service of North Carolina State College for approval or rejection. If the application is approved by said committee, the commissioner of revenue shall issue a permit to said society or association authorizing it to exhibit within its fair grounds and during the period of its fair, without the payment of any State, county, or city license tax, all exhibits, shows, attractions, and amusements as were approved: Provided, however, that the commissioner of revenue shall have the right to cancel said permit at any time upon the recommendation of said committee. Any society or association failing to so obtain a permit from the commissioner of revenue or having its permit canceled shall pay the same State, county, and city license taxes as may be fixed by law for all other persons or corporations exhibiting for profit within the State, shows, carnivals, or other attractions.

(c) Counties may levy and collect the same license tax as the State, and cities and towns may levy a license tax not in excess of the aggregate amount of license tax levied by State and county. (1935, c. 371, s. 107.)

§ 7880(37). Amusements — certain exhibitions, performances, and entertainments exempt from license tax.—All exhibitions, performances, and entertainments, except as in this article expressly mentioned as not exempt, produced by local talent exclusively and for the benefit of religious, charitable, benevolent, or educational purposes, and where no compensation is paid to such local talent, shall be exempt from the state license tax. (1935, c. 371, s. 108.)

See note of Markham v. Southern Conservatory, 130 N. C. 276, 41 S. E. 531, under § 7880(34).

§ 7880(38). Attorneys at law and other professions.—Every practicing attorney at law, practicing physician, veterinary surgeon, osteopath, chiropractor, chiropodist, dentist, oculist, optician, optometrist, any person practicing any professional art of healing for a fee or reward, civil engineer, electrical engineer, mining engineer, mechanical engineer, architect and landscape architect, photographer, canvasser for any photographer, agent of a photographer in transmitting pictures or photographs to be copied, enlarged, or colored (including all persons enumerated in this section employed by the State, county, municipality, a corporation, firm, or individual), and every person, whether acting as an individual, as a member of a partnership, or as an officer and/or agent of a corporation, who is engaged in the business of selling or offering for sale, buying or offering to buy, negotiating the purchase, sale, or exchange of real estate, or who is engaged in the business of leasing or offering to lease, renting or offering to rent, or of collecting any rents as agent for another for compensation, or who is engaged in the business of soliciting and/or negotiating loans on real estate as agent for another for a commission, brokerage and/or other compensation, shall apply for and obtain from the commissioner of revenue a state-wide license for the privilege of engaging in such business or profession, or the doing of the act named, and shall pay for such license twenty-five dollars ($25.00).

Every person engaged in the public practice of accounting as a principal, or as a manager of the business of a public accountant, shall pay for such license twenty-five dollars ($25.00), and in addition shall pay a license of twelve and 50/100 ($12.50) for each person employed who is engaged in the capacity of supervising or handling the work of auditing, devising or installing systems of accounts.

Every licensed mortician or embalmer shall in like manner apply for and obtain from the commissioner of revenue a state-wide license for practicing his profession, whether for himself or in the employ of another, of ten dollars ($10.00).

(a) Only one-half of the tax levied in this section shall be collected from those persons whose gross receipts from the business or profession for the preceding year did not exceed one thousand dollars ($1,000.00).

(b) Whenever it shall be made to appear to any judge of the superior court that any person practicing any profession for which the payment of a license tax is required by this section has failed, or fails, to pay the professional tax levied in this section, and execution has been issued for the same by the commissioner of revenue and returned by the proper officer "no property to be found," or returned for other cause without payment of the tax, it shall be the duty of the judge presiding in the superior court of the county in which such person resides, upon presentation therefor, to cause the clerk of said court to issue a rule requiring such person to show cause by the next term of court why such person should not be deprived of license to practice such profession for failure to pay such professional tax. Such rule shall be served by the sheriff upon said person twenty days before the next term of the court, and if at the return term of court such person fails to show sufficient cause, the said judge may enter a judgment suspending the professional license of such person until all such tax as may be due shall have been paid, and such order of suspension shall be binding upon all courts, boards and commissions having authority of law in this State with respect to the granting or continuing of license to practice any such profession.

(c) Counties, cities, or towns shall not levy any license tax on the business or professions taxed under this section; and the state-wide license herein provided for shall privilege the licensee to engage in such business or profession in every county, city, or town in this State, except the same shall not apply to photographers, canvassers of any photographers, agents of a photographer in transmitting pictures or photographs to be copied, enlarged, or colored, as set out in the first paragraph of this section, and counties, cities or towns may levy a tax not in excess of that levied by the State. (1935, c. 371, s. 109.)

§ 7880(39). Detectives.—Every person, whether acting as an individual, as a member of a partnership, or as an officer and/or agent of a corporation, who is engaged in business as a detective or what is ordinarily known as "secret service work," or who is engaged in the business of soliciting such business, shall apply for and obtain from the commissioner of revenue a state-wide license for the privilege of engaging in such business, and shall pay for such license a tax of twenty-five dollars ($25.00): Provided, any such person regularly employed by United States government, any State or political sub-division of any State shall not be required to pay license herein provided for. (1935, c. 371, s. 110.)

§ 7880(40). Obsolete.

Failure to Pay Tax as Barring Recovery of Commission.—A real estate agent may not recover his commission from the owner in making a sale when he has not paid his license tax as required by the statute, but in the action it must be shown that the services rendered come within the meaning of the statute. Roberts v. Burton, 194 N. C. 19, 138 S. E. 348.

§ 7880(41). Real estate auction sales. — (a) Every person, firm, or corporation engaged in the business of conducting auction sales of real estate for profit or compensation shall apply for and obtain from the commissioner of revenue a state-wide license for the privilege of engaging in such business in this State, and shall pay for such license a tax of one hundred and fifty dollars ($150.00).

(b) This section shall not apply to sales for foreclosure of liens or sales made by order of court.

(c) Counties, cities, and towns in which the auction sale is held may levy a license tax on the business taxed under this section not in excess of fifty dollars ($50.00). (1935, c. 371, s. 111.)

§ 7880(42). Coal and coke dealers.—(a) Every person, firm, or corporation, either as agent or principal, engaged in and conducting the business of selling coal or coke in carload lots, or in greater quantities, shall be deemed a wholesale dealer, and shall apply for and procure from the revenue commissioner a state license, and pay for such license the sum of seventy-five dollars ($75.00): Provided, that if such wholesale dealer shall also sell coal or coke in less than carload lots, he shall not be subject to the retailer's license tax provided in this section.

(b) Every person, firm, or corporation engaged in and conducting the business of selling coal or coke at retail shall apply for and procure from the commissioner of revenue a state license and shall pay for such license a tax for each city or town in which such coal or coke is sold or delivered, as follows:

In cities or towns of less than 2,500 population	$10.00
In cities or towns of 2,500 and less than 5,000 population	15.00
In cities or towns of 5,000 and less than 10,000 population	25.00
In cities or towns of 10,000 and less than 25,000 population	50.00
In cities or towns of 25,000 and over	75.00

(c) No county shall levy any license tax on the business taxed under this section, but cities and towns may levy a license tax not in excess of that levied by the State.

(d) The provisions of this section shall not apply to those engaged in mining coal upon their own or leased property and selling the same either at wholesale or retail. Provided further, that any person, firm or corporation soliciting orders for pool cars of coal to be distributed without profit shall be subject to license tax. (1935, c. 371, s. 112.)

§ 7880(43). Collecting agencies. — Every person, firm, or corporation engaged in the business of collecting, for a profit, claims, accounts, bills, notes, or other money obligations for others, and of rendering an account for same, shall be deemed a collection agency, and shall apply for and receive from the commissioner of revenue a state license for the privilege of engaging in such business, and pay for such license a tax of fifty dollars ($50.00).

(a) This section shall not apply to a regularly licensed practicing attorney at law.

(b) Counties shall not levy any license tax on the business taxed under this section, but cities and towns may levy a license tax not in excess of that levied by the State. (1935, c. 371, s. 113.)

§ 7880(44). Undertakers, embalmers, and retail dealers in coffins.—Every person, firm, or corporation engaged in the business of burying and/or embalming the dead, or in the retail of coffins, shall apply for and procure from the revenue commissioner a state license for transacting such business within this State, and shall pay for such license the following tax:

In cities or towns of less than 500 population	$ 10.00
In cities or towns of 500 and less than 5,000 population	25.00
In cities or towns of 5,000 and less than 10,000 population	40.00
In cities or towns of 10,000 and less than 15,000 population	50.00
In cities or towns of 15,000 and less than 25,000 population	75.00
In cities or towns of 25,000 population or over	100.00

(a) This section shall not apply to a cabinetmaker, (who is not an undertaker) who makes coffins to order.

No county shall levy any license tax on the business taxed under this section, but cities and towns may levy a license tax not in excess of that levied by the State. (1935, c. 371, s. 114.)

§ 7880(45). Dealers in horses and mules. —(a) Any person, firm, or corporation engaged in the business of buying and selling horses and/or mules, and who continuously for the last three years listed a poll or property for taxation in this State, shall apply for and procure from the commissioner of revenue a state license for conducting such business, and pay for such license a tax of twelve dollars and fifty cents ($12.50), which amount of tax, however, shall only be for the privilege of buying and/or selling one carload, and for each additional carload purchased an additional tax of five dollars ($5.00) per car shall be paid semi-annually to the commissioner of revenue.

(b) Every person, firm, or corporation engaged in the business of buying and selling horses and/or mules, who or which has not continuously for the last three years listed a poll or property for taxation in this State, shall apply for and procure from the commissioner of revenue a state license for conducting such business, and pay for such license a tax of fifty dollars ($50.00), which amount of tax, however, shall only be for the privilege of buying and/or selling one carload, and for each additional carload purchased an additional tax of ten dollars ($10.00) per car shall be paid semiannually to the commissioner of revenue.

(c) For the purpose of computing this tax, twenty-five horses and/or mules shall be considered a carload, and for cars containing more than this number the tax shall be twenty cents per head for such horses and/or mules purchased under subsection (a) of this section, and forty cents per head for such horses and/or mules purchased under subsection (b) of this section.

(d) The tax imposed in this section shall apply to all purchases by such dealers, whether shipped into this State by railroad or brought in otherwise.

(e) Every person, firm, or corporation engaged in the business described in this section shall keep a full, true, and accurate record of all sales, invoices, and freight bills covering such purchases and sales of all horses and/or mules, until such sales, invoices, and freight bills have been checked by a deputy commissioner of revenue.

(f) A separate license shall be required for each county and for each place in each county where a separate place of business is maintained: Provided, however, any such person, firm, or corporation engaging in such business described in this section in more than one place or county in this State may, upon the payment of one hundred and twenty-five dollars ($125.00) to the commissioner of revenue, procure a state-wide license, good in any county of the State, and shall also pay the tax herein provided for each carload.

(g) This section shall not apply to persons dealing solely and exclusively in horses and/or mules of their own raising, if such horses and/or mules were raised in this State.

(h) Any person, firm, or corporation required to procure from the commissioner of revenue a license under this section, who shall sell or offer for sale, by principal or agent, any horse and/or mule without having obtained such license, or shall fail, neglect, or refuse to pay the taxes specified in this section when due and payable, shall, in addition to other penalties imposed by this act, be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined one hundred dollars ($100.00) and/or imprisoned not less than thirty days, in the discretion of the court.

(i) Counties, cities, and towns may levy a license tax on the business taxed under this section not in excess of that levied by the State. (1935, c. 371, s. 115.)

§ 7880(46). Phrenologists.—Any person engaged in the practice of phrenology for compensation shall procure from the commissioner of revenue a state license for engaging in such practice, and shall pay for same a tax of one hundred dollars ($100.00) for each county in which such person does business.

Counties, cities, and towns may levy any license tax on the business taxed in this section. (1935, c. 371, s. 116.)

§ 7880(47). Bicycle dealers. — Any person, firm, or corporation engaged in the business of buying and/or selling bicycles, supplies and accessories shall apply for and procure a state license from the commissioner of revenue for the privilege of transacting such business, and shall pay a tax for such license as follows:

In cities or towns of less than 10,000 population	$10.00
In cities or towns of 10,000 and less than 20,000 population	20.00
In cities or towns of 20,000 population or more	25.00

Counties shall not levy a license tax on the business taxed under this section, but cities and towns may levy a license tax not in excess of that levied by the State. (1935, c. 371, s. 117.)

§ 7880(48). Pawnbrokers. — Every person, firm, or corporation engaged in and conducting the business of lending or advancing money or other things of value for a profit, and taking as a pledge for such loan specific articles of personal property, to be forfeited if payment is not made within a definite time, shall be deemed a pawnbroker, and shall pay for the privilege of transacting such business an annual license as follows:

In cities or towns of less than 10,000 population	$200.00
In cities or towns of 10,000 and less than 15,000 population	250.00
In cities or towns of 15,000 and less than 20,000 population	300.00
In cities or towns of 20,000 and less than 25,000 population	350.00
In cities or towns of 25,000 population or more	400.00

(b) Before such pawnbroker shall receive any article or thing of value from any person or persons, on which a loan or advance is made, he shall issue a duplicate ticket, one to be delivered to the owner of said personal property and the other to be attached to the article, and said ticket shall have an identifying number on the one side, together with the date at the expiration of which the pledger forfeits his right to redeem, and on the other a full and complete copy of this subsection; but such pawnbroker may, after the pledger has forfeited his right to redeem the specific property pledged, sell the same at public auction, deducting from the proceeds of sale the money or fair value of the thing advanced, the interest accrued, and the cost of making sale, and shall pay the surplus remaining to the pledger.

(c) Any person, firm, or corporation transacting the business of pawnbroker without a license as provided in this section, or violating any of the provisions of this section, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and fined not less than fifty dollars ($50.00) nor more than five hundred dollars ($500.00).

(d) Counties, cities, and towns may levy a license tax on the business taxed under this section not in excess of that levied by the State. (1935, c. 371, s. 118.)

Broker and Pawnbroker Distinguished.—There is a great difference between the terms "broker" and "pawnbroker." A broker is an agent, middleman or negotiator, who works for a commission. A pawnbroker is not an agent at all. He is one who lends money upon personalty pledged as security. Brokers and pawnbrokers constitute distinct classes, and entirely different license taxes may be assessed upon them. Schaul & Co. v. Charlotte, 118 N. C. 733, 24 S. E. 526.

§ 7880(49). Cash registers, adding machines, typewriters, refrigerating machines, washing machines, etc. — Every person, firm, or corporation engaged in the business of selling and/or delivering, and/or renting, cash registers, typewriters, adding or bookkeeping machines, billing machines, check protectors or protectographs, kelvinators, frigidaires, or other refrigerating machines, lighting systems, washing machines, mechanically or electrically operated burglar alarms, addressograph machines, multigraph and other duplicating machines, vacuum cleaners, mechanically or electrically operated oil burners and coal stokers, card punching, assorting and tabulating machinery, shall apply for and procure from the commissioner of revenue a state license for each place where such business is transacted in this State, and shall pay for such license a tax of ten dollars ($10.00).

(a) Counties, cities, and towns shall not levy a license tax on the business taxed in this section. (1935, c. 371, s. 119.)

§ 7880(50). Sewing machines.—(a) Every person, firm, or corporation engaged in the business of selling sewing machines within this State shall apply for and obtain from the commissioner of revenue a state-wide license for the privilege of engaging in such business and shall pay for such license a tax of one hundred dollars ($100.00) per annum for each such make of machines sold or offered for sale.

(b) In addition to the annual license tax imposed in subsection (a) of this section, such person, firm, or corporation engaged in the business taxed under this section shall pay a tax at the rate of tax levied in Article V, Schedule E, of this act [§§ 7880(156)a-7880(156)w], on retail sales of merchandise on the total receipts during the preceding year from the sale, lease, or exchange of sewing machines and/or accessories within the State, which said tax shall be paid to the commissioner of revenue at the time of securing the annual license provided for in subsection (a) of this section: Provided, that the tax on sales in the preceding year, levied in this subsection, shall apply only for the fiscal year ending May 31, 1935: Provided further, that on and after June 1, 1935, the additional tax on sales levied in this subsection shall be assessed and collected under the provisions of Article V, Schedule E, of this act [§§ 7880(156)a-7880(156)w], the same as the tax on the sales of other merchandise.

(c) Any person, firm, or corporation obtaining a license under the foregoing sections may employ agents and secure a duplicate copy of such license for each such agent by paying a tax of ten dollars ($10.00) to the commissioner of revenue. Each such duplicate license so issued shall contain the name of the agent to whom it is issued, shall not be transferable, and shall license the licensee to sell or offer for sale only the sewing machine sold by the holder of the original license.

(d) Any merchant or dealer who shall purchase sewing machines from a manufacturer or a dealer who has paid the license tax provided for in this section may sell such sewing machines without paying the annual state-wide license tax provided for in subsection (a), but shall procure the duplicate license provided for in subsection (c) of this section: Provided, that the tax imposed by this subsection shall be the only tax required to be paid by dealers in second-hand sewing machines exclusively.

(e) Any person, firm, or corporation who or which violates any of the provisions of this section shall, in addition to all other penalties imposed in this act, pay an additional tax of double the state-wide annual license, and the duplicate tax imposed in this section.

(f) No county shall levy a license on the business taxed under this section, except that the county may levy a license tax not in excess of five dollars ($5.00) on each agent in a county who holds a duplicate license provided for in this section.

Cities and towns shall not levy a license tax on the business taxed under this section. (1935, c. 371, s. 120.)

§ 7880(51). Peddlers.—(a) Any person, firm, or corporation who or which shall carry from place to place any goods, wares or merchandise, and offer to sell or barter the same, or actually sells or barters the same, shall be deemed a peddler, except such person, firm, or corporation who or which is a wholesale dealer, with an established warehouse in this State and selling only to merchants for resale, and shall apply for and procure from the commissioner of revenue a state license for the privilege of transacting such business, and shall pay for such license the following tax:

Peddler, on foot, for each county	$10.00
Peddler, with horse or other animal, and with or without vehicle, each county, for each vehicle	15.00
Peddler, with vehicle propelled by motor or other mechanical power, for each county, for each vehicle	25.00

(b) Any person, firm, or corporation employing the service of another as a peddler, whether on a salary or commission basis, shall be liable for the payment of taxes levied in this section: Provided, however, any person peddling fruits, vegetables or product of the farm shall pay a license tax of $25.00 per year, which license shall be state-wide. No county shall levy an additional tax under this subsection, but cities and towns may levy a tax under this subsection equal to the state tax.

(c) Any person, firm, or corporation who or which sells or offers for sale from any railway car fresh fruits and/or vegetables shall be deemed a peddler within the meaning of this section, and shall pay an annual tax of twenty-five dollars ($25.00). Nothing in this section shall apply to the sale of all farm products raised on the premises owned or occupied by the person, firm, or corporation, his or its bona fide agent or employee selling same.

(d) Every itinerant salesman or merchant who shall expose for sale, either on the street or in a house rented temporarily for that purpose, any goods, wares, or merchandise, bankrupt stock, or fire stock, not being a regular merchant in such county, shall apply for in advance and procure a state license from the commissioner of revenue for the privilege of transacting such business, and shall pay for such license a tax of one hundred dollars ($100.00) in each county in which he shall conduct or carry on such business.

(e) The provisions of this section shall not apply to any person, firm, or corporation who sells or offers for sale books, periodicals, printed music, ice, coal, wood for fuel, fish, beef, mutton, pork, bread, cakes, pies, products of the dairy, poultry, eggs, livestock, or articles of their own individual manufacture, but shall apply to medicines, drugs, or articles assembled.

(f) The board of county commissioners of any county in this State, upon proper application, may exempt from the annual license tax levied in this section Confederate soldiers, disabled veterans of the Spanish-American War, disabled soldiers of the World War, who have been bona fide residents of this State for twelve or more months continuously, and the blind who have been bona fide residents of the State for twelve or more months continuously, widows with dependent children; and when so exempted, the board of county commissioners shall furnish such person or persons with a certificate of exemption, and such certificate shall entitle the holder thereof to peddle within the limits of such county without payment of any license tax to the state.

(g) Counties, cities, or towns may levy a license tax on the business taxed under this section not in excess of the annual license levied by the state. But the board of county commissioners of any county may levy a license tax on the business taxed in this section not in excess of that levied by the State for each unincorporated town or village in the county with a population of one thousand or more within a radius of one mile in which such business is engaged in.

No county, city, or town shall levy any license tax under this section upon the persons so exempted in this section, nor upon drummers selling by wholesale: Provided, the Public-Local Laws relating to any county or city in this State in conflict with this section is hereby repealed. (1935, c. 371, s. 121, c. 468.)

Peddler Defined.—A peddler is one who sells and delivers the identical goods he carries about with him. State v. Lee, 113 N. C. 681, 18 S. E. 713.

A peddler is primarily one who travels round on foot, selling or bartering the identical goods he carries. State v. Frank, 130 N. C. 724, 41 S. E. 785.

Nature of Peddling.—To peddle is not a matter of right under our laws, which any person can demand upon the payment of the tax. It is a privilege. It is discretionary with the county commissioners whether or not they will grant a license to a peddler. The privilege is personal to the applicant, and is not assignable. State v. Rhyne, 119 N. C. 905, 907, 26 S. E. 126.

Power of Legislature.—Under the N. C. Const. Art. V., sec. 3, the General Assembly may tax trades, etc. The term "trade" includes the business of peddling. Smith v. Wilkins, 164 N. C. 135, 80 S. E. 168.

Nature of Tax.—Peddlers and transient dealers are commonly taxed a specific sum because they are likely to escape any other. A peddlers tax is on the occupation, not on the goods, and one who engages in the business, whether as agent or owner, must pay it. State v. Rhyne, 119 N. C. 905, 907, 26 S. E. 126.

Presumption as to Having License.—The case of State v. Crump, 104 N. C. 763, 10 S. E. 468, contains a dictum to the effect that if a peddler is required by proper authorities to exhibit his license and he fails to do so the presumption is that he has none.

Discretion of County Commissioners.—The discretion vested in the county commissioners to exempt from the peddler's tax the "poor and infirm" is necessary to the administration of statutes like this, and will not be interfered with unless arbitrarily exercised. Smith v. Wilkins, 164 N. C. 135, 80 S. E. 168.

Not Applicable to Citizens of Other States.—The provision of a statute similar to this was held unconstitutional on the grounds that it was made to apply to citizens of other states, thus regulating interstate commerce. In re Spain, 47 Fed. 208. See also, In re Flinn, 57 Fed. 496.

Sales by Samples.—This section does not apply to sales by sample of goods not at the time of sale within the state, and ready for immediate delivery, but applies only where goods are actually exposed and offered for sale, and ready for delivery at once to the purchaser. In re Flinn, 57 Fed. 496. See 7 N. C. Enc. Dig. 2 et seq.

Applications.—A picture dealer, who contracts to sell pictures, has them sent out to him, delivers to the purchaser, and receives the price agreed upon beforehand, is no peddler. Greensboro v. Williams, 124 N. C. 167, 32 S. E. 492.

A person who travels from house to house on foot selling goods by sample, and afterwards delivers them on foot, is not a peddler. State v. Frank, 130 N. C. 724, 41 S. E. 785.

The words "any articles of the farm" are used to embrace all the products of the farm and a farmer who butchers cattle raised on his farm and sells the beef is not a peddler. State v. Smith, 173 N. C. 772, 92 S. E. 325. See 14 N. C. Enc. Dig. 287.

This section does not apply to a person selling watermelons in wholesale lots in the city of Salisbury, to be shipped from a nearby town, and only delivered to those from whom he had taken orders. State v. Ninestein, 132 N. C. 1039, 43 S. E. 936.

One who sells goods by sample, which goods are shipped to purchaser in care of one who sold them and delivered by him, is a peddler. State v. Franks, 127 N. C. 510, 37 S. E. 70.

§ 7880(52). Peddlers of fruits and vegetables.

The tax imposed by this section (as it appeared in the Act of 1931, c. 427, § 121½) is clearly unconstitutional in that it discriminates against and burdens interstate commerce, and equity has jurisdiction to enjoin its enforcement on the ground of avoiding a multiplicity of suits. Gramling v. Maxwell, 52 F. (2d) 256, 258.

§ 7880(53). Contractors and construction companies. — (a) Every person, firm, or corporation who, for a fixed price, commission, fee, or wage, offers or bids to construct within the State of North Carolina any building, highway, street, sidewalk, bridge, culvert, sewer or water system, drainage or dredging system, electric or steam railway, reservoir or dam, hydraulic or power plant, transmission line, tower, dock, wharf, excavation, grading or other improvement or structure, or any part thereof, the cost of which exceeds the sum of ten thousand dollars ($10,000), shall apply for and obtain from the commissioner of revenue an annual state-wide license and shall pay for such license a tax of one hundred dollars ($100.00) at the time of or prior to offering or submitting any bid on any of the above enumerated projects.

(b) In addition to the tax levied in subsection (a) of this section, every person, firm, or corporation who, for a fixed price, commission, fee, or wage, undertakes or executes a contract for the construction, or who superintends the construction of any of the above enumerated projects, shall before or at the time of entering into such projects, and/or such contract apply for and procure from the commissioner of revenue a state-wide license, and shall pay for such license the following tax:

When the total contract price or estimated cost of such project is over:

$ 5,000	and not more than	$ 10,000	$ 50.00
10,000	and not more than	50,000	100.00
50,000	and not more than	100,000	250.00
100,000	and not more than	250,000	350.00
250,000	and not more than	500,000	600.00
500,000	and not more than	750,000	800.00
750,000	and not more than	1,000,000	1,000.00
1,000,000	.....		1,250.00

(c) The application for license under subsection (b) of this section shall be made to the commissioner of revenue and shall be accompanied by the affidavit of the applicant, stating the contract price, if known, and if the contract price is not known, his estimate of the entire cost of the said improvement or structure, and if the applicant proposes to construct only a part of said improvement or structure, the contract price, if known, or his estimated cost of the part of the project he proposes to superintend or construct.

In the event the construction of any of the above mentioned improvements or structures shall be divided and let under two or more contracts to the same person, firm, or corporation, the several contracts shall be considered as one contract for the purpose of this act, and the commissioner of revenue shall collect from such person, firm, or corporation the license tax herein imposed as if only one contract had been entered into for the entire improvement or structure.

(d) In the event any person, firm, or corporation has procured a license in one of the lower classes provided for in subsection (b) of this section, and constructs or undertakes to construct or to superintend any of the above mentioned improvements or structures or parts thereof, the completed cost of which is greater than that covered by the license already secured, application shall be made to the commissioner of revenue, accompanied by the license certificate held by the applicant, which shall be surrendered to the commissioner of revenue, and upon paying the difference between the cost of the license surrendered and the price of the license applied for, the commissioner of revenue shall issue to the applicant the annual state-wide license applied for, showing thereon that it was issued on the surrender of the former license, and payment of the additional tax.

(e) No employee or sub-contractor of any person, firm, or corporation, who or which has paid the tax herein provided for, shall be required to pay the license tax provided for in this section while so employed by such person, firm, or corporation.

(f) Counties shall not levy any license tax on the business taxed under this section, but cities and towns may levy a license tax as a fee for a builder's permit or otherwise not in excess of ten dollars ($10.00) when the license provided for under this section has been paid: Provided, that this subsection shall not be construed to prevent the collection of building, electrical, and plumbing inspection charges by municipalities to cover the actual cost of said inspection.

(g) The tax under this section shall not apply to the business taxed in section 7880(86). (1935, c. 371, s. 122.)

§ 7880(53)a. Installing elevators and automatic sprinkler systems. — Every person, firm, or corporation engaged in the business of selling or installing cable-hoist passenger or freight elevators, or automatic sprinkler systems shall apply for and procure from the commissioner of revenue an annual state-wide license for the transaction of such business in this State, and shall pay for such license a tax of $50.00. Counties, cities, and towns may levy a tax on the business taxed under this section not in excess of that levied by the State. (1935, c. 371, s. 122½.)

§ 7880(54). Mercantile agencies. — Every person, firm, or corporation engaged in the regular business of reporting the financial standing of persons, firms, or corporations for compensation shall be deemed a mercantile agency, and shall apply for and procure from the commissioner of revenue a state-wide license for the privilege of transacting such business within this State, and shall pay for such license a tax of five hundred dollars ($500.00), the said tax to be paid by the principal office in the State, and if no such principal office in this State, then by the agent of such mercantile agency operating in this State: Provided, the taxes for the mercantile agency doing special service for not more than one industry shall be $250.00.

(a) Any person representing any mercantile agency which has failed to pay the license tax provided for in this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and fined and/or imprisoned in the discretion of the court.

(b) Counties, cities, or towns shall not levy any license tax under this section. (1935, c. 371, s. 123.)

§ 7880(55). Gypsies and fortune-tellers. — (a) Every company of gypsies or strolling bands of persons, living in wagons, tents, or otherwise, who or any of whom trade horses, mules, or other things of value, or receive reward for telling or pretending to tell fortunes, shall apply for in advance and procure from the commissioner of revenue a state license for the privilege of transacting such things, and shall pay for such license a tax of five hundred dollars ($500.00) in each county in which they offer to trade horses, mules, or other things of value, or to practice the telling of fortunes or any of their crafts. The amount of such license tax shall be recoverable out of any property belonging to any member of such company.

(b) Any person or persons, other than those mentioned in subsection (a) of this section, receiving rewards for pretending to tell and/or telling fortunes, practicing the art of palmistry, clairvoyance and other crafts of similar kind, shall apply for in advance and procure from the commissioner of revenue a state license for the privilege of practicing such arts or crafts, and shall pay for such license a tax of two hundred dollars ($200.00) for each county in which they offer to practice their profession or crafts: Provided, that the tax levied under this section shall not apply to fortune-tellers or other artists practicing the art of palmistry, clairvoyance, and other crafts of a similar kind, when appearing under contract in regularly licensed theaters taxed under section 7880(34).

(c) Any county, city, or town may levy a license tax on the business taxed under this section not in excess of that levied by the State. (1935, c. 371, s. 124.)

§ 7880(56). Lightning-rod agents. — (a) No manufacturer or dealer, whether person, firm, or corporation, shall sell, or offer for sale, in this State any brand of lightning rod, and no agent of such manufacturer or dealer shall sell, or offer for sale, or erect any brand of lightning rod until such brand has been submitted to and approved by the insurance commissioner and a license granted for its sale in this State. The fee for such license, including seal, shall be fifty dollars.

(b) Upon written notice from any manufacturer or dealer licensed under the preceding subsection of the appointment of a suitable person to act as his agent in this State, and upon filing an application for license upon the prescribed form, the insurance commissioner may, if he is satisfied as to the reputation and moral character of such applicant, issue him a license as general agent of such manufacturer or dealer. Said license shall set forth the brand of lightning rod licensed to be sold, and the fee for such license, including seal, shall be fifty dollars.

(c) Such general agent may appoint local agents to represent him in any county in the State by paying to the insurance commissioner a fee of ten dollars ($10.00) for each such county. Upon filing application for license of such local agent on a prescribed form and paying a fee of three dollars ($3.00) for each county in which said applicant is to operate, the insurance commissioner may, if he is satisfied that such applicant is of good repute and moral character, and is a suitable person to act in such capacity, issue him a license to sell and erect any brand of lightning rod approved for sale by the general agent in such county applied for.

(d) Each general agent shall submit to the insurance commissioner semi-annually, on January thirty-first and July thirty-first, upon prescribed forms, a sworn statement of gross receipts from the sale of lightning rods in this State during the preceding six months, and pay a tax thereon of eighty (80) cents on each one hundred dollars ($100.00), such returns to be accompanied by an itemized list showing each sale, the county in which sold, and the agent making the sale.

(e) No county, city, or town shall levy a license or privilege tax exceeding twenty dollars ($20.00) on any dealer having a general office or selling from a receiving point.

(f) Licenses issued under this section are not transferable, are valid for only one person, and revocable by the insurance commissioner for good cause after a hearing.

(g) Every agent licensed under this section shall, upon demand, exhibit his license to any officer of the law or citizen, and any person, firm, or corporation acting without a license or selling or offering for sale any brand of lightning rod not approved by the insurance commissioner, or otherwise violating any of the provisions of this act, shall be punished by a fine of not more than two hundred dollars ($200.00) and/or six months' imprisonment for each offense. (1935, c. 371, s. 125.)

§ 7880(57). Hotels.—Every person, firm, or corporation engaged in the operation of any hotel in this State shall apply for and procure from the commissioner of revenue a state license for the privilege of transacting such business, and shall pay for such license the following tax:

(a) For hotels operating on the American plan for rooms in which rates per person per day are:

Less than two dollars	$ .60
Two dollars and less than three dollars	.90
Three dollars and less than four dollars and fifty cents	1.80
Four dollars and fifty cents and less than six dollars	4.20
Six dollars and less than seven dollars and fifty cents	5.40
Seven dollars and fifty cents and less than fifteen dollars	6.00
Over fifteen dollars	7.20

(b) For hotels operating on the European plan for rooms in which the rates per person per day are:

Less than two dollars	$1.25
Two dollars and less than three dollars	3.00
Three dollars and less than four dollars and fifty cents	4.50
Four dollars and fifty cents and less than six dollars	5.50
Six dollars and less than seven dollars and fifty cents	6.50
Seven dollars and fifty cents and less than ten dollars	7.50
Over ten dollars	8.50

(c) The office, dining-room, one parlor, kitchen and two other rooms shall not be counted when calculating the number of rooms in the hotel.

(d) Only one-half of the annual license tax levied in this section shall be levied or collected from resort hotels and boarding houses which are open for only six months or less in the year: Provided, that the minimum tax under any schedule in the section shall be $5.00.

(e) In addition to the base license tax levied in this section there is hereby levied for the privilege of engaging in such business a license tax measured by the gross receipts of meals served at the rate of tax levied in Article V of this Act [§§ 7880(156)a-7880(156)w] upon the retail sale of merchandise and to be collected in the same manner as other taxes levied in such article. Such additional tax may be passed on to the purchaser and reported and paid under the same rules and regulations as applies to other retail sales in Article V of this Act [§§ 7880(156)a-7880(156)w]. A credit may be allowed upon the tax levied in this paragraph equal to the amount of sales tax levied in article V of this Act [§§ 7880(156)a-7880(156)w] and paid by the taxpayer on articles of merchandise used in the preparation of taxable meals. No credit shall be allowed unless the taxpayer's claim of credit is supported by invoices, or memorandum in some printed or written form, showing the amount and value of materials purchased, name of vendor and amount of sales tax paid.

(f) Counties shall not levy any license tax on the business taxed under this section, but cities and towns may levy a license tax not in excess of one-half of the base tax levied by the State. (1935, c. 371, s. 126.)

Tax May Be Exacted of Lessee.—Where a corporation chartered for the purpose of owning and conducting a hotel has paid the franchise tax, the lessee of such corporation is not relieved thereby from paying the tax imposed upon the business of conducting a hotel. Cobb v. Commissioners, 122 N. C. 307, 30 S. E. 338.

§ 7880(57)a. Tourist homes and boarding houses.—(a) Every person, firm, or corporation engaged in the business of operating a tourist home, tourist camp, boarding-house, or similar place advertising in any manner for transient patronage, or soliciting such business, shall apply for and procure from the commissioner of revenue a state license for the privilege of transacting such business and shall pay the following tax: Homes or camps having five rooms or less, $10.00; homes or camps having more than five rooms, $2.00 per room. For the purpose of this section, the sitting-room, dining-room, kitchen, and rooms occupied by the owner or lessee of the premises, or members of his family, for his or their personal or private use, shall not be counted in determining the number of rooms for the basis of the tax. The tax herein levied shall be in addition to any tax levied in section 7880(58) for the sale of prepared food.

(b) Every person, firm, or corporation engaged in the business of operating a boarding house using no form of advertising or solicitation for transient patronage and having seating capacity of a dining room in excess of sixteen (16) shall apply for, and procure, from the commissioner of revenue a state license for the privilege of conducting such business, and shall pay for such license a tax of ten dollars ($10.00) per year, plus a tax of one dollar ($1.00) per seat of dining room seating capacity. The tax levied in this subsection shall be in lieu of the tax levied in section 7880(58).

(c) In addition to the base license levied in subsection (a) of this section there is hereby levied for the privilege of engaging in said business a license tax measured by the gross receipts of meals served at the rate of tax levied in Article V of this Act [§§ 7880(156)a-7880(156)w] upon the retail sale of merchandise and may be collected in the same manner as other taxes levied in such article. Such additional tax may be passed on to the purchaser and reported and paid under the same rules and regulations as applies to other retail sales in Article V of this Act [§§ 7880(156)a-7880(156)w]. A credit may be allowed upon the tax levied in this paragraph equal to the amount of sales tax levied in Article V of this Act [§§ 7880(156)a-7880(156)w] and paid by the taxpayer on articles of merchandise used in the preparation of taxable meals. No credit shall be allowed unless the taxpayer's claim of credit is supported by invoices, or memorandum in some printed or written form, showing the amount and value of materials purchased, name of vendor and amount of sales tax paid.

(d) Counties shall not levy any license tax on the business taxed under this section, but cities and towns may levy a license tax not in excess of one-half of the base tax levied by the State. (1935, c. 371, s. 126½.)

§ 7880(58). Restaurants.—Every person, firm, or corporation engaged in the business of operating a restaurant, café, cafeteria, hotel, with dining service on the European plan, drug store, or other place where prepared food is sold, shall apply for and procure from the commissioner of revenue a state license for the privilege of transacting such business. The tax for such license shall be based on the number of persons provided for with chairs, stools, or benches, and shall be $1.00 per person, with a minimum tax of $5.00: Provided that the tax levied in this paragraph shall not apply to industrial plants maintaining a non-profit restaurant, café or cafeteria solely for the convenience of its employees.

(a) All other stands or places where prepared food is sold as a business, and drug stores, service stations, and all other stands or places where prepared sandwiches only are served, shall pay a tax of five dollars ($5.00).

(b) In addition to the base license tax levied in this section there is hereby levied for the privilege of engaging in said business a license tax measured by the gross receipts of meals served at the rate of tax levied in Article V of this Act [§§ 7880(156)a-7880(156)w] upon the retail sale of merchandise, and to be collected in the same manner as other taxes levied in such article. Such additional tax may be passed on to the purchaser and reported and paid under the same rules and regulations as applies to other retail sales in Article V of this Act [§§ 7880(156)a-7880(156)w]. A credit may be allowed upon the tax levied in this paragraph equal to the amount of sales tax levied in Article V of this Act [§§ 7880(156)a-7880(156)w] and paid by the taxpayer on articles of merchandise used in the preparation of taxable meals. No credit shall be allowed unless the taxpayer's claim of credit is supported by invoices or memorandum in some printed or written form showing the amount and value of materials purchased, name of vendor and amount of sales tax paid: Provided, this tax shall not apply to meals served to teachers and pupils in cafés or cafeterias operated on a non-profit basis by the public schools and colleges.

(c) Counties shall not levy any license tax on the business taxed under this section, but cities and towns may levy a license tax not in excess of one-half of the base tax levied by the State. (1935, c. 371, s. 127.)

§ 7880(59). Cotton compresses.—Every person, firm, or corporation engaged in the business of compressing cotton shall pay an annual license tax of three hundred dollars ($300.00) on each and every compress.

Counties shall not levy any license tax on the business taxed under this section, but cities and towns may levy a license tax not in excess of that levied by the State. (1935, c. 371, s. 128.)

§ 7880(60). Billiard and pool tables, and bowling alleys. — Every person, firm, or corporation who shall rent, maintain, or own a building wherein there is a table or tables at which billiards or pool is played, whether operated by slot or otherwise, shall apply for and procure from the commissioner of revenue a state license for the privilege of operating such billiard or pool tables, and shall pay for such license a tax for each table, as follows:

Tables measuring not more than 2 feet wide and 4 feet long	$ 5.00
Tables measuring not more than 2½ feet wide and 5 feet long	10.00
Tables measuring not more than 3 feet wide and 6 feet long	15.00
Tables measuring not more than 3½ feet wide and 8 feet long	20.00
Tables measuring more than 3½ feet wide and 8 feet long	25.00

Every person, firm, or corporation who shall rent, maintain, own a building wherein there is a bowling alley or alleys of like kind shall apply for and procure from the commissioner of revenue a state license for the privilege of operating such bowling alley or alleys, and shall pay for such license a tax of $12.50 for each alley kept or operated.

Provided, each such billiard or pool table so licensed shall receive a number and receipt from the commissioner of revenue when the license is issued, and it shall be the duty of each operator to attach said numbered license to said table or machine and shall display the same at all times. Failure to have such license and receipt on display attached to said machine or table shall be prima facie evidence that the tax has not been paid hereunder.

(a) This section shall not apply to fraternal organizations having a national charter, American Legion Posts, Young Men's Christian Associations, and Young Women's Christian Associations.

(b) The commissioner of revenue shall not issue a license under this section to any person, firm, or corporation to maintain a billiard or pool table or bowling alley outside of the corporate limits of incorporated cities or towns, except with the approval of the board of county commissioners of the county for which the application is made, and all applications for such licenses are hereby required to be filed with such board of county commissioners at least seven days before being acted upon, and notice thereof published in some newspaper published in the county once a week for two weeks, or if no newspaper is published in such county, then posted at the courthouse door and three other public and conspicuous places in the community where the license is to be exercised for two weeks prior to the action of the board of county commissioners thereon.

(c) If the commissioner of revenue shall have issued any such state license to any person, firm, or corporation to operate any billiard or pool tables, bowling alley or alleys in any city or town, the board of aldermen or other governing body of such city or town shall have the right at any time, and notwithstanding the issuance of such state license, to prohibit any billiard or pool tables, bowling alley or alleys of like kind within its limits, unless otherwise provided in its charter; and in the event any city or town shall exercise the right to prohibit the keeping and operation of such billiard or pool tables, bowling alley or alleys of like kind, the commissioner of revenue shall refund the proportion of the tax thereof during the time which the right is not allowed to be exercised bears to to the time for which the tax is paid.

(d) Counties may levy a license tax on the business taxed under this section upon such billiard or pool tables, bowling alleys as are located outside of incorporated cities or towns, and cities and towns may levy a license tax upon such as are within the city limits, but in neither case shall the license tax so levied be in excess of the tax levied by the State. (1935, c. 371, s. 129.)

Constitutionality.—A license tax imposed upon a business is not void as contravening the State Constitution upon the theory that the statute gives an invalid arbitrary power to the county commissioners with reference to the issuance of the license among applicants therefor, as to locality or otherwise; and the tax so imposed will nevertheless remain, these different portions of the law not being so interdependent that one must fall with the other. Brunswick-Balke-Collender Co. v. Mecklenburg, 181 N. C. 386, 107 S. E. 317.

Same—License without City Limits.—Billiard and pool tables kept open for indiscriminate use by the public are liable to become a source of disorder and demoralization, coming within the police powers, and requiring, in the nature of the business, that power be lodged in some governmental board to withhold or revoke a license imposed by statute for the conduct of the business, and such power lodged in the board of county commissioners, differentiating as to licenses to be issued within and without the city limits, the latter not subject to the same degree of police protection, and requiring a greater license fee, and certain publicity before the license may be issued, etc., is not an unconstitutional discrimination, or the exercise of an invalid arbitrary power, the decision of the commissioners being reviewable in the courts upon the question of whether this power has been arbitrarily and unjustly exercised. Brunswick-Balke-Collender Co. v. Mecklenburg, 181 N. C. 386, 107 S. E. 317.

§ 7880(61). Slot machines and slot locks. — Every person, firm, or corporation owning, operating or maintaining any place of business, or other place, wherein or in connection with which is operated or located any slot machine in which is kept any article to be purchased by depositing any coin or thing of value and for which may be had any article of merchandise, or any machine wherein may be seen any picture or heard any music by depositing therein any coin or thing of value, or any slot weighing machine, or any machine for making stencils by the use of contrivances operated by depositing in the machine any coin or thing of value, or any lock operated by slot wherein money or thing of value is to be deposited, or any machine for the playing of games or amusement operated by slot wherein is deposited any coin or thing of value, except those enumerated in section 7880(60), shall apply for and procure from the commissioner of revenue a state-wide license for the privilege of operating each and every such machine, and shall pay for such license the following tax: Any such machine except as hereinafter provided, that requires a deposit of less than five cents	$10.00

Five cents and not less than ten cents	20.00
Ten cents and not more than twenty cents	40.00
More than twenty cents	80.00

Provided, that weighing machines requiring a deposit of one cent, penny food vending machines and slot machines from which drinking cups are delivered at not more than one cent per cup, shall require payment of a tax of only $2.50: Provided further, that any such machines mentioned in this section giving or equipped to give trade checks, tokens, or similar articles or devices, whether redeemable or having any value or not, or whether given in addition to merchandise or not, shall require payment as in the above schedule, except the minimum tax on any such machine shall be $10.00: Provided further, that the tax on checker-board devices operated by slot machines and requiring deposits of not more than five cents shall be $5.00.

(a) In making application for license under this section, the applicant shall specify the manufacturer's serial number of the machine for which license is desired. The license shall carry the serial number to correspond with that on the application, and no such license shall be transferable to any other machine. It shall be the duty of the person in whose place of business the machine is operated or located to see that the proper state license is attached to the bottom of the machine before its operation shall commence. Failure to do so shall make such person liable for the additional tax imposed in section 7880(107).

(b) This section shall not apply to any automatic locker used as a depository for parcels, clothing, or luggage, nor to machines owned and operated by any retail merchant in his own place of business for delivering merchandise of the market value of the coin deposited, unless trade checks or tokens, whether or not redeemable or of any value, are given in addition to merchandise, in which event the tax herein provided shall apply. This section shall not apply to any coin operated lock used on toilets in hotels or other public places.

(c) Upon application being made for a license to operate any machine or apparatus under this section, the commissioner of revenue is hereby authorized to presume that the operation of such machine or apparatus is lawful, and when a state license has been issued for the operation thereof, the sum paid for such state license shall not be refunded, notwithstanding that the operation of such machine or apparatus shall afterwards be prohibited: Provided further, that it shall be within the discretion of the commissioner of revenue as to whether he shall issue any duplicate license under this section when it is represented to him that the original license has been lost, misplaced, destroyed, or otherwise left the possession of the licensee.

(d) If any person, firm, or corporation shall fail, neglect, or refuse to comply with the terms and provisions of this section, and shall fail to attach the proper state license to any machine or apparatus as herein provided, the commissioner of revenue, or his agents or deputies, shall forthwith seize and remove, or order removed, such machine or machines, and shall hold the same until the provisions of this section have been complied with.

(e) Nothing in this section shall be construed to relieve the owner of any such machine or apparatus of liability for the tax.

(f) Counties may levy a license tax on the business taxed in this section upon slot machines, and cities or towns may levy a tax on such machines within their limits, but in neither case shall the tax so levied exceed the tax levied by the State. (1935, c. 371, s. 130, c. 482.)

§ 7880(62). Bagatelle tables, merry-go-rounds, etc.—(a) Every person, firm, or corporation that is engaged in the operation of a bagatelle table, merry-go-round or other riding devices, hobby horse, switchback railway, shooting gallery, swimming pool, skating rink, other amusement devices of a like kind, or a place for other games or play with or without name (unless used solely and exclusively for private amusement or exercise), at a permanent location, shall apply for and procure from the commissioner of revenue a state license for the privilege of operating such objects of amusements, and shall pay for each such subject enumerated the following tax:

In cities or towns of less than 10,000 population	$10.00
In cities or towns of 10,000 population and over	25.00

(b) Counties, cities or towns may levy a license tax on the business taxed under this section not in excess of that levied by the State. (1935, c. 371, s. 131.)

§ 7880(63). Security dealers.—(a) Every person, firm, or corporation who or which is engaged in the business of dealing in securities as defined in "An act to provide laws governing the sale of stocks, bonds, and other securities in the State of North Carolina," etc., or who or which maintains a place for or engaged in the business of buying and/or selling shares of stock in any corporation, bonds, or any other securities on commission or brokerage, shall apply for and procure from the commissioner of revenue a state license for the privilege of transacting such business, and shall pay for such license the following tax:

In cities or towns of less than 5,000 population	$ 25.00
In cities or towns of 5,000 and less than 10,000 population	50.00
In cities or towns of 10,000 and less than 15,000 population	100.00
In cities or towns of 15,000 population and less than 25,000	200.00
In cities or towns of 25,000 population and above	300.00

(b) Every dealer, as defined herein, who shall maintain in the State of North Carolina more than one office for dealing in securities, as hereinbefore defined, shall apply for and procure from the commissioner of revenue a license for the privilege of transacting such business at each such office, and shall pay for such license the same tax as hereinbefore fixed.

(c) Every foreign dealer, as dealer is hereinbefore defined, who shall maintain an office in this State, or have a salesman in this State, shall apply for and procure from the commissioner of revenue a state license for the privilege of transacting such business and shall pay for such license the tax hereinbefore imposed.

(d) If such person, firm, or corporation described in subsection (a) of this section maintains and/or operates a leased or private wire and/or ticker service in connection with such business the annual license tax shall be as follows:

In cities and towns of less than 10,000 population	$ 150.00
In cities and towns of 10,000 and less than 15,000 population	250.00
In cities and towns of 15,000 and less than 20,000 population	500.00
In cities and towns of 20,000 to 25,000 population	750.00
In cities and towns of 25,000 or more	1,000.00

Providing that the tax levied in sub-section (d) shall not apply to private wire service not connected with or handling quotations of a stock exchange, grain or cotton exchange.

(e) Counties shall not levy any license tax on the business taxed under this section, but cities and towns may levy license tax not in excess of fifty dollars ($50.00). (1935, c. 371, s. 132.)

§ 7880(64). Cotton buyers and sellers on commission.—(1) Every person, firm, or corporation who or which engages in the business of buying and/or selling on commission any cotton, grain, provisions, or other commodities, either for actual, spot, or instant delivery, shall apply for and procure from the commissioner of revenue a state license for the privilege of transacting such business in this State, and shall pay for such license a tax of fifty dollars ($50.00).

(2) Every person, firm, or corporation who or which engages in the business of buying or selling any cotton, grain, provisions, or other commodities, either for actual, spot, instant, or future delivery, and also maintains and/or operates a private or leased wire and/or ticker service in connection with such business, shall apply for and procure from the commissioner of revenue a state license for the privilege of transacting such business in this State and shall pay for such license the following tax:

In cities and towns of less than 10,000 population	$100.00

In cities and towns of 10,000 and less than 15,000 population 200.00
In cities and towns of 15,000 and less than 25,000 population 400.00
In cities and towns of 25,000 population or more 600.00

Persons, firms, and corporations who pay the tax imposed in subsection (d) of section 7880(63) shall not be required to pay the tax imposed in this subsection.

(3) Every person, firm, or corporation, domestic or foreign, who or which is engaged in the business of selling any cotton, either for actual, spot, instant, or future delivery, in excess of five thousand bales per annum, shall be deemed to be a cotton merchant, shall apply for and obtain from the commissioner of revenue a statewide license for each office or agency maintained in this State for the sale of cotton and shall pay for each such license the following tax:

In cities and towns of less than 10,000 population .....$ 50.00
In cities and towns of 10,000 and less than 15,000 population 100.00
In cities and towns of 15,000 and less than 25,000 population 200.00
In cities and towns of 25,000 population and over 300.00

(4) Counties shall not levy any license tax on the business taxed under this section, but cities and towns may levy a license tax not in excess of fifty dollars ($50.00). (1935, c. 371, s. 133.)

§ 7880(65). Manufacturers, producers, bottlers and distributors of soft drinks.—(a) Every person, firm, or corporation, or association manufacturing, producing, bottling and/or distributing in bottles or other closed containers, soda water, coca-cola, pepsi-cola, chero-cola, ginger ale, grape and other fruit juices or imitations thereof, carbonated or malted beverages and like preparations, or preparations of any nature whatever commonly known as soft drinks, shall apply for and obtain from the commissioner of revenue a state license for the privilege of doing business in this State and shall pay for such license the following base tax for each place of business:

(a) If such person, firm, or corporation deal only in metallic cartridges, the tax shall be ten dollars ($10.00).

(b) Counties, cities, or towns may levy a license tax on the business taxed under this section not in excess of that levied by the State. (1935, c. 371, s. 145.)

§ 7880(78). Dealers in cap pistols, fireworks, etc.—Every person, firm, or corporation engaged in the business of selling or offering for sale firecrackers, fireworks, or other articles of like kind, cap pistols, or pistols so constructed that they can by treatment to release the hammer be used to fire caps, shall apply for and obtain from the commissioner of revenue a state license for the privilege of engaging in such business, and shall pay for the same a tax of one hundred dollars ($100.00).

Counties, cities, or towns may levy a license tax on the business taxed under this section not in excess of twice that levied by the State. (1935, c. 371, s. 146.)

§ 7880(79). Pianos, organs, victrolas, records, radios, accessories. — Every person, firm, or corporation engaged in the business of selling, offering or ordering for sale any of the articles hereinafter enumerated in this section shall apply for and obtain from the commissioner of revenue a state license for the privilege of conducting such business, and shall pay for each license the following tax:

For pianos and/or organs, graphophones, victrolas, or other instruments using discs or cylinder records, and/or the sale of records for either or all of these instruments, radios or radio accessories, an annual license tax of ten dollars ($10.00).

(e) Any person, firm, or corporation applying for and obtaining a license under this section may employ traveling representatives, or agents, but such traveling agent or representative shall obtain from the commissioner of revenue a duplicate license of such person, firm, or corporation who or which he represents, and pay for the same a tax of ten dollars ($10.00).

Each duplicate copy so issued is to contain the name of the agent to whom it is issued, the instrument to be sold, and the same shall not be transferable.

Representatives or agents holding such duplicate copy of such license are licensed thereby to sell or offer for sale only the instrument and/or articles authorized to be sold by the person, firm, or corporation holding the original license, and such license shall be good and valid in any county in the State.

(f) Every person, firm, or corporation violating any of the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall pay a penalty of two hundred and fifty dollars ($250.00), and in addition thereto double the state license tax levied in this section for the then current year.

(g) Counties shall not levy any license tax on the business taxed under this section, except that the county in which the agent or representative holding a duplicate copy of the license aforesaid may impose a license tax not in excess of five dollars ($5.00). Cities or towns may levy a license tax on the business taxed under this section not in excess of one-half of that levied by the State. (1935, c. 371, s. 147.)

Sales by Sample.—An act requiring every one, before engaging in selling pianos or organs by sample, list or otherwise, in the state to pay a certain sum for a license, is, in the case of one selling by sample and list, as agent for a manufacturer and dealer located in another state, void, as a regulation of interstate commerce. Ex parte Hough, 69 Fed. 330. See note of In re Flinn, 57 Fed. 496, under section 7820.

Employment of Several Agents.—If the licensee employs more than one salesman he must take out and furnish each salesman with an additional license. This because the license authorizes only the person having it in possession to sell under it. State v. Morrison, 126 N. C. 1123, 36 S. E. 329.

§ 7880(80). Installment paper dealers. — (a) Every person, firm, or corporation, foreign or domestic, engaged in the business of dealing in, buying, and/or discounting installment paper, notes, bonds, contracts, evidences of debt and/or other securities, where lien is reserved or taken upon personal property located in this State to secure the payment of such obligations, shall apply for and obtain from the commissioner of revenue a state license for the privilege of engaging in such business or for the purchasing of such obligations in this State, and shall pay for such license an annual tax of one hundred dollars ($100.00).

(b) In addition to the tax levied in subsection (a) of this section, such person, firm, or corporation shall submit to the revenue commissioner quarterly on the first day of January, April, July, and October of each year, upon forms prescribed by the said commissioner, a full, accurate, and complete statement, verified by the officer, agent, or person making such statement, of the total face value of the installment paper, notes, bonds, contracts, evidences of debt, and/or other securities described in this section dealt in, bought and/or discounted within the preceding three months and, at the same time, shall pay a tax of one-fourth of one per cent of the face value of such obligations dealt in, bought and/or discounted for such period.

(c) If any person, firm, or corporation, foreign or domestic, shall deal in, buy and/or discount any such paper, notes, bonds, contracts, evidences of debt and/or other securities described in this section without applying for and obtaining a license for the privilege of engaging in such business or dealing in such obligations, or shall fail, refuse, or neglect to pay the taxes levied in this section, such obligations shall not be recoverable or the collection thereof enforceable at law or by suit in equity in any of the courts of this State until and when the license taxes prescribed in this section have been paid, together with any and all penalties prescribed in this act for the non-payment of taxes.

(d) This section shall not apply to corporations organized under the State or National banking laws.

(e) Counties, cities and towns shall not levy any license tax on the business taxed under this section. (1935, c. 371, s. 148.)

§ 7880(81). Tobacco and cigarette retailers and jobbers.—Every person, firm, or corporation engaged in the business of retailing and/or jobbing cigarettes, cigars, chewing tobacco, smoking tobacco, snuff, or any other tobacco products shall apply for and obtain from the commissioner of revenue a state license for the privilege of engaging in such business, and shall pay for such license the following tax:

Outside of incorporated cities or towns and cities or towns of less than 1,000 population	$ 5.00
Cities or towns of 1,000 population and over	10.00

Counties shall not levy any license tax on the business taxed under this section, but cities and towns may levy a license tax not in excess of that levied by the State. (1935, c. 371, s. 149.)

§ 7880(82). Laundries.—Every person, firm, or corporation engaged in the business of operating a laundry, including wet or damp wash laundries, where steam, electricity, or other power is used, or who engages in the business of supplying or renting clean linen or towels, shall apply for and obtain from the commissioner of revenue a state license for the privilege of engaging in such business, and shall pay for such license the following tax:

In cities or towns of less than 5,000 population	$ 12.50
In cities or towns of 5,000 and less than 10,000 population	25.00
In cities or towns of 10,000 and less than 15,000 population	37.50
In cities or towns of 15,000 and less than 20,000 population	50.00
In cities or towns of 20,000 and less than 25,000 population	60.00
In cities or towns of 25,000 and less than 30,000 population	72.50
In cities or towns of 30,000 and less than 35,000 population	85.00
In cities or towns of 35,000 and less than 40,000 population	100.00
In cities or towns of 40,000 and less than 45,000 population	112.50
In cities or towns of 45,000 population and above	125.00

Provided, however, that any laundry or other concern herein referred to where the work is performed exclusively by hand or home-size machines only, and where not more than four persons are employed including the owners, the license tax shall be one-third of the amount stipulated in the foregoing schedule.

Every person, firm, or corporation soliciting laundry work, or supplying or renting clean linen or towels, in any city or town, to be done outside of the city wherein said laundry or linen supply or towel supply business is established, shall procure from the commissioner of revenue a state license for the privilege of soliciting in said city or town.

The soliciting of business for or by any person, firm, or corporation engaged in the business of laundry work and/or supplying or renting clean linen or towels shall and the same is hereby construed to be engaging in said business, and the person, firm, or corporation soliciting in said city or town shall procure from the revenue commissioner a state license for the privilege of soliciting in said city or town, said tax to be in a sum equal to the amount which would be paid if the solicitor had an establishment actually engaged in such business in said city or town.

Counties, cities and towns, respectively, may levy a license tax not in excess of one-half of that levied by the State: Provided, that persons soliciting business for services to be performed outside the county a tax may be levied by such county, city or town not in excess of fifty dollars ($50.00) upon such persons.

In addition to the annual tax levied in this section, it is hereby required with respect to every laundry, including wet or damp wash laundries, where steam, electricity, or other power is used, or who engages in the business of supplying or renting clean linen or towels, that with each delivery of laundry for which there is a charge made there shall be issued a charge ticket, to each of which tickets there shall be affixed a service stamp tax of one cent on all packages on which the charge is one dollar or less, and for packages of more than one dollar, one cent for each dollar or fraction thereof, the amount of such tax to be added to such charge ticket and to be paid for by the customer. The stamps for such purpose are to be made available by the commissioner of revenue and by him sold to said laundries at par and for cash only, as the same may be needed by the laundries of the State in order to meet the requirements of this act. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm, or corporation engaged in such business to make any delivery except in compliance with this section, and the violation of any of the provisions hereof is hereby declared to be a misdemeanor. (1935, c. 371, s. 150.)

§ 7880(83). Outdoor advertising. — (a) Every person, firm, or corporation who or which is engaged in the business of outdoor advertising by placing, erecting, or maintaining one or more outdoor advertising signs or structures of any nature by means of signboards, poster boards, or printed bulletins, or other printed or painted matter, or any other outdoor advertising devices, erected upon the grounds, walls, or roofs of buildings, shall apply for and obtain from the commissioner of revenue a state license for the privilege of engaging in such business in this State, and shall pay for said license as follows:

For posting or erecting 50 or more signs or panels $100.00
For posting or erecting 20 to 50 signs or panels 50.00
For posting or erecting less than 20 signs or panels, one dollar for each sign or panel.

And in addition thereto the following license tax for each city, town, or other place in which such signboards, poster boards, painted bulletins, and other painted or printed matter or other outdoor advertising devices are maintained, in cities and towns of:

Less than 500 population	$ 5.00
500 to 999 population	7.50
1,000 to 1,999 population	10.00
2,000 to 2,999 population	15.00
3,000 to 3,999 population	20.00
4,000 to 4,999 population	25.00
5,000 to 9,999 population	40.00
10,000 to 14,999 population	50.00
15,000 to 19,999 population	75.00
20,000 to 24,999 population	100.00
25,000 to 34,999 population	125.00
35,000 population and over	150.00
In each county outside of cities and towns	25.00

Provided, that the tax levied in this act shall not apply to regularly licensed motion picture theatres taxed under section 7880(34) upon any advertising signs, structures, boards, bulletins, or other devices erected by or placed by the theatre upon property which the theatre has secured by permission of the owner.

Every person, firm, or corporation who or which places, erects, or maintains one or more outdoor advertising signs, structures, boards, bulletins, or devices as specified in this section shall be deemed to be engaged in the business of outdoor advertising, but when the applicant intends to advertise his own business exclusively by the erection or placement of such outdoor advertising signs, structures, boards, bulletins, or devices as specified in this section, he may be licensed to do so upon the payment annually of one dollar ($1.00) for each sign up to five hundred (500) in number, and for five hundred (500) or more, the sum of five hundred dollars ($500.00) for the privilege in lieu of all other taxation as provided in this section, except such further taxation as may be imposed upon him by cities or towns, acting under the power to levy not in excess of one-half of that specified in paragraph two of subsection (a) of this section.

(b) Every person, firm, or corporation shall show in its application for the State license herein provided for the name of each incorporated city or town within which, and the county within which, it is maintaining or proposes to maintain said signboards, poster boards, painted bulletins or other painted or printed signs or other outdoor advertising devices within the State of North Carolina.

(c) It shall be unlawful for any person engaged in business of outdoor advertising to in any manner paint, print, place, post, tack, or affix or cause to be painted, printed, placed, posted, tacked, or affixed any sign or other printed or painted advertisement on or to any stone, tree, fence, stump, pole, building, or other object which is upon the property of another without first obtaining the written consent of such owner thereof, and any person, firm, or corporation who in any manner paints, prints, places, posts, tacks, or affixes or causes same to be painted, printed, posted, placed, tacked, or affixed such advertisement on the property of another except as herein provided shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be punished by a fine not exceeding fifty dollars ($50.00) or imprisonment of thirty days: Provided, that the provisions of this section shall not apply to legal notices.

(d) It shall be unlawful for any person, firm, or corporation to paint, print, place, post, tack, or affix any advertising matter within the limits of the right of way of public highways of the State without permission of the state highway commission, or upon the streets of the incorporated towns of the State without permission of the governing authority, and if and when signs of any nature are placed without permission within the highways of the State or within the streets of incorporated towns it shall be the duty of the highway commission or other administrative body or other governing authorities of the cities and towns of said State to remove said advertising matter therefrom.

(e) Every person, firm, or corporation owning or maintaining signboards, poster boards, printed bulletins, or other outdoor advertisements of any nature within this State shall have imprinted on the same the name of such person, firm, or corporation in sufficient size to be plainly visible and permanently affixed thereto.

(f) A license shall not be granted any person, firm, or corporation having his or its principal place of business outside the State for the display of any advertising of any nature whatsoever, designed or intended for the display of advertising matter, until such person, firm, or corporation shall have furnished and filed with the commissioner of revenue a surety bond to the State, approved by him, in such sum as he may fix, not exceeding five thousand dollars ($5,000), conditioned that such licensee shall fulfill all requirements of law, and lawful regulations and orders of said commissioner of revenue, relative to the display of advertisements. Such surety bond shall remain in full force and effect as long as any obligations of such licensee to the State shall remain unsatisfied.

(g) No advertising or other signs specified in this act shall be erected on the highway right of way so as to obstruct the vision or otherwise to increase the hazard, and all signs upon the highways shall be placed in a manner to be approved by the said highway commission.

(h) Any person, firm, or corporation who or which shall fail, refuse, or neglect to comply with the terms and provisions of this section, and who shall fail to pay the tax herein provided for within thirty days after the same shall become due, the commissioner of revenue or his agents or deputies shall forthwith seize and remove, or order removed, the structures erected by such delinquent person, firm, or corporation, and shall sell the same either at public or private sale, and apply the proceeds thereof to the payment of the delinquent taxes and the penalty due and unpaid.

(i) The said highway commission or other governing body having jurisdiction over the roads and highways of the State, and the governing authorities of cities and towns, and its agents and employees, and the board of county commissioners of the various counties in said State, shall remove or cause to be removed any advertisement, sign, or other matter displayed contrary to the provisions of this section.

(j) Every person, firm, or corporation who violates any of the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and in addition to the license tax and penalties provided for herein shall be fined not more than one hundred dollars ($100.-00) for each sign so displayed, or imprisoned, in the discretion of the court.

(k) Counties shall not levy any license tax under this section, but cities and towns may levy license tax not in excess of one-half of that levied by the State under paragraph 2 of subsection (a).

(l) Every person, firm, or corporation applying for a license as required in subsection (a) hereof shall state in his application the number of advertisements, advertising spaces or devices he proposes to erect and/or maintain. Upon issuing license to any applicant the commissioner of revenue shall issue a metal tag for each of the advertisements, advertising spaces or devices mentioned in the application, to be valid for one year from its issuance and showing on its face the date of its expiration. Such metal tag shall be attached by the advertiser in such way as to be plainly visible to the front of each advertisement, advertising space or device erected, maintained or used by him.

(m) Any advertisement, advertising space or device not bearing such a tag or bearing a tag which shows that it has expired, or otherwise erected or maintained contrary to the provisions of this section, shall be deemed a public nuisance and shall be summarily removed or destroyed by the state highway department.

(n) The following signs and announcements are exempted from the provisions of this section: signs upon property advertising the business conducted thereon; notice or advertisements erected by public authority or required by law in any legal proceedings; any signs containing sixty (60) square feet or less bearing an announcement of any town or city advertising itself, provided the same is maintained at public expense.

No tax shall be levied under this section against any person, firm, or corporation erecting, painting, posting, or otherwise displaying signs or panels advertising his or its own business containing twelve (12) square feet or less of advertising surface: Provided, that this exemption shall not apply if the signs or panels are displayed in more than five counties; and provided further, that subsection (m) shall not apply to signs and panels displayed hereunder. (1935, c. 371, s. 151.)

§ 7880(83)a. Motor advertisers. — (a) Every person, firm, or corporation operating over the streets or highways of this State any motor vehicle or other mechanical conveyance equipped with radio, phonograph, or other similar mechanism to produce music, or having any loud speaker attachment or other sound magnifying device to produce sound effects, for advertising purposes, whether advertising his or its own products or those of others, shall be deemed a motor advertiser, shall procure from the commissioner of revenue a state-wide license for the privilege of engaging in such business in this State and shall pay for such license a tax of $100.00 for each vehicle or conveyance so used: Provided, that any such advertiser owning a located placed of business in this State and advertising in not more than five counties shall pay one-fourth the tax provided in this section.

(b) Counties may levy a license tax on the business taxed under this section not in excess of one-fourth of that levied by the State, and cities and towns may levy a tax not in excess of $10.00. (1935, c. 371, s. 151½.)

§ 7880(83)b. Loan agencies or brokers.—Every person, firm, or corporation engaged in the regular business of making loans or lending money, and accepting liens on, or contracts of assignments of, salaries or wages, or any part thereof, or other security or evidences of debt for repayment of such loans in installment payments or otherwise, and maintaining in connection with same any office or other located or established place for the conduct, negotiation, or transaction of such business and/or advertising or soliciting such business in any manner whatsoever, shall be deemed a loan agency, and shall apply for and procure from the commissioner of revenue a state license for the privilege of transacting or negotiating such business at each office or place so maintained, and shall pay for such license a tax of $500.00.

(a) Nothing in this section shall be construed to apply to banks, industrial banks, trust companies, building and loan associations, co-operative credit unions, nor installment paper dealers defined and taxed under other sections of this act, nor shall it apply to business of negotiating loans on real estate as described in section 7880(38), nor to pawnbrokers lending or advancing money on specific articles of personal property. It shall apply to those persons or concerns operating what are commonly known as loan companies or finance companies and whose business is as hereinbefore described, and those persons, firms, or corporations pursuing the business of lending money and taking as security for the payment of such loan and interest an assignment of wages, or an assignment of wages with power of attorney to collect same, or other order or chattel mortgage or bill of sale upon household or kitchen furniture.

(b) At the time of making any such loan, the person, or officer of the firm or corporation making same, shall give to the borrower in writing in convenient form a statement showing the amount received by the borrower, the amount to be paid back by the borrower, and the time in which said amount is to be paid, and the rate of interest and discount agreed upon.

(c) Any such person, firm, or corporation failing, refusing, or neglecting to pay the tax herein levied shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and in addition to double the tax due shall be fined not less than $250.00 and/or imprisoned, in the discretion of the court. No such loan shall be collectible at law in the courts of this State in any case where the person making such loan has failed to pay the tax levied herein, and/or otherwise complied with the provisions of this section.

(d) Counties, cities, and towns may levy a license tax on the business taxed under this section not in excess of $100.00. (1935, c. 371, s. 152.)

§ 7880(84). Automobile and motorcycle dealers and service stations.—1. Automotive service stations.—Every person, firm, or corporation engaged in the business of servicing, storing, painting, repairing, welding, or upholstering of motor vehicles, trailers, or semi-trailers, or engaged in the business of retail selling and/or delivering of any tires, tools, batteries, electrical equipment, automotive accessories, including radios designed for exclusive use in automobiles, or supplies, motor fuels and/or lubricants, or any of such commodities, in this State shall apply for and obtain from the commissioner of revenue a state license for the privilege of engaging in such business in this State, and shall pay for such license an annual tax for each location where such business is carried on, as follows:

In cities or towns of 10,000 and less than 20,000 population	25.00
In cities or towns of 20,000 and less than 30,000 population	30.00
In cities or towns of 30,000 population or more	40.00

(a) A motorcycle dealer paying the license tax under this subsection may buy, sell and/or deal in bicycles and bicycle supplies without the payment of an additional license tax.

(b) No additional license tax shall be levied upon or collected from any employee or salesman whose employer has paid the tax levied in this subsection.

(c) No motorcycle dealer shall be issued dealer's tags until the license tax levied under this subsection has been paid.

(d) Counties, cities, and towns may levy a license tax on each place of business located therein, taxed under this subsection, not in excess of one-fourth of that levied by the State, with the exception that the minimum tax may be as much as ten dollars ($10.00).

3. Automotive equipment and supply dealers at wholesale.—Every person, firm, or corporation engaged in the business of buying, selling, distributing, exchanging, and/or delivering automotive accessories, including radios designed for exclusive use in automobiles, parts, tires, tools, batteries, and/or other automotive equipment or supplies or any of such commodities at wholesale shall apply for and obtain from the commissioner of revenue a state license for the privilege of engaging in such business in this State, and shall pay for such license an annual tax for each location where such business is carried on, as follows:

In unincorporated communities and in cities or towns of less than 2,500 population	$25.00
In cities or towns of 2,500 and less than 5,000 population	30.00
In cities or towns of 5,000 and less than 10,000 population	50.00
In cities or towns of 10,000 and less than 20,000 population	75.00
In cities or towns of 20,000 and less than 30,000 population	100.00
In cities or towns of 30,000 population or more	125.00

Provided, any person, firm, or corporation engaged in the business enumerated in this section and having no located place of business, but selling to retail dealers by use of some form of vehicle, shall obtain from the commissioner of revenue a state-wide license for the privilege of engaging in such business in this State, and shall pay for such license an annual tax for each vehicle used in carrying on such business fifty dollars ($50.00).

(a) For the purpose of this section, the word "wholesale" shall apply to manufacturers, jobbers, and such others who sell to retail dealers, except manufacturers of batteries.

(b) No additional license tax under this subsection shall be levied upon or collected from any employee, agent, or salesman whose employer or principal has paid the tax for each location levied in this subsection.

(c) Counties, cities and towns may levy a license tax on each place of business located therein, taxed under this subsection, not in excess of one-half of that levied by the State, with the exception that the minimum tax may be as much as ten dollars ($10.00).

4. Motor vehicle dealers.—Every person, firm, or corporation engaged in the business of buying, selling, distributing, servicing, storing and/or exchanging motor vehicles, trailers, semi-trailers, tires, tools, batteries, electrical equipment, lubricants, and/or automotive equipment, including radios designed for exclusive use in automobiles, and supplies in this State shall apply for and obtain from the commissioner of revenue a state license for the privilege of engaging in such business in this State, and shall pay for such license an annual tax for each location where such business is carried on, as follows:

In unincorporated communities and in cities or towns of less than 1,000 population ..	$25.00
In cities or towns of 1,000 and less than 2,500 population	50.00
In cities or towns of 2,500 and less than 5,000 population	75.00

In cities or towns of 20,000 and less than 30,000 population	175.00
In cities or towns of 30,000 or more	200.00

Provided, that persons, firms, or corporations dealing in second-hand or used motor vehicles exclusively shall be liable for only one-half the tax as set out in the foregoing schedule unless such business is of a seasonal, temporary, transient or itinerant nature, in which event the tax shall be one hundred dollars ($100.00) for each location where such business is carried on.

(a) Any person, firm, or corporation who or which deals exclusively in motor fuels and lubricants, and has paid the license tax levied under subsection 1 of this section, shall not be subject to any license tax under subsections 2, 3, and 4 of this section.

(b) No additional license tax under this subsection shall be levied upon or collected from any employee or salesman whose employer has paid the tax levied in this subsection; nor shall the tax apply to dealers in semi-trailers weighing not more than 500 pounds and carrying not more than 1,000 pound load, and to be towed by passenger cars.

(c) No dealer shall be issued dealer's tags until the license tax levied under this subsection has been paid.

(d) Premises on which used cars are stored or sold when owned or operated by a licensed new-car dealer under the same name shall not be deemed as a separate place of business when conducted within the corporate limits of any city or town in which such new-car business is conducted.

(e) Counties, cities, and towns may levy a license tax on each place of business located therein, taxed under this subsection, not in excess of one-fourth of that levied by the State, with the exception that the minimum tax may be as much as twenty dollars ($20.00): Provided, if such business is of a seasonal, temporary, transient, or itinerant nature, counties, cities, and towns may levy a tax of one hundred dollars ($100.00) for each location where such business is carried on. (1935, c. 371, s. 153.)

Constitutionality.—A provision in a former statute as to the reduction of the license tax if three-fourths of the assets are invested in this state was held constitutional in Bethlehem Motors Corp. v. Flynt, 178 N. C. 399, 100 S. E. 693.

The decision in this case was appealed from, and the question was presented to the United States Supreme Court. The court construed the statute as discriminating against nonresident manufacturers doing business in the state by reducing the tax from $500 to $100 if the manufacturer of automobiles has three-fourths of his entire assets invested in bonds of the state or any of its counties, cities or towns, or in other property situated therein and returned for taxation, and as discriminating in favor of the product of resident manufacturers by attempting to regulate interstate commerce. See Bethlehem Motors Corp. v. Flynt, 256 U. S. 421, 65 L. Ed. 1029, 41 S. Ct. 571. But this decision has not been understood as to invalidate the entire statute since the proviso in question was separable from the remainder of the statute. American Exch. Nat. Bank v. Lacy, 188 N. C. 25, 28, 123 S. E. 475.—Ed. Note.

Auto trucks come within the designation of automobiles used in this section in taxing manufacturers of automobiles. Bethlehem Motors Corp. v. Flynt, 178 N. C. 399, 100 S. E. 693.

Bank as "Dealer."—Where a dealer in automobiles has sold to the bank, to which he was indebted, his automobiles on hand, for the purpose of securing the debt, under further provisions that he was to sell and collect and hold the proceeds in trust for the purpose stated, and has thereafter left the State, and the bank has assumed to continue the sales and make collection therefor, the bank may not avoid payment of the tax upon the ground that it was not a dealer, etc., in contemplation of the statute, and thus evade the practical efficiency of the statute and reduce it to a nullity. American Exch. Nat. Bank v. Lacy, 188 N. C. 25, 123 S. E. 475.

Tax on Operators of Gasoline Pumps.—The provision of this section, prescribing that no county, city or town shall levy a license tax on the business of selling gasoline at retail in excess of one-fourth of the State license tax does not preclude a city from levying a tax on operators of gasoline pumps located on sidewalks along certain streets between the curb and the property line when such city tax is levied in the nature of a permit in the exercise of regulatory police power. State v. Evans, 205 N. C. 434, 171 S. E. 640. Note this case is construing the 1931 Revenue Act, which would be the same, however, under the 1933 act.

§ 7880(85). Emigrant and employment agents.—(a) Every person, firm, or corporation, either as agent or principal, engaged in soliciting, hiring, and/or contracting with laborers, male or female, in this State for employment out of the State shall apply for and obtain from the commissioner of revenue a state license for each county for the privilege of engaging in such business, and shall pay for such license a tax of five hundred dollars ($500.00) for each county in which such business is carried on.

(b) Every person, firm, or corporation who or which engages in the business of securing employment for a person or persons and charging therefor a fee, commission, or other compensation shall apply for and obtain from the commissioner of revenue a state license for the privilege of engaging in such business in this State and shall pay for such license the following annual tax for each location in which such business is carried on:

In unincorporated communities and in cities and towns of less than 2,500 population	$100.00
In cities or towns of 2,500 and less than 5,000 population	200.00
In cities or towns of 5,000 and less than 10,000 population	300.00
In cities or towns of 10,000 or more population	500.00

Provided, that this section shall not apply to any employment agency operated by the federal government, the State, any county or municipality, or whose sole business is procuring employees for work in the production and harvesting of farm crops within the State.

(c) Any person, firm, or corporation violating the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and fined, in addition to other penalties, not less than one thousand dollars ($1,000.00) and/or imprisoned, in the discretion of the court.

(d) Counties, cities and towns may levy a license tax on the business taxed under this section not in excess of that levied by the State. (1935, c. 371, s. 154.)

Generally.—This statute is a severe measure imposing a tax upon the business of hiring hands, and its validity can be sustained only upon this view. Lane v. Commissioners, 139 N. C. 443, 445, 52 S. E. 140. See also State v. Hunt, 129 N. C. 686, 40 S. E. 216.

The occupation of an "emigrant agent," as defined in chapter 75, Acts of 1891, similar to this section, does not belong to that class of trades or occupations which are so inherently harmful or dangerous to the public that they may, either directly or indirectly, be restricted or prohibited. State v. Moore, 113 N. C. 697, 698, 18 S. E. 342.

Scope of Section.—In Theus v. State, 114 Ga. 53, Lewis, J., construing a section worded exactly as this, says, "The legislative enactment imposing a tax upon emigrant agents, and providing a penalty for the failure to register and pay such tax, was clearly intended to apply to persons who, as agents of others, make it their business to hire laborers in this state to be sent beyond the limits of the state and then employed by others. To extend its application to a resident of another state, who, being in this state, incidentally employs laborers on his own behalf to work for him beyond the limits of this state, would be entirely unwarranted." Cited and approved in Carr v. Commissioners, 136 N. C. 125, 127, 48 S. E. 597.

Employment of Laborers for Work in Another State.—This section does not apply to a person who comes into this state and employs laborers to work for him in another state. Carr v. Commissioners, 136 N. C. 125, 48 S. E. 597.

An officer of a foreign corporation coming into this state and hiring hands for employment by himself as the officer of the corporation, is not "engaged in the business of hiring hands," etc., and is not liable for the tax on emigrant agents, under this section. Lane v. Commissioners, 139 N. C. 443, 52 S. E. 140.

Amount of Tax Not Reviewable.—A tax on the business of procuring laborers for employment outside the state being an exercise of the power of the state to levy taxes, the amount is not reviewable by the courts. State v. Roberson, 136 N. C. 587, 48 S. E. 595. The court said: "When the constitution confers upon the legislature the power to levy taxes, the amount of the tax to be levied is committed to that department of the government and not open to review by the judicial department. We may inquire into the question of power, but not as to the manner of its exercise."

§ 7880(86). Plumbers, heating contractors, and electricians. — Every person, firm, or corporation engaged in the business of a plumber, installing plumbing fixtures, piping or equipment, steam or gas fitter, or installing hot-air heating systems, or installing electrical equipment or offering to perform such services, shall apply for and obtain from the commissioner of revenue a state license for the privilege of engaging in such business and shall pay for such license the following tax based on population:

Municipalities of less than two thousand population	$10.00
Municipalities of more than two thousand and less than five thousand population	15.00
Municipalities of more than five thousand and less than ten thousand population	20.00
Municipalities of more than ten thousand and less than twenty thousand population	25.00
Municipalities of more than twenty thousand and less than thirty thousand population	30.00
Municipalities of more than thirty thousand and less than forty thousand population	35.00
Municipalities of more than forty thousand and less than fifty thousand population	40.00
Municipalities of more than fifty thousand population	50.00

Provided, that any person, firm, or corporation engaged exclusively in the business enumerated in and licensed under this section shall not be liable for the tax provided in section 7880(53). All plumbing inspectors in cities or towns shall make a monthly report to the commissioner of revenue of all installation or repair permits issued for plumbing or heating.

(a) Counties shall not levy any license tax on the business taxed under this section, but cities and towns may levy a license tax not in excess of that levied by the State. (1935, c. 371, s. 155.)

§ 7880(87). Trading stamps. — Every person, firm, or corporation engaged in the business of issuing, selling, and/or delivering trading stamps, checks, receipts, certificates, tokens, or other similar devices, to persons, firms, or corporations engaged in trade or business, with the understanding or agreement, expressed or implied, that the same shall be presented or given by the latter to their patrons as a discount, bonus, premium, or as an inducement to secure trade or patronage, and that the person, firm, or corporation selling and/or delivering the same will give to the persons presenting or promising the same, money or other thing of value, or any commission or preference in any way on account of the possession or presentation thereof, shall apply for and obtain from the commissioner of revenue a state license for the privilege of engaging in such business, and shall pay for such license a tax of two hundred dollars ($200.00).

(a) This section shall not be construed to apply to a manufacturer or to a merchant who sells the goods, wares, or merchandise of such manufacturer, offering to present to the purchaser or customer a gift of certain value as an inducement to purchase such goods, wares, or merchandise.

(b) Counties, cities, or towns may levy a license tax on the business taxed under this section not in excess of that levied by the State. (1935, c. 371, s. 156.)

Trading Stamp Dealers.—Dealers in trading stamps do not come within the provision of an ordinance taxing "gift enterprises." Winston v. Beeson, 135 N. C. 271, 47 S. E. 457.

§ 7880(88). Process tax.—(a) In every indictment or criminal proceeding finally disposed of in the superior court, the party convicted or adjudged to pay the cost shall pay a tax of two dollars ($2.00): Provided, that this tax shall not be levied in cases where the county is required to pay the cost.

(b) At the time of suing out the summons in a civil action in the superior court or other court of record, or the docketing of an appeal from a lower court in the superior court, the plaintiff or the appellant shall pay a tax of two dollars: Provided, that this tax shall not be demanded of any plaintiff or appellant who has been duly authorized to sue or appeal in forma pauperis; but when in cases brought or in appeals in forma pauperis the costs are taxed against the defendants, the tax shall be included in the bill of costs: Provided, that this tax shall not be levied in cases where the county is required to pay the cost, and in tax foreclosure suits.

(c) No county, city, town, or other municipal corporation shall be required to pay said tax upon the institution of any action brought by it, but whenever such plaintiff shall recover in such action, the said tax shall be included in the bill of costs, and collected from the defendant.

(d) In any case where the party has paid the aforesaid cost in a civil action and shall recover in the final decision of the case, then such cost so paid by him shall be retaxed against the losing party adjudged to pay the cost, plus five per cent which the clerk of the superior court may retain for his services, and this shall be received by him, whether he is serving on a salary or a fee basis, and if on a salary basis, shall be in addition to such salary.

(e) This section shall not apply to cases in the jurisdiction of magistrates' courts, whether civil or criminal, except upon appeals to the superior court from the judgment of such magistrate; and shall not apply for the docketing in the superior court of a transcript of a judgment rendered in any other court, whether of record or not.

(f) The tax provided for in this section shall be levied and assessed by the clerk of the superior or other court in all cases described herein; and on the first Monday in January, April, July, and October of each and every year he shall make to the commissioner of revenue a sworn statement and report in detail, showing the number of the case on the docket, the name of the plaintiff or appellant in civil action or the defendant in criminal action, and accompany such report and statement with the amount of such taxes collected or should have been collected by him in the preceding three months. Any clerk of the superior court failing to make the report and pay the amount of tax due under this section within the first fifteen days of the month in which such report is required to be made shall be liable for a penalty of ten per cent (10%) on the amount of tax that may be due at the time such report should be made. (1935, c. 371, s. 157.)

Where an appeal is taken from an order of the clerk of the Superior Court to the judge thereof, the judge has jurisdiction by mandate of § 637, and no "docketing" is involved within the meaning of this section, nor is the clerk a "lower court," so the two dollar tax as here provided is inapplicable to the Superior Court with respect to appeals, and the judge acquires jurisdiction without the payment of the tax. Windsor v. McVay, 206 N. C. 730, 175 S. E. 83.

§ 7880(89). Morris Plan or industrial banks.—Every person, firm, or corporation engaged in the business of operating a Morris Plan or industrial bank in the State shall apply for and obtain a state license from the commissioner of revenue for the privilege of engaging in such business, and shall pay for such license the following tax:

When the total resources as of December thirty-first of the previous calendar year are—

Less than $250,000	$ 75.00
$250,000 and less than $500,000	150.00
$500,000 and less than $1,000,000	225.00
$1,000,000 and less than $2,000,000	300.00
$2,000,000 and less than $5,000,000	450.00
$5,000,000 and over	600.00

(a) Any such bank that shall begin business during the current tax year applicable to this article, the tax shall be calculated on the total resources at the beginning of business.

(b) Every person, firm, or corporation engaged in the business of soliciting loans or deposits for a Morris Plan or other industrial bank not licensed as such by the State for the county in which such person, firm, or corporation solicits business shall apply for and obtain from the commissioner of revenue a state license for the privilege of engaging in such business, and shall pay for such license a tax of fifty dollars ($50.00) per annum, in each county in which business is solicited.

(c) Counties shall not levy any license tax on the business taxed under this section, but cities and towns may levy a license tax not in excess of one-half (½) of that levied by the State. (1935, c. 371, s. 158.)

§ 7880(90). Marriage license.—There shall be levied on all marriage licenses a state license tax of three dollars on each such license, which shall be assessed and collected by the register of deeds of the county in which the license is issued.

The register of deeds of each county shall submit to the commissioner of revenue, on the first Monday in January, April, July, and October of each year, a sworn statement or report in detail, showing the names of the persons to whom such license has been issued during the preceding three months, and accompany such sworn report or statement with the amount of such State taxes collected by him or that should have been collected by him in the preceding three months.

The counties may levy one dollar ($1.00) upon such marriage license, to be assessed and collected by the register of deeds and accounted for to the county treasurer at the same time and in the same manner as he accounts to the commissioner of revenue for the state tax. (1935, c. 371, s. 159.)

§ 7880(91). Marble yards.—Every person, firm, or corporation engaged in the business of manufacturing, erecting, jobbing, selling, or offering for sale monuments, marble tablets, gravestones or articles of like kind, or, if a nonresident, selling and erecting monuments, marble tablets, or gravestones, shall apply for and obtain from the commissioner of revenue a state license for the privilege of engaging in such business in this State, and shall pay for such license the following tax:

In unincorporated communities and cities or towns of less than 2,000 population ..	$15.00
In cities or towns of 2,000 and less than 5,000 population	25.00
In cities or towns of 5,000 and less than 10,000 population	30.00
In cities or towns of 10,000 and less than 15,000 population	40.00
In cities or towns of 15,000 and less than 20,000 population	50.00
In cities or towns of 20,000 and less than 25,000 population	60.00
In cities or towns of 25,000 population or over	70.00

In addition to the license tax levied in this section an additional tax shall be paid by the person, firm, or corporation engaged in the business taxed under this section of ten dollars ($10.00) for each person soliciting or selling.

Counties shall not levy any license tax on the business taxed under this section, but cities and towns in which the principal office or plant of any such business is located may levy a license tax not in excess of that levied by the State. (1935, c. 371, s. 160.)

§ 7880(92). Manufacturers of ice cream. — (a) Every person, firm, or corporation engaged in the business of manufacturing or distributing ice cream at wholesale shall apply for and obtain from the commissioner of revenue a state license for each factory or place where manufactured and/or stored for distribution, and shall pay an annual state license tax of ten dollars ($10.00) in cities and towns of less than 2,500 population; twenty-five dollars ($25.00) in cities and towns having population between 2,500 and 10,000, and in cities and towns having a population of more than 10,000, fifty dollars ($50.00) and an additional tax of one-half cent for each gallon manufactured, sold, and/or distributed. Reports shall be made to the commissioner of revenue in such form as he may prescribe within the first ten days of each month covering all such gross sales for the previous month, and the additional tax herein levied shall be paid monthly at the time such reports are made.

(b) For the purpose of this section the words "ice cream" shall apply to ice cream, frozen custards, sherbets, water ices and/or similar frozen products.

(c) Every retail dealer selling at retail ice cream purchased from a manufacturer other than a manufacturer who has paid the tax imposed in subsection (a) of this section shall pay an annual license tax for the privilege of doing business in this State of ten dollars ($10.00).

(d) Counties shall not levy a license tax on the business taxed under this section, but cities and towns may levy a license tax not in excess of one-fourth of the above. (1935, c. 371, s. 161.)

§ 7880(93). Branch or chain stores.—Every person, firm, or corporation engaged in the business of operating or maintaining in this State, under the same general management, supervision, or ownership, two or more stores, or mercantile establishments where goods, wares, and/or merchandise is sold or offered for sale at wholesale or retail, or controls by lease, either as lessor or lessee, or by contract, the manner in which any such store or stores are operated, or the kinds, character, or brands of merchandise which are sold therein, shall be deemed a branch or chain store operator, and shall apply for and obtain from the commissioner of revenue a state license for the purpose of engaging in such business of a branch or chain store operator, and shall pay for such license a tax according to the following schedule:

On each and every such store operated in this State in excess of one:

For not more than four additional stores, for each such additional store	$50.00
For five additional stores and not more than eight, for each such additional store	70.00
For nine additional stores and not more than twelve, for each such additional store	80.00
For thirteen additional stores and not more than sixteen, for each such additional store	90.00
For seventeen additional stores and not more than twenty, for each such additional store	100.00
For twenty-one additional stores and not more than thirty, for each such additional store	125.00
For thirty-one additional stores and not more than fifty, for each such additional store	150.00
For fifty-one additional stores and not more than one hundred, for each such additional store	175.00
For one hundred and one additional stores and not more than two hundred, for each such additional store	200.00
For two hundred and one additional stores and over, for each such additional store	225.00

The term "chain store" as used in this section shall include stores operated under separate charters of incorporation, if there is common ownership of a majority of stock in such separately incorporated companies, and/or if there is similarity of name of such separately incorporated companies, and/or if such separately incorporated companies have the benefit in whole or in part of group purchase of merchandise, or of common management. And in like manner the term "chain store" shall apply to any group of stores where a majority interest is owned by an individual or partnership.

Counties shall not levy a license tax on the business taxed under this section, but cities and towns may levy a license tax not in excess of $50.00 for each chain store located in such city or town. For the purpose of ascertaining the particular unit in each chain of stores not subject to taxation by the State under this section, and therefore not liable for city license tax, the particular store in which the principal office of the chain in this State is located shall be designated as the unit in the chain not subject to this tax.

In enforcing the provisions of this section, the commissioner of revenue may prorate the total amount of tax for the chain to the several units and the amount so prorated may be recovered from each unit in the chain in the same way as other taxes levied in this act.

This section shall not apply to retail or wholesale dealers in motor vehicles and automotive equipment and supply dealers at wholesale who are not liable for tax hereunder on account of the sale of other merchandise. (1935, c. 371, s. 162.)

Constitutionality and Nature of Tax.—The classification in this section is a reasonable one based upon a substantial difference. The statute applies equally to all within the class, and it is constitutional and valid. Great A. & P. Tea Co. v. Maxwell, 199 N. C. 433, 154 S. E. 838.

This section, imposes a license tax for the purpose of raising revenue, and not an ad valorem tax. Nor does the statute seek to regulate chain stores under the police power, and the tax is in accord with the fiscal policy of the State of raising revenue for State purposes by the imposition of taxes on trades, professions, franchises and incomes, and leaving to the counties and municipalities for their support ad valorem taxes on real and personal property. Great A. & P. Tea Co. v. Maxwell, 199 N. C. 433, 154 S. E. 838.

Prior Law Invalid.—The prior law, which imposed a license tax of fifty dollars each on stores operated in this State when there were six or more such stores under the same management, but which imposed no such tax on other mercantile establishments doing the same business when there less than six stores under one management, was held an arbitrary classification, and unconstitutional. Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co. v. Doughton, 196 N. C. 145, 144 S. E. 701.

§ 7880(93)a. Branch or chain automotive service stations.—Every person, firm or corporation engaged in the business of operating or maintaining in this State, under the same general management, supervision or ownership, two or more automotive service stations, or engaged in the business of retail selling and/or delivering of any tires, tools, batteries, electrical equipment, automotive accessories, or motor fuels and/or lubricants, or any of such commodities, or who controls by lease either a lessor or lessee, or by contract, the manner in which any such automotive service station is operated, or the kind or kinds, character or brand or brands of merchandise which are sold therein, shall be deemed a branch or chain automotive service station operator, and shall apply for and obtain from the commissioner of revenue a state license for the purpose of engaging in such business of a branch or chain automotive service station operator, and shall pay for such license a tax according to the following schedule:

On each and every such automotive service station in this State in excess of one:

For not more than four additional automotive service stations, for each such station $10.00
For five additional automotive service stations and not more than eight, for each such additional station 15.00
For nine additional automotive service stations and not more than twelve, for each such additional station 20.00
For thirteen additional automotive service stations and not more than sixteen, for each such additional station 25.00
For seventeen additional automotive service stations and not more than twenty, for each such additional station 30.00
For twenty-one additional automotive service stations and not more than thirty, for each such additional station 35.00
For thirty-one additional automotive service stations, and not more than fifty, for each such additional station 47.50
For fifty-one additional automotive service stations and not more than one hundred, for each such additional station 60.00
For one hundred and one automotive service stations and over, for each such additional station 85.00

The term "chain automotive service stations," as used in this section, shall include automotive service stations operated under separate charters of incorporation, if there is common ownership of a majority of stock in such separately incorporated companies, and/or if there is similarity of name of such separately incorporated companies, and/or if such separately incorporated companies have the benefit in whole or in part of group purchase of merchandise, or of common management; and in like manner the term "chain automotive service station" shall apply to any group of automotive service stations where a majority interest is owned by an individual or partnership.

Nothing herein contained shall be construed as placing this tax on lessors or sub-lessors of such automotive service stations who have no control over the operation or management thereof and do not control or restrict the kind or kinds, character, brand or brands of merchandise or price of said brands of merchandise sold or offered for sale therein either in the lease, sub-lease, or by separate contract.

Counties, cities and towns shall not levy a license tax on the business taxed under this section, but this shall in no way affect the right given to counties, cities and towns to levy taxes under section 7880(84).

Any contract or agreemtnt which has been, or may hereafter be, entered into including separate contracts or portions of contracts, between any chain automotive service station operator and the operator of any unit in the chain operated by such branch or chain operator, by the terms of which the operator of any such unit shall be required to pay the tax levied in this section, or to reimburse the branch or chain automotive service station operator for tax paid under this section, is hereby declared to be contrary to public policy, and shall be null, void, and of no effect.

In enforcing this provision of this section the commissioner of revenue may prorate the total amount of tax for the chain to the several units, and the amount so prorated may be recovered from each unit in the chain in the same way as other taxes levied in this act.

Business taxed under this section shall not be taxed under section 7880(93). (1935, c. 371, s. 162½.)

§ 7880(94). Patent rights and formulas.—Every person, firm, or corporation engaged in the business of selling or offering for sale any patent right or formula shall apply in advance and obtain from the commissioner of revenue a separate state license for each and every county in this State where such patent right or formula is to be sold or offered for sale, and shall pay for each such separate license a tax of ten dollars ($10.00).

Counties, cities or towns may levy a license on the business taxed under this section not in excess of the taxes levied by the State. (1935, c. 371, s. 163.)

See section 7796 and the notes thereto.

In General.—It is within the legislative power of taxation, in respect to corporations, to levy any two or more of the following taxes simultaneously (1) on the franchise (including corporate dividends); (2) on the capital stock; (3) on the tangible property of the corporation, and (4) on the shares of the capital stock in the hands of the stockholders. The tax on the two subjects last named is imperative. Board v. Blackwell Durham Tobacco Co., 116 N. C. 441, 21 S. E. 423.

License Tax by State Exclusive.—The general assembly may require a corporation to pay a license tax for the privilege of carrying on its business, and forbid counties or other municipalities to exact any other license tax or fee. Loan Ass'n v. Commissioners, 115 N. C. 410, 414, 20 S. E. 526.

§ 7880(95). Obsolete. As to subsequent statute relating to the taxation of merchants, see § 7880(156)g.

§ 7880(96). Obsolete. As to subsequent statute relating to the taxation of motor vehicles for hire, see § 2621(29).

Constitutionality.—The former section classifying trucks, etc., hauling freight for hire was held to be upon a reasonable and substantial basis, and not discriminatory contrary to the provisions of Const., Art. V, sec. 3, or sec. 1. Fourteenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States. Clark v. Maxwell, 197 N. C. 604, 150 S. E. 190. See also 8 N. C. Law Rev. 218.

Persons operating motor vehicles for hire without regard to fixed termini are required to obtain only the "for hire" license prescribed by this section and not a franchise as required by § 2613(k). See Winborne v. Mackey, 206 N. C. 554, 174 S. E. 577. Followed in Winborne v. Browning, 206 N. C. 557, 174 S. E. 579; Winborne v. Sutton, 206 N. C. 559, 174 S. E. 580.

§ 7880(97). Tax on seals affixed by officers. — Whenever the seal of the State, of the state treasurer, the secretary of state, or of any other public officer required by law to keep a seal (not including clerks of courts, notaries public, and other county officers) shall be affixed to any paper, the tax to be paid by the party applying for same shall be as follows:

For the Great Seal of the State, on any commission $2.50
For the Great Seal of the State on warrants of extradition for fugitives from justice from other States, the same fee and seal tax shall be collected from the State making the requisition which is charged in this State for like service.

For the seal of the state department, to be collected by the secretary of state $1.00

For the seal of the state treasurer, to be collected by him 1.00

For a scroll, when used in the absence of a seal, the tax shall be on the scroll, and the same as for the seal.

(a) All officers shall keep a true, full, and accurate account of the number of times any of such seals or scrolls are used, and shall deliver to the governor of the State a sworn statement thereof.

(b) All seals affixed for the use of any county of the State, used on the commissions of officers of the national guard, and any other public officer not having a salary, under the pension law, or under any process of court, shall be exempt from taxation, or to any commission issued by the governor to any person in the employ of the State, or to be employed by the State. (1935, c. 371, s. 166.)

§ 7880(98). Unlawful to operate without license.—When a license tax is required by law, and whenever the general assembly shall levy a license tax on any business, trade, employment, or profession, or for doing any act, it shall be unlawful for any person, firm, or corporation without a license to engage in such business, trade, employment, profession, or do the act; and when such tax is imposed it shall be lawful to grant a license for the business, trade, employment, or for doing the act; and no person, firm, or corporation shall be allowed the privilege of exercising any business, trade, employment, profession, or the doing of any act taxed in this schedule throughout the State under one license, except under a state-wide license. (1935, c. 371, s. 181.)

See § 7880(104).

§ 7880(99). Manner of obtaining license from the commissioner of revenue.—(a) Every person, firm, or corporation desiring to obtain a state license for the privilege of engaging in any business, trade, employment, profession, or of the doing of any act for which a state license is required shall, unless otherwise provided by law, make application therefor in writing to the commissioner of revenue, in which shall be stated the county, city, or town and the definite place therein where the business, trade, employment, or profession is to be exercised; the name and resident address of the applicant, whether the applicant is an individual, firm, or corporation; the nature of the business, trade, employment, or profession; number of years applicant has prosecuted such business, trade, employment, or profession in this State, and such other information as may be required by the commissioner of revenue. The application shall be accompanied by the license tax prescribed in this article.

(b) Upon receipt of the application for a state license with the tax prescribed by this article, the commissioner of revenue, if satisfied of its correctness, shall issue a state license to the applicant to engage in the business, trade, employment, or profession in the name of and at the place set out in the application. No license issued by the commissioner of revenue shall be valid or have any legal effect unless and until the tax prescribed by law has been paid, and the fact of such shall appear on the face of the license. (1935, c. 371, s. 182.)

§ 7880(100). Persons, firms, and corporations engaged in more than one business to pay tax on each.—Where any person, firm, or corporation is engaged in more than one business, trade, employment, or profession which is made under the provisions of this article subject to state license taxes, such persons, firms, or corporations shall pay the license tax prescribed in this article for each separate business, trade, employment, or profession. (1935, c. 371, s. 183.)

§ 7880(101). Effect of change in name of firm.—No change in the name of the firm nor the taking in of a new partner, nor the withdrawal of one or more of the firm, shall be considered as commencing business; but if any one or more of the partners remain in the firm, the business shall be regarded as continuing. (1935, c. 371, s. 184.)

§ 7880(102). License may be changed when place of business is changed. — When a person, firm, or corporation has obtained a state license to engage in any business, trade, employment, or profession at any definite location in a county, and desires to remove to another location in the same county, the commissioner of revenue may, upon proper application, grant such person, firm, or corporation permission to make such move, and may endorse upon the state license his approval of change in location. (1935, c. 371, s. 185.)

§ 7880(103). Property used in a licensed business not exempt from taxation.—A state license, issued under any of the provisions of this article, shall not be construed to exempt from other forms of taxation the property employed in such licensed business, trade, employment, or profession. (1935, c. 371, s. 186.)

§ 7880(104). Engaging in business without a license.—(a) All state license taxes under this article or schedule, unless otherwise provided for, shall be due and payable annually on or before the first day of June of each year, or at the date of engaging in such business, trade, employment and/or profession, or doing the act.

(b) If any person, firm, or corporation shall continue the business, trade, employment, or profession, or to do the act, after the expiration of a license previously issued, without obtaining a new license, he or it shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined and/or imprisoned in the discretion of the court, but the fine shall not be less than twenty percent of the tax in addition to the tax and the costs; and if such failure to apply for and obtain a new license be continued, such person, firm, or corporation shall pay additional tax of five per centum of the amount of the state license tax which was due and payable on the first day of June of the current year, in addition to the state license tax imposed by this article, for each and every thirty days that such state license tax remains unpaid from the date that same was due and payable, and such additional tax shall be assessed by the commissioner of revenue and paid with the state license tax, and shall become a part of the state license tax. The penalties for delayed payment hereinbefore provided shall not impair the obligation to procure a license in advance or modify any of the pains and penalties for failure to do so.

The provisions of this section shall apply to taxes levied by the counties of the State under authority of this act in the same manner and to the same extent as they apply to taxes levied by the State.

(c) If any person, firm, or corporation shall commence to exercise any privilege or to promote any business, trade, employment, or profession, or to do any act requiring a state license under this article without such state license, he or it shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be fined and/or imprisoned in the discretion of the court; and if such failure, neglect, or refusal to apply for and obtain such state license be continued, such person, firm, or corporation shall pay an additional tax of five per centum of the amount of such state license tax which was due and payable at the commencement of the business, trade, employment, or profession, or doing the act, in addition to the state license tax imposed by this article, for each and every thirty (30) days that such state license tax remains unpaid from the date that same was due and payable, and such additional tax shall be assessed by the commissioner of revenue and paid with the state license tax, and shall become a part of the state license tax.

(d) If any person, firm, or corporation shall fail, refuse, or neglect to make immediate payment of any taxes due and payable under this article, additional taxes, and/or any penalties imposed pursuant thereto, upon demand, the commissioner of revenue shall certify the same to the sheriff of the county in which such delinquent lives or has his place of business, and such sheriff shall have the power and shall levy upon any personal or real property owned by such delinquent person, firm, or corporation, and sell the same for the payment of the said tax or taxes, penalty and costs, in the same manner as provided by law for the levy and sale of property for the collection of other taxes; and if sufficient property is not found, the said sheriff shall swear out a warrant before some justice of the peace or recorder in the county for the violation of the provisions of this act and as provided in this act. (1935, c. 371, s. 187.)

See § 7880(98).

§ 7880(105). Each day's continuance in business without a state license a separate offense.—Each and every day that any person, firm, or corporation shall continue to exercise or engage in any business, trade, employment, or profession, or do any act in violation of the provisions of this article, shall be and constitute a distinct and a separate offense. (1935, c. 371, s. 188.)

§ 7880(106). Duties of commissioner of revenue.—(a) Except where otherwise provided, the commissioner of revenue shall be the duly authorized agent of this State for the issuing of all state licenses and the collection of all license taxes under this article, and it shall be his duty and the duty of his deputies to make diligent inquiry to ascertain whether all persons, firms, or corporations in the various counties of the State who are taxable under the provisions of this article have applied for the state license and paid the tax thereon levied.

(b) The commissioner of revenue shall continually keep in his possession a sufficient supply of blank state license certificates, with corresponding sheets and duplicates consecutively numbered; shall stamp across each state license certificate that is to be good and valid in each and every county of the State the words "state-wide license," and shall stamp or imprint on each and every license certificate the words, "issued by the commissioner of revenue."

(c) Neither the commissioner of revenue nor any of his deputies shall issue any duplicate license unless expressly authorized to do so by a provision of this article or schedule, and unless the original license is lost or has become so mutilated as to be illegible, and in such cases the commissioner of revenue is authorized to issue a duplicate certificate for which the tax is paid, and shall stamp upon its face "duplicate." (1935, c. 371, s. 189.)

§ 7880(107). License to be procured before beginning business.—(a) Every person, firm, or corporation engaging in any business, trade, and/or profession, or doing any act for which a state license is required and a tax is to be paid under the provisions of this article or schedule, shall, annually in advance, on or before the first day of June of each year, or before engaging in such business, trade, and/or profession, or doing the act, apply for and obtain from the commissioner of revenue a state license for the privilege of engaging in such business, trade, and/or profession, or doing such act, and shall pay the tax levied therefor.

(b) Licenses shall be kept posted where business is carried on. No person, firm, or corporation shall engage in any business, trade, and/or profession, or do the act for which a state license is required in this article or schedule, without having such state license posted conspicuously at the place where such business, trade, and/or profession is carried on; and if the business, trade, and/or profession is such that such license cannot be so posted, then the itinerant licensee shall have such license required by this article or schedule in his actual possession at the time of carrying on such business, trade, and/or profession, or doing the act named in this article or schedule, or a duplicate thereof.

(c) Any person, firm, or corporation failing, neglecting, or refusing to have the state license required under this article or schedule posted conspicuously at the place of business for which the license was obtained, or to have the same or a duplicate thereof in actual possession if an itinerant, shall pay an additional tax of twenty-five dollars ($25.00) for each and every separate offense, and each day's failure, neglect, or refusal shall constitute a separate offense. (1935, c. 371, s. 190.)

§ 7880(108). Sheriff and city clerk to report.—The sheriff of each county and the clerk of the board of aldermen of each city or town in the State shall, on or before the fifteenth day of June of each year, make a report to the commissioner of revenue, containing the names and the business, trade, and/or profession of every person, firm, or corporation in his county or city who or which is required to apply for and obtain a State license under the provisions of this article or schedule, and upon such forms as shall be provided and in such detail as may be required by the commissioner of revenue. (1935, c. 371, s. 191.)

Art. 3. Schedule C. Franchise Tax

§ 7880(109). Defining taxes in this article. — The taxes levied and assessed in this article or schedule shall be paid as specifically herein provided, and shall be for the privilege of engaging in or carrying on the business or doing the act named; and if a corporation, shall be a tax for the continuance of its corporate rights and privileges granted under its charter, if incorporated in this State, or by reason of any act of domestication if incorporated in another State, and shall be subject to other regulations mentioned in this act. (1935, c. 371, s. 201.)

See 11 N. C. Law Rev., 258, for general amount of increase made in these taxes by the 1933 act.

Franchise Tax on Corporation.—The franchise tax imposed upon every corporation doing business in the State is a tax upon the privilege of being a corporation, and its payment does not relieve it, or its lessee, from the payment of a tax imposed upon the privilege of carrying on the particular kind of business for which the corporation was chartered. Cobb v. Commissioners, 122 N. C. 307, 30 S. E. 338.

Whenever a tax, is imposed upon a corporation directly by the legislature and is not assessed by assessors, and the amount depends on the amount of business transacted by the corporation, and the extent to which it has exercised the privileges granted in its charter, without reference to the value of its property or the nature of the investments made of it, and is a franchise tax. Burroughs on Tax., 169. Worth v. Petersburg R. Co., 89 N. C. 301, 302, 306.

Tax on Gross Receipts.—A tax on the gross receipts of an insurance company is a privilege tax. Insurance Co. v. Stedman, 130 N. C. 221, 41 S. E. 279.

§ 7880(110). Franchise or privilege tax on railroads. — Every person, firm, or corporation, domestic or foreign, owning and/or operating a railroad in this State, shall, in addition to all other taxes levied and assessed in the State, pay to the commissioner of revenue a franchise, license, or privilege tax for the privilege of engaging in such railroad business within the State of North Carolina, as follows:

(a) Such person, firm, or corporation shall furnish to the commissioner of revenue a copy of the report and statement required to be made to the state board of assessment in the Machinery Act and such other and further information as the commissioner of revenue may require; and upon such report and statement the commissioner of revenue shall ascertain the value upon which the tax to be paid by such person, firm, or corporation as a license or privilege tax shall be calculated.

(b) The value upon which such calculations shall be made by the commissioner of revenue and the measure of the extent to which every such railroad company is carrying on intrastate commerce within the State of North Carolina shall be the value of the total property, tangible and intangible, in this State, for each such railroad company as assessed for ad valorem taxation for the year in which such report is made.

(c) The franchise or privilege tax which every such railroad company shall pay for the privilege of carrying on or engaging in intrastate commerce within this State shall be ninety one-hundredths of one per cent of the value ascertained as above by the commissioner of revenue, and tax shall be due and payable on or before the first day of October of each year, or within thirty days after notice of statement of such tax.

(d) If any such person, firm, or corporation shall fail, neglect, or refuse to make and deliver the report and statement provided for in this section, the commissioner of revenue shall estimate, from the reports and records on file in the department of the state board of assessment, the value upon which the amount of tax due by such company under this section shall be computed, shall levy and assess the franchise or privilege tax upon such estimate, and shall collect the same, together with such penalties herein imposed for failure to make the report and statement.

(e) It is the intention of this section to levy upon railroad companies a license, franchise, or privilege tax for the privilege of engaging in intrastate commerce carried on wholly within this State, and not a part of interstate commerce; that the tax provided for in this section is not intended to be a tax for the privilege of engaging in interstate commerce, nor is it intended to be a tax on the business of interstate commerce, nor is it intended to be a tax having any relation to the interstate or foreign business or commerce in which any such railroad company may be engaged in addition to its business in this State.

(f) No county, city or town shall levy a license, franchise, or privilege tax on the business taxed under this section. (1935, c. 371, s. 202.)

Uniformity in Mode of Assessment.—See note of Worth v. Petersburg R. Co., 89 N. C. 301, under section 7880(174).

§ 7880(111). Franchise or privilege tax on electric light, power, street railway, gas, water, sewerage, and other similar public-service companies not otherwise taxed.—(1) Every person, firm, or corporation, domestic or foreign, other than municipal corporations, engaged in the business of furnishing electricity, electric lights, current, power or gas, owning and/or operating a water or public sewerage system, or owning and/or operating a street railway, including automobile busses, for the transportation of freight or passengers for hire, shall annually, on or before the first day of August, make and deliver to the commissioner of revenue, upon such forms and blanks as required by him, a report and statement, verified by the oath of the officer or agent making such report and statement, containing the following information as of the first day of July of the current calendar year:

(a) The total gross receipts for the year ending the thirtieth day of June of the next preceding fiscal year from such business within and without this State.

(b) The total gross receipts for the same period from such business within this State.

(c) The total gross receipts from the commodities described in this section sold to any other person, firm, or corporation engaged in selling such commodities to the public, and actually sold by such vendee, to the public, for consumption and tax paid by the vendee, together with the name of such vendee, with the amount sold and the price paid by each.

(d) The total amount and price paid for such commodities purchased from another public-service company doing business in this State, and the name or names of the vendor.

(2) From the total gross receipts within this State there shall be deducted the gross receipts reported in subsection (1) (c) of this section: Provided, that this deduction shall not be allowed where the sale of such commodities were made to any person, firm, or corporation or municipality which is exempted by law from the payment of the tax herein imposed upon such commodities when sold or used by it.

(3) Such person, firm, or corporation shall pay an annual franchise or privilege tax of six per cent of the total gross receipts derived from such business within this State, after the deductions allowed as herein provided for, which said tax shall be for the privilege of carrying on or engaging in the business named in this State, and shall be paid to the commissioner of revenue at the time of filing the report herein provided for: Provided, the tax upon privately owned water companies shall be four (4) per cent of the total gross receipts derived from such business within this State.

(3a) Any person, firm, or corporation failing to file report and pay tax found to be due in accordance with the provisions of this section on or before August first of each year shall in addition to all other penalties prescribed in this act pay an additional tax of ten per cent and interest at the rate of six per cent per annum on the total amount of tax due and additional tax incurred, which said additional tax shall in no case be less than two dollars ($2.00), and shall be added to the tax, together with interest accrued, and shall become an integral part of the tax.

(4) The report herein required of gross receipts within and without the State, to be made in each year on the first day of August, shall include the total gross receipts for the previous year ending June thirtieth of all properties owned and operated by the reporting company on the first day of August in each year, whether operated by it for the previous annual period, or whether intermediately acquired by purchase or lease, it being the intent and purpose of this section to measure the amount of privilege or franchise tax in each year with reference to the gross receipts of the property operated for the previous year and to fix liability for the payment of the tax on the owner, operator, or lessor on the first day of August in each year.

(5) Companies taxed under this section shall not be required to pay the franchise tax imposed by sections 7880(118) or 7880(119), unless the tax levied by sections 7880(118) and 7880(119) exceed the tax levied in this section, and no county shall impose a franchise or privilege tax upon the business taxed under this section, and no city or town shall impose a greater privilege or license tax upon such companies than that which is now imposed by any such city or town. (1935, c. 371, s. 203.)

§ 7880(112). Franchise or privilege tax on Pullman, sleeping, chair, and dining cars.—Every person, firm, or corporation, domestic or foreign, engaged in the business of operating any Pullman, sleeping, chair, dining, or other similar cars, where an extra charge is made for the use or occupancy of same, shall annually, on or before the first day of August, make and deliver to the commissioner of revenue, upon such forms, blanks, and in such manner as may be required by him, a full, accurate, and true report and statement, verified by the oath of the officer or agent making such report, of the total gross receipts of such person, firm, or corporation from such business wholly within this State during the year ending the thirtieth day of June of the current year.

(1) Such person, firm, or corporation shall pay an annual privilege, license, or franchise tax of ten (10) per cent of the total gross receipts derived from such business wholly within this State; which said tax shall be paid for the privilege of carrying on or engaging in the business named in this State, and shall be paid to the commissioner of revenue at the time of filing the report and statements herein provided for.

(2) No county, city or town shall impose any franchise or privilege tax on the business taxed under this section. (1935, c. 371, s. 204.)

§ 7880(113). Franchise or privilege tax on express companies.—Every person, firm, or corporation, domestic or foreign, engaged in this State in the business of an express company as defined in this act, shall, in addition to a copy of the report required in the Machinery Act, annually, on or before the first day of August, make and deliver to the commissioner of revenue a report and statement, verified by the oath of the officer or agent making such report or statement, containing the following information as of the first day of July of the current year:

(a) The average amount of invested capital employed within and without the State in such business during the year ending the thirtieth day of June of the current year.

(b) The total net income earned on such invested capital from such business during the year ending the thirtieth day of June of the current year.

(c) The total number of miles of railroad lines or other common carriers over which such express companies operate in this State during the year ending the thirtieth day of June of the current year.

(1) Every such person, firm, or corporation, domestic or foreign, engaged in such express business within this State shall pay to the commissioner of revenue, at the time of filing the report required in this section, the following annual franchise or privilege tax for the privilege of engaging in such express business within this State:

Where the net income on the average capital invested during the year ending the thirtieth day of June of the current year is six per cent or less, eighteen dollars ($18.00) per mile of railroad lines.

More than six per cent and less than eight per cent, twenty-one dollars ($21.00) per mile of railroad lines.

Eight per cent and over, twenty-five dollars ($25.00) per mile of railroad lines operated over.

(2) Every such person, firm, or corporation, domestic or foreign, who or which engages in such business without having had previous receipts upon which to levy the franchise or privilege tax, shall report to the commissioner at the time of beginning business in this State and pay for such privilege of engaging in business in this State a tax of seven dollars and fifty cents ($7.50) per mile of the railroad lines operated over or proposed to operate over.

(3) Counties shall not levy a franchise, privilege, or license tax on the business taxed under this section, and municipalities may levy an annual franchise, privilege, or license tax on such express companies for the privilege of doing business within the municipal limits as follows:

Municipalities of less than 500 population	$ 5.00
Municipalities of 500 and less than 1,000 population	10.00
Municipalities of 1,000 and less than 5,000 population	20.00
Municipalities of 5,000 and less than 10,000 population	30.00
Municipalities of 10,000 and less than 20,000 population	50.00
Municipalities of 20,000 and over	75.00

(1935, c. 371, s. 205.)

Constitutionality.—A tax upon express companies of $15.00 per mile of track over which they operate in this State, when the net income is six per cent or less, levied under the provisions of the former statute, was held valid under the provisions of our State Constitution, Art. V, sec. 3. Railway Express Agency v. Maxwell, 199 N. C. 637, 155 S. E. 553.

Where a tax levied on an express company under the provisions of the statute is $15.00 per mile of track over which it operates in this State, amounting to slightly in excess of 12 per cent of its gross revenue exclusively derived from intrastate business, not taking into account large gross receipts from interstate business, it will not be held as a matter of law that the tax is unconstitutional as being confiscatory. Railway Express Agency v. Maxwell, 199 N. C. 637, 638, 155 S. E. 553.

Question of Earnings within and without State Immaterial.—Where a statute imposes a tax upon express companies based upon the mileage of track in this State over which they operate, levying a tax of $15.00 per mile when the net income of the company is six per cent or less, $18.00 when the net income does not exceed eight per cent, and $21.00 per mile when the net income exceeds eight per cent, and the State levies the minimum tax on an express company, which sues to recover the amount so paid, the question of the ratio of the company's net earnings in this and other States, and the amount of the net income are immaterial to the conclusion as to whether the tax is valid, the tax levied being constant regardless of income or the ratio between interstate and intrastate business, and the validity of the higher rate of taxes levied by the statute is not directly presented for decision. Railway Express Agency v. Maxwell, 199 N. C. 637, 638, 155 S. E. 553.

Uniformity Required.—See note of Worth v. Petersburg R. Co., 89 N. C. 301, under section 7880(174).

§ 7880(114). Franchise or privilege tax on telegraph companies.—Every person, firm, or corporation, domestic or foreign, engaged in operating the apparatus necessary to communication by telegraph between points within this State shall annually, on or before the first day of August, furnish the commissioner of revenue a copy of the report and statement required to be filed with the state board of assessment in the Machinery Act; and at the same time such report and statement is filed with the commissioner of revenue shall pay to him for the privilege of engaging in such business within the State an annual franchise or privilege tax of seven dollars ($7.00) per mile of line of poles or conduits owned and/or operated by such persons, firms, or corporations in this State: Provided, that the annual franchise or privilege tax on any telegraph company, the annual gross receipts of which do not exceed one thousand dollars ($1,000.00), shall be two dollars ($2.00) per mile of line of poles or conduits owned and operated by such company.

(a) Nothing in this section shall be construed to authorize the imposition of any tax upon interstate commerce or upon any business transacted by the federal government.

(b) Counties shall not levy a franchise, privilege, or license tax on the business taxable under this section, and municipalities may levy the following license tax:

Less than 5,000 population	$10.00
5,000 and less than 10,000 population	15.00
10,000 and less than 20,000 population	20.00
20,000 population and over	50.00

§ 7880(115). Franchise or privilege tax on telephone companies. — Every person, firm, or corporation, domestic or foreign, owning and/or operating a telephone business for the transmission of messages and/or conversations to, from, through, in, or across this State, shall, within thirty days after the first day of January, April, July, and October of each year, make a quarterly return, verified by the oath of the officer or agent making such return, to the commissioner of revenue, showing the total amount of gross receipts of such telephone company for the three months ending the last day of the month immediately preceding such return, and pay the license or privilege tax herein imposed at the time of making such return.

(a) An annual franchise or privilege tax of six per cent (6%), payable quarterly, on the gross receipts of such telephone company, is herein imposed for the privilege of engaging in such business within this State. Such gross receipts shall include all rentals, other similar charges, and all tolls received from business which both originates and terminates in the State of North Carolina, whether such business in the course of transmission goes outside of this State or not, in the proportion that the pole mileage of such company in the State bears to the pole mileage in another state through which the message is transmitted: Provided, that such telephone companies whose records show their gross receipts within this State upon a basis other than the pole mileage proportion may, with the approval of the commissioner of revenue, make return of their gross receipts upon such other basis: Provided further, where any city or town in this State has heretofore sold at public auction to the highest bidder the right, license and/or privilege of engaging in such business in such city or town, based upon a percentage of gross revenue of such telephone company, and is now collecting and receiving therefor a revenue or tax not exceeding one per cent of such revenues, the amount so paid by such operating company, upon being certified by the treasurer of such municipality to the commissioner of revenue, shall be from time to time credited by the department of revenue to such telephone company upon the tax imposed by the State under this section of this act.

(b) Any such person, firm, or corporation, domestic or foreign, who or which fails, neglects, or refuses to make the return, and/or pay the tax at the time provided for in this section shall pay an additional tax of ten per cent (10%) and interest at the rate of six per cent (6%) per annum on the total amount of tax due and additional tax incurred, which said additional tax shall not be less than two dollars ($2.00) in any case, and shall be added to the tax, together with the interest accrued, and shall become an integral part of the tax.

(c) Nothing in this section shall be construed to authorize the imposition of any tax upon interstate commerce.

(d) Counties, cities and towns shall not levy any franchise, license, or privilege tax on the business taxed under this section. (1935, c. 371, s. 207.)

See section 7880(174) and note thereunder.

§ 7880(116). Franchise or privilege tax on insurance companies.—Every person, firm, or corporation, domestic or foreign, which contracts on his, their, or its account to issue any policies for or agreements for life, fire, marine, surety, guaranty, fidelity, employers' liability, liability, credit, health, accident, livestock, plate glass, tornado, automobile, automatic sprinkler, burglary, steam boiler, and all other forms of insurance shall apply for and obtain from the insurance commissioner a state license for the privilege of engaging in such business within this State, and shall pay for such state license the following tax:

(1) The annual license or privilege tax, due and payable on or before the first day of April of each year, shall be for each such license issued to:

An insurance rate-making company or association	$350.00
A life insurance company or association	250.00
A fire insurance company or association of companies operating a separate or distinct plant of agencies	200.00
An accident or health insurance company or association	200.00
A marine insurance company or association	200.00
A fidelity or surety company or association	200.00
A plate-glass insurance company or association	200.00
A boiler insurance company or association	200.00
A foreign mutual insurance company or association	200.00
A domestic farmers' mutual insurance company or association	10.00
A fraternal order	25.00
A bond, investment, dividend, guaranty, registry, title guaranty, credit, fidelity, liability, or debenture company or association	200.00
All other insurance companies or associations except domestic mutual burial associations	200.00

On all domestic mutual burial associations, and on each additional branch thereof operated (and where any mutual burial association has designated more than one undertaker to operate for it), the tax shall be in each instance as upon a separate branch thereof:

With a membership of less than 5,000	$ 50.00
With a membership of 5,000 or less than 15,000	75.00
With a membership of 15,000 or more	100.00

(a) When the paid-in capital stock and/or surplus of a life insurance company does not exceed one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000.00) the license tax levied in subsection (1) shall be one-half the amount named.

(2) Every such person, firm, or corporation, domestic or foreign, engaged in the business hereinbefore described in this section, shall by its general agent, president, or secretary, within the first thirty days of January and July of each year, file with the insurance commissioner of this State a full, accurate, and correct report and statement, verified by the oath of such general agent or president, secretary, or some officer at the home or head office of the company or association in this country, of the total gross premium receipts including premiums or deposits on annuity contracts derived from such insurance business from the residents of this State, or on property located therein, during the preceding six months of the previous calendar year, and at the time of making such report and statement shall, except as hereinafter provided, pay to the insurance commissioner, in addition to other license taxes imposed in this section, a license or privilege tax for the privilege of engaging in such business in this State, a license tax of two and one-half per cent (2½%) upon the amount of such gross premium receipts, with no deduction for dividends, whether returned in cash or allowed in payment or reduction of premium or for additional insurance, and without any deduction except for return premiums or return assessments. The rate of tax on premiums for liability under the Workmen's Compensation Act for all insurance companies collecting such premiums shall be four per cent (4%) on all premiums collected in this State on such liability insurance, and a corresponding rate of tax shall be collected from self-insurers: Provided, if any general agent shall file with the insurance commissioner a sworn statement showing that one-fifth of the entire assets of his company are invested and are maintained in any of the following securities or property, to-wit: bonds of this State or any county, city, town, or school district of this State, or in loans to citizens or corporations or organizations of this State, then such tax shall be three-fourths per centum of such gross premium receipts: Provided, that the provisions herein as to tax and premium receipts shall not apply to domestic farmers' mutual fire insurance companies, nor to fraternal orders or societies that do not operate for a profit and do not issue policies on any persons except its members.

(3) Every special or district agent, manager or organizer, general agent, local canvassing agent, resident or nonresident adjuster, or nonresident broker, representing any company referred to in this section, shall on or before the first day of April of each year apply for and obtain from the insurance commissioner a license for the privilege of engaging in such business in this State, and shall pay for such license for each company represented the following annual tax:

Special or district agent, manager, or organizer (including seal)	$ 5.00
General agent	6.00
Local or canvassing agent (including seal)	2.50
Resident fire insurance adjuster	2.00
Nonresident fire insurance adjuster	5.00
Nonresident broker	10.00

But any such company having assets invested and maintained in this State as provided in subsection (3) of this section shall pay the following license fees: for

Special agent (including seal)	$2.50
Local canvassing agent (including seal)	1.00

Any person not licensed as an insurance agent on April first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three, and applying for license thereafter, shall pay an examination fee of ten dollars ($10.00), to be paid to the insurance commissioner as other license fees and taxes: Provided, agents for farm mutual fire insurance companies shall not be required to take an examination and pay the examination fee.

In the event a license issued under this subsection is lost or destroyed, the insurance commissioner, for a fee of fifty cents ($.50), may certify to its issuance, giving number, date, and form, which may be used by the original party named thereon in lieu of the said original license. There shall be no charge for the seal affixed to such certificate of said license.

(4) Any person, firm, or corporation, domestic or foreign, exchanging reciprocal or inter-insurance contracts as provided herein, shall pay through their attorneys an annual license fee, due and payable on the first day of April of each year, of two hundred dollars ($200.00) and two and one-half per cent (2½%) of the gross premium deposits, and also all other regular fees prescribed by law, to be reported, assessed, and paid as other gross premium taxes provided for in this section: Provided, the tax on workmen's compensation insurance premiums shall be the same as that fixed in subsection (2) of this section.

(5) Companies paying the tax levied in this section shall not be liable for franchise tax on their capital stock, and no county, city or town shall be allowed to impose any additional tax, license or fee, other than ad valorem taxes, upon any insurance company or association paying the tax levied in this section. The license fees and taxes imposed in this section shall be paid to the insurance commissioner. (1935, c. 371, s. 208.)

Constitutionality.—Foreign corporations do business here by comity of the state, and the latter may impose a license tax as a condition upon which such corporation may do business here under the protection of our laws, where such is not an interference with interstate commerce, or that tax otherwise invalid. Pittsburg Life, etc., Co. v. Young, 172 N. C. 470, 90 S. E. 568; and it is no valid objection that such tax is higher than that imposed on similar domestic corporations. Id.

The license tax imposed upon the gross receipts of insurance companies on business written within the borders of our State, is not in contravention of the fourteenth amendment to the Constitution of the United States, as to due process and equal protection of the law, nor a burden upon interstate commerce, being restricted to intrastate commerce, and not extending beyond the boundaries of the State. Pittsburg Life, etc., Co. v. Young, 172 N. C. 470, 90 S. E. 568.

The determination of the question as to just how far a state legislature could go in prohibiting foreign corporation from doing business within the state or just what restrictions and condition could be validly imposed has given rise to many conflicting decisions. The cases, over a long period of time, were far from being harmonious and the various courts could not agree as to where the line of demarcation should be drawn. Finally the question was presented to the United States Supreme Court and the substance of the present rules in regard to this subject appears to be this: (1) a state may validly close her doors to a foreign corporation and prohibit it from coming within her borders to do business. (2) A state, upon granting admittance to a foreign corporation, may validly impose any and all restrictions and conditions it sees fit, and such corporation cannot object that a compliance with the same conditions is not exacted of a domestic corporation.

This seems to be the limit of the state's power, and the line is drawn when (3) it is held that a state, upon permitting a foreign corporation to do business within her borders, cannot require that if a suit or action is brought against such corporation, then the corporation cannot carry the case to a federal court.—Ed. Note.

Tax on Gross Earnings.—The tax on gross receipts means all receipts from business done in the state, whether the money is paid here or forwarded to the main office. Pittsburg Life, etc., Co. v. Young, 172 N. C. 470, 90 S. E. 568.

Same—A License Tax.—The tax imposed upon the gross earnings of foreign life insurance companies doing business within this state, derived within this state, is a license or occupation tax. Pittsburg Life, etc., Co. v. Young, 172 N. C. 470, 90 S. E. 568.

§ 7880(117). Obsolete.

§ 7880(118). Franchise tax on domestic corporations. — (1) Every domestic corporation, except as otherwise provided in this article, or schedule, organized under the laws of this State, shall annually on or before the first day of July of each year make and deliver to the commissioner of revenue in such form as he may prescribe a full, accurate, and complete report and statement, verified by the oath of the president, vice-president, secretary, or general manager, containing such facts and information as may be required by the commissioner of revenue as shown by the books and records of the corporation as at the close of its last calendar or fiscal year.

(2) Upon the filing of the report and statement provided for in this section the commissioner of revenue shall determine the amount of the issued and outstanding capital stock, surplus and undivided profits of each such domestic corporation, which in no case shall be less than the assessed value of all the property of such domestic corporation in this State for the year in which report and statement is made nor less than the amount of issued and outstanding capital stock. No reservation or allocation from surplus and undivided profits shall be allowed other than for definite and accrued legal liabilities. Taxes accrued and dividends declared shall be treated as deductible liabilities.

After ascertaining and determining the amount of the capital stock, surplus and undivided profits as herein provided, there is hereby levied and the commissioner of revenue shall assess a franchise tax for the privilege of carrying on, doing business, and/or the continuance of its charter within the State, on each and every such corporation at the rate of one dollar and seventy-five cents ($1.75) for each one thousand dollars ($1,000.00) of the determined amount of its capital stock, surplus and undivided profits; and such tax shall not be less than $10.00 in any case, and shall be paid to the commissioner of revenue within thirty days after date of notice of such tax. The provisions of this section that the basis of franchise tax shall not be less than the amount of issued and outstanding capital stock shall not apply to corporations in receivership, but such franchise tax shall be based upon the other factors set out in this section. The provisions of this subsection that the basis for franchise tax shall not be less than the amount of issued and outstanding capital stock shall not apply to domestic corporations, ninety per cent of whose stock is owned by persons or corporations to whom or to which such stock was issued prior to January 1, 1935, in part payment or settlement of their respective deposits in any closed bank in the State of North Carolina.

(3) Counties, cities, and towns shall not levy a franchise tax on the corporations taxed under this section. (1935, c. 371, s. 210.)

See 12 N. C. Law Rev., 35.

§ 7880(119). Franchise tax on foreign corporations.—(1) Every foreign corporation permitted to do business in this State and owning or using any part or all of its capital or plant in this State and subject to compliance with all other provisions of law and in addition to all other statements required by law shall annually on or before the first day of July make and deliver to the commissioner of revenue, in such form as he may prescribe, a full, accurate and complete report and statement, verified by the oath of the president, vice-president, secretary, or general manager, containing such facts and information as may be required by the commissioner of revenue, as shown by the books and records of the corporation as at the close of its last calendar or fiscal year.

(2) Upon the filing of the report and statement provided for in this section the commissioner of revenue shall determine the amount of the issued and outstanding capital stock, surplus and undivided profits of each such foreign corporation, less the book value of good-will, including brands, except such brands as have been purchased by the corporation. No reservation or allocation from surplus and undivided profits shall be allowed other than for definite and accrued legal liabilities. Taxes accrued and dividends declared shall be treated as deductible liabilities.

After ascertaining and determining the amount of the capital stock, surplus and undivided profits as herein provided, the commissioner of revenue shall allocate to the business of each such corporation permitted to do business in this State a proportion of the amount of the capital stock, surplus and undivided profits of each such foreign corporation in accordance with the general rules set out in section 7880(128) as the basis for allocating the proportion of the total net income of each such corporation taxable as income earned in this State. The proportion of the total capital stock, surplus and undivided profits of each such foreign corporation allocated in accordance with the general rules of allocation set out in section 7880(128) shall be deemed to be the proportion of the capital stock, surplus and undivided profits of each such foreign corporation used in connection with its business in this State and liable for an annual franchise tax under this section. After determining the amount of the capital stock, surplus and undivided profits of each such foreign corporation allocated for franchise tax under this section, there is hereby levied and the commissioner of revenue shall assess for the privilege of exercising and/or the continuance of its franchise, or doing and continuing business within this State, a franchise tax at the rate of one dollar and seventy-five cents ($1.75) for each one thousand dollars ($1,000.00) of the amount of capital stock, surplus and undivided profits so allocated to the business of each such foreign corporation in this State. The proportion of the total capital stock, surplus and undivided profits allocated for franchise taxation under this section shall in no case be less than the total assessed value of the real and personal property in this State of each such foreign corporation, nor less than its investment and/or actual book value of real and personal property in this State. The tax imposed in this section shall in no case be less than ten dollars ($10.00) and shall be paid to the commissioner of revenue within thirty days after date of notice of such tax.

(3) Counties, cities, and towns shall not levy a franchise tax on the corporations taxed under this section. (1935, c. 371, s. 211.)

§ 7880(119)a. Subsidiary corporations.—(a) If in the opinion of the commissioner the capital stock of a corporation which is a subsidiary of another corporation or closely affiliated therewith by stock ownership is inadequate for its business needs apart from credit extended or indebtedness guaranteed by the parent or an affiliated corporation, the commissioner shall, in determining the amount of capital, surplus and undivided profits of such corporation with respect to its liability for franchise tax under sections 7880(118) and 7880(119) include its indebtedness owed to or guaranteed by the parent or an affiliated corporation in the amount of capital, surplus and undivided profits of such corporation in determining the basis for its franchise tax liability under this act.

(b) Every report required under sections 7880(118) and 7880(119) shall contain a copy of the last comparative balance sheet statement filed with the federal government for income tax purposes. (1935, c. 371, s. 211½.)

§ 7880(119)b. New corporations.—(a) No corporation, domestic or foreign, shall be permitted to do business in this State without paying the franchise tax assessed in this act. When such domestic corporation is organized under laws of this State or such foreign corporation is domesticated in this State, and has not heretofore done business in the State, upon which a report might be filed under sections 7880(118) and 7880(119), notice thereof shall be given to the commissioner of revenue by such corporation, and it shall be competent for the commissioner of revenue and he is hereby authorized to obtain such information concerning the basis for the levy of the tax from such other information he can obtain, and to that end may require of such corporation to furnish him such a report as may clearly reflect and disclose the amount of its issued and outstanding capital stock, surplus and undivided profits as set out in sections 7880(118) and 7880(119), and information as to such other factors as may be necessary to determine the basis of the tax. When this has been determined, in accordance with the provisions of sections 7880(118) and 7880(119), respectively, as far as the same may be applicable, and upon the information which he has secured, the commissioner of revenue shall thereupon determine the amount of franchise tax to be paid by such corporation, which, in no event, shall be less than a ratable proportion of the tax for the franchise privilege extended for one year on the determined basis, nor less than the minimum tax of ten dollars ($10.00).

(b) Any corporation failing to notify the commissioner of revenue as provided for in sub-section (a) of this section within twenty (20) days after date of the incorporation or domestication of such corporation in this State shall be subject to all penalties and remedies imposed for failure to file any report required under this article or schedule. (1935, c. 371, s. 211¾.)

§ 7880(120). Notice of franchise tax assessed.— After fixing and determining the amount of issued and outstanding capital stock, surplus and undivided profits of a domestic corporation and the proportion of the amount of issued and outstanding capital stock, surplus and undivided profits of a foreign corporation as prescribed in sections 7880(118) and 7880(119) the commissioner of revenue shall notify such corporation of the amount fixed and determined by him as a basis for the franchise tax, and each such corporation may at any time within ten days after date of such notice apply to the commissioner of revenue for a review and reassessment, and the commissioner of revenue shall hear such evidence as may be offered and shall make such findings as the case may demand. (1935, c. 371, s. 212.)

§ 7880(121). Corporations not mentioned. — None of the provisions in sections 7880(118) and 7880(119) shall apply to fraternal, benevolent, or educational corporations not operating for a profit; nor to banking and insurance companies. The provisions of sections 7880(118) and 7880(119) shall apply to railroad, electric light, power, street railway, gas, water, pullman, sleeping and dining car, express, telegraph, telephone, motor bus, and truck corporations to the extent and only to the extent that the franchise tax levied in sections 7880(118) and 7880(119) exceed the franchise taxes levied in other sections of this article or schedule. The exemptions in this section shall apply only to those corporations specifically mentioned, and no other. (1935, c. 371, s. 213.)

§ 7880(122). Penalty for non-payment. — Any person, firm, or corporation, domestic or foreign, failing to pay the license, privilege, or franchise tax levied and assessed under this article or schedule when due and payable shall, in addition to all other penalties prescribed in this act, pay an additional tax of ten per cent (10%) and interest at the rate of six per cent (6%) per annum on the total amount of tax due and additional tax incurred, which said additional tax shall not be less than two dollars ($2.00) in any case, and shall be added to the tax, together with the interest accrued, and shall become an integral part of the tax: Provided further, that any person, firm, or corporation failing to file the report required in this article or schedule on or before the date specified shall pay a penalty of ten per centum (10%) of the tax found to be due, which penalty shall in no case be less than ten dollars ($10.00). (1935, c. 371, s. 214.)

§ 7880(123). When franchise or privilege taxes payable.—(a) Every corporation, domestic or foreign, from which a report is required by law to be made to the commissioner of revenue shall, unless otherwise provided, pay to said commissioner annually the franchise tax imposed by sections 7880(118) and 7880(119).

(b) It shall be the duty of the commissioner of revenue to mail every such corporation a statement of the amount of such taxes, which statement shall contain a copy of so much of this and other sections of this act as relates to penalties for failure to pay said taxes.

(c) It shall be the duty of the treasurer or other officer having charge of any such corporation, domestic or foreign, upon which a tax is imposed, to transmit the amount of the tax to the commissioner of revenue within thirty days from the date of such notice.

(d) Individual stockholders in any corporation, joint stock association, limited partnership, or company paying a tax on its entire capital stock shall not be required to list or pay ad valorem tax on the shares of stock owned by them.

(e) Corporations in the State legally holding shares of stock in other corporations, upon which the tax has been paid to this State by the corporation issuing the same, shall not be required to list or pay an ad valorem tax on said shares of stock.

(f) No individual stockholder of shares of stock in any foreign corporation who has complied with section 7880(129) by paying a tax of six per cent on the income received from such shares of stock shall be required to list or pay any ad valorem tax on any shares of its capital stock in this State, and the situs of such shares of stock in foreign corporations owned by residents of this State who have complied with section 7880(129) for the purposes of this act is hereby declared to be at the place where such corporation undertakes and carries on its principal business. The situs of shares of stock in any foreign corporation owned by residents of this State who fail to comply with the provisions of section 7880(129) is hereby declared to be the place of residence of such shareholders resident in this State. If any such resident shareholders of stocks in foreign corporations shall fail or refuse to comply with the provisions of section 7880(129), it shall be the duty of the commissioner of revenue to certify to the board of commissioners of the county or of the county and city where such shareholder resides the amount and value of such shares of stock, the company or companies in which such shares of stock are held, and upon such certification it shall be the duty of the board of commissioners of such county, or of such county and city, to enter the value of such shares of stock on the tax books of the county, or of the county and city, and to compute against the value of such shares of stock the rates of taxation levied by such county or county and city, and the taxes so computed shall become a lien upon any property owned by such shareholder and subject to all the legal remedies provided for collection of other property taxes. (1935, c. 371, s. 215.)

§ 7880(123)a. Additional taxes. — If the commissioner of revenue discovers from the examination of the return, or otherwise, that franchise or privilege tax of any taxpayer, or any portion thereof, has not been assessed, he may, at any time within three years after the time when the return was due, give notice, in writing, to the taxpayer of such deficiency. The commissioner of revenue, in the case of any taxpayer who has failed to file any return required under this article or schedule, shall, from facts and information in his knowledge, prepare a tentative return for such taxpayer, and shall assess the taxes, penalties, and interest upon these findings; this provision shall not be construed to relieve the said taxpayer from any penalties and remedies imposed for failure to file proper return. Any taxpayer feeling aggrieved by such proposed assessment shall be entitled to a hearing before the commissioner of revenue, if within thirty days after giving notice of such proposed assessment he shall apply for such hearing in writing, explaining in detail his objections to same. If no request for such hearing is made such proposed assessment shall be final and conclusive. If the request for hearing is made, the taxpayer shall be heard by the commissioner of revenue, and after such hearing the commissioner of revenue shall render his decision. The taxpayer shall be advised of his decision by registered mail, and such amount shall be due within ten days after notice is given. The provisions of this act with respect to revision and appeal shall apply to the tax so assessed. The limitation of three years to the assessment of such tax or additional tax shall not apply to the assessment of additional taxes upon fraudulent return. Any officer or agent of a corporation who shall knowingly make a fraudulent return under this article or schedule shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be fined not less than one hundred dollars ($100.00) nor more than one thousand dollars ($1,000.00) and/or imprisoned at the discretion of the court. (1935, c. 371, s. 216.)

§ 7880(123)b. Power of attorney. — The commissioner of revenue shall have the authority to require a proper power of attorney of each and every agent for any taxpayer under this act. (1935, c. 371, s. 217.)

Art. 4. Schedule D. Income Tax

§ 7880(124). Short title. — This act shall be known and may be cited as the income tax act of one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five. (1935, c. 371, s. 300.)

§ 7880(125). Purpose.—The general purpose of this act is to impose a tax for the use of the state government, upon the net income for the calendar year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five in excess of exemptions herein set out, collectible in the year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-six and annually thereafter—

(a) Of every resident of the State.

(b) Of every domestic corporation.

(c) Of every foreign corporation and of every non-resident individual having a business or agency in this State or income from property owned and from every business, trade, profession or occupation carried on in this State.

(d) The tax imposed upon the net income of corporations in this schedule is in addition to the tax imposed under Schedule C [§§ 7880(109)-7880(123)b] of this act. (1935, c. 371, s. 301.)

§ 7880(126). Definitions.—For the purpose of this act, and unless otherwise required by the context:

1. The word "taxpayer" includes any individual, corporation, or fiduciary subject to the tax imposed by this act.

2. The word "individual" means a natural person.

3. The word "fiduciary" means a guardian, trustee, executor, administrator, receiver, conservator, or any person, whether individual or corporation, acting in any fiduciary capacity for any person, estate, or trust.

4. The word "person" includes individuals, fiduciaries, partnerships.

5. The word "corporation" includes joint stock companies or associations and insurance companies.

6. The words "domestic corporation" mean any corporation organized under the laws of this State.

7. The words "foreign corporation" mean any corporation other than a domestic corporation.

8. The words "tax year" mean the calendar year in which the tax is payable.

9. The words "income year" mean the calendar year or the fiscal year upon the basis of which the net income is computed under this act; if no fiscal year has been established, they mean the calendar year.

10. The words "fiscal year" mean an income year, ending on the last day of any month other than December.

11. The word "paid," for the purposes of the deductions under this act, means "paid or accrued" and the words "paid or accrued" shall be construed according to the method of accounting upon the basis of which the net income is computed under this act. The word "received," for the purpose of the computation of the net income under this act, means "received or accrued" and the words "received or accrued" shall be construed according to the method of accounting upon the basis of which the net income is computed under this act.

12. The word "resident" applies only to individuals, and includes, for the purpose of determining liability to the tax imposed by this act, with reference to the income of any income year, any individual who shall be a resident of the State on the first day of the tax year and shall include all income earned while a resident of this State.

13. The words "foreign country" mean any jurisdiction other than the one embraced within the United States. The words "United States," when used in a geographical sense, includes the States, and Territories of Alaska and Hawaii, the District of Columbia, and the possessions of the United States. (1935, c. 371, s. 302.)

Salary of Federal Officer Not Taxable.—A state cannot tax the salary of a federal officer, nor of a state officer whose office is created by the constitution. Purnell v. Page, 133 N. C. 125, 45 S. E. 534.

§ 7880 (127). Individuals. — A tax is hereby imposed upon every resident of the State, which tax shall be levied, collected and paid annually, with respect to the net income of the taxpayer as herein defined, and upon income earned within the State of every non-resident having a business or agency in this State or income from property owned and from every business, trade, profession or occupation carried on in this State, computed at the following rates, after deducting the exemptions provided in this act:

On the excess over the amount legally exempted, up to two thousand dollars, three per cent.

On the excess above two thousand dollars, and up to four thousand dollars, four per cent.

On the excess above four thousand dollars, and up to six thousand dollars, five per cent.

On the excess over six thousand dollars, six per cent. (1935, c. 371, s. 310.)

§ 7880(128). Corporations.

I. Domestic corporations. — Every corporation organized under the laws of this State shall pay annually an income tax equivalent to six per cent on the entire net income, as herein defined, received by such corporation during the income year.

II. Foreign corporations.—Every foreign corporation doing business in this State shall pay annually an income tax equivalent to six per cent of a proportion of its entire net income, to be determined according to the following rules:

1. If the principal business of a company in this State is manufacturing, or if it is any form of collecting, assembling, or processing goods and materials within this State, the entire net income of such corporation shall be apportioned by North Carolina on the basis of the ratio obtained by taking the arithmetical average of the following two ratios:

(a) The ratio of the fair cash value of its real estate and tangible personal property in this State on the date of the close of the fiscal year of such corporation in the income year is to the fair cash value of its entire real estate and tangible personal property then owned by it, with no deductions on account of encumbrances thereon.

(b) The ratio of the total cost of manufacturing, collecting, assembling, or processing within this State during the income year to the total cost of manufacturing, collecting, assembling, or processing within and without the State. The term "cost of manufacturing, collecting, assembling, or processing within and without this State" as used herein shall be interpreted in a manner to conform as nearly as may be to the best accounting practice in the trade or business. Unless in the opinion of the commissioner of revenue the peculiar circumstances in any case justify a different basis, this term shall be generally interpreted to include as elements of cost within and without this State the following:

(c) The total cost of all goods, materials, and supplies used in manufacturing, assembling, or processing, regardless of where purchased.

(d) The total wages and salaries paid or incurred during the income year in such manufacturing, assembling, or processing activities.

(e) The total overhead or manufacturing burden properly assignable according to good accounting practice to such manufacturing, assembling, or processing activities.

(f) The term "fair cash value" as used herein shall be taken to mean cost less reserve for depreciation on the date of the close of the fiscal year of such company, unless in the opinion of the commissioner of revenue the peculiar circumstances in any case justify a different basis.

(g) The words "tangible personal property" shall be taken to mean corporeal personal property such as machinery, tools, implements, goods, wares and merchandise, and shall not be taken to mean cash on hand or in bank, shares of stock, bonds, notes, accounts receivable, credits, special privileges, franchises, good will, or evidence of an interest in property and evidences of debt.

(h) The word "manufacturing" shall be taken to mean mining and all processes of fabricating or of curing raw materials.

2. If the principal business of a company in this State is selling, distributing, dealing in or use of tangible personal property within this State, the entire net income of such company shall be apportioned to North Carolina on the basis of the ratio obtained by taking the arithmetical average of the following two ratios:

(a) The ratio of the fair cash value of its real estate and tangible personal property in this State on the date of the close of the fiscal year of such company in the income year is to the fair cash value of its entire real estate and tangible personal property then owned by it, with no deduction on account of encumbrances thereon.

(b) The ratio of the total sales made through or by offices, agencies, or branches located in North Carolina during the income year to the total sales made everywhere during said income year.

(c) The word "sales" as used in this section shall be taken to mean sale or rental of real estate and sale or rental of tangible properties.

(d) The term "fair cash value" as used herein shall be taken to mean cost less reserve for depreciation on the date of the close of the fiscal year of such company, unless in the opinion of the commissioner of revenue the peculiar circumstances in any case justify a different basis.

(e) The words "tangible personal property" shall be taken to mean corporeal personal property such as machinery, tools, implements, goods, wares and merchandise, and shall not be taken to mean cash on hand or in bank, shares of stock, bonds, notes, accounts receivable, credits, special privileges, franchises, good will, or evidence of an interest in property and evidences of debt.

(f) Foreign insurance companies doing business in this State and returning premium receipts to the insurance commissioner, and paying the tax upon such premium receipts as provided in section 7880(116), shall be exempt from this tax.

3. If a company deriving profits principally from sources other than holding or sale of tangible property, such proportion as its gross receipts in this State during the income year is to its gross receipts for such year within and without the State.

(a) The words "gross receipts" as used in this section shall be taken to mean and include the entire receipts for business done by such company. (1935, c. 371, s. 311.)

For an excellent note on constitutionality of income allocation formulae as applied to corporations, see 9 N. C. Law Rev. 470, et seq.

For case construing the early income tax laws, see Hans Rees' Sons v. North Carolina, 283 U. S. 123, 51 S. Ct. 385.

Where the commissioner of revenue has assessed an income tax against a foreign corporation operating a manufacturing plant in this State in accordance with the provisions of this section, without regard to its intangible property, the commissioner's assessment will be upheld by the courts upon appeal where the corporation has failed to show that such method of allocation is unconstitutional in its application to the corporation. State v. Kent-Coffey Mfg. Co., 204 N. C. 365, 168 S. E. 397.

§ 7880(129). Income from stock in foreign corporations.—Income from stock in foreign corporations, either in cash or stock dividends, received by individuals, fiduciaries, partnership, or corporations, resident in this State, or by a non-resident fiduciary if held for a resident of this State, as a condition of exemption of such shares of stock from ad valorem taxation, conditionally provided in section 7880(123), shall be subject to a tax of six per cent, without exemption or deduction for any cause, except as provided in this section, and upon failure to report such income and pay the tax herein imposed the holder of such shares of stock shall be liable for the ad valorem tax on such stock at the place of residence of the owner. Every individual, fiduciary, partnership, or corporation owning such shares of stock, and receiving dividends from same, shall report such income to the commissioner of revenue, at the time required by this act for reporting other income, and in a separate schedule on the income tax blanks to be provided by the commissioner of revenue for that purpose, and shall pay the tax herein imposed at the same time and in the same way as tax upon other income is payable. With respect to foreign corporations domesticated in North Carolina, and paying a tax in this State on a proportionate part of their total income, the holder of shares of stock in such corporations shall be entitled to deduct from the total dividends received an amount equaling the percentage of the corporation's income on which it paid an income tax to the State of North Carolina for the year in which said dividends are received by the taxpayer. (1935, c. 371, s. 311½.)

§ 7880(130). Railroads and public-service corporations.—The basis of ascertaining the net income of every corporation engaged in the business of operating a steam electric railroad, express service, telephone or telegraph business, or other form of public service, when such company is required by the interstate commerce commission to keep records according to its standard classification of accounting, shall be the "net revenue from operations" of such corporation as shown by their records, kept in accordance with that standard classification of accounts when their business is wholly within this State, and when their business is in part within and in part without the State, their net income within this State shall be ascertained by taking their gross "operating revenues" within this State, including in their gross "operating revenues" within this State the equal mileage proportion within this State of their interstate business, and deducting from their gross "operating revenue" the proportionate average of "operating expenses" or "operating ratio" for their whole business, as shown by the interstate commerce commission standard classification of accounts: Provided, that if the standard classification of operating expenses prescribed by the interstate commerce commission for railroads differs from the standard classification of operating expenses prescribed by the interstate commerce commission for other public-service corporations, such other public-service corporations shall be entitled to the same operating expenses as prescribed for railroads. From the net operating income thus ascertained shall be deducted "uncollectible revenue" and taxes paid in this State for the income year other than income taxes, and the balance shall be deemed to be their net income taxable under this act.

In determining the taxable income of a corporation engaged in the business of operating a railroad under this section, in the case of a railroad located entirely within this State, the net operating income shall be increased or decreased to the extent of any credit or debit balance received or paid, as the case may be, on account of car or locomotive hire; and when any railroad is located partly within and partly without this State, the said net operating income shall be increased or decreased to the extent of an equal mileage proportion within this State of any credit or debit balance received or paid, as the case may be, on account of car or locomotive hire.

For the purposes of this section the words "interstate business" shall mean, as to transportation companies, operating revenue earned within the State by reason of the interstate transportation of persons or property into, out of, or through this State, and as to transmission companies the interstate transmission of messages into, out of, or through this State.

The words "equal mileage proportion within the State" shall mean the proportion of revenue received by the company operating in this State from interstate business as defined in the preceding paragraph, which the distance of movement over lines in this State bears to the total distance of movement over lines of the company receiving such revenue. If the commissioner of revenue shall find, with respect to any particular company, that its accounting records are not kept so as to reflect with exact accuracy such division of revenue by State lines as to each transaction involving interstate revenue, the commissioner of revenue may adopt such regulations, based upon averages, as will approximate with reasonable accuracy the proportion of interstate revenue actually earned upon lines in this State.

The words "proportionate average of 'operating expenses' or 'operating ratio' " shall mean the proportion of gross revenue of a company, on its whole business absorbed in operating expenses, as defined in the interstate commerce commission classification of accounts.

In determining the taxable income of a railroad company operating two or more lines of railroad not physically connected, and when one of such railroad lines is located wholly within this State, the actual earnings and expenses of such line in this State, in so far as they may be severable, shall be used in determining net income taxable in this State.

All other public-service corporations shall file under section 7880(128). (1935, c. 371, s. 312.)

§ 7880(131). Taxable year. — The tax imposed by this article shall be levied, collected, and paid in the year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-six, and with respect to the net income received during the calendar year of one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five, and annually thereafter. (1935, c. 371, s. 313.)

§ 7880(132). Conditional and other exemptions. —The following organizations shall be exempt from taxation under this act:

1. Fraternal beneficiary societies, orders or associations, (a) operating under the lodge system or for the exclusive benefit of the members of a fraternity itself operating under the lodge system, and (b) providing for the payment of life, sick, accident, or other benefits to the members of such society, order or association, or their dependents.

2. Building and loan associations and co-operative banks without capital stock, organized and operated for mutual purposes and without profit.

3. Cemetery corporations and corporations organized for religious, charitable, scientific, or educational purposes, or for the prevention of cruelty to children or animals, no part of the net earnings of which inures to the benefit of any private stockholder or individual.

4. Business leagues, chambers of commerce, or boards of trade not organized for profit, and no part of the net earnings of which inures to the benefit of any private stockholder or individual.

5. Civic leagues or organizations not organized for profit, but operated exclusively for the promotion of social welfare.

6. Clubs organized and operated exclusively for pleasure, recreation, and other non-profitable purposes, no part of the net earnings of which inures to the benefit of any private stockholder or member.

7. Farmers' or other mutual hail, cyclone, or fire insurance companies, mutual ditch or irrigation companies, mutual or co-operative telephone companies, or like organizations of a purely local character the income of which consists solely of assessments, dues and fees collected from members for the sole purpose of meeting expenses.

8. Farmers', fruit growers', or like organizations organized and operated as sales agents for the purpose of marketing the products of members and turning back to them the proceeds of sales, less the necessary selling expenses, on the basis of the quantity of product furnished by them.

9. Mutual associations formed under Consolidated Statutes 5255 et seq. (Chapter 144, Public Laws of 1915 and amendments), formed to conduct agricultural business on the mutual plan; or to marketing associations organized under Subchapter five, Chapter 93, Consolidated Statutes Article XVI, Section 5259 (a) and following. (1935, c. 371, s. 314.)

§ 7880(133). Fiduciaries.—The tax imposed by this act shall be imposed upon resident fiduciaries and upon non-resident fiduciaries having in charge funds or property for the benefit of a resident of this State, which tax shall be levied, collected, and paid annually, with respect to:

(a) That part of the net income of estates or trusts which has not become distributable during the income year.

(b) The net income received during the income year by deceased individuals who, at the time of death, were residents and who have died during the tax year or the income year without having made a return.

(c) The entire net income of resident, insolvent, or incompetent individuals, whether or not any portion thereof is held for the future use of the beneficiaries, where the fiduciary has complete charge of such net income.

(d) The tax imposed upon a fiduciary by this act shall be a charge against the estate or trust. (1935, c. 371, s. 315.)

§ 7880(134). Net income defined.—The words "net income" mean the gross income of a taxpayer, less the deductions allowed by this act. (1935, c. 371, s. 316.)

§ 7880(135). Gross income defined.—1. The words "gross income" mean the income of a taxpayer derived from salaries, wages, or compensation for personal service, of whatever kind and in whatever form paid, or from professions, vocations, trades, business, commerce or sales, or dealings in property, whether real or personal, growing out of the ownership or use of or interest in such property, also from interest, rent, dividends, securities, or the transactions of any business carried on for gain or profit, or gains or profits, and income derived from any source whatever and in whatever form paid. The amount of all such items shall be included in the gross income of the income year in which received by the taxpayer, unless, under the methods of accounting permitted under this act, any such amounts are to be properly accounted for as of a different period. The term "gross income" as used in this act shall include the salaries of all constitutional state officials taking office after the date of the enactment of this act, by election, re-election or appointment, and all acts fixing the compensation of such constitutional state officials are hereby amended accordingly.

2. The words "gross income" do not include the following items, which shall be exempt from taxation under this act, but shall be reported in such form and manner as may be prescribed by the commissioner of revenue:

(a) The proceeds of life insurance policies and contracts paid upon the death of the insured to beneficiaries or to the estate of the insured.

(b) The amount received by the insured as a return of premium or premiums paid by him under life insurance endowment or annuity contracts, either during the term or at the maturity of the term mentioned in the contracts or upon surrender of the contract.

(c) The value of property acquired by gift, bequest, devise or descent (but the income from such property shall be included in gross income).

(d) Interest upon the obligations of the United States or its possessions, or of the State of North Carolina, or of a political subdivision thereof.

(e) Salaries, wages, or other compensation received from the United States by officials or employees thereof, including persons in the military or naval forces of the United States.

(f) Any amounts received through accident or health insurance or under the workmen's compensation acts, as compensation for personal injuries or sickness, plus the amount of any damages received, whether by suit or agreement, on account of such injuries or sickness.

(g) In case of domestic insurance companies or associations paying a tax on their gross premium receipts, in addition to the above, (a) the net addition required by law to be made within the taxable year to reserve funds, including the actual deposit of sums with the commissioner of insurance or the treasurer of the State, pursuant to the law, as additions to guarantee or reserve funds for the benefit of policyholders, and (b) the sums paid within the taxable year on policy and annuity contracts to policyholders. (1935, c. 371, s. 317.)

The provision of this section exempting from income tax that part of gross income received from salaries, wages, or other compensation from the Federal Government applies to individuals only and not to corporations, foreign or domestic. Atlantic Coast Line R. Co. v. Maxwell, 207 N. C. 746, 178 S. E. 592.

§ 7880(136). Basis of return of net income.—1. The net income of a taxpayer shall be computed in accordance with the method of accounting regularly employed in keeping the books of such taxpayer, but such method of accounting must be consistent with respect to both income and deductions, but if in any case such method does not clearly reflect the income, the computation shall be made in accordance with such method as in the opinion of the commissioner does clearly reflect the income, but shall follow as nearly as practicable the federal practice, unless contrary to the context and intent of this act. Taxpayers whose accounting period of twelve months ends as of the last day of some month other than December, and the books of such taxpayer are kept accordingly, may, with the approval of the commissioner of revenue and subject to such rules and regulations as he may establish, return their net income under this act on the basis of such fiscal year in lieu of that of the calendar year.

2. A taxpayer may, with the approval of the commissioner of revenue, and under such regulations as he may prescribe, change the income year from fiscal year to calendar year or otherwise, in which case his net income shall be computed upon the basis of such new income year: Provided, that such approval must be obtained from the commissioner at least thirty days prior to the end of such income year.

3. An individual carrying on business in partnership shall be liable for income tax only in his individual capacity, and shall include in his gross income his distributive share of the net income of the partnership for each income year, whether distributed or not.

4. Every individual taxable under this act who is a beneficiary of an estate or trust shall include in his gross income the distributive share of the net income of the estate or trust received by him or distributable to him during the income year. Unless otherwise provided in the law, the will, the deed, or other instrument creating the estate, trust, or fiduciary relation, the net income shall be deemed to be distributed or distributable to the beneficiaries (including the fiduciary as a beneficiary, in the case of income accumulated for future distribution), ratable in proportion to their respective interest. (1935, c. 371, s. 318.)

§ 7880(136)a. Subsidiary corporations.—The net income of a corporation which is a subsidiary of another corporation or closely affiliated therewith by stock ownership shall be determined by eliminating all payments to the parent corporation or affiliated corporations in excess of fair value and by including fair compensation to such foreign corporation for all commodities sold to or service performed for the parent corporation or affiliated corporations. For the purposes of determining such net income the commissioner may, in the absence of satisfactory evidence to the contrary, presume that an apportionment by reasonable rules of the consolidated net income of corporations participating in the filing of a consolidated return of net income to the federal government fairly reflects the net income taxable under this chapter, or may otherwise equitably determine such net income by reasonable rules of apportionment of the combined income of the subsidiary, its parent and affiliates or any thereof.

If in the opinion of the commissioner the capital of a corporation which is a subsidiary of another corporation or closely affiliated therewith by stock ownership is inadequate for its business needs apart from credit extended or indebtedness guaranteed by the parent or affiliated corporation, the commissioner shall in determining the net income of such corporation disregard its indebtedness owed to or guaranteed by the parent or an affiliated corporation in determining the net income taxable under this act.

Such subsidiary or affiliated corporation shall incorporate in its return required under this act such information as the commissioner may reasonably require for determination of the net income taxable under this act, and failure to so incorporate such information or to furnish such additional information when required within thirty days shall subject the corporation and its officers to the penalties provided in section 7880(154) for failure to file such return. (1935, c. 371, s. 318½.)

§ 7880(137). Determination of gain or loss.—For the purpose of ascertaining the gain or loss from the sale or other disposition of property, real, personal, or mixed, the basis shall be, in the case of property acquired before January first, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one, the fair market price of the value of such property as of that date, and in all other cases the cost thereof: Provided, that in the case of property which was included in the last preceding annual inventory used in determining net income in a return under this act, such inventory value shall be taken in lieu of costs or market value. The final distribution to the taxpayer of the assets of a corporation shall be treated as a sale of the stock or securities of the corporation owned by him, and the gain or loss shall be computed accordingly. (1935, c. 371, s. 319.)

§ 7880(138). Exchanges of property.—1. When property is exchanged for other property of like kind, the property received in exchange shall be considered as a conversion of assets from one form to another, from which no gain or loss shall be deemed to arise.

2. In the case of the organization of a corporation, the stock or securities received shall be considered to take the place of property transferred therefor, and no gain or loss shall be deemed to arise therefrom.

3. When, in connection with the reorganization, merger or consolidation of a corporation, a taxpayer receives in place of stock or securities owned by him, new stock or securities, the basis of computing the gain or loss, if any, shall be, in case the stock or securities owned were acquired before January first, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one, the fair market price or value thereof as of that date, and in all other cases the cost thereof. (1935, c. 371, s. 320.)

§ 7880(139). Inventory.—Whenever, in the opinion of the commissioner of revenue, it is necessary, in order clearly to determine the income of any taxpayer, inventories shall be taken by such taxpayer upon such basis as the commissioner of revenue may prescribe, conforming as nearly as may be to the best accounting practice in the trade or business and most clearly reflecting the income. (1935, c. 371, s. 321.)

§ 7880(140). Deductions.—In computing net incomes there shall be allowed as deductions the following items:

1. All the ordinary and necessary expenses paid during the income year in carrying on any trade or business, including:

(a) As to individuals, reasonable wages of employees for services rendered in producing such income.

(b) As to partnerships, reasonable wages of employees and a reasonable allowance for co-partners or members of a firm, for services actually rendered in producing such income, the amount of such salary allowance to be included in the personal return of the co-partner receiving same.

(c) As to corporations, wages of employees and salaries of officers, if reasonable in amount, for services actually rendered in producing such income.

2. Rentals or other payments required to be made as a condition of the continued use or possession for the purpose of the trade of property to which the taxpayer has not taken or is not taking title, or in which he has no equity.

3. Unearned discount and all interest paid during the income year or indebtedness except interest paid or accrued in connection with the ownership of real or personal property the current income from which is not taxable under this act. Interest on indebtedness incurred for the purchase of stock of corporations paying a tax on their entire net income under this act shall be deductible, and a ratable proportion of such interest with respect to corporations paying a tax on a proportion of their net income.

4. Taxes paid or accrued during the income year, except federal and state income taxes, taxes levied under section 7880(129), inheritance and estate taxes, and taxes assessed for local benefit of a kind tending to increase the value of the property assessed. No deduction shall be allowed under this section for gasoline tax, automobile license or registration fee by individuals not engaged in trade or business, nor shall deduction be allowed for taxes paid or accrued in connection with the ownership of property the current income from which is not taxable under this act.

5. Dividends from stock in any corporation, the income of which shall have been assessed, and the tax on such income paid by the corporation under the provisions of this act: Provided, that when only part of the income of any corporation shall have been assessed under this act, only a corresponding part of the dividends received therefrom shall be deducted.

6. Losses actually sustained during the income year of property used in trade or business or of property not connected with trade or business, if arising from fire, storm, shipwreck, or other casualties or theft and if not compensated for by insurance or otherwise. No deduction shall be allowed under this subsection for losses arising from personal loans or endorsements or other transactions of a personal nature not entered into for profit. A taxpayer shall be allowed to deduct losses in connection with the sale of securities only to the extent of the security gains during the income year, unless such losses resulted from the sale of stocks or bonds held by the taxpayer for a period of not less than two years prior to the sale of such stocks or bonds.

7. Debts ascertained to be worthless and actually charged off within the income year, if the amount has previously been included in gross income in a return under this act.

8. A reasonable allowance for depreciation and obsolescence of property used in the trade or business shall be measured by the estimated life of such property; and in case of mines, oil and gas wells, other natural deposits and timber, a reasonable allowance for depletion. The cost of property acquired since January 1st, 1921, plus additions and improvements, shall be the basis for determining the amount of depreciation, and if acquired prior to that date the book value of the property shall be the cost basis for determining depreciation.

In case of mines, oil and gas wells, and other natural deposits, the cost of development not otherwise deducted will be allowed as depletion, and in the case of leases, the deduction allowed may be equitably apportioned between the lessor and the lessee.

In case the federal government determines depreciation or depletion of property for income tax purposes upon the basis of book value instead of original cost, the depreciation allowed under this act shall be upon the same basis.

9. Contributions or gifts made by individuals within the income year to corporations or associations operated exclusively for religious, charitable, scientific, or educational purposes, or for the prevention of cruelty to children or animals, no part of the net earnings of which inures to the benefit of any private stockholder or individual, to an amount not in excess of ten per centum of the tax-payer's net income, as computed without the benefit of this subdivision.

10. Resident individuals and domestic corporations having an established business in another State, or investment in property in another State, may deduct the net income from such business or investment if such business or investment is in a state that levies a tax upon such net income. The deduction herein authorized shall in no case operate to reduce the taxable income in this State below the income actually earned in this State or properly allocable as income earned in this State. Nor shall the deduction in any way relate to income received by individuals or domestic corporations from personal services or income from mortgages, stocks, bonds, securities, and deposits.

11. In the case of a non-resident individual, the deductions allowed in this section shall be allowed only if and to the extent that they are connected with income arising from sources within the State; and the proper apportionment and allocation of the deductions with respect to sources of income within and without the State shall be determined under rules and regulations prescribed by the commissioner of revenue. (1935, c. 371, s. 322.)

§ 7880(141). Items not deductible.—In computing net income no deduction shall in any case be allowed in respect of:

(a) Personal, living, or family expenses.

(b) Any amount paid out for new buildings or for permanent improvements or betterments, made to increase the value of any property or estate.

(c) Any amount expended in restoring property for which an allowance is or has been made.

(d) Premiums paid on any life insurance policy.

(e) Contributions or gifts made by corporations. (1935, c. 371, s. 323.)

§ 7880(142). Exemptions.—1. There shall be deducted from the net income the following exemptions:

(a) In the case of a single individual, a personal exemption of one thousand dollars ($1,000.00).

(b) In the case of a married man with a wife living with him, two thousand dollars ($2,000.00), or in the case of a person who is the head of a household and maintains the same and therein supports one or more dependent relatives, two thousand dollars ($2,000.00).

(c) In the case of a widow or widower having minor child or children, natural or adopted, two thousand dollars.

(d) Two hundred dollars ($200.00) for each individual (other than husband and wife) dependent upon and receiving his chief support from the taxpayer, if such dependent individual is under eighteen years of age or is incapable of self-support because mentally or physically defective.

(e) In the case of a fiduciary, if taxable under clause (a) of paragraph one of section 7880(133), a personal exemption of one thousand dollars ($1,000.00); if taxable under clause (b) of said paragraph, an exemption of one thousand dollars ($1,000.00): Provided, that the surviving husband or wife shall be entitled to exemption as provided in paragraph three of this section; if taxable under clause (c) of said paragraph, the same exemptions to which the beneficiary would be entitled.

(f) A married woman having a separate and independent income, one thousand dollars ($1,000.00).

2. The exemptions allowed by this section shall not be allowed with respect to a resident of this State having income from a business or agency in another state, or with respect to non-resident having a taxable income in this State unless the entire income of such resident or non-resident individual is shown in the return of such resident or non-resident; and if the entire income is so shown, the exemption shall be prorated in the proportion of the income of this State to the total income.

3. The status on the last day of the income year shall determine the right to the exemptions provided in this section: Provided, that a taxpayer shall be entitled to such exemption for husband or wife or dependents who have died during the income year. (1935, c. 371, s. 324.)

§ 7880(143). Credit for taxes in case of taxpayers other than residents of the state.—Whenever a taxpayer other than a resident of the State has become liable to income tax to the state or country where he resides upon his net income for the taxable year, derived from sources within this State and subject to taxation under this article, the commissioner of revenue shall credit the amount of income tax payable by him under this article with such proportion of the tax so payable by him to the state or country where he resides as his income subject to taxation under this article bears to his entire income upon which the tax so payable to such other state or country was imposed: Provided, that such credit shall be allowed only if the laws of said state or country (1) grant a substantially similar credit to residents of this State subject to income tax under such laws, or (2) impose a tax upon the personal incomes of its residents derived from sources in this State and exempt from taxation the personal incomes of residents of this State. No credit shall be allowed against the amount of the tax on any income taxable under this article which is exempt from taxation under the laws of such other state or country. (1935, c. 371, s. 325.)

§ 7880(144). Returns.—1. Every resident or non-resident having a net income during the income year taxable in this State of one thousand dollars ($1,000.00) and over, if single, or if married and not living with husband or wife, or having a net income for the income year of two thousand dollars ($2,000.00) or over, if married and living with husband or wife, and every corporation doing business in the State shall make a return under oath, stating specifically the items of gross income and the deductions allowed by this act, and such other facts as the commissioner of revenue may require for the purpose of making any computation required by this act. Every resident of the State having gross income in excess of five thousand dollars ($5,000.00) and every non-resident having gross income within this State in excess of five thousand ($5,000.00) shall be required to make a return. When the commissioner of revenue has reason to believe any person or corporation is liable for tax under this act, he may require any such person or corporation to make a return.

2. If the taxpayer is unable to make his own return, the return shall be made by a duly authorized agent or by a guardian or other person charged with the care of the person or property of such taxpayer.

3. The return by a corporation shall be sworn to by the president, vice-president, or other principal officer, and by the treasurer or assistant treasurer.

4. (a) The return of an individual, who, while living, received income in excess of the exemption during the income year, and who has died before making the return, shall be made in his name and behalf by the administrator or executor of the estate, and that the tax shall be levied upon and collected from his estate.

(b) Before a corporation shall be dissolved and its assets distributed it shall make a return for and settlement of tax for any income earned in the income year up to its period of dissolution.

5. When the commissioner of revenue has reason to believe that any taxpayer so conducts the trade or business as either directly or indirectly to distort his true net income and the net income properly attributable to the State, whether by the arbitrary shifting of income, through price fixing, charges for service, or otherwise, whereby the net income is arbitrarily assigned to one or another unit in a group of taxpayers carrying on business under a substantially common control, he may require such facts as he deems necessary for the proper computation of the entire net income and the net income properly attributable to the State, and in determining same the commissioner of revenue shall have regard to the fair profit which would normally arise from the conduct of the trade or business.

6. When any corporation liable to taxation under this act conducts its business in such a manner as either directly or indirectly to benefit the members or stockholders thereof or any person interested in such business by selling its products or goods or commodities in which it deals at less than the fair price which might be obtained therefor, or where a corporation, a substantial portion of whose capital stock is owned either directly or indirectly by another corporation, acquires and disposes of the products of the corporation so owning a substantial portion of its stock in such a manner as to create a loss or improper net income for either of said corporations, or where a corporation, owning directly or indirectly a substantial portion of the stock of another corporation, acquires and disposes of the products of the corporation of which it so owns a substantial portion of the stock, in such manner as to create a loss or improper net income for either of said corporations, the commissioner of revenue may determine the amount of taxable income of either or any such corporations for the calendar or fiscal year, having due regard to the reasonable profits which, but for such arrangement or understanding, might or could have been obtained by the corporation or corporations liable to taxation under this act from dealing in such products, goods or commodities. (1935, c. 371, s. 326.)

§ 7880(145). Fiduciary returns.—1. Every fiduciary subject to taxation under the provisions of this act, as provided in section 7880(133), shall make a return under oath for the individual, estate, or trust for whom or for which he acts, if the net income thereof amounts to one thousand dollars or over; or, if any dividends are received from stock in corporations not incorporated in this State.

2. The return made by a fiduciary shall state specifically the items of gross income and the deductions and exemptions allowed by this act, and such other facts as the commissioner of revenue may prescribe.

3. Fiduciaries required to make returns under this act shall be subject to all the provisions of this act which apply to individuals. (1935, c. 371, s. 327.)

§ 7880(146). Information at the source.—1. Every individual, partnership, corporation, joint-stock company or association, or insurance company, being a resident or having a place of business in this State, in whatever capacity acting, including lessees or mortgagors of real or personal property, fiduciaries, employers, and all officers and employees of the State or of any political subdivision of the State, having the control, receipt, custody, disposal, or payment of interest (other than interest coupons payable to bearer), rent, salaries, wages, premiums, annuities, compensations, remunerations, emoluments or other fixed or determinable annual or periodical gains, profits, and incomes above exemptions allowed in this act, paid or payable during any year to any taxpayer, shall make complete return thereof to the commissioner of revenue under such regulations and in such form and manner and to such extent as may be prescribed by him.

2. Every partnership having a place of business in the State shall make a return, stating specifically the items of its gross income and the deductions allowed by this act, and shall include in the return the names and addresses of the individuals who would be entitled to share in the net income if distributed, and the amount of the distributive share of each individual. The return shall be sworn to by one of the partners.

3. Every fiduciary shall make, under oath, a return for the individual, estate, or trust for whom or for which he acts if the net income thereof, distributed or distributable to beneficiaries during the year, is one thousand dollars or over, in which case the fiduciary shall set forth in such return the items of the gross income, the deductions allowed by this act, and the net income, the names and addresses of the beneficiaries, the amounts distributed or distributable to each, and the amount, if any, lawfully retained by him for future distribution.

4. Every corporation doing business or having a place of business in this State shall file with the commissioner of revenue on such form and in such manner as he may prescribe the names and addresses of all taxpayers, residents of North Carolina, to whom dividends have been paid and the amount of such dividends during the income year. (1935, c. 371, s. 328.)

§ 7880(147). Time and place of filing returns.—Returns shall be in such form as the commissioner of revenue may from time to time prescribe, and shall be filed with the commissioner at his main office, or at any branch office which he may establish, on or before the fifteenth day of March in each year, and for all taxpayers using a fiscal year, within seventy-five days after expiration of the fiscal year. In case of sickness, absence, or other disability or whenever in his judgment good cause exists, the commissioner may allow further time for filing returns. There shall be annexed to the return the affidavit or affirmation of the taxpayer making the return, to the effect that the statements contained therein are true. The commissioner shall cause to be prepared blank forms for the said returns, and shall cause them to be distributed throughout the State, and to be furnished upon application; but failure to receive or secure the form shall not relieve any taxpayer from the obligation of making any return herein required. (1935, c. 371, s. 329.)

§ 7880(149). Failure to file returns; supplementary returns.—If the commissioner of revenue shall be of the opinion that any taxpayer has failed to file a return or to include in a return filed, either intentionally or through error, items of taxable income, he may require from such taxpayer a return or supplementary return, under oath, in such form as he shall prescribe, of all the items of income which the taxpayer received during the year for which the return is made, whether or not taxable under the provisions of this act. If from a supplementary return or otherwise the commissioner finds that any items of income, taxable under this act, have been omitted from the original return, or any items returned as taxable that are not taxable, or any item of taxable income overstated, he may require the items so omitted to be disclosed to him under oath of the taxpayer, and to be added to or deducted from the original return. Such supplementary return and the correction of the original return shall not relieve the taxpayer from any of the penalties to which he may be liable under any provision of this act. The commissioner may proceed under the provisions of section 7880(152), whether or not he requires a return or a supplementary return under this section. (1935, c. 371, s. 331.)

§ 7880(150). Time and place of payment of tax.—(1) The full amount of the tax payable, as the same shall appear from the face of the return, shall be paid to the commissioner of revenue at the office where the return is filed at the time fixed by law for filing the return. If the amount of the tax exceeds one hundred dollars ($100.00), payment may be made in two installments: One-half on the date the return is filed, one-half on or before September fifteenth following, with interest on the deferred payment at the rate of six per cent per annum.

(2) If the time for filing the return be extended, interest at the rate of six per cent per annum from the time when the return was originally required to be filed to the time of payment shall be added and paid.

(3) The tax may be paid with uncertified check during such time and under such regulations as the commissioner of revenue shall prescribe; but if a check so received is not paid by the bank on which it is drawn, the taxpayer by whom such check is tendered shall remain liable for the payment of the tax and for all legal penalties the same as if such check had not been tendered. (1935, c. 371, s. 332.)

§ 7880(151). Examination of returns.—1. As soon as practicable after the return is filed the commissioner of revenue shall examine and compute the tax, and the amount so computed by the commissioner shall be the tax. If the tax found due shall be greater than the amount theretofore paid, the excess shall be paid to the commissioner within thirty days after notice of the amount shall be mailed by the commissioner, and any overpayment of tax shall be returned within thirty days after it is ascertained.

2. If the return is made in good faith and the understatement of the tax is not due to any fault of the taxpayer, there shall be no penalty or additional tax added because of such understatement, but interest shall be added to the amount of the deficiency at the rate of six per cent per annum until paid.

3. If the understatement is due to negligence on the part of the taxpayer, but without intent to defraud, there shall be added to the amount of the deficiency five per cent thereof, and, in addition, interest at the rate of six per cent per annum until paid.

4. If the understatement is found by the commissioner of revenue to be false or fraudulent, with intent to evade the tax, the tax on the additional income discovered to be taxable shall be doubled and six per centum per annum upon the amount of tax so found. The provisions of this act with respect to revision and appeal shall apply to a tax thus assessed.

5. The interest provided for in this section shall in all cases be computed from the date the tax was originally due to the date of payment. (1935, c. 371, s. 333.)

§ 7880(152). Corrections and changes.—If the amount of the net income for any year of any taxpayer under this article, as returned to the United States treasury department, is changed and corrected by the commissioner of internal revenue or other officer of the United States of competent authority, such taxpayer, within thirty days after receipt of internal revenue agent's report or supplemental report reflecting the corrected net income shall make return under oath or affirmation to the commissioner of revenue of such corrected net income. The commissioner of revenue shall thereupon proceed to determine, from such evidence as he may have brought to his attention or shall otherwise acquire, the correct net income of such taxpayer for the fiscal or calendar year, and if there shall be any additional tax due from such taxpayer the same shall be assessed and collected; and if there shall have been an overpayment of the tax the said commissioner shall, within thirty days after the final determination of the net income of such taxpayer, refund the amount of such excess: Provided, that any taxpayer who fails to comply with this section as to making report of such change as made by federal government within the time specified shall be subject to all penalties as provided in section 7880(154), in case of additional tax due, and shall forfeit his rights to any refund due by reason of such change. (1935, c. 371, s. 334.)

The procedure prescribed by this section, that such new return be made within thirty days of redetermination by the Federal Government is exclusive and must be followed to entitle the taxpayer to the relief therein provided. State v. Hinsdale, 207 N. C. 37, 175 S. E. 847.

§ 7880(153). Additional taxes.—If the commissioner of revenue discovers from the examination of the return or otherwise that the income of any taxpayer, or any portion thereof, has not been assessed, he may, at any time within three years after the time when the return was due, give notice in writing to the taxpayer of such deficiency. Any taxpayer feeling aggrieved by such proposed assessment shall be entitled to a hearing before the commissioner of revenue, if within thirty days after giving notice of such proposed assessment he shall apply for such hearing in writing, explaining in detail his objections to same. If no request for such hearing is so made, such proposed assessment shall be final and conclusive. If the request for hearing is made, the taxpayer shall be heard by the commissioner of revenue, and after such hearing the commissioner of revenue shall render his decision. The taxpayer shall be advised of his decision by registered mail and such amount shall be due within ten days after notice is given. The provisions of this act with respect to revision and appeal shall apply to the tax so assessed. The limitation of three years to the assessment of such tax or an additional tax shall not apply to the assessment of additional taxes upon fraudulent returns. (1935, c. 371, s. 335.)

See 12 N. C. Law Rev., 21, 35.

§ 7880(154). Penalties.—If any taxpayer, without intent to evade any tax imposed by this act, shall fail to file a return of income and pay the tax, if one is due, at the time required by or under the provisions of this act, but shall voluntarily file a correct return of income and pay the tax due within sixty days thereafter, there shall be added to the tax an additional amount equal to five per cent thereof, but such additional amount shall in no case be less than one dollar and interest at the rate of one-half of one per centum per month or fraction thereof from the time said return was required by law to be filed, until paid.

2. If any taxpayer fails voluntarily to file a return of income or pay the tax, if one is due, within sixty days of the time required by or under the provisions of this act, there shall be added to the tax an additional amount equal to twenty-five per cent thereof and interest at the rate of one-half of one per cent per month or fraction thereof, from the time such return was required to be filed, until paid, but the additional amount shall not be less than five dollars ($5.00).

3. If any taxpayer fails to file a return within sixty days of the time prescribed by this act, any judge of the superior court, upon petition of the commissioner of revenue or of any ten taxable residents of the State, shall issue a writ of mandamus requiring such person to file a return. The order of notice upon the petition shall be returnable not later than ten days after the filing of the petition. The petition shall be heard and determined on the return day or such day thereafter as the court shall fix, having regard to the speediest possible determination of the case consistent with the rights of the parties. The judgment shall include costs in favor of the prevailing party. All writs and processes may be issued from the clerk's offices in any county, and, except as aforesaid, shall be returnable as the court shall order.

4. The failure to do any act required by or under the provisions of this act shall be deemed an act committed in part at the office of the commissioner of revenue in Raleigh. The certificate of the commissioner of revenue to the effect that a tax has not been paid, that a return has not been filed, or that information has not been supplied, as required by or under the provisions of this act, shall be prima facie evidence that such tax has not been paid, that such return has not been filed, or that such information has not been supplied.

5. If any taxpayer who has failed to file a return or has filed an incorrect or insufficient return, and has been notified by the commissioner of revenue of his delinquency, refuses or neglects within twenty days after such notice to file a proper return, or files a fraudulent return, the commissioner shall determine the income of such taxpayer, according to his best information and belief, and assess the same at not more than double the amount so determined. The commissioner may, in his discretion, allow further time for the filing of a return in such case.

6. Any person required under this act to pay any tax or required by law or regulations made under authority thereof to make a return, keep any records, or supply any information for the purposes of computation, assessment or collection of any tax imposed by this act, who wilfully fails to pay this tax, make such return, keep such records or supply such information at the time or times required by law or regulations, shall, in addition to other penalties provided by law be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof, shall be fined not more than $500.00 or imprisoned not exceeding six months, or punished by both such fine and imprisonment at the discretion of the court, within the limitations aforesaid. (1935, c. 371, s. 336.)

§ 7880(155). Revision by commissioner of revenue.—A taxpayer may apply to the commissioner of revenue for revision of the tax assessed against him at any time within three years from the time of the filing of the return or from the date of the notice of assessment of any additional tax. The commissioner shall grant a hearing thereon, and if upon such hearing he shall determine that the tax is excessive or incorrect, he shall resettle the same according to the law and the facts, and adjust the computation of tax accordingly. The commissioner shall notify the taxpayer of his determination, and shall refund to the taxpayer the amount, if any, paid in excess of the tax found by him to be due. (1935, c. 371, s. 340.)

Where a taxpayer fails to apply to the Commissioner of Revenue for a revision within three years from the filing of its return, its claim is barred, under this section, and the fact that the application for a revision is made within three years of redetermination of income tax by the Federal Government, will not avail the taxpayer where he does not make a new return within thirty days after such redetermination by the Federal Government, as provided by § 7880(152), since the limitation prescribed by the instant section is explicit and unequivocal. State v. Hinsdale, 207 N. C. 37, 175 S. E. 847.

§ 7880(156). Appeal.—Any taxpayer may file formal exceptions to a finding by the commissioner of revenue, under the provisions of this article with respect to his taxable income, either to a matter of fact or law, as far as possible stating such exceptions separately. After they are filed the commissioner shall pass upon the same formally, and notify the taxpayer immediately of his findings upon these exceptions. The taxpayer may, within ten days after notification of the commissioner's ruling upon these exceptions, appeal to the superior court of Wake county, upon paying the tax assessed by the commissioner and giving a bond for costs in the sum of two hundred dollars ($200.00): Provided, the taxpayer may within the above prescribed time first appeal to the state Board of assessment on the exceptions to the findings of the commissioner; and provided further, that the commissioner may in his discretion require a surety bond or a deposit of state or government bonds in double the amount of the alleged deficiency. Appeal may then be taken by either the taxpayer or the commissioner to the superior court of Wake county as provided herein. Upon receipt of such notice and the taxes paid, and the filing of the cost bond in the sum of two hundred dollars ($200.00), the commissioner shall certify the record to the superior court of Wake county. In the superior court the proceedings shall be as follows:

The cause shall be entitled, "State of North Carolina on Relation of the Commissioner of Revenue vs. Appellant" (giving name). If there are exceptions to facts found by the commissioner, it shall be placed on the civil issue docket of such court and shall have precedence of other civil actions, and shall be tried under the same rules and regulations as are prescribed for the trial of such civil actions, except that the findings of the commissioner shall be prima facie correct. If only issues of law, or if issues of fact are raised, and the appellant shall waive jury trial at the time of taking the appeal, the appeal may be had to the superior court of the county in which the appellant resides, and the cause shall be heard by the judge holding court in the judicial district in which the appeal is docketed, at chambers, upon ten days' notice to the parties of the time and place of hearing, and the said judge shall pass upon and determine all issues, both of law and fact, the State hereby waiving in such cases a trial by jury. Either party may appeal to the supreme court from the judgment of the superior court under the rules and regulations prescribed by law for appeals, except that the State, if it should appeal, shall not be required to give any undertaking or make any deposit to secure the cost of such appeal, and the supreme court may advance the cause on its docket so as to give the same a speedy hearing. Any taxes, interest, or penalties paid, found by the court to be in excess of those which can be legally assessed, shall be ordered refunded to the taxpayer, with interest from the time of payment. (1935, c. 371, s. 341.)

Art. 5. Schedule E. Emergency Revenue

§ 7880(156)a. Short title.—This act shall be known and may be cited as the Emergency Revenue Act of one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five. (1935, c. 371, s. 400.)

§ 7880(156)b. Purpose.—The taxes levied in this article are to provide emergency revenue for the support of the public schools of the State in substitution for the taxes formerly levied on property for this purpose. They are levied for the biennium of fiscal years beginning July 1, 1935, and ending June 30, 1937.

The tax upon the retail sale of merchandise to persons in this State is levied as a license or privilege tax for engaging or continuing in the business of merchandising as defined in this act, but merchants may add to the price of merchandise the amount of the tax on the sale thereof, and when so added shall constitute a part of such price, shall be a debt from purchaser to merchant until paid, and shall be recoverable at law in the same manner as other debts. It is the purpose and intent of this act that the tax levied hereunder shall be added to the sales price of merchandise and thereby be passed on to the consumer instead of being absorbed by the merchant.

Any retail merchant who shall by any character of public advertisement offer to absorb the tax levied in this article upon the retail sale of merchandise, or in any manner, directly or indirectly, advertise that the tax herein imposed is not considered as an element in the price to the consumer, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. The provisions of this section are deemed necessary to prevent fraud and unfair trade practices, but it is the intent of the general assembly that if one or both of such provisions be held unconstitutional and void, that such invalid provision or provisions be considered separable and that the balance of this act be given effect. ((1935, c. 371, s. 401.)

§ 7880(156)c. Contingency.—If the government of the United States shall, at any time during the biennium for which taxes are levied in this article, enact any form of sales or production tax distributable in whole or in part to the several states, the governor and council of State shall estimate the proportion of such tax distribution to this State, and shall by proclamation of the governor abate a uniform percentage of all the taxes levied in this article equal in estimated revenue yield to the estimated proportion of yield of such federal tax, and from and after the effective date of such proclamation the commissioner of revenue shall enforce and collect only the remaining percentage of taxes levied in this article. (1935, c. 371, s. 402.)

§ 7880(156)d. Obsolete.

§ 7880(156)e. Definitions.—For the purposes of this article:

1. The word "person" shall mean any person, firm, partnership, association, or corporation.

2. The word "commissioner" shall mean the commissioner of revenue of the State of North Carolina.

3. The word "merchant" shall include any individual, firm, or corporation, domestic or foreign, subject to the tax imposed by this article.
